REASONS FOR PARDONS GRANTED BY GOVERNOR

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, January 5, 1943.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to present herewith the reasons for pardons granted by me from April 11, 1942 to January 5, 1943

ARTHUR H. JAMES.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of William Joseph Bardino, D-918, No. 3834, February Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of William Joseph Bardino, convicted of robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Delaware County on October 7, 1935 to be computed from June 15, 1935 be commuted from 10 years to 6 years and 9 months, expiring on March 15, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence was convicted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Delaware County on the 7th day of October, 1935 under Indictments Nos. 208 to 215 September Sessions, 1935 inclusive, charging robbery, and was sentenced by the Honorable Albert D. MacDade, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten nor more than twenty years, sentence to be computed from June 15, 1935.

The applicant had never been charged with any law violation before the commission of the crimes for which he was sentenced and has now been confined for more than six years and eight months.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary reports to the Board of Pardons that his institutional record has been excellent, showing good habits and attitude.

The applicant is now twenty-eight years of age and desires to be released in order to enter the military service of the United States.

In a letter to the Board of Pardons the district attorney's office of Delaware County states: ". . . There were some mitigating circumstances in the crime so far as this defendant is concerned and in view of his having served almost seven years of his sentence, we do not oppose his application for commutation at this time."

The granting of clemency to the applicant has been highly recommended to the Board by the Chaplain of the Eastern State Penitentiary and by prominent citizens of Delaware County.

The sentencing judge has made no objection to the commutation of his sentence.

Employment and an adequate parole plan have been provided for the applicant in the event of his release.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the ends of justice have been satisfied by the time served by the applicant and that his institutional record and the high esteem in which he is held by those acquainted with him justifies it in giving him an opportunity to serve his country. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of ten years be commuted to a new minimum term of six years and nine months, expiring on March 15, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until June 15, 1955.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
Not Sitting,
Attorney General.
WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

ARTHUR H. JAMES,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Henry Brubaker, No. 5616, February Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Henry Brubaker, convicted of robbery in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on March 20, 1929, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for a full and absolute pardon entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on March 20, 1929 to Indictments Nos. 148, 149, 150, 886, 887, and 892 March Term, 1929 charging robbery, and was sentenced by the Honorable Frank Smith, Judge, to imprisonment in the Holmesburg County Prison for a term of not less than two nor more than twenty years.

The applicant was released on parole on March 20, 1931, and has been gainfully employed since that time.

The applicant is now thirty-four years of age and the crimes for which he was sentenced are the only blemish on his record.

The Honorable Frank Smith, the Judge who sentenced him in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: " . . . Mr. Hackney of the Probation Department, informs me that he has investigated this case and that during the 11 years that Brubaker has been employed by the Exide Battery Company and has done excellent work and readjusted himself in an effort to live down his past. The Probation Department speaks well of him, and in my opinion, if there is no objection on the part of the members of your Board, I would suggest that a pardon be granted, in view of the fact that he was only 20 when he was involved in this trouble."

In view of his record since his release and the recommendation of the convicting judge, the Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant is entitled to the benefits that will follow a cleansing of his record. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Henry Brubaker.

Respectfully submitted,
S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
Not Sitting,
Attorney General.
WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:
ARTHUR H. JAMES,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Peter Cebulski, B-3802, No. 2586, February Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Peter Cebulski, convicted of (1) robbery, and (2) larceny, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County, on August 17, 1933 and on September 22, 1932; and in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Bedford County, on April 19, 1928, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for a full and absolute pardon entered a plea of guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County on the 17th day of August, 1933 to Indictment No. 111 June Sessions, 1933 charging robbery, and was sentenced by the Honorable John P. Egan, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years.

The applicant was placed on parole on August 17, 1938, and since that time, has fully complied with the requirements of his parole.

In addition to his conviction on the robbery charge on August 17, 1933, the applicant had twice before been convicted of crime. On April 19, 1928 he entered a plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Bedford County to Indictment No. 1 April Term, 1928 charging robbery, and was sentenced to pay a fine of one hundred ($100.00) dollars and to undergo a term of imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for not less than one nor more than two years, and in 1932 he entered a plea of guilty in the Quarter Sessions Court of Allegheny County to Indictments Nos. 49, 50, and 52 October Sessions, 1932 charging larceny, and was released on probation for three years by Judge Frank P. Patterson. The probation expired October 4, 1935.

Honorable John P. Egan, the Judge who sentenced the applicant on the robbery charge, in a letter to the Board of Pardons stated: ". . . Since his release from the penitentiary he and I have had about 50 or 60 meetings and conferences, and to me he offers the finest example of a man who has been fully rehabilitated. I know that he has lived up to every requirement of his parole, and has paid the full penalty of the law for a mistake that he made as a younger man. In line with my former position in this case, I now strenuously urge your body to give favorable consideration to his application for pardon."

The Supervisor of Paroles stated that he had no objection to the granting of a pardon.

The conduct of the applicant since being released on parole, as verified by Judge Egan, shows such rehabilitation as to entile him to spend the remainder of his life free of the record of his conviction.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Peter Cebulski.

Respectfully submitted,
S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
Not Sitting,
Attorney General.
WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:
ARTHUR H. JAMES,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of David Clark, B-6842, No. 154A, February Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on David Clark, convicted of breaking and entering, larceny, in the Quarter Sessions Court of Elk County, on January 15, 1938; and of breaking and escaping penitentiary, in the Quarter Sessions Court of Centre County, on June 12, 1939, be commuted on Bill No. 31 September Sessions, 1939, from a minimum of 2 years to a minimum of 1 day, expiring on April 16, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant is one of many prisoners whose release on parole has been affected by the opinion of the Supreme Court in the case of Commonwealth of Pennsylvania ex rel. Thomas Lynch v. Stanley P. Ashe, Warden of the Western State Penitentiary, 320 Pa. 341. In this opinion it was held that unless a prisoner, who was serving sentences imposed to run consecutively, was recommended and approved for parole at the expiration of the first minimum sentence, he would be serving the maximum of that sentence, and if no recommendation for parole was made at the expiration of the second and subsequent minimum of sentences imposed to run consecutively, the prisoner would be serving the maximum of the second and subsequent sentences. In other words, a prisoner serving an indeterminate sentence is not automatically paroled at the expiration of the minimum term but is merely eligible for parole at that time, and if not favorably considered by the Prison Board at any time thereafter, the prisoner is required to serve the full sentence. (And also in the opinion of the Superior Court in the case of Anthony Narcise, Appellant, v. The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary).

It was the custom for a long period of time for the officials of both the Eastern and Western State Penitentiaries to lump consecutive sentences and the Boards of Trustees would only make recommendations for release on parole at the expiration of the period of time equal to the total of the minimum sentences.

Since the Supreme Court held this procedure improper, the applicant and others, whose cases were not considered for parole at the expiration of their minimum sentences, through no fault of their own, will have to serve a much longer period of time than contemplated by the sentencing judge and the prison officials.

The failure of the Board of Trustees to make the necessary recommendations for parole at the expiration of the minimum sentences was an honest mistake, as most, if not all, sentencing judges shared the same view as the prison officials in deeming it to be unnecessary to make recommendations for parole at the expiration of the minimum of every consecutive sentence. Sentencing judges throughout the state have uniformly believed and taken into consideration in passing sentences the Prison Board practice that consecutive sentences would be lumped making a total minimum and a total maximum.

We believe that a great injustice would be done and that it would be most unfair to keep the applicant incarcerated for a longer period of time than recommended by the Board of Trustees of the institution in which the applicant is confined.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
Not Sitting,
Attorney General.
WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

ARTHUR H. JAMES,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Morris Cohen, B-1791, No. 1931, February Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Morris Cohen, convicted of (1) burglary, and (2) entering a building in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County, on January 15, 1930, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for a full and absolute pardon entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County on the 15th day of January, 1930 to Indictments Nos. 2, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 11, and 12 January Term, 1930 charging (1) burglary, and (2) entering a building, and was sentenced on the same day by the Honorable Harry W. Rowand, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary on Indictment No. 2 to not less than five nor more than ten years and on Indictments Nos. 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 11, and 12 to not less than two nor more than four years in each case, all sentences to run consecutively.

On January 15, 1935 the applicant was placed on parole after the commutation of his minimum sentence.

The agent of the Board reports, after making a thorough investigation, that the applicant has been gainfully employed since his release, has never become involved in any violations of the law nor the parole regulations and has been most co-operative in his attitude toward the parole authorities.

The Supervisor of Paroles in a report to the Board of Pardons states that his conduct while on parole has been satisfactory and that if the convicting authorities recommend favorable consideration, he will have no objection to the granting of a pardon.

The district attorney of Allegheny County has advised this Board that he has no objection to the granting of a pardon to the applicant.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant since his release on parole has lived such an exemplary life as to evidence complete rehabilitation and to convince it of his desire to continue living within the law. The Board, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Morris Cohen.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
Not Sitting,
Attorney General.
WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

ARTHUR H. JAMES,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Harry W. Dugan, B-3808, No. 4810, February Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Harry W. Dugan, convicted of murder of the second degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Fayette County on September 6, 1933 be commuted from 10 years to 8 years and 6 months, expiring on March 6, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Fayette County on the 6th day of September, 1933 to Indictments Nos. 13-1/2-37 and 13/37 September Term, 1933 charging murder of the second degree, and was sentenced by the Honorable John S. Morrow, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten nor more than twenty years on each indictment, the sentences to run concurrently.

The applicant had never before been convicted of a violation of the law and has now been imprisoned for more than eight and one-half years.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states that if eligible for parole, it would probably recommend him for parole for the reason that this was his first conviction, that he has an excellent institutional record, has been co-operative and trustworthy, and has served more than eight and one-half years.

Employment awaits the release of the applicant and an adequate parole plan has been provided for him.

The convicting authorities of Fayette County have not objected to the granting of leniency in this case.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that in view of the nature of the crime committed, the applicant's former good record and his behavior while confined, he has received sufficient punishment and that the ends of justice have been fully satisfied. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of ten years be commuted to a new minimum term of eight years and six months, expiring on March 6, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until September 6, 1953.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
Not Sitting,
Attorney General.
WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

ARTHUR H. JAMES,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Theodore Ebinger, No. 5628, February Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Theodore Ebinger convicted of unlawful possession of intoxicating liquor, unlawful possession of the same, assault and battery, and aggravated assault and battery in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on November 9, 1931, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for a full and absolute pardon entered his plea of nolle contendere in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on the 9th day of November, 1931 to Indictments Nos. 332 and 333 April Term, 1931 charging unlawful possession of intoxicating liquor and unlawful possession of the same, assault and battery, and aggravated assault and battery, and was adjudged guilty by the Honorable Thomas D. Finletter, Judge, and sentenced to pay a fine of ten dollars.

The sentence imposed is evidence of the opinion of the sentencing judge as to the gravity of the offense and the same judge in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: ". . . On the Court record I think no harm would be done by granting the petition."

The district attorney's office of the County of Philadelphia advises the Board that it has no objection to the granting of a pardon.

The applicant has made application for appointment as a policeman of the City of Philadelphia, but the record of this conviction prevents the making of the appointment and interferes also with the applicant in securing other employment.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the record of this conviction of so trivial an offense should not remain as a handicap to prevent the applicant from securing the kind of employment he wants and, therefore, the Board recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Theodore Ebinger.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
Not Sitting,
Attorney General.
WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

ARTHUR H. JAMES,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Theodore Griffith, C-8803, No. 5622, February Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Theodore Griffith convicted of robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Chester County, on March 27, 1933 to be computed from February 3, 1933 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for a full and absolute pardon entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Chester County on the 27th day of March, 1933 to Indictment No. 15 April Sessions, 1933 charging robbery, and was sentenced by the Honorable Frank E. Hause, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than two nor more than four years, sentence to be computed from February 3, 1933. He was released on parole at the expiration of his minimum sentence and was finally discharged February 3, 1937.

On November 29, 1937 the applicant entered a plea of guilty to a charge of violating the Vehicle Code, and was sentenced to one month imprisonment in the Chester County Jail and to pay a fine of two hundred dollars. On December 13, 1937 he was paroled and the fine was remitted upon payment of the costs.

The applicant is now twenty-nine years of age and has a wife and three children with whom he lives and who are supported by him.

The applicant has lost one position and has difficulty getting others by reason of the record against him.

The convicting authorities have no objection to the granting of leniency to the applicant.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant by his record since his release has earned the right to steady and lucrative employment, which can be made possible by the granting of his pardon.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Theodore Griffith.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
Not Sitting,
Attorney General.
WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Esther Lebofsky alias Esther Lewis, No. 5623, February Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Esther Lebofsky, alias Esther Lewis, convicted of receiving stolen goods in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on March 1, 1938, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for a full and absolute pardon was convicted by a jury in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on the 1st day of March, 1938, under Indictment No. 834 February Sessions, 1938 charging receiving stolen goods, and was sentenced by the Honorable Otto Heiligman, Judge, to the Moyamensing County Prison for a term of not less than six months nor more than three years.

The applicant was twenty-two years old when the offense was committed and had never before been charged with a violation of the law. After serving her minimum sentence she was paroled in September, 1938.

The representatives of the office of the District Attorney of Philadelphia County who appeared before the Board of Pardons stated that the office was not opposed to the granting of clemency.

The Chief Probation Officer of the Women's Division of the Court of Philadelphia County in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: ". . . We understand that the defendant is now applying for a pardon because she has experienced great difficulty in obtaining and keeping employment because of the above charge. In the consideration of this pardon we think it will be helpful for you to know that Miss Lewis at all times conformed in a very satisfactory manner to the regulations of parole supervision."

The applicant has been unable to retain employment by reason of the record of this conviction. She is trained in the assemblying of mechanical parts and would possibly be of value in defense work, but the record of this conviction prevents her employment by concerns doing the kind of work in which she is trained.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the record of this one conviction should not retard her development, prevent her from giving assistance to her parents or lose her services for the benefit of industry. The Board, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Esther Lebofsky, alias Esther Lewis.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
Not Sitting,
Attorney General.
WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:
ARTHUR H. JAMES,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of John Mason, D-297, No. 5604, February Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on James Mason, convicted of burglary, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Philadelphia County, on the 17th day of January, 1935, be commuted on Bill No. 449 January Term, 1935, from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 2 years and 2 months, expiring on March 18, 1942; and on Bill No. 450 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on March 19, 1942. Has been granted parole on Bill No. 448.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for a commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on the 17th day of January, 1935 to Indictments Nos. 448, 449, and 450 January Term, 1935. charging burglary, and was sentenced by the Honorable James G. Gordon, Jr., Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years on each indictment, the sentences to run consecutively.

The applicant was twenty years old when sentenced and is now twenty-seven years of age.

The applicant is married and his wife has remained loyal to him during the years of his incarceration. A son was born to him after his arrest.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary reports that his institutional record has been unusual, and that his efforts to support his wife and child and his continued interest in his family are factors in his favor.

Taking into consideration the age of the applicant at the time the sentence was imposed and the sense of responsibility that he seems to now have as evidenced by his interest in his wife and child, the Board of Pardons is of the opinion that he has been sufficiently punished and should be given a chance to properly take care of and provide for that family outside of prison walls. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of 5 years imposed on Bill No. 449 be commuted to a new minimum term of 2 years and 2 months, expiring on March 18, 1942, and on Bill No. 450 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on March 19, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until March 18, 1952. Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 448.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Attorney General.
WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:
ARTHUR H. JAMES,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Salvatore Nucifora, No. 5615, February Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Salvatore Nucifora, convicted of breaking, entering, larceny, and receiving stolen goods in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on June 6, 1939, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for a full and absolute pardon entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on the 6th day of June, 1939 to Indictment No. 320 March Sessions, 1939 charging breaking, entering, larceny, and receiving stolen goods, and was placed on probation by the Honorable James J. Gordon, Jr., Judge, for a period of five years.

The applicant is nineteen years of age and is preparing to enter the University of Pennsylvania. He was sixteen years old when the offense was committed.

He was never before in any conflict with the law and since being placed on probation, there has been no fault found with his conduct.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant in view of its good conduct since the commission of the crime, should not be compelled to begin his college career handicapped by the record of this youthful error and, it therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Salvatore Nucifora.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Thomas O'Connor, B-1250, No. 10, February Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons that Thomas O'Connor, convicted of (1) robbery, and (2) indecent exposure, receiving stolen goods in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County, on June 11, 1929 and May 5, 1938, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows.

The applicant for a full and absolute pardon was convicted by a jury in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County under Indictment No. 40 June Sessions, 1929 charging (1) robbery, and (2) receiving stolen goods, and was sentenced by the Honorable A. B. Smith, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than 2½ nor more than 5 years and was released and placed on parole on December 11, 1931 and finally discharged June 11, 1934.

On May 5, 1938 the applicant was convicted under indictments Nos. 359 and 360 April Sessions, 1938 charging indecent exposure, and was sentenced to undergo imprisonment in the Allegheny County Jail for a term of one year and to pay a fine of one hundred dollars. The imprisonment was served and the fine paid and since his release the applicant has been constantly employed and has not again come in conflict with the law.

The only complaint made by the parole officers during the time the applicant was under their supervision was that he too frequently indulged in too much liquor but he seems to have now overcome that weakness and has for the past three years been employed in a responsible position.

His employer writes that he has been honest, diligent and conscientious. His habits are perfect and his conduct exemplary.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant by his conduct during the past few years has earned the privilege of having his record cleared and of continuing his life freed of the handicap of his former convictions. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Thomas O'Connor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Ray Palmer, B-4468, No. 4163, February Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Ray Palmer, convicted of burglary and larceny, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Bradford County, on November 7, 1927; and of breaking and escaping penitentiary, in the Quarter Sessions Court of Centre County, on February 26, 1935, be commuted on Bill No. 150 September Sessions, 1928, from a minimum term of 4 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on April 24, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant is one of many prisoners whose release on parole has been affected by the opinion of the Supreme Court in the case of Commonwealth of Pennsylvania ex rel. Thomas Lynch v. Stanley P. Ashe, Warden of the Western State Penitentiary, 320 Pa. 341. In this opinion it was held that unless a prisoner, who was serving sentences imposed to run consecutively, was recommended and approved for parole at the expiration of the first minimum sentence, he would be serving the maximum of that sentence, and if no recommendation for parole was made at the expiration of the second and subsequent minimum of sentences imposed to run consecutively, the prisoner would be serving the maximum of the second and subsequent sentences. In other words, a prisoner serving an indeterminate sentence is not automatically paroled at the expiration of the minimum term but is merely eligible for parole at that time, and if not favorably considered by the Prison Board at any time thereafter, the prisoner is required to serve the full sentence. And also in the opinion of the Superior Court in the case of Anthony Narcise, Appellant, v. the Eastern State Penitentiary, Board of Trustees.

It was the custom for a long period of time for the officials of both the Eastern and Western State Penitentiaries to lump consecutive sentences and the Boards of Trustees would only make recommendations for release on parole at the expiration of the period of time equal to the total of the minimum sentences.

Since the Supreme Court held this procedure improper, the applicant and others, whose cases were not considered for parole at the expiration of their minimum sentences, through no fault of their own, will have to serve a much longer period of time than contemplated by the sentencing judge and the prison officials.

The failure of the Board of Trustees to make the necessary recommendations for parole at the expiration of the minimum sentences was an honest mistake, as most, if not all, sentencing judges shared the same view as the prison officials in deeming it to be unnecessary to make recommendations for parole at the expiration of the minimum of every consecutive sentence. Sentencing judges throughout the state have uniformly believed and taken into consideration in passing sentences the Prison Board practice that consecutive sentences would be lumped making a total minimum and a total maximum.

We believe that a great injustice would be done and that it would be most unfair to keep the applicant incarcerated for a longer period of time than recommended by the Board of Trustees of the institution in which the applicant is confined.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Haskel Watson, C-3132, No. 4123, February Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due

public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the Life Imprisonment sentence of Haskel Watson, convicted of murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on October 19, 1925 be commuted from Life Imprisonment to 16 years and 5 months, expiring on March 19, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on the 19th day of October, 1925 to Indictment No. 345 May Term, 1925 charging murder, and was sentenced by the Honorable William C. Ferguson, Judge, to life imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The killing which resulted in the sentence of this applicant grew out of a fight over a debt owing the applicant from the deceased.

The applicant has now served over sixteen years in the penitentiary and during that time has maintained a good institutional record and has been co-operative at all times.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary reports to the Board of Pardons that he has demonstrated ability to make social adjustment and that his efforts at self-improvement are deserving of consideration.

Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: "..... This man was sentenced to life imprisonment by the late Judge Ferguson in October, 1925. He was an applicant before your Honorable Board on three prior occasions, the last being April, 1941. As I stated then, he has cooperated with the authorities at all times and for many years was a trusted employee in the kitchen. He is now the janitor of the Identification Bureau, and his services, like his conduct, are satisfactory. He has tried to improve his education during his confinement, and is one of the best behaved colored inmates in the Penitentiary. I think steady employment is his problem, and I am sure if he can procure it if when released, he will continue the conduct of the past sixteen and a half years."

His release is not objected to by the office of the District Attorney of Philadelphia County.

The Board of Pardons feels that after the service of more than sixteen years in the manner in which the applicant has served them, the ends of justice have been adequately satisfied and that he is entitled to another opportunity to live peaceably with his fellow men. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the life sentence of imprisonment be commuted to a new minimum term of sixteen years and five months, expiring on March 19, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole the balance of his natural life.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Joseph Zeigler, C-9728, No. 5599, February Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Northumberland County on the 5th day of December, 1932 to Indictments Nos. 85, 86, 87, and 88 December Sessions, 1932 and was sentenced by the Honorable Charles K. Morganroth, Judge, to undergo imprisonment in the Northumberland County Jail for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years in each Indictments Nos. 85 and 86, the sentences to run consecutively, and not less than five nor more than ten years in Indictments Nos. 87 and 88, the sentences to run concurrently with the sentence imposed in No. 85. On April 12, 1933 the applicant was transferred to the Eastern State Penitentiary.

When returned to the Eastern State Penitentiary, it was necessary for him as a parole violator to first serve the unexpired term remaining on a sentence imposed by the Courts of Luzerne County on July 3, 1930 of not less than eighteen months nor more than three years after his conviction of a charge of larceny and receiving stolen goods.

He commenced serving the sentence imposed in Northumberland County on June 5, 1934 and has now served over seven years and eight months of that sentence.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary reports that he performs efficiently at present as a clerk in the tailor shop, that his habits are thrifty, that he has saved more than two hundred dollars, and that his general institutional adjustment has been good.

The convicting authorities of Northumberland County have not objected to the granting of leniency and the Supervisor of Paroles is satisfied to have him released if an adequate parole plan is obtained.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant has been sufficiently punished for the crime committed and that his institutional record is such as to justify it in affording him an opportunity to make another attempt to live an honest life. The Board, therefore, recommends that the maximum sentence of ten years imposed on Bill No. 85 be commuted to a new maximum term of 7 years and 9 months, expiring on March 5, 1942, and on Bill No. 86 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on March 6, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until March 5, 1952.

In re application of Ollie Berry, B-2034, No. 155A, March Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due

public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Ollie Berry, convicted of (1) robbery, and (2) larceny of automobile in the Oyer and Terminer and Quarters Sessions Court of Allegheny County, on May 14, 1930, be commuted on Bill No. 36 May Sessions, 1930, from a minimum of 5 years to a minimum of 1 year, 11 months, and 28 days, expiring on May 12, 1942, on Bill No. 63 from a minimum of 1 year to a minimum of 1 day, expiring on May 13, 1942; and on Bill No. 64 from a minimum of 1 year to a minimum of 1 day, expiring on May 14, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant is one of many prisoners whose release on parole has been affected by the opinion of the Supreme Court in the case of Commonwealth of Pennsylvania ex rel. Thomas Lynch v. Stanley P. BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Fearns E. Bitler, D-4982, No. 5682, March Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation as as follow:

The applicant for commutation of sentence was convicted by a jury in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Lycoming County on the 14th day of April, 1938 under Indictment No. 89 September Term, 1937 charging forgery, alteration and falsification of tax exoneration certificates, and was sentenced to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary by the Honorable Don M. Larrabee, Judge, for a term of not less than 3½ nor more than 7 years, to begin at the expiration of sentences to be served in the Lycoming County Jail imposed under Indictments Nos. 67 and 68 March Sessions, 1937 charging embezzlement.

He completed the latter sentence on June 12, 1940, and was committed to the Eastern State Penitentiary to serve the sentence imposed in No. 89 September Term, 1937.

On February 22, 1939 he entered a plea of nolle contendere in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Lycoming County to Indictments Nos. 91 and 92 September Term, 1937 charging embezzlement, and was sentenced to imprisonment in the Lycoming County Jail for a term of three years in No. 92, to begin at the expiration of sentence imposed in No. 89 September Term 1937, and 1½ years in Indictment No. 91, to begin at the expiration of sentence in No. 92.

He has now served more than one year and nine months of the sentence imposed in No. 89 September Term, 1937.

The applicant was elected County Treasurer of Lycoming County for the years 1932 to 1935, and after his retirement from office his successor discovered a shortage of over $97,000.00. The sentence imposed on the applicant followed.

He violated the trust placed in him by the people of his home county and the sentences imposed were not too severe for his perfidy, but since his incarceration he has been stricken with an incurable malady and mercy demands his release.

The physician at the Eastern State Penitentiary has advised the Board that: ". . . It is our confirmed opinion that this man is suffering from an incurable and progressive, fatal disease, which will keep him bedfast for the rest of his natural life. Any undue exertion, even that associated with getting out of bed to go to the toilet, may result in serious consequences. His life expectancy is very limited, perhaps a matter of months, and it is my opinion that he is, at the present time, completely and permanently disabled and shoud be removed from this institution. This man is bedfast and, I believe, will remain so. He does not need any special nursing care except that incident to his meals, bathing, and toilet attention, because I do not think it advisable for him to get out of bed at any time for any of the above necessities. I would think that he could be very easily taken care of at home, under the circumstances, by the members of his family without the assistance of a professional nurse."

In a letter to the Board of Pardons the District Attorney of Lycoming County, Charles Scott Williams, Esquire, wrote: ".....I wish to say, however, that because of the fact that this case still has wide interest in this County, I made a trip to Philadelphia, at which place I saw the Warden of the Eastern Penitentiary, the resident Physician and also the Chief of the Medical Staff. I was told by these men that Mr. Bitler would be bedfast the rest of his life and that his condition is serious. I have talked the matter over with both Judges of Lycoming County and with Mrs. Bitler. I feel that if any consideration is given him it should be given because of the condition of his health. I think, however, that the Board should be satisfied as to whether or not his wife is in condition to keep him, as he will probably need nursing and medical care for the rest of his life and her income is very little."

Mr. Williams later appeared and elaborated his written statement and furnished the Board with a newspaper clipping from a Williamsport newspaper containing an account of the applicant's petition and the position being taken by the District Attorney.

Full publicity has been given to the efforts being made to obtain the applicant's release and no objection has been made by any one. Counsel for the applicant and the District Attorney both expressed the belief that the wife of the applicant could furnish the medical aid and nursing necessary to sustain the life of the applicant at his home as well as in the penitentiary.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that because of the applicant's incurable physical conditions, mercy should savor justice and that the applicant should be permitted to spend his remaining days with the wife who has overlooked his transgressions and remains faithful in his hour of need. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of 3½ years imposed on Bill No. 89 September Term, 1937 be commuted to a new minimum term of one year and ten months, expiring on April 12, 1942; and on Bill No. 92 September Term, 1937 from a minimum term of 3 years to a minimum term of one day, expiring on April 13, 1942; and that on Bill No. 91 September Term, 1937 from a minimum term of 1½ years to a minimum term of one day, expiring on April 14, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until June 12, 1947.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of James Bosler, No. 5672, March Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that James Bosler, convicted of felonious entry and larceny in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Cumberland County, on April 25, 1939, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for a full and absolute pardon when only nineteen years of age entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Cumberland County on April 25, 1939 to Indictments Nos. 79, 80, 81, and 82 May Sessions, 1939 charging felonious entry and larceny, and was sentenced to an indeterminate term in the Pennsylvania Industrial School at Huntingdon.

He was released on parole on January 10, 1940, and has maintained a satisfactory parole record since that time. He was finally discharged from parole on April 7, 1941.

The Supervisor of Paroles has advised the Board of Pardons that if the convicting authorities recommend favorable consideration, he will have no objection to the granting of leniency.

The District Attorney of Cumberland County in a letter to the Board of Pardons stated that he strongly recommend that a pardon be granted and the Honorable Fred S. Reese, Judge, stated that the applicant had a very good record and that he would interpose no objection to a full pardon being granted.

The applicant states in his petition that he desires a pardon in order to clear his record for full service to his country.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant by reason of his record while at Huntingdon and since his release, has shown such complete rehabilitation as to justify a pardon and giving to him full and unhampered opportunity to lead a useful life.

The Board, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, James Bosler.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Thomas E. Burkhart, B-8653, C-1854, No. 5643, March Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Thomas E. Burkhart, convicted of breaking and larceny in the Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions Court of Luzerne County, on the 26th day of March, 1917; and to forgery in the Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions Court of Luzerne County, on the 11th day of August, 1922, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for a full and absolute pardon entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Luzerne County on the 26th day of March, 1917 to Indictments Nos. 412 and 413 November Sessions, 1917 charging breaking and larceny, and was sentenced by the Honorable Henry Fuller, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than three nor more than five years. He was paroled March 3, 1920, and finally discharged from parole on March 26, 1922.

On August 11, 1922 he entered his plea of guilty in the same county to Indictment No. 841 September Sessions, 1922 charging forgery, and was sentenced by the Honorable W. A. Valentine, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than seven and a half nor more than ten years. He was paroled on May 8, 1930, and finally discharged from parole on November 8, 1932.

The Supervisor of Paroles reports that while on parole he maintained a satisfactory record and that he had no objection to the granting of a pardon, if the convicting authorities recommended favorable consideration.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states that if the Supervisor of Paroles certifies good conduct, it can see no objection to the granting of a pardon.

The Honorable W. A. Valentine, Judge, in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: "....I beg to state that so far as I know the facts set forth in the application are correct. If so, it is my opinion that the application is meritorious."

The representative of the District Attorney's office of Luzerne County stated that the office had no objection to the granting of a pardon.

The applicant appeared in person before the Board, and appeared to be a man of stabilized character and matured judgment.

A letter to the Board of Pardons from the President of the Quaker Rubber Corporation, where the applicant is employed states: "....I feel that this man has now earned and should receive favorable consideration from your board."

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the reports of and letters from the prison officials, parole supervisor, the convicting authorities, and the applicant's employer amply justify it in granting clemency to this applicant in order to assist him in living up to the hopes of those who unite in endorsing him. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Thomas E. Burkhart.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of James Callahan, C-7262, No. 3949, March Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on James Callahan, convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, in the Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions Court of Philadelphia County, on the 31st day of July, 1931, be commuted on Bill No. 418 July Term, 1931, from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 8 months, expiring on April 2, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bills Nos. 416 and 417).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Courts of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on the 31st day of July, 1931 to Indictments Nos. 416, 417, and 418 July Term, 1931 charging robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, and was sentenced by the Honorable James M. Barnett, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than twenty years on each Indictment, the sentences to run consecutively.

The applicant at that time had a record of one conviction.

He has now been confined for a period of ten years and eight months and the Board of Trustees of the Eastern Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . He was sentenced July 31, 1931, 5 to 20 years on each, to run consecutively. He has now completed approximately 10 years 7 months of the 15 years minimum. His prison conduct and work record has been satisfactory. He is now employed as a clerk in the hospital at Graterford and is considered a conscientious worker. His prison habits are good, he has few associates, and reacts well to discipline."

The representative of the District Attorney's office of Philadelphia County advised the Board of Pardons that the office had no objection to the granting of commutation and that they felt that the applicant had been severely punished.

Adequate sponsorship and employment have been provided for the applicant in the event of his release.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that this applicant has been punished sufficiently for the wrong committed and that the ends of justice have been satisfied. His prison record is evidence of a sincere desire to lead an honest life upon his release, and the Board of Pardons, therefore recommends that the minimum sentence on Bill No. 418 be commuted from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 8 months, expiring on April 2, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until July 31, 1961. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bills Nos. 416 and 417).

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Harry W. Chapasco, D-374, No. 4789, March Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Harry W. Chapasco, convicted of arson, larceny, breaking and entering, aggravated asault and battery, assault and battery with intent to kill, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Schuylkill County, on the 18th day of February, 1935, be commuted on Bill No. 180-1 March Term, 1935, from a minimum term of 2½ years to a new minimum term of 1 year and 2 months, expiring on April 20, 1942; on Bill No. 180-2 from a minimum term of 1½ years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on April 21, 1942; on Bill No. 240 from a minimum term of 6 months to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on April 22, 1942; on Bill No. 241 from a minimum term of 1½ years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on April 23, 1942; and on Bill No. 242 from a minimum term of 3 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on April 24, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bills Nos. 178, 179-1, and 179-2).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Schuylkill County on the 18th day of February, 1935 to Indictments Nos. 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 240, 241, and 242 March Sessions, 1935 charging arson, larceny, breaking and entering, aggravated assault and battery, assault and battery with intent to kill, and was sentenced by the Honorable Cyrus M. Palmer, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than 15 nor more than 30 years.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states that the applicant's personal habits and institutional attitude have been satisfactory.

There were three accomplices of the applicant in the commission of the crimes for which he is now confined and all of them have been released on parole.

The Honorable Cyrus M. Palmer in a letter to the Board of Pardons wrote that he was not opposed to the commutation.

An adequate parole plan and satisfactory employment awaits the release of the applicant.

The applicant has now served more than seven years of his sentence and his prison record indicates a strong desire for an opportunity to lead an honest and law-abiding life. The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the time served by the applicant has been sufficient punishment to satisfy the ends of justice and, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of 2½ years imposed on Bill No. 180-1 be commuted to a new minimum term of 1 year and 2 months, expiring on April 20, 1942: on Bill No. 180-2 from a minimum term of 1½ years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on April 21, 1942; on Bill No. 240 from a minimum term of 6 months to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on April 22, 1942; on Bill No. 241 from a minimum term of 1½ years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on April 23, 1942; and on Bill No. 242 from a minimum term of 3 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on April 24, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until April 24, 1948.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Edward F. Davis, No. 999, March Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Edward F. Davis, convicted of assault and battery, in the Municipal Court of Philadelphia County on the 28th day of February, 1919; and of the crimes of assault and battery, assault and battery with intent to ravish, enticing a minor, and fornication and bastardy, on the 22nd day of September, 1922, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for a full and absolute pardon was convicted by a jury in the Municipal Court of Philadelphia County on the 28th day of February, 1919 under Indictment No. 281 October Sessions, 1918 charging assault and battery, and sentence was suspended and the applicant placed on probation by the Honorable Raymond MacNeille, Judge.

The applicant was also convicted in the same court on the 22nd day of September, 1922 under Indictments Nos. 775 and 776 August Sessions, 1921 charging assault and battery, assault and battery with intent to ravish, enticing a minor, and sentence was suspended by the Honorable Eugene C. Bonniwell, Judge, and on the same day he was convicted in the same court under Indictment No. 675 June Sessions, 1922 charging fornication and bastardy, and was sentenced by the Honorable Eugene C. Bonniwell to pay the sum of $45.00 lying-in expenses and the further sum of $3.00 per week for sixteen years to the mother of the child. The child died February 7, 1932, and the order for the payment of the $3.00 per week has been vacated and all moneys due have been paid in full.

Since the commission of the last of these offenses the applicant has been in no trouble and the representative of the office of the District Attorney of Philadelphia County stated to the Board of Pardons that they could find no further record against him.

The Assistant District Attorney states that the crime "happened long ago," and the District Attorney's office leaves the application to the discretion of the Board.

Judge MacNeille who sentenced the applicant on the first offence committed, in a letter to the Board writes: ". . . Apparently his offense is not a serious one, since no imprisonment was imposed."

The applicant has been employed at the United States Navy Yard in Philadelphia at a responsible position but desires to apply for a civil service examination and appointment.

He is now married and has one child eight years of age.

The applicant has borne a good reputation in the neighborhood for the past fifteen years.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant's conduct during the course of the past twenty years justifies it in affording him an opportunity to apply for such position as his experience and present character and reputation may merit. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Edward F. Davis.

Respectfully submitted,
S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Rosetta Davis, C-4941, 558, No. 4570, March Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the life imprisonment sentence of Rosetta Davis, convicted of murder of the first degree in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on November 21, 1928 be commuted from Life Imprisonment to 13 years and 5 months, expiring on April 21, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The application for commutation of sentence entered her plea of guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on the 21st day of November, 1928 to Indictment No. 1379 October Sessions, 1928 charging murder of the first degree, and was sentenced to life imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary by the Honorable Francis Shunk Brown, Jr., Judge. The applicant was later transferred to the State Industrial Home for Women at Muncy.

The applicant had no previous criminal record and the killing of which she was convicted grew out of the treatment she received from a former admirer whose ardor had suddenly cooled and who transferred his affections to another after he had been told that the applicant was pregnant.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons on this applicant states: ". . . The officials of the Muncy Institution report that she has been cooperative and is a skilled domestic worker, also an expert power sewing machine operator. She has proved trustworthy and during the Christmas holidays of 1941 was granted permission to visit her family for a period of one week. As she met every requirement of this privilege and in addition sent daily reports to the institution, they further state that she reacts well to discipline, her personal habits are good and that they not only recommend her but are willing to assist in her employment and help in any way possible. The applicant has never been under supervision of the officials of the Eastern State Penitentiary, therefore, we have no personal knowledge of her prison performance. This is a case in which we are required to make a long range prediction which must be based solely on the report furnished by the Muncy authorities. They report excellent performance and recommend favorable action, therefore, there is nothing that we can do but concur in their findings."

The blameless life of this applicant before the commission of this offense percludes any criminal tendencies that would make her release dangerous to society and her conduct since being confined is evidence of her desire to continue living within the law if released. An adequate parole plan has been provided and she will be employed as soon as she regains her liberty.

The applicant has now been confined for more than thirteen years. The Board of Pardons feels that in her case the ends of justice have been fully met and that she should be given another opportunity to live in the outside world and make a place for herself outside of prison walls. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the life sentence of imprisonment be commuted to a new minimum term of thirteen years and five months, expiring on April 21, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole the balance of her natural life.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Attorney General.
WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Joseph James Duboy, B-5592. No. 5044, March Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Joseph James Duboy, convicted of breaking prison and escape, and robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, in the Quarter Sessions Court of Fayette and Westmoreland Counties, on June 21, 1937 and May 27, 1940, be commuted on Bill No. 25/202 June Sessions, 1937, be commuted from a minimum term of 2 years to a minimum term of 1 year and 10 months, and 1 day, expiring on April 22, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bills Nos. 243 and 24/201). The sentence imposed on Indictment No. 140 May Sessions, 1937 for from 2 to 4 years to run concurrently with the original sentence is also commuted.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Fayette County on June 21, 1937 to Indictments Nos. 243, 24/201, and 25/202 June Sessions, 1937, charging breaking prison and escape, and was sentenced by the Honorable H. S. Dumbauld, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for not less than one nor more than two years on Indictment No. 243, and to not less than two nor more than four years in each Nos. 24/201 and 25/202, all sentences to be served consecutively.

On May 27, 1940 he entered a plea of guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Westmoreland County to Indictment No. 140 May Sssions, 1937 charging robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, and was sentenced by the Honorable Hilary Keenan, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than two nor more than four years to run concurrently with the sentences of the Court of Fayette County.

The applicant had never been convicted before the commission of these offences and the Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary reports that his conduct and employment record are excellent and if eligible for parole they would recommend on account of his record and the fact that these were his first convictions. He has now served about his full minimum sentence.

The applicant is married and has a son four years of age.

An adequate parole plan has been provided for the applicant and employment awaits his release.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the time now served by the applicant has satisfied the ends of justice and that his prison record shows such rehabilitation as to entitle him to an opportunity to begin his life anew in the outside word.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of 2 years imposed on Bill No. 25/202 June Sessions, 1937 be commuted to a new minimum term of 1 year and 10 months, and 1 day, expiring on April 22, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until June 21, 1944. (The applicant has been granted parole on Bills Nos. 243 and 24/201). The sentence imposed on Indictment No. 140 May Sessions, 1937 of from 2 to 4 years to run concurrently with the original sentence is also commuted.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Samuel Freeman, C-9380, No. 4624, March Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Samuel Freeman, convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, in the Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions Court of Philadelphia County, on the 15th day of December, 1933, be commuted on Bill No. 345 December Term, 1933, from a minimum term of ten years to a new minimum term of eight years and four months, expiring on April 15, 1942; and on Bill No. 346 from a minimum term of five years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on April 16, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on the 15th day of December, 1933 to Indictments Nos. 345 and 346 December Sessions, 1933 charging robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, and was sentenced by the Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than fifteen nor more than thirty years.

The applicants prior record shows three convictions for the same type of crime. He has now served over eight years of the above sentence, and the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . His prior record is not very impressive and probably reflects the results of his being shunted about without proper training and supervision. His conduct and work record is satisfactory. He has rather a weak nature and appears to be easily influenced. However, during the past six months he has shown some improvement along these lines. He has served over 8 years which should be sufficient to cause him to use his every effort to correct the mistakes of the past. We believe his present intentions to lend a law abiding life are honest and that he will make a special effort to refrain from further violation of the law."

This same feeling of belief in his reformation and confidence of his future conduct is expressed by the Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, in a letter to the Board in which he states: ". . . He has probably shown more improvement during the last six months than at any time during his confinement. At the present time I know he is determined to lead a straightforward honest life, but the outcome will depend upon his supervision as well as the temptation that confronts him. His brother has now been out practically a year, and would no doubt be able to assist this boy in going straight if you see fit to give him a chance."

An approved parole plan has been provided for the applicant and employment awaits his release.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the confidence expressed in his future by Judge McDevitt and the Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary is sufficient basis for it to feel justified in giving him an opportunity to demonstrate his rehabilitation. The eight years he has served is sufficient punishment if it has accomplished the reformation believed in by them, and the Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of ten years imposed on Bill No. 345 be commuted to a new minimum term of eight years and four months, expiring on April 15, 1942, and on Bill No. 346 from a minimum term of five years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on April 16, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until December 15, 1953.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Alphonso Michael Fuglio, C-6523, No. 4577, March Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the maximum sentence of Alphonso Michael Fuglio, convicted of robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on October 30, 1930, be commuted from 20 years to 9 years and 4 months, expiring on April 17, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on October 30, 1930 to Indictment No. 1718 October Sessions, 1930 charging robbery, and was sentenced by the Honorable Edwin O. Lewis, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than four nor more than twenty years.

The applicant's minimum sentence expired October 30, 1934, but he was not released on parole until April 30, 1936.

After his release he was twice arrested but discharged in both cases. On June 13, 1938, he was convicted in Delaware County for the crime of breaking and entering, and was sentenced to the Delaware County Prison for a term of not less than two nor more than four years, but on July 15th of the same year the sentence was amended and deferred and he was returned to the Eastern State Penitentiary as a parole violator.

For this parole violation he has served approximately three years and nine months.

A detainer has been lodged against him for the deferred sentence of the Delaware County Court.

The Supervisor of Paroles has advised the Board of Pardons that if the trial judge and convicting authorities recommend clemency, he will have no objection.

The representative of the District Attorney's Office of Philadelphia County stated to the Board that the office did not oppose commutation and left the matter to the Board. The trial judge has made no objection.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report states: ". . . An excellent institutional work history is reported. Employment in Bureau of Prison Industries in the morning he gave up afternoon recreation period to work with a construction detail. His attitude has been favorable and he has sent money home to his wife and child."

The applicant is married and has a daughter four years of age. An adequate parole plan and lucrative employment have been provided for him and await his release.

The applicant's institutional record since his return to the penitentiary for the parole violation demonstrates such a change in attitude as to indicate such rehabilitation as should be sufficient to entitle him to another chance to live honestly among his fellow men and to provide for his family. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the sentence of twenty years imposed be commuted to a new minimum term of nine years and four months, expiring on April 17, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until December 17, 1952.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Michael Gable, B-3426, No. 1834, March Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Michael Gable, convicted of breaking and entering, larceny, and receiving stolen goods, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Beaver County, on the 9th day of July, 1932; and in the Quarter Sessions Court of Centre County, on the 22nd day of October, 1932, for the crime of breaking and escaping prison, be commuted on Bill No. 2 September Sessions, 1932, from a maximum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 5 years and 5 months, expiring on April 1, 1942; and on Bill No. 65 November Sessions, 1932, from a maximum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 3 years and 2 months, expiring on April 1, 1942, and a maximum term of 10 years.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Beaver County on July 7, 1932 to Indictment No. 2 September Sessions, 1932 charging breaking and entering, larceny, and receiving stolen goods, and was sentenced by the Honorable Frank E. Reader, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for not less than two nor more than ten years.

On August 22, 1932 he plead guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Centre County to Indictment No. 65 November Sessions, 1932 charging breaking and escaping penitentiary, and a further sentence of not less than two nor more than ten years was imposed by the Honorable M. Ward Fleming, Judge.

On January 9, 1935 the applicant was released on parole following the commutation of his sentence, and shortly thereafter he was again arrested, charged with breaking and entering and larceny, but was acquitted.

On March 22, 1938 the applicant was convicted in Sciota County, Ohio, of the crime of carrying concealed deadly weapons, and was sentenced to a term of not less than one nor more than three years in the Ohio State Penitentiary. On April 1, 1939 he was discharged and returned to the Western State Penitentiary to serve the remaining portions of sentences imposed in Beaver County and Centre County.

The Honorable M. Ward Fleming, one of the sentencing judges, in a letter to the Board of Pardons stated that he had no desire to object to the application and was willing to abide by the findings and recommendations of the Board.

The applicant is married and is the father of four daughters who range in age from twelve to eighteen years.

His prison conduct and employment records are reported to be excellent and the applicant is now thirty-nine years of age and has employment offered as a window cleaner at an average weekly salary of $37.40 waiting for him.

An excellent parole plan has been arranged and the Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the time has arrived for him to make another attempt at rehabilitation. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the maximum sentence of 10 years imposed on Bill No. 2 September Sessions, 1932 be commuted to a minimum term of 5 years and 5 months, expiring on April 1, 1942; and on Bill No. 65 November Sessions, 1932 from a maximum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 3 years and 2 months, expiring on April 1, 1942, and a maximum term of 10 years, and that the applicant remain on parole until February 1, 1949.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of William F. Howell, C-7015, No. 1251, March Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that William F. Howell, convicted of rape in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Luzerne County, on April 11, 1931, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for a full and absolute pardon entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Luzerne County on the 11th day of April, 1931 to Indictment No. 300 April Sessions. 1931 charging rape, and was sentenced by the Honorable Benjamin R. Jones, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years. Previous to this charge he had never been arrested.

The applicant was released on parole on December 7, 1935, and was fully discharged April 11, 1941.

The Supervisor of Paroles in his report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . During the period this applicant was under supervision of the Board of Pardons, he fully and faithfully complied with all of the restrictions placed upon him by his parole rules. He remained constantly employed and made every effort to rehabilitate himself. The Supervisor of Paroles has no objection to the granting of executive clemency to this petitioner."

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report on the applicant sets forth that: ". . . The report of the Supervisor of Paroles concerning the man's performance and attitude during his 5 years 5 months parole period should be a factor for consideration, along with the reasons for application and the nature of the charge for which he was sentenced."

The representative of the office of the District attorney of Luzerne County appeared before the Board of Pardons at the hearing of this application and advised the Board that they recommended the granting of a pardon to the applicant.

The applicant's record since his parole is convincing evidence of his purpose to live within the law and this record and the attitude of those who have supervised him since his prison sentence began convinces the Board of Pardons that he should be given the right to continue his life free of the handicap of the record of his conviction. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, William F. Howell.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of John W. Kelso, D-2486, No. 3661, March Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on John W. Kelso, convicted of burglary, in the Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions Court of Delaware County, on the 21st day of October, 1932, be commuted on Bill No. 79 December Term, 1932, from a maximum term of 10 years to a munimum term of 9 years, 6 months, and 15 days, expiring on April 15, 1942; and on Bill No. 76 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on April 16, 1942. (Sentences from Montgomery and Philadelphia Counties to run concurrently with the Delaware County sentences, are also commuted).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Delaware County on the 21st day of October, 1932 to Indictment Nos. 79 and 76 December Sessions, 1932 charging burglary, and was sentenced by the Honorable Albert D. McDade, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten nor more than twenty years. These sentences were to run concurrently with two sentences imposed on the applicant on September 30, 1932 by Judge Knight in Montgomery County, and on the same day by Honorable Edwin O. Lewis, Judge, in Philadelphia County. Both these sentences were not less than five nor more than ten years to run concurrently.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . An excellent institutional work record is indicated. Outside contacts are with friends through visits and letters. While employed he studied an International Correspondence School course in dairying completing 8 lessons but lost interest and dropped the course. Since commutation parole would mean release only a few months before minimum sentence will expire and the fact he has served over 9 years, the petition has some merit and his release at this time probably would encourage him toward better social adjustment."

Adequate employment and an approved parole plan awaits the release of the applicant.

The District Attorney's office of Delaware County has advised this Board that it had no objection to the granting of leniency to the applicant.

No objections were made to the granting of the prayer of the applicant's petition by the convicting authorities of Philadelphia or Montgomery Counties.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the ends of justice have been served by the applicant's long service of over nine years, and that his efforts at self-improvement while confined justifies it in affording him an opportunity to apply his new knowledge in another effort to live an honest life in the outside world. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the maximum sentence of 10 years imposed on Bill No. 79 be commuted to a minimum term of 9 years, 6 months, and 15 days, expiring on April 15, 1942; and on Bill No. 76 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on April 16, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until April 15, 1952. (Sentences from Montgomery and Philadelphia Counties to run concurrently with the Delaware County sentence, are also commuted).

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Herbert Lee Locklear, C-9482, No. 4006, March Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Herbert Lee Locklear, convicted of burglary in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on January 25, 1934, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for a full and absolute pardon entered his plea of guilty in the Courts of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on the 25th day of January, 1934 to Indictment No. 1019 January Term, 1934 charging burglary, and was sentenced by the Honorable E. V. Alessandroni, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years.

The applicant was granted a commutation of this sentence on September 24, 1936, and was released on parole November 26, 1936.

Before the commission of this crime the applicant had a good record except for an arrest in 1932 for aiding and abetting an illegal lottery in which case he was discharged at the hearing.

The Supervisor of Paroles reported to the Board of Pardons that the applicant has faithfully complied with all parole requirements and has been constantly employed, and that he had no objection to the granting of a pardon if the convicting authorities made favorable recommendation.

The Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report on this applicant states: ". . . We believe pardon from parole is a good policy and if good performance is certified by the Supervisor of Paroles, his petition is probably entitled to some consideration."

The representative of the office of the District Attorney of Philadelphia County advised the Board of Pardons that the office had no objection to the granting of a pardon, and the sentencing judge is now deceased.

One of the members of the firm for which the applicant has worked for the past two years in a letter to the Board stated: ". . . As our driver it is Herbert's duty to make deliveries on a C. O. D. basis and also bank deposits which total thousands of dollars monthly." This seems to be convincing evidence of his complete rehabilitation and trustworthiness.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant is entitled to the removal of this one blemish on his record and to accept the advantages that a pardon will afford. The Board, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Herbert Lee Locklear.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Walter McCabe, D-3660, No. 5659, March Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Walter McCabe, convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on January 6, 1939, to be computed from December 9, 1938, be commuted from 5 years to 3 years and 4 months, expiring on April 9, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence when sixteen years old entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on the 6th day of January, 1939 to Indictment No. 562 December Sessions, 1938 charging robbery, being armed with an offiensive weapon, and was sentenced by the Honorable Gerald F. Flood, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than twenty years, sentence to be computed from December 9, 1938.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary reports to the Board of Pardons that the applicant has succeeded in making a fairly good adjustment and is profiting by his prison experience.

Employment at $20.00 per week has been provided for the applicant upon his release and his prospective employer will act as his sponsor. He will reside with his parents if released and be subject to their training.

The Honorable Gerald F. Flood, Judge, in a letter to the Board of Pardons stated that he had no recommendation to make and left the matter entirely with this Board.

The applicant was sixteen years of age when these crimes were committed and his crimes could not have been the result of a mind already fixed in criminal ways. The adjustment that has been made during his incarceration should be continued if he is returned to his parents. The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the years already served by this very young offender are sufficient punishment and that now is the time to afford him an opportunity to completely rehabilitate himself. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of 5 years be commuted to a new minimum term of 3 years and 4 months, expiring on April 9, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until December 9, 1958.

Respectfully submitted,
S. S. LEWIS,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Reginald Owens, No. 5652, March Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Reginald Owens convicted of assault and battery in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on September 21, 1936 be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for a full and absolute pardon entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on the 21st day of September, 1936 to Indictment No. 602 September Sessions, 1936 charging assault and battery, and was placed on probation for one year by the Honorable Otto R. Heiligman, Judge.

The applicant had no prior criminal record and the crime committed consisted of a fist fight between the applicant and the prosecutor. No one was injured and the sentencing judge did not consider the offense serious enough to impose even a fine.

The applicant has not been in any trouble with the law since the occurrence that resulted in this record and has been constantly employed. He is married and has three children, a son four years old, a daughter two years old, and a son six months old

He is now employed at the Philadelphia Navy Yard and a pardon will bring about better and more lucrative employment.

The office of the District Attorney of Philadelphia County has made no objection to clemency being granted, and the Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, in a letter to the Board writes: ". . . This man was convicted in December 1936 and placed on probation for one year by the late Judge Heiligman. At that time he had no prior criminal record and, since the expiration of his probationary period, has not been in conflict with the law. As far as I can ascertain, the facts set forth in his petition are correct. He was defending his aunt from a drunken visitor and, while it may have been a technical assault and battery, no doubt he would have been convicted if he had not pleaded guilty. I can see no objection to granting him a pardon."

In view of the previous good record of the applicant, the nature of the offense, and his conduct since that slight conflict with the law the Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant deserves the opportunity of continuing his course of life free of the handicap of this record and, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Reginald Owens.

Respectfully submitted,
S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of William Reilly, C-7824, No. 3409, March Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on William Reilly, convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, in the Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions Court of Philadelphia County, on the 7th day of March, 1932, be commuted on Bill No. 1621 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 month, expiring on April 8, 1942, and on Bill No. 1622 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on April 9, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 1620).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on the 7th day of March, 1932 to Indictments Nos. 1620, 1621, and 1622 February Sessions, 1932 charging robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, and was sentenced by the Honorable H. S. McDevitt, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than twenty nor more than sixty years.

The applicant was less than twenty years of age when he was sentenced and his criminal record shows one former conviction for larceny.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . He was received here March 7, 1932 and has now served approximately 10 years. During this time he has maintained an excellent record and has made considerable effort to improve himself. He has completed two courses from the International Correspondence School and was employed as a corrector in the institution school. He now works as clerk in the Parole Office and is continuing to assist with the school work. He has taken advantage of the opportunities offered by the institution and has definitely shown that he is profiting by his experience. It is our thought that he should be given an opportunity to see what he can do with his life in the free world."

The Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, in a letter to the Board writes: ". . . He has completed two courses with a correspondence school, and is employed as a clerk in the Parole Office. He has improved his mental capacity probably more than any other inmate, but on the occasion of his last application I was of the opinion that he had improved his education along lines that would not be helpful in making a living. I feel now that he has passed the turning point, and that he is entitled to consideration. He should be able to make a living, even with conditions as topsy-turvy as they are."

The office of the District Attorney of Philadelphia County has not objected to the commutation and the representative of that office stated that the matter was left to the Board.

An adequate parole plan has been arranged and employment in Woodbury, New Jersey, awaits the release of the applicant.

The parole authorities of the State of New Jersey have accepted supervision of parole of the applicant in that State, in the event of his release.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that penal servitude of ten years and supervision of twenty years for a young man of the age of this applicant is a long time and constitutes sufficient punishment for the crime committed. The opinion of the Board of Trustees and the sentencing judge as to his rehabilitation convinces the Board that he is ready to take his place in society. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of 5 years imposed on Bill No. 1621 be commuted to a minimum term of 1 month, expiring on April 8, 1942; and the minimum sentence of 5 years imposed on Bill No. 1622 be commuted to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on April 9, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until April 8, 1962. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 1620).

BOARD OF PARDONS

In he application of Herman E. Russell, B-949, No. 37, March Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Herman E. Russell, convicted of robbery, felonious breaking and entering, and larceny, in the Oyer and Terminer Court fo Washington County, on the 6th day of September, 1928, be commuted on Bill No. 1 August Term, 1928, from a minimum term of 2 years to a minimum term of 2 months, expiring on April 20, 1942; and on Bill No. 3 from a minimum term of 1 year to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on April 21, 1942. (Applicant was granted parole on Bill No. 495).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Washington County on the 6th day of September, 1928 to Indictments Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, and 495 August Term, 1928 charging robbery, felonious breaking and entering, and larceny, and was sentenced by the Honorable Erwin Cummins, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for not less than one nor more than two years on Indictments No. 2, 3, and 495, and to not less than two nor more than four years in Nos. 1 and 4, all sentences to run consecutively.

The applicant was released on parole no July 6, 1931 following the commutation of his sentence, having served two years, eleven months, and two days.

On June 8, 1934, the applicant was sentenced to the California State Prison after his conviction under an Indictment charging burglary. On December 20, 1937 he was released and returned to the Western State Penitentiary as a parole violator, and has now served four years, two months, and twenty-eight days for such violation.

The Supervisor of Paroles in a report to the Board of Pardons states that if a satisfactory parole plan is obtained, he will have no objection to the granting of leniency.

The applicant is assured of employment upon his release and an approved parole plan has been provided.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states that if eligible for parole they would recommend by reason of the long service of four years for his parole violation and his excellent institutional record.

The District Attorney of Washington County has advised the Board of Pardons by letter that he has no objection to the granting of leniency to the applicant.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that he has been sufficiently punished for his parole violation and should be given another opportunity to live a life within the law. The Board, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence imposed on Bill No. 1 August Term, 1928 be commuted from a minimum term of 2 years to a minimum term of 2 months, expiring on April 20, 1942; and on Bill No. 3 from a minimum term of 1 year to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on April 21, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until February 20, 1946. (Applicant was granted parole on Bill No. 495 expiring on February 20, 1942, and his parole as of that date was approved by the Governor on January 14, 1942. This sentence was recomputed in accordance with the Supreme Court's opinion in the Kinsella case 340 Pa. 497).

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of August Valente, No. 5680, March Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that August Valente, convicted of entering a building with intent to commit a felony in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County, on May 18, 1938, be pardoned.

Our reasons far making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for a full and absolute pardon entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County on May 18, 1938 to Indictment No. 62 March Sessions, 1938 charging entering a building with intent to commit a felony, and was placed on probation for a period of two years by the Honorable Samuel H. Gardner, Judge.

Prior to the entry of this plea of guilty, the applicant had a spotless record and bore a good reputation.

During the time he was on probation and since, he has not been guilty of any violation of the law.

The applicant seeks a pardon in order to obtain better employment and provide more abundantly for his wife and daughter.

The judge who placed the applicant on probation has made no objection to the granting of a pardon and the representative of the office of the District Attorney of Allegheny County stated to the Board that the office had no record of any further arrests of the applicant, and that they had no objection to the granting of clemency.

The investigator of the Board reports that the applicant has a good reputation in the neighborhood in which he resides, that he has been constantly employed, and has been promised more lucrative employment if he is granted a pardon.

The crime committed was not serious enough, in the eyes of the sentencing judge, to require a prison sentence and the Board of Pardons is of the opinion that his strict observance of the law during the time of his probation and since, his constant employment and his desire to better his condition in life deserve the help that the Board can give by recommending the granting of a pardon. The Board, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, August Valente.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Frank Varon, C-5877, No. 5684, March Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Frank Varon, convicted of robbery, entering, assault, larceny while armed in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on January 21, 1930, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for a full and complete pardon when only seventeen years old entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on the 21st day of January, 1930 to Indictments Nos. 914, 915, 917, 918, 922, 923, 924, 925, 926, 927, 928, 929, 930, and 931 January Sessions, 1930 charging robbery, entering, assault, and larceny while armed, and was sentenced by the Honorable Edwin O. Lewis, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than two and one-half nor more than five years.

The applicant was released on parole on July 21, 1932, and was finally discharged from parole on January 21, 1935.

The investigation of the Board's agents reveals that the applicant since his release has lived in California, and the reports of the California Parole Authorities evidence steady progress by the petitioner toward rehabilitation. He has worked in the fruit store of an uncle, and is now married and has a baby daughter.

The Suprevisor of Paroles states in his report to the Board of Pardons that while applicant was at liberty he faithfully complied with the restrictions placed upon him by his parole.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report states: ". . . If it is true that he has changed his philosphy of life and realizes his social obligations, the granting of a pardon from parole may have a beneficial effect.

The representative of the office of the District Attorney of Philadelphia County advised the court that the applicant had no prior record, and that a "pardon will have a beneficial effect upon the applicant and he is entitled to favorable consideration."

The applicant alleges that the stigma of being classed as an ex-convict precludes him from ever hoping to materially improve his position in life.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant, by reason of his conduct during the past ten years, is entitled to every possible opportunity to improve his position in life and, therefore, the Board, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Frank Varon.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of James Williams, D-4576, No. 5637, March Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of James Williams, convicted of assault with intent to rob, robbery in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on 9th day of January, 1940 to be computed from January 4, 1940 be commuted from 10 years to 2 years and 3 months, expiring on April 4, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on the 9th day of January, 1940 to Indictments Nos. 115 and 116 January Sessions, 1940 charging assault with intent to rob, robbery, and was sentenced by the Honorable Joseph L. Kun, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten nor more than twenty years. Sentence to be computed from January 4, 1940.

The defendant was less than twenty years of age when he entered his plea and had no prior criminal record.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board states: ". . . His institutional record is as good as can be expected and is in line with his limited mental ability. He is employed in the kitchen and under supervision, performs satisfactorily . His personal habits are fair, but he shows no care in the selection of his associates. He corresponds with and receives visits from his mother."

The representative of the District Attorney's office advised the Board of Pardons that the office had no objection to the granting of commutation and further stated: ". . . Petitioner states that a detective in charge of the criminal records testified in court that he had a record and, accordingly, the Judge imposed a heavy sentence. But, as a matter of fact, he had no record."

The Honorable Joseph L. Kun, the sentencing Judge, in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: ". . . There is no doubt that the sentence was influenced by the statement presented to the Court of the defendant's prior criminal record. If, as claimed in the application, this was an error and the defendant in fact had no prior record, there should be some commutation of the sentence."

The applicant has now served two years and three months of his minimum sentence, and as both the sentencing judge and the district attorney's office feel that the severity of the minimum sentence imposed was caused by an error as to the applicant's prior record, it becomes the function of the Board of Pardons to correct the error to some extent.

An adequate parole plan has been provided for the applicant and employment awaits him.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant has been sufficiently punished to satisfy the ends of justice and that he should be given an opportunity to demonstrate his fitness to live honestly among his fellow men.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of ten years be commuted to a new minimum term of two years and three months, expiring on April 4, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until January 4, 1960.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Walter Wojeck, C-9584, No. 5331, March Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Walter Wojeck, convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, and entering with intent to steal, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Philadelphia County, on the 7th day of March, 1934, be commuted on Bill No. 16 March Sessions, 1934, from a minimum term of 10 years to a new minimum term of 8 years and 1 month, expiring on April 7, 1942; and on Bill No. 9 September Term, 1932 from a minimum term of 2½ years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on April 8, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence was convicted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on the 7th day of March, 1934 under Indictment No. 16/20 March Sessions, 1934 charging robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, and was sentenced by the Honorable Frank Smith, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten nor more than twenty years.

The applicant also entered a plea of guilty in Philadelphia County to Indictment No. 9 of September Sessions, 1932 charging entering with intent to steal, and he was placed on probation for five years, after conviction noted above, the probationary sentence was revoked, and was sentenced by the Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, to the Eastern State Penitentiary for not less than two and one-half nor more than five years, sentence to begin at the expiration of sentence imposed in No. 16/20 March Sessions, 1934.

The applicant was twenty years of age when the second series of crimes were committed and has now served over eight years. The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . While this man has a formidable prior record, he has given evidence during the 8 years served of sincere effort toward self-improvement and reform. His habits of institutional industry and thrift indicates the persuasion and disposition toward future correct conduct."

The representative of the office of the District Attorney of Philadelphia County stated that the applicant had been in the penitentiary for over eight years, and that the matter of clemency was left to the Board.

The Board of Pardons having in mind the circumstance of the crimes, and the age of the applicant at the time, is of the opinion that the service of eight years in the penitentiary has satisfied the ends of justice, and that his prison attitude contains sufficient evidence of rehabilitation to justify his release on parole. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of 10 years imposed on Bill No. 16 March Sessions, 1934 be commuted to a new minimum term of 8 years and 1 month, expiring on April 7, 1942; and on Bill No. 9 September Term, 1932 from a minimum term of 2½ years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on April 8, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until March 7, 1954.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Joseph Almeida, D-2075, No. 5708, April Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Joseph Almeida, convicted of armed robbery, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Philadelphia County, on March 25, 1937, be commuted on Bill No. 1150 March Term, 1937 from a minimum term of 5 years to a new minimum term of 2 months, expiring on May 26, 1942. (Has been granted parole on Bill No 1149).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on the 25th day of March, 1937 to Indictments Nos. 1149 and 1150 March Term, 1937 charging armed robbery, and was sentenced by the Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern States Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than fifteen years in each indictment, the sentences to run consecutively.

The applicant was just past sixteen years of age at the time of his arrest and has now been confined for over five years.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . At the time of his arrest he attempted to escape and was shot several times by the police. Institutional conduct record satisfactory. Employment has been influenced by his physical condition which permitted working only for short periods of time. His associates are of the average type, however, he reacts well to discipline and appears to appreciate the surgical effort being made to correct his condition."

The same report in commenting on his physical condition sets forth the following: ". . . Physical condition—Following a gunshot wound in 1937 inmate developed an unusual traumatic condition in the back of the neck, right side. Since his incarceration in this institution, two operations have been performed on his neck. The latter being January 14, 1942. As of this date, inmate's symptoms and complaints of dizzy spells and general discomfort are returning. It is doubtful if his condition will ever improve; however, he is not bedridden."

The crime for which the applicant is now serving imprisonment was the first for which he was called to pay the penalty prescribed by law and in the commission of that offense while attempting to avoid arrest he was so badly wounded as to carry throughout the rest of his life a painful reminder of his wrong doing.

The applicant will be unable to work if released but his mother will take him into her home and provide for him.

A brother-in-law of the applicant has agreed to act as his sponsor as well as contribute toward his maintenance.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the time the applicant has served and his physical condition are sufficient punishment for the crime committed and that the ends of justice have been well satisfied. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence imposed on Bill No. 1150 March Term, 1937 be commuted from five years to a new minimum term of 2 months, expiring on May 26, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until March 25, 1957. BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Albert Barksdale, D-2791, No. 5724, April Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Albert Barksdale, convicted or attempted robbery with an offensive weapon in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on January 19, 1938 to be computed from January 10, 1938, be commuted from 5 years to 4 years and 4 months, expiring on May 10, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on the 19th day of January, 1938 to Indictment No. 717 January Term, 1938 charging attempted robbery with an offensive weapon, and was sentenced by the Honorable Howard A. Davis, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years. Sentence to be computed from January 10, 1938.

The applicant is now twenty-six years of age and has served four years and four months of his sentence.

His former record of law violations consisted only of one arrest for reckless driving.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . Applicant has made a satisfactory adjustment to prison discipline and has maintained a good attitude. He has been continuously employed since March, 1938. He is now a teamster on the farm and is classed as trustworthy and a willing worker. His associates are few and of the better type. If he continues his present satisfactory performance there is nothing from a prison standpoint to prevent a favorable recommendation for parole 9 months hence. Therefore, clemency at this time might act as an incentive to cause him to strive harder for successful adjustment."

The representative of the office of the District Attorney of Philadelphia County advised the Board that their office had no objection to the granting of clemency.

The Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: ". . . His attitude is good and his conduct record satisfactory. He is regarded as a dependable workman on the Farm, and his associates are few. He has approximately nine more months of his minimum term, and if your Honorable Board thinks that a little clemency at this time might be a stimulant to continue his good behavior, I have no objection."

A satisfactory parole plan and employment have been obtained for the applicant.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the recommendation of the Board of Trustees and of Judge McDevitt are evidence of such rehabilitation of the applicant as to justify it in affording him another opportunity to live and work in the world outside. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of five years imposed be commuted to a new minimum term of four years and four months, expiring on May 10, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until January 10, 1948

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of James Costello. C-9974. No. 4215, April Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of James Costello, convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on September 24, 1934, be commuted from 10 years to 7 years and 8 months, expiring on May 24, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on the 24th day of September, 1934 to Indictment No. 665 September Term, 1934 charging robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, and was sentenced by the Honorable R. E. Lamberton, Judge, to imprisonment for a term of not less than ten nor more than twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The applicant has now served over seven years and seven months of this sentence, and the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . He has made an unusual effort to improve himsef and has taken every advantage offered by the institution, and we believe he has found something in which he excells and as a result definite improvement has been noted in his personality and methods of solving problems. On the basis of his performance record and his apparent ambition to live a law-abiding life, we believe he is entitled to an opportunity."

In the event of his release the applicant will live in Kalamazoo, Michigan, where employment as a stenographer has been promised. A parole plan has been provided and has been approved by the parole authorities of the State of Michigan.

The district attorney's office of Philadelphia County has advised the Board of Pardons that the office had no objection to the granting of clemency.

The Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: ". . . In spite of his handicaps he has acquired a good education and his intelligence rating is considerably above the average. He is now a first class stenographer and typist. About a year ago he was transferred to the Montgomery County Jail, and has been there as secretary to the Warden ever since. His attitude and performance records are both good, and he has made an exceptional effort to improve himself. He insists that his back is turned forever to his life of crime, and if his prison performance record can be taken as an indication at the present time he is determined to go straight. He has served a substantial part of his minimum sentence, and if your Honorable Board thinks he has served enough time for one robbery, I have no objection to favorable action on your part."

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant has been sufficiently punished for the crime committed and that his remarkable institutional record coupled with the confidence in his future as expressed by Judge McDevitt and the Board of Trustees justifies the Board of Pardons in giving him the opportunity to demonstrate his fitness to take his place in society. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of ten years be commuted to a new minimum term of seven years and eight months, expiring on May 24, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until September 24, 1954.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of John Czajkowski, B-6101, No. 4389, April Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommends that the minimum sentence of John Czajkowski, convicted of robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on May 18, 1938 to be computed from April 18, 1938, be commuted from 5 years to 4 years and 1 month, expiring on May 18, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on the 18th day of May, 1938, to Indictment No. 12 May Term, 1938 charging robbery, and was sentenced by the Honorable Samuel H. Gardner, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years, sentence to be computed from April 18, 1938.

The applicant was eighteen years of age when this crime was committed and had a record of two juvenile convictions. He has now served four years of the minimum sentence imposed and the Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary reports that it would recommend for parole on account of his excellent institutional record and the fact that his was his first major imprisonment.

Many citizens of the applicant's home community have written to the Board of Pardons requesting the release of the applicant in order that he might assist his aged parents. Adequate employment and sponsorship have been provided for him.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant's institutional record and his efforts at self-improvement since and during his confinement are convincing evidence of his desire to lead an honest and useful life if liberated. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of 5 years imposed be commuted to a new minimum term of 4 years and 1 month, expiring on May 18, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until April 18, 1948.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of William Felmuth, D-4542, No. 5698, April Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of William Felmuth, convicted of burglary, receiving stolen goods, possession of burglary tools, and conspiracy in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on December 28, 1939, to be computed from December 20, 1939, be commuted from 10 years to 2 years and 5 months, expiring on May 20, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on the 28th day of December, 1939 to Indictments Nos. 511, 512, and 513 December Term, 1939, charging burglary, receiving stolen goods, possession of burglary tools, and conspiracy, and was sentenced by the Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten nor more than thirty years. Sentence to be computed from December 20, 1939.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Parons states: ". . . He has made an excellent adjustment, is now employed as a clerk in the Board of Trustees' Office. He performs quietly and efficiently and is entirely trustworthy. His attitude is cooperative and he has gone out of his way to render valuable service in solving difficult inmate problems. His attitude, general behavior and sincere efforts in assisting the institution officials are concrete facts on which to base our judgment that regardless of his prior wasted life, he is now determined to make a new start and redeem himself."

Judge McDevitt in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: ". . . He is now a clerk in the Trustees' Office of the Penitentiary, and he performs quietly and efficiently the duties of that office. He has proven himself of inestimable value to the prison executives. I don't care to go into details, but I would be very happy to tell either the members of your Honorable Board or your representative what I refer to. He has rendered services that are not compensable, but greatly appreciated. While two years and four months don't seem like much of a ten year minimum, I am inclined to think if I had given him a shorter minimum, the ends of justice would have been served just as well."

If released the applicant will make his home with his wife. Employment and a satisfactory parole plan have been provided for him.

The Board of Pardons feels that considerable weight must be given to the opinion of the Board of Trustees and Judge McDevitt as well as to the faith and trust of the wife who has stuck to him during the years of his imprisonment. The Board of Pardons is convinced that he has made an honest effort to improve and fit himself for an honest life on the outside, and, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of ten years be commuted to a new minimum term of two years and five months, expiring on Nov. 20, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until December 20, 1969.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of James C. Gibson, Jr., D-2496, No. 4756, April Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on James G. Gibson, Jr., convicted on robbery with an offensive weapon, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Philadelphia County, on October 5, 1937, be commuted on Bill No. 1396 September Term, 1935 from a minimum term of 7½ years to a new minimum term of 4 years and 8 months, expiring on May 28, 1942. (Sentence imposed on Bill No. 1395) to run concurrently is also commuted.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on the 5th day of October, 1937, to Indictment No. 1396 September Term, 1937 charging robbery with an offensive weapon, and was sentenced by the Honorable Gerald Flood, Judge, on Indictment No. 1396 to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than seven and one-half nor more than twenty years and on September 29th entered his plea of guilty to Indictment No. 1395 September Term, 1937 charging the same offense, and was sentenced by Judge Leventhal to the same term to run concurrently with sentence imposed by Judge Flood. Sentence to be computed from September 28, 1937.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . Gibson's prison performance is very good. He has shown definite interest in self-improvement and has completed an International Correspondence School course in printing. He has also completed a secretarial course. He was first employed as a clerk in the school, then promoted to clerk in the Prison Industry Storeroom and on April 1st wil become chief clerk in the Prison Industry Superintendent's Office. He reacts well to discipline, selects his companions wisely and devotes most of his spare time to study. Normal behavior is a balance between gratification and renunciation and the function of the personality is to maintain this equilibrium. In this case, we believe he has developed a personality strong enough to be captain of his own ship."

Satisfactory employment and an approved parole plan have been provided for the applicant.

The applicant has now served more than four years and a half of his minimum sentence and his prison record of self-improvement is convincing evidence of a deep desire to fit himself to live an honest and law-abiding life. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence imposed on Bill No. 1396 be commuted to a new minimum term of four years and eight months, expiring on May 28, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until September 28, 1957. (Sentence imposed on Bill No. 1395 to run concurrently is also commuted).

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Thomas Gibson, Jr., D-742, No. 4732, April Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Thomas Gibson, Jr., convicted of burglary, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Philadelphia County, on July 16, 1935, be commuted on Bill No. 326 July Term, 1935, from a minimum term of 2½ years to a new minimum term of 1 year and 10 months, expiring on May 17, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parode on Bill No. 196).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of nolle contendore in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on July 16, 1935 to Indictments Nos. 196 and 326 July Term, 1935, charging burglary, and was adjudged guilty by the Honorable Frank Smith, Judge, and sentenced to impoisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years on Indictment No. 196, and for a term of not less than two and a half nor more than ten years on Indictment No. 326, the sentences to run secutively.

The applicant has now served six years and nine months of his sentence and the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states that his institutional record has been satisfactory.

The representative of the District Attorney's office of Philadelphia County stated to the Board of Pardons that the office felt that the defendant had served a long time and was entitled to consideration.

The Honorable Frank Smith, Judge, who sentenced him in a letter to the Board writes: ". . . His entire record shows a lack of famidy discipline. He is now 25 years of age. If some responsible person would give him a position or supervise his actions, I believe Gibson is worthy of your consideration."

Adequate employment awaits the release of the applicant and a parole plan has been provided which furnishes a responsible person as his sponsor.

The applicant is now at an age when, if ever, he should realize the necessity of keeping straight, and the Board of Pardons is of the opinion that his years of service in prison should have brought about that realization. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence imposed on Bill No. 326 July Term, 1935 of 2½ years be commuted to a new minimum term of 1 year and 10 months, expiring on May 17, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until July 16, 1950. BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Charles A. Goodyear, D-878, No. 5721, April Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the minimum sentence of Charles A. Goodyear, convicted of conspiracy, carrying concealed deadly weapons, attempted robbery, and robbery with firearms in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Cumberland County on September 21, 1935, to be commuted from 8 years to six years and eight months, expiring on May 21, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of the Cumberland County on the 21st day of September, 1935 to Indictments Nos. 5, 6, 7 and 8 December Term, 1935 charging conspiracy, carrying concealed deadly weapons, attempted robbery, and robbery with firearms, and was sentenced by the Honorable Fred S. Reese, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than eight nor more than sixteen years.

The applicant had been twice before convicted and had served time in the Dauphin and Cumberland County prisons. He has now served over six and one-half years of the term imposed by Judge Reese and his accomplice in the commission of this last offence was released on parole last October.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . Applicant has established and maintained an excellent record over a period of 6½ years. We consider this sufficient reason to believe that he will make an honest effort to refrain from further law violations."

Letters to the Board of Pardons from the sentencing Judge and the District Attorney of Cumberland County voice no protest against the granting of clemency.

An approved parole plan has been arranged and employment is being considered.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant's conduct in prison during the past six and a half years is convincing evidence of an attempt at self-improvement inspired by a desire to lead an honest and useful life upon his release. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of eight year imposed be commuted to a new minimum term of six years and eight months, expiring on May 21, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until September 21, 1951.

In re application of William Grant, B-1817, No. 1599, April Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of imprisonment imposed on William Grant, convicted of robbery, receiving stolen goods, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Allegheny County, on January 22, 1930, be commuted on Bill No. 55 January Term, 1930 from a minimum term of 10 years to a new minimum term of 2 years and 4 months, expiring on May 23, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 29).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence was convicted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on January 22, 1930 on Indictment No. 29 January Term, 1930 charging robbery and receiving stolen goods, and on the same day entered his plea of guilty to Indictment No. 55 January Term, 1930 charging the same offense, and was sentenced by the Honorable William T. Darr, Judge, to undergo imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten nor more than twenty years on each Indictment, the sentences to run consecutively. On January 22, 1940 the applicant was paroled on Indictment No. 29 and is now serving the minimum sentence imposed on Indictment No. 55.

The applicant had a prior rceord of one conviction and has now served over twelve years of the combined sentences imposed.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary reports that he has maintained a satisfactory prison record and they would recommend parole conditioned upon his return to Georgia.

He has been offered employment in Georgia and sponsorship there has been assured.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that his long term of service in the penitentiary has sufficiently satisfied the ends of justice and that if he is returned to Georgia and remains there, his rehabilitation might be safely completed.

The Board of Pardons. therefore, recommends that, conditioned upon his return to Georgia, his minimum sentence imposed on Bill No. 55 January Term, 1930 be commuted from a minimum term of ten years to a new minimum term of 2 years and 4 months, expiring on May 23, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until January 22, 1960. BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Henry Huber, B-5688, No. 4816, April Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Henry Huber, convicted of (1) breaking and entering (2) larceny, and (3) carrying and transporting explosives, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Venango County, on August 30, 1937, be commuted on Bill No. 2 (First Count) August Term, 1937 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 4 years and 11 months, expiring on May 27, 1942, and on the Second Count from a minimum term of 1½ years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on May 28, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court fo Oyer and Terminer of Venango County on the 30th day of August, 1937 to Indictment No. 2 August Term, 1937 charging (1) breaking and entering, (2) larceny, and (3) carrying and transporting explosives, and was sentenced by the Honorable George H. Rowley, Judge, to imprsionment in the Western State Penitentiary on the first count for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years, and on the second count for a term of not less than one and a half nor more than three years, the sentences to run consecutively. A nolle prosequi was entered as to the third count.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . If this inmate were eligible to apply for parole, we would probably recommend him for parole (1) first conviction for felony (2) satisfactory institutional record."

This applicant has sustained a satisfactory record at the penitentiary during his service of almost five years as a result of his first conviction.

The district attorney of Venango County at the time of the entry of the applicant's plea of guilty, in a letter to the Board of Pardons at the hearing of a previous application stated: ". . . I believe that this man's application correctly states the facts involved and I am thoroughly convinced that if he had not been plied with liquor with which he had an addition he would not have been involved in this matter. I have previously written to the Board at length explaining my knowledge of this case and my long acquaintenance with this defendant. I can add nothing thereto except to again affirm to the Board as my considered judgment that this man, having in view his previous record as I knew it for upwards of forty years and his advanced age, that the Board should grant this leniency even though it might be opposed on purely personal grounds by other persons not directly concerned with the prosecution. In fact, there would not have been any prosecution if I had not called the State Police in when we had learned that certain dynamite had been transported out of this County to the C. I. O. strikers at Warren, Ohio, and an attempt was made to use it against the Republic Steel Plant."

The Board of Pardons has received letters from other persons living in Venango County expressing their belief in his rehabilitation.

Employment has been provided for him and a parole plan has been arranged which should assure proper sponsorship.

This applicant is now over sixty-seven years of age, he was never before convicted of any crime and the letter from the district attorney of his home county convinces the Board that no criminal tendencies prompted the participation of the applicant in the prepetration of this crime but that it was more the result of intoxication for which he has already been sufficiently punished. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence on Bill No. 2 (First Count) of 5 years be commuted to a new minimum term of 4 years and 11 months, expiring on May 27, 1942, and on the second count for a minimum term of 1½ years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on May 28, 1942, and that the applicant remain no parole until June 27, 1947.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Harry H. Irwin, No. 5759, April Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Harry H. Irwin, convicted of receiving stolen goods in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County, on January 5, 1940, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for a full and absolute pardon was convicted in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County on the 5th day of January, 1940 under Indictment No. 512 November Term, 1939 charging receiving stolen goods, and was sentenced by the Honorable J. Frank Graff, Judge, to pay the costs of prosecution and remain on probation for a period of six months.

The applicant had no prior criminal record, his conduct during the period of his probation was exemplary and since his final discharge there has been no fault found with his manner of conducting his business.

He bears a fine reputation in the neighborhood in which he conducts his drug store and is highly recommended by his business associates.

There seems to be some doubt as to the existence of a criminal intent to defraud any person at the time of the commission of the crime of which he was convicted and the applicant's general business dealings and his fine record add to that doubt. He desires a pardon in order to clear his record and be free from any taint of a violation of the law of the Commonwealth.

The office of the District Attorney of Allegheny County had advised the Board of Pardons that no other charges are pending against the applicant and that it has no objection to the granting of pardon.

The success in business which the applicant has achieved through his own industry entitles him to the leniency of the Board and the removal of the handicap of the record of this conviction. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Harry H. Irwin.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Forrest Johnson, C-4474, No. 3038, April Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the life imprisonment sentence of Forrest Johnson, convicted of murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on April 3, 1928, be commuted from life imprisonment to 14 years, 1 month and 12 days, expiring on May 15, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on April 3rd, 1928 to Indictment No. 1438 January Term, 1928, charging murder, and was sentenced by the Honorable Frank Smith, Judge, to life imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The applicant has never been convicted of any crime before the one for which he is serving this sentence.

The applicant has now been confined in prison for more than fourteen years and in its report to the Board of Pardons the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states: ". . . We have given this case careful study in order to arrive at a correct diagnosis. To do this an understanding of the purposefulness of behaviour is essential. It causes us to look beneath the surface if we are to see the sum total of the individual's personality."

Judge Frank Smith, who sentenced the applicant in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: ". . . He has been in prison for 14 years. His record at prison has been good. He has an opportunity to be employed as a house servant in South Carolina. He is now about 44 years of age. He had only one prior arrest in 1921 and was discharged by a magistrate. This is a matter for the exercise of your discretion."

If the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary after having made a careful study of this man during the years of his incarceration have confidence in his ability to adjust and become a useful citizen, this Board feels that it too is justified in affording him an opportunity to complete his rehabilitation. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the life sentence of imprisonment imposed be commuted to a new minimum term of fourteen years, one month and twelve days, expiring on May 15, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole the balance of his natural life.

In re application of William Klobier, C-9601, No. 4359, April Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on William Klobier, convicted of robbery, attempt to rob, in the Quarter Sessions Court of Schuylkill County, on March 7, 1934, be commuted on Bill No. 188 March Term, 1934 from a minimum term of 3 years to a new minimum term of 2 months, expiring on May 8, 1942. (Has been granted parole on Bill No. 238)

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Schuylkill County on the 7th day of March, 1934 to Indictments Nos. 188 and 238 March Term, 1934 charging robbery and attempt to rob, and was sentenced by the Honorable Roy P. Hicks and Honorable Cyrus M. Palmer, Judges, respectively, to not less than eight nor more than sixteen years in the Eastern State Penitentiary on Bill No. 238, and to not less than three nor more than six years on Bill No. 188, sentences to run consecutively. The applicant has been paroled on Bill No. 238. He has now served more than eight years and three months.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . As a result of interest and academic effort, applicant complete two courses in agriculture through the International Correspondence School arrangement and received his diploma on 10/13/38. In addition he has completed several extension courses through the Penna. State College. The Educational Department reports that he is an excellent student and good worker. Petitioner was transferred to the Schuylkill County Prison on 11/17/41. Warden Coombe reports that he is a good prisoner and his associates are chosen from the higher type inmates. His employment record in the institution bakery is good. The Warden is favorable toward commutation of minimum sentence."

The Honorable Cyrus M. Palmer, one of the sentencing Judges, in a letter to the Board of Pardons stated that the applicant had served sufficient time and that he recommended a commutation. The office of the District Attorney has filed no objection to the granting of leniency.

In view of the splendid institutional record of the applicant and the recommendation of Judge Palmer, the Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the ends of justice have been sufficiently served and that the applicant is now ready to resume his place in society. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of three years imposed on Bill No. 188 March Term, 1934, be commuted to a new minimum term of two months, expiring on May 8, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until March 7, 1950. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 238).

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Joseph Kolmansperger, D-2087, No. 5727, April Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Joseph Kolmansperger, convicted of robbery, larceny, and receiving stolen goods, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Luzerne County, on March 29, 1937, be commuted on Bill No. 338 April Term, 1937 from a minimum term of 5 years to a new minimum term of 4 years and 2 months, expiring on May 29, 1942; and on Bill No. 338-A from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on May 30, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 327).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Luzerne County on the 29th day of March, 1937 to Indictments Nos. 327, 338, and 338-A, April Term, 1937 charging robbery, larceny, and receiving stolen goods, and was sentenced by the Honorable W. Alfred Valentine, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than one nor more than three years in Indictment No. 327, and not less than five nor more than ten years in each Nos. 338 and 338-A, all sentences to run consecutively

The applicant has now served more than six years of the combined sentences and the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . Institutional performance has been above reproach. Since 7-20-37 he has had a number of jobs as laborer, janitor, and machine operator in the Bureau of Prison Industries shoe shop. On 8-1-41 he was assigned as clerk in the Catholic Chaplain's Office where he is still employed, having given up a good paying job to take that position. He is reported as being honest, tactful, and a willing worker who learns easily. He attended poultry classes for 2½ months with excellent progress and was released for work. Since employed he completed the course and received his International Correspondence School diploma."

The sentencing Judge, the Honorable W. Alfred Valentine, in a letter to the Board of Pardons advised it that he had no objection to the exercise of clemency if the Board thought the same should be granted."

The District Attorney of Luzerne County advised the Board that because of the time served and the recommendation of the prison officials he did not oppose the granting of commutation.

Satisfactory employment awaits the applicant and an adequate parole plan has been arranged for him.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the time served by the applicant has fully satisfied the ends of justice and that his prison record is such as to deserve the encouragement that clemency would mean. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of five years imposed on Bill No. 338 April Term, 1937 be commuted to a new minimum term of 4 years and 2 months, expiring on May 29, 1942, and on Bill No. 338-A from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimumu term of 1 day, expiring on May 30, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until May 30, 1952. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 327).

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Albert Kumetis, C-7966, No. 5699, April Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Albert Kumetis, convicted of robbery, breaking and entering, larceny, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Luzerne County, on April 18, 1932, be commuted on Bill No. 561-G February Term, 1932, from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 month, expiring on May 19, 1942; and on Bill No. 564-A from a minimum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on May 20, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 561-F).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence was convicted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Luzerne County on April 18, 1932 under Indictments Nos. 561-F, 561-G and 564-A February Term, 1932 charging robbery breaking and entering, and larceny, and was sentenced by the Honorable W. A. Valentine, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten nor more than twenty years on Indictment No. 561-F, not less than five nor more than ten years on Indictment No. 561-G, and not less than ten nor more than twenty years on Indictment No. 564-A, all sentences to run consecutively.

He has now served more than ten years and has been paroled on Indictment No. 516-F.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in a report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . During the first part of his imprisonment he had difficulty in making adjustment. During the past several years the Block Officer reports he has noted considerable improvement in his attitude and judgment. He is energetic and has worked as a block worker and tailer since 1932. Since 1936 he has spent considerable time in cell study plan, studying advertising, academic subjects, etc., and has made good progress. His efforts of self-improvement, the exercising of mature judgment and his apparent interest in preparing himself for release lead us to believe he probably might make a determined effort to successfully adjust."

The sentencing Judge has made no recommendation except to say that the Court does not object to clemency if the Board thinks it should be granted.

The District Attorney of Luzerne County has advised the Board of Pardons that the sentence was excessive, that the applicant has served a long time and that the matter was left to the Board.

The Supervisor of Paroles has made no objection to the granting of leniency by the Board.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the long time of imprisonment served by the applicant has fully satisfied the ends of justice and that his prison record is convencing evidence of his desire to salvage the remaining years of his life and use them in completing his rehabilitation. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of 5 years imposed on Bill No. 561-G be commuted to a new minimum term of 1 month, expiring on May 19, 1942, and on Bill No. 564-A rom a minimum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on May 20, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until May 19, 1962. BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Harry R. Lintner, No. 5752, April Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Harry R. Lintner, convicted of larceny, receiving stolen goods in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Lancaster County, on November 3, 1928, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for a full and absolute pardon entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Lancaster County on the 3rd day of November, 1928 to Indictment No. 98 November Term, 1928 charging larceny and receiving stolen goods, and was sentenced by the Honorable Charles Landis, Judge, to imprisonment in the Lancaster County Prison for a term of not less than eighteen months nor more than three years and to pay a fine of twenty-five dollars.

The applicant was released on parole at the expiration of his minimum sentence. He had no prior criminal record before this prosecution was brought and since his release he has not been in conflict with the law.

The President Judge of the Court of Lancaster County and the District Attorney of the County have advised the Board of Pardons that they have no objection to the granting of a pardon.

The applicant contends that the record of the one conviction has been a hindrance to him in bettering his condition. He has been gainfully employed since his release from prison and is now taking a machinist course at the Stevens Trade School in order to fit himself for a defense job which he can obtain if the record of this one conviction is obliterated. The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant's conduct since paying for the one crime committed entitles him to every advantage that a pardon can secure for him, and, if therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Harry R. Lintner.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of William Lunsford, B-2037, No. 5687, April Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the life imprisonment sentence of William Lunsford, convicted of murder in the first dgeree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on May 16, 1930, be commuted from life imprisonment to 12 years, expiring on May 16, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence was convicted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on the 16th day of May, 1930 under Indictment No. 54 March Sessions, 1930 charging murder, and was sentenced by the Honorable A. H. Hildebrand, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for the term of his natural life.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . If this inmate were eligible to apply for parole, we would probably recommend him for parole (1) first conviction (2) good institutional record (3) has served almost 12 years."

The applicant had no previous criminal record and although he was a member of the gang, one of which fired the fatal shot, he was not an actual participant in the killing.

Employment awaits the release of the applicant and a satisfactory parole plan has been arranged for him.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that in this case the twelve years served by the applicant have sufficiently satisfied the ends of justice and that his conduct while in the penitentiary evidences a desire to lead a law-abiding life upon release. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the life sentence of imprisonment imposed be commuted to a new minimum term of twelve years, expiring on May 16, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole the balance of his natural life.

In re application of Theodore Franklin Martin, C-9204, No. 5135, April Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Theodore Franklin Martin, convicted of larceny, larceny by bailee, and receiving stolen goods, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Dauphin County, on March 21, 1932, be commuted on Bill No. 26 March Term, 1932, from a minimum term of 1½ years to a minimum etrm of 1 year, 1 month, and 24 days, expiring on May 15, 1942; on Bill No. 27 from a minimum term of 1½ years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on May 16, 1942; on Bill No. 28 from a minimum term of 1½ years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on May 17, 1942; and on Bill No. 29 from a minimum term of 1½ years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on May 18, 1942. (Applicant has served minimum sentence on Bills Nos. 21, 22, 23, 24, and 25).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence was convicted by a jury in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Dauphin County on March 21, 1932 under Indictments Nos. 21 to 29 inclusive charging larceny, larceny by bailee, and receiving stolen goods, and was sentenced by the Honorable Frank B. Wickersham, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for not less than eighteen months nor more than three years in each indictment, the sentences to run consecutively and to begin September 21, 1933 at the end of time to be served for a parole violation and has now served over eight years and seven months on these sentences.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary reports: ". . . Applicant's record on the block has been above reproach. He respects his officers and obeys orders. His personal habits are good; he has few associates. He has sent more than half of his earnings to relatives. Since 1/1/35 he has been employed as a maintenance worker, plumber, and since 2/16/40 as a machine operator. A trained and experienced welder who has demonstrated his ability at that trade in the institution. Supervising Officer reports favorably on his ability and general attitude."

The District Attorney of Philadelphia County has advised the Board of Pardons that he has no objection and left the matter to the Board.

The Supervisor of Paroles in a report to the Board of Pardons has not objected to the granting of a commutation but states: ". . . If consideration for commutation of sentence in this case is given by the Board of Pardons, there should be a substantial parole setup."

An approved parole plan has been arranged for the applicant and employment awaits his release.

Three brothers of the applicant and another man who were accomplices in the series of thefts to which he plead guilty have been released and the Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the time served by the applicant has sufficiently satisfied the ends of justice and that the applicant's prison record justifies it in giving him an opportunity to renew his life on the outside.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of imprisonment be commuted, and that the applicant remain on parole until May 17, 1945.

In re application of Joseph F. McCarthy, No. 5734, April Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Joseph F. McCarthy, convicted of robbery, receiving stolen goods, carrying concealed deadly weapons, and wantonly pointing firearms, in the Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions Court of Allegheny County on March 22, 1929, and January 20, 1930, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for a full and absolute pardon was convicted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on March 22, 1929 under Indictment No. 15 March Term, 1929 charging burglary, and was sentenced by the Honorable Joseph F. Sweringer, Judge to not less than one nor more than two years in the Allegheny County Workhouse, and was paroled on said sentence on November 6, 1929. On January 20, 1930 he entered a plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County to Indictments Nos. 45 January Term (Oyer and Terminer), 1930 and 197 and 198 January Term (Quarter Sessions), 1930 charging robbery, receiving stolen goods, carrying concealed deadly weapons, and wantonly pointing firearms, and was sentenced by the Honorable William T. Darr, Judge, to undergo imprisonment in the Allegheny County Workhouse for a period of not less than one nor more than three years to run concurrently with the sentence imposed in No. 15 March Term, 1929.

The applicant had no prior criminal record and bore a good reputation in the neighborhood in which he resided at the time of the commission of these offenses.

Applicant is now gainfully employed as a night watchman by a construction company in Pittsburgh, and has a wife and six children ranging in age from three to seventeen years.

Since his release from the Allegheny County Workhouse on July 26, 1930 he has led an exemplary life and the office of the District Attorney of Allegheny County advises the Board of Pardons that no other charges are pending against him and that it does not object to the granting of a pardon.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion, that the record of the applicant since his release is evidence of his desire to lead an honest life and that he should be given the opportunity to continue in that effort freed of the record of his early violations of the law. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Joseph F. McCarthy.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of John Edward McHugh, B-3631, No. 2900, April Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of John Edward McHugh, convicted of robbery with aggravated circumstances in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Huntingdon County on February 24, 1933, be commuted from 10 years to 9 yrs. 9 mos. and 23 days, expiring on December 17, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence was convicted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Huntingdon County on the 24th day of February, 1933 under Indictment No. 1 February Sessions, 1933 charging robbery with aggravated circumstances and was sentenced by the Honorable Thomas E. Bailey, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten nor more than twenty years.

The applicant had no prior criminal record and has now served more than nine years of the sentence imposed upon him for the commission of his first violation of the law.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . If this inmate were eligible to apply for parole, we would probably recommend him for parole (1) first conviction (2) excellent institutional record (3) cooperative inmate (4) has served over 9 years."

He has an excellent employment and work record.

The Honorable Thomas F. Bailey, Judge, in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: ". . . In the case of John Edward McHugh, after careful consideration of this man's sentence and other circumstances surrounding the crime and the length of his sentence, I do recommend executive clemency in this case."

I. Newton Taylor, the District Attorney of Huntingdon County in a letter has advised the Board that: ". . . When this case was before you previously I advised you that I had no objection to the application in view of the fact that the officials of the First National Bank of Mapleton, Mapleton Depot, Pennsylvania have no objection. At this time I am willing to state that I am in favor of the application being granted. I believe that Mr. McHugh has paid his debt to society and I believe that no advantage will be gained by further imprisonment."

Applicant was arrested on December 17, 1932 and was held in jail from that time until his sentence on February 24, 1933 and should be entitled to credit for that time in computing his sentence. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of ten years imposed be commuted to a new minimum term of 9 years, 9 months, and 23 days, expiring on December 17, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until February 24, 1953.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of James Reig, B-4164, No. 156A, April Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on James Reig, convicted of breaking and entering and various burglaries, in the Quarter Sessions Court of Clearfield County, on May 2, 1932; and of breaking and escaping penitentiary, in the Quarter Sessions Court of Centre County, on June 16, 1934, be commuted on Bill No. 86 May Sessions, 1932, from a maximum term of 10 years to a maximum term of 9 years, 11 months, and 29 days, expiring on May 7, 1942; and on Bill No. 20 September Sessions, 1934 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on May 8, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant is one of many prisoners whose release on parole has been affected by the opinion of the Supreme Court in the case of Commonwealth of Pennsylvania ex rel. Thomas Lynch v. Stanley P. Ashe, Warden of the Western State Penitentiary, 320 Pa. 341. In this opinion it was held that unless a prisoner, who was serving sentences imposed to run consecutively, was recommended and approved for parole at the expiration of the first minimum sentence, he would be serving the maximum of that sentence, and if no recommendation for parole was made at the expiration of the second and subsequent minimum of sentences imposed to run consecutively, the prisoner would be serving the maximum of the second and subsequent sentences. In other words, a prisoner serving an indeterminate sentence is not automatically paroled at the expiration of the minimum term but is merely eligible for parole at that time, and if not favorably considered by the Prison Board at any time thereafter, the prisoner is required to serve the full sentence. (And also in the opinion of the Superior Court in the case of Anthony Narcise Appellant vs. The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary).

It was the custom for a long period of time for the officials of both the Eastern and Western State Penitentiaries to lump consecutive sentences and the Boards of Trustees would only make recommendations for release on parole at the expiration of the period of time equal to the total of the minimum sentences.

Since the Supreme Court held this procedure improper, the applicant and others, whose cases were not considered for parole at the expiration of their minimum sentences, through no fault of their own, will have to serve a much longer period of time than contemplated by the sentencing judge and the prison officials.

The failure of the Board of Trustees to make the necessary recommendations for parole at the expiration of the minimum sentences was an honest mistake, as most, if not all, sentencing judges shared the same view as the prison officials in deeming it to be unnecessary to make recommendations for parole at the expiration of the minimum of every consecutive sentence. Sentencing judges throughout the state have uniformly believed and taken into consideration in passing sentences the Prison Board practice that consecutive sentences would be lumped making a total minimum and a total maximum.

We believe that a great injustice would be done and that it would be most unfair to keep the applicant incarcerated for a longer period of time than recommended by the Board of Trustees of the institution in which the applicant is confined.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Thomas K. Shand, No. 5761, April Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Thomas K. Shand, convicted of larceny in the Court of Municipal of Philadelphia County, on May 11, 1931, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for a full and absolute pardon entered his plea of guilty in the Municipal Court of Philadelphia County on May 11, 1931 to Indictment No. 788 April Term, 1931 charging larceny, and sentence was suspended by the Honorable Eugene C. Bonniwell, Judge, and he was placed on probation for a period of two years.

At the time of the commission of this offense the applicant was eighteen years of age and his conduct since being placed on probation has been blameless.

Several years before the commission of this offense the applicant had plead guilty to the larceny of an automobile in Juvenile Court and served six months in the Glen Mills Schools as a result thereof.

Neither the sentencing judge nor the office of the district attorney has objected to the granting of clemency to the applicant.

The applicant is now married and is living happily with his wife. He is temporarily employed at the Philadelphia Airport as a guard and if the record of his past convictions is removed he expects to be able to be appointed to a permanent civil service position at the Airport.

As the applicant has demonstrated his complete rehabilitation since being placed on probation more than eleven years ago and can improve himself and the condition of his family if the handicap of the record of his past misconduct is removed the Board of Pardons feels justified in recommending that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Thomas K. Shand.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of William Smith, C-9218, D-3007, No. 4153, April Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of William Smith, convicted of robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on April 1, 1938, to be commuted from January 22, 1938, be commuted from 5 years to 4 years and 4 months, expiring on May 22, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence was convicted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on the first day of April, 1938 under Indictment No. 1543 January Term, 1938 charging robbery, and was sentenced by the Honorable Frank Smith, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years, sentence to be computed from January 22, 1938.

Although having had a record of several prior arrests the applicant had never before been convicted and he has now served more than four years and three months.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in a report to the Board of Pardons states that the applicant is now confined in the Philadelphia County Prison and that the Superintendent of that institution: ". . . Recommends favorable consideration stating that he would undoubtedly be given favorable recommendation for parole a few months hence, and that the granting of commutation a few months before the expiration of the sentence probably would not endanger the safety of the public."

Mr. Tracey, representing the office of the District Attorney of Philadelphia County stated to the Board that the applicant had now been in jail since 1938 and the office would make no objection to the granting of clemency.

Satisfactory employment awaits the applicant and an adequate parole plan has been arranged.

He has maintained a consistently satisfactory record during his confinement and has demonstrated his desire to lead an honest and law-abiding life in the outside world upon his release. The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the ends of justice have been thoroughly satisfied, and, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of five years imposed be commuted to a new minimum term of four years and four months, expiring on May 22, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until January 22, 1948.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Patsy M. Utchel, B-3581, No. 3731, April Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Patsy M. Utchel, convicted of robbery, receiving stolen goods in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on February 17, 1933, be commuted from 10 years to 9 years and 3 months expiring May 17, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The application for commutation of sentence was convicted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on February 17, 1933 under Indictment No. 31 February Term, 1933 charging robbery and receiving stolen goods, and was sentenced by the Honorable William A. McConnell, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten nor more than twenty years. On Indictments Nos. 29 and 142 charging the same offense, the applicant was also convicted and sentence was suspended.

One of the accomplices of the applicant has been released.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . If this inmate were eligible to apply for parole, we would probably recommend him for parole (1) excellent institutional record (2) skilled cement worker (3) exceptionally cooperative inmate (4) has served over 9 years."

The applicant is an expert cement mixer and satisfactory employment in that occupation awaits his release. A parole plan has been arranged which assures competent sponsorship.

The office of the District Attorney of Allegheny County advised the Board that it had no objection to the commutation of this sentence.

The applicant has now served over nine years of his minimum sentence and in view of his institutional record and his readiness and ability to command employment upon his release the Board of Pardons is of the opinion that he should be given an opportunity to demonstrate his rehabilitation by taking his place in the outside world. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of 10 years be commuted to a new minimum term of 9 years and 3 months, expiring on May 17, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until February 17, 1953.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of David Williams, C-9531, No. 5740, April Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of David Williams, convicted of receiving stolen goods in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on January 2, 1941, and to be computed from December 31, 1940, be commuted from 2½ years to 1 year and 5 months, expiring on May 31, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence was convicted by a jury in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on Indictments Nos. 1290 and 1291 December Term, 1940 charging receiving stolen goods, and was sentenced by the Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, on the 2nd day of January, 1941 to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than two and one-half nor more than five years, sentence to be computed from December 31, 1940.

Applicant has now served more than one year and four months, and the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states that he has been transferred to the Philadelphia County Prison and that the superintendent of that institution reports that he probably is deserving of favorable consideration. The report of the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary further states: ". . . It is our thought that if he has gone through 34 years of life without other than the present trouble, and his only part in the crime was, as explained by him in his petition, the time served is probably sufficient to teach him the required lesson."

The sentencing judge, the Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: ". . . While he possesses no special mechanical aptitude, he has a fairly good record of industry. He is capable of any work that requires unusual strength even though he lacks academic and vocational training. His powers of discrimination are decidedly latent, but his prison conduct record is good, and his prior criminal record inconsequential. I am inclined to think that he may have learned his lesson up to the present time."

Mr. Tracey, represting the office of the District Attorney of Philadelphia County stated to the Board that he felt that the applicant had served enough time and made no objection to the granting of leniency.

Satisfactory employment awaits the applicant and an approved parole plan has been arranged for him.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the time served by the applicant has amply satisfied the ends of justice for the crimes committed, and that his prison record evidences such a desire to lead an upright life as to justify it is recommending his release. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of two and one-half years be commuted to a new minimum term of one year and five months, expiring on May 31, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until December 31, 1945.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Alexander Zussman, C-6287, No. 4238, April Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Alexander Zussman, convicted of robbery, armed with an offensive weapon, burglary, entering to steal, larceny, and murder in the second degree, in the Over and Terminer Court of Philadelphia County, on June 27, 1930, be commuted on Bill No. 1585 June Term, 1930, from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 year and 11 months, expiring on May 27, 1942; on Bill No. 1586 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on May 28, 1942; on Bill No. 1587 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on May 29, 1942; and on Bill No. 1531 from a minimum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on May 30, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 1583).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on June 27, 1930 to Indictments Nos. 1583, 1585, 1586, and 1587 June Sessions, 1930 charging robbery, armed with an offensive weapon, burglary, entering to steal, and larceny, and was sentenced by the Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, to not less than ten nor more than twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary on Indictment No. 1583, and to not less than five nor more than ten years in each of Indictments Nos. 1585, 1586, and 1587, all sentences to run consecutively, and on October 22, 1932 he entered his plea of guilty to Indictment No. 1531 June Sessions, 1930, charging murder in the second degree, and was sentenced by the Honorable Edwin O. Lewis, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten nor more than twenty years to begin at the expiration of the sentences imposed by the Honorable Harry S. McDevitt.

The applicant has now served almost twelve years in the Eastern State Penitentiary since his admission as a boy of eighteen years of age. The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . When received here he was a wild, irresponsible youth and for the first few years failed to make a satisfactory adjustment. During the past 5 years, he has shown considerable improvement in stability, now shows more mature judgment, and has made a determined effort to better himself. His attitude, conduct and habits are satisfactory. His associates are of the average type. He has been employed in the Print Shop for 8 years and has become an efficient linotype operator with knowledge and ability to instruct others in this line of work. He utilizes his spare time by study and has shown excellent progress by preparing instruction books, etc."

In the event of his release the applicant will be employed in the printing business for which his work in the institution has fitted him and an approved parole plan has been arranged.

In a letter to the Board of Pardons the Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, states: ". . . Upon his admission he could well have been described as a wild, irresponsible youth, and this was applicable for the first few years of his confinement. During the past five years he has become stable and now seems to have mature judgment. His attitude, conduct and habits are satisfactory. For eight years he has been employed in the print shop and is now an efficient linotype operator. While he and his companions created a reign of terror a dozen years ago, I would be inclined to believe that during the past five years his steady improvement and adherence to proper rules of discipline and conduct entitle him to favorable consideration."

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that twelve years is a long period to take out of the life of a boy of eighteen years and that his conduct during the past five years of his incarceration as described by Judge McDevitt and the Board of Trustees is such as to justify it in giving him another opportunity to take up his life anew and pursue an honest and law-abiding existence. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the sentences of imprisonment imposed upon the applicant be commuted and that the applicant remain on parole until May 29, 1962.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Joseph Adamchick, D-1554, No. 4496, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due

public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Joseph Adamchick, convicted of robbery, in the Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions Court of Luzerne County, on August 21, 1936, be commuted on Bill No. 595 June Term, 1936, from a minimum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 5 years and 9 months, expiring on May 21, 1942; on Bill No. 596 from a minimum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on May 22, 1942; on Bill No. 596½ from a minimum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on May 23, 1942; on Bill No. 597 from a minimum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on May 24, 1942; and on Bill No. 598 from a minimum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on May 25, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions Courts of Luzerne County on August 21, 1936 to Indictments Nos. 595, 596, 596½, 597, and 598 June Sessions, 1936 charging robbery, and was sentenced by the Honorable John S. Fine, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten nor more than twenty years in each indictment, the sentences to run consecutively.

The applicant had no prior criminal record and has now been confined for over five years and nine months.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . Prison performance has been exceptional when long sentence is considered. His officer describes him as being even tempered and very much inclined to do his own time. He does not associate with his crime partners and his habits are excellent and show the effect of military discipline. He is desirous of re-entering the Army and has attempted to apply Army discipline to himself. Employed in the Bureau of Prison Industries hosiery shop until that industry was moved to Gratersford, he was assigned to the construction detail and earned a good reputation at that type work during the building of the parole and identification offices. More recently he has been employed in the weave shop of the Bureau of Prison Industries. His family attachment is strong and he cherishes his correspondence with his mother and sisters and their rare visits."

Judge Fine who sentenced the applicant has advised the Board of Pardons that he cannot conscientiously recommend or oppose clemency in this case.

The representatives of the office of the District Attorney of Luzerne County who appeared before the Board of Pardons stated that a sentence of from fifty to one hundred years was excessive and that the office left the matter to the Board.

The crimes for the commission of which the applicant received this sentence were committed at approximately the same time and were in reality a sequence of crimes and the first in which he was ever involved.

The applicant is of one and when he can still apply himself well in the outside world and the training received in prison has fitted him for profitable employment when released. Such employment awaits him and an adequate parole plan has been arranged.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the time served by the applicant has been sufficient to satisfy the ends of justice, that he has been amply punished and that he has by his prison conduct shown such a degree of rehabilitation as to justify the Board in affording him a chance to complete that rehabilitation in the outside world. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the sentences of imprisonment be commuted, and that the applicant remain on parole until May 24, 1962.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Lee Allen, B-2398, No. 722, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Lee Allen, convicted of voluntary manslaughter and extortion in the Court of Over and Terminer of Allegheny County, on December 22, 1930 and in May, 1922, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for an absolute pardon was convicted by a jury in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on the 22nd day of December, 1930 under Indictment No. 60 October Term, 1930 charging voluntary manslaughter, and was sentenced by the Honorable David W. Henderson, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than six nor more than twelve years.

The applicant was also convicted in the Courts of Allegheny County in May 1922 under an Indictment charging extortion, and was sentenced to the Allegheny County Workhouse for a term of forty-three days.

On May 1, 1935, the minimum sentence imposed by Judge Henderson was commuted to four years and six months and he was paroled on July 1, 1935.

The Supervisor of Paroles in a report to the Board of Pardons states that while on parole he has complied with all the rules of parole and has been steadily employed.

The representative of the office of the District Attorney of Allegheny County stated to the Board of Pardons that no other indictments or charges are pending against the applicant, and that the office left the disposition of the application to the Board of Pardons.

The applicant desires the record of these convictions to be removed in order to make more lucrative employment possible and the Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant's conduct since his release is sufficient evidence of his rehabilitation to justify it in recommending that an opportunity be afforded him to continue his life free of this record.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to thet applicant, Lee Allen.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Robert Clayton Brown, No. 5758, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Robert Clayton Brown, convicted of involuntary manslaughter and failure to render assistance in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Montgomery County, on May 7, 1937, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for an absolute pardon was convicted in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Montgomery County on May 7, 1937 under Indictments Nos. 186 and 186(1) charging involuntary manslaughter and failure to render assistance, and was sentenced by the Honorable George C. Corson, Judge, on Indictment No. 186 to imprisonment in the Montgomery County Prison for not less than one year nor more than three years and on Indictment No. 186(1) sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation for three years. On January 21, 1938, the applicant was released on parole.

The applicant had no prior criminal record and since his release on parole has led an exemplary life. He has recently applied for enlistment in the air service of the United States and will not be accepted so long as the record of this conviction remains against him.

The Honorable George C. Corson, Judge, who sentenced the applicant in a letter to the Board of Pardons, writes: ". . . Since his term of imprisonment and release he has been an entirely different man and so far as I know and have heard his conduct since that time has been of the best. Far from being bitter at what happened he has told me on several occasions that we did him a great favor in sending him to jail. At least he has been an entirely different man since that time. Let me again say that I recommend him wholeheartedly for a pardon."

A letter from the Assistant District Attorney of Montgomery County after stating that the policy of the office has been to oppose pardons, continues: ". . . This case, however, is one in which we would like to be able to agree that a pardon be granted because of the fact that we feel the conduct of the applicant since his conviction has been exemplary and his proposal to serve the United States in its Armed Forces is laudable."

The Warden of the Montgomery County Prison in a letter to the Board states: ". . . His conduct since he has been released is exemplary, and is regarded highly in the community."

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the crime which was responsible for the record against the applicant was not such as evidences a criminal instinct or such as should prevent the applicant from enlisting in the air service of the United States.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Robert Clayton Brown.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of John Cap, D-3053, No. 5774, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of John Cap, convicted of arson in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Susquehanna County on April 16, 1938, to be commuted March 25, 1938, be commuted from 6 years to 4 years and 2 months, expiring on May 25, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Susquehanna County on the 16th day of April, 1938 to Indictment No. 28 April Sessions, 1938 charging arson, and was sentenced by the Honorable Edward P. Little, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than six nor more than twelve years. Sentence to be computed from March 25, 1938.

The applicant had no prior criminal record, he is now sixty years old and has served over four years in the penitentiary for a crime committed while intoxicated.

If released he will be provided with a home by his daughter and her husband.

A letter from the supervisor of rehabilitation of the Eastern State Penitentiary advises the Board that the applicant has marked hardening of the arteries and a generalized physical and mental progressive deterioration.

Both the sentencing judge and the district attorney have left the matter to the Board and have not objected to the granting of leniency.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . Associates are chosen from among the Polish inmates and he is a quiet inmate who attempts to adhere to every rule and regulation. Corresponds with wife and daughter, and daughter sends him spending money."

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the years of imprisonment served by the applicant have sufficiently satisfied the ends of justice and that the age and physical condition of the applicant make safe his release at this time. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of 6 years be commuted to a new minimum term of 4 years and 2 months, expiring on May 25, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until March 25, 1950.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Nicandro Cimorelli, C-4581, No. 604, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Nicandro Cimorelli, convicted of burglary, breaking and entering, larceny, receiving stolen goods in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on May 10, 1928, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for an absolute pardon entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on May 10, 1928 to Indictments Nos. 112 to 121 inclusive charging burglary, breaking and entering, larceny, and receiving stolen goods, and was sentenced by the Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, to not less than ten or more than thirty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary, and was released on parole on January 22, 1932.

On July 24, 1935, he was returned to the penitentiary as a parole violator and was re-paroled on July 24, 1936.

Since his last release the applicant's conduct has been satisfactory. He is now married and the father of two children. He has been constantly employed and has recently purchased a small home where he and his family reside.

When applicant was sentenced he was only sixteen years old, but his conduct since attaining maturity has been so entirely different as to furnish convincing proof of his complete rehabilitation.

Neither the District Attorney nor the sentencing Judge have objected to the granting of clemency.

The applicant feels that a pardon will fully restore his self respect and remove the cause of constant embarrassment.

The Board of Pardons feels that the applicant has earned this relief and, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Nicandro Cimorelli.

In re application of Thomas Dalzell Collins, No. 5772, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Thomas Dalzell Collins, convicted of receiving stolen good in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County, on October 11, 1940, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for an absolute pardon entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on the 11th day of October, 1940 to Indictment No. 64 September Term, 1940, charging receiving stolen goods, and the Honorable Joseph A. Richardson, Judge, suspended sentence upon the payment of the costs and a fine of fifteen dollars.

The applicant had no prior criminal record and his connection with the crime for which he was arrested was not of such a nature as to merit a jail sentence . He has been gainfully employed for the past seven years by a responsible company and his employer regards him as a trustworthy employer. He has been in no trouble since entering his plea in this case.

The Honorable Joseph A. Richardson, in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: ". . . In view of the fact that this man never in any other trouble, that restitution was made, and that the crime was not of a very serious nature, I would recommend that his plea for clemency be granted."

The office of the District Attorney of Allegheny County has represented to the Board of Pardons that it has no objection to the granting of clemency.

The applicant has but this one conviction of what appears to have been a trivial offence, on his otherwise spotless record and his conduct since being placed on probation as evidenced by the confidence his employers have in him is sufficient to justify the Board of Pardons in assisting in removing this one impediment to his future success. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Thomas Dalzell Collins.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Henry Costanzo, B-1059, No. 1907, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the Life Imprisonment sentence of Henry Costanzo, convicted of murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on October 12, 1928, be commuted from Life Imprisonment to 13 years and 8 months, expiring on June 12, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty generally in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on the 12th day of October, 1928 to Indictment No. 31 February Sessions, 1928 charging murder and was adjudged guilty of murder in the first degree by the Honorable James H. Gray, Judge, and the punishment fixed as life imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary.

The applicant has now been imprisoned for more than thirteen and a half years and the Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . If this inmate were eligible for parole, we would probably recommend him for parole (1) first major imprisonment (2) good institutional record."

The Honorable James H. Gray, the Judge who imposed sentence in a letter tothe Board of Pardons writes: ". . . As I have already stated it was necessary to sentence this young man to life imprisonment as a technical requirement of the law, but as far as the Court was concerned, it was my expectation when he had served sufficient time to rehabilitate himself to such an extent that the penitentiary authorities were convinced that it was reasonable to expect he could live at liberty and obey the law, that his sentence would be commuted. Therefore in my opinion it is now a matter of judgment by the penitentiary authorities and your Board as to whether he has really been rehabilitated and his character stabilized to the extent that he has self control enough to live a law-abiding life if he is given his liberty under the supervision of the Probation Department of the State. I am of the opinion that the Court would be satisfied to give this young man another chance if your Board is convinced he is trustworthy."

The office of the District Attorney of Allegheny County has advised the Board of Pardons that it has no objection to the granting of leniency in this case.

In view of the letter from the sentencing judge, the attitude of the district attorney's office, and the report of the Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary as to the applicant's institutional record the Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the time served by the applicant has sufficiently satisfied the ends of justice and that his prison record evidences such rehabilitation as to entitle him to an opportunity to reestablish himself in the outside world.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the life sentence of imprisonment imposed be commuted to a new minimum term of thirteen years and eight months, expiring on June 12, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole the balance of his natural life.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Pasquale Leon DeCarlo, D-3310, No. 5252, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Pasquale Leon DeCarlo, convicted of robbery while armed in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on August 9, 1938, to be commuted from July 26, 1938, be commuted from 5 years to 3 years and 10 months, expiring on May 26, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on August 9, 1938 to Indictment No. 706 July Sessions, 1938 charging robbery while armed, and was sentenced by the Honorable Curtis Bok, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years, sentence to be computed from July 26, 1938.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary reports that his prison record has been ordinary but that lately he has shown a change of attitude and has demonstrated some improvement.

Employment has been secured for the applicant in New Jersey and he plans to make his home in that State with his sister.

The New Jersey authorities have advised the Board of Pardons that they will accept the applicant for supervision.

The sentencing judge has made no objection to the granting of leniency by the Board and the representative of the district attorney's office of Philadelphia County stated to the Board that the applicant had helped the authorities in solving several crimes and that, as he had served a substantial part of his sentence, the office had no objection to the granting of commutation.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of 5 years be commuted to a new minimum term of 3 years and 10 months, expiring on May 26, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until July 26, 1948.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,

The above recommendation is approved:

ARTHUR H. JAMES,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Peter Durdunas, A-14576, No. 5766, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Peter Durdunas, convicted of robbery, receiving stolen goods in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Cambria County, on April 26, 1926, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for an absolute pardon entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Cambria County on the 26th day of April, 1926 to Indictments Nos. 3 and 6 June Sessions, 1926 charging robbery and receiving stolen goods, and was sentenced by the Honorable John E. Evans, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than three nor more than six years and was paroled at the expiration of his minimum sentence. He was finally discharged from parole on April 26, 1932.

Since his release from confinement he has been gainfully employed and lives happily with his wife and children in New York City. He has filed application for naturalization and needs a pardon in order to become a citizen of the United States.

His conduct since his discharge from prison has been such as to indicate worthiness to become a citizen and the Board of Pardons is of the opinion that he deserves that opportunity. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Peter Durdunas.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Calvin Ellis, B-9122, No. 5783, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Calvin Ellis, convicted of voluntary manslaughter in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County, on March 28, 1918, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for an absolute pardon entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on the 28th day of March, 1918 to Indictment No. 182 February Term, 1918 charging voluntary manslaughter, and was sentenced by the Honorable J. Willis Martin, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than seven years and was released on parole on March 28, 1923.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . The fact that there is no arest record since 1923, when he was paroled from this institution, indicates a successful effort to conform to the conventions of society. He has been able, according to his vocational history report, to fill a constructive place in society. On the basis of performance, he should merit some consideration in his desire to become fully eligible to take a civil service examination."

The office of the District Attorney of Philadelphia County has not objected to the granting of clemency to the applicant, and the Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, in a letter to the Board of Pardons stated only that the applicant had not been in trouble since leaving the penitentiary."

The applicant had no prior criminal record and since his release on parole has not been in conflict with the law. He has been gainfully employed and is happily married.

The applicant desires to take advantage of government employment and in order to qualify must be free of the record of this one conviction.

The applicant by his conduct during the past nineteen years has thoroughly demonstrated his complete rehabilitation and is deserving of the opportunity of advancement made possible by existing conditions. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Calvin Ellis.

Respectfully submitted,
S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of John F. Feeney, Jr., No. 5802, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Borad of Pardons recommend that John F. Feeney, Jr., convicted of receiving stolen goods in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Delaware County, on April 7, 1933, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for an absolute pardon was convicted in the Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions Courts of Delaware County on the 7th day of April, 1933 under Indictment No. 171 March Sessions, 1933 charging receiving stolen goods, and was sentenced by the Honorable Albert D. MacDade, Judge, to pay a fine of $150.00 and the costs of prosecution and be on probation for a term of three years.

The fine and costs were paid and the applicant's conduct since being placed on probation has been exemplary. Neither the sentencing judge nor the district attorney of Delaware County have objected to the granting of leniency.

The applicant is desirous of entering the United States Army and applying for admission to the Officers Training School, but the record of this conviction will prevent his acceptance.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that no record of a conviction of so trivial an offense should stand in the way of his attempt to become an officer in the Army and, the Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, John F. Feeney, Jr.

Respectfully submitted,
S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of John Francis, No. 5820, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that John Francis, convicted of entering with intent to steal in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on May 19, 1933, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for an absolute pardon entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on May 19, 1933 to Indictment No. 497 May Term, 1933 charging entering with intent to steal, and was placed on probation by the Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, for a term of three years.

At the time of the commission of the offense for which he was placed on probation the applicant was sixteen years of age, he had no prior criminal record, and has not been in any trouble with the law since being placed on probation.

The investigator for the Board of Pardons reports that he is gainfully employed and has a good reputation in the neighborhood in which he lives.

In a letter to the Board, the Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, writes: ". . . I placed this man on three years probation in May, 1933 on a charge of entering with intent to steal. At that time he was only sixteen years old. He entered a public school in Philadelphia, but so far as I can recall stole nothing after entering the same. So far as the police records disclose, he has not been in trouble since the occasion in 1933."

The representative of the District Attorney's office of Philadelphia County stated to the Board that the office had no objection to the granting of a pardon.

The applicant desires a pardon in order to make it possible for him to become a police officer in the City of Philadelphia. His application has been accepted and in order to take the examination the record of this one conviction must be removed.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the record is of the commission of a crime that was most trivial and that it should not be allowed to remain as a barrier to his advancement, especially in view of the excellent conduct maintained by the applicant since his plea was entered.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, John Francis.

Respectfully submitted,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Abraham Gibboney, B-7318, No. 5788, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Abraham Gibboney, convicted of assault and battery, assault and battery with intent to rob, and armed robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Fayette County on July 30, 1940 be commuted from 2½ years to 1 year and 10 months, expiring on May 30, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence was convicted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Fayette County on July 30, 1940 under Indictment No. 6/40 June Sessions, 1940 charging assault and battery, assault and battery with intent to rob, and armed robbery, and was sentenced by the Honorable W. Russell Carr, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than two and one-half nor more than seven years.

The applicant had never been previously convicted of any crime and the Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . If this inmate were eligible to apply for parole, we would probably recommend him for parole (1) first conviction (2) excellent institutional record."

Judge Carr who sentenced the applicant, through the probation officer of Fayette County has advised the Board of Pardons that he has no objection to the granting of a parole.

The applicant has furnished another letter written to him by Judge Carr in which the Judge says: ". . . From all the information I have, I believe you have succeeded in adjusting your thinking to the realities of life, and that you will prove equal to the responsibilities of good citizenship. Therefore, if the Trustees of the institution are of the same opinion, I should be quite willing for the Board of Pardons to act favorably on your application."

The Chief of Police of Uniontown in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: ". . . For your information, Abraham Gibboney, did cooperate with the Police in solving this crime. The applicant was the sole support of an aged mother. I have contacted the victim of this crime, Rocco Barthelmew, who stated that he was not opposed to any action taken on this application. As the arresting Officer and prosecutor, I am not opposed to any action taken in this matter by your Honorable Body."

Immediate employment is assured the applicant upon his release, at a wage of seven dollars per day and an adequate parole plan has been arranged.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the punishment already received by the applicant has satisfied the ends of justice, that his prison record shows a desire to live an honest life and that the confidence in him as exemplified by the offer of employment is sufficient to convince it that he can be released without danger to society.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of 2½ years imposed be commuted to a new minimum term of 1 year and 10 months, expiring on May 30, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until July 30, 1947.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Philip Greenspan, No. 5555, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Philip Greenspan, convicted of larceny and receiving stolen goods in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County, on May 27, 1930, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for an absolute pardon entered a plea of nolle contendere in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on May 27, 1930 to Indictment No. 611 March Term, 1930 charging larceny and receiving stolen goods, and was adjudged guilty by the Honorable Alonzo T. Searle, Judge and sentenced to imprisonment in the Philadelphia County Prison for a term of not less than one and one-half nor more than three years. On September 20, 1930, Judge Searle released him on probation for the balance of the term.

The applicant had no prior criminal record and has always contended that he was not in any way connected with or involved in the perpetration of the crime of which he was adjudged guilty. The fact that he was released from prison and placed on probation after serving less than four months indicates that the sentencing judge placed some credence in his story.

Since his release on probation he has not been in any trouble, he has married and has been successfully engaged in business in New York. Many letters have been received by the Board of Pardons from neighbors of the applicant testifying to his splendid reputation.

The parole authorities of the State of New York have made an investigation of the applicant and report that the applicant has conducted himself in a legitimate manner and has been steadily employed for the past eight years. The report recommends the granting of a pardon.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the conduct of the applicant since his release on probation entitles him to the clemency he requests and the Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Philip Greenspan.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Wilbur J. Harradine, B-7123, No. 5041, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence was convicted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Erie County on the 19th day of February, 1940 under Indictment No. 54 February Term, 1940 charging rape and assault with attempt to rape, and was sentenced by the Honorable J. Orin Waite, Judge, to not less than two nor more than four years in the Western State Penitentiary, sentence to be computed from February 17, 1940. He was later transferred to the Erie County Jail and on August 29, 1941 he was released on parole by Judge Kitts of the Erie County Court. On April 15, 1942 the Superior Court reversed the order of the Erie County Court and ordered the recommitment of the applicant.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . If this inmate were eligible to apply for parole, we would probably conditionally recommend him for parole subject to an adequate parole plan (1) excellent institutional record."

While on parole under the illegal discharge of the Erie County Court the applicant obtained highly remunerative employment and during those eight months conducted himself in an exemplary manner.

The convicting authorities of Erie County do not object to the granting of leniency.

The applicant while on parole was employed in the construction of mine layers and his employers report to the Board that his services and conduct were highly satisfactory and that he will be re-employed at the same work upon his release.

An adequate parole plan has been arranged for the applicant.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant has been sufficiently punished to satisfy the ends of justice and that his conduct during the time he was on parole is conclusive evidence of his desire to take his place in society as an honest workman and a good citizen. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of 2 years be commuted to a new minimum term of 1 year and 8 months, expiring on June 15, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until October 15, 1944.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Floyd Jackson, D-1398, No. 3796, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Floyd Jackson, convicted of burglary, breaking and entering, and larceny in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Luzerne County, on June 3, 1936, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for an absolute pardon entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Luzerne County on the 3rd day of June, 1936 to Indictments Nos. 532, 533, 534, 535, 536, and 537 February Sessions, 1936 charging burglary, breaking and entering, and larceny, and was sentenced by the Honorable Clarence A. Coughlin, Judge, to not less than ten nor more than twenty years imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary, all sentences to run concurrently. His sentence was commuted on July 12, 1938, and he was released on parole on August 3, 1938.

The Supervisor of Paroles has advised the Board of Pardons that since being at liberty the applicant has complied with all the rules of his parole and has been constantly employed.

Neither the trial judge or the district attorney who prosecuted the case have objected to the granting of clemency.

The applicant is now employed in defense work in New Jersey and after making an investigation the parole authorities of that State have recommnded that the application for a pardon should be given favorable consideration.

The applicant fears that not only his present employment but his future success are in jeopardy so long as the record of this one conviction remains against him.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that this applicant's rehabilitation as evidenced by the confidence in him expressed by his friends and neighbors is so complete as to justify it in affording him every opportunity to retain his present position and to attain further success. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Floyd Jackson.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of William Jackson, C-4789, No. 5794, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on William Jackson, convicted of robbery, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Delaware County, on March 19, 1940; and of robbery, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Philadelphia County, on August 2, 1940, be commuted on Bill No. 255 March Term, 1940, from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 2 years, 4 months, and 28 days, expiring on May 20, 1942 (Bills Nos. 265 March Term, 1940 and 475 January Term, 1940 to run concurrently with Bill No. 255 March Term, 1940, are also commuted), sentence to be computed from December 22, 1939.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Delaware County on the 19th day of March, 1940 to Indictments Nos. 255 and 264 March Term, 1940 charging robbery, and was sentenced by the Honorable Arthur D. MacDade, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than twenty years on each indictment, the sentences to run concurrently and to be computed from December 22, 1939.

On August 2, 1940, he entered a plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County to Indictment No. 475 January Term, 1940 charging robbery, and was sentenced by the Honorable Thomas D. Finletter, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years, sentence to run concurrently with the Delaware County sentence.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . Personal habits and general prison attitude are excellent. He has been cooperative and he demonstrated trustworthiness in a position of trust as a mail clerk. On 12-8-41 he was released from that assignment for employment as a clerk for the Bureau of Prison Industries. He has no intimates and has donated blood for the Red Cross bank. He attended school for 5 months and made fair progress in the salesmanship course."

The applicant had no prior criminal record except two arrests for disorderly conduct and the convicting authorities of Philadelphia and Delaware Counties do not object to the granting of leniency.

The applicant has had a very good institutional record and one of his accomplices in the perpetration of the crimes for which he is now confined, has been released on parole.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the years served by the applicant have been sufficient to satisfy the ends of justice and that his institutional record has evidenced a determination to lead a different kind of life if given an opportunity. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of 5 years imposed on Bill No. 255 March Term, 1940, be commuted to a new minimum term of 2 years, 4 months, and 28 days, expiring on May 20, 1942 (Bills Nos. 265 March Term, 1940 and 475 January Term, 1940 to run concurrently with Bill No. 255 March Term, 1940, are also commuted), and that the applicant to remain on parole until December 22, 1959.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Thomas E. Jenkins, No. 5823, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Thomas E. Jenkins, convicted of larceny, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Delaware County, on June 14, 1940; and of the crime of larceny and receiving stolen goods, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on January 20, 1941, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for an absolute pardon entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Delaware County on June 14, 1940 to Indictment No. 247 June Sessions, 1940 charging larceny, and was sentenced by the Honorable W. Roger Fronefield, Judge, to imprisonment in the Delaware County Prison for not less than nine months nor more than two years and to pay a fine of one hundred dollars and costs. Sentence to be computed from February 28, 1940.

On January 20, 1941 the applicant entered a plea of guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County to Indictments Nos. 328, 329, 330, 331, and 332 September Sesions, 1940 charging larceny and receiving stolen goods, and sentence was suspended by the Honorable James C. Crumlish, Judge.

In a letter to the Board of Pardons the Honorable James C. Crumlish, Judge, writes: ". . . His conduct seemed more juvenile than criminal and I went into his background and the reasons for his conduct quite extensively before passing sentence. As a result of my investigation, I formed the opinion that the charges made against him had, with a great force, satisfied him that his methods for becoming a connoisseur were highly improper and that there was no danger of him becoming a menace to the community in the future. Aside from the fact that I am of the opinion that the applicant, Jenkins, is not of the criminal type but on the other hand, guilty of conduct which was based upon faulty reasoning and understanding of the subject matter, the fact that he is in the armed service strengthens my belief that he is a proper applicant for a pardon. The army will give him all that he needs to sharpen his wits and improve his understanding and appreciation of things about him."

The District Attorney's office of Philadelphia County has no objection to the granting of clemency and in a report filed in this case states: ". . . In this case there was a report furnished by Dr. James A. Flaherty, a Psychiatrist, and he stated that there was no criminal intent in the taking of these books; if there had been such an intent petitioner could have disposed of them at quite a profit. As a matter of fact none were sold and they were all returned to the respective libraries from which they had been taken. The petitioner had removed the frontispiece showing the name of the Library to which it belonged, but he was able to tell the detectives just to which library each book belonged. There were about 650 books taken."

The office of the District Attorney of Delaware County has taken the same position and does not object to the granting of a pardon.

The Board of Pardons is convinced from the attitude of the prosecuting authorities that this applicant is not of the criminal type and as a pardon will assist him in obtaining promotion in the United States Army of which he is now a part, the Board feels that it is justified in clearing his record of its existing blemish.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Thomas E. Jenkins.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of George Kasulaitis, No. 5679, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that George Kasulaitis, convicted of breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Westmoreland County, on February 4, 1939, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for an absolute pardon entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Westmoreland County on the 4th day of February, 1930 charging breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony. The Honorable J. Hilary Keenan, Judge, sentenced the applicant to pay one-half the costs of prosecution and was paroled for three years.

The applicant has no prior criminal record and the offense of which he plead guilty and which lead to the only record against him was but a mistake growing out of having become intoxicated. His conduct since that one mistake has been blameless and has a very good reputation in the neighborhood in which he resides.

The District Attorney of Westmoreland County in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: ". . . In view of the fact that this man has served in the Army, now wants to re-enlist and is held up by reason of his parole, we have no objection to the granting of a pardon in this case for that purpose.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the undisputed facts as presented to it do not justify the continuation of a record against this man such as would prevent him from improving his condition or prove a handicap to his advancement in any field of endeavor.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, George Kasulaitis.

In re application of William Kiefaber, C-8599, No. 4340, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on William Kiefaber, convicted of armed robbery, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Philadelphia County, on January 24, 1933, be commuted on Bill No. 1022 January Term, 1933, from a minimum term of 6 years to a minimum term of 3 years, 3 months, and 26 days, expiring on May 20, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 1021).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on January 24, 1933 to Indictments Nos. 1021 and 1022 January Sessions, 1933 charging armed robbery, and was sentenced by the Honorable Horace Stern, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than six nor more than twelve years in each case, the sentences to run consecutively.

The applicant has now served almost nine and one-half years and the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . He has been steadily employed as a barber for the past five years and demonstrates aptitude and proficiency in that trade. General attitude and adjustment suggests improved emotional and social stability. In addition to self-improvement of a vocational nature, he took courses in agriculture for 19 months and made satisfactory progress. For the past 18 months he has been a part time student in the practical machinists course and spends much of his spare time in the school shop. Wise use of earnings is indicated by investment of money in a $100 Defense Bond and the contribution of $300 toward the support of a sister."

The representative of the District Attorney's office stated to the Board that the applicant "has served almost ten years and we enter no objection."

Employment has been secured for the applicant and a parole plan has been arranged.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the long years of confinement served by the applicant has sufficiently satisfied the ends of justice and that his institutional record and especially his thoughtfulness as exemplified by his generous contributions for the care of his sister, is sufficient to justify it in affording him an opportunity to take up life in the outside world. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of 6 years imposed on Bill No. 1022 January Term, 1933, be commuted to a new minimum term of 3 years, 3 months, and 26 days, expiring on May 20, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until January 24, 1951. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 1021).

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Matthew Kozera, B-2507, No. 4709, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Matthew Kozera, convicted of robbery, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Allegheny County, on February 25, 1931, be commuted on Bill No. 17 February Sessions, 1931, from a minimum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 1 year and 3 months, expiring on May 25, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 53).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on February 25, 1931 to Indictments Nos. 17 and 53 February Term, 1931 charging robbery, and was sentenced by the Honorable George V. Moore, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten nor more than twenty years on Indictment No. 53, and not less than ten nor more than forty years on Indictment No. 17, the sentences to run consecutively.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary in its report t othe Board of Pardons states: ". . . If this inmate were eligible to apply for parole, we would probably recommend him for parole (1) first maior imprisonment (2) excellent institutional record (3) has served over 11 years."

The representative of the office of the District Attorney of Allegheny County advised the Board of Pardons that the office left the matter of clemency entirely to the Board.

The applicant has now served more than eleven years and one of his accomplices has been paroled.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the time served by the applicant has constituted sufficient punishment for the crimes committed and that his institutional record is evidence of such rehabilitation as to justify it in recommending the commutation of his sentence in order that he will be eligible for parole and another opportunity to become a useful citizen.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of ten years imposed on Bill No. 17 February Term, 1931, be commuted to a new minimum term of 1 year and 3 months, expiring on May 25, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until February 25, 1981. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 53).

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Earl W. Maybee, B-562, No. 278, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Earl W. Maybee, convicted of murder of the second degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Armstrong County, on December 20, 1927, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for an absolute pardon entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Armstrong County on December 20, 1927 to Indictments Nos. 1 and 33 December Sessions, 1927 charging murder of the second degree, and was sentenced by the Honorable J. Frank Graff, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten nor more than twenty years and was released on parole on November 18, 1932.

The applicant had no prior criminal record and since his release he has complied with all the rules of his parole and, according to the report of the Supervisor of Paroles, has made a satisfactory adjustment. The Supervisor further stated that if the convicting authorities recommended favorable consideration, he would have no objection to the granting of clemency.

The Judge who presided at the trial and the present district attorney of Armstrong County have advised the Board of Pardons that they do not object.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant in view of his prior spotless record, his conduct and deportment since hais release, and the confidence imposed in him by those who know him, deserves the help that the removal of the record of this one unfortunate occurrence would afford in order that he can avail himself of opportunities now closed to him.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Earl W. Maybee.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO.
Attorney General.
WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Mike McKnight, C-7105, No. 5780, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

May 27, 1942; and on Bill No. 1099 from a minimum term of 1 year to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on May 28, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until May 26, 1962. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 1084).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on May 25, 1931 to Indictments Nos. 1084, 1086, 1087, and 1089 May Term, 1931 charging robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, and was sentenced by the Honorable Joseph L. Kun, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten nor more than twenty years in each case, the sentences to run consecutively. On the same day the applicant was sentenced to a term of imprisonment in the Philadelphia County Prison for one year for the crime of carrying concealed deadly weapons, sentence to begin at the expiration of sentence imposed by Judge Kun.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . Personal habits and prison attitude have been good. Employment record includes kitchen work, labor, tailor shop work. He worked in the Bureau of Prison Industries' tailor shop for more than 7 years, and was released when that plant was moved to the Graterford institution. Since release from that employment he has done woodworking and at present works in the institution rag shop. He has been thrifty and in addition to a small balance has sent approximately $300.00 to relatives."

The Honorable Joseph L. Kun, Judge, in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: ". . . In answer to your inquiry of the 17th, you are advised that inasmuch as a like sentence imposed on the accomplice of the applicant was commuted by the Board in April of 1941, it seems proper to commute the sentence of the applicant."

The representative of the office of the District Attorney of Philadelphia County stated to the Board of Pardons that the applicant "has been in prison eleven years and has served sufficient time. We do not oppose."

Satisfactory employment and an adequate parole plan await the release of the applicant.

In view of the position taken by the convicting authorities and the record make by the applicant during his long term of service in the prison the Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the ends of justice have been served and that the applicant is prepared to resume his place in society.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the sentences of imprisonment be commuted, and that the applicant remain on parole unutil May 26, 1962. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 1084).

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Arthur Moore, B-1127, No. 4994, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the Life Imprisonment sentence of Arthur Moore, convicted of murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on November 26, 1928, be commuted from Life Imprisonment to 13 years and 6 months, expiring on May 26, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence plead guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on the 26th day of November, 1928 to Indictment No. 78 September Sessions, 1928 charging murder, and was adjudged guilty of murder in the first degree by the Honorable James A. Chambers, Judge, and sentenced to life imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary.

Before the commission of the crime the applicant had never been in any trouble with the law. He has now served over thirteen and one-half years in the penitentiary and the Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . This is a case of a negro floater who had never been in trouble as far as is known, but got involved in a triangle case over his wife who apparently was a prostitute. Is of low average intelligence and marginal economic level. If this inmate were eligible to apply for parole, we would probably recommend him for parole (1) first conviction (2) good institutional record (3) has served 13½ years."

Judge Chambers who sentenced the applicant in a letter to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . At the time the case was before me the defendant had entered the plea of guilty and testimony was taken to fix the degree of the murder. As the evidence unfolded it seemed to me that the defendant had made a mistake in entering a plea. It is my opinion that if he had submitted his case to the jury that the jury would probably not have found him guilty of anything higher than second degree murder. However, as a Judge it seemed to me that the case had all the elements of first degree and I so found. In view of the fact that this matter arose out of the disruption of this man's family and that he has now served over thirteen years, I would recommend that clemency be accorded him."

The applicant in his petition states that although he has spent the last part of his life in prison he feels that if paroled he would again become a good useful citizen and a credit to his community.

No employment has been provided for the applicant but he has saved over two hundred dollars and feels confident that if paroled he will be able to maintain himself. He has planned to live in New York State if released.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant's long record of satisfactory service in the Penitentiary has satisfied the ends of justice and that if properly supervised upon release he would not constitute a menace to society. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the life sentence of imprisonment be commuted to a new minimum term of thirteen years and six months, expiring on May 26, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole the balance of his natural life.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of James Edward Moore, B-2364, No. 2529, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on James Edward Moore, convicted of breaking and entering, in the Quarter Sessions Court of Allegheny County, on December 8, 1930, be commuted on Bill No. 329 December Term, 1930, from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 year and 5 months, and 29 days, expiring on June 7, 1942, and on Bill No. 331 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 8, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County on December 8, 1930 to Indictments Nos. 338, 329, and 331 December Term, 1930 charging breaking and entering, and was sentenced by the Honorable George V. Moore, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years on each indictment, all sentences to run consecutively.

The applicant has now served over eleven and one-half years and has an excellent institutional record. The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . If this inmate were eligible to apply for parole, we would probably conditionally recommend him for parole subject to a favorable parole plan (1) has now served almost 11½ years (2) excellent institutional adjustment."

The applicant's prior criminal record consisted of but one conviction for illegally entering a building and the crimes for which he is now paying the penalty of imprisonment were committed in the belief that that was the only way to obtain the necessities of life for his family.

Employment awaits the release of the applicant and his prospective employer has agreed to sponsor the applicant during the period of his parole. The employer and sponsor is a well known minister of the gospel in Pittsburgh, and bears an excellent reputation.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the time served by the applicant has amply satisfied the ends of justice and that his institutional record entitles him to the clemency he craves. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of five years imposed on Bill No. 329 December Term, 1930, be commuted to a new minimum term of 1 year, 5 months, and 29 days, expiring on June 7, 1942, and on Bill No. 331 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 8, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until June 7, 1952.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Charles Francis Mulligan, C-4774, No. 2554, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Charles Francis Mulligan, convicted of burglary, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Northampton County, on November 22, 1926, be commuted on Bill No. 76 September Sessions, 1926, from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 3 years, 8 months, and 20 days, expiring on May 21, 1942, sentence to be computed from September 1, 1928. (Applicant has served his sentence on Bills Nos. 69 and 71).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Northampton County on November 22, 1926 to Indictments Nos. 69, 71, and 76 September Sessions, 1926 charging burglary, and was sentenced by the Honorable Russell C. Stewart, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years in each case, the sentences to run consecutively and to be computed from September 1, 1928.

The applicant has now served almost thirteen and a half years and the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Trustees report: ". . . Applicant adjusts easily in prison and gets along well with his fellow-inmates and his officers. Personal habits are good and he demonstrates a fair habit of industry as block barber and cleaner. While employed as a cleaner he fell and broke both ankles, one of which has remained stiff."

Neither the sentencing judge nor the district attorney of Northampton County has objected to the granting of leniency.

The applicant is now sixty-seven years of age and if he is to have another chance to become an honest citizen that chance must be given soon. He has spent more than thirteen years in jail, has almost reached his allotted three score years and ten and is now a cripple. The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that if released he could not become a menace to society and that the years in prison have been sufficient punishment for the crime committed. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of five years imposed on Bill No. 76 September Sessions, 1926, be commuted to a new minimum term of three years, eight months, and 20 days, expiring on May 21, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until September 1, 1948. (Applicant has served his sentence imposed on Bills Nos. 69 and 71).

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Emmett O'Hara, B-7000, No. 1568, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

12, 1939, be commuted on Bill No. 123 February Term, 1930 (Washington County) from a maximum term of 4 years to a minimum term of 2 years and 7 months (less 1 day already served), expiring on May 26, 1942, and a maximum term of 4 years (sentence on Bill No. 32 November Term, 1939 (Allegheny County) to run concurrently with back time is also commuted).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence was convicted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on December 12, 1937 under Indictment No. 32 November Term, 1939 charging robbery, and receiving stolen goods, and was sentenced by the Honorable Thomas W. Marshall, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than 1½ nor more than 3 years to run concurrently with the remaining portion of 3 years, 11 months, and 29 days of a sentence imposed by the Honorable Howard W. Hughes, Judge, on December 23, 1929 in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Washington County after he had entered a plea of guilty to Indictments Nos. 122 and 123 February Sessions, 1930 and No. 5 November Sessions, 1929 charging robbery, felonious breaking and entering. The original sentences imposed in Washington County were, on Indictment No. 5 November Sessions, 1929, a term of not less than 3 nor more than 6 years and on Indictments Nos. 122 and 123 of February Sessions, 1930 a term of not less than 2 nor more than 4 years in each case, all sentences to run consecutively.

The applicant has now served more than two and one-half years of the back time and all of the sentence imposed by the Court of Allegheny County.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . If this inmate were eligible to apply for parole, we would probably recommend him for parole (1) possibility of doubt in connection with current conviction (2) excellent institutional record."

The Honorable Thomas W. Marshall, the judge who imposed the sentence in Allegheny County in a letter to one of the Parole Officers raises the same doubt as to the applicant's guilt as was raised in the Trustees' report and states: ". . . When the identification was made in the stand-up the two brothers were two of five people, all of whom had coats on and ties and their hair was brushed and they were shaven, whereas those boys had not shaven from Monday until Friday and were without neckties and, as I recall it, coats. Under these circumstances, I wonder if the Parole Board would not consider putting my letter on file and at the end of a year and a half take under consideration the question of re-paroling Emmett. His manner on the stand was quite convincing; he looked the jury in the eyes and did not cringe and was not surly, but very polite. As you know, these boys have never had anyone to take care of them since the time they were babies. If anything could be done I would personally try to get him a job on his release and would give him some supervision."

The year and a half mentioned by Judge Marshall has expired as his letter was dated December 14, 1939 the same week the sentence was imposed.

It is the opinion of the Board of Pardons that Judge Marshall was at the time of writing this letter, better acquainted with the facts than any other person and that if he was in doubt at that time and felt that a year and a half in prison was sufficient punishment under the circumstances, that the Board of Pardons would now be justified in considering two years and a half as more than sufficient punishment.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the maximum sentence of imprisonment imposed on Bill No. 123 February Term, 1930, be commuted to a minimum term of 2 years and 7 months (less 1 day already served), expiring on May 26, 1942 (sentence on Bill No. 32 November Term, 1939 to run concurrently with back time is also commuted), and that the applicant remain on parole until October 26, 1943.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Robert Francis Roehner, D-2462, No. 5826, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Robert Francis Roehner, convicted of robbery, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Montgomery County, on September 22, 1937; and of robbery, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Philadelphia County, on April 7, 1941, be commuted on Bill No. 155 April Sessions, 1937, from a minimum term of 7½ years to a minimum term of 4 years, 8 months, and 17 days, expiring on June 9, 1942, sentence to be computed from June 9, 1937. (Sentence imposed on Bill No. 444 June Term, 1937 to run concurrently with Bill No. 155, is also commuted).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Montgomery County on the 9th day of June, 1937 to Indictment No. 155 April Sessions, 1937 charging robbery, and was sentenced by the Honorable George C. Corson, Judge, on September 22, 1937 to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than 7½ nor more than 15 years. On the 7th day of April, 1941, he entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County to Indictment No. 44 June Sessions, 1937 charging robbery, and was sentenced by the Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years, to run concurrently with the sentence imposed in Montgomery County and to be computed from June 9, 1937.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . General attitude in prison has been commendable. He has demonstrated a good habit of industry in the Bureau of Prison Industries Shoe Shop where his performance and attitude have been excellent. His attempt to help in the support of his wife and 4 children to whom he has sent practically all of his earnings is noteworthy. He attended bricklaying class for 7½ months and made good progress."

Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, who sentenced the applicant in Philadelphia County in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: ". . . His prison record has been good. He has been industrious, and attempted by his meager earnings to support his wife and four children. He has taken several courses during his confinement, and whether his inside conduct overbalances his outside performance, I am afraid I cannot decide."

The Honorable George C. Corson, Judge, who imposed the sentence in Montgomery County writes: ". . . I have no knowledge, of course, as to his conduct since his incarceration and, therefore, leave the matter entirely to your good judgment."

The applicant is assured part time employment upon his release.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant has been sufficiently punished for the crime committed and that his attitude toward those dependent upon him and his general prison record shows such rehabilitation as to justify it in affording him another opportunity to live a useful life.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of 7½ years imposed on Bill No. 155 April Sessions, 1937, be commuted to a new minimum term of 4 years, 8 months, and 17 days, expiring on June 9, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until September 22, 1952. (Sentence imposed on Bill No. 44 June Term, 1937 to run concurrently with Bill No. 155, is also commuted).

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Harry Russell, C-8042, No. 3185, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Harry Russell, convicted of burglary, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Chester County, on the 31st day of May, 1932; and of burglary, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Delaware County, on the 9th day of June, 1932, be commuted on Bill No. 288 April Sessions, 1932, from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 1, 1942; on Bill No. 220 June Sessions, 1932, from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 2, 1942; on Bill No. 221 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 3, 1942; and on Bill No. 221-U from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 4, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bills Nos. 284 and 287 April Term, 1932).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Chester County on the 31st day of May, 1932 to Indictments Nos. 284, 287, and 288 April Sessions, 1932 charging burglary, and was sentenced by the Honorable Frank E. Hause, Judge, to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years in each case, the sentences to run consecutively.

On June 9, 1932, the applicant entered a plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Delaware County to Indictments Nos. 220, 221, and 221U June Sessions, 1932, and was sentenced by the Honorable Arthur D. MacDade, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years in each case, the sentences to run consecutively and to begin at the expiration of sentences imposed in Chester County.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . Applicant has maintained a good prison attitude and his performance has been very good. He was transferred from the Philadelphia institution when the hosiery and underwear shop was moved to Graterford. He had worked in that department at the Philadelphia institution and has been continuously employed in the same shop during his entire time at Graterford. The civilian instructor cites favorable attitude, good performance, and ability to get along with others. He adds that the prisoner shows interest in bettering his condition."

The applicant has now served ten years in payment to society for the crimes committed and by his conduct during those years has demonstrated a sincere desire to fit himself for an honest life in the outside world upon release.

Employment has been provided for the applicant and an adequate parole plan has been arranged.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant has fully paid for his wrong doing and that he is sufficiently rehabilitated to justify his release. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the sentences of imprisonment be commuted, and that the applicant remain on parole until June 3, 1952.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Jesse William Russell, C-8041, No. 5415, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Jesse William Russell, convicted of burglary, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Chester County, on the 31st day of May, 1932; and of burglary, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Delaware County, on the 9th day of June, 1932, be commuted on Bill No. 288 April Sessions, 1932, from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 1, 1942; on Bill No. 220 June Sessions, 1932, from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 2, 1942; on Bill No. 221 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 3, 1942; and on Bill No. 221-U from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 4, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bills Nos. 284 and 287 April Term, 1932).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Chester County on the 31st day of May, 1932 to Indictments Nos. 284, 287, and 288 April Sessions, 1932 charging burglary, and was sentenced by the Honorable Frank E. Hause, Judge, to undergo imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years in each case, the sentences to run consecutively.

On June 9, 1932, the applicant entered a plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Delaware County to Indictments Nos. 220, 221, and 221-U June Sessions, 1932, and was sentenced by the Honorable Arthur H. MacDade, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years in each case, the sentences to run consecutively and to begin at the expiration of sentences imposed in Chester County.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . Russell has established an outstanding performance record in the institution. He was employed in the machine shop until 1934 when he became an instructor of mechanical drawing in the school. When the vocational school expanded, he was assigned additional duties and is currently chief corrector of industrial subjects and International Correspondence School vocational courses. He holds diplomas in drafting, diesel electric work, mechanics, mechanical engineering, and electrical engineering. He was almost entirely responsible for the equipment and organization of a machine shop in the school and has given practical instructions to students whose achievement verifies his ability as a practical instructor. In addition to outstanding performance in the school, he has charge of the motion picture booth and has been licensed as a Class B operator and has passed examination for a projectionist license. He is unassuming, conscientious and not afraid of hard work. He should be a valuable worker in defense industry."

The applicant's outstanding institutional record is convincing evidence of his complete rehabilitation and of his sincere desire to lead a useful life upon his release. His long confinement in prison has fully paid his debt to society and the Board of Pardons is of the opinion that it is fully justified in affording him an opportunity to take up his life in the outside world. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the sentences of imprisonment imposed be commuted, and that the applicant remain on parole until June 3, 1952.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Frank Andrew Skalski, B-1069, No. 4452, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the life imprisonment sentence of Frank Andrew Skalski, convicted of murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on October 19, 1928, be commuted from life imprisonment to 13 years and 8 months, expiring on June 19, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on October 19, 1928 to Indictment No. 22 June Term, 1928 charging murder, and was sentenced by the Honorable Elder W. Marshall, Judge, to life imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary.

The applicant had no prior criminal record and he took no active part in the killing for which he is now imprisoned. He has served over thirteen years for an offense which he claims was committed by accomplices without his knowledge and without his aid or participation.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons made May 26, 1941 states: ". . . If this inmate were eligible to apply for parole, we would probably recommend him for parole (1) first conviction (2) excellent institutional record (3) cooperative inmate (4) has served almost 13 years."

The Honorable Elder W. Marshall, the sentencing judge in a letter to the Board writes: ". . . Under all of the circumstances of this case, and with due regard to the applicant's age at the time of the crime, the fact that he, personally, did not assault the deceased, and the number of years during which he has been incarcerated, my own judgment is that Skalski might well be paroled presently, if proper assurance is had as to his employment, living conditions, etc., following his release.

The representative of the office of the District Attorney of Allgeheny County in a letter to the Board writes: ". . . After due reconsideration in the matter I would advise that our office will not oppose clemency in this case if your Board can now consider the same."

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant has been sufficiently punished for his part in the crime committed and that his excellent institutional record and the position of the convicting authorities justifies it in extending leniency. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the life sentence of imprisonment be commuted to a new minimum term of 13 years and 8 months, expiring on June 19, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole the balance of his natural life.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Charles Terry, C-8479, No. 4764, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the life imprisonment sentence of Charles Terry, convicted of murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on May 10, 1932 be commuted from life imprisonment to 10 years and 1 month, expiring on June 10, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Philadelphia County on May 10, 1932 to Indictment No. 110 May Term, 1932 charging murder, was adjudged guilty of murder in the first degree by the Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, and was sentenced to life imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons in this case, states: ". . . Immediately upon his release from the quarantine period, he displayed unusual discrimination in interpreting his deserved place in a large penal institution and in the selection of his friends. He was assigned to the Identification Bureau where he at once justified the complete confidence of the officials. He became a student of photography and developed efficiency in the theortical and practical aspects of the art to a marked degree. He is at present serving within the prison as fully trusted and as capably as a civilian employe. We commend this young man upon the firm conviction of his performance and his prophecy for the future if extended clemency. He takes his place in the population modestly and yet enforces a confidence which frees him from all suspicion and necessitous oversight which characterize the disciplinary demeanor of a major penal institution. These facts are accentuated by his investment of nearly $2,000, in photographic equipment, substantial contribution to his widowed mother and his cooperation in the building of the blood bank for the Red Cross. He is fully deserving of this unusual certificate of meritorious performance, for the only issue involved is the estimate of the time served."

The Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, who sentenced the applicant in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: ". . . I haven't much faith in death bed repentances, nor in late conversions of prison inmates. This boy, however, showed his better side from the moment he entered the institution, and it has continued to develop without straying in any other direction. He is now a mature man with better mental and physical capacity than when he entered the institution, and far better able to face the world than he was ten years ago. It may sound strange to say that his association has benefited him when one considers the population of his present home, but I say it advisedly because there are so many of the very bad, and so few of the very good, that he has displayed rare discernment in his discrimination. Needless to say I have implicit faith in this man, or I would not assume the responsibility of being his sponsor. I assumed this responsibility after an intimate association of at least one visit a week during the period of his confinement."

It has rarely been the privilege of the Board of Pardons to receive from those who should best know the effect of confinemnt on a prison inmate, such praise of performance and such confidence in full reformation.

The progress in rehabilitation and in his chosen work by the applicant are sufficient evidence to convince the Board of his fitness to be released from further confinement and the ten years of prison servitude should be sufficient atonement for the crime committed when he was but a boy. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the life sentence of imprisonment be commuted to a new minimum term of ten years and one month, expiring on June 10, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole the balance of his natural life.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of George William Trost, B-5570, No. 454, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of George William Trost, convicted of breaking and escaping prison in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Centre County on June 12, 1937, to be computed from March 5, 1941, be commuted from 2½ years to 1 year and 3 months, expiring on June 5, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The application for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Centre County on June 12, 1937 to Indictment No. 39 September Term, 1937 charging breaking and escaping prison, and was sentenced by the Honorable M. Ward Fleming, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than two and one-half nor more than five years to begin March 5, 1941, at the expiration of a sentence imposed by the Courts of Westmoreland County.

After having been paroled on July 22, 1933, at the expiration of the minimum term of not less than ten and one-half years imposed by the Westmoreland County Court he remained on parole until March 10, 1936 when he was returned for a parole violation. While being detained as a parole violator he escaped and after being apprehended he was indicted for breaking and escaping prison, plead guilty and was sentenced.

He has now served more than one year and three months of the sentence of the Centre County Court and the Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . In view of past history, this applicant may be a doubtful parole risk. However it is agreed that his sentences as originally imposed were in excess of the limit prescribed by law and he has not been given the benefit of the consecutive sentence procedure which has been followed since the Lynch and Narcise decisions of the appellate courts, and from this standpoint there may be merit in his plea for clemency at this time. His institutional record has been entirely satisfactory." During his imprisonment he has saved over three hundred dollars.

The Honorable M. Ward Fleming, the Judge who imposed the sentence he is now serving in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: ". . . I have no exceptions to file to this application and am willing to abide by the judgment of the Board."

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the time served by the applicant for his escape has sufficiently satisfied the ends of justice and that his prison record coupled with the frugality evidenced by his savings entitles him to another chance to spend the declining years of his life in an attempt to live honestly among his fellow men.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of two and one-half years imposed on Bill No. 39 September Sessions, 1937 (Centre County) be commuted to a new minimum term of one year and three months, expiring on June 5, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until March 5, 1946.

Lieutenant-Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Matt Wilich, D-1897, No. 4397, May Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Matt Wilich, convicted of murder in the second degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Luzerne County on January 8, 1937 be commuted from 8 years to 5 years and 5 months, expiring on June 8, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty generally in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Luzerne County on January 8, 1937 to Indictment No. 123 November Sessions, 1936 charging murder, and was adjudged guilty of murder in the second degree by the Honorable Benjamin R. Jones, Judge, and sentenced to pay a fine of $100.00 and to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than eight nor more than twenty years.

He has now served more than five years of his minimum sentence, and the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . Subject was transferred to the Luzerne County Prison on 7-30-40. The Warden of that institution reports that his record there has been good. He has maintained an excellent attitude and he associates with the better type of inmate. He is employed in a position of trust as a gardener outside the walls. While at the Graterford Institution he attempted to improve himself by attending school for 6½ months where he studied academic work and made good progress. He corresponds and receives visits from wife and friends. The Warden of the Luzerne County Prison recommends favorable consideration."

Satisfactory employment awaits the release of the applicant and the Warden of the Luzerne County Prison has expressed his willingness to act as his sponsor. He would return to his wife and children if paroled and with the employment promised could amply provide for them and himself.

The representative of the office of the District Attorney of Luzerne County appeared before the Board and advised it that the office did not oppose the granting of a commutation.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the time served by the applicant has constituted sufficient punishment and that his prison record entitles him to another opportunity to live in the outside world and provide for his family. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of eight years be commuted to a new minimum term of five years and five months, expiring on June 8, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until January 8, 1957.

Respectfully submitted,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of William Antinore, No. 5877, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that William Antinore, convicted of larceny and receiving stolen goods in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on September 10, 1934, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for a full and absolute pardon entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on the 10th day of September, 1934 to Indictment No. 672 April Sessions, 1934 charging larceny and receiving stolen goods, and was placed on probation for a term of two years by the Honorable Utley D. Crane, Judge.

The applicant had no prior criminal record and has been in no trouble since being placed on probation.

He was only sixteen years old at the time of his arrest and the sentence administered by the Court is the best evidence of lack of need for serious punishment.

The applicant is now twenty-five years of age and has been steadily and gainfully employed. He is now married and is the father of two daughters.

The applicant asks that the record of this one conviction be removed in order that he can advance to a better position through civil service examinations, and the Board of Pardons is of the opinion that his splendid record since that one conviction entitles him to that privilege.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, William Antinore.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Charles Berringer, D-4064, C-9328, No. 5846, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Charles Berringer, convicted of burglary in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on May 31, 1939, to be computed from May 10, 1939, be commuted from 5 years to 3 years, 1 month and 10 days, expiring on June 20, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on May 31, 1939 to Indictment No. 542 May Sessions, 1939 charging burglary, and was sentenced by the Honorable Albert S. C. Millar, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years, sentence to be computed from May 10, 1939.

The applicant had no prior criminal record and has now served over three years of his sentence. The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . While at the Graterford instiution petitioner was enrolled in the academic school for 9½ months and was released for employment. He was transferred to the Philadelphia County Prison on 1-8-41 and has been employed in the Print Shop. He has demonstrated good habit of industry, his attitude is respectful and conduct record good.

Superintendent Baldi recommends favorable consideration."

The representative of the office of the District Attorney of Philadelphia County appeared before the Board and said: ". . . The applicant had no prior record, he has served a substantial part of his minimum sentence and we leave the matter to the Board."

Employment with an old established firm in Philadelphia at an adequate salary awaits the release of the applicant and the Superintendent of the firm will act as his sponsor.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant by reason of his conduct in prison and in view of this being his first conviction, is entitled to another opportunity to take up his life in the outside world.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of five years imposed be commuted to a new minimum term of 3 years, 1 month, and 10 days, expiring on June 20, 1942.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of William Isaiah Brown, C-9920, No. 5776, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on William Isaiah Brown, convicted of assault and battery, robbery, and burglary, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Delaware County, on October 13, 1931, and to begin October 24, 1933, be commuted on Bill No. 143 September Sessions, 1931, from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 4 years, 1 month, and 25 days, expiring on June 19, 1942; on Bill No. 144 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 20, 1942; on Bill No. 145 from a minimum term of 1 year to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 21, 1942; and on Bill No. 146 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 22, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bills Nos. 141 and 142).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence was convicted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Delaware County on October 13, 1931 under Indictments Nos. 141 to 146 September Sessions, 1931 charging assault and battery, robbery, and burglary, and was sentenced by the Honorable Albert Dutton MacDade, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years on Indictment No. 141, not less than six months nor more than one year on Indictment No. 142, and not less than five nor more than ten years on Indictments Nos. 144, 145, and 146, all sentences to run consecutively and to begin October 24, 1933.

When convicted of these crimes he was on parole, having been returned on March 22, 1931, at the expiration of a minimum term of two years in the Eastern State Penitentiary of a sentence imposed on March 22, 1929, for breaking and entering.

The applicant is now forty-nine years of age and has served over eight and a half years. The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . Experienced in prison life, adjustment has been comparatively easy. However, at times he impresses his block officer as being a little stubborn. Employment history in the institution includes fairly long periods as a laborer, rag shop worker, and kitchen worker. His hobby is painting and music and his performance at both is acceptable."

The representative of the District Attorney's office of Philadelphia County appeared before the Board of Pardons and stated that: "if there is no mental disability we do not object to commutation."

The Board of Pardons had an examination made of the applicant in order to determine if there existed any mental disability and Dr. Charles A. Zeller in a report made to the Board states in conclusion that: ". . . if he were to be given a position on the outside, possibly he would make an adjustment due to his age and present circumstances."

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the years he has served have fully satisfied the ends of justice and that he should be given another opportunity to make the adjustment thought to be possible by Dr. Zeller.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the sentences of imprisonment be commuted.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Alfred Bruno, D-1815, No. 4244, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Alfred Bruno, convicted of murder of the second degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Schuylkill County on July 13, 1936, to be computed from November 5, 1934, be commuted from 10 years to 7 years and 8 months, expiring on July 5, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence was convicted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Schuylkill County on the 13th day of July, 1936 under Indictment No. 129 January Term, 1935 charging murder of the second degree, and was sentenced by the Honorable Benjamin Jones, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for from ten to twenty years, sentence to begin November 5, 1934.

The applicant had no prior criminal record and has now served over seven and one-half years.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . Applicant's institutional performance has been satisfactory. He is quiet and he associates only with the other members of his family. He is employed in the tailor shop as a clerk. He corresponds and receives visits from his family."

The members of the Board of Pardons have received many letters from prominent citizens of Kelayres requesting the favorable consideration by the Board of this applicant's appeal for clemency.

No protest has been raised by any one and the convicting authorities of the county have not objected.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the years served by the applicant have been sufficient punishment for the crime committed and that the ends of justice have been satisfied.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of ten years imposed be commuted to a new minimum term of seven years and eight months, expiring on July 5, 1942.

In re application of James Bruno, D-1816, No. 4245, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of James Bruno, convicted of murder of the second degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Schuylkill County on July 13, 1936, to be commuted from 10 years, computed from November 5, 1934, to 7 years and 8 months, expiring on July 5, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence was convicted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Schuylkill County on the 13th day of July, 1936 under Indictment No. 129 January Term, 1935 charging murder of the second degree, and was sentenced by the Honorable Benjamin Jones, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten nor more than twenty years, sentence to begin November 5, 1934.

The applicant had no prior criminal record and has now served over seven and one-half years.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . Applicant's institutional performance has been good. He has worked as a teacher in the school during his entire period of incarceration and has maintained a constructive attitude. He corresponds and receives visits from his family. His only associates are members of his family."

The members of the Board of Pardons have received many letters from prominent citizens of Kelayres requesting the favorable consideration by the Board of this applicant's appeal for clemency.

No protest has been raised by any one and the convicting authorities of the county have not objected.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the years served by the applicant have been sufficient punishment for the crime committed and that the ends of justice have been satisfied.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of ten years imposed be commuted to a new minimum term of seven years and eight months, expiring on July 5, 1942.

Respectfully submitted,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Frank Budline, D-1368, No. 3261, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Frank Budline, convicted of robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Lehigh County on June 1, 1936 be commuted from 7½ years to 6 years and 19 days, expiring on June 20, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence was convicted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Lehigh County on the 1st day of June, 1936 under Indictment No. 20 April Term, 1936 charging robbery, and was sentenced by the Honorable Richard W. Iobst, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than seven and one-half nor more than fifteen years.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . Transferred to the Lehigh County Prison on 7-29-40, the Warden of that institution reports good adjustment and cooperative attitude. Prior to the transfer and while at the Graterford Institution a definite effort towards self-improvement was made by attending school and later employment as a teacher."

The Honorable Richard W. Iobst, Judge, who sentenced the applicant, in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: ". . . In view of the length of time for which he has served, I have no objection to the granting of a pardon, if deemed advisable by the Board."

The District Attorney's office of Lehigh County has not objected to the granting of clemency.

The applicant has almost served his minimum sentence and has maintained an excellent institutional record.

It is the opinion of the Board of Pardons that the time served by the applicant has sufficiently satisfied the ends of justice and that his consistently excellent prison record is sufficient evidence of his desire to live a law-abiding life to justify it in extending clemency. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence imposed be commuted to a new minimum term of 6 years and 19 days, expiring on June 20, 1942.

Respectfully submitted,
S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of William Herman Campbell, B-1702, No. 2156, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Boaard of Pardons recommend that the life sentence of William Herman Campbell, convicted of Murder in the First Degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Indiana County on November 25, 1929, be commuted from life imprisonment to 12 years and 7 months, expiring on June 25, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty generally in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Indiana County on the 25th day of November, 1929 to Indictment No. 5 March Sessions, 1928 charging murder, and was adjudged guilty of murder of the first degree by the Honorable J. N. Langham, Judge, and sentenced to life imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary.

Applicant was seventeen years old when the crime was committed and had no prior criminal record. The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states that if eligible for parole, it would recommend the applicant for parole because of his satisfactory record, his long years of confinement and the release of some of his accomplices.

The Honorable J. N. Langham, Judge, who sentenced the applicant, in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: ". . . I very earnestly urge the Honorable Board of Pardons, your favorable consideration of this application for many reasons: At the time of the trial and sentence I was thoroughly convinced that Campbell told the truth as to how the crime was committed. Campbell was a mere boy at that time. He had no education, and was not very bright to begin with. He certainly could be influenced by his accomplices who were much older and brighter than he. If released I feel satisfied that he will never hereafter be a menace to society. He has a splendid father, and if he is in good health ought to be a great help in maintaining that large family."

The District Attorney of Indiana County has not objected to the granting of clemency.

Satisfactory employment is assured the applicant in the event of his release and an adequate parole plan has been provided.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the years of confinement spent by this applicant since he was but seventeen years old are full punishment for the crime committed when drink might have dulled his senses and that his institutional record entitles him to an opportunity to make another start in life. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the life sentence of imprisonment be commuted to a new minimum term of twelve years and seven months, expiring on June 25, 1942.

Respectfully submitted,
S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:
ARTHUR H. JAMES,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Ferris Cochran, B-5955, No. 4458, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Ferris Cochran, convicted of robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on February 16, 1938, to be commuted from 5 years, computed from January 11, 1938, to 4 years and 6 months, expiring on July 11, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence was convicted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on the 16th day of February, 1938 under Indictment No. 2 February Sessions, 1938 charging robbery, and was sentenced by the Honorable A. E. Swoyer, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years, sentence to be computed from January 11, 1938.

Although arrested several times this applicant was never convicted of any crime before being found guilty on these two indictments. He has now been confined for over four and a half years and the Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary report that he has maintained an excellent institutional record.

A satisfactory parole plan and employment await the release of the applicant.

Neither the sentencing judge or the district attorney of Allegheny County oppose the granting of clemency.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that with so large a portion of his minimum sentence served, his punishment has sufficiently satisfied the ends of justice and that to have maintained an excellent institutional record during four and one-half years of imprisonment is sufficient evidence of a desire to live an honest life as to justify it in giving him an opportunity to make the attempt.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of 5 years imposed on Bill No. 2 February Sessions, 1938, be commuted to a new minimum term of 4 years and 6 months, expiring on July 11, 1942.

Respectfully submitted,
S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Joseph M. Conway, C-8947, No. 3960, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Joseph M. Conway, convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on May 17, 1933, be commuted from 10 years to 9 years and 1 month, expiring on June 17, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence was convicted by a jury in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on the 17th day of May, 1933 under Indictment No. 571 May Sessions, 1933 charging robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, and was sentenced by the Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten nor more than twenty years.

The applicant had a prior criminal record consisting of two convictions and has served over nine years of the minimum sentence imposed. The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons writes: ". . . He has shown some interest in self-improvement and enrolled in school on August 28, 1933. He made excellent progress in advanced academic subjects. Later enrolled in the stenographic-secretarial course and made good progress. He also completed 6 courses in agriculture through the extension department of the Pennsylvania State College. His institutional employment history includes experience as a school teacher, salvage man and clerk. He is now employed as a truck driver and has attempted to demonstrate an improved attitude.

The representative of the District Attorney's Office of Philadelphia County appeared before the Board and stated ". . . When this case was before the Board last December we stated that he had served sufficient time and that his release should depend on his record. Our position is now the same. We leave it to the Board."

The applicant's obvious attempt to improve his mind and increase his capabilities shows a desire to fit himself for making a living outside prison walls without resorting to illegal means, and is evidence of a sufficient degree of rehabilitation to entitle him to the new start for which he has equipped himself.

An attractive position has been offered the applicant and a reputable member of the Philadelphia bar will act as his sponsor.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of ten years imposed be commuted to a new minimum term of nine years and one month, expiring on June 17, 1942.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Maurice Corman, B-6789, No. 5886, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Maurice Corman, convicted of or pleaded guilty to the following offenses: (1) highway robbery, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on September 25, 1913; (2) larceny and picking pockets in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on July 9, 1909; (3) larceny in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on December 15, 1911; and (4) highway robbery in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on December 20, 1911, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for a full and absolute pardon was convicted in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on the 25th day of September, 1913 under Indictment No. 4 September Sessions, 1913 charging highway robbery, and was sentenced by the Honorable Charles B. McMichaels, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than four nor more than five years.

He was placed on parole on September 25, 1917 at the end of his minimum sentence and since then has been in no trouble.

The applicant had a prior criminal record consisting of three convictions. On July 9, 1909, he was convicted in Philadelphia County under Indictment No. 268 June Sessions, 1909, charging larceny and picking pockets, and was sentenced to the Huntingdon Reformatory. On December 15, 1911, he plead guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County to Indictment No. 600 September Sessions, 1911 charging larceny, and was sentenced to the Philadelphia County Prison for 18 months, and on December 20, 1911 he was convicted by a jury in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County under Indictment No. 415 December Sessions, 1911 charging highway robbery, and was sentenced to the Philadelphia County Prison for six months, to begin at the expiration of sentence imposed on Indictment 600 December Sessions, 1911.

The applicant has been in no trouble with the law since his release in 1917 and for twenty-five years has lived such an exemplary life as to clearly demonstrate thorough and complete rehabilitation.

The applicant desires a pardon in order to make is possible for him to become a citizen of the United States, and the Board of Pardons is of the opinion that his record since 1917 entitles him to that opportunity. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Maurice Corman.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Joseph F. Daley, D-5029, No. 5193, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Joseph F. Daley, convicted of robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on June 25, 1934, to be computed from June 25, 1940, be commuted from 2½ years to 2 years, expiring on June 25, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence was convicted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on June 25, 1934 under Indictment No. 939 April Sessions, 1934 charging robbery, and was sentenced by the Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than two and one-half nor more than five years, to be computed from the expiration of the unexpired parole time of a sentence imposed on January 31, 1930 in Philadelphia County on eight bills of Indictment charging false pretense, assault, being armed with an offensive weapon, and robbery, all sentences to run concurrently. He was released on parole January 31, 1934. He has now served the back time on the sentences imposed in 1930 and about one year and eleven months of the minimum sentence imposed by Judge McDevitt in 1934 and has served almost eight years since his return to the Penitentiary.

U. OF ILL. LIB.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . Petitioner has a very good prison record. He has been employed in the laundry for several years and sends all of his earnings to his wife to assist in her support. His habits are good and his general attitude has been constructive.

Both of his accomplices in the crime committed in 1934 have been released.

The Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, who sentenced him in 1934 in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: ". . . His prison record is good. He sends all his earnings to his wife, and he conducts a laundry in his block to make extra money. In spite of his excellent prison record, and what appears to be proof of rehabilitation, he still has that back record staring him in the face, and I am afraid you will have to determine what should be done with him."

The office of the District Attorney of Philadelphia County does not oppose the granting of clemency.

The applicant has a wife and two children aged 15 and 18 years and he intends to live with them if released.

Employment has been promised him by a brother who also has agreed to act as his sponsor.

Although it is true that the past record of the applicant is not good, the Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the long years he has served have amply satisfied the ends of justice and that his continuing devotion to his wife and children as evidenced by his payments to them, is sufficient evidence of a desire to live honesty if released, to justify it in extending to him another opportunity. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of 2½ years imposed on Bill No. 939 April Sessions, 1934, be commuted to a new minimum term of 2 years, expiring on June 25, 1942.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Leo A. Dessoye, C-9149, No. 5346, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Leo A. Dessoye, convicted of attempted robbery with a deadly weapon in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Luzerne County on August 11, 1933 be commuted from 10 years to 8 years and 11 months, expiring on July 11, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Luzerne County on August 11, 1933 to Indictment No. 683 June Term, 1933 charging attempted robbery with a deadly weapon, and was sentenced by the Honorable W. A. Valentine, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten nor more than twenty years.

The applicant has now served over eight years and ten months of his minimum sentence and the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . Subject has a good record of prison preformance; has maintained a good attitude and demonstrated proficiency as a worker. He has held various jobs which include employment in the weave shop, block worker, shoe shop employee, and glazier and roofer. He corresponds with and receives visits from his wife."

The representatives of the office of the District Attorney of Luzerne County stated to the Board that: ". . . the applicant has served over nine years, has a splendid sponsor and employment, and we do not oppose."

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant has served sufficient time to satisfy the ends of justice and that his prison record entitles him to its clemency. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of ten years be commuted to a new minimum term of eight years and eleven months, expiring on July 11, 1942.

In re application of Joseph J. DiGiovanni, No. 3235, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Joseph J. DiGiovanni, convicted of extortion and impersonating an officer in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on March 2, 1935, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for a full and absolute pardon entered his plea of nolle contendere in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on the 2nd day of March, 1935 to Indictments Nos. 118 and 119 March Sessions, 1935, charging extortion and impersonating an officer, and was adjudged guilty by the Honorable Edwin O. Lewis, Judge, and was sentenced to imprisonment in the Philadelphia County Prison for a term of not less than one nor more than three years.

The applicant was released on parole on March 2, 1936, became re-united with his wife and has been in no trouble since that time. He is gainfully employed and bears an excellent reputation in the neighborhood in which he resides. During the time he was on parole he violated no regulations and was co-operative with his parole agent.

The applicant desires a pardon in order to make better employment possible by affording him an opportunity to take civil service examinations.

The representative of the District Attorney's office of Philadelphia County advised the Board of Pardons that the office had made an investigation and from the applicant's background and his record, felt convinced that he would not again become involved in crime.

The Honorable Edwin O. Lewis, who adjudged him guilty and imposed sentence, in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: ". . . I approve of the application for a pardon of Joseph J. DiGiovanni, because of his conduct since his release."

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion, in view of the report of the district attorney's office, the sentencing judge, and its own investigation that this applicant by his conduct since 1936 has earned the right to have this one conviction wiped from his record, and, the Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Joseph J. DiGiovanni.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of James A. G. Edmonds, A-12113, No. 5275, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence was convicted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on February 28, 1922 under Indictment No. 44, June Sessions, 1921 charging second degree murder, and was sentenced by the Honorable Charles H. Kline, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than fifteen nor more than eighteen years. He was released on parole on November 28, 1931, and maintained an excellent attitude and record until arrested in 1939 for aggravated assault and battery. As a result of this arrest he entered a plea of guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Washington County on September 1, 1939 to Indictment No. 218 August Sessions, 1939 charging aggravated assault and battery, and was sentenced by the Honorable E. E. Gibson, Judge, to imprisonment in the Washington County Jail for a term of not less than two nor more than four months, to be computed from July 15, 1939. He served this sentence and was returned to the Western State Penitentiary on September 15, 1939, as a parole violator.

He has now served a total of over twelve and a half years on the sentence imposed in 1922, two years and ten months of which have been served as a result of his parole violation. The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states that he has served this time with an excellent institutional record.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant has been sufficiently punished and that his institutional record is evidence of such rehabilitation as to justify it in granting him clemency in order that he can try again to live honestly and peacefully outside prison walls.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the maximum sentence imposed on Bill No. 44 June Sessions, 1921, be commuted from a maximum term of 18 years to a minimum term of 12 years and 6 months, expiring on June 13, 1942.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Edward C. Gaynor, C-3658, No. 1643, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Edward C. Gaynor, convicted of robbery, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Philadelphia County, on November 12, 1926, be commuted on Bill No. 306 November Sessions, 1926, from a maximum term of 20 years to a minimum term of 11 years, 3 months, and 19 days, expiring on June 19, 1942; and on Bill No. 307 from a minimum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 20, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence was convicted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on November 12, 1926 under Indictments Nos. 306 and 307 November Sessions, 1926 charging robbery, and was sentenced by the Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, to not less than twenty nor more than forty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He was released on parole on May 29, 1934 and with one exception his record while on parole was satisfactory until 1938 when on September 26, 1938 he entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County to Indictments Nos. 1157 and 1164 September Sessions, 1938. Sentence was deferred however and he was returned to the Eastern State Penitentiary to complete the unexpired portion of the sentences imposed in 1926.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . Since return he has served 3 years, 8½ months during which time he has maintained an excellent performance record. He started work in the Metal Shop February, 1939 and has continued to present date. He has purchased $200.00 worth of War Bonds and sent money home to assist his wife. As his petition is based on his innocence of the crime charged, we lacking knowledge of the circumstances of the trial, are in no position to make any recommendation."

The applicant was first convicted when but nineteen years old and has spent the last years of his life in prison. He has protested his innocence in connection with the crime for which he was returned to the penitentiary.

The Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, who sentenced him in 1926 and who deferred sentence in 1938 in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: ". . . During the three years and nine months that he has been in the institution on a return visit, his performance record has been excellent. He works in the metal shop, and has purchased several hundred dollars worth of war bonds, as well as sent money to assist his wife. There isn't a better workman in the institution, or a man more capable of carrying out in detail what is planned for him. I am afraid your problem will be to determine whether he has served sfficient time in view of his record."

The applicant has now served over eleven years in prison and has consistently maintained an excellent institutional record and has displayed an interest in self-improvement. If he is ever to become an asset to society he should be equipped at this time to make the attempt. If properly sponsored, the Board of Pardons is of the opinion that he can safely be liberated and given the opportunity he seeks in order to demonstrate his rehabilitation.

He has been promised satisfactory employment and has secured a sponsor who should be of great assistance in his endeavor to live an honest life on the outside.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the maximum sentence of 20 years imposed on Bill No. 306 November Sessions, 1926, be commuted to a minimum term of 11 years, 3 months, and 19 days, expiring on June 19, 1942, and on Bill No. 307 from a minimum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 20, 1942.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Jacob Stanley George, B-2654, No. 5862, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Jacob Stanley George, convicted of robbery, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Allegheny County, on May 12, 1931, be commuted on Bill No. 3 May Sessions, 1931, be commuted from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 year and 1 month, expiring on June 12, 1942 (Bill No. 2 May Sessions, 1931, to run concurrent with Bill No. 3, is also commuted). Applicant has been released on parole on Bill No. 5.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on May 12, 1931, to Indictments Nos. 5, 3, 2, and 4 May Sessions, 1931 charging robbery, and was sentenced by the Honorable George V. Moore, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten nor more than twenty years on Indictment No. 5, not less than five nor more than forty years on Indictment No. 3, the sentences to run consecutively. On Indictment No. 2 the sentence was not less than five nor more than forty, to run concurrently with sentence on Indictment No. 3, and on Indictment No. 4 to not less than ten nor more than forty years, to run concurrently with sentence imposed on Indictment No. 5.

The applicant has now served over eleven years, and the Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states that the applicant has maintained an excellent institutional record, has made progress in self-government and that: ". . . In connection with his work in the Tailoring Department, he has devoted himself to the study of designing and drafting patterns for coats, overcoats, vests, and trousers. He has acquired a number of textbooks on designing and drafting patterns. By industrious application he has become so proficient that he does all the pattern work for this shop. Several of his drafts have been published in the 'Clothing Trade Journal,' a monthly magazine published in the interest of the clothing manufacturing trade."

The Parole Director of the Western State Penitentiary stated to the Board that the applicant had served eleven years with a record of outstanding progress.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant's institutional record alone entitles him to an opportunity to continue that same record in the outside world and that his long time of service has sufficiently satisfied the ends of justice. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence imposed on Bill No. 3 May Sessions, 1931, (and Bill No. 2 May Sessions, 1931, concurrent) be commuted to a new minimum term of 1 year and 1 month, expiring on June 12, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 5).

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Oscar Ralph Goetz, B-5363, No. 4824, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Oscar Ralph Goetz, convicted of robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Erie County on January 11, 1937 be commuted from 6 years to 5 years and 10 months, expiring on November 11, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence was convicted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Erie County on the 11th day of January, 1937 under Indictment No. 3 November Sessions, 1936 charging robbery, and was sentenced by the Honorable J. Orin Waite, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than six nor more than twelve years.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states that the applicant had an excellent institutional record and that he had shown a marked improvement in his general attitude. He has now served over five years and six months since his arrival at the Western State Penitentiary, but he was committed to jail in Erie County on November 11, 1936, and if credit was given him for time spent in jail before sentence, his minimum term would expire on November 11, 1942.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that simple justice demands that this allowance should be made, and, it therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of six years be commuted to a new minimum term of five years and ten months, expiring on November 11, 1942.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of John Steel Hanna, Jr., B-5334, No. 4371, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of John Steel Hanna, Jr., convicted of voluntary manslaughter in the Court of Oyer and Teminer of Allegheny County on December 18, 1936 be commuted from 6 years to 5 years, 5 months and 13 days, expiring on May 31, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence was convicted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on December 18, 1936 under Indictment No. 109 September Sessions, 1936 charging voluntary manslaughter, and was sentenced by the Honorable Samuel H. Gardner, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than six nor more than twelve years.

The applicant has maintained an excellent institutional record in the Western State Penitentiary during the five and half years he has been there.

He was arrested for this crime on May 31, 1936, and was in the Allegheny County Jail from that time until he was removed to the Western State Penitentiary on December 19, 1936.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states that it would recommend for parole at the expiration of the minimum sentence and the Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant should have deducted from his sentence the time spent by him in jail awaiting trial. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of six years be commuted to a minimum term of five years, five months, and thirteen days, expiring on May 31, 1942.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of David Horton, D-2659, No. 5529, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on David Horton, convicted of burglary, breaking and entering, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Philadelphia County, on December 8, 1937, be commuted on Bill No. 287 October Sessions, 1937, from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 4 years, 6 months, and 18 days, expiring on June 19, 1942, and on Bill No. 1413 November Sessions, 1937, from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 20, 1942, sentence was to be computed from December 1, 1937.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on December 8, 1937 to Indictments Nos. 287 October Sessions, 1937 and 1413 November Sessions, 1937 charging burglary and breaking and entering, and was sentenced by the Honorable George G. Parry, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years in each case, the sentences to run consecutively and to be computed from December 1, 1937.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . This prisoner is suffering from syphilis and diabetes for which he has been receiving treatment. At present he is confined to a wheel chair and bed. On September 27, 1941 he had a paralytic stroke involving the right side of his body. The inmate may be considered completely invalided, and from a standpoint of the diabetes, of the syphilis, and of the paralysis, his invalidism is permanent. The inmate's commutation to his sister in Virginia is recommended provided she is made fully acquainted with her obligation to provide adequate nursing care. The likelihood of further criminal activity is rather small."

Dr. Grayson, the Chief Resident Physician at the Eastern State Penitentiary, in a letter under date of May 11, 1942, writes: ". . . The above captioned inmate, a diabetic, had an apoplectic stroke approximately eight months ago. There has been no improvement whatsoever in his paralysis, and it is our opinion that there will be no betterment in his physical condition. It is fairly certain that he will remain a nursing problem, and will be in need of medical attention for the remainder of his natural life."

It is obvious that this applicant will never again become a menace to society and if he is released and removes to Virginia to be nursed by his sister he may be more comfortable than if retained in prison. He has served over four and one-half years and under the circumstances the Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the ends of justice have been amply satisfied.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of 5 years imposed on Bill No. 287 October Sessions, 1937, be commuted to a new minimum term of 4 years, 6 months, and 18 days, expiring on June 19, 1942, and on Bill No. 1413 November Sessions, 1937, from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 20, 1942.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of William G. Isett, B-5261, No. 4967, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on William G. Isett, convicted of robbery, receiving stolen goods, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Allegheny County, on May 16, 1934; and of breaking and escaping penitentiary, in the Quarter Sessions Court of Centre County, on October 3, 1936, be commuted on Bill No. 3 May Term, 1934 from a maximum term of 10 years to a term of 8 years, expiring on May 19, 1942; and on Bill No. 25 November Term, 1936 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on May 20, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on May 16, 1934 to Indictments Nos. 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, and 18 May Term, 1934 charging robbery, receiving stolen goods, and was sentenced to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years by the Honorable W. Herber Dithrich, Judge. He was transferred to Rockview on December 6, 1935 and escaped September 10, 1936. On October 3, 1936 he entered his plea of guilty in the Quarter Sessions Court of Centre County to Indictment No. 25 November Term, 1936 charging breaking and escaping penitentiary, and was sentenced by the Honorable M. Ward Fleming, Judge, to Imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years to begin at the expiration of the Allegheny County sentence imposed by the Honorable W. Heber Dithrich, Judge.

He has now served a period of more than seven years and ten months and except for the escape episode has a good institutional and employment record. All of the accomplices in the crimes to which he plead guilty have been released.

The trial judge of Allegheny County who imposed the original sentence has made no objection to the granting of clemency, and Honorable M. Ward Fleming, Judge, who imposed the sentence for the escape charge has left the matter to the Board. The office of the District Attorney of Allegheny County also expressed its willingness to abide by the action of the Board.

A very satisfactory parole plan has been provided for the applicant and employment awaits his release.

The applicant seems to have spent his years in confinement in preparing himself for a useful life in the outside world upon his release and the results show such a degree of rehabilitation as to justify the Board in extending clemency. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the maximum sentence of 10 years imposed on Bill No. 3 May Term, 1934 be commuted to 8 years, expiring on May 19, 1942, and on Bill No. 25, November Term, 1936 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on May 20, 1942, and that the applicant remain on parole until May 19, 1952.

Respectfully submitted,
S. S. LEWIS,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of James Luke Johnson, C-6981, No. 4819, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on James Luke Johnson, convicted of robbery and assault, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Berks County, on April 8, 1931, be commuted on Bill No. 40 June Sessions, 1931, from a minimum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 1 year and 3 months, expiring on July 9, 1942, and on Bill No. 42 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on July 10, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 41).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Berks County on April 8, 1931, to Indictments Nos. 40, 41, and 42 June Sessions, 1931 charging robbery and assault, and was sentenced by the Honorable Paul N. Schaeffer, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten nor more than twenty years on Indictments Nos. 41 and 40, and to not less than five nor more than ten years on Indictment No. 42, the sentences to run consecutively.

The applicant had no prior criminal record, he has served over eleven years in prison and has established an unusual institutional record. The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . Inmate's institution record is exceptional. He has a good personality and has worked for the past 6 years as a tailor and demonstrates expert ability. He has sent $300.00 of his earnings to his family and seems to recognize his obligation to his wife and children"

The applicant has furnished the Board of Pardons with a letter written to him by the sentencing judge, the Honorable Paul N. Schaeffer, in which the Judge says: ". . . I told your brother a year or more ago that I would not place any obstacles in your way and I see no reason why I should. After all, you have been in prison a very long time and I know that Captain Meikrantz thinks favorably of you. The decision in your case must rest with the Board of Pardons.

Satisfactory employment and an adequate parole plan have been provided for the applicant.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant has been amply punished and that his prison record is such as entitles him to another opportunity to live honestly in the outside world.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of 10 years imposed on Bill No. 40 be commuted to a new minimum term of 1 year and 3 months, expiring on July 9, 1942, and on Bill No. 42 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on July 10, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 41).

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of William David Jones, D-3193, No. 5903, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of William David Jones, convicted of manslaughter in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Luzerne County on June 10, 1938, be commuted from 6 years to 4 years and 1 month, expiring on July 10, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence was convicted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Luzerne on June 10, 1938 under Indictment No. 309 April Sessions, 1938 charging manslaughter, and was sentenced by the Honorable W. Alfred Valentine, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than six nor more than twelve years.

The applicant is now fifty-six years of age and had no prior criminal record. He had worked in the mines constantly and was under the influence of liquor when the crime was committed.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . At the Graterford institution, petitioner enrolled in academic school and attended for 4 months and was released for transfer to the Luzerne County Prison. He was making good progress at the time of his release from school. Warden of the County Prison describes his attitude as being excellent. He associates only with the better class inmates and uses his leisure time constructively. Through his visits and correspondence an excellent attitude toward his family is demonstrated. Warden Healy reports that he performs capably as a general maintenance man and recommends him for commutation of sentence."

The sentencing judge and the district attorney's office do not object to the granting of leniency.

Employment in the mines awaits his release and an adequate parole plan has been arranged.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the three years spent by the applicant behind prison bars has been sufficient punishment for the crime committed and that his prison record and attitude evidence sufficient rehabilitation to justify the Board in extending clemency.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of six years be commuted to a new minimum term of four years and one month, expiring on July 10, 1942.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Edward Krisch, No. 5892, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Edward Krisch, convicted of robbery, entering, assault and battery with intent to kill, conspiracy, carrying concealed deadly weapons in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on March 20, 1929, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for a full and absolute pardon entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on the 20th day of March, 1929 to Indictments Nos. 148, 149, 150, 886, 887, 889, 892, and 893 March Term, 1929 charging robbery, entering, assault and battery with intent to kill, conspiracy, and carrying concealed deadly weapons, and was sentenced by the Honorable Frank Smith, Judge, to the Huntingdon Reformatory.

At the time this sentence was imposed the applicant was less than eighteen years old and had no prior criminal record. He was released from Huntingdon on May 16, 1930, and since that time has not been in conflict with the law.

The applicant asks a pardon in order to be married free of the one blemish on his record and so that he can enlist in the United States Marine Corps.

Honorable Frank Smith, the Judge who imposed sentence on the applicant, in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: ". . . He has been out of prison 12 years and in my opinion should be given an opportunity to make good. He had no prior record and while he was associated with a bad gang of boys, I think his record over the last 12 years should be sufficient to give him every consideration."

The record he desires to have cleansed was occasioned by association with the wrong kind of boys, but the Board of Pardons feels that his conduct since his release twelve years ago is such evidence of complete rehabilitation as to justify it in assisting him in his ambition to join the Marines and to become married without the stigma of those crimes upon his record.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Edward Krisch.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Dominick Litz, D-5292, No. 5281, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Dominick Litz, convicted of larceny and receiving stolen goods, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Delaware County, on October 14, 1940, to be computed from October 11, 1940, be commuted on Bill No. 446 September Sessions, 1940, from a maximum term of 3 years to a minimum term of 1 year, 8 months, and 8 days, expiring on June 19, 1942, and on Bill No. 474 from a minimum term of 1¼ years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 20, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence was convicted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Delaware County on October 14, 1940 under Indictments Nos. 446 and 474 September Sessions, 1940 charging larceny and receiving stolen goods, and was sentenced by the Honorable Thomas A. Crichton, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than one and one-fourth nor more than three years on Indictment No. 446 and to not less than one and one-fourth nor more than three years on Indictment No. 474, the sentences to run consecutively and to be computed from October 11, 1940.

The applicant had no prior criminal record, he has served over one year and eight months and the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . This man has had difficulty accepting his present situation. However, there has been noticeable improvement in his attitude and state of mind during recent months. He attended school for 6 weeks and made poor progress in academic studies. He was assigned to light work in the landscape department and this occupation has apparently helped him to adjust. His wife has remained loyal and he plans to return to her when released."

The sentencing Judge, the Honorable Thomas A. Crichton, in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: ". . . Since he has served nearly two years of his minimum sentence of two and one-half years, and since his accomplice has been released, I am of the opinion that the ends of justice would be served if the petition of Litz is now granted."

The office of the district attorney of Delaware County has advised the Board of Pardons that it does not oppose the granting of clemency.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the time served by the applicant has been sufficient punishment and in view of the fact that his accomplice has been released it seems proper that this applicant should also be given an opportunity to demonstrate his penitence and reformation.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the maximum sentence of 3 years imposed on Bill No. 446 September Session, 1940, be commuted to a minimum term of 1 year, 8 months, and 8 days, expiring on June 19, 1942, and on Bill No. 474 from a minimum term of 1¼ years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 20, 1942.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Elmer Lyle, D-3285, No. 5303, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Elmer Lyle, convicted of larceny, receiving stolen goods, and felonious entry, in the Quarter Sessions Court of Lancaster County, on July 22, 1938, be commuted on Bill No. 67 June Sessions, 1938, from a minimum term of 1½ years to a minimum term of 11 months, expiring on June 19, 1942; on Bill No. 66 from a minimum term of 1 year to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 20, 1942; and on Bill No. 61 from a minimum term of 1 year to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 21, 1942. (Applicant has served the maximum term on Bill No. 68).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty on the 22nd day of July 1938 in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Lancaster County to Indictments Nos. 61, 66, 67, and 68 June Sessions, 1938 charging larceny, receiving stolen goods, and felonious entry, and was sentenced by the Honorable O. S. Schaeffer, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than one nor more than two years on indictments Nos. 61 and 66, and to not less than one and one-half nor more than three years on Indictments Nos. 67 and 68, all sentences to run consecutively and to be computed from July 19, 1938.

The applicant had no prior criminal record and has now served almost four years of his minimum sentence. The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . Institutional record and performance have been good. He was employed in a position of trust as telephone operator and since 5-1-42 has worked on the farm. His supervisor gives him a good report as to performance and attitude on the job. Before he was employed he made constructive use of his time by attending academic school. He donated blood for the American Red Cross bank."

Both the sentencing Judge and the District Attorney of Lancaster County have advised the Board of Pardons that they do not oppose any consideration shown to this applicant by the Board.

The applicant was only nineteen years old when sentenced, is now at that age when he should have the best opportunity to find a useful place for himself in society, and his prison record indicates that he has been trying to fit himself for that opportunity.

Employment awaits his release and a satisfactory parole plan has been provided.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the sentence of imprisonment be commuted.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Frank Nedeau, B-3890, No. 1293, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due

public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Frank Nedeau, convicted of entering and breaking, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Allegheny County on December 8, 1931; and of breaking and escaping penitentiary, in the Quarter Sessions Court of Center County, on November 14, 1933, be commuted on Bill No. 101 November Sessions, 1931, (Allegheny County) from a maximum term of 3 years to a maximum term of 1 year and 4 months, expiring on June 27, 1942; on Bill No. 962, from a maximum term of 3 years to a maximum term of 1 day, expiring on June 28, 1942; on Bill No. 149 September Sessions (Center County), 1933, from a maximum term of 3 years to a maximum term of 1 day, expiring on June 29, 1942; on Bill No. 163 from a maximum term of 4 years to a maximum term of 1 day, expiring on June 30, 1942; on Bill No. 164 from a maximum term of 4 years to a maximum term of 1 day, expiring on July 1, 1942; on Bill No. 165 from a maximum term of 4 years to a maximum term of 1 day, expiring on July 2, 1942; and on Bill No. 166 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on July 3, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on December 8, 1931 to Indictments Nos. 962, 98, 99, 100, and 101 November Sessions, 1931, charging entering and breaking, and was sentenced by the Honorable James H. Gray, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than one nor more than three years on each Indictment, the sentences to run consecutively. On November 14, 1933, the applicant was convicted in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Centre County under Indictments Nos. 149, 163, 164, 165, and 166 September Sessions, 1933 charging breaking and escaping penitentiary, entering and larceny, larceny of automobile, and was sentenced by the Honorable M. Ward Fleming, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than one nor more than three years on Indictment No. 149, not less than two nor more than four years on Indictments Nos. 163, 164, and 165, and not less than five nor more than ten years on Indictment No. 166, sentences to run consecutively and to begin at expiration of sentences imposed by Judge Grey in Allegheny County.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . If this inmate were eligible to apply for parole, we would probably conditionally recommend him for parole subject to an adequate parole plan (1) has served over 10 years (2) sentence of accomplice in escape commuted."

Neither of the sentencing judges nor the district attorney have objected to the granting of clemency. The applicant will have employment upon his release and a satisfactory sponsor has been provided.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant has been sufficiently punished for the crimes committed and that his prison record is such as to show repentance and a desire to live an honest life upon his return to society. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the sentences of imprisonment be commuted.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Joseph Nowak, B-7375, No. 5853, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Joseph Nowak, convicted of rape, assault and battery with intent to commit sodomy, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Allegheny County on September 24, 1940; and for the crime of assault with intent to commit robbery, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Allegheny County on October 23, 1940, be commuted on Bill No. 95 September Sessions, 1940, from a minimum term of 3½ years to a minimum term of 1 year, 11 months, and 17 days, expiring on June 22, 1942, and on Bill No. 482 from a minimum term of 1½ years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 23, 1942. (Sentence imposed on Bill No. 11 October Sessions, 1940, to run concurrently with sentence imposed on July 5, 1940, is commuted to a minimum term of 1 year and 8 months, expiring on June 23, 1942).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentences entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on September 24, 1940 to Indictments Nos. 95 and 482 September Sessions, 1940 charging rape and assault and battery with intent to commit sodomy, and was sentenced by the Honorable Alfred E. Swoyer, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than three and one-half nor more than seven years on Indictment No. 95, and not less than one and one-half nor more than three years on Indictment No. 482, the term to run consecutively. On October 23, 1940, the applicant entered a plea of nolle contendere in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County to Indictment No. 11 October Sessions, 1940 charging assault with intent to commit robbery, and was sentenced by the Honrable J. A. Richardson, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years, to run concurrently with sentence imposed by Judge Swoyer on Indictments Nos. 95 and 482 September Sessions, 1940.

The applicant has now served over two years of his minimum sentence and has continued to deny his guilt of the crimes. He claims that he plead guilty in order to spare his wife the disgrace of a trial.

The applicant's wife and young son appeared before the Board and the wife's firm and abiding faith in him has so impressed the Board of Pardons that it is willing to put that faith to trial in order to afford her an opportunity to complete the rehabilitation of her husband and keep him an honest and law-abiding member of society.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of 3½ years imposed on Bill No. 95 September Sessions, 1940, be commuted to a new minimum term of 1 year, 11 months, and 17 days, expiring on June 22, 1942, and on Bill No. 482 from a minimum term of 1½ years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 23, 1942, (sentence imposed on Bill No. 11 October Sessions, 1940 to run concurrently with sentence imposed on July 5, 1940, is commuted to one year and eight months, expiring on June 23, 1942).

Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of James Joseph Owens, D-3628, No. 5526, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of James Joseph Owens, convicted of larceny, entering with intent to steal in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on December 20, 1938, be commuted from 5 years to 3 yrs. 5 mos. and 29 days, expiring on June 19, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on December 20, 1938 to Indictment No. 452 December Term, 1938 charging larceny, entering with intent to steal, and was sentenced by the Honorable Eugene V. Alessandroni, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . He has completed 3 years, 5 months, 14 days of the minimum. The current application is his second for commutation of sentence. Applicant has been a model prisoner. He is confined to a wheel chair and cannot work. He attempts to spend his time wisely and does considerable reading."

Dr. R. J. Grayson, Chief Resident Physician at the Eastern State Penitentiary, in a letter dated May 11, 1942, writes: ". . . The above named individual has an unusual disease, which caused the wasting of the musculature in both of his lower extremities. He has been under observation in this institution for the past few years. There is no sign of improvement in his condition; in fact, it is becoming progressively worse."

The representative of the District Attorney's Office of Philadelphia County stated to the Board of Pardons that although the applicant had a bad criminal record, his physical condition might be a consideration in support of clemency.

The past record of the applicant is no recommendation for the favorable action of the Board, but the applicant's phyisical condition is such as to preclude the possibility of any criminal activity on his part, if released.

He has no employment in view, but on account of his disability he will have to rely upon the help of his sister, which assistance has been promised. A sponsor has been provided and the Board of Pardons is of the opinion that with the safety that is guranteed society by reason of his condition, it would be better to have him released than to keep him further confined.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of 5 years imposed on Bill No. 452 December Sessions, 1938, be computed to a new minimum term of 3 years, 5 months, and 29 days, expiring on June 19, 1942.

Respectfully submitted,
S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:
ARTHUR H. JAMES,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of John Prymak, B-6757, No. 4696, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on John Prymak, convicted of burglary, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Allegheny County, on October 26, 1938; and of breaking and escaping prison, in the Quarter Sessions Court of Centre County, on June 16, 1939, be commuted on Bill No. 59 October Sessions, 1938, from a maximum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 3 years, 11 months, and 29 days, expiring on October 1, 1942, and on Bill No. 30 September Sessions, 1939, from a minimum term of 2 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on October 2, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on October 26, 1938 to Indictment No. 59 October Sessions, 1938 charging burglary, and was sentenced by the Honorable Frank P. Patterson, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than two nor more than five years, sentence to be computed from October 1, 1938. On June 16, 1939, the applicant entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Centre County to Indictment No. 30 September Sessions, 1939 charging breaking and escaping prison, and was sentenced by the Honorable Ivan Walker, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary to a term of not less than two nor more than five years to begin at the expiration of the sentence imposed by Judge Patterson in Allegheny County.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . In view of his escape from Rockview, this applicant should at least complete minimum sentences imposed which combined will not expire until October 2, 1942."

The office of the District Attorney of Allegheny County does not object to the commutation of his sentence to the combined time of his minimum sentences.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that an imprisonment of four years would be sufficient punishment for the crimes committed.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the maximum sentence imposed on Bill No. 59 October Sessions, 1938, be committed from a maximum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 3 years, 11 months, and and 3 days, expiring on June 19, 1942, and on Bill No. 30 September Sessions, 1939, from a minimum term of 2 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on October 2, 1942.

Respectfully submitted,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Walter Rogalski, C-6839, No. 4378, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Walter Rogalski, convicted of arson, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Bucks County, on February 16, 1931, be commuted on Bill No. 42 February Sessions, 1931, from a maximum term of 20 years to a minimum term of 11 years and 4 months, and 3 days, expiring on June 19, -942, and on Bill No. 43 from a minimum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 30, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Bucks County on the 16th day of February, 1931 to Indictments Nos. 42 and 43 February Sessions, 1931 charging arson, and was sentenced by the Honorable Hiram H. Keller, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten nor more than twenty years in each case, the sentences to run consecutively.

The applicant had no prior criminal record, has now been confined for a period of over eleven years and the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . An excellent institution record is reported. He attended the institution school for 6 months and made good progress in academic studies. He was employed in the Bureau of Prison Industries hosiery factory for 9 years and until that shop was moved to the Graterford institution. Since then he worked in the woodworking department and is currently employed in the institution laundry. He saved his earnings, but used his savings in an effort to secure release from his present sentence. His attitude has been consistently cooperative and he has respect of all officials and officers with whom he has contact."

Both the sentencing judge and district attorney have have advised the Board of Pardons that they have no objection to the commutation of the sentence and the parole authorities of New Jersey, where the applicant plans to reside, have agreed to accept his supervision.

The applicant has served sufficient time to satisfy the ends of justice and his prison record convinces the the Board of Pardons of his readiness and fitness for release from further confinement. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the maximum sentence of 20 years imposed on Bill No. 42 February Sessions, 1931, be commuted to a minimum term of 11 years, 4 months, and 3 days, expiring on June 19, 1942, and the minimum sentence on Bill No. 43 from a minimum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 20, 1942.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Willie Rush, D-5222, No. 5337, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Willie Rush, convicted of robbery, aggravated assault and battery, in the Quarter Sessions Court of Philadelphia County, on September 17, 1940, be commuted on Bill No. 573 September Sessions, 1940, from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 year, 9 months, and 2 days, expiring on June 19, 1942; (sentence on Bill No. 613 to run concurrent with Bill No. 573, is also commuted to a minimum term of 1 year, 7 months, and 4 days, expiring on June 19, 1942).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence, without the advise of counsel, entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on September 17, 1940 to Indictments Nos. 573 and 613 September Sessions, 1940 charging robbery and aggravated assault and battery, and was sentenced by the Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years on Indictment No. 573, and not less than eighteen months nor more than three years on Indictment No. 613, the sentences to run concurrently.

The applicant was only twenty years old when the plea was entered and had no prior criminal record. He has now served one year and nine months and in its report to the Board of Pardons the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary, states: ". . . He appears to be in a confused state of mind and does not care to meet or come in contact with other inmates. He is afraid that he will get into trouble if he follows the usual prison program."

Employment has been offered the applicant by a man for whom he worked prior to his arrest and also now states that he always found him an honest, industrious, and steady worker. This same man has agreed to act as sponsor for the applicant and to assist him in any possible way.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that, in view of the previous good record of the applicant, the interest taken in him by his prospective employer and his age, he has served sufficient time to satisfy the ends of justice and should be given another opportunity to lead an honest life.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the new minimum sentence of 5 years imposed on Bill No. 573 be commuted to a new minimum term of 1 year, 9 months, and 2 days, expiring on June 19, 1942 (sentence on Bill No. 613 to run concurrently with Bill No. 573, is also commuted to a minimum term of 1 year, 7 months, and 4 days, expiring on June 19, 1942).

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.

S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Joseph Skoski, B-4500, No. 5861. June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Joseph Skoski, convicted of robbery with aggravated circumstances, robbery and receiving stolen goods, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Beaver County, on March 23, 1935, and of escaping jail, in the Quarter Sessions Court of Beaver County, on March 24, 1935, be commuted on Bill No. 6 June Sessions, 1935, from a minimum sentence of 5 years to a minimum term of 2 years and 3 months, expiring on June 23, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 19 March Sessions, 1935).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence was convicted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Beaver County on March 23, 1935 under Indictment No. 19 March Sessions, 1935 charging robbery with aggravated circumstances, robbery and receiving stolen goods, and was sentenced by the Honorable W. A. McConnell, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years. On March 24, 1935, he escaped jail and afterwards plead guilty to Indictment No. 6 June Sessions, 1935 charging escape, and was sentenced by Judge McConnell to the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years to run consecutively with the sentence imposed on No. 19 March Sessions.

The applicant has now served over seven years and four months and the Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states that he has had an excellent institutional record.

The applicant is now twenty-nine years of age and has served over seven years of that time in the penitentiary. One of his accomplices was paroled on February 23, 1940, and it is the opinion of the Board of Pardons that he has served sufficient time to satisfy the ends of justice and that his record while in the penitentiary is evidence of sufficient rehabilitation to justify it in affording him another opportunity to lead a useful and honest life. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of 5 years imposed on Bill No. 6 June Sessions, 1935, be commuted to a new minimum term of 2 years and 3 months, expiring on June 23, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 19, March Session, 1935).

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Lloyd Smith, B-4051, No. 5258, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Lloyd Smith, convicted of robbery and larceny of an automobile, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Allegheny County, on April 26, 1934, be commuted on Bill No. 505 from a minimum term of 2 years to a minimum term of 1 year and 2 months, expiring on June 26, 1942, and on Bill No. 506 from a minimum term of 1 year to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 27, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bills Nos. 55 and 504).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on April 26, 1934 to Indictments Nos. 55, 504, 505, and 506 April Sessions, 1934 charging robbery and larceny of an automobile, and was sentenced by the Honorable Harry H. Rowand, Judge, to imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years on Indictment No. 55, not less than two nor more than four years on Indictments Nos. 504 nd 505, and not less than one nor more than two years on Indictment No. 506, all sentences to run consecutively.

The applicant had no prior criminal record, has now served more than eight years and three months and the Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary report that he has had an excellent institutional record.

The accomplice of the applicant who had a past record received a shorter sentence and has been released on parole.

The applicant while in the penitentiary has equipped himself for useful work on the outside and should be able to support himself if released. He has been promised employment and has a sponsor who should assist him in his effort to live honestly. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence imposed on Bill No. 505 be commuted to a new minimum term of 1 year and 2 months, expiring on June 26, 1942, and on Bill No. 506 from a minimum term of 1 year to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 27, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bills Nos. 55 and 504).

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Joseph Henry Stong, D-5013, No. 5512, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

1942; on Bill No. 378 from a minimum term of 1 year to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 20, 1942 (sentence imposed in Montgomery County on June 27 1941, to run concurrent with sentence imposed on June 20, 1940, No. 11 June Sessions, 1941, is also commuted to 1 year and 2 months, expiring on June 19, 1942).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on June 20, 1940 to Indictments Nos. 355 and 378 June Term, 1940 charging burglary, receiving stolen goods, and possession of a motor vehicle with defaced numbers, and was sentenced by the Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than one and one-half nor more than five years on Indictment No. 355, and not less than one nor more than five years on Indictment No. 378, the sentences to run consecutively and to be computed from May 29, 1940. On June 27, 1941, he entered a plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Montgomery County to Indictment No. 11 June Term, 1941 charging conspiracy, larceny of automobile and receiving stolen goods, and was sentenced by the Honorable Harold G. Knight, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than one nor more than two years to run concurrently with the sentence imposed in Philadelphia County.

This was the applicant's first conviction and he has now served most of his minimum sentence. The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . Applicant can be classed as having no criminal history. Has served approximately 2 years of his 2½ year minimum during which time he has maintained an excellent record and will probably be granted parole at the end of his minimum, therefore, we can seen no reason why his release a few months ahead of schedule will defeat the ends of justice."

Judge McDevitt who sentenced the applicant in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: "'. . . His is a very pathetic case. He comes from a good family, has maintained an excellent prison record, and shows a definite desire to improve himself. He took up typewriting, and now occupies a position of trust in the parole office. There has been no occasion to discipline him, and his associates are of the best type. Inasmuch as his minimum sentence will expire in a short time, and I believe his record will entitle him to favorable action, I see no objection to shortening his term if it meets with your approval," and Judge Knight who imposed the second sentence in Montgomery County writes: ". . . In reference to the above applicant, I beg to state that inasmuch as the sentence imposed by this Court runs concurrently with the sentence imposed by the Philadelphia Court, we have no objection to the Board extending leniency, if, in its opinion, it is a case wherein it is warranted." The same attitude has been taken by the District Attorney's office of Philadelphia County.

The Board of Pardons in view of the recommendation of the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary and the position of the sentencing judges, is of the opinion that the ends of justice have been satisfied and that the applicant should be released in order to resume his life in the outside world. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the sentence of imprisonment be commuted.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of John David Tracey, D-2304, No. 5320, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of John David Tracey, convicted of murder of the second degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on June 30, 1937, to begin April 29, 1937, be commuted from 10 years to 5 years and 2 months, expiring on June 29, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty of murder in the second degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County, on June 30, 1937 to Indictment No. 270 May Sessions, 1937, and was sentenced by the Honorable Frank Smith, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten nor more than twenty years, sentence to be computed from April 29, 1937.

The applicant had never before been convicted of any crime and his record in the Penitentiary has been satisfactory. The Board of Trustees fo the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . Idle for more than 15 months, he was finally assigned to the education department in September, 1941. Since given an assignment which challenged his intelligence his block officers have noticed definite and continuous improvement in attitude. His performance was such as to warrant promotion to the position of clerk in the Medical Department where he is employed. He seems to have changed his attitude, and to have attained a social maturity which he lacked during the first years of imprisonment. He recognizes his social and financial responsibility toward his family and contributes money to wife and child."

The Honorable Frank Smith, who sentenced the applicant in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: ". . . This was a most unusual case. Tracy at the time of the commission of the crime was between 18 and 19 years of age. He came from a good family. He had a good position. He was happily married and lived with his wife in the Overbrook section of Philadelphia. The young man who he killed, Newman Roberts, was his best friend. I have personally made an investigation of the character of this young man. I have found that he was not emotionally stabilized at that time and that he was accustomed to having his own way. With this type of nature, the alcohol which he consumed threw him entirely out of his stride. The fact that he continued firing the revolver is evidence of this. I believe it to be a case which merits the careful consideration of the Board of Pardons. I understand that Tracy today is a sensible, well balanced man who has suffered deeply because of his act of violence. Five years in prison with the discipline and training there enforced has made him, in my opinion, a good risk for commutation of sentence."

The applicant has secured employment with a prominent physician in New Jersey who will also act as his sponsor and the parole authorities of New Jersey have attested to the high standing of his prospective employer. He will reside with his mother, wife, and daughter in Philadelphia.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that in view of the condition of the applicant at the time the crime who committed, his previous good record and the attitude taken by Judge Smith, the applicant has been sufficiently punished and that the record he has made at self-improvement in the penitentiary evidences a fixed intent to conduct himself within the law when released.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of ten years be commuted to a new minimum term of five years and two months, expiring on June 29, 1942.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Louis S. Wagman, D-340, No. 5874, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Louis S. Wagman, convicted of conspiracy to cheat, defraud and steal in the Court of Quarter Sesisons of Philadelphia County, on February 8, 1935, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for a full and absolute pardon entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on the 8th day of February, 1935 to Indictment No. 1427 January Sessions, 1934 charging conspiracy to cheat, defraud, and steal, and was sentenced by the Honorable Samuel E. Shull, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than one nor more than two years. On the same day the Court reconsidered this sentence and further sentence was deferred. On October 31, 1935, the applicant was placed on probation for two years.

The applicant had no prior criminal record and has not been in any trouble with the law since placed on probation. He is now engaged in the contracting business and has lost several profitable business ventures by reasons of the record of this one conviction because of his inability to furnish a surety bond.

The representative of the office of the District Attorney of Philadelphia County furnished the Board of Pardons with a copy of a letter received by him from Hugh D. Scott, Jr., who conducted the prosecution against the applicant in 1934 in which Mr. Scott writes: ". . . While I cannot pass on whether or not Wagman had any guilty knowledge of the conspiracy, it is my distinct recollection that he was most helpful to the Commonwealth from the early beginnings of the case, assisted in the preparation of the Commonwealth's case, continually protested his innocence, and voluntarily appeared not only whenever he was wanted but on other occasions, just in case they needed him. I would say there appears to be considerable merit to his application for pardon and I pass these thoughts along to you, as requested."

The applicant served no time in jail which appears to the Board as convincing evidence of the fact that the Court must have felt he had at least a very minor part in the conspiracy.

Since his release from probation he has lived an exemplary life, has been very successful in business, and bears a good reputation.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that he has fully paid the penalty for his part in the crime committed and that his conduct during the past seven years is sufficient proof of rehabilitation to justify it in removing this one blemish on his record.

The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that a full and absolute pardon be granted to the applicant, Louis S. Wagman.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO.
Attorney General.
WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:
ARTHUR H. JAMES,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Henry Waholek, D-1426, No. 5880, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Henry Waholek, convicted of burglary, entering with intent to steal, in the Quarter Sessions Court of Philadelphia County, on June 22, 1936, be commuted on Bill No. 727 June Sessions, 1936, from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 11 months and 27 days, expiring on June 19, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 726).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on June 22, 1936 to Indictments Nos. 726 and 727 June Sessions, 1936 charging burglary, entering with intent to steal, and was sentenced by the Honorable Howard A. Davis, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than five nor more than ten years on Indictment No. 726 and for the same term on Indictment No. 727, the sentence to run consecutively.

He has been paroled on Indictment No. 726, and has served twelve months of the minimum term on Indictment No. 727, having served a total time of six years.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons writes: ". . . The inmate is limited in intelligence and at best has doubtful stability, for which in compensation his sponsorship and supervision should promise more than ordinary assurances."

The Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: ". . . He lacks an education, and will probably be handicapped because of this the rest of his life. He has difficulty in adjusting himself, and has been released from several jobs in the prison on that account. Recently he has shown an improved attitude and after attending classes for nine months has completed the work of the first and second grades."

The representative of the office of the District Attorney of Philadelphia County stated to the Board that: ". . . He was 16 years of age when the crime was committed, he has served six years and has been sufficiently punished. If he is a good risk we do not oppose."

Satisfactory employment has been promised the applicant and an adequate parole plan has been provided.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that, in view of the age at which the applicant began his service in prison he has been more than sufficiently punished for the crimes committed, and that in spite of his limited intelligence he should be afforded an opportunity to lead an honest and useful life. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of 5 years imposed on Bill No. 727 be commuted to a new minimum term of eleven months and twenty-seven days, expiring on June 19, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 726).

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:
ARTHUR H. JAMES,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Lewis Wilburn Wilder, D-1894, No. 5388, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Lewis Wilburn Wilder, convicted of armed robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on January 11, 1937, be commuted from 10 years to 5 years, 5 months and 10 days, expiring on June 21, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on the 11th day of January, 1937 to Indictments Nos. 286 and 287 January Sessions, 1937 charging armed robbery, and was sentenced by the Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten nor more than twenty years.

This was the applicant's first conviction and he has now served almost five and a half years. The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . From an institutional standpoint, his record and efforts are probably deserving of consideration and if habits of industry are continued after release little difficulty should be experienced in making successful adjustment."

The Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, who sentenced the applicant in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: ". . . He has been before your Honorable Board on a prior occasion, and I believe at the time I made a favorable recommendation. From an institutional standpoint his record and attitude are deserving of favorable consideration. Perhaps if paroled the fact that he has a wife and two children may be a deterrent from crime in the future."

If released on parole the applicant intends to move to South Carolina and live with his wife and children. Employment has been promised him in that State and the parole authorities there have in a letter advised the Board of Pardons: ". . . In view of the findings of our officer to the effect that responsible citizens of this district will assist in every way possible with the rehabilitation of this prisoner in the event he is released on parole, we shall be glad to accept him for supervision should he be released to return to this community to live."

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant's institutional record entitles him to clemency and that the time he has served has amply satisfied the ends of justice. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of 10 years imposed be commuted to a new minimum term of 5 years, 5 months, and 10 days, expiring on June 21, 1942.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Maurice Yick, D-4089-333, No. 5117, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Maurice Yick, convicted of robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Delaware County on March 28, 1939, to be computed from December 10, 1938, be commuted from 10 years to 3 years and 7 months, expiring on July 10, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence entered his plea of guilty in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Delaware County on the 28th day of March, 1939 to Indictments Nos. 309, 310, and 311 March Term, 1939 charging robbery, and was sentenced by the Honorable Albert D. MacDade, Judge, on Indictment No. 309 to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten nor more than twenty years, sentence to be computed from December 10, 1938. On May 6, 1941, he was transferred to White Hill.

This applicant was less than eighteen years of age when he was sentenced and has now served over three and a half years of his minimum sentence. The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . The authorities at White Hill state this boy to date has made an excellent adjustment, and has maintained at all times a cheerful disposition, manifests a willingness to assist in any activity and performs his duties in a highly efficient manner; that he has discharged all the responsibilities of work and trust placed upon him in an admirable fashion. The achievement of commutation eligibility should call for active participation and self-improvement on the part of the prisoner. The report of the officers at White Hill show this has been done, therefore, we believe favorable consideration is in order."

Neither the sentencing judge or the office of the district attorney has made any objection to the granting of commutation in this case.

Bearing in mind the extreme youth of the applicant at the time of his sentence and the splendid record he has maintained since his incarceration the Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the ends of justice have been sufficiently satisfied and that the applicant is now ready to make another effort to live honestly among his fellow men. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the minimum sentence of ten years be commuted to a minimum term of 3 years and 7 months, expiring on July 10, 1942.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.

S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Raymond George Zemaitaitis, C-2850, No. 84, June Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Raymond George Zemaitaitis, convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Philadelphia County, on February 27, 1925; and in the Quarter Sessions Court of Philadelphia County, on March 7, 1934, for the crime of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, be commuted on Bill No. 572 February Sessions, 1925, from a maximum term of 20 years to a minimum term of 15 years, 3 months, and 12 days, expiring on June 19, 1942; and on Bill No. 16 March Session, 1934, from a minimum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 20, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant for commutation of sentence was convicted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on February 27, 1925 under Indictment No. 572 February Sessions, 1925 charging robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, and was sentenced by the Honorable Donald P. McPherson, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than seven nor more than twenty years. He was released on parole on February 27, 1932, at the expiration of his minimum sentence and on the 7th day of March, 1934, he was convicted in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County under Indictment No. 16, March Sessions, 1934, charging robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, and was sentenced by the Honorable Frank Smith, Judge, to imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of not less than ten nor more than twenty years to begin at the expiration of the maximum sentence imposed on February 27, 1925. He served seven years before being paroled and has been confined since his return, as a parole violator, for a period of over eight years and three months.

In its report to the Board of Pardons the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states: ". . . He has shown a definite improvement in attitude and judgment. He is careful in the selection of his associates and has shown evidence of thrift by saving his earnings part of which he invested in U. S. Defense Bonds. He does not belong to any gangs or cliques, reacts well to discipline and performs satisfactorily as a yard laborer."

In a letter to the Board of Pardons, Judge Harry S. McDevitt, writes: ". . . This man has shown definite signs of improvement in both attitude and adjustment. He is thrifty, and has invested most of his savings in defense bonds. He is careful in the selection of his companions, and has not been identified with any of the gangs or cliques conspicuous in such institutions. His work is satisfactory, and he does not require disciplining."

The improvement in attitude displayed by this applicant during the eight years he has served since his return to the penitentiary evidences a desire to better his condition and to fit himself for a life outside prison walls. The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that his long years of confinement have satisfied the ends of justice and that his conduct shows such a change of attitude as to merit clemency. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the maximum sentence of twenty years imposed on Bill No. 572 February Sessions, 1925, be commuted to a minimum term of 15 years, 3 months and 12 days, expiring on June 19, 1942, and on Bill No. 16 March Sessions, 1934, from a minimum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 20, 1942.

Respectfully submitted,

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Frank K. Amatea, No. 5928, September Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Frank K. Amatea, convicted of robbery and receiving stolen goods, under Indictment No. 53 January Sessions, 1931, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County, on March 2, 1931, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant has no prior criminal record prior to and still maintains his innocence of the crime for which he was convicted.

The sentence of from six months to five years and his release at the end of the minimum term is some evidence of a lack of gravity being attached to the crime by the sentencing judge.

Since his release, the applicant has lead an exemplary life and has been gainfully employed.

He seeks a pardon in order to save himself and his family the embarrassments occasioned by this one black mark on his otherwise perfect record.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that his conduct since his release has entitled him to that privilege.

The Honorable James H. Gray, Judge, who sentenced the applicant in a letter to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . If the facts are as stated in this application I should think it would be well to clear this man's record."

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,

The above recommendation is approved:

In re application of Norman Bailey, Sr., No. 5922, September Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Norman Bailey, Sr., convicted of entering with intent to steal, larceny, and receiving stolen goods, under Indictments Nos. 1187, 1188, and 1189, December Sessions, 1930, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County, on December 24, 1930, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant had never before been convicted of any crime and his conduct since his conviction of this crime over twelve years ago, has been exemplary.

The office of the District Attorney of Philadelphia County has not opposed the granting of leniency and the sentencing judge in a letter to the Board of Pardons writes: ". . . This man served the minimum sentence and the maximum has long since expired. I have no recollection of any violation of parole."

His conduct since being released entitles him to the benefits that will follow the striking of this one conviction from his record.

The applicant is now married and is the father of one child.

In re application of Samuel J. Bentrick, No. 5965, September Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Samuel J. Bentrick, convicted of libel under Indictment No. 1210 October Sessions, 1927, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on March 9, 1928, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant had no prior criminal record and since the commission of the offence for which he seeks a pardon he has led an exemplary life and according to the report of a parole officer of New Jersey in which state he now resides he is ". . . a man of excellent community standing whose record is marred only by the incident of libel for which he was not called upon to serve a prison term. We therefore feel that whatever consideration you give him will be justly deserved."

Neither the sentencing judge nor the district attorney's office of Philadelphia County have objected to the granting of clemency.

The fifteen years of correct living, since his sentence in 1927, entitles him to the removal of this handicap to his future success and advancement.

In re application of Walter Horace Blanchard, No. 5904, September Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the death sentence of Walter Horace Blanchard, convicted of murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on February 5, 1942 be commuted from death to imprisonment for life.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was indicted with two others for the killing of a druggist in the City of Philadelphia, after confessions had been made by each admitting his guilt and involving the other two.

When the trial of the first defendant arrested was in progress it was discovered that he could not have been involved because at the time of the commission of the crime he was confined in prison. The trial of the second defendant who in his confession admitted firing the fatal shot resulted in a conviction of first degree murder and the jury fixed the penalty of life imprisonment.

The jury trying the applicant, who had confessed his participation in the crime, returned a first degree murder verdict and fixed the penalty at death in the electric chair.

This verdict might have been correct from a legal standpoint and the other might have been a miscarriage of justice, but the Board of Pardons is of the opinion that they have created a situation which calls for the exercise of mercy. It seems most unfair to send this applicant to the chair for a murder which was actually perpetrated by an accomplice who was spared a similar fate by a jury. The Board of Pardons, therefore, recommends that the death sentence be commuted to life imprisonment.

In re application of Bernard James Branch, D-2853, No. 5278, September Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due

public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Bernard James Branch, convicted of attempted burglary, entering with intent to steal, and larceny, in the Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions Court of Philadelphia County, on February 4, 1938 and to be computed from January 28, 1938, be commuted on Bill No. 1610 January Sessions, 1938, from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 4 years, 8 months, and 12 days, expiring on October 10, 1942; and on Bill No. 1611 from a minimum term of 2½ years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on October 11, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant had never been arrested of any crime previous to entering his plea of guilty to the indictments charging the offenses for which he is now serving imprisonment.

He was but seventeen years of age at the time of his conviction and has now served more than four years and eight months in the penitentiary.

He is assured of profitable employment immediately upon being placed on parole. He is now at an age when he should more fully realize the seriousness of crime and the necessity for leading an honest life. With this realization and the security offered by satisfactory employment he should be able to successfully complete his rehabilitation.

In re application of Richard Lawrence Christie, C-3138, No. 4148, September Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the Life sentence of Richard Lawrence Christie, convicted of murder of the first degree under Indictment No. 205 July Sessions, 1925 in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on October 21, 1925, be commuted from life imprisonment to 16 years and 11 months, expiring on September 21, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . If paroled, he would probably perform humbly and faithfully the chores of honest employment."

He has now served almost seventeen years imprisonment for a crime for which he could easily have been convicted of a lesser degree of murder.

The representative of the district attorney's office of Philadelphia County appeared before the Board of Pardons and stated: ". . . This applicant has served seventeen years. The decedent had struck the applicant earlier in the day on which the killing was perpetrated, and we leave the matter to the Board."

The applicant has served sufficient time to satisfy the ends of justice for a crime committed while intoxicated and for which there might have been extenuating circumstances.

In re application of Thomas J. Curry, No. 5954, September Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Thomas J. Curry, convicted of assault and battery, under Indictment No. 795 June Sessions, 1935, in the court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on December 4, 1935, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant had no prior criminal record other than the offense for which he was convicted, which was trivial in character, and the sentencing judge only placed him on probation for one year.

He has not been in any difficulty with the law since that time and has been constantly employed.

The removal of this one blot on his otherwise spotless record is necessary in order to permit him to make application for a position on the police force in the City of Philadelphia, for which he has passed all the requirements necessary for a civil service examination.

The district attorney's office of Philadelphia County has filed no objection to the granting of clemency to the Board of Pardons and in a letter from the Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, he has stated to the Board of Pardons that: ". . . Since approximately six years have passed, I think he is entitled to the benefit of the doubt."

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of George Galen Fink, D-2675, No. 158-A, September Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on George Galen Fink, convicted of felonious entry and larceny, in the Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions Court of Lancaster

County, on December 14, 1936, be commuted on Bill No. 146-C September Sessions, 1936, from a minimum term of 1½ years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 15, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant is one of many prisoners whose release on parole has been affected by the opinion of the Supreme Court in the case of Commonwealth of Pennsylvania ex rel. Thomas Lynch v. Stanley P. Ashe, Warden of the Western State Penitentiary, 320 Pa. 341. In this opinion it was held that unless a prisoner, who was serving sentences imposed to run consecutively, was recommended and approved for parole at the expiration of the first minimum sentence, he would be serving the maximum of that sentence, and if no recommendation for parole was made at the expiration of the second and subsequent minimum of sentences imposed to run consecutively, the prisoner would be serving the maximum of the second and subsequent sentences. In other words, a prisoner serving an indeterminate sentence is not automatically paroled at the expiration of the minimum term but is merely eligible for parole at that time, and if not favorably considered by the Prison Board at any time thereafter, the prisoner is required to serve the full sentence.

It was the custom for a long period of time for the officials of both the Eastern and Western State Penitentiaries to lump consecutive sentences and the Boards of Trustees would only make recommendations for release on parole at the expiration of the period of time equal to the total of the minimum sentences.

Since the Supreme Court held this procedure improper, the applicant and others, whose cases were not considered for parole at the expiration of their minimum sentences, through no fault of their own, will have to serve a much longer period of time than contemplated by the sentencing judge and the prison officials.

The failure of the Board of Trustees to make the necessary recommendations for parole at the expiration of the minimum sentences was an honest mistake, as most, if not all, sentencing judges shared the same view as the prison officials in deeming it to be unnecessary to make recommendations for parole at the expiration of the minimum of every consecutive sentence. Sentencing judges throughout the state have uniformly believed and taken into consideration in passing sentences the Prison Board practice that consecutive sentences would be lumped making a total minimum and a total maximum.

We believe that a great injustice would be done and that it would be most unfair to keep the applicant incarcerated for a longer period of time than recommended by the Board of Trustees of the institution in which the applicant is confined.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of John Grunza, C-9304, No. 4170, September Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of John Grunza, convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon under Indictment No. 980 November Sessions, 1933, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on November 27, 1933 be commuted from 10 years to 8 years and 10 months, expiring on September 27, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant has served almost nine years of his minimum sentence of ten years and the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . He should be able to complete his short parole period without further conflict with the law."

Neither the sentencing judge nor the office of the district attorney of Philadelphia County have objected to the commutation of this sentence.

The time served by the applicant has sufficiently satisfied the ends of justice and his conduct is evidence of such rehabilitation as to guarantee his further good conduct.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

ARTHUR H. JAMES,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Robert M. Henderson, No. 5921, September Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Robert M. Henderson, convicted of felonious entry and larceny under Indictments Nos. 79, 80, 81, and 82 May Sessions, 1939, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Cumberland County, on April 25, 1939, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant had no prior criminal record and was but eighteen years of age at the time of the commission of the offense for which he was sentenced.

Since his discharge from Huntingdon he has been regularly and profitably employed, and he is now working at the Post Exchange, United States Army Barracks, at Carlisle, Pennsylvania. To continue this employment it is essential that he be bonded and a pardon is necessary in order to accomplish that end.

His record since his discharge from parole and his employment in a responsible position is evidence of such rehabilitation as to justify the cleansing of his record.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

ARTHUR H. JAMES,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of George R. Hutchinson, No. 4256, September Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that George R. Hutchinson, convicted of embezzlement under Indictment Nos. 623, 687 to 689 February Sessions, 1925, in the Court of Criminal of Philadelphia County, on June 4, 1926, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant had no prior criminal record and as a result of the crime to which he plead guilty the Court instead of imposing any prison sentence placed him on probation.

Since the imposition of the sentence in 1926, the applicant has not been in any conflict with the law and has maintained an exemplary course of conduct.

The parole authorities of the State of Maryland in a report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . A pardon in this case will not only be a step toward greater accomplishments for this individual, who has striven for many years to attain success, even though handicapped, but will also be a means of extending to our country the aid and assistance of one who is thoroughly qualified to take his place in the March to Victory."

The granting of clemency in this application has not been opposed by the sentencing authorities of the County of Philadelphia.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,

The above recommendation is approved:

ARTHUR H. JAMES,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Ralph Katz, No. 5959, September Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Ralph Katz, convicted of conspiracy to set up illegal lottery, under Indictment No. 1032 June Sessions, 1934, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on August 28, 1934, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was never before convicted of any criminal offense and since the completion of the term of imprisonment imposed in the case for which he has applied for a pardon, he has not been in any conflict with the law.

His enlistment in the United States Marine Corps is evidence of his desire to serve his country and to remain a law-abiding citizen.

The granting of a pardon will be of assistance to him in securing a promotion in the armed forces of the United States and will make his complete rehabilitation more certain.

Neither the district attorney's office nor the courts of Philadelphia County made any objection to the granting of clemency.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,

WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Karl Trout Kehrwieder, C-8586, No. 2088, September Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Karl Trout Kehrwieder, convicted of robbery, in the Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions Court of Lancaster County, on January 19, 1933, be commuted on Bill No. 31-1 January Term, 1933, from a minimum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 9 years, 8 months, and 21 days, expiring on October 10, 1942; and on Bill No. 31-2 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on October 11, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant has now served more than nine years and eight months of his minimum sentence and the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states that: ". . . His prison record has been good and he has been a conscientious clerk in the prison industries office where he has worked for over six years. His studies in English and Mathemathics through correspondence courses has evidences of attempt at self-improvement and a desire to lead a useful life upon his release.

The district attorney's office of Lancaster County has made no objection to commutation at this time.

The present age of the applicant is such as to enable him, if truly repentant, to become an honest and useful citizen and his conduct in the Penitentiary evidences a desire to do so.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Frank Lacina, D-1555, No. 3691, September Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Frank Lacina, convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, in the Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions Court of Luzerne County, on August 21 1936, be commuted on Bill No. 595 June Sessions, 1936, from a minimum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 6 years, 1 month, and 19 days, expiring on October 10, 1942; on Bill No. 596 from a minimum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on October 11, 1942; on Bill No. 596½ from a minimum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on October 12, 1942; on Bill No. 597 from a minimum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on October 13, 1942; and on Bill No. 598 from a minimum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on October 14, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was less than twenty years old when he started his term in the Eastern State Penitentiary for the crime of which he was convicted.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . Inmate's conduct has been of the very best and his general attitude excellent. He seems to appreciate the effort which which was made to restore his hair and with successful treatment he has been able to overcome his feeling of inferiority. His work record in the institution laundry—where he has been employed for nearly 6 years is excellent, and he has sent some of his small earnings to his family. He expresses a desire to enter the armed forces of his country if he is successful in his application. He attended classes in typing for 7 months and made good progress."

The sentence of Joseph Adamchick, an accomplice, has been commuted and he has been discharged on parole.

The representative of the office of the district attorney of Luzerne County has stated to the Board of Pardons that the office had no objection to the granting of the commutation.

The Honorable John S. Fine, Judge, who imposed sentence in this case in a letter to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . I know of no good reason why the application of Frank Lacina should not be acted upon favorable by the Board of Pardons. His confederates in the crime which resulted in his imprisonment have already been pardoned. His criminality if I recollect correctly was not any more pronounced than those who have already been extended clemency."

The record of the applicant while confined in the Eastern State Penitentiary is such as to evidence sufficient rehabilitation to justify his release.

In re application of Howard Lacy, No. 5508, September Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Howard Lacy, convicted of larceny of a motor vehicle, under Indictment No. 537 September Sessions, 1940, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Delaware County, on October 4, 1940, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant before the commission of the offense for which he now seeks a pardon had never been arrested.

He was only eighteen years of age at the time and no prison sentence was imposed by the judge presiding at the trial.

Since the expiration of the period of parole imposed by the court, he has lived an exemplary and respectable life.

No objection to the granting of the pardon has been made to the Board of Pardons by the district attorney's office nor the sentencing judge.

The applicant desires this one conviction which stands as a blot on his otherwise perfect record to be removed as he desires to enter upon the study necessary to prepare himself for the ministry.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Thomas J. Moyle, No. 5952, September Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Thomas J. Moyle, convicted of larceny by bailee, fraudulent conversion, false pretense, making and delivering checks, in the Quarter Sessions Court of Philadelphia County, on November 10, 1937, be commuted on Bill No. 137 January Sessions, 1937, from a maximum term of 3 years to a minimum term of 2 years and 11 months, expiring on October 10, 1942; on Bill No. 133 July Sessions, 1937, from a minimum term of 1½ years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on October 11, 1942; on Bill No. 136 July Term, 1937, from a minimum term of 6 months to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on October 12, 1942. (Sentences imposed on Bills Nos. 745 and 746 October Sessions, 1936, No. 221 July Sessions, 1937, 796 February Sessions, 1937, and Bill No. 222 July Sessions, 1937, to run concurrently are also commuted).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The crimes for which the applicant was convicted and sentenced were committed during a comparatively short period of time and were of the same nature. He has now served almost five years.

He is now of an age when he can probably render his best service to society and compensate it for his previous violations of the law.

The representative of the district attorney's office of Philadelphia County has stated that the applicant has been sufficiently punished and the Honorable Frank J. Smith, Judge, has made no objection to the granting of a commutation.

The ends of justice have probably been sufficiently satisfied by the time already served by the applicant, and with satisfactory employment awaiting his release, he should be able to rehabilitate himself.

Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,

In re application of Robert Pfaff, D-218, No. 5956, September Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Robert Pfaff, convicted of statutory rape under Indictment Nos. 458 and 459 March Sessions, 1942, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on March 27, 1942, to be commuted from March 11, 1942, be commuted from 9 months to 7 months, expiring on October 11, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant had no prior criminal record and since his incarceration in the Philadelphia County Prison has made an honest effort of self-improvement.

The sentencing judge has advised the Board of Pardons that the applicant should be given the benefit of any mitigating circumstances.

The office of the district attorney of Philadelphia County has not objected to the commutation of sentence, and the facts as recited by the representative of that office have raised some doubt as to the guilt of the applicant.

The Board of Pardons is of the opinion that the applicant has served sufficient time for the wrong committed by him and that the ends of justice have been amply satisfied.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,

In re application of Joseph Rienzi, No. 5968, September Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Joseph Rienzi convicted of trespassing on railroad property; malicious mischief; larceny and receiving stolen goods, under indictment No. 1080 March Sessions, 1935, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on April 10, 1935, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows.

The applicant had never before been convicted of any criminal offense and the record does not show that he has been in trouble since his discharge from Huntingdon.

The offense for which he was convicted was not of such a nature as to evidence any fixed criminal tendencies.

Neither the office of the district attorney nor the courts of Philadelphia County have objected to the granting of a pardon.

The granting of a pardon for a crime committed by the applicant in his youth and clearing his record of this one conviction will materially assist him in gaining lucrative employment in war work and will be an incentaive to the continuation of his good conduct.

In re application of William Edward Schaffener, C-8587, No. 5935, September Sessions, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on William Edward Schaffener, convicted of robbery, in the Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions Court of Lancaster County, on January 19, 1933; and of riotous destruction of buildings in the Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions Court of Montgomery County, on September 19, 1934, be commuted on Bill No. 31-1 January Sessions, 1933, from a minimum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 9 years, 8 months, and 21 days, expiring on October 10, 1942; on Bill No. 31-2 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on October 11, 1942; and on Bill No. 241-1 June Term, 1934 from a minimum term of 2 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on October 12, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant has now served over nine years and eight months of his minimum sentence and the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states: ". . . For the past eight years he has been an exceptional inmate. His attitude has been constructive. He has donated blood to the American Red Cross Bank on five occasions and has given blood to three emergency cases in the institution."

His prison attitude and conduct evidences a desire to lead an honest and useful life upon his release from prison and his long years of service in the penitentiary have sufficiently satisfied the ends of justice.

In re application of Llewellyn M. Seely, No. 5970, September Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Llewellyn M. Seely, convicted of embezzlement by agent and fraudulent conversion, forgery of endorsement and uttering and publishing same, under Indictments Nos. 113 and 114 June Sessions, 1930 in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on November 21, 1930, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant before the commission of the offense for which he now seeks a pardon had lead an apparently blameless life and made restitution of the amount embezzled before his trial.

The sentencing court evidently looked upon the offense as of little seriousness by reason of the imposition of a term of imprisonment of only three months.

Since his release he has lead an ememplary life and has conducted himself as a respectable citizen.

At the present time he is engaged in the manufacturing of signalling devices for the United States Government and a pardon is necessary in order to permit his continuance in that work.

Neither the office of the district attorney nor the courts of Philadelphia County have made any objection to the granting of a pardon to the applicant.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Orval Glenn Sees, C-8115, No. 157A, September Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Orval Glenn Sees, convicted of breaking and entering and larceny, in the Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions Court of Columbia County, on June 27, 1932, be commuted on Bill No. 45-A October Sessions, 1932, from a minimum term of 1 year to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 28, 1942; and on Bill No. 45-B, from a minimum term of 4 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on June 29, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant is one of many prisoners whose release on parole has been affected by the opinion of the Supreme Court in the case of Commonwealth of Pennsylvania ex rel. Thomas Lynch v. Stanley P. Ashe, Warden of the Western State Penitentiary, 320 Pa. 341. In this opinion it was held that unless a prisoner, who was serving sentences imposed to run consecutively, was recommended and approved for parole at the expiration of the first minimum sentence, he would be serving the maximum of that sentence, and if no recommendation for parole was made at the expiration of the second and subsequent minimum of sentences inmposed to run consecutively, the prisoner would be serving the maximum of the second and subsequent sentences. In other words, a prisoner serving an indeterminate sentence is not automatically paroled at the expiration of the minimum term but is merely eligible for parole at that time, and if not favorably considered by the Prison Board at any time thereafter, the prisoner is required to serve the full sentence.

It was the custom for a long period of time for the officials of both the Eastern and Western State Penitentiaries to lump consecutive sentences and the Boards of Trustees would only make recommendations for release on parol at the expiration of the period of time equal to the total of the minimum sentences.

Since the Supreme Court held this procedure improper, the applicant and others, whose cases were not considered for parole at the expiration of their minimum sentences, through no fault of their own, will have to serve a much longer period of time than contemplated by the sentencing judge and the prison officials.

The failure of the Board of Trustees to make the necessary recommendations for parole at the expiration of the minimum sentences was an honest mistake, as most, if not all, sentencing judges shared the same view as the prison officials in deeming it to be unnecessary to make recommendations for parole at the expiration of the minimum of every consecutive sentence. Sentencing judges throughout the state have uniformly believed and taken into consideration in passing sentences the Prison Board practice that consecutive sentences would be lumped making a total minimum and a total maximum.

We believe that a great injustice would be done and that it would be most unfair to keep the applicant incarcerated for a longer period of time than recommended by the Board of Trustees of the institution in which the applicant is confined.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Ralph Zarra, C-8862, No. 2956, September Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Ralph Zarra, convicted of burglary, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Lackawanna County, on April 8, 1933, be commuted on Bill No. 24 February Sessions, 1933, from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 4 years, 6 months, and 2 days, expiring on October 10, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 22).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant had no prior criminal record and has now served over nine years and five months of his combined minimum terms.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons has stated: ". . . Since his transfer to the Lackawanna County Prison on September 8, 1941, he has established a good reputation. The Warden of the Lackawanna County Prison in a letter to the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary recommends that a commutation be granted."

The representative of the office of the district attorney of Lackawanna County stated to the Board that by reason of his long service in the penitentiary, the office had no objection to a commutation.

The Honorable Will Leach, the judge who sentenced the applicant, in a letter to the Board of Pardons stated that: ". . . He might be released under strict supervision."

The long term served by the applicant behind prison walls has sufficiently satisfied the ends of justice and entitles him to another opportunity to become a useful citizen.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Paul Armour, B-3868, No. 3470, October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence if imprsionment imposed on Paul Armour, convicted of robbery, attempted robbery, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Westmoreland County, on November 2, 1933, be commuted on Bill No. 57 November Sessions, 1933, from a maximum term of 2 years to a maximum term of 11 months and 27 days, expiring on October 29, 1942; Bill No. 58 from a maximum term of 2 years to a maximum term of 1 day, expiring on October 30, 1942; on Bill No. 92 from a maximum term of 2 years to a maximum term of 1 day, expiring on October 31, 1942; Bill No. 107 from a maximum term of 2 years to a maximum term of 1 day, expiring on November 1, 1942; and on Bill No. 56 from a minimum term of 1 year to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on November 2, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant has served over nine years of his sentences imposed on nine Bills of Indictments on each of which he was sentenced to not less than one nor more than two years which amounts to full service of the combined minimum sentences.

If these sentences had been imposed subsequent to the passage of the Act of 1937, he would now be eligible for parole without any commutation.

His institutional record is justification for his release at this time and the convicting authorities of Westmoreland County have not objected to the granting of commutation.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Drue Hogens Bradley, B-3847, No. 1814, October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the maximum sentence of Drue Hogens Bradley, convicted of statutory rape in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on May 14, 1929, be commuted from 15 years to a minimum of 12 years and 1 month, expiring on November 10, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant has served over nine years of his sentence imposed in 1929, all of which except three years, has been occasioned by a parole violation, which would seem to be sufficient punishment for the crimes committed.

His institutional record has been satisfactory and the time served has sufficiently satisfied the ends of justice.

Neither the district attorney's office nor the Court of Allegheny County has made any objection to the granting of clemency.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Russell Bridgeforth, B-1651, No. 2701, October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Russell Bridgeforth, convicted of entering a building, larceny, and receiving stolen goods, in the Quarter Sessions Court of Allegheny County, on October 11, 1929, be commuted on Bill No. 94 September Sessions, 1929, from a maximum term of 10 years to a maximum term of 3 years and 29 days, expiring on November 10, 1942, and on Bill No. 95 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on November 11, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant has served over thirteen years imprisonment and the Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary has advised the Board of Pardons that it would recommend him for parole on account of his long prison service, his excellent institutional adjustment, and by reason of the fact that the sentence of an accomplice had been commuted.

The representative of the district attorney's office of Allegheny County advised the Board of Pardons that the accomplice who was released had a worse record than the applicant and that the office did not object to the commutation of the sentence of this applicant.

Respectfully submitted,
S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
Not Sitting,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:
ARTHUR H. JAMES,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Ben Burgess, D-1854, No. 6000, October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Ben Burgess, convicted of robbery, being armed with intent to rob in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on January 5, 1937 be commuted from 10 years to 5 years and 10 months, expiring on November 5, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant is a first offender who was sentenced to the penitentiary at the age of seventeen years and since that time has maintained such an institutional record as to show evidence of being sufficiently rehabilitated to take his place in society.

The representative of the district attorney's office of Philadelphia County appeared before the Board of Pardons and stated that: ". . . The applicant has served a substantial amount of time and has been sufficiently punished."

He has served over five years and nine months of his minimum term and has been sufficiently punished to satisfy the ends of justice.

Respectfully submitted,
S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
Not Sitting,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:
ARTHUR H. JAMES,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Robert F. Chisholm, B-3322, No. 6016, October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Robert F. Chisholm, convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Washington County, on August 23, 1932, be commuted on Bill No. 4 August Sessions, 1932, from a minimum term of 4 years to a minimum term of 3 months, expiring on November 23, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bills Nos. 2 and 3).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary has advised the Board of Pardons that they would recommend this applicant on account of his imprisonment of over ten years, his excellent record, and his efforts towards self-improvement.

The trial judge has not objected to the granting of commutation and the trial district attorney has recommended favorable consideration.

During his term of imprisonment he has saved and contributed more than $1,000.00 to his dependents which evidences such a feeling of responsibility on his part as to justify his release.

Respectfully submitted,
S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
Not Sitting,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:
ARTHUR H. JAMES,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Robert L. Cunningham, 8846-NE, No. 5641, October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Robert L. Cunningham, convicted of embezzlement and fraudulent conversion in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on September 28, 1939, and to be computed from September 4, 1942, be commuted from 1 year to 2 months, expiring on November 4, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted on several indictments charging embezzlement and fraudulent conversion, which crimes were committed while he was employed in the Land Title and Trust Company in Philadelphia. He was also indicted and convicted in the Federal Courts for the same offenses and was sentenced to imprisonment in the Federal Penitentiary at Lewisburg, from which he was paroled on September 4, 1942, after having served three years and two months.

The representative of the district attorney's office of Philadelphia County appeared before the Board of Pardons and stated that: ". . . The office had no objection to the commutation of his sentence if the Board feels that the time spent in the Federal Penitentiary is sufficient punishment."

The Board feels that the applicant has been sufficiently punished for the crimes committed by his long imprisonment in the Federal Penitentiary and that the ends of justice have been amply satisfied.

Respectfully submitted,
S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
Not Sitting,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:
ARTHUR H. JAMES,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Walter Golabek, D-2165, No. 5023, October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Walter Golabek, convicted of entering with intent to steal, larceny, in the Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions Court of Philadelphia County, on April 26, 1937, be commuted on Bill No. 847 April Sessions, 1937, from a minimum of 5 years to a minimum term of 6 months and 19 days, expiring on November 15, 1942; Bill No. 848 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on November 16, 1942; Bill No. 849 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on November 17, 1942; and on Bill No. 850 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on November 18, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 846).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of the crime for which he is now serving imprisonment when he was seventeen years old and he has now served over five and one-half years.

In view of the age at which the applicant entered the penitentiary and the long years of service spent therein during the best years of his life the Board feels that he has been sufficiently punished and that the ends of justice have been satisfied.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary has advised the Board of Pardons that the applicant has developed favorable character traits and should make satisfactory adjustment upon his release.

The sentencing judge in a letter to the Board of Pardons stated that: ". . . I am inclined to think the applicant is able to reenter society," and the district attorney's office of Philadelphia County has not objected to the granting of clemency.

Respectfully submitted,
S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
Not sitting,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:
ARTHUR H. JAMES,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Harry Harris, B-3934, No. 3277, October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Harry Harris, convicted of robbery, highway robbery, and larceny, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Westmoreland County, on December 27, 1933; of robbery with aggravated circumstances; robbery, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Indiana County, on June 24, 1935; and of Highway robbery, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Armstrong County, on August 24, 1935, be commuted on Bill No. 42 December Sessions, 1933, from a minimum term of 1 year to a minimum term of 9 months and 7 days, expiring on October 5, 1942—(Bills Nos. 43 and 68 concurrent are also commuted). (Applicant has been granted parole on Bills Nos. 48, 54, and 121).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant has served almost nine years since his sentence and he would be eligible for parole on December 28, 1942. He is entitled to approximately ninety days credit on this sentence for the time served in the county jail awaiting trial, and his release at this time would amount only to a release at the end of his minimum term.

Respectfully submitted,
S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
Not sitting,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:
ARTHUR H. JAMES,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Alfred H. Hirsch, No. 6041, October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Alfred H. Hirsch, convicted of violation of election laws, conspiracy, negligence and fraud in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County, on February 29, 1928, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The crime committed by the applicant and for which he seeks a pardon was of such a nature as to cause the court to release him upon payment of a fine and did not demonstrate such criminal tendencies as should cause its record to remain as a handicap to his future advancement.

Since the imposition of the sentence he has not been in any conflict with the law and his conduct has been such as to justify the removal of the record of this one minor violation of the law.

The office of the district attorney of Allegheny County has not objected to the granting of a pardon.

Respectfully submitted,
S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
Not sitting,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:
ARTHUR H. JAMES,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Carl Paul Hoffman, C-9600, No. 4638, October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Carl Paul Hoffman, convicted of robbery, and attempt to rob, in the Quarter Sessions Court of Schuylkill County, on March 7, 1934, be commuted on Bill No. 188 March Sessions, 1934, from a minimum term of 3 years to a minimum term of 8 months and 8 days, expiring on November 15, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 238).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant had no prior criminal record and his excellent prison service during his prison term of eight and one-half years is sufficient evidence of rehabilitation to justify his release.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states that: ". . . His record at the Eastern State Penitentiary and since his transfer to the Schuylkill County Prison has been satisfactory. The Warden of the Schuylkill County Prison reports that the Schuylkill County Prison authorities favor the commutation of the sentence of the applicant."

The Honorable Cyrus M. Palmer, the sentencing judge, in a letter to the Board of Pardons has stated that the applicant has served enough time and that he recommends a commutation of his sentence.

The district attorney of Schuylkill County has not opposed the favorable consideration of the application.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
Not sitting,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

ARTHUR H. JAMES,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of John Hogan, D-1679, No. 6023, October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on John Hogan, convicted of burglary, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Lackawanna County, on October 17, 1936, be commuted on Bill No. 28 October Sessions, 1936, from a minimum term of 4 years to a minimum term of 11 months and 28 days, expiring on October 15, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 31).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant had never been previously convicted before he was sentenced to the term of imprisonment he is now serving and has been confined for over six years which is adequate punishment for the crime committed.

The representative of the district attorney's office of Lackawanna County stated to the Board of Pardons that the office had no objection to the granting of his commutation and would leave the matter to the Board of Pardons.

His record in the penitentiary has been such as to evidence sufficient rehabilitation to entitle him to another chance to live an honest law-abiding life.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Andrew Edward Janosko, B-2279, No. 5092, October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Andrew Edward Janosko, convicted of robbery, receiving stolen goods, and attempted robbery, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Allegheny County, on October 24, 1930, be commuted on Bill No. 10 October Sessions, 1930, from a maximum term of 20 years to a maximum term of 2 years and 29 days, expiring on November 23, 1942 and on Bill No. 12 from a minimum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on November 24, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 9).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant has served more than twelve years in the Western State Penitentiary and his excellent institutional record is sufficient to justify this Board in affording him another opportunity to live an honest and law-abiding life.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary has advised the Board of Pardons that they would recommend him for parole by reason of his long prison service, and his excellent institutional record.

The parole authorities of New York State have advised the Board of Pardons that they would accept supervision of the applicant, when and if, he is released on parole.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
Not sitting,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

ARTHUR H. JAMES,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of John Jenkins, B-3237, No. 1266, October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due

public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the Life sentence of John Jenkins, convicted of murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on May 27, 1932, be commuted from Life Imprisonment to 10 years and 6 months, expiring on November 27, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant has served over ten and one-half years for the crime for which he was sentenced. He had never been convicted of any crime prior to the commission of the offense for which he is now serving imprisonment.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary has advised the Board of Pardons in its report that: ". . . If eligible for parole, they would probably recommend him for parole to Mississippi by reason of this being his first conviction and on account of his excellent institutional record."

The Attorney General of the State of Mississippi has advised the Board of Pardons that upon his return to Mississippi the applicant will be provided with employment and adequate supervision and as a result of a personal investigation, he recommends favorable action on the part of the Board of Pardons.

The Honorable Elder W. Marshall, Judge, who sentenced the applicant in a letter to the Board of Pardons has stated that he feels that the applicant is entitled to be released on parole.

Respectfully submitted,
S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,

In re application of Huston Johnson, B-2138, No. 5026, October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the Life sentence of Huston Johnson, convicted of murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Lawrence County on July 28, 1930, be commuted from Life Imprisonment to 12 years and 4 months, expiring on November 28, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant has served over twelve years in the Western State Penitentiary and the Board of Trustees of that institution has advised the Board of Pardons that: ". . . They would recommend commutation on account of his excellent institutional record, his long service, and the fact that this was his first conviction."

The sentencing judge in a letter to the Board of Pardons has stated that: ". . . He would favor a parole at this time."

The district attorney of Lawrence County in a letter to the Board of Pardons stated that the ends of justice have already been served.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of George Edward Martin, No. 6024. October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that George Edward Martin, convicted of entering a building in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County, on August 19, 1937, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was but sixteen years of age when the crimes for which he seeks a pardon were committed and they were of such a trivial nature that the court imposed a minimum sentence of only fifteen days.

Since the commission of these crimes the applicant has been in no conflict with the law and has lead an exemplary life.

The applicant is about to be inducted into the United States Armed Forces and the granting of a pardon will make it possible for him to become an officer.

The conduct of the applicant since the commission of these crimes has been such as to entitle him to the advantages that will come from the removal of this one stain upon his record.

Respectfully submitted,
S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Marshall Van Mater, B-3455, No. 4907, October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Marshall Van Mater, convicted of compelling etc., to divulge combination of bank vault, burglary, breaking and entering, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Forest County, on November 26, 1932, be commuted on Bill No. 6 December Sessions, 1932, from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on November 27, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 5, effective November 26, 1942).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant has now served almost ten years of the minimum sentence imposed, which constitutes sufficient punishment for the crime committed.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary has advised the Board of Pardons that they would probably recommend him for parole for the reason that he has served almost ten years and has had an excellent institutional record.

The continuing good record of the applicant during almost ten years of imprisonment evidences such rehabilitation as to justify his release.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of James McHugh, D-1433, No. 3374, October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of James McHugh, convicted of robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Delaware County on June 9, 1936, to begin February 14, 1936, be commuted from 10 years to 6 years and 9 months, expiring on November 14, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant has served over six and one-half years of his minimum term and during that time has had an excellent institutional record.

His habits of thrift as exemplified by his purchase of $250.00 worth of war bonds and his institutional account now amounting to more than $230.00 dollars, show sufficient adjustment and rehabilitation to justify his release on parole.

The district attorney of Delaware County stated to the Board of Pardons that he had no objection to the granting of commutation on account of the good record of the applicant.

The Honorable A. D. MacDade, Judge, in a letter to the Board of Pardons stated that he had no objection to the Board taking favorable action on the application.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Joseph Mocunacis, C-9403, No. 5602, October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Joseph Mocunacis, convicted of breaking and entering, larceny, attempt to break jail, assault and battery with intent to kill, in the Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions Court of Schuylkill County, on December 11, 1933, be commuted on Bill No. 133 January Sessions, 1934, from a minimum term of 2½ years to a minimum term of 7 months and 28 days, expiring on November 15, 1942; and on Bill No. 133-A from a minimum term of 3½ years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on November 16, 1942, sentenced to be computed from March 17, 1932.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant had no criminal record prior to the imposition of the sentence he is now serving and his institutional record and attitude are such as to show sufficient rehabilitation to justify his release.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states that: ". . . His institutional attitude has been positive and he has demonstrated a good habit of industry and is a capable and industrious worker who has used his earning wisely.

The applicant's long years of imprisonment have sufficiently satisfied the ends of justice.

In re application of Joseph Panichelli, C-6481, No. 4658, October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the Life sentence of Joseph Panichelli, convicted of murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on October 8, 1930 be commuted from Life Imprisonment to 12 years and 1 month, expiring on November 8, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant has served more than twelve years in the penitentiary and the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons has stated that: ". . . His attitude and adjustment in the penitentiary have been good. While in the Penitentiary he has donated blood upon several occasions to the American Red Cross and has sent his earning to the woman he names in the petition as his sponsor who has invested the same in war bonds and who stated to the Board that she intended to marry the applicant upon his release.

The fidelity of this woman and her abiding faith in his complete reformation has convinced the Board of Pardons that the applicant is sufficiently rehabilitated to be permitted to take up his life in the outside world

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Benjamin Perkowski, D-5671, No. 5925, October Sessions, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons r commend that the minimum sentence of Benjamin Perkowski, convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Bucks County on November 24, 1937, to begin March 30, 1941 be commuted from 5 years to 1 yr. 6 mos. and 15 days, expiring on October 15, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant has been confined in prison continuously for over six and one-half years, and during that time, has maintained what the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary have designated as an adjustment and attitude above reproach.

This was his first conviction and the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary has advised the Board of Pardons that the applicant seems to make every effort to establish a good reputation which is the best evidence of sufficient rehabilitation to justify his release on parole.

The trial judge has advised the Board of Pardons that he neither opposed or recommended commutation.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Guiseppe Ricciardi, C-4968, No. 2770, October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the life sentence of Guiseppe Ricciardi, convicted of murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on December 5, 1928, be commuted from life imprisonment to 13 years and 11 months, expiring on November 5, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant at the time of his conviction had no prior criminal record and he has now served almost fourteen years of his sentence.

The applicant has maintained such an excellent institutional record as to evidence sufficient rehabilitation to justify his release on parole.

His crime was typical of the quick impulses of his race and the years he has spent in prison have probably changed his mental attitude.

The Honorable Harry S. McDevitt, Judge, in a letter to the Board of Pardons has stated: ". . . If in your opinion the time served atones for his crime, I have no objection to his commutation."

In re application of Joseph Rushkowski, Jr., C-7961, No. 4211, October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Joseph Rushkowski, Jr., convicted of robbery, breaking and entering, larceny, in the Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions Court of Luzerne County, on April 18, 1932, be commuted on Bill No. 561-G February Sessions, 1932, from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 5 months and 27 days, expiring on October 15, 1942; and on Bill No. 564-A from a minimum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on October 16, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 561-F.)

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant has served more than ten and one-half years for the crime for which he was imprisoned and has amply paid his debt to society.

Neither the sentencing judge nor the district attorney's office have objected to the granting of clemency.

The accomplices convicted at the same time as the applicant have been released on parole.

The applicant's prison record is such as to evidence sufficient rehabilitation to justify his release.

Respectfully submitted,
S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
Not sitting,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:
ARTHUR H. JAMES,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Robert Sauer, No. 5986, October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Robert Sauer, convicted of embezzlement by employe of corporation in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on December 22, 1939, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The crime committed by the applicant was of such a nature that no sentence was imposed other than that of being placed on probation for five years.

The applicant made restitution of all monies embezzled before the entry of his plea of guilty to the indictment.

The applicant is now in the Armed Forces of the United States and the record of this conviction has prevented his acceptance in an Officer's Training School.

The applicant's conduct since being placed on probation has been such as to demonstrate his fitness for advanced military duty and has justified the clearing of his record in order to make such advancement possible.

Neither the sentencing judge nor the district attorney's office of Philadelphia County have opposed the granting of a pardon.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
Not sitting,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

ARTHUR H. JAMES,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of William Schulz, D-4832 D-7533, No. 5392, October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on William Schulz, convicted of robbery, burglary with intent to commit robbery, in the Quarter Sessions Court of Philadelphia County, on April 3, 1940 and to be computed from March 27, 1940, be commuted on Bill No. 1185 March Sessions, 1940, from a minimum term of 3 years to a minimum term of 2 years, 6 months, and 18 days, expiring on October 15, 1942. (Bills Nos. 1186, 1187, 1188, and 1189 for from 3 to 6 years on each Bill and to run concurrently, are also commuted to a minimum term of 2 years, 6 months, and 18 days.)

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant has served more than two and one-half years of the minimum term imposed and the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary has advised the Board of Pardons that his institutional record has been good and that the Deputy Warden at Rockview, where he is now confined, reports that he merits favorable consideration.

The representative of the district attorney's office of Philadelphia County stated to the Board of Pardons that: ". . . As the applicant had served almost his entire minimum term the matter of clemency would be left to the Board."

The institutional record of the applicant and his long term of service in the penitentiary has sufficiently satisfied the ends of justice and entitles him to another opportunity to renew his life in the outside world.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
Not sitting,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

ARTHUR H. JAMES,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Frank E. Sundey, B-3453, No. 3547, October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Frank E. Sundey, convicted of compelling to divulge combination to bank vault, burglary, breaking and entering, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Forest County, on November 26, 1932, be commuted on Bill No. 6 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on November 27, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 5 by the Pennsylvania Board of Parole, effective November 26, 1942, and approved October 2, 1942).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant had never before been convicted of any crime and he has now served almost ten years of his minimum sentence which is sufficient punishment for the crime committed.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary has advised the Board of Pardons that they would recommend him for parole by reason of the fact that this was his first imprisonment, that he had an exceptional institutional record, was a cooperative inmate, and has served over ten years.

Neither the office of the district attorney nor the sentencing judge have objected to the granting of commutation.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
Not sitting,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

ARTHUR H. JAMES,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Daniel Walter Sweeney, C-6612, No. 4121, October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

30, 1930, be commuted on Bill No. 111 September Sessions. 1928, from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 year, 10 months, and 15 days, expiring on October 15, 1942; and on Bill No. 428 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on October 16, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 520).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant has been confined in the Eastern State Penitentiary for almost twelve years and during that time has consistently maintained an excellent prison record.

The representative of the office of the district attorney of Luzerne County stated to the Board of Pardons that: ". . . After a careful investigation they felt that his prison record justified his release."

The sentencing judge has advised the Board of Pardons that he had no objection to the granting of clemency.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
Not sitting,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

ARTHUR H. JAMES,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Roy Sherman Wenrich, B-685, No. 4231, October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the life sentence of Roy Sherman Wenrich, convicted of murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Washington County on March 5, 1928, be commuted from life imprisonment to 14 years and 8 months, expiring on November 5, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant during an imprisonment of over fourteen years has maintained an excellent institutional record.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary has advised the Board of Pardons that it would probably recommend parole subject to a favorable parole plan on account of the fact that this was the applicant's first imprisonment, and that he has maintained an excellent institutional record during his term of imprisonment.

The Honorable Howard W. Hughes, Judge, who was district attorney at the time of the applicant's conviction has advised the Board of Pardons that he has no opposition to the granting of clemency, and the present district attorney in a letter to the Board of Pardons stated that he favored commutation if the applicant's prison record has been good.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
Not sitting,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Robert A. Wilson, B-3454, No. 3109, October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Robert A. Wilson, convicted of compelling, etc., to divulge combination to bank vault, burglary, breaking and entering, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Forest County, on November 26, 1932, be commuted on Bill No. 6 December Sessions, 1932, from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on November 27, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 5, effective November 26, 1942).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant had no prior criminal record and has now served almost ten years of the minimum term imposed, which constitutes sufficient punishment for the crime committed.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary in its report to the Board of Pardons states that: ". . . They would probably recommend parole by reason of the fact that this was the applicant's first conviction, that he has served almost ten years, and has an excellent institutional record.

The continuing good record of the applicant during almost ten years of imprisonment evidences such rehabilitation as to justify his release.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
Not sitting,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

ARTHUR H. JAMES,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Ausben Kenneth Wyle, C-8983, No. 1878, October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Ausben Kenneth Wyle, convicted of assault with intent to rob in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Lackawanna County on June 3, 1933, be commuted from 10 years to 9 years, 5 months and 12 days, expiring on November 15, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant has served almost nine and one-half years in the Eastern State Penitentiary and is now being hospitalized there for tuberculosis.

There remains only a few months to be served of his minimum sentence and his release at this time for treatment outside prison walls will contribute to his recovery.

The representative of the office of the district attorney of Lackawanna County has not objected to the granting of clemency.

The applicant has sufficiently paid his debt to society and is better equipped to lead an honest life upon his recovery after his release.

Respectfully submitted.
S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.

The above recommendation is approved:
ARTHUR H. JAMES,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Saul Yacknitz, changed by Court to Paul Young on April 5, 1938, No. 6028, October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Saul Yacknitz, changed by Court to Paul Young, convicted of larceny and receiving stolen goods in the Court of Municipal of Philadelphia County, on June 29, 1934, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The crime committed by the applicant was of such a nature as to justify a sentencing court in placing him on probation.

Since his plea of guilty in 1933 he has lead an exemplary life and has earned the right to the advances that would ensue by having his record cleared of this one conviction.

The granting of a pardon will remove restrictions which have handicapped the applicant in his business career.

The exemplary life lead by the applicant since 1933 is sufficient to justify the removal of this one blot on nis record.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Vassco Zirolly, B-35, No. 4781, October Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Vassco Zirolly, convicted of felonious arson, conspiracy in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Westmoreland County, on February 28, 1927, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was released on parole on February 28, 1931, and was discharged from parole on February 28, 1935, and during his term of parole, and since, he has not been in any conflict with the law and has lived an exemplary life.

The office of the district attorney of Westmoreland County has advised the Board of Pardons that it has no objection to the granting of a pardon.

The Supervisor of Paroles on September 9, 1942, advised the Board of Pardons that the applicant had an excellent parole record and has cooperated with the parole department and with the New York Authorities in every way, and that he had no objection to the granting of a pardon.

The applicant desires a pardon in order to complete his application for naturalization. His conduct since his release on parole is such as to justify the granting of this privilege.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Anthony Bonus, D-5799, No. 366, November Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Anthony Bonus, convicted of robbery, in the Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions Court of Lackawanna County, on February 7, 1925; and in the Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions Court of Lackawanna County, on April 11, 1936, be commuted on Bills Nos. 22 and 23 January Sessions, 1925, from a maximum term of 20 years to a minimum term of 3 years, 3 months, and 22 days, expiring on December 19, 1942; and on Bill No. 8 April Sessions, 1936, from a minimum term of 7 years to a minimum term of six years, eight months, and eight days, expiring on December 19, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant has been in prison continuously for the past eighteen years and has now served over six and one-half years of the minimum sentence imposed for the crime for which he was last sentenced.

Since his return to the Eastern State Penitentiary in 1937, he has shown a decided improvement in his institutional adjustment and has established an excellent work record, which evidences sufficient rehabilitation to justify the granting to him of another opportunity to take his place in society.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Gabriel Joseph Delesio, D-3466, No. 5701, November Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Gabriel Joseph Delesio, convicted of robbery, entering with intent to commit a felony, larceny of automobile in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on October 1, 1938, to be computed from September 24, 1938, be commuted from 5 years to 4 yrs. 2 mos. and 25 days, expiring on December 19, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was only sixteen years of age when he started to serve the sentence imposed upon him and the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary stated that he is now more mature and has gained in stability.

The time served in the penitentiary, starting at such an early age, is sufficient punishment for the commission of the first offense and has amply satisfied the ends of justice.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Menotti DeLuca, C-7048, No. 2916, November Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Menotti DeLuca, convicted of murder in the second degree, in the Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions Court of Philadelphia County, on May 1, 1931, be commuted on Bill No. 1336 March Sessions, 1931, from a minimum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 1 year, 7 months, and 18 days, expiring on December 19, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 1334).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant is now sixty years of age and has served almost twelve years for a crime which he has always contended was committed in self-defense.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary has advised the Board of Pardons that the applicant has an outstanding institutional record, has saved money and has contributed to the support of his family. The conduct of the applicant while confined is evidence of sufficient rehabilitation to justify his release.

Neither the trial judge nor the district attorney's office of Philadelphia County has objected to the commutation of his sentence.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Joseph Diana, A-13817, No. 1195, November Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the life sentence of Joseph Diana, convicted of murder, in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on January 29, 1925, be commuted from Life Imprisonment to 17 years and 10 months, expiring on November 29, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant has now served over nineteen years in the Western State Penitentiary for a killing which he has always contended was done in self-defense.

During the time he has been confined in the Western State Penitentiary he has maintained an excellent record and has been a cooperative inmate.

The district attorney of Allegheny County has advised the Board of Pardons that: ". . . Our office will have no objection to whatever discretion the Board wishes to exercise in said case for the reason that said applicant has served over nineteen years, and for the further reason that his crime was one resulting from emotion."

The time served by the applicant has been sufficient punishment for the crime committed and his record in the penitentiary is such as to evidence a degree of rehabilitation which entitles him to another opportunity to live an honest, law-abiding life.

In re application of John David Ferguson, Jr., C-7685, No. 3992, November Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the life sentence of John David Ferguson, Jr., convicted of murder, in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Delaware County on January 22, 1932 be commuted from Life Imprisonment to 10 yrs. 10 mos. and 27 days, expiring on December 19, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was less than twenty-one years of age when the crime for which he is now serving life imprisonment was committed and he has been confined in the Eastern State Penitentiary for almost eleven years which, in the opinion of the Board of Pardons, has amply satisfied the ends of justice.

His institutional record has been such as to demonstrate sufficient rehabilitation to justify his release on parole.

The office of the district attorney of Delaware County has made no objection to the granting of clemency.

Two accomplices, who were convicted with him have been released.

The training received in the penitentiary by the applicant in connection with his good record and the opportunity to obtain lucrative employment when released all point to his complete rehabilitation when given an opportunity in the outside world.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,

In re application of Louis Frank, C-8003, No. 6088, November Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the life sentence of Louis Frank, convicted of murder in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on May 13, 1932 be commuted from Life Imprisonment to 10 yrs. 7 mos. and 6 days, expiring on December 19, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant has served almost eleven years for the commission of a killing in which he took no active part.

The sentence of the man who fired the fatal shot has been commuted and he has been released on parole.

The applicant's excellent prison record has demonstrated sufficient rehabilitation to entitle him to another opportunity in the outside world.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of John Gorman, C-8066, B-347, No. 2418, November Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on John Gorman, convicted of robbery, being armed with offensive weapons; entering with intent to commit a felony, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Philadelphia County, on September 10, 1924; and for breaking prison and escaping, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Philadelphia County, on April 26, 1926, be commuted on Bill No. 916 August Sessions, 1924, from a maximum term of 20 years to a maximum term of 16 years, 11 months and 15 days (plus 1 year, 3 months and 17 days time at large), expiring on December 12, 1942; on Bill No. 915 from a maximum term of 20 years to a maximum term of 1 day, expiring on December 13, 1942; on Bill No. 917 from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on December 14, 1942; and on Bill No. 965 April Sessions, 1926, from a minimum term of 25 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on December 15, 1942. To go to Scotland.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant has served over seventeen years for a crime committed in 1924 and for attempting to escape while in jail serving his original sentence, and his conduct since his removal to the Philadelphia County Prison in 1939 has been excellent.

The representative of the office of the district attorney of Philadelphia County stated to the Board of Pardons that the applicant had been in prison a long time and the matter was left to the Board.

The long years served by the applicant has amply satisfied the ends of justice and he is entitled to another opportunity to live an honest law-abiding life.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Edmund Holden, No. 5916, November Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Edmund Holden, convicted of extortion, bribery, liquor violations, malfeasance, misfeasance in office, and conspiracy, on January 16, 1930; and of extortion and malfeasance, on January 22, 1931, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Delaware County, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant had no prior criminal record and since his release from imprisonment on January 22, 1932, has lived an exemplary life.

In addition to serving part of the sentence imposed by the Courts of Delaware County the applicant has paid enough of the fine imposed to satisfy the authorities of Delaware County who have withdrawn their objection to the granting of clemency.

The applicant is entitled to the benefits and security for himself and family that will result from the freeing of his record of this one stain.

The office of the district attorney of Delaware County has advised the Board of Pardons that it had no objection to the granting of a pardon

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Louella Jackson, C-6524, 642, No. 6083, November Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the life sentence of Louella Jackson, convicted of murder, in the first degree in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on October 31, 1930 be commuted from life imprisonment to 12 years and 18 days, expiring on December 19, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant had no prior criminal record. She has now served more than twelve years at Muncy and the authorities there have recommended her for consideration.

The applicant was only nineteen years of age when the crime was committed. Her twelve years of imprisonment have been ample punishment and she is now well equipped to become a self-supporting citizen.

The representative of the office of the district attorney of Philadelphia County stated to the Board of Pardons that the office did not object to the granting of clemency and that the case could well have been a second degree murder.

In re application of Randolph Jefferson, B-2994, No. 5927, November Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Randolph Jefferson, convicted of robbery, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Allegheny County, on December 9, 1931, be commuted on Bill No. 17 November Sessions, 1931, from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 year, expiring on December 9, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bills Nos. 3 and 14).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant has served over eleven years in the Western State Penitentiary for the crime of which he was convicted which, in the opinion of the Board of Pardons, has sufficiently satisfied the ends of justice.

During his confinement in the penitentiary he has maintained such a record as to justify the Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary in recommending him for parole subject to an adequate parole plan.

The Parole Authorities of the State of Ohio, to which State the Applicant will return upon his release, after a thorough investigation, have advised the Board of Pardons that they would accept the applicant for supervision in that State.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
WILLIAM S LIVENGOOD, JR.,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

ARTHUR H. JAMES,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of John Kostek, No. 6048, November Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that John Kostek, convicted of the crimes of setting up an illegal lottery, on November 30, 1932, and of conspiracy to set up a lottery on September 17, 1934, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The offenses were committed by the applicant in 1932 and 1934, and since that time his conduct has been exemplary and deserving of the benefits that the clearing of his record will bring to him.

The judge who sentenced him has advised the Board of Pardons that he has no objection to the granting of a pardon and the district attorney's office of Philadelphia County has taken the same attitude.

The granting of a pardon will enable him to become a part of the military service of the country when he is called.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

ARTHUR H. JAMES,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Thomas Lewis, B-3179, No. 159A, November Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Thomas Lewis, convicted of robbery, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Allegheny County, on April 15, 1926, and of breaking and escaping penitentiary, in the Quarter Sessions Court of Centre County, on April 6, 1932, be commuted on Bill No. 28 November Sessions, 1930, from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on November 21, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 22 April Term, 1926).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant is one of many prisoners whose release on parole has been affected by the opinion of the Supreme Court in the case of Commonwealth of Pennsylvania ex rel. Thomas Lynch v. Stanley P. Ashe, Warden of the Western State Penitentiary, 320 Pa. 341. In this opinion it was held that unless a prisoner, who was serving sentences imposed to run consecutively, was recommended and approved for parole at the expiration of the first minimum sentence, he would be serving the maximum of that sentence, and if no recommendation for parole was made at the expiration of the second and subsequent minimum of sentences imposed to run consecutively, the prisoner would be serving the maximum of the second and subsequent sentences. In other words, a prisoner serving an indeterminate sentence is not automatically paroled at the expiration of the minimum term but is merely eligible for parole at that time, and if not favorably considered by the Prison Board at any time thereafter, the prisoner is required to serve the full sentence. (And the Superior Court case ex rel. Anthony Narcise, Appellant, v. Bd. of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary).

It was the custom for a long period of time for the officials of both the Eastern and Western State Penitentiaries to lump consecutive sentences and the Boards of Trustees would only make recommendations for release on parole at the expiration of the period of time equal to the total of the minimum sentences.

Since the Supreme Court held this procedure improper, the applicant and others, whose cases were not considered for parole at the expiration of their minimum sentences, through no fault of their own, will have to serve a much longer period of time than contemplated by the sentencing judge and the prison officials.

The failure of the Board of Trustees to make the necessary recommendations for parole at the expiration of the minimum sentences was an honest mistake, as most, if not all, sentencing judges shared the same view as the prison officials in deeming it to be unnecessary to make recommendations for parole at the expiration of the minimum of every consecutive sentence. Sentencing judges throughout the state have uniformly believed and taken into consideration in passing sentences the Prison Board practice that consecutive sentences would be lumped making a total minimum and a total maximum.

We believe that a great injustice would be done and that it would be most unfair to keep the applicant incarcerated for a longer period of time than recommended by the Board of Trustees of the institution in which the applicant is confined.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

ARTHUR H. JAMES,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Herman W. Loacker, C-7928, No. 3359, November Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Herman W. Loacker, convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, in the Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions Court of Philadelphia County, on April 14, 1932, be commuted on Bill No. 489 April Sessions, 1932, from a minimum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 8 months and 5 days, expiring on December 19, 1942; and on Bill No. 490 from a minimum term of 10 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on December 20, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 488).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant had no prior criminal record. He has now served almost eleven years in the penitentiary and during those years has maintained an excellent prison record.

The judge who sentenced him has advised the Board of Pardons that his eleven years of good prison performance balanced with his prior record might justify the extension of clemency.

The representative of the office of the district attorney of Philadelphia County has made no objection to the granting of the commutation.

The ends of justice has been sufficiently satisfied by the long years of confinement spent by the applicant.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

ARTHUR H. JAMES,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Silvio Lovuolo, C-2033, No. 3767, November Session, 1942

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Silvio Lovuolo, convicted of robbery being armed with an offensive weapon in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on March 12, 1937, to be commuted from 10 years computed from March 5, 1937, to 5 years, 9 months and 14 days, expiring on December 19, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant has now served over five and one-half years as punishment for the commission of his first crime and his prison conduct shows evidence of sufficient rehabilitation to justify his release.

The years already spent in the penitentiary by the applicant have sufficiently satisfied the ends of justice.

Neither the sentencing judge nor the office of the district attorney of Philadelphia have objected to the granting of clemency.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of William Franklin McLain, Jr., D-363, No. 4867, November Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on William Franklin McLain, convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, in the Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions Court of Philadelphia County, on February 15, 1935, be commuted on Bill No. 348 January Sessions, 1935, from a minimum term of 2½ years to a minimum term of 4 months and 4 days, expiring on December 19, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 347).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was nineteen years of age when convicted and has now served over seven and one-half years, which is sufficient punishment for the commission of a first offense of this nature.

The representative of the office of the district attorney of Philadelphia County stated to the Board of Pardons that the applicant had been in prison almost eight years and that his release depended upon his fitness for discharge.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary have advised the Board of Pardons that the applicant's prison adjustment and attitude have been good and that he has been a steady and industrious worker and has made several donations to the American Red Cross, which would seem to indicate fitness for release.

Respectfully submitted,

In re application of Edward McMahon, B-5757, No. 5742, November Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Edward McMahon, convicted of robbery, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Allegheny County, on September 24, 1937, and to be computed from September 18, 1937, be commuted on Bill No. 110 September Term, 1937, from a maximum term of 4 years to a maximum term of 1 year, 2 months, and 26 days, expiring on December 14, 1942; Bill No. 111 from a maximum term of 4 years to a maximum term of 1 day, expiring on December 15, 1942; Bill No. 112 from a maximum term of 4 years to a maximum term of 1 day, expiring on December 16, 1942; Bill No. 113 from a maximum term of 4 years to a maximum term of 1 day, expiring on December 17, 1942; Bill No. 114 from a minimum term of 2 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on December 18, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant has now served almost five and one-half years of his minimum sentence and during that time has maintained an excellent institutional record.

The sentencing judge has made no objection to the granting of clemency in this case and the district attorney of Allegheny County has advised the Board of Pardons that: ". . . Our office also has no objection to whatever discretion the Board wishes to exercise, because we find, after full investigation that the crime was committed by the economic stress of the applicant. Investigation also reveals that the applicant is exceptionally recommended by the Institution where incarcerated, and therefore, it would appear that he will be a good risk for commutation and parole."

In re application of Lee Melzer, B-3788, No. 160A, November Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of imprisonment imposed on Lee Melzer, convicted of Assault with intent to rob, etc.; in the Quarter Sessions Court of McKean County, on October 7, 1930, and of breaking and escaping penitentiary, in the Quarter Sessions Court of Centre County, on September 1, 1933, be commuted on Bill No. 132 October Sessions, 1930, from a minimum of 2 years to a minimum of 1 year, 11 months, and 29 days, expiring on November 15, 1942; and on Bill No. 102 September Sessions, 1933, from a minimum of 5 years to a minimum of 1 day, expiring on November 16, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant is one of many prisoners whose release on parole has been affected by the opinion of the Supreme Court in the case of Commonwealth of Pennsylvania ex rel. Thomas Lynch v. Stanley P. In re application of John Monaghan, No. 5905, November Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on John Monaghan, convicted of embezzlement by broker and fraudulent conversion, in the Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions Court of Lehigh County, on June 19, 1940, and September 28, 1940, be commuted on Bill No. 54 June Sessions, 1940, from a maximum term of 3 years to a maximum term of 2 years and 6 months, expiring on December 19, 1942; on Bill No. 68 September Sessions, 1940, from a maximum term of 3 years to a maximum term of 1 day, expiring on December 20, 1942; on Bill No. 69 from a maximum term of 3 years to a maximum term of 1 day, expiring on September 21, 1942; and on Bill No. 70 from a minimum term of 2½ years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on December 22, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant had no prior criminal record and the petition of the applicant for commutation has been joined in by many of the people who were injured by the acts of the applicant.

The applicant has now served almost two and one-half years of the sentence imposed, and during that period has maintained an excellent institutional record, which evidences a thorough repentance.

No objection has been made to the granting of clemency by the sentencing judge nor the district attorney of Lehigh County.

In re application of Albert A. Mosser, No. 6086, November Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Albert A. Mosser, convicted of fraudulent conversion in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on August 21, 1938, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant had never been convicted of any crime before he entered his plea of guilty to the crime for which he now seeks a pardon.

The applicant demonstrated his lack of criminal intent by making restitution of any amounts misappropriated, before his conviction.

The Honorable L. Stauffer Oliver, the judge who sentenced the applicant, in a letter to the board of Pardons states: ". . . I am convinced that Mosser is definitely not of the criminal type and that he has made a sincere and honest effort to rehabilitate himself. His efforts to do so have of course been very seriously hampered by his plea of guilty. I think he is entitled to a pardon, that such action will be of great assistance in enabling him to go straight and earn an honest livelihood, and that he will not abuse the clemency thus granted him.

The representative of the office of the district attorney of Philadelphia County stated that the office had no objection to the granting of a pardon.

In re application of John Pappas, A-14035, No. 1024, November Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on John Pappas, convicted of murder in the second degree, in the Oyer and Terminer Court of Washington County on May 14, 1925, be commuted on Bill No. 46 February Sessions, 1925, from a maximum term of 20 years to a maximum term of 17 years, 6 months, and 29 days, expiring on December 13, 1942; and on Bill No. 45 from a minimum term of 8 years to a minimum term of 1 day, expiring on December 14, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant had no prior criminal record at the time of the commission of the offense for which he has now served more than seventeen and one-half years, which in the opinion of the Board of Pardons has amply satisfied the ends of justice.

During his long term of service in the penitentiary he has established such an excellent record as to cause the trustees of that institution to recommend his parole.

The trial judge in a letter to the Board of Pardons has made no objection to the granting of clemency and the district attorney of Washington County has recommended favorable consideration of the application.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Clark Showers, convicted of robbery, attempted robbery, A&B. with intent to rape, in the Quarter Sessions Court of Westmoreland County, on Nov. 2, 1933, be commuted on Bill No. 57, Nov. Sess. 1933, from a max. term of 2 yrs. to a max. term of 11 mos. and 27 days, exp. on Oct. 29, 1942; Bill No. 58 from a min. term of 1 yr. to a min. term of 1 day, exp. on Oct. 30, 1942; Bill No. 92 from a min. of 1 yr. to a min. of 1 day, exp. on Oct. 31, 1942; Bill No. 107 from a min. of 1 yr. to a min. of 1 day, exp. on Nov. 1, 1942; and on Bill No. 56 from a min. of 1 yr. to a min. of 1 day, exp. on Nov. 2, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant is one of many prisoners whose release on parole has been affected by the opinion of the Supreme Court in the case of Commonwealth of Pennsylvania ex rel. Thomas Lynch v. Stanley P. In this opinion it was held that unless a prisoner, who was serving sentences imposed to run consecutively, was recommended and approved for parole at the expiration of the first minimum sentence, he would be serving the maximum of that sentence, and if no recommendation for parole was made at the expiration of the second and subsequent minimum of sentences imposed to run consecutively, the prisoner would be serving the maximum of the second and subsequent sentences. In other words, a prisoner serving an indeterminate sentence is not automatically paroled at the expiration of the minimum term but is merely eligible for parole at that time, and if not favorably considered by the Prison Board at any time thereafter, the prisoner is required to serve the full sentence.

It was the custom for a long period of time for the officials of both the Eastern and Western State Penitentiaries to lump consecutive sentences and the Boards of Trustees would only make recommendations for release on parole at the expiration of the period of time equal to the total of the minimum sentences.

Since the Supreme Court held this procedure improper, the applicant and others, whose cases were not considered for parole at the expiration of their minimum sentences, through no fault of their own, will have to serve a much longer period of time than contemplated by the sentencing judge and the prison officials.

The failure of the Board of Trustees to make the necessary recommendations for parole at the expiration of the minimum sentences was an honest mistake, as most, if not all, sentencing judges shared the same view as the prison officials in deeming it to be unnecessary to make recommendations for parole at the expiration of the minimum of every consecutive sentence. In re application of Barney Smith, D-1678, No. 5237, November Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Barney Smith, convicted of burglary, in the Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions Court of Lackawanna County, on October 16, 1936, be commuted on Bill No. 28 October Sessions, 1936, from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 year, 2 months, and 2 days, expiring on December 19, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 31).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

This applicant had never been convicted before, and since his confinement in the Eastern State Penitentiary he has shown such an interest in self-improvement and applied himself so well in his work that the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary believes he will make an honest effort to adjust himself to society.

The sentence of his accomplice in the perpetration of the crime of which he was convicted has been commuted and he has been releasd on parole.

The applicant has been offered lucrative employment upon his release and will be assured a sufficient income to adequately support himself and his mother.

In re application of Samuel Stubbs, D-5021, No. 6079, November Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Samuel Stubbs, convicted of burglary, larceny, receiving stolen goods in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on June 21, 1940, sentence to be computed from May 20, 1940, be commuted from 5 years to 2 years, 6 months, and 20 days, expiring on December 19, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was but eighteen years of age at the time of the commission of this offense and has now served over two and one-half years in the Eastern State Penitentiary, which is sufficient punishment for the crime committed.

The applicant's prison performance and attitude have been good and his prison habits have been above reproach, which would indicate sufficient rehabilitation to justify his release.

The representative of the office of the district attorney of Philadelphia County stated to the Board of Pardons that the applicant had served enough time and that he would not oppose the granting of clemency.

In re application of Edward J. Thompson, C-4390, No. 1267, November Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Edward J. Thompson, convicted of conspiracy to rob; robbery being armed with an offensive weapon; assault and battery with intent to kill in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on February 15, 1928, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant had no criminal record prior to his entry of the plea of guilty of the crime for which he seeks a pardon.

His service of five years and six months in the Eastern State Penitentiary was ample punishment for the one crime committed. Since his release in 1933, he has not been in conflict with the law and has lived an honest and exemplary life.

His record since his release entitles him to the benefits that will accrue upon the removal of this one stain on his record.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

(Applicant has been granted parole on Bill No. 168 September Sessions, 1924).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant has served almost ten and one-half years in the Western State Penitentiary for the crime committed, which in the opinion of the Board of Pardons is sufficient to amply satisfy the ends of justice.

His institutional record has been excellent and the Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary has advised the Board of Pardons that it would probably recommend him for parole.

Neither the district attorney nor the trial judge of Erie County has objected to the granting of clemency.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of Albert William Weeks, C-6921, No. 5703, November Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of imprisonment imposed on Albert William Weeks, convicted of statutory rape, in the Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions Court of Luzerne County, on March 13, 1931, be commuted on Bill No. 616 February Sessions, 1931, from a minimum term of 5 years to a minimum term of 1 year, 9 months, and 6 days, expiring on December 19, 1942. (Applicant has been granted parole on Bills Nos. 614 and 615).

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant has now served almost twelve years in the Eastern State Penitentiary which, in the opinion of the Board of Pardons, is sufficient punishment for the crime committed.

His institutional record is such as to evidence sufficient rehabilitation to justify his release and to afford him another opportunity to live an honest, law-abiding life.

Neither the sentencing judge nor the district attorney of Luzerne Couny have objected to the granting of clemency.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:
ARTHUR H. JAMES,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re application of William W. Wensel, D-4379, No. 5181, November Session, 1942.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of William W. Wensel, convicted of burglary and larceny in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Montgomery County on October 27, 1939, to be commuted from 3½ years computed from October 24, 1939, to 3 years, 1 month and 19 days, expiring on December 19, 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant has served more than three years of his minimum term of three and one-half years for a crime of not very serious importance and the Board of Pardons is of the opinion that he has been sufficiently punished and that the ends of justice have been satisfied.

He is now over fifty-three years of age and when released will work on his own farm and in this way be of some aid in the defense program of the nation.

Respectfully submitted,

S. S. LEWIS,
Lieutenant-Governor.
S. M. R. O'HARA,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.
CLAUDE T. RENO,
Attorney General.
WILLIAM S. LIVENGOOD, JR.,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

To the Members of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Under the authority of the Act of July 1, 1937, P. L. 2460, as amended by the Act of June 26, 1939, P. L. 1084, creating the Joint State Government Commission, we submit herewith a report on Legislative Printing.

ELMER KILROY, Chairman
Joint State Government Commission

January, 1943

Presented officially to the House on Jan. 5, 1943 by Joint State Government Commission.

ALBERT S. READINGER
Chairman Subcom. Printing

FOREWORD

This report on legislative printing is the result of a study understaken by the commitee studying State printing costs. Several meetings were held by the committee itself and for many months prior thereto, the staff of the Joint State Government Commission, and others cooperating with the staff, gathered considerable data on the subject of legislative printing costs.

The factual data contained herein are the result of actual counts and measurements of the printing during the 1941 Session of the General Assembly. In many instances, this involved tedious effort on the part of those performing the work.

The recommendations not only represent the considered judgment of the Commission, based on the factual data, but also include some recommendations made by the Parliamentarian of the House and the Librarian of the Senate, both of whom have had many years of experience with problems of legislative printing.

In preparing this report, the Commission was ably assisted by the Pennsylvania Economy League, Inc., who gave freely of their time in helping to gather the factual data, which is very much appreciated.

In addition, the Commission desires to thank Mr. S. Edward Moore, Parliamentarian of the House, Mr. Alex S. Cooper, Librarian of the Senate, and Honorable Charles H. Ealy, President Pro Tempore of the Senate, whose counsel proved invaluable.

It also desires to thank the Bureau of Publications of the Department of Property and Supplies for its cooperation in furnishing all the detailed costs on legislative printing.

ALBERT S. READINGER, Chairman
Committee on Printing.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON PRINTING OF THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION

The total cost of printing for the various departments, boards, commissions, institutions and other agencies of the State Government, during the two year period ending May 31, 1942 was $2,335,000. The actual annual cost in each odd-numbered year is considerably higher because of the additional cost of printing bills, histories, journals, etc., for regular sessions of the General Assembly. The cost of Legislative printing for the 1941 Session was $277,897, exclusive of an estimated additional $90,000 for printing the Legislative Journals, advance acts and pamphlet laws on which there were no complete figures at the time this report was completed.

The Commission first undertook a study of the problems of Legislative printing and has devoted considerable time in studying possible economies and simplifications and is recommending herein many important changes in this phase of printing costs.

While the Commission has not had an opportunity to make a detailed study on other phases of State printing, it does believe, from general observations and discussions, that considerable savings can be made through standardization of forms, sizes, centralization of control thereof, and frequency and distribution of departmental publications. It, therefore, recommends that the Commission continue its study on printing costs, giving special emphasis to the various phases of State printing other than Legislative printing.

LEGISLATIVE PRINTING:

Note: All findings, conclusions and recommendations concerning Legislative printing are based on an analysis for the 1941 Session of the General Assembly.

Savings:

If the recommendations contained in this report had been operative during the 1941 Session of the General Assembly the estimated savings would have been $80,577 which includes $79,057 for Legislative printing, and $1,500 for indexing. It is important to note that this saving will recur in each Legislative session. This saving, which represents 29% of the aforementioned Legislative printing cost in 1941, is summarized as follows:

		Savings
A.	Discontinue the publication of the Journal of the Senate and the Journal of the House of Representatives. Printing	$ 22,179
	Indexing	1,500
	See pages 3 to 7
B.	Reduce the number of copies of bills, resolutions, and calendars to be printed	$ 12,230
	See pages 7 to 14
C.	Eliminate the introduction of individual bills for (a) appropriations for State-aided Homes and Hospitals, (b) the taking over of sections of roads and streets as part of the State Highway System	$ 4,341
	See pages 14 to 16
D.	Combine the House and Senate Histories into one volume, print only the index title instead of the complete title, eliminate duplicate entries and unnecessary blank space and reduce the number of copies to be printed	$ 35,832
	See pages 16 to 24
E.	Print condolence and congratulatory resolutions in full in the History only in the issue for the week the resolutions were introduced and then again in the final issue	$ 4,475
	See pages 25 and 26
	Total Savings	$ 80,557

FINDINGS, CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Legislative Personnel

It is recommended that the act setting up personnel for the Legislature be amended to give officers of the General Assembly considerably more latitude in determining the qualifications and selection of employes to carry out the work of the General Assembly.

Findings and Conclusions:

It has been known for several years that the present act establishing personnel by titles is obsolete. Many positions which are required to be filled by title by law have no bearing on the work now required by the General Assembly. A number of these positions should be eliminated and the officers of the General Assembly be given sufficient appropriations and blanket authority to employ personnel of the qualifications required to carry out the present work.

It is the belief of the Commission that if this recommended improvement is made in the selection of personnel it will have considerable influence in making effective all the savings in Legislative printing as herein enumerated.

A. Senate and House of Representatives Journals:

Recommendations:

It is recommended that the publication of the Journal of the Senate and the Journal of the House of Representatives be discontinued and the Legislative Journal be designated as the publication of the Official Journal of both Houses.

It will be necessary to amend existing legislation to eliminate the printing, binding and distribution of the separate Journals of the Senate and the House and to designate the Legislative Journal as the publication of the Official Senate and House Journals.

It is also recommended that the official handwritten Senate and House Journals, together with the original signed copies of all documents which become a part thereof, should never be sent to the printer as copy for printing work.

It is also recommended that proper steps be taken to insure more prompt publication of the daily issues of the Legislative Journal during the closing weeks of each session of the General Assembly.

Findings and Conclusions:

Article II, Section 12, of the State Constitution requires each House "to keep a journal of its proceedings, and from time to time, publish the same." The printed Senate and House Journals, frequently referred to as the Official Journals, are the published copies of the handwritten Official Journals kept by the Journal Clerks in each House which are complete with all officially signed original copies of amendments and other official documents. The original handwritten Journals and the printed copies thereof contain no debates or discussions, but merely a cumulative report of all motions, roll calls, communications from the Governor, reports of committees, etc. These Journals are published once only, i. e., after the expiration of the Legislative session. Generally they are not published and distributed until shortly before the start of the next term of the Legislature. Hence, they are of little or no value for immediate reference purposes. One set of Senate Journals is distributed to each member of the Senate and one set of the House Journals is distributed to each member of the House of Representatives.

At present the practice is to send the original copies of all official papers, filed with the Official Journal Clerk, to the printer as copy for publication of the Senate and House Journals. Since these handwritten Journals and the original signed copies of the various documents becoming part thereof constitute the Official Journal proceedings, it is highly important that they always remain in the custody of the General Assembly. They should be removed therefrom only when it is necessary to use them to verify previous Legislative action.

The Legislative Journal is a complete printed record of everything that transpires during each legislative day, including, in addition to all that appears in the handwritten Official Journals, the full text of bills when passed, amendments, resolutions, debates, discussions and communications from the Governor. It is normally published daily. When the rush of work of the employes and printers reaches a peak during the closing weeks of the regular session of the General Assembly, however, the publishing of the Legislative Journal falls several weeks behind schedule. The contract for publishing the Legislative Journal, specifies that each daily issue of the Journal is to be delivered within twenty-four hours after copy is furnished to the printer unless extension of time is granted in writing by the Department of Property and Supplies.

Widespread distribution is given the daily issues of the Legislative Journal on the basis of mailing lists furnished by members of the General Assembly. In addition, after the close of each session of the General Assembly, bound volumes of the Legislative Journal, with complete index and an Appendix, are furnished (one set) to each member of the General Assembly. The Appendix contains copies of all reports, communications, etc., submitted to the Senate and House of Representatives. Therefore, the elimination of the publication of the Senate and House Journals would not mean the loss of any advantage, convenience or information now contained therein as it is provided in the Legislative Journal.

The Chief Official Reporter of each House is responsible for editing and publishing the Legislative Journal. They likewise take complete notes on all motions and other information contained in the handwritten Official Journals In the past it has not been infrequent that the printer's proof of the Senate and House Journals has been edited and corrected by comparing it with the Legislative Journal.

Aside from the cost of publishing the Senate and House Journals, their elimination would also save the cost of indexing, for which an appropriation is made in the amount of $1,500. The cost of packing and distributing copies to each of the 258 members of the Legislature would also be eliminated. This saving, however, is a minor item in comparison with other possible savings and is not included in the estimate.

Savings:

Elimination of the publication of the Senate and House Journals would result in a saving in printing and indexing cost as based on the 1941 Session of General Assembly as follows:

Printing Cost $22,179:

	Printing	Paper	Total
Senate Journal	$11,000	$283	$11283
House Journal	10,331	565	10,896
Both Journals	$21,331	$848	$22,179
Appropriation for indexing			$ 1,500
Total saving possible in printing and indexing			$23,679

B. Printing of Bills, Resolutions and Calendars:

Recommendations:

It is recommended that the number of copies of bills and resolutions printed be reduced to 400 for pink bills and 600 for white bills, unless otherwise specifically authorized by officers of the House and Senate.

It is also recommended that the number of copies of the Senate Calendar be reduced from 1100 to 800 and that the number of copies of the House Calendar be reduced from 1300 to 1000.

This can be accomplished without the necessity of passing legislation. The officers of the Senate and House can increase the number of copies to be printed on any bills and resolutions requiring more than the minimum suggested above.

It is also recommended that the Senate adopt the policy now followed in the House of having the pink copy of each and every bill carefully proofread as soon as it is printed.

To make the above recommendation effective, it will be necessary to amend existing legislation concerning Senate personnel.

It is recommended that the printer make every effort to carry out the rule adopted at the 1941 Session to use strike-out type in strike-out amendments.

Findings and Conclusions:

During the 1941 Session of the Legislature, there was a total of 2460 bills introduced and referred to committee in both branches. All of these bills were printed first in the pink, 1000 copies each; all bills which were reported from committee, either as committed or amended, were reprinted in white 1000 copies each. The cost of printing bills both white and pink during the 1941 Sessions amounted to $158,002.65 or 44% of the total Legislative printing cost, including the printing of advance acts and pamphlet laws. This cost is tabulated as follows:

	Printing	Paper	Total
Pink Bills	$ 54,856.25	$ 4,655.54	$ 59,511.79
White Bills	91,043.70	5,678.72	96,722.42
White Bills Reprinted	841.93	68.48	910.41
Resolutions	777.92	80.11	858.03
Totals	$147,519.80	$10,482.85	$158.002.65

A careful study of the various bills introduced in the Session clearly shows the following:

	House	Senate	Total
Bills introduced but not reported out of committee ..	977	395	1372
Bills reported out of committed	556	281	837
Bills reported out as amended	156	95	251
	1689	771	2460
Number of white prints for 712 House Bills ..			1210
Number of white prints for 376 Senate Bills ..			623
			1833
Total number of Pink Print pages			12,467,300
Total number of White Print pages			21,059,900
Total number of pages printed			33,527,200

Action on Various Bills:

House Bills in the Senate

Referred to committee but not reported out ..	217
Defeated in Senate	7
Dropped from calendar in Senate	11
Laid on table in Senate	5
Laid on table after recall from Governor	1
Passed and vetoed by Governor	45
Passed and approved by Governor	288
Total	574

Senate Bills in the House

Referred to committee but not reported out ...	119
Defeated in the House	7
Reported as committed	2
Laid on table in the House	5
Filed in Office of Secretary of Commonwealth (Joint Resolution)	1
Returned to Senate	1
House Amendments nonconcurred in by Senate	1
Passed the House, vetoed by Governor	23
Passed House and approved by Governor	141
Total	300

The vast majority of bills introduced, as well as those reported out and passed, are technical amendments to existing acts, or bills proposing legislation which is special, technical or local in nature. These types of legislation are of little universal interest to the general public. Therefore, there is practically no demand for copies of such bills, it has been found from past experience that a large demand for copies of bills has been generally limited to those carrying out the administration program, important labor legislation, important tax legislation and legislation which is of particular universal interest to other large groups, such as, state or municipal employes, and school teachers.

As will be shown by the tabulated cost of white bills reprinted, less than 1% of the bills reported out of committee had sufficient demand to require more than 1000 copies. This is based on pages of printing and amounts to less than 1% of the actual number of bills.

A careful check and investigation reveals that large quantities of the majority of the various prints, including pink copies, still remain in the storage files of the House and Senate after the close of the regular session of the General Assembly.

It was also found that even during the regular session, it was necessary for employes to remove large quantities of various prints to make additional space available for the new prints and new bills introduced.

It was also found that in many instances complete bundles of bills which had never been opened after receipt from the printer were discarded from the files. This was especially true when they were replaced by later prints of the same bills.

In addition to prints of bills sent to the House and Senate file rooms, approximately 100 copies of each bill are delivered to the Bureau of Publication for departmental distribution. The actual minimum number of copies of pink bills required consists of approximately 100 for the Bureau of Publications, approximately 150 to be picked and made available to parties interested in receiving these bills, and then such copies as may be wanted by various members interested in the same. It is, therefore, estimated that, with the exception of such bills as may be designated by the officers of the Senate and House, it will not be necessary to print more than 400 copies in the pink print.

The actual minimum number of copies of white bills, required, consists of approximately 100 for the Bureau of Publications, approximately 275 for the desk files of members and officers of the Legislature, approximately 150 to be picked and made available to parties interested in receiving copies of these bills, and such additional copies as may be needed by various members. It is, therefore, estimated that, with the exception of such bills as may be designated by the officers of the Senate and House, it will not be necessary to print more than 600 copies of the white prints.

It is liberally estimated that not more than 10% of the bills will have a demand for a number of prints in excess of these quantities, namely 400 pink prints and 600 white prints. On this basis there would be a 60% saving in the paper cost on the remaining 90% of the pink prints and a 40% saving in the paper cost on the remaining 90% of the white prints.

The composition and set-up cost for printing would remain the same, regardless of the number of copies printed. There would, however, be a saving in press time, as well as stitching and binding time, on the part of the printer. The contract for printing these bills is, however, based upon a flat price per 100 pages and this price contemplates the printing of 30,000,000 pages as a basis of computation in determining the lowest bidder. In other words, under this type of contract the printer is paid the same rate for printing a bill regardless of whether it is in the pink, wherein the cost of compilation is generally absorbed, or whether it is a white reprint without any amendments or with few or a large number of amendments.

Under the existing contract which does not expire until December 31, 1943, any reduction in the number of copies could have a direct proportionate saving effect but this should probably be negotiated with the printer. Under any new contract the price, however, if bid on a price per 100 pages, would be increased in an effort to absorb the composition and set-up charges based upon a smaller quantity to be printed. For that reason it is estimated that only approximately 5 to 7½% will normally be saved in the total printing cost of the bills by printing 400 copies in pink and 600 copies in white of 90% of the total number of bills printed.

The following is a paragraph from the standard form of contract covering the printing of bills:

> "The minimum number of each pink bill in all probability will be 800 copies, and the minimum number of each white bill, resolution and conference report in all probability will be 1000. The quantities of each may be varied on order, however, and the larger numbers are frequently required. Ten copies of each white bill, resolution and conference report shall be printed on bond paper, five of which copies are to be delivered to the Secretary of the Senate and five to the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives."

As a result of recommendations to the 1939 General Assembly by the Joint State Government Commission, the House of Representatives amended the law establishing legislative personnel and provided for two desk clerks to proofread bills. It is their duty to proofread the pink copy of all bills as soon as returned from the printer and make notes of all typographical, printer's or construction errors so that when a bill is reported from committee such correction can be made in the first white print of the bill. This has resulted in considerable savings in reprinting of bills in the House and it is the belief of the Committee that if this policy is established in the Senate it will considerably reduce the cost of reprinting Senate bills. The Commission suggests that every effort be made to always obtain the best possible qualified personnel for this work.

Savings:

The estimated savings as the result of the reductions in the number of pink prints to 400 and the reduction in the number of white prints to 600 on 90% of the bills printed and a reduction in the number of calendars from 1100 to 800 in the Senate and the number from 1300 to 100 in the House as based on the 1941 Session of the General Assembly are as follows:

60% of 90% of the present pink bill paper cost	$ 2,513.99
40% of 90% of the present white bill paper cost	2,097.83
5% of 90% of the pink and white bill printing cost	6,638.39
25% of the present calendar paper cost	351.33
5% of the present calendar printing cost	628.98
Total	$12,230.52

C. Elimination of Introduction of Certain Types of Bills:

Recommendation:

It is recommended that a policy be adopted and followed in the Senate similar to the policy practiced in the House which will avoid the expense of printing and handling individual bills for appropriations to local State-aided Homes and Hospitals and individual bills adding sections of local highways in townships, boroughs and cities to the State Highway System, inasmuch as these bills are invariably included in omnibus bills.

Findings and Conclusions:

The above recommendation was originally submitted to the 1939 General Assembly by the Joint State Government Commission. The House, by adopting this recommendation has, especially on appropriations, reduced tremendously the number of individual bills introduced. This recommendation was not, however, adopted by the Senate. In the House, the members do not introduce individual bills on these subjects. Rather, they simply make a written request to the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee or the Chairman of the Highways Committee, as the case may be. It has been the practice of the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee to notify the hospital for whom the member has requested the appropriation and likewise to notify the press. This policy could be followed by the Chairman of the Highways Committee. The foregoing procedure could be further improved by having the chairmen of these two committees read into the record once or twice a month, in the Senate and in the House, a statement listing the names of the members and their requests. In this manner a permanent record will be made of the desires and interests of the members.

Savings:

The estimated savings in printing cost as a result of filing requests for appropriations to local State-aided

Homes and Hospitals, or the placing of certain sections of local highways on the State Highway System instead of introducing individual bills therefor during the 1941 Session of the General Assembly would have been as follows:

State-aided Home and Hospital Appropriation Bills

	Printing	Paper	Total
House Bills (5)	$ 74.80	$ 25.20	$ 100.00
Senate Bills (62)	506.00	173.60	679.60
Highway Bills
House Bills (23)	532.40	190.40	722.80
Senate Bills (40)	501.60	170.80	672.40
Totals	$1,614.80	$ 560.00	$2,174.80

Printing cost for entering these bills in histories:

House Bills (28)	$ 390.72	$ 147.84	$ 538.56
Senate Bills (102) ...	1,184.00	444.10	1,628.10
Total	$1,574.72	$ 591.94	$2,166.66
Grand total	$3,189.52	$1,151.94	$4,341.46

Average printing and paper cost per bill .. $33.47 Each

In addition to the above the cost of printing the titles of these bills in the Legislative Journal would be eliminated at a saving of approximately $150.

D. Printing of Senate and House Histories:

Recommendations:

It is recommended that changes be made in printing the History of the Senate and the History of the House, which will result in a reduction of cost and likewise simplify the Legislative procedure and make the Histories of greater service value.

These recommended changes are as follows:

1. Combine the present History of the Senate and History of the House and publish a single volume.
2. Eliminate the present procedure of giving House Bills a new number when in the Senate and Senate Bills a new number when in the House. Either have each bill retain its original House or Senate number, as the case may be, throughout its course in the Legislature, or establish a separate block of numbers for the House and for the Senate.
3. List each bill once only in its proper numerical position in the House or Senate section of the History and list therewith all Legislative action, whether the bill is in the House or in the Senate and have only one index to cover both House and Senate Bills.
4. Have the compilation and printing of the History under the direct jurisdiction of the Legislative Reference Bureau, and have the personnel needed for reporting and compiling the History furnished by both the Senate and the House, as required and directed by the Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau.
5. Have one person responsible for furnishing the copy and form to the printer so as to properly coordinate the work and minimize the amount of blank space in the History.
6. Discontinue printing the complete title of bills in the weekly History and print only a short title similar to the title now used in the index and include in the History the reference to the page number of the Legislative Journal where the complete title is printed.
7. Include in the History under each bill the reference to the page number of the Legislative Journal on which will be found the particular action listed in the History.
8. Reduce the number of copies of the History from 1200 to 1000 for each House.

No changes in legislation would be necessary to effect these recommendations. The authority for the Histories at the present time lies in Senate Rule 45 and House Rule 87.

Findings and Conclusions:

A careful analysis was made of the semi-final and final issues of the Senate and House Histories of the 1941 Session; likewise a sample analysis was made of other issues throughout the session. The foregoing recommendations are based upon this analysis, which consisted of actual counts and measurements throughout the text of both Histories.

The key recommendation to all the recommendations concerning the combining of the Senate and House Histories involves the setting up of a new numbering system for bills as referred to in Recommendation No. 2. The establishment of this numbering system will make possible the adoption of most of the other recommendations, all of which will result in the real savings which can be made. It will also eliminate confusion and complications which now exist, especially to the layman. Under the present system two separate bills can carry as many as three numbers which are identical, viz:. a Senate number and a House number in addition to the printer's number. For instance, House Bill No. 100, House Printer's No. 150, when in the Senate could be Senate Bill No. 200 and at the same time there can be a Senate Bill No. 100, Senate Printer's No. 150, which could be House Bill No. 200 in the House.

It has not been infrequent that members of the Legislature, when referring to a bill, have been confused by this complication of numbers,

Records reveal that 825 was the average number of bills introduced in the Senate during the last four regular sessions.

It is, therefore, suggested that if Legislative bill numbers are adopted, the block of numbers from 1 to 999 be reserved for bills introduced in the Senate and numbers from 1000 upward be reserved for bills introduced in the House. Each bill itself now carries the words, "Senate Bill" or "House Bill," as the case may be. Therefore, no other prefix would be necessary.

By using this single numbering system, it would require only one entry in the Legislative History and all action in the House and Senate could be listed thereunder, thereby avoiding present duplications in printing.

The duplications are greater in the Senate History than in the House History, due to separate policies which have been in effect in the printing of both Histories.

At the present time, when a House Bill goes to the Senate, it is given a Senate number and the title is printed in full in the Senate History and all subsequent action either in the Senate or in the House is printed in the Senate History and is also printed in the House History. When a Senate bill is entered in the House History and given a House number, however, no title or action is printed, but the following merely appears: "For a record of this bill see Senate History under Senate number —." The House policy results in considerably less duplication. It can be clearly seen, however, that by use of the single History and single entry of a bill in the History, the printing space required for the listing of each bill would be greatly reduced.

The actual measurements made in the Histories indicate the following duplications:

	Total Pages	Pages of Duplication	Percent of Duplication
House History	588	71.3	12.1
Senate History	506	218.5	43.2
Both Histories ...	1,094	289.8	26.5

Note: The above number of pages is based upon the final bound issue wherein all the blank space has been eliminated. The 25 previous issues contain considerable blank space referred to hereinafter.

A comparison of various issues of both the House and Senate indicates that there is no regularity as to the minimum amount of blank space left after each entry in the History during the session. The responsibility for this waste lies, not with the printer but with the officers of the General Assembly who make up the weekly copy. The printing contract for the printing of the Histories states that "The type shall be seven point, set solid in two columns 20½ picas wide. All to be printed in accordance with samples in the department office and as required by copy furnished by officers of the General Assembly, including insertion of bill number and printer's number by the contractor." For this reason, one person should be responsible for furnishing the copy and makeup to the printer, as per Recommendation No. 5, page 17.

Measurements taken in the Histories for the 1941 Session revealed the following unnecessary blank space and its cost:

	Pages of Blank Space	Printing Cost	Paper Cost	Total Cost
Bills, House Histories	1,407	$ 6,247	$ 2,364	$ 8,611
Bills, Senate Histories	737	3,272	1,238	4,510
Resolutions, House Histories .	772	3,427	1,296	4,723
Resolutions, Senate Histories .	229	1,019	385	1,404
Totals	3,145	$13,965	$ 5,283	$19,248

Note: Although $19,248 could have been saved by eliminating unnecessary blank space during the 1941 Session, if the Histories are combined in accordance with all these recommendations, this saving would be less and be a part of the total saving possible, as shown on page 24.

When measuring the unnecessary blank space the Commission allowed a standard of one and one-half (1½) inches of blank space for each entry. This is sufficient for inserting all the legislative action occuring in any week on any bill.

The personal required for compiling data and copy for the two separate Histories at present includes personnel appointed separately by the House, by the Senate, and by the Legislative Reference Bureau. The Senate personnel compiles data and copy for the Senate History; the House personnel compiles data and copy for the House History. In addition, the Legislative Reference Bureau provides a reporter in both the House and the Senate who takes necessary notes for preparation of both Histories. While no attempts is made herein to measure what saving in personnel costs could be effected by carrying out Recommendation No. 4, page 17, it is our belief that this data could be gathered and compiled and copy furnished to the printer more efficiently and economically by having the Legislative Reference Bureau take complete control over this work and publish the History in collaboration with the Secretary of the Senate and Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives.

If the practice of printing complete titles of bills in the History is discontinued in accordance with Recommendation No. 6, page 18, considerably space will be saved and the Commission is of the opinion that no service value will be lost inasmuch as the short title similar to that used in the index will indicate the nature of a bill. It is the general practice, after checking a bill in the History, to obtain a copy of the bill in order to ascertain its contents. The bill itself contains the full title. The full title of the bill is likewise printed in the Legislative Journal when introduced and referred to committee. By having the History contain the page number of the Legislative Journal where the complete title is printed, all need for printing the complete title in the History will have been overcome.

If the History under each bill gives the page number of the Legislative Journal on which each particular action can be found, it is believed that such reference will add considerably to the service value of the History.

The semi-final issue of the History for the 1941 Session was the most voluminous issue, containing 645 pages in the House History and 514 pages in the Senate History, a total of 1159 pages. Had the recommendations contained in this report concerning the History been in effect in the 1941 Session, the semi-final issue, which would have been the most voluminous, would have been only 708 pages instead of 1159 pages. The same proportionate savings reduction in number of printed pages would have been in effect in the preceding weekly issues.

This points to a saving of 39% in the legislative printing cost of that particular issue. Comparison indicates the semi-final issue may be considered representative of the other 25 weekly issues. Therefore, considerable savings would have been realized in the printing of Histories for the 1941 Session. The savings is based upon the existing contract price, which is as follows:

Printing cost .....37c per 100 printed pages
Paper cost .....14c per 100 pages

The present contract price on the basis of 1200 copies per week means that the cost per page in the History is $6.12. This is based upon 1200 prints of each page at .0051c per print of each page.

The committee feels that, as per Recommendation No. 8 page 18, the number of copies of Histories can be reduced from 1200 for each House to 1000. This would result in a saving in paper cost of 17-2/3%. It is also estimated it will result in a saving of from 5 to 7½% in printing cost. This saving, however, would be due to a reduction in press time and in stitching and binding time.

Savings:

The combining of the House and Senate Histories into one volume, printing of short titles and elimination of unnecessary blank space would result in a saving of printing and paper cost as based on the 1941 Session of the General Assembly as follows:

Printing	$30,504
Paper	2,318
Total	$32,822

Reducing the number of copies of this newly-recommended combined Senate and House History would result in an additional saving as follows:

5% saved on printing cost	$2,373
17-2/3% saving on paper cost	637
Total	$3,010
Grand Total saving on Histories	$35,832.00

E. Condolence and Congratulatory Resolutions

Recommendation:

It is recommended that all resolutions relating to condolences or congratulations be printed in full only in the History of the week in which they are introduced and in the final issue of the History. In other issues of the History, only a short title and the action taken need be printed.

Findings and Conclusions:

Of the 270 resolutions introduced in the House of Representatives during the 1941 Session, a total of 130, or almost 50%, were of a condolence or congratulatory nature. More than 25% of the Senate resolutions—19 of a total of 69—were also of this nature. Each of these was reprinted in every issue of the History from the time it was introduced. A congratulatory resolution using one-half of a page in the History of either House, introduced during the first week of the Session of 1941, resulted in $79.56 of printing and paper costs by the time it was printed in the final issue. This is based upon a cost of $6.12 per page per issue of the History. The average cost of printing these 149 resolutions in the History was $30.00 each.

Savings:

If the above recmomendation concerning condolence and congratulatory resolutions had been in operation during the Session of 1941, the following savings would have been effected:

	Printing	Paper	Total
Senate Resolutions	$ 289	$ 107	$ 396
House Resolutions	2,978	1,101	4,079
	$3,267	$1,208	$4,475

Printing Costs of Advance Acts and Pamphlet Laws:

Recommendation:

It is recommended that the amount of money appropriated for printing the advance acts and pamphlet laws be a part of the appropriation to the Department of State instead of being a part of the legislative printing appropriation.

Findings and Conclusions:

At the present time, the cost of printing the advance acts and pamphlet laws is generally considered a part of the cost of legislative printing and it is always included in an appropriation for expenditures of the General Assembly. The entire control for the printing of advance acts and pamphlet laws is under the jurisdiction of the Department of State and for that reason the Commission feels that such printing costs should be made a part of the appropriation to the Department of State.

The cost of printing the advance acts and pamphlet laws of the 1941 Session was $22,846.74.

FINAL MESSAGE OF ARTHUR H. JAMES, GOVERNOR OF PENNSYLVANIA

Harrisburg, Pa., January 5, 1943

To the Honorable, the General Assembly fo the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

When I campaigned for Governor in 1938 it was on a platform of common sense and common honesty.

Taking my oath of office I pledged honesty, thrift and integrity in an administration run for the whole people rather than in the interest of individuals or factions. On that occasion I told you we had no rabbit in the hat, no Aladdin's lamp—but I said also that I believed hard work, teamwork and horse sense could do more good than looking around for a magic wand.

Today it is my proud privilege to report to the General Assembly on four years as Governor, and to render an accounting to the men and women of Pennsylvania for my stewardship as their Chief Executive.

More than two million Pennsylvanians voted for me in 1938—more than ever voted for any other Governor in the State's history.

The Republican message to them that year was embodied in the first sentence of our platform, which read:

"The chief issues of this campaign are the re-establishment of honest government and the restoration of jobs in private industry."

My message to those who, on the strength of these pledges, entrusted into my keeping the high responsibility of Governor, is this:

"We haven't let you down!"

We promised you honest, competent and efficient government at a time when corruption in high places was a stench in your nostrils, and we took the State's business transactions off page one of the scandal sheets.

You have had four years of straightforward, front-door administration. There's been no dirt to sweep under the rug.

We started out more than seventy millions of dollars in the hole, and we have paid it off. All current debts have been satisfied. Your books are in order and in balance.

We found an extravagent scale of governmental living that was running us farther and farther into the red. Today the State is living well within its income.

Our financial situation when we came into office was so bad that there was widespread insistence we needed at least a hundred million dollars in new revenue. We paid off the debts without a cent of new taxation and today the only financial problem left is how much to cut taxes and where to begin.

The fiscal policies of the next administration are for that administration to work out, and I shall not attempt recommendations. I cannot refrain, however, from repeating again what I have frequently said—that I believe ways can be found to trim the General Fund taxes between fifty and seventy millions of dollars, and the Motor Fund taxes many millions more, without detriment to any essential State function.

I am as firmly convinced today that we can reduce taxes as I was four years ago that we could operate without new taxes.

During our discussions at that time I remember being called a plunger and a gambler, and I remember replying, "nothing ventured, nothing gained"; and moreover that taking a chance, when it was for the best interest of the people, struck me as an extremely wise thing for a Governor to do.

Debt isn't the only headache which I am proud to say will not be inherited by by successor.

Wholesale unemployment, with its staggering financial burden and its social demoralization, was the most acute problem I faced.

My administration has helped find support in private employment for a million and a half of those who were on relief when we took office.

As a result, for this biennium we made the smallest over-all relief appropriation since the depression—and it will be the first relief appropriation to wind up with a surplus.

It is not my intention at this time to give you a detailed report on my Administration. The record is written, it is available to all, and it speaks for itself.

It would take far more time than is at my disposal to touch merely the high spots of such single subjects as, for example, the Anthracite Emermency program, which has largely stabilized the anthracite industry and which also has made giant strides towards the elimination of coal bootlegging.

The anthracite problem was met, as was promised, within the borders of the State; we sought the answer, not in Washington or New York, but between Carbondale and Lykens; and we blazed the way for solution when the operators and union officials and State government sat down together at the counsel table and undertook a cooperative approach toward the problems.

Let me add that this relationship between capital and labor did not occur only in the hard coal fields. Not for many years has there been a better spirit of coperation throughout the Commonwealth between labor, capital and the State Government.

The Republican policy of the State becoming the impartial friend of both employer and employe has fully justified itself.

Another matter to which an entire address could be devoted is civilian defense and the war effort, in which hundreds of thousands of Pennsylvania, without regard to race, creed or political conviction, are working for the safety and protection of our civilian population during whatever emergencies the war may bring.

Still another topic worthy of a full and detailed report is the state's agricultural administration, in which the problems of the farmer, including those producing milk, have received the attention of competent and conscientious men, with full knowledge of their needs.

The baby of our official family, the Department of Commerce, also has an outstanding record of accomplishment, particularly in the field of accelerating industrial output of war essentials.

A further example of the tangible application of the broad principles to which we have been committed is the Highway Department.

The political abuses and financial scandals of the previous administration terminated abruptly when we came into office.

By honest and efficient administration, the Highway Department has saved untold millions of dollars. It has cleaned up a long series of abuses concerning the letting of contracts, the purchase of materials, the awarding of performance bonds, and the employment, especially during political campaigns, of hoardes of unnecessary laborers. As a result, it has undertaken a much greater mileage of highway construction and improvement than in any equal period in the State's history.

But rather than trying to go over all the State activities which form necessary and important parts of this Administration's record, I am leaving the detailed summary to the departmental reports compiled by Cabinet Members and other officials and submitted to you in printed form as a supplement to this address.

Included with this supplement is a digest of correspondence concerning the Administration's defense activities and war response. Study of these letters will show why I repeatedly have referred to Pennsylvania as the outstanding leader in upholding the hands of our Commander-in-Chief throughout the present war emergency.

I leave office with deep satisfaction over our successes, proud that we have blazed many new trails and have raised many high standards, and profoundly grateful for the teamwork which has made all this possible.

My only regret is that for four years I have been so pressed with work that I have not found all the opportunity I would have wished for meeting people, and chatting with them, and exchanging the views on the many problems of our State.

This has been a loss to me, and a serious disappointment, but I have found no way to avoid it.

The pressure of State business has been constant, and rapidly changing conditions have raised new crops of problems as fast as the old ones were mastered.

I came into office fully resolved to put into the Governorship every ounce of energy and attention humanly possible—determined that, come what might, no one could ever say that if I had only tried harded or worked longer some unfortunate mishap might have been prevented.

I promised the men and women of Pennsylvania to do a job of housecleaning at Harrisburg, and told them a new broom would make the dust fly.

Figuratively speaking, I've spent four years with a dust-cloth on my head, and I haven't had much time to entertained company.

Let me speak still more plainly.

I promised, and the Republican platform pledged, an honest, business-like and scandal-free administration, run by men who would know their money from the people's money.

Attempting seriously to carry out that pledge in any state with the ramified activities, the size and the complexity of Pennsylvania, is a major undertaking.

The methods which have been devised to permit governmental cheating on a big or little scale defy the imagination.

Moreover, there has always been a plausible school of political thought holding that such practices are practical and justifiable as a means of party advancement.

I cannot agree. I believe most earnestly that the good men and women of Pennsylvania have graduated from that school of thought—if, in fact, they ever shared such a view.

You don't have to study many elections during recent years to see that the voters expect and demand honest government, and that they will turn against any party or any political leaders who condone such methods.

That is true not only in Pennsylvania. The greatest weakness in the New Deal as a political entity is that it is a partnership between visionaries and corrupt political gangs such as the Hague machine in New Jersey and the Kelly-Nash machine in Illinois. If you want to know what Americans think of that sort of partnership, look at the vote last November.

There was a partnership of that variety in Pennsylvania when I ran for Governor, and I believe my election resulted from the strenuous campaign I waged against that type of administration.

I am grateful beyond expression to all those many public servants in my official family whose tenacity and sharp eyes have helped me ferret out such corrupt practices as we inherited, and to nip off anything which looked like an effort to reestablish them.

Authority and money give rise to grave temptations, and constant and extreme vigilance is imperatively required from the chief executive who seeks to protect himself, and his administration, and his party, from disaster.

If I ever begrudged the time and energy which has been devoted to seeing that all the State's transactions were beyond reproach, I could comfort myself at once by remembering that not during the entire four years, not even during the bitterest moments of several strenuous political campaigns, has anyone even hinted that the James Administration produced either a fixer or a bagman.

The number of fields which need everlasting watching make a long list. Among such are the purchase and distribution of liquor, the buying of material, the letting of contracts, the granting of licenses, the awarding of performance bonds, the operation of the chain of penal, mental and health institutions now under School control.

In these and similar matters there is no middle ground; either an administration is honest, or it is not.

If I know the minds of Pennsylvania's men and women, they are always willing to make allowances for public servants whom they believe to be doing their honest best; and on the other hand, nothing will more quickly destroy their support than for administrative heads to display an easy-going tolerance toward corruption.

In this connection, before I bring my remarks to a close, I feel it necessary to call to your attention the conduct of a State official who has served during my term but who is not part of my Administration.

I regret the need for dwelling on an unpleasant topic on this occasion, but the matter is one which should not be kept in the political arena for the mere issuance of statements. On the contrary, it is one which should be investigated and dealt with by the General Assembly.

The one scandal during this Administration occurred in the two fiscal offices successively held by the recently defeated Democratic candidate for Governor, F. Clair Ross.

You don't have to take a Republican's word for that. Clair Ross' methods were too strong for leaders in his own party. The first repudiation and condemnation of his misconduct came from within the Democratic ranks.

And there appears to have been not one convincing denial from Clair Ross of the various accusations made against him.

J. David Stern, prominent Democrat and publisher of the Philadelphia Record, openly accused Clair Ross of buying the nomination. His exact words were, and I quote from an editorial in his paper:

"It may be possible for the Auditor General to purchase the Democratic nomination this way—with taxpayers' funds."

That was the accusation from Democratic ranks in the East.

In the West, Arthur Colegrove, former Democratic Secretary of Property and Supplies and long prominent as a Democratic spokesman, made the same accusation in his newspaper, the Corry Evening Journal. His phrase, and again I quote from a Democratic newspaper, was as follows:

"If Ross is nominated the Republicans are prepared to charge and prove that the Ross campaign has in large part been financed out of State funds."

Arthur Colegrove used the phrase, "malfeasance in office" in his editorial and blamed the huge Ross deficit on the padding of the payroll by political workers in unneeded jobs;" he used the following words, and I quote:

"Never before in the history of Pennsylvania politics has such worker-buying with State funds been conducted on such a wholesale scale."

I myself, stated publicly on two occasions, that Clair Ross, "by his abuse of public trust, and by his misuse of public funds, . . . has forfeited any right to the confidence of the voters of this Commonwealth."

To none of these three direct accusations has Clair Ross deigned to enter denial or explanation; he has not even expressed curiosity. Neither did he attempt to explain or deny the improprieties charged against him by the auditors who examined his books some months ago.

I am not going to discuss this subject at length. Most of the evidence is available in a collection of documents, including the audit report just referred to, which is being prepared for submission to the members of the Legislature in connection with my remarks.

These papers amply prove my statement that Clair Ross has abused public trust and misused public funds.

They give repeated instances of arbitrary and high-handed acts, abusive of authority, supported by neither legal nor moral considerations.

Specifically they tell a story of check-juggling to evade the laws, payroll padding running into the hundreds of thousands of dollars a year, raiding of relief moneys for non-relief purposes closely associated with his political campaigns; repeated instances of misuse of public moneys for purposes not legally available; and slippery transactions involving many thousands of dollars worth of postage stamps—an item, incidentally, almost as negotiable as money itself.

No wonder that when Ross' successor came into office his chief deputy found practices which made him believe it would be perfectly safe for him to forge State checks and put the proceeds into his own bank account!

The bulk of the information about Ross' misconduct in office has come into my hands during the progress of the recent campaigns—at a time when any attempt on my part to bring him to account would have been liable to misinterpretation as politics.

The campaigns are now over, and the Legislature itself, in cool blood, motivated by its duty both to punish and to prevent misconduct in office, is the proper agency to dig out the rest of the story and to take the proper punitive and corrective steps.

The Auditor General and the State Treasurer long have been known as the watchmen of the treasury.

Generally speaking, the emphasis of the statutes has always been in the direction of giving these fiscal officers the freest possible hand and the utmost protection in carrying out their duties as watchmen.

A long series of distinguished Pennsylvanians, including the incoming Governor, have held one or both of these two offices with credit and honor.

It remained for Clair Ross to demonstrate that sometimes the watchmen themselves need watching.

Let me add that this is far from being merely a question of patronage, and neither is it simply a question of amending the laws to prevent a recurrence of such mispractices.

I consider it the duty of this Legislature to deal so soundly with Clair Ross for his misconduct that never again will any ambitious and crafty public official of this Commonwealth use Ross' tactics to abuse the confidence reposed in him by the men and women of Pennsylvania.

As I indicated before, this has been the one unpleasant chapter in a record of cooperative accomplishment in the name of common sense and common honesty in government in which I believe all highminded Pennsylvanians can take deep satisfaction.

So far as concerns my own record, I believe that the Republican party and myself and my associates all were fully vindicated for our policies and our labors when the men and women of Pennsylvania drew upon my Cabinet for the two highest executive offices in the State. Few Governors have ever been able to claim the same distinction.

America's future is brighter today than in many months. We appear to have reached the turning point in the war. Victory is beginning to change from a matter of faith to a matter of fact.

If we can complete the war as we now have begun to fight it, on a basis of mutual cooperation, of unity, of placing the advancement of the cause of victory ahead of every other personal, political, social and economic consideration, then there no longer can be question about the outcome.

Many sacrifices remain to be made.

But let me remind you that we are asking ten millions of our boys to face the bullets of the enemy. They are making all conceivable sacrifices, many of them the ultimate sacrifice, and doing it without whimpering—doing it with clear-eyed, heads-up American courage.

In the problems of the future, both in Pennsylvania and in the nation, we have a ready example.

For the courage we will need to do our duty as we see it, let us take inspiration from the courage with which American boys are carrying forward the Stars and Stripes on all the battlefields of the earth.

In those problems of the future, both of the successful completion of the war and the days of peace thereafter, all of the multitude of Pennsylvanians who in greater or less degree have shared in the toil and the accomplishments of the State Government in the last four years may take full pride that we have kept our flags flying.

We are coming home with our shields, not on them.

The underlying objectives and policies of the last four years in Pennsylvania are principles worth working for; they are the stars to which the wagon of Democracy must ever be hitched.

By constant intention and by major accomplishment this administration has striven for integrity in government; for honesty in public affairs; for sound and thrifty handling of the public's business; for placing public weal higher than private interest; for a spirit of cooperation and mutual understanding in the meeting of the torn and tangled problems of our generation.

Who will deny that in the high purposes and tenacity and cooperation so many have shown as part of my Administration, can be found the examples and methods and approach needed by governments everywhere, both state and national, through the trying war days still to come, and the perhaps equally vexing days of peace which will follow.

In closing, let me thank all of those—both the Members of this General Assembly and all others—who by word or by mute encouragement, by faith and by example and by deed, have helped my Administration live up to the phrase from Micah which I gave four years ago as the spirit which would guide my every act as Governor—"To do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God."

SUPPLEMENTS TO THE FINAL MESSAGE OF ARTHUR H. JAMES, GOVERNOR OF PENNSYLVANIA

To the

GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF PENNSYLVANIA

January 5, 1943

Harrisburg, Pa.

FIRST SUPPLEMENT

Reports of Departments, Boards and Commissions, and other agencies of State Government.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH
Harrisburg, December 29, 1942

Dear Governor James:

We respectfully report for the Department of State, the State Employes' Retirement Board, and in our own official capacity as follows:

State Employes' Retirement Board

On November 30, 1942, the number of members in this System was 30,372; the par value of the Fund's investments was $30,114,000.00 and the total assets of the Fund, including the present worth of future appropriations receivable from the Commonwealth was $41,757,825.46 as of May, 1942.

The number of annuitants was 1422, classified as:

Superannuation annuitants	886
Disabled annuitants	147
Involuntary Retirement Beneficiaries ..	382
Pennsylvania Motor Police Death Benefit	7

From June 1, 1939 to November 30, 1942 the Board:

(a) certified 24,457 new members;
(b) approved for payment 5,153,544.47 to 23,500 members who had terminated their employment with the Commonwealth and applied for return of their contributions;
(c) approved 353 applications for retirement allowances.

On June 1, 1939, the par value of the investments of the Board was $19,920,800.00. From June 1, 1939 to November 30, 1942, the par value of the investments purchased amounted to $17,232,000.00 and during the same period bonds in the amount of $7,038,800.00 were redeemed or sold. Thereby the par value of the Fund's investments was increased $10,183,200.00

The largest percentage of the investments made were in securities of the United States and temporary bonds of the General State Authority under agreement between and among the Authority, the State Employes' Retirement Board and the Public School Employes' Retirement Board dated January 12, 1938.

The Board has purchased the maximum that is allowed under the United States Treasury ruling, of United States Defense Bonds, Series "G", which during the year 1942 was $100,000.00. The Fund owns United States Defense Bonds amounting to $150,000.00.

Acts 116 and 117 of the General Assembly, approved July 3, 1941, supplementing the act creating the State Employes' Retirement System, provide that members who enter active military service may contribute to the State Employes' Retirement Fund. This is a departure from the established method of paying contributions into the Fund and creates individual transactions not contemplated by existing administrative organization. It has been recommended by the Board, however, in the interest of employes absent in military service. Approximately 2000 members have elected to pay into the Fund their stated contribution while absent in military service.

War has affected, among other activities of the Commonwealth, the building and equipment program amounting to $73,250,000.00 undertaken by the General State Authority for the Commonwealth and financed by the Public School Employes' Retirement Board and the State Employes' Retirement Board. These agencies have cleared many details implicit in this large operation. The financing Boards leave further execution of their contract with the General State Authority and current operations under a satisfactory arrangement, notwithstanding the impeding and delaying effects of war. By this arrangement, the Authority will waive certain provisions of the existing contract relating to the issuance of coupon and/or registered bonds, and such bonds will be issued for $50,000,000.00 of temporary bonds now held by the Boards; the construction of the remaining parts of the building and equipment program will continue under the arrangements effected as of January 12, 1938 as modified by later agreements, as and when the exigencies of war permit. We note the sound and helpful attitude of the members of the Board of the General State Authority and in particular your Excellency in defining the arrangement noted above.

During the present administration the quinquennial evaluation of the State Employes' Retirement System as well as its annual evaluation has been submitted by Mr. George A. Huggins, of Philadelphia, the Actuary of the System. They have been the basis of our budget requests.

On November 23, 1942, the Supreme Court decided the cases of Dom v. State Employes' Retirement Board and Demming v. State Employes' Retirement Board in favor of the plaintiffs.

These decrees resulted in judgments of $13,615.71 and $8,569.98 respectively with further payments of $91.17 per month during the life of Sophia Demming. They also introduce a new factor in to the future computation of rates of member contributions and appropriations.

We strongly urge that the Act of April 23, 1935, P. L. 49 be repealed, in so far as it makes the System's funds liable for member's credits. Thereby we will preserve the true objective of the Retirement System, viz: to provide from present earnings of State employes an annuity for old age, or disability, or a cushion against unemployment in event of involuntary termination of service. Legislation which defeats these objects defeats the System and invites further parasitic growths destroying the savings of the members devoted to those ends.

Department of State

We have changed the physical layout of the department to safeguard its records and invaluable archives, to provide efficient working conditions for the staff, and suitable accommodations for the public whom the department serves. Equipment, some obsolete and some carrying high maintenance costs, has been replaced. Methods of recordation, more efficient and more economical, have been substituted. These plans were laid out after careful study in 1939-40.

Forms in use have been standardized and reduced in size as far as possible. Thereby permanent savings were effected in cost of future departmental operations. Simplex photocopying was supplemented by duplex photocopying thus effecting great savings in cost of material, labor and space.

War found the department geared to meet its emergencies in all fields, except, of course, personnel. However, the reorganization effected made it possible to meet the war-time conditions with a minimum of disturbance, and not only to complete our current work but also to clear all unfinished work as of January 20, 1939 and at the same time absorb new duties placed upon the department or your Secretary of the Commonwealth by the following statutes: Act of 1939, P. L. 101; Act of 1939. P. L. 250; Act of 1939, P. L. 609; Act of 1941, P. L. 307; Act of 1941, P. L. 672.

Volunteer Police

This Department as of December 1, 1942, has processed 20,220 commissions to Volunteer Police officers and the revocation of 1331 commissions to Volunteer Police officers for due cause. This service has been absorbed without additional budget provisions and without fee. It represents a substantial contribution to the preservation of life and propery against the possible saboteur.

Firearms License

The Uniform Firearms Act of 1931 (P. L. 497) was amended June 20, 1935 (P. L. 350) to permit provisional licenses to hunters and fishermen to carry firearms. The additional records deposited with the Department of State under this Act had accumulated and remained unfiled on January 20, 1939, to the number of 70,000 provisional license cards. To make these registrations serve any useful purpose for our law enforcing officers, it was necessary to prepare a card for each firearm, thus requiring the processing of 140,000 records of provisional licenses.

This work has been completed, and at the same time, the annual intake of approximately 41,000 registrations has been currently processed and adequate equipment for proper housing has been provided at a place convenient for use of these records by the Pennsylvania Motor Police.

Corporation Records

As of January 20, 1939, we found corporate documents filed, indexed, but not recorded, numbering 64,248 sheets and 18 missing documents. The delay was the cause of widespread complaint from attorneys and other persons. No money was available in the department budget for the current biennium to process these records.

The estimated cost of recording these instruments, as of November 18, 1939, was $37,920. No provision for this item had been included in the 1939-41 budget request. In the face of the then prevailing condition of public finances, we were unwilling to request an additional appropriation for this item.

By the reorganization noted above and the introduction of new methods of recordation effective June 1, 1939, we completed the recordation of these documents on October 10, 1940 at a lost of $8,595.59 and absorbed the cost by the savings effected by change in methods adopted.

Replacement of Corporate Records

In the Department of State is to be found the public life history of the business, industrial, and public utility corporations created, and the record of those lawfully doing business, in this State. These records are in constant use by the public. Time and use has brought many of the public record books into a state of dilapidation incompatible with the public use they must serve. At the same time space has become a highly valued and scarce item in public buildings. Obviously, replacement of these public record books had to be made with due consideration to the changing methods of recordation and the changed value of space. Accordingly we surveyed the problem as one of total replacement, and introduced microfilming as the method for replacement of 1005 volumes on hand. If we undertook to replace these volumes by photocopying process, the estimated cost, as of December 19, 1940, would be $85,425. If we adopted microfilming the estimated cost, as of the same date, would be $11,000.

In addition: future replacements (on a comparison of costs as of December 19, 1940) would be $6.00 per film roll of 1,400 copies as against $85.00 per volume of 700 copies. For reasons (which we fully discussed in our report to you upon this subject, dated December 19, 1940), we adopted microfilming.

The story of our need to replace old records, our economies in materials and space by our change in method of recording, are eloquently portrayed in the results.

We procured the necessary equipment and began to microfilm old records on May 12, 1941, and to microfilm current non-corporate records on October 1, 1942.

Our work plan was laid out in December, 1940 with due consideration to the following factors:

1. Proper training of the technicians;
2. The change-over in the physical layout of the department planned in 1939-40, and begun in 1941: (a) to protect public records; (b) to provide better conditions for orderly work by employes; (c) to utilize space economically; (d) to effect continuing economies in operation; and (d) to facilitate service to the public.

Our plan has been subjected to the disrupting effects of war resulting in a heavy turnover personnel. A resultant of this has been reduced production and a higher degree of wastage than should prevail at this stage of our operation. Notwithstanding the war, however, we have microfilmed 213 volumes of corporate charter record books, requiring 129,652 films, and 815 sheets of current non-corporate records.

The desirable next step in the change-over in physical plant, mapped out in 1939-40, can now be made, and if personnel continues to remain stabilized, the replacement of 1005 volumes will be achieved before the end of the coming administration.

Military Elections

In 1941, Pennsylvania adopted a simple and efficient method of canvassing the vote of electors in Military Service. In this respect she was in the vanguard of states working to protect the American system of government while her soldiers fought abroad to defend our people. The department has consistently publicized this fact to the electors. The use of the ballot by electors in the Service has been limited, but is increasing.

As a gauge of our will to cooperate with the Federal Government in all matters relating to war, we assumed responsibility in the Fall of 1942 for the administration of Public Act No. 712 of the Seventy-seventh Congress providing for the canvass of votes of electors in Military Service in all elections to National office.

Revenues

From February 1, 1939 to November 30, 1942 the revenues of the department amounted to $1,268,769.45. We enter the last six months of the present biennium with $58,123.00 available for operation of the department to the end of the present biennium, and possessed of a well-equipped plant to operate.

In the administration of the Domestic Bonus Act of 1939, P. L. 609, the department brought into the Commonwealth's treasury $125,636.58 between June 1, 1939, and June 1, 1942. We have referred to the Department of Justice as directed by statute unpaid settlements for delinquent bonus and penalties of $170,852.10. This represents forgotten obligations due the Commonwealth together with interest and penalties.

Plates of Appellate Court Reports

We have brought into direct custody and control plates for the following Appellate Court reports:

Supreme Court, volumes 98 to 304;

Superior Court, volumes 60 to 85.

The final disposition of these plates is a matter for early determination. Factors entering into such determination are: the Commonwealth's future printing needs under war conditions; the desirability of converting them into war material.

The Secretary of the Commonwealth

The Secretary of the Commonwealth has personally heard and participated in the disposition of 4559 applications for commutation of sentence or pardon; has presided at all meetings of the State Employes' Retirement Board; attended all meetings of the Pennsylvania Commission on Interstate Cooperation, and of the Board of Property; has presided at all hearings in departmental matters required of her by law.

In person, or by deputy and conference, the Secretary has heard and participated in the disposition of 37,104 petitions for review of tax settlements or refunds since June 1, 1939.

Finally, may I say, that my abiding sense of your unswerving loyalty to those principles of law and justice which must underlie this government if she is to endure, my profound faith in your integrity of purpose in all your official policies, has lightened the burden of my work and made my tenure of office happy and satisfying.

Respectfully submitted

S. M. R. O'HARA, Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

Harrisburg, December 8, 1942.

Dear Governor James:

The Department of Justice, as you well know, is an auxiliary to all other Departments. It advises, and guides them and casts their projects into legal form. In a very true sense, it participates in the major achievements of all Departments but only rarely achieves anything in its own name. Thus, without violently assailing my own sense of modesty, I claim a small part in the magnificent accomplishments of your great administration without attempting to enumerate the instances in which our contribution has been substantial and effective.

I do not know whether you would like to record our efforts to sustain legislation attacked in the appellate courts as unconstitutional. If you wish to do so, here is the record. We sustained the State Labor Relations Act, the Minimum Wage Act, the Unemployment Compensation Act, the Franchise Tax Act, the Pawnbrokers Act, the Consumers Discount Law, and the Parole Board Law. These are only the more important cases.

This Department has been constantly advising the Departments which it serves upon the general question of the legislation which they should have. We have been rendering this service for four years and, more especially, since the 1941 session of the General Assembly adjourned. Our recommendations in these fields will undoubtedly appear in the reports of the other Departments.

In the field of national defense, we have been responding to your inspiring bugle-calls and marching steadily in line in obedience to your commands.

You will recall that, at your suggestion, I was elected counsel for the State Council of Defense. Thereby, the Department of Justice was drafted for the cause and since then a very large portion of our time and energy has been devoted to the winning of the war. We started when you started; that is, when the National Guard was inducted into the active service of the United States and from that day to this date, the primary concern of this Department has been to uphold and strengthen the mighty arm which you have unstintedly consecrated to the service of the United States Government. For this, we deserve no particular praise nor mention; we were merely following the orders of our Governor whom the occasion made our Commander-in-Chief.

Following your leadership, we dedicated all that we had to national defense. My deputies attended numerous conferences called by the various offices of the Federal Government, assisted in drafting suggestive legislation and generally, placed the facilities of this Department and the Commonwealth at the disposal of the national government. At the same time, this Department has held itself subject to the commands of the executive and legislative branches of the State government for all-out service. Stated in these general terms the record may not seem impressive, but the details would expand this report beyond its proper limits.

I have then, the honor to submit to you an abbreviated report of the work and activities of the Department of Justice during the period beginning with your inauguration January 17, 1939 to December 1, 1942. Virtually all detail has been eliminated in the interests of brevity and I have made an effort to confine myself to the more important aspects only of the department's functions. The picture presented by this report, therefore, will at best and most give one a bird's-eye view only of the workings of the Department of Justice during the designated time.

Part of one of the functions formerly performed at the expense of the Department of Justice has been transferred during this administration, namely, certain powers previously exercised by the Board of Pardons are now performed by the Pennsylvania Board of Parole under the Act of August 6, 1941, P. L. 861. With a few minor exceptions, the constitutionality of this act was successfully defended before the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania in Commonwealth ex rel. Banks v. Cain, No. 43 January Term 1943, decided November 23, 1942.

During this administration numerous cases have been argued by the department before the appellate courts of the Commonwealth and of the United States which were of great public interest and social import. Happily, we were successful in most. Mention of some of these cases will be made hereinafter.

An additional burden was cast upon the Department of Justice by the entry of the Nation into World War II. This burden has been willingly and energetically assumed and carried.

General Functions

The Attorney General is, of course, the chief law officer of the Commonwealth. His various deputies are assigned to advise the different departments, bureaus, boards and commissions of the Commonwealth government. In addition to preparing written formal and informal opinions upon request of our multitudinous clients, we also advise them daily upon legal questions. In short, the Department of Justice is a large law office, serving the corporate body politic. As the individual in these trying and legalistic times must seek the guidance of his attorney, as the corporation must follow constant advice of counsel, so must the various units of our Commonwealth government constantly consult and be guided by the department. And not the least of our duties is that of defending in the courts the many attacks made upon the validity of Acts of the General Assembly.

During your administration it became our unpleasant duty to prosecute a high State official, the Deputy State Treasurer, for the embezzlement of $23,000.00 of Commonwealth funds. All of this money was recovered. The official involved has pleaded nolo contendere in the Dauphin County Court and awaits sentence.

Opinions

The department has rendered 166 formal and 326 informal opinions. I consider it relevant to call attention to the fact that opinions issued by the Department of Justice are not those of an individual, but, rather, represent the considered opinions of myself and my "home-staff" deputies, of whom there are usually twelve. Every opinion, except in emergencies, is circulated amongst these deputies for their concurrence or dissent. Conferences attempt to secure as much unanimity of opinion as is possible consonant with intellectual honesty.

Litigation

As always, the Department of Justice has been engaged in much litigation affecting or involving the Commonwealth or the public interest. A table of cases in the appellate courts only is hereinafter set forth. Many more cases, of course, were tried, argued, or are pending, in the lower courts.

Some of the more important cases follow:

Pennsylvania Railroad Company v. Driscoll et al., 336 Pa. 310 (1939), involved the constitutionality of the Act of June 1, 1937, P. L. 1120, known as the Full Crew Act. The statute would have required railroads to maintain minimum crews on certain trains. The case had once before been before the Pennsylvania Supreme Court (330 Pa. 97), but was remanded to the lower court for the finding of additional facts. The court held that the act was invalid.

In the so-called Convoy Case, Maurer et al v. Boardman et al., 336 Pa. 17 (1939), the Pennsylvania Supreme Court upheld the validity of an amendment to The Vehicle Code prohibiting the carrying of a vehicle or any part thereof above the cab or over the head of the operator of a carrier vehicle. The case was appealed to the Supreme Court of the United States, which affirmed the holding of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court. Maurer et al. v. Hamilton et al., 309 U. S. 598 (1940).

The validity of the statute known as the Store and Theatre Act, the Act of June 5, 1937, P. L. 1656, came before the Pennsylvania Supreme Court in American Stores Company v. Boardman, 336 Pa. 37 (1939). This statute imposed a graduated tax on the operation of stores and theatres within the Commonwealth, depending upon the number operated. The court held that the act was unconstitutional.

The Act of July 14, 1936, P. L. 44, imposing an inheritance tax upon the accrual of the right of survivorship of a joint tenant to property held jointly, was attacked as being in violation of the Constitutions of the Commonwealth and of the United States in Kelly's Estate, 336 Pa. 305 (1939). The validity of the statute was successfully maintained.

The Act of May 6, 1935, P. L. 184, substituted a franchise tax on foreign corporations in lieu of a capital stock tax. This statute was attacked as unconstitutional in the Dauphin County Court which so held. The Pennsylvania Supreme Court in Commonwealth v. Columbia Gas and Electric Corporation, 336 Pa. 209 (1939), sustained the validity of the act.

Ilger v. Boucher et al., 142 Pa. Super. Ct. 114 (1940), and companion cases, were concerned with the constitutionality of the Act of May 13, 1876, P. L. 161, which statute provided, among other things, for double liability of stockholders in banks. He successfully defended the validity of the statute.

The Chester County Court in Commonwealth v. Stewart held that the Act of June 22, 1935, P. L. 414, as amended, in so far as it purported to subject equitable interests of Pennsylvania residents in personal property situate outside the Commonwealth to the personal property tax, was unconstitutional. In an appeal, Commonwealth v. Stewart, 338 Pa. 9 (1940), the Supreme Court reversed the Chester County Court and upheld the validity of the statute. The decision of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court was affirmed by the United States Supreme Court without opinion. Stewart v. Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, 312 U. S. [illegible].

An attack upon the constitutionality of the Milk Control Law of April 28, 1937, P. L. 417, in so far as it relates to the licensing of subdealers, was made in Commonwealth v. Tigini, 138 Pa. Super. Ct. 277 (1940). The attack was successfully resisted and the Superior Court sustained that portion of the law.

In Harrisburg Dairies, Inc. v. Eisaman et al., 338 Pa. 58 (1940), we successfully defended another attack upon the constitutionality of part of the Milk Control Law of 1937.

Still another attack upon the Milk Control Law as to its constitutionality was made in Rieck-McJunkin Dairy Company v. Milk Control Commission of Pennsylvania, 341 Pa. 153 (1941). The department again successfully defended the law before the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

A case of far-reaching import was Commonwealth v. Beisel, 338 Pa. 519 (1940), in which the Supreme Court held, as the Commonwealth contended, that proceeds of life insurance policies payable to the beneficiary in instalments over a period of years were taxable under the State Personal Property Tax Act.

The Fair Sales Act of July 1, 1937, P. L. 2672, was declared unconstitutional in Commonwealth v. Zasloff, 338 Pa. 457 (1940). It was to fill the gap caused by the invalidation of the Fair Sales Act of 1937 that the Unfair Sales Act of August 11, 1941, P. L. 900, referred to hereinafter under "Legislation," was passed.

The Pawnbrokers' License Act of April 6, 1937, P. L. 200, regulating and licensing pawnbrokers, after being suspended from operation by injunctive process was sustained as constitutional by the Supreme Court in Equitable Loan Society, Inc. et al. v. Bell et al., 339 Pa. 449 (1940).

The case of Fidelity-Philadelphia Trust Company et al. v. Hines, 337 Pa. 48 (1940), was prosecuted to a successful conclusion before the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. The importance of the case is that it held that State banks which are members of the Federal Reserve System are subject to The Unemployment Compensation Law. The result was to bring a large number of additional employes within the protection of the law.

The constitutionality of the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Law was upheld in Commonwealth v. Perkins, 342 Pa. 529 (1941).

The Pennsylvania Labor Relations Act of June 1, 1937, P. L. 1168, was upheld as constitutional in United Retail Employees of America, Local No. 134 v. W. T. Grant Company, Inc., 341 Pa. 70 (1941).

The Pennsylvania Alien Registration Act was held unconstitutional in Hines et al. v. Davidowitz et al., 312 U. S. 52 (1941), on the ground that Congress had under the Federal power already occupied the field of alien registration by the Alien Registration Act of 1940.

The Department of Justice filed a brief in behalf of the Commonwealth, thereby joining many other states as amici curiae, in United States v. Appalachian Electric Power Co., 311 U. S. 377 (1940). This case decided that the regulatory power of Congress over any stream which could be made navigable in fact was supreme.

The Act of September 29, 1938, P. L. 53, transferring to the Commonwealth county, city and institution district's property used in the care of mental patients, was attacked as unconstitutional in Chester County Institution District et al. v. Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, et al., and companion cases. 341 Pa. 49 (1941). The Supreme Court sustained the legislation in question.

The Consumer Discount Company Act of April 8, 1937, P. L. 262 was successfully defended by the department as constitutional in the Supreme Court in Equitable Credit and Discount Company v. Geier, 342 Pa. 445 (1941). This case was more or less concerned with the same matters as those involved in Equitable Loan Society, Inc., et al. v. Bell, et al., which upheld the Pawnbrokers License Act.

The Transfer Inheritance Tax imposed on joint bank accounts by the Act of July 14, 1936, P. L. 44, was sustained as constitutional in Cochrane's Estate, 342 Pa. 108 (1941).

The Corporate Net Income Tax Act of May 16, 1935, P. L. 208, as amended April 8, 1937, P. L. 227, was successfully sustained against an attack upon its constitutionality in Commonwealth v. Warner Bros. Theatres, Inc., 345 Pa. 270 (1942).

Commonwealth v. Bayuk Cigars, Inc., 345 Pa. 348 (1942), involved some interpretations of the Corporate Net Income Tax Act of May 6, 1935, P. L. 208, immediately above referred to. The department was successful in sustaining Commonwealth's contentions and there is now pending in the Supreme Court of the United States a petition to review the decision of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court.

In Fisher's Petition, 344 Pa. 96 (1942), the Act of May 27, 1937, P. L. 917, known as the Minimum Wage Law, was upheld by the Supreme Court as constitutional.

The Deficiency Judgment Act of 1941, the Act of July 16, 1941, P. L. 400, was finally upheld as constitutional in The Pennsylvania Company, Etc. v. Scott, No. 102 January Term 1942, by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania December 4, 1942. Certain aspects of this statute had been passed on favorably by the Supreme Court in Fidelity-Philadelphia Trust Company v. Allen, et al., 343 Pa. 428 (1941). In the decisive case, The Pennsylvania Company Case, we intervened for the Commonwealth in defense of the statute.

Legislative Work

During this administration there have been two regular and two special sessions of the General Assembly, the regular 1939 and 1941 sessions and the special sessions of 1940 and 1942.

The practice of the department has been to prepare only administration bills. This we did. We also examined and made recommendations concerning all bills passed, to the Governor.

The Penal Code, the Act of June 24, 1939, P. L. 872, was prepared by the department. This great task accomplished a much needed result, the codification of the penal laws of the Commonwealth. Municipal borrowing laws were also codified.

During the four sessions mentioned we examined and advised you on 935 bills. Of these you approved 791 and vetoed 144.

Some of the outstanding acts passed were those establishing the Department of Commerce; the anti-macing law; the acts repealing the Act of July 30, 1938, P. L. 17, relating to the powers of the Attorney General and district attorneys in investigations or proceedings in the criminal courts, and the Act of July 30, 1938, P. L. 15, regulating investigations by the House of Representatives of charges involving civil officers liable to impeachment; civil service laws for Commonwealth and municipal employees, including the Civil Service Act; establishing higher minimum salaries for teachers; the equitabilization of the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Act; the creation of a State Civil Service Commission; The Pennsylvania Securities Act; laws preferring veterans in appointment to public positions; flood control; the Pennsylvania Occupational Disease Act; the Anthracite Subsidence Commission; commission to study and recommend measures to improve economic and cultural conditions of colored persons; the Pennsylvania Parole Act; deficiency judgments act; providing for issuance of delayed birth certificates; the Western Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission Extension Act; the Pennsylvania Turnpike Philadelphia Extension Act; soldiers' voting laws; the Municipal Borrowing Law; the Unfair Sales Act; the so-called company stores act; laws providing for cooperation with federal and state governments, particularly in matters relating to war and defense; establishing State and local councils of defense; the Air Raid Precautions Act; and reapportionment of the Commonwealth into congressional districts.

Contracts

All contracts to which the Commonwealth or any department, board, commission or officer thereof is a party, must be approved by this department; and all bonds for the faithful performance of their duties by Commonwealth officials must be similarly approved.

During this administration 50,593 such bonds and contracts were approved.

Collections (Including Escheats)

During the designated period the department made collections amounting to $8,316,499.91. These collections included 1,861 claims for corporate taxes, 796 claims for liquid fuels tax, 211 for sales tax, 2,899 for insane maintenance, 1,775 for forest fires, 146 for personal property tax, 35 for bond and coupon defaults, 116 for domestic bonuses, 4,842 miscellaneous and public assistance claims.

Included in the total collections above mentioned were $776,765.57 collected by way of escheat petitions, 578 of which were filed. Escheat matters now pending include those involving unpaid wages and salaries retained by corporations, unclaimed funds in the hands of ex-sheriffs and unclaimed deposits in closed National banks, a successful conclusion of which, it has been estimated, should bring into the State Treasury an amount in excess of $25,000,000.00.

Extraditions

The Department of Justice passes upon, and recommends approval or disapproval of, all requisitions and petitions for the interstate rendition of persons charged with crimes.

We have thus examined 351 petitions of Pennsylvania authorities for requisitions on governors of other states; 362 requisitions of governors of other states; and have held 58 hearings upon protests filed.

Board of Review

By executive orders the Governor created a board of Review in the Department of Justice to aid in and coordinate the administration of the Act of June 7, 1917, P. L. 600, as amended, relating to tenure of positions of, and benefits for dependents of, Commonwealth employes serving in the armed forces of the Nation.

This board has passed upon about 1,700 applications. As of December 1, 1942 the dependents of approximately 1,000 such employes were receiving benefits of about $50,000 monthly.

The department on November 30, 1942 defended the Act of 1917 against an attack upon its validity in the Pennsylvania Supreme Court in Kurtz v. City of Pittsburgh et al., No. 1259 Miscellaneous Docket. No decision has yet been made by the court.

War Activities

Many new problems have faced the department as a result of the entry of our Nation into World War II. Some of these have been mentioned elsewhere herein. We have cooperated closely with the Federal Bureau of Investigation and other Federal agencies in all respects. A perusal of the formal and informal opinions of the department issued during your administration will reveal that many of the questions passed upon arose entirely as a result of the war. A similar review of legislation passed during your administration will manifest the same condition.

Title Work

During the designated period we have approved 285 titles for the Water and Power Resources Board of the Department of Forests and Waters; 24 titles for the Department of Military Affairs; 6 titles for the Fish Commission; 7 titles for the Department of Highways; 328 titles for the Pennsylvania Game Commission; 5 titles for the Department of Forests and Waters; 2 titles for the Department of Welfare; and 1 title for the Deparment of Property and Supplies. This makes a total of 658 titles approved.

We prepared 2 deeds for the Department of Forests and Waters, and 23 for the Department of Property and Supplies. Deeds approved for the Department of Forests and Waters totaled 107; for the Department of Military Affairs, 2; and for the General State Authority, 15. Numerous other contracts relating to real estate and involving various departments of the Commonwealth government were also passed upon or prepared.

Parole Supervision

As noted elsewhere herein parole is now supervised by the Pennsylvania Board of Parole. However, prior to the effective date of the statute establishing said board, June 1, 1942, the Department of Justice had under its supervision over 5,000 Pennsylvania parolees and almost 500 from other states.

Transfer Inheritance Tax

Appeals arising from transfer inheritance tax appraisements in the various counties, other than Philadelphia and Allegheny Counties are referred to this department by the Department of Revenue for attention. This department then refers the appeal to its local counsel in the county involved and authorizes him to represent the Commonwealth in that litigation. If the appeal arises in Dauphin County a representative of the department at the Capitol handles the appeal without assistance of local counsel. In Allegheny and Philadelphia Counties the Register of Wills refers appeals arising in those counties to Special Deputy Attorneys General in those counties who are specially assigned to this type of work.

In order that all appeals assigned to local counsel will be disposed of promptly each file is taken up periodically according to the type of case and if necessary local counsel is requested to give a report of the present status of particular cases or is urged to be more diligent in bringing the case to an early conclusion.

When an appeal case is referred to local counsel it is our established practice to call to his attention any recent decisions that may have been handed down in other counties on the subject involved or to recommend to him what action he should take in any particular case that may be unusual in any respect. Our special deputies in Philadelphia and Allegheny Counties are required to bring to our attention, in Harrisburg, all unusual questions that arise in appeal in those counties. Accordingly this procedure enables the deputy in charge of this work in the Harrisburg office to correlate this entire work and to supervise it thoroughly from the central office in Harrisburg. In particular, this procedure enables us to have counsel withhold from the local courts any case involving a question which has arisen in another county and is about to be tested in the Supreme Court and also permits the department to present a uniform position before the courts of the Commonwealth on any particular legal question on this type of work.

From the beginning of this administration to December 1, 1942, 731 transfer inheritance tax appeals (exclusive of those in Philadelphia and Allegheny Counties) have been closed and any tax due has been paid to the Commonwealth. There are 152 inheritance tax appeals now pending before the Orphans' Courts of the Commonwealth and which remain open upon our books.

Close supervision of the collection of the transfer inheritance tax by this department in the larger counties brings to the State Treasury many dollars in tax money which otherwise would not be received by the Commonwealth. Thus in Philadelphia and Allegheny Counties Special Deputy Attorneys General are appointed to assist the Register of Wills in those counties in collecting the tax. Likewise in a few other counties such as Berks, Lancaster, Lackawanna and Montgomery our salaried attorneys, in addition to their general State legal work, also assist the Register of Wills in collecting this tax. In Delaware County our local counsel, who is on a fee basis, renders such assistance under special agreement without extra compensation. This assistance rendered by our special deputies and our salaried attorneys brings into the State Treasury many dollars of inheritance tax money which otherwise would not be collected. Among other things this assistance takes the form of checking all appraisers, construing wills for appraisers, attending all audits, examining all adjudications, taking exceptions to items of credit which are deemed improper, issuing citations to file accounts or to appear before appraisers of before the Orphans' Court and ordering supplemental appraisements when necessary.

As of December 1, 1942, 17 transfer inheritance tax appeals reached the Supreme Court. Of this number 9 were won, 3 were lost and 5 are still pending. These appellate cases involved important legal questions and involved considerable revenue in that the legal questions were general in nature.

In Commonwealth v. Davis, 345 Pa. 284 (1942), it was held that the Act of May 7, 1927, P. L. 859, as amended, which enables the Commonwealth to take up 80% of the Federal Estate Tax, failed to do so in cases of powers of appointment. Previous to this case our Act of 1927 had been construed to take up the 80% slack in every case where the Federal legislation permitted this to be done. While this case involved a power of appointment the principle laid down in the case may be construed to include other situations with the result that a considerable amount of revenue which has customarily been collected by the Commonwealth may be lost in the future. This situation should be remedied at the forthcoming session of the Legislature.

During the period under review 117 delinquent transfer inheritance tax cases (as distinguished from appeals) were closed. Ninety-two delinquent cases remain open on our books. Many of these delinquent estates involve assets consisting largely of real estate which because of the present market conditions have not been salable. In estates consisting of real estate the Commonwealth has a transfer inheritance tax lien on the estate. If this department could have a salaried attorney in every county who could supervise the transfer inheritance tax work as is done in the counties mentioned earlier in this review, considerable more transfer inheritance tax would be collected which is not being collected at the present time.

Personal Property tax

The Act of June 22, 1935, P. L. 414 imposed a State personal property tax as an emergency measure. This has been reenacted on several occasions and is still in force. Prior to 1935 there was no State personal property tax. Under the provisions of this act appeals are required to be taken to the local courts of common pleas, with the result that these appeals are handled by this department in substantially the same manner as merchantile license tax and transfer inheritance tax appeals.

From the beginning of this administration to December 1, 1942, 12 personal property tax appeals (exclusive of those in Philadelphia and Allegheny Counties) have been closed and any tax due has been paid to the Commonwealth. There are 28 appeals now pending before the lower courts of the Commonwealth and which remain open upon our books (exclusive of Philadelphia and Allegheny Counties).

Between June 1, 1939 and December 1, 1942 the Commonwealth collected $32,578,226 of personal property taxes, a portion of which was collected through the assistance of this department.

During the period under review 11 personal property tax appeals reached the Supreme Court. Of these appeals 6 were won, 2 were lost and 3 are pending. Outstanding cases relating to personal property tax are mentioned herein under "Litigation."

Mercantile License Tax

Under the law the mercantile license tax is collected by county treasurers who act as agents of the Commonwealth under the supervision of the Department of Revenue. Appeals arising under the mercantile license tax law are handled in the same manner outlined above with respect to transfer inheriteance tax appeals.

From the beginning of this administration to December 1, 1942, 60 mercantile license tax appeals (exclusive of those in Philadelphia and Allegheny Counties) have been closed and any tax due has been paid to the Commonwealth. There are 88 appeals and delinquent accounts now pending before the lower courts of the Commonwealth and which remain open upon our books. Between June 1, 1939 and December 1, 1942 the Commonwealth collected $13,978,640 of mercantile license taxes, a portion of which was collected through the assistance of this department.

During the period under review 13 mercantile license tax appeals reached the Supreme Court. Of these appeals 6 were won, 3 were lost and 4 are pending.

Department of Highways

An immense volume of work devolves upon the department of Justice in legal matters involving the Department of Highways. During the designated period there have been 645 land damage cases throughout the Commonwealth due to condemnations for road purposes. All of these are supervised by this department. Of this number 395 cases have been completed, 121 of which were appealed to the courts from boards of viewers, and 8 of which ended in the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. Approximately 250 cases are still pending before viewers and the courts. It may be noted that during the previous administration there were only 135 land damage cases.

The Department also collected for the Department of Highways $81,895.22.

Conclusion

It has been a high privilege to serve you and, under you, the people of the Commonwealth. For your call to service and for your cordial co-operation, your wise counsel and steady support and, above all, your inspiring leadership, I thank you most heartily.

I need not tell you that whatever this Department has accomplished has been due to the capable, loyal and devoted assistance generously rendered by the men and women who compose it. To them I tender my sincere thanks.

Very truly yours

CLAUDE T. RENO, Attorney General.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION

Harrisburg, December 11, 1942.

Dear Governor James:

I am submitting herewith respectfully a report relating to your final message.

Department Organization and Administration

Department Reorganization. The efficiency of the Department has been improved (a) by creating an additional Deputy Superintendent whose specific responsibility is in the fields of professional and occupational credentials and licensing; (b) by creating the Bureau of School Administration and attaching the position of Comptroller directly to the Superintendent's Office, thereby redistributing work formerly handled by the Bureau of Administration and Finance and (c) by placing under the immediate responsibility of the Superintendent the following functions which cross-cut all agencies of the Department, personnel, publications, legal advice and budget control.

Tenure Hearings. Among the new duties of the Superintendent of Public Instruction during this administration is that of holding hearings on appeals under the Tenure Act as required by the 1939 amendments to the Teachers' Tenure Law. To date 54 appeals have been received, and 51 hearings have been held. Of these 24 cases have been appealed to the courts. The courts have sustained the Superintendent in 12 of these cases while 4 cases are still pending in the courts.

Public Schools. In the field of general school administration the following achievements of your administration have been outstanding: (a) Providing the legislation and necessary appropriation for the salary increases for teachers in school districts of the fourth class (b) providing the necessary appropriation to make effective a Statewide system for the supervision of Special Education; and (c) making available the necessary appropriation for an enlarged program of transportation and tuition.

War Impact. The work of the educational system of the State in general and of all agencies within the D partment have felt the impact of the war.

State Council of Education. A number of importa actions have been taken during this administration b the State Council of Education including (a) Provisio for certain college graduates to begin teaching and a the same time secure the necessary professional qualifi cations; (b) Expansion of the secondary courses of study to include aeronautical education, pre-induction educa tion, consumer education and conservation education, and (c) Administration of Federal Funds for Vocational Edu cation for National Defense and the War Production Workers Program, including the organization of the Penn sylvania State School of Aeronautics. This general pro gram is one of the largest of all the States of the Union.

One of the important Acts passed by Legislature is Act No. 234 which permits State Teachers Colleges with the approval of the State Council of Defense and the State Council of Education to cooperate with Federal, State and Municipal agencies in advancing the war effort.

Legislation

While there are a number of items of legislative need dealing with minor adjustments and clarifications, it appears that the large problems have to do with:

Provision for equalizing educational opportunity through equalizing the local purchasing power of school districts. This involves (a) agreement upon the minimum essentials of an education program, and (b) such matters as equalization of local taxes, larger units of school administration, relative distribution of State and local funds and many other related items which have been surveyed and studied for many years.

Legislation making it possible for salaries of school personnel in local districts to keep abreast with the increasing cost of living.

Provision for either general or specific legislation making it possible for the Superintendent and the local school officials to adapt readily the educational programs to meet wartime emergencies. These include such items as adjusting the length of the school year, adjusting the length of the school week, adjusting the length of the school day, adjusting compulsory attendance regulations and emergency work permits, adjusting transportation facilities and regulations, adjusting attendance areas of pupil assignments, adjusting teacher assignments. Such adjustments are from the point of view of temporary measures only for the duration.

Survey and codification of the various acts and regulations relating to professional and occupational licenses is a future need.

Significant Achievements

The impact of the war has affected and modified the work of the educational system of the State, of this Department, and of its personnel. The Department has had to adapt its existing organization and administration procedures to wartime needs and to cooperate with governmental agencies in many new activities. Adjustment of our educational program to the State's urgent need began months before Pearl Harbor. Our broad Vocational Education National Defense Program began during the summer of 1940. The State Advisory Committee for Defense Training to the State Board for Vocational Education was organized September 24, 1940. "Education and Defense" (Bulletin No. 6) was issued by the State Council of Defense in May 1941. The Council of State Administrators began its meetings July 22, 1941. The Advisory Committee on Education to the State Council of Defense held its first meeing on September 30, 1941. "The Schools and National Defense (Bulletin No. 22)—Recommendations of the Advisory Committee on Education" was issued by the State Council of Defense in November 1941. This bulletin was reprinted in the January 1942 issue of the Pennsylvania School Journal. "The Impact of National Defense on Education" appeared in the April 1942 issue of Public Instruction, the official bulletin of the Department. A special report has recently been made by the Superintendent of Public Instruction to Governor James on "The Impact of the War on the Educational System of Pennsylvania."

In addition to these activities the instructional personnel, the general employes, the school children throughout the State have cooperated in a wide variety of activities including draft registration, rationing programs, war bond and stamp sales, salvage campaigns, civilian defense and Red Cross work.

One of the activities which is of major importance in the Department of Public Instruction has been the training of War production workers. In furthering this program, Pennsylvania ranks third in the total number trained for war production and ranks first in the number trained for the machine tool trades. By the middle of November, 1942, the total number trained had reached [illegible],347 of whom 31,664 were women. Especially worthy of mention in this connection is the substantial assistance given to farmers. This has been largely in the nature of training of farm youth in the repair of farm machinery and in methods of increasing the production of eggs, milk, meat, and other essential farm commodities.

In carrying out the program of vocational industrial education the Department has cooperated extensively with numerous other agencies such as the Army, the Navy, the United States Coast Guard Service, the United States Merchant Marine, companies and industries engaged in specific war production activities and agencies engaged in general radio repair.

Especially outstanding as an effective portion of the training of war production workers is the organization and operation of the Pennsylvania State School of Aeronautics. This program of training was inaugurated under the direction of the State Board for Vocational Education in cooperation with the State Farm Show Commission. The funds for obtaining and placing the more than $2,000,000 worth of equipment and covering the other financial obligations were supplied by the Federal government either directly to the State Board for Vocational Education or through the Middletown Air Depot. The school covers a floor area of approximately thirteen acres and provides for training in twenty classifications of aircraft maintenance occupations. At the peak of its activity on a two-shift day, enrollment reached 4,200. During the first six months of operation more than 4,800 workers were graduated and passed on to the Middletown Air Depot for additional specialized preparation. This program is regarded generally as one of the largest cooperative training enterprises for the war effort in the United States.

Consolidation and Transportation. Notwithstanding the obstacles presented by shortage of transportation facilities there were 109 new consolidations of schools during the past four years resulting in the elimination of 416 one-teacher schools and the providing of enriched offerings of educational opportunities to 24,000 rural students. Consequently there are now 1,009 consolidated schools in Pennsylvania, replacing 5,000 one-room schools and accommodating more than 261,000 rural children. The transportation of school pupils has expanded until now about two-thirds of the school districts of the Commonwealth provide some form of this service. The cost of transportation together with the cost of tuition for pupils who obtain educational benefits outside their home districts is taken care of by liberal increases in State subsidies provided by the present Administration.

The increased appropriation for transportation for the current biennium is $2,729,500. The increased appropriation for the support of public schools is $7,870,210. This amount includes an item of $2,798,930 which was specifically appropriated to increase the salaries of teachers in fourth class districts.

Public Work Reserve. In looking forward to the period immediately following the wartime emergency, the Department has participated extensively in the Public Work Reserve Program with the result that 228 tentative school building projects have been set up for immediate post-war consideration.

Professional Licensing. In the Bureau of Professional Licensing there has been a substantial decrease in personnel but a definite expansion in some phases of the activities. With the appropriation for the current biennium increased by nearly one-seventh, it has been possible for the Bureau to conduct more frequent meetings of the various examining boards. Much also has been accomplished in speeding up the scoring of examinations and the determination and announcement of examination results. There has also been a definite acceleration in the issuance of licenses and in the annual license renewals.

While the total number of hearings on alleged violations of licensing laws has not increased, nevertheless, the percentage of convictions resulting from these hearings has been substantially increased. The Bureau has consistently adhered to the policy that it will refrain from undertaking or enforcing regulations not specifically designated or clearly implied in the licensing laws.

Teacher Education. The program of teacher education presented several very difficult yet highly important problems. The fields of opportunity for war workers have made serious inroads on teaching staffs in many communities, necessitating the meeting of unusual demands for teacher supply. Likewise the opening of numerous fields of new educational activity has made it necessary to adjust certification regulations to the special needs of certification in many new and diversified fields. Some of the special fields for which it has been necessary to readjust the program of education and certification of teachers are aeronautics, consumer education, safety education, conservation education, and the various fields of teaching coming under the training of war production workers. More than five thousand teachers were employed by local school districts to teach war production workers. In-service programs were immediately devised to assist these teachers who for the large part were employes in industries. Safety education was stressed and the first seminar for college instructors in Safety Education was held during this administration.

State Library and Museum. The State Library and Museum during the past four years has shown a quiet but efficient record of progress. Nearly 400,000 general works, 100,000 government documents, countless archives in the State Library; and 99,000 lantern slides, 110,000 artifacts, relics, specimens and art objects in the State Museum give the twin institutions high rank among those of our sister states. The book collection of the Extension Division grew from 76,500 to 103,200, a gain of 34%. County library subsidies were increased from $28,000 to $55,000 to match the unprecedented growth in the establishment of free, non-sectarian, county libraries from 10 to 19. Pennsylvania has been a pioneer in promoting library service to rural areas.

Even before Pearl Harbor the State Library and Museum directly and also indirectly, in its semi-official relationship with libraries throughout the Commonwealth, began directing its activities toward the war effort. The regular book and informational services of the various library divisions have been in increased demand for military purposes, both to individual officers and to the local training schools, such as the Army Air Force Intelligence School at the old Harrisburg Academy. The Extension Division continues to cooperate closely with libraries serving military areas and to furnish direct book service to those areas, e. g. Cumberland County, not adequately served by county or local public libraries. The Pennsylvania Victory Book Campaign was instrumental in collecting over one million books for our armed forces. There has been a close tie-up between the State Library and Museum and various war informational and morale activities, the director being an ex officio member of various state war committees.

Historical Commission. The activities of the Historical Commission have steadily expanded with the purpose of making Pennsylvanians more conscious of their rich historical heritage. Development of the historic shrines went rapidly forward, while the publications of the Commission made outstanding contributions to Pennsylvania history and archaeology. With the entry of the United States into the war, the Historical Commission quite properly transferred major emphasis to wartime activities, recording the story of Pennsylvania's part in the war effort, developing a morale program in cooperation with the State Defense Council, and promoting the conservation of historical records.

On January 21, 1942, the Historical Commission was designated by the State Council of Defense, as the agency responsible for collecting and recording the sources essential for a complete record of Pennsylvania war effort, thus gathering facts for the full history, to be written after the war. It now prepares a newspaper column on "The State At War," and publishes pamphlets on various phases of the war activities.

In its morale activities, the Commission cooperates with the American Unity Committee. Twenty-six stations now carry the Pennsylvania—Keystone of Democracy radio series, with the message that Pennsylvania in view of her great past has a special responsibility today. A similar newspaper series carries the same message. Nine pamphlets have also been distributed to schools and clubs, to encourage the use of State history in building morale. The Commission has been actively promoting Junior Historian Clubs in the schools, a fundamental morale activity, for the children who today take pride in our historic heritage will be patriotic citizens tomorrow.

A major duty of the Commission, in both war and peace, is to help in preserving records and relics of the past. It now maintains ten historic properties, which have been kept in a condition befitting the shrines of a great Commonwealth.

Public School Employes' Retirement System. During the present State Administration the Public School Employes' Retirement System has continued to be actuarally sound and in first-class condition.

The present membership of the Retirement System, including retired employes, is 83,483.

During the past four years a total of $15,509,490.90 was paid for superannuation and $1,866,346.81 for disability retirement allowances, and $128,927,914.12 was invested by the Retirement Board.

The average age of those retired for superannuation was sixty-six and the average of those retired for disability was fifty-four years.

In order to justify the support of a School Employes' Retirement System by the tax-paying public the school system as well as the employes should be benefitted. An adequate Retirement System will help to keep in school service well prepared and experienced teachers. With the assurance of a retirement allowance in case either of disability or superannuation a teacher with a number of years of experience will hesitate to leave school service even though a higher salary may be secured in some other occupation.

The money paid by the public as the public's share of the cost of the retirement allowances increases the efficiency of our schools as much as, if not more than, any other similar amount of money contributed by the public for the support of schools.

Deputy Superintendent and Bureau Chiefs

During the present administration the most significant obligations in the nature of legal affairs have grown out of the provisions of the 1939 amendments to the Teachers' Tenure Law. These amendments placed upon the Superintendent of Public Instruction two new and significant duties: First, the duty of establishing a rating system to be used by county and district superintendents in evaluating the competency of teachers in the public schools, and secondly, the obligation of hearing appeals taken from the decisions of local boards of school directors in cases involving dismissal or demotion of teachers.

In discharging these obligations, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, after consultation with numerous committees and individuals representing all types of educational interests within the Commonwealth, has developed a standard official form for the evaluation of the effectiveness of the work of teachers on probation and other teachers who are under consideration for suspension when conditions within a district have become such as to make it advisable to reduce the size of the teaching staff. The type of rating system thus established has been in the nature of a rather simple checking device which can be supplemented by such anecdotal records as the local superintendent desires to preserve. Moreover, the new rating system has been merged with the plan of rating which has been in operation for many years in connection with the permanent certification of teachers.

In the matter of hearings of appeals under the Teachers' Tenure Act, fifty-three cases have come before the Superintendent of Public Instruction and opinions have been written in forty-nine of these cases. Two were disposed of without formal opinion and two remain on schedule for hearing and consideration.

In addition to discharging the responsibilities regularly resting upon the State Council of Education, the Council during the present administration has been confronted with a number of major problems. One of the most significant activities has been in connection with the authorization of State Teachers Colleges to participate in the war effort by making the facilities of these institutions available for various programs of training activities. Largely through the efforts of the State Council of Education, the General Assembly of 1941 amended the school laws in such manner as to make it permissible for any State Teachers College, upon request of the State Council of Defense and with approval of the State Council of Education, to cooperate with municipal, State, Federal and other agencies in the furtherance of national defense programs and activities and to enter into agreements necessary to carry out such purposes.

Another problem met by the State Council of Education has been the necessity of considering approval of new activities and subjects of instruction for the public schools in view of the fact that the School Code provides that subjects other than those specifically required by law may be approved or required by the State Council of Education. In line with this authority and obligation, the State Council has placed its approval upon the following additional subjects: aeronautics, pre-induction education, consumer education and conservation education. Parallel to the problems involving new subject matter have been the problems of expanding and revising the regulations pertaining to certification of teachers. Such changes and adjustments have been made to make it possible to provide certification for each of the new subjects and activities approved by the State Council, including certification in safety education, aeronautics, pre-induction education, consumer education and conservation education.

Moreover, the State Council of Education has recognized the need of meeting squarely the necessity of taking such steps as may be required to assume all pupils of the public schools adequate instruction in the history of the United States and of the State of Pennsylvania. To that end additional emphasis has been placed upon the offering of courses in history, both in the elementary schools and in the high schools, and upon requiring adequate preparation for the teaching of history as a condition which must be met by any teacher hereafter applying for any type of certificate in Pennsylvania.

In the capacity of State Board for Vocational Education, the State Council of Education has not only carried on its usual activities regarding the extensive program of vocational education in this State but also has met a number of unusual situations growing out of the wartime emergency. The whole program of defense training, details of which have been enumerated in another portion of this report, has been, under the requirements of law, a responsibility which has ultimately rested upon the State Board for Vocational Education. Moreover, the State Board for Vocational Education has taken the essential steps for establishing and operating the Pennsylvania State School of Aeronautics, through cooperation with the Farm Show Commission. Details of this program have been given elsewhere in this report. Through the provision made by the State Board for Vocational Education for the Public Service Institute invaluable assistance also has been rendered to the State Council of Defense in connection with the extensive program of civilian defense developed by that body.

Professional Licensing

For the protection of the public, occupational and professional licensure has been found necessary. Consideration of licensure, therefore, on this basis places it foremost among public interests. To meet the purpose for which licensure laws have been enacted, the Department and the Licensing Boards are firmly convinced that care in the selection and education of applicants to be admitted to practice is of chief importance.

The volume of detail incident to issuing and renewing licenses and registrations and the prosecutions of alleged violations tends somewhat to detract attention from proper consideration of the qualifications required for safe practitioners. Improved administrative practices in the various offices responsible for issuing and renewing licenses and registrations have eliminated the delays and misunderstandings so that complaints in this connection have been reduced to a minimum. This improvement has been brought about with a personnel numbering less than two-thirds of that employed during the previous administration.

Representatives of the Department during the present administration have exerted their best efforts to eliminate an apparent antipathy that existed among members of boards representing various professions and the Department. An increase of approximately one-seventh in the present biennial appropriation to the Department for Licensing Boards has made available a greater amount of funds for administering examinations, additional meetings of boards, and for the printing of up-to-date lists of licensees. Provision for doing these things desired by board members has done much to dispel previous feelings of resentment toward the Department.

The Department has consistently followed the policy that its functions are prescribed by legislative enactment. It does not assume authority to take action where statutory authority is lacking. The soundness of this policy and its acceptance by those interested is evidenced by the wholehearted spirit of cooperation that has been developed and that is now existing.

The following illustrations show the efforts put forth by administrative boards to meet the purposes for which they have been created, namely, to make sure that adequate standards of preparation are maintained and that qualified individuals are admitted to practice:

The State Board of Examiners for Registration of Nurses in addition to having its representatives regularly inspect each training school for nurses has forwarded to each school a graphic representation of the results obtained by its graduates in each phase of the examination for registration. This service has been of real value to the schools in giving those in charge actual data relative to the adequacy of their instruction.

The State Board of Medical Education and Licensure has inspected hospitals approved for internship training during the past two years. These inspections, which were discontinued in 1935, have revealed that in some instances proper records were not being maintained and that interns were not actually afforded an opportunity to obtain the prescribed hospital experience. The inspections have cleared the unsatisfactory situations. At the present time interns are enabled to meet the prescribed internship requirements.

The State Dental Council and Examining Board has visited the approved dental schools of the State. Reorganization of schools and of instructional departments has been effected to carry out recommendations made by board members. Furthermore, internship facilities for dental hygienists are now being inspected by board members so that dental hygiene internship will be approved only in instances where the services performed by the intern are under the supervision of a licensed dentist.

Instruction

When the country embarked on the defense preparation program of July, 1940, Pennsylvania was fortunate to have many well-equipped trade and industrial shops ready to train workers for the defense industries. To this original equipment, the Federal Government has furnished more than $3,000,000 worth of additional equipment and has appropriated to the State more than $14,000,000 to finance the training of defense industry workers so designated to December 7, 1942, and since then called war production workers.

In the nation-wide war production training program, Pennsylvania ranks third in the number of persons trained for war industries. California ranks first and New York second. However, Pennsylvania ranks first in the training of persons for the machine tool-trades which have been of primary importance since the vocational training programs began in July, 1940.

In the pre-employment and supplementary courses 252,347 persons have been trained to date with placement in industry recorded for practically every one of these individuals. The public vocational schools, to achieve this record, have been operating 24 hours a day, 365 days a year since July 1, 1940.

Prior to this defense and war production training program, Pennsylvania had a State retaining program which was instrumental in training large numbers of unemployed individuals who were subsequently placed in gainful employment. The cost of training a man from an unemployment status for gainful employment is less than $50 per individual, compared to the $330 annual cost of maintaining a man on relief.

Vocational Industrial Education's big job in the past has been to cooperate with industry, but it has been found in the present war production training program that many other agencies are interested in graduates of these classes. Some of these agencies are:

General industrial needs with specific companies asking for special courses.

The Army Air Force has asked for cooperation especially with the establishment of the Pennsylvania State School of Aeronautics at Harrisburg. All phases of aviation trades are taught and mechanic learners graduating from the school go directly to employment with the Air Corps.

Courses for the U. S. Navy civilian personnel are in operation in the Philadelphia schools with special emphasis on that type of work needed by the Philadelphia Navy Yard.

The Coast Guard has requested training for deck hands, engine room personnel, cookery and other similar occupations.

Over 2000 persons are now in training in general radio repair for the Signal Corps Depot at Philadelphia. These courses are in operation in eleven centers throughout the State.

The U. S. Merchant Marine and the Frankford Arsenal are other examples of cooperation with agencies other than industry.

Before July 1, 1942 the War Production Training Program for rural persons was an out-of-school youth program and did not contain any provisions for the training of rural persons over 26 years of age. Over 15,000 rural youth in 178 training centers were given general training in the operation, care, and repair of tractors, trucks, and automobiles; in metalworking, carpentry, and elementary electricity.

Since July, 1942, the rural war production training program is designed primarily to help the farmer attain commodity production goals through the repair and reconditioning of farm machinery and equipment and through the use of improved practices in increasing the production of certain farm commodities.

The departments of vocational agriculture in the high schools of Pennsylvania now have become centers for the repair and reconditioning of farm machinery, tractors, and trucks, and such farm equipment as brooder houses, hog houses, milk houses, feeding and watering equipment. Instruction is also being provided in hot and cold metalwork, tool sharpening, and the use of hand and machine tools. Such courses have been provided in over 100 centers.

The war with its needs for increased production of farm commodities has intensified the problems of planning in the "Food for Victory" program. Plans have been carefully worked out to provide courses of instruction to increase the production of milk, eggs, poultry, pork, beef, mutton, soy beans and vegetables. Each course of instruction includes jobs and problems having the greatest immediate influence upon increased production, now vitally important to the war effort.

The Pennsylvania State School of Aeronautics, started in March, 1942, was the result of in-plant training begun March, 1941, on a large scale for the Air Corps. With the leasing of the State Farm Show Building in Harrisburg by the State Board of Vocational Education from the Farm Show Commission, a floor area of nearly thirteen acres was rapidly converted for school purposes by the installation of classrooms and equipment. Engineering equipment and training personnel began occupation of the building on March 16, 1942.

The Department of Public Instruction immediately supplemented these efforts by securing equipment, teaching personnel and training specialists to cooperate in carrying on the program. Within six months of operation the school had given short specialized courses of approximately twelve weeks in twenty classifications of aircraft maintenance occupations. The peak enrolment was 4200 people in training on two shifts. Forty-eight hundred persons were graduated within six months and sent to the Middletown Air Depot or sub-depots in the Middletown control area. These people ranged between the ages of 16 and 75, including approximately 15 per cent women and 12 per cent negroes. The trainees were already Civil Service employees of the depot when they reported for training and received standard pay while in training. Occupational placement and training was the function of the school.

During the past four years the Public Service Institute, a new unit of the Bureau of Instruction, Department of Public Instruction, has brought to the citizens of Pennsylvania a training program for local government officials and public service employees in many different fields.

The Institute has provided training for approximately 27,500 firemen, policemen, school board secretaries, and correctional workers (parole, probation officers, and prison guards). Approximately 1,000 tax assessors or one-third in the entire State have received a course in training in the fundamentals of tax assessing. Institutes for training custodians of public buildings have been held in various colleges and universities throughout Pennsylvania.

In September 1941 the Public Service Institute was designated to head the Civilian Defense training program for the State Council of Defense. The Public Service Institute, with the aid of the Institute of Local and State Government at the Universiy of Pennsylvania, prepared manuals for air raid wardens, fire wachers, auxiliary police, control center telephonists, forest fire fighters service, and its own basic manual. These have been widely acclaimed both by the Commonwealth and throughout the United States.

Through the Pennsylvania program of Extension Education, public schools have served in equalizing educational opportunity throughout the Commonwealth. Many thousands of out-of-school youths and adults have been given educational opportunities through public evening elementary and secondary schools for adults and through community programs for the maintenance of which the regular Edmonds' Aid is available.

In addition to the many wartime refresher courses established, the effort to reduce illiteracy in Pennsylvania and to effect a more genuine assimilation of foreign-born population, the School Extension program of literacy and citizenship classes for immigrants and native illiterates, has continued to enroll thousands of such adults. The Department of Public Instruction has cooperated fully with the U. S. Department of Justice in the furtherance of the National Citizenship Education Program and has sponsored the WPA program of literacy and citizenship education.

School lunches have taken a prominent part in the statewide program of nutrition for the past four years. The school lunch program as an integral part of the health program in the public schools in Pennsylvania has been given considerable impetus since the beginning of the past school year in both rural and urban areas as the result of an extensive survey made last year under the auspices of the Council of Nutrition in cooperation with the Department of Public Instruction. In rural areas especially, school lunch programs have been organized for the first time this year to take care of the nutritional needs of pupils. P.T.A. groups have taken an active part in organizing and conducting these programs with the assistance of Home Economics teachers and County Advisors.

The need to employ an increasing number of women in war industries and at the same time maintain the highest possible level of child well-being, is making necessary an expanded program of services to children. To this end, the Department of Public Instruction has cooperated with other departments and agencies in studying this need and developing plans to meet it. A program of extended school services is being recommended in those areas of the State where employment of mothers is expanding. All-day programs for school age children and nursery schools for preschool children are possibilities which are being explored.

The Interdepartmental Committee on Safety Education comprising representatives from the following departments of the State Government—Department of Revenue, Department of Highways, State Motor Police, and the Department of Public Instruction—was organized in the fall of 1939 with the approval of Governor James. The purpose of this committee was to determine what steps should be taken to reduce the number of accidents and fatalities on the highways and to approach constructively the problem of making the highways safe for children and adults. Since its organization, the committee has met regularly each month to consider plans and proposals for implementing the objectives of the committee. As a result of their deliberations, the following program has been carried out:

During the past several years the Department of Public Instruction distributed to public and private high schools of the Commonwealth five thousand copies each of Man and the Motor Car and Sportsmanlike Driving. Several hundred copies of Bulletins 390, 391 and 392—Education for Traffic Safety, Standards for the Operation of School Safety Patrols, Safety Education in the Public Schools—were distributed to school administrators and teachers upon the receipt of requests from them.

Because of the urgent need for prepared teachers in the field of highway safety, the Interdepartmental Committee on Safety Education sponsored the First Annual Seminar for College Instructors in Pennsylvania in traffic safety education during the latter part of October, 1941. Instructors in approved institutions of higher learning were invited to participate in the Seminar. Representatives from more than twenty-five colleges and universities accepted the invitation, and were in attendance at the several sessions of the Seminar. The First Annual Seminar on Traffic Safety was followed by a series of conferences on safety education at the State Teachers Colleges. The purpose of these conferences was to aid and sustain national defense by enlisting the active interest and participation of students, faculty, and public in traffic safety, thereby creating a three-fold conservation program: (1) lives, (2) gasoline, (3) rubber.

Recognizing the importance of safety in transportation of pupils, conferences for school bus drivers were held in several of the State Teachers Colleges during the school years 1941-42 and 1942-43. In these conferences emphasis was placed on the (1) conservation of buses, tires, and gasoline through skillful operation on the part of the driver, (2) efficient routing and related topics such as the schedule, stops, and bus loading, (3) operation and preventative maintenance, (4) knowledge of traffic laws, (5) responsibility of driver, relation with pupils and (6) first-aid instruction.

Pennsylvania secondary schools have modified their curricular offerings and the organization of their extra-curricular activities to meet wartime needs for trained manpower in the armed forces in industry and in community services. Major curriculum extensions are evidenced by the establishment of courses in pre-flight areonautics and in the five areas of preinduction training, namely, fundamentals of machines, of electricity, of automotive mechanics, of radio, and of shopwork. These new courses are designed to give pupils such foundational science concepts in their several fields as to shorten the period of technical training when the student enters the armed forces, productive industry, or community service.

Since the purposes of these courses can be achieved in classrooms and laboratories, supplemented by some additional desirable apparatus and visual aids, our schools have been able to participate much more widely than if extensive and expensive equipment were required.

Instruction in pre-flight aeronautics on the secondary level was begun in a few of the schools as early as the school year 1941-42. On May 11 and 12, 1942, the Department of Public Instruction conducted in Harrisburg a State-wide conference. Half the time of this conference was given to the consideration of education for the air age. Following this conference, other conferences were held, and the opening of school in September, 1942, found, according to reports in the hands of the Department of Public Instruction, nearly 200 schools prepared to offer pre-flight aeronautics in the first semester, although at this time there had been published only a minimum of textbook and other aids for conducting such courses.

The interest of both pupils and schools in extending this field of instruction is wide-spread, and reports now show that many additional schools will include this subject in their offering for the second semester.

The organization of war-related efforts of the school and the recognition of pupil participation in these efforts are implemented by the High School Victory Corps plan concurrently announced by the U. S. Office of Education and the Department of Public Instruction on September 25. The Victory Corps plan was in operation in a number of our schools a month after its announcement, and is now being rapidly extended to meet most of the high schools in the State.

The Division of Health and Physical Education has been called upon for extensive assistance in the preparation of a Physical Fitness Manual for the high schools of the United States. This manual was prepared by the U. S. Office of Education with the collaboration of the Army, Navy, and Air forces. It has aided the schools in developing the high degree of physical fitness which is so necessary for the boys and girls who are entering the armed forces and industry.

During the past four years 3,407 physically handicapped persons were restored to normal employment through the service of vocational rehabilitation. This is an increase of 1,000 over the previous four year period. One thousand nine hundred and ninety-nine of these cases were trained for the occupations they accepted, which is an increase of at least 1,200 over the last administration. Eight hundred and eighty-eight persons were provided with artificial appliances to enable them to enter training or become fitted for employment. The rest were assisted in finding suitable positions in order that they might again become economically independent.

In the field of special education, Pennsylvania may well be proud that leadership among the states has been taken in meeting the needs of exceptional children. Nearly everyone subscribes to the philosophy that education in a democracy means providing for every child the type of education which will best meet his needs and best serve society by developing his abilities to their optimum values. Pennsylvania's legislature has done more than give lip service to this philosophy. It has been instrumental by setting up a program of supervision of special education, by which all fourth class districts now have the services of certified psychologists to diagnose and set up programs for the special problems of the mentally superior, the mentally retarded, the blind and partially sighted, the deaf and hard-of-hearing, the crippled, the speech defectives, and the physically delicate. It is particularly significant that the 36 full-time supervisors now appointed are highly trained both as teachers and as psychologists, and are working in the small districts which otherwise could not hope to have such services. They are rendering invaluable services to the juvenile courts, and to all agencies concerned with the welfare of children, as well as to the schools. Further progress is shown by the program of audiometric testing, financed and supervised by the State, and designed to locate deaf or hard-of-hearing children at an early age in order that their speech may be preserved and their learnings increased. We hope that such a program of special education may well hold its own during this period of war that the schools may increasingly serve the concept of democracy in peace.

At a meeting of national school leaders, a National leader in education made the statement that the most significant educational development in America was the provision of this special education service in Pennsylvania.

Activities Resulting From the War

Activities of Advisory Council (to be reported from another source.)

Registration for Sugar and Gasoline Consumption and Serial Numbers of Tires. The public schools through the additional assistance of volunteer help from agencies such as local civilian defense groups were responsible for registration of approximately 89,000 trade outlets, between nine and ten million individual consumers, and approximately one million motor vehicle registrants during both periods of emergency and permanent rationing of gasoline. The success with which this work was done is manifest by favorable commendations given by the press, the radio and the theater. Permanent gasoline rationing registration was conducted in the schools of the twenty-five unrationed western counties. The public schools of the rationed areas assisted in the registration of serial numbers of tires, in all of the rationed areas except Scranton, where the executive ration director conducted the program through local gasoline stations.

Departmental Cooperation with Federal Authorities in Administration of the Community Facilities Bill—designed to provide needed school facilities resulting from influx of war workers shows that Sixteen school districts have received approximately $75,000 to assist them in current operating expenses.

Four school districts now have school buildings under construction.

Twleve applications have been withheld.

Ten applications have been modified.

Three applications are pending.

Three applications are being continued on original basis.

Priority Ratings. Twenty-one school districts were visited by representatives of this Department at the request of the War Production Board to assist the Office of Education in determining priority ratings in connection with building materials or heating equipment.

The Public Works Reserve Program. Designed to provide a long range plan for post-war public service and capital improvement has resulted in 228 tentative building proposals being filed with this Department which, if approved, will be forwarded through channels to federal authorities having jurisdiction.

The Civilian Evacuation Program. As it applies to the schools has been coordinated with plans projected by the State Council of Defense and now awaits the assignments of evacuation areas and reception centers by the War Department.

The Typewriter Procurement Program. Requesting the sale of 20 per cent of the school typewriters for the use of our armed forces is being cleared through this department.

The Rationing of New School Buses. Calls for Certificates of Necessity to be issued by the Superintendent of Public Instruction. These are based upon county-wide surveys to establish need.

State Library and Museum

The State Library and Museum directly and also indirectly, in its semi-official relationship with libraries throughout the Commonwealth, began directing its activities toward the war effort even before Pearl Harbor. According to Elmer Davis, Director of the Office of War Information, the duty of libraries in presenting war facts to the people is of first and pressing importance, and American librarians have already accepted this war challenge. This summarizes well the spirit and the record of the work done by the libraries throughout our Commonwealth.

The regular book and informational services of the various library divisions have been in increased demand for military purposes, both to individual officers and to the local training schools, such as the Army Air Force Intelligence School. Another example was the call made on the Law Library by the Library of Congress to act as a local center for books on military jurisprudence. The extension Division continues to cooperate closely with libraries serving military areas and to furnish direct book service to those areas.

The quota for Pennsylvania of one million books for our armed forces, one-tenth of the national goal, was attained on June 3, 1942, and the event was made the occasion of a ceremony in which Governor James presented the symbolical "millionth book" to Commander C. B. Kitchen and Captain E. H. VanPatten of the Naval Supply Depot at Mechanicsburg, where to date some 500,000 volumes have been sent for redistribution to ships and naval centers east of the Mississippi.

The network of cooperation between the State Library and Museum and the various war informational and morale activities, state and federal, when diagramed looks like the chart of a huge interlocking directorate. There is so much possible overlapping of effort, especially at the community level, that it is proposed there be organized, under the chairmanship of the Director of the State Library and Museum, a Coordinating Committee composed of representatives of the following sate groups:

Advisory Committee on Education	—(State Council of Defense)
Committee on American Unity	—(State Council of Defense)
Civilian Mobilization of OCD	—(State Council of Defense)
Key Centers of Information	—(U. S. Office of Education)
Pennsylvania Historical Commission	—(Department of Public Instruction)
State Library and Museum	—(Department of Public Instruction)

This committee would function merely as a clearing house for close cooperation in communities where combination rather than diffusion of effort is indicated. The Coordinating Committee is only in the blueprint stage at present but no doubt will make for considerable economy in this phase of the war effort.

The Pennsylvania Committee on the Conservation of Cultural Resources, under the National Resources Planning Board, is organized to protect historical records throughout the State. It is recognized by the State Council of Defense, with the Superintendent of Public Instruction as liaison representative. Doctor Stevens of the Pennsylvania Historical Commission and Mr. Keator, State Librarian, represent the Department of Public Instruction on the Committee membership. Its effort so far has been directed to the preservation of data relating to historic buildings and to urge a comprehensive survey of all Pennsylvania official records with a view to microfilming them. The duties of this Committee would be greatly increased in case of enemy invasion.

Historical Commission

During the four years of the present administration, there has been a steady expansion of the activities of the Pennsylvania Historical Commission, seeking to make Pennsylvanians more and more conscious of their rich historical heritage. In the first three years, development of the historic shrines went rapidly forward, while the research and publications of the Commission made outstanding contributions to Pennsylvania history and archaeology. With the entry of the United States into the Second World War, the Historical Commission quite properly transferred major emphasis and attention to war-time activities, recording the story of Pennsylvania's part in the war, carrying on a program of morale activities in cooperation with the State Council of Defense, and promoting the conservation of Pennsylvania's historical heritage.

On January 2, 1942, the Historical Commission was officially designated by the State Council of Defense, as the agency responsible for collecting, preserving and recording the sources essential for a complete record of Pennsylvania's war effort. It is preserving and analyzing newspaper material, newspaper releases, and the reports of governmental and private agencies, gathering the facts for a full history which is promised after the war. In the meantime, it prepares a newspaper column on "The State at War," carried by some fifty newspapers, and has in preparation pamphlets on various phases or periods of Pennsylvania's war activities. It is also encouraging local agencies to collect similar materials for their own communities.

Sincerely yours,

FRANCIS B. HAAS, Superintendent.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
DEPARTMENT OF MILITARY AFFAIRS

Harrisburg, November 25, 1942.

Dear Governor James:

Herewith is the information for use in your final message to the General Assembly.

Indiantown Gap Military Reservation

The securing of Indiantown Gap as one of the Federal cantonments was an outstanding piece of work of the Administration. It will take care of the military needs of Pennsylvania and the State Police force for a long number of years in the future. When the National Guard which is now in Federal service, returns to State status there will be plenty of housing for motorized and mechanized units, as they will probably then be.

The appropriation to purchase land for this Reservation was made during the 1929 Session of the Legislature. Today the Reservation consists of 14,874 acres, containing 105 miles of roads, 123 miles of water lines, 113 miles of power and light lines, and 38 miles of sewerage lines.

There are 1134 buildings, consisting of barracks buildings, guest houses, service club building, and other buildings such as cold storage, laundry, bakery, and 11 warehouses. There is a filtering plant with a capacity of three million gallons of water daily. The Reservation also contains one sewage treatment plant and one Artillery Range approximately eight miles long and two miles wide. A dam was recently completed, inundating 16 acres of ground and impounding approximately fifty-eight million gallons of water. A hospital of 850 beds capacity is located on the Reservation. Barracks for the housing of approximately 24,000 soldiers are available. The approximate cost of all these installations is $25,000,000.

Pennsylvania National Guard Camps of Instruction

In May of 1939 the War Department directed the organization in Pennsylvania of the 22d Cavalry Division, less one Brigade. In order to do this it was necessary to convert enough of the horse cavalry to make one Regiment of light artillery. This was done in time for Pennsylvania's part of the Division to mobilize and train at Indiantown Gap.

Extensive field maneuvers were held by the First Army during the summer of 1939. All of the Pennsylvania National Guard except the Cavalry mobilized south of Manassas, Virginia. The troops trained there with other elements of the Third Corps Area for fifteen days. The mobilization and training was made without a serious accident. The 28th Division was honored with the presence of the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and many members of his staff, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Virginia, the Governor of the State of Maryland, the Chief of Staff of the U. S. Army, the commanding General of the First Army, the Chief Surgeon of the U. S. Army, the head of the Air Corps of the U. S. Army, the Chief of the Chemical Warfare Section of the U. S. Army, and a large group of Attaches of the Armies of South America and Europe.

Late in 1939 the Secretary of War ordered seven additional days of field training. This could all be done at one time or it could be sub-divided in seven periods. All of the Pennsylvania training was completed by January 31, 1940. One Regiment trained for seven days at Camp Dix, another for seven days at Fort Meade, two regiments at Indiantown Gap, and one Regiment at South Park in Allegheny County. The training was a complete success.

The First Army mobilized in Northern New York for extensive field training of three weeks during the summer of 1940. All of the Pennsylvania National Guard was mobilized and travelled a distance of five hundred miles without any serious accident. Pennsylvania had the credit of a complete Infantry Division and the major part of a Horse Cavalry Division. The 28th Division at its Annual Memorial Services was honored with the presence of the President of the United States, the Secretary of War, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and many of his Cabinet, the Commanding General of the First Army, the Commanding General of the Third Corps Area, and other distinguished military men.

National Guard Units Disbanded and Organized

Late in 1940 the War Department directed that the 22d Cavalry Division be disbanded, and from Pennsylvania elements of that organization we re-formed the following:

73d Field Artillery Brigade, less 1 Regiment (The Pennsylvania Regiments were to consist of 1 Regiment of 155-mm Howitzers and 1 Regiment of 155-mm Rifles)
105th Antitank Battalion
104th Cavalry (Horse-Mechanized)

This left the State of Pennsylvania with but three troops of Horse Cavalry—the First City Troop of Philadelphia, the Governor's Troop of Harrisburg and the Sheridan Troop of Tyrone. Since mobilization into Federal service these horse troops have been converted into mechanized troops.

The conversion of the 22d Cavalry was difficult as it meant that in twelve months certain of the troops had made two changes. Regardless of this the morale was extremely high.

1940 Flood

On Saturday evening, March 30, 1940, the Adjutant General was called at his home in Washington, Pennsylvania, and told of the flood danger in Pittsburgh, Scranton, Johnstown, Wilkes-Barre, and Williamsport. Immediate steps were taken to render aid if it was found that the population would be in danger. Information that the flood along the Susquehanna River would do considerable damage was determined. On Sunday, March 31, the State Disaster Emergency Committee started to operate on a twenty-four hour schedule. This organization was continued until April 10.

Floods in Pittsburgh, Johnstown, Wilkes-Barre, Milton, Scranton, and many communities in the Allegheny Valley north of Pittsburgh were handled locally. The situation in Wilkes-Barre and surrounding municipalities and Sunbury required aid from your Committee. In each of the last two named communities the local people had organized Disaster Relief Committees before the emergency, and the preparatory work of these organizations mitigated the suffering and discomfort, as well as facilitated the work of your Committee.

National Guardsmen were placed on duty at Wilkes-Barre and Sunbury. They performed rescue work, handled traffic, stood guard, patrolled flooded areas, and assisted in issuing cots and blankets. A Medical Detachment at Sunbury assisted the local people by organizing an emergency ward, caring largely for shock cases. Other organizations assisted the American Legion in collecting and transporting food from Harrisburg, Reading, and Philadelphia. It is estimated that these included:

	Wilkes-Barre	Sunbury
Shelter provided for	1632 persons	275 persons
Number affected	25,000 persons	5000 persons

Fifty-six officers and 669 enlisted members of the Pennsylvania National Guard were on duty during this emergency, at a cost of $16,308.62 to the Commonwealth. This was paid out of funds appropriated to the Department of Military Affairs

Induction of National Guard Into Federal Service

During the latter part of 1940 orders were issued by the War Department for the induction of the National Guards of the several States into Federal service. Preceding this induction men with dependents were discharged. It required an exceptional amount of paper work in the Department of Military Affairs. This was, however, accomplished without any additional help, and the personnel deserves the highest commendation of the Commonwealth for the long hours it worked and the successful job it performed. A statement showing the Organization, Date of Induction, Station to which Assigned, and the number of officers and men inducted into Federal service is included herein.

The Department of Military Affairs assisted the Governor in the organization of the Selective Service Headquarters, by furnishing 2 officers and 2 enlisted men, as well as 13 officers and 19 enlisted men from the State Staff. The Department also furnished the Assistant Director, who is now Acting Director.

Pennsylvania Reserve Defense Corps

The Commonwealth, by an Act of Legislature approved the 19th day of March, 1941, created a State force to be known as the Pennsylvania Reserve Defense Corps. The authorized strength of this force was 149 officers and 1868 enlisted men. The Corps, as organized, consisted of one Brigade Staff and Detachment, one Brigade Headquarters Company located in Harrisburg, and three Regiments with Headquarters located in Philadelphia, Wilkes-Barre, and Pittsburgh. Each regiment consists of three battalions of three rifle companies with three battalion headquarters and one Headquarters and Service Company.

It was later decided to increase this Corps and as of today has an authorized strength of 211 officers and 3740 enlisted men, making a total authorized strength of 3951.

Maintaining the traditional Pennsylvania military spirit, the officers and men in this Corps were selected from those having previous military experience and having excellent reputations in the communities in which they reside. The force is officered by capable men and noncommissioned officers. They drill one night a week, without remuneration of any sort. The uniforms and equipment purchased from Commonwealth funds were supplemented by articles of issue by the Federal Government. The most cordial relationship exists between the civilian population and the Reserve Defense Corps.

This force has been inspected by officers of the U. S. Army and every unit has satisfactorily passed the inspection. The organization is held up as a model for other States. The unit is commanded by Major Robert M. Vail, Deputy Adjutant General.

Duty Performed by Pennsylvania Reserve Defense Corps

On December 7, 1941, when reports were received that Japanese troops had attacked Pearl Harbor, a warning order was issued placing the Pennsylvania Reserve Defense Corps on the alert. On December 8th, General Vail, following a conference at Headquarters Third Corps Area, called a Staff meeting and on instruction of the Governor issued orders for the immediate mobilization of the entire Reserve Defense Corps, with detailed instruction as to areas and specific objectives to be covered. The troops were stationed throughout the Commonwealth at strategic points and highways. A twenty-four hour guard was maintained at these points. The Commonwealth was roughly divided in eastern, central and western districts, with Brigade Headquarters stationed at Harrisburg. Upon the mobilization of the Corps, 149 officers and 1824 enlisted men reported for duty.

Orders were issued from time to time relieving certain elements, thereby reducing the strength of the force on duty, when on the first of March the entire force reverted to an inactive status.

This reduction was due to certain elements from the Third Corps Area Internal Security Command assuming some of the duty of guarding vital points and also by civilian guards being employed by municipalities and industries, and further by the State Motor Patrol taking over and including certain highways and bridges in their districts to be patrolled. This service was performed at a cost of approximately $227,382.28.

The conduct of the enlisted personnel was above reproach. A great part of the time there was rain, sleet, or snow, with freezing temperature. These men suffered severe hardship without a complaint. This tour of duty demonstrates that we have a formidable organized and trained body of men, which will take care of the ordinary emergency.

When on May 23, 1942, the Lackawaxen River overflowed its banks in Honesdale and vicinity, on orders of the Governor, 3 officers and 60 enlisted men of Company "C," 2d Regiment, Pennsylvania Reserve Defense Corps, were ordered on active duty for the protection of life and property in this vicinity. This detail rendered valuable aid and service to the stricken population. The detail was on duty eleven days at a cost to the Commonwealth of $3,579.65, of which $1,236.21 was for the purchase of food for the civilian population.

The Department of Military Affairs has received several commendations expressing the appreciation of the manner in which these men performed their duties. Their presence assured the residents at Honesdale that their unlocked homes were safe due to the protection that issues from adequate supervision by the men on duty.

On July 18, 1942, due to flood conditions in Potter and McKean Counties in the north central section in the vicinity of Coudersport, Austin, Roulette and Port Allegheny, a detail of 2 officers and 30 enlisted men of Company "I," 2d Regiment, Pennsylvania Reserve Defense Corps, was ordered on active duty. This detail was transported from Williamsport in three station wagons and one truck furnished by the Department of Highways. Conditions indicated that Port Allegheny was the greatest sufferer of this flood, with the result that Headquarters of the Detachment was located in this community.

This detail placed guards throughout and about the town, stopping all traffic excepting that which belonged in the town. Sightseers were excluded and property was guarded. The Commanding Officer of this detail closed all saloons and liquor stores, thereby eliminating an unnecessary hazard.

Pennsylvania Reserve Defense Corps Auxiliary

The creation of the Pennsylvania Reserve Defense Corps Auxiliary is primarily to guard against enemy armed forces, fifth columnists and saboteurs; also to provide a volunteer patrol and protective force at air fields, possible landing fields. This force is a volunteer organization serving without pay. No member will be called out on duty or taken away from his work unless an extreme emergency exists. This force will not be called upon to guard an airport, water supply, likely landing fields, and any other vital points unless the enemy is actually threatening invasion. It is planned that this organization will have at least one company in each county of the Commonwealth and will be officered by a Captain, 1st Lieutenant and 2d Lieutenant, and in addition will have a volunteer enrollment of 60 men. These men furnish their own arms and ammunition. The officers are appointed upon the recommendation of the Sheriff of the County, the Chairman of the County Council of Defense, and the Mayor or Burgess of the largest community in the County in which the unit is organized.

Comparative Costs

The comparative cost of operating this Department with the previous administration is made a part of this report.

Administration has increased because the Department of Military Affairs paid much of the expense of Selective Service. We are paying the salary of the Acting Director of Selective Service and several of its minor bills.

You will note that while the activity of the State Arsenal was greatly increased by reason of the field service and the mobilization of the National Guard, yet it was possible to decrease the cost by 25%.

It will be noted that the cost of the maintenance of the Military Reservation regardless of the fact that additional work was required by the mobilization of the National Guard was decreased. This saving was made by a new system of policing. The Pennsylvania State Police maintained a sub-station on the Reservation and many of the farm houses were rehabilitated and the occupants were able to protect much of our property.

The National Guard cost was increased because the Federal government ordered us to increase our membership and this reflected in camp pay, officers' allowance for clothing, annual allowances, etc.

The increased cost of the Pennsylvania Reserve Defense Corps is by reason of the troops being on duty immediately after the Pearl Harbor attack. This also includes the additional equipment, which cost the Commonwealth about $325,000.00, consisting of complete uniforms, sub-machine guns, ammunition, etc. We know that Pennsylvanians are very proud of the type of equipment used by our Reserve Defense Corps.

The State Veterans' Commission has been operated at a slight decrease by reason of the very careful administration of the Commission. The education of orphans has been greatly decreased because it is now twenty-five years after the World War.

The actual maintenance of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home has been decreased by the very careful administration of the Commandant and his staff. However, it must be borne in mind that extensive repairs should be made to this institution. The cost of living will also enter into the future operation of this Home. This Home should be put in fine physical condition in order to take care of the large number of men who may need these facilities after the second World War.

So far $125,000.00 have been turned over to the State Council of Defense.

There have been no subsidies or grants for persons or groups during this Administration.

The activities of the Department of Military Affairs have been greatly increased by reason of the war. Many employes have worked overtime in order to complete the work. To you, I want to express my very great appreciation of their fine, loyal and patriotic service. I sometimes feel that too little appreciation is expressed to men and women who are doing this important and confidential work.

Payment of Veterans' Compensation or Bonus

This Department is paying an average of twenty-seven claims per month for Veterans' Compensation or Bonus to veterans of the Spanish American War and the First World War.

During the past four years, 1362 claims were paid in the total sum of $185,233.00, the average claim being $136.00.

Armory Board

There was no new construction of armory buildings during the past four years, but there was a great deal of work done toward grading, beautifying and finishing up armory properties where buildings were erected by The General State Authority.

During the early part of the present Administration it was possible to get both WPA labor and relief labor and full advantage was taken of this by the Armory Board in a great many cases to make repairs and renovations to the armories at a minimum of expense. However, this type of labor gradually became impossible to obtain as industry began picking up the slack in unemployment, especially when projects required skilled labor.

Major improvements made during the past four years have included:

The installation of concrete or hard surface floors in riding halls at Altoona, Clearfield, Lewisburg, Sunbury, New Castle, Wilkes-Barre, the Hunt Armory in Pittsburgh, and at 32d and Lancaster Avenue in Philadelphia due to the conversion of National Guard units at these locations to mechanized organizations;

The installation of a heating system in the drill hall of the Hunt Armory at Pittsburgh;

The erection of a concrete retaining wall and cyclone fence at the Wilkes-Barre Armory;

The complete rewiring of the Bradford Armory;

The installation of concrete retaining wall at the Ridgway Armory to prevent future flooding of the basement of this building.

When the Selective Service Act was put into effect in October 1940 some of the Local Selective Service Boards arranged to establish office quarters in the armory in their locality. Later on negotiations were started by the United States Army and arrangements completed for the establishment of examination and induction centers at certain of the armories. At these induction centers the selectees receive their complete physical examination and are sent to Reception Centers. At the present time four (4) of the armories are used as induction centers. After the entry of the United States into the war the Army once again requested assistance in the housing of certain armed forces detailed to guard vital points in Pennsylvania and at the present time twelve (12) armories are occupied by these troops.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
INSURANCE DEPARTMENT

Harrisburg, November 12, 1942.

Dear Governor James:

Despite a condition of health which led to his death on July 23, 1942, Colonel Matthew H. Taggart as Insurance Commissioner reorganized his Department in line with the economical programme of this Administration, reduced its personnel by half and reduced the expenses in excess of $100,000 per biennium, a reduction of approximately 20 per cent, and yet handled all the activities of the Department in such manner as to serve the insurance industry to its entire satisfaction and to aid it in its contributions to the War Effort and National Defense.

While a new Insurance Code is desirable but not absolutely necessary at this time, there are spots here and there in the statutes which need the attention of the Legislature. As a glaring example, reference is made to the two separate sub-divisions (e) of Section 206 of the Act of May 17, 1921, P. L. 682. This clause was amended twice as of the same date—Act of July 1, 1937, P. L. 2527 and Act of July 1, 1937, P. L. 2528. These two amendments have resulted in an unintelligible situation which makes it practically impossible to incorporate new mutual insurance companies. The Department has other—although less glaring needs for new legislation to call to the attention of the Legislature.

The War Emergency has developed many problems for the insurance business and presented to the industry many opportunities to make outstanding contributions. Private insurance capital continued the insuring of hulls and cargoes and suffered heavy financial losses until the government accepted this risk as being properly its own. This willingness to insure in face of certain loss kept foreign shipments going at a time when failure to do so might have clogged our ports with ships and cargoes, and crippled the suppying of fighting equipment to our Allies. Insurance companies and their agents have handled the sale of War Damage insurance for the War Damage Corporation more efficiently and economically than would have been possible in any other manner. Insurance agents have sacrificed time-honored traditions in handling insurance on War Projects contracts on a new basis prescribed by the Army and the Navy.

The Insurance Department has maintained close contact with all these situations and has helped in producing harmony in effort and in the streamlining of methods with the result that the insuring public has been better served during this Administration than ever before.

Sincerely yours

RALPH H. ALEXANDER, Commissioner.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
DEPARTMENT OF BANKING

Harrisburg, December 15, 1942.

Dear Governor James:

I submit herewith a brief outline of the record and achievements of the Department of Banking during the first three years of your Administration and as much of the fourth year as possible.

There should be, in my opinion, one important and necessary amendment of the present law, namely, to permit the Department of Banking to examine banking institutions at least once in every two years instead of once a year. The present law requiring that examinations be made at least once in each year makes thorough examinations during war times impossible mainly because of lack of personnel. The bank examining force has been considerably reduced in the last year and new regulations or directives from the Federal Government or its agencies add an additional and substantial burden to the task confronting the Examiners. I am convinced it would be much better to make more thorough examinations once every two years than to make cursory examinations once a year. If the law were changed as suggested, thorough examinations of weak or problem banks could and would be made at least once, and perhaps several times, a year and examinations of the strongest banking institutions could and would be made at least once in every two years.

The Department of Banking is divided into two major divisions: (1) the Open Division, which supervises and examines operating financial institutions; and (2) the Closed or Liquidation Division, which under the Secretary of Banking who is statutory receiver, liquidates closed financial institutions.

The four years of the James Administration have been marked by a progressive strengthening of the financial structure of State chartered banks with the result that the banking structure in Pennsylvania is much stronger than it has been for many years. Bank supervision and bank examination were made primarily in the interest and for the protection of bank depositors and the people of Pennsylvania. New policies and new regulations succeeded in materially strengthening individual banks as well as the banking structure throughout the entire State. Banks were required (1) to improve their management and increase their efficiency; (2) to strengthen their capital structure whenever necessary or advisable for the better protection of depositors and creditors by (a) raising additional capital, (b) reducing holdings of other real estate, selling substandard securities and eliminating undesirable assets, (c) conserving earnings, and (d) by building up reserves.

Where weak banks could not be adequately strengthened, they were eliminated, usually by a merger with another bank in accordance with plans drawn up by the Department of Banking. In most instances these mergers were accomplished without loss to any depositor, thus not only strengthened the banking structure as a whole but fortifying the confidence of the community and of the people of Pennsylvania in the State banking system.

Banks were more closely supervised by the Department; bank managements were required to change unwise policies and to correct within a reasonable time whatever weakness existed.

While this work has not been completed, a very great deal has been accomplished and a continuation of these policies for another year or two should place all our banks in a splendid, sound condition.

The number of employees in the Department of Banking on January 1, 1940 was 194; the number on January 1, 1941 was 195 and the number on December 1, 1942 was 175, which was 68 less than were employed on December 1, 1938. Of these 68 employees, 15 are listed as being on military leave. This was a reduction in the number of employees from December 1, 1938 to December 1, 1942 of 28%. The total annual salaries of the employees of the Department of Banking in the Open Division on January 1, 1940 were $471,009; the total on January 1, 1941 was $463,249; and the total on December 1, 1942 was $478,768, which was $111,400 less than on December 1, 1938, a reduction of 19%.

A substantial part of the Department's personnel has been lost from time to time to better paying positions in private industry and to the various war industries and military services. It has proved to be impossible to attract a sufficient number of capable and experienced personnel, particularly Examiners, to replace those who left Department service. Most replacements obtained to fill vacancies require considerable training before they are able to take up the work of their experienced predecessors. Despite such handicaps and in spite of a substantial increase in the assets and volume of business of institutions requiring examination, the Department's personnel has achieved an unparalleled degree of efficiency in carrying out the supervisory and examination functions of the Department.

The costs and expenses of the Department of Banking for the years 1939 to 1941, inclusive, were more than 13% below the costs and expenses of the Department for the years 1935 to 1937, inclusive, and more than 16% below the costs and expenses of the previous Administration for the years 1936 to 1938, inclusive. This reduction in the cost of operation of the Open Division was accomplished in spite of the fact that many additional burdens were placed upon the Department of Banking by reason of fluctuating conditions throughout our State and Country and in spite of the further fact that the total resources of State banking institutions increased approximately $433,000,000 since December 31, 1938 and deposits increased to an even larger amount.

The expenses of conducting the supervisory and examining functions of the Department of Banking for the four years of your Administration were as follows:

	1939	1940	1941	1942 (10 months)
Total Expenses	$104,682.79	$102,458.80	$107,189.57	$ 89,729.6
Total Salaries	497,925.79	488,643.79	471,125.36	387,044.1
Total Expenses and Salaries	$602,608.58	$591,102.59	$578,314.93	$476,773.8

These costs were met by payments for examination by the various operating institutions examined and by payments by them of a pro rata portion of overhead expenses of the Department. The Department of Banking is self-sustaining and does not receive any part of its costs or expenses from State appropriations.

Perhaps the outstanding achievement in the Department of Banking during the James Administration was the part merger part liquidation of the Integrity Trust Company in Philadelphia. This bank, with book assets of approximately $42,000,000 and deposits of approximately $35,000,000 and trust assets of approximately $37,000,000 was and for many years had been in a frozen and dangerous condition. Its capital structure was com p[illegible]ated and included preferred stockholdings by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and by twelve leading Philadelphia banks. Its problems were further complicated by a large, but disputed, time deposit made by said banks. The Secretary of Banking evolved a plan to save every depositor—small and large—of the Integrity Trust Company with the exception of the said twelve Philadelphia banks who would receive most, but not all, of their disputed time deposit. These banks could well afford to make some sacrifice in the interest of the banking structure of the Philadelphia area. This plan was approved by the Governor of Pennsylvania but was opposed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and several of the Philadelphia banks on the ground that it was either impossible of practical fulfillment or that for various technical reasons it was illegal. After approximately two and one-half months of almost constant negotiations, the Secretary's plan was finally approved by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, by the President and Board of Directors of each of the twelve leading Philadelphia banks, by the attorneys for all of said corporations, and by the directors and stockholders of the Integrity Trust Company. This resulted in a take-over by two of the leading Philadelphia banks of certain assets of the Integrity Trust Company and the assumption by them of the deposit liability of the Integrity Trust Company, with the help of a $19,000,000 loan from the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. Approximately [illegible],000 depositors were paid their deposits in full. The plan also involved the taking over by the Secretary of Banking of the trust and other fiduciary estates, title and safe deposit business of the Integrity Trust Company and the speedy and economical liquidation of the same. This receivership had up to the present time been liquidated at a profit and should be finally completed within a short period of time. This take-over plan averted a possible banking catastrophe and immeasurably strengthened the banking structure in Philadelphia and surrounding territory as well as increased the confidence of the community in the banks in this community.

The number and resources and deposits of State banking institutions in Pennsylvania were as follows on the dates indicated:

Date	Number	Resources	Deposits
December 31, 1938.	413	$3,058,284,147.60	$2,517,491,718.83

Building and Loan Associations

The past four years have been marked by a substantial contraction in the number of associations as the result of voluntary liquidation by many inactive building and loan associations and the mergers of others with stronger associations. In the Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Coal region areas, there has been a tremendous loss of confidence in the building and loan associations. This has been due principally to several causes: (a) foreclosures due to lack of employment during the depression years; (b) the tremendous decline in the value of real estate; (c) too optimistic or inefficient management; (d) the former practice in Philadelphia of taking second mortgages, which was eliminated by the Building and Loan Code of 1[illegible] The officers of most building and loan associations, as well as those interested in this field of small or home lending apparently realize that have been made in the past and are making sincere efforts to correct the weaknesses and mistakes which the years of depression brought to light or emphasized.

The total number and the resources of operating building and loan association were as follows on the date indicated:

Date	Number	Resources
December 31, 1938	1821	$498,368,248.39
December 31, 1939	1512	423,467,393.06
December 31, 1940	1313	377,570,929.62
December 31, 1941	1207	350,044,290.97

Consumer Credit Division

The number, as well as the total assets of small loan companies, consumer discount companies, credit unions and pawnbrokers on the dates indicated were as follows:

	Date	Number	Assets
Small Loan Licensees	December 31, 1938	514	$52,969,559.83
	December 31, 1939	534	57,363,022.89

	December 31, 1940	10	3,715,755.11
	December 31, 1941	101	8,977,769.27

The constitutionality of the Consumers Discount Company Act of April 8, 1937, P. L. 262, was upheld by the State Supreme Court on June 30, 1941 after extended litigation.

The constitutionality of the Pawnbrokers License Act of April 6, 1937, P. L. 200, was upheld by the State Supreme Court on June 25, 1940 after prolonged litigation which had its beginning in September, 1937. An appeal from the decision of the State Supreme Court was taken to the Supreme Court of the United States. It refused on December 16, 1940 to hear the appeal.

Banking institutions, as well as building and loan associations, have one joint problem—each is confronted and endangered by the sometimes covert, sometimes openly expressed, intention and policy to federalize all banking.

The fiscal, monetary, and tax policies of the Federal Government, as well as war conditions with which we are all familiar, make it constantly more and more difficult for the banks to show satisfactory earnings or for the building and loan associations to improve and prosper.

Whenever reasonably possible, the Department of Banking has cooperated with Federal supervisory agencies and with other Washington authorities. The Department of Banking has enthusiastically assisted our Government and its agencies in all its war efforts and particularly has constantly urged the active cooperation and help of each Pennsylvania bank in the sale of defense, war and savings bonds and in loans to war industries for the purpose of financing war production.

Liquidation or Closed Division

The Secretary of Banking, as statutory Receiver for the liquidation of closed banking institutions and building and loan associations, effected in the early part of 1940 a reorganization and revitalization of the Liquidation Division of the Department of Banking, Liquidation was sharply speeded and greatly increased; costs and expenses were tremendously reduced.

During the year 1940, collections from assets of closed banks totaled more than $7,700,000 in net cash. This was more than twice as much as was collected during each of the two preceding years. In 1941 collections for closed banks totaled $5,460,000 in net cash, which was over 43% more than was collected during the year 1938. These collections were made in spite of the fact that the most liquid or salable assets had naturally been sold and the most uncollectible debts and the least desirable or frozen assets remained.

The aforesaid collections were made in the face of very great reduction in costs, effectuated during 1940 and 1941. In 1940 costs and expenses of the Liquidation Division (closed banks and closed building and loan associations) were reduced approximately $682,000 below those of 1938. In 1941 they were reduced approximately $970,000 below those of 1938. These reductions in costs and expenses are even more significant in the light of the fact that as liquidation approaches the end, the cost of liquidation naturally increases. In 1940 the cost of collecting all assets (principal and income, personalty and realty) was over 47% below that of 1938 and in 1941 the cost was more than 60% below 1938.

During 1940, cash dividends of approximately $7,342,000 were distributed to more than 312,000 Pennsylvania depositors and creditors. 61,600 more depositors received dividends in 1940 than in 1938, and $1,800,000 more was distributed in 1940 in dividends than in 1938. During 1941 cash dividends of approximately $5,797,000 were distributed to approximately 338,000 Pennsylvania depositors and creditors. 87,500 more depositors received dividends in 1941 than in 1938 and these dividends totaled approximately $256,000 more than was distributed in 1938.

No complete figures are available for 1942.

Liquidation of assets of closed banks and building and loan associations has been retarded in 1942 by a sharp drop in real estate sales due to the war and to many factors of doubt or uncertainty concerning military service, taxes, residence, occupation, and other incidents of war and in the latter part of 1942 to regulations or directives governing rentals and terms of sale.

During this Administration, final accounts have been filed for 25 closed banks and 116 closed building and loan associations and liquidation of the said banks and building and loan associations was completely wound up.

The assets remaining in the closed building and loan associations are badly frozen and most of the debtors are very poor people who have been unable to pay their debts. It is too early to estimate what, if any, effect high wages will have upon the liquidation of closed building and loan associations.

Respectfully submitted,
JOHN C. BELL, Jr., Secretary.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Harrisburg, Dec. 29, 1942.

Dear Governor James:

I am submitting herewith a report on the Department of Agriculture, covering our activities and achievements under your Administration.

During the current four-year period the Department of Agriculture operated with a reduction of approximately one hundred employes, compared with the number employed during the previous four-year period, and at a saving of approximately $400,000. None of the essential functions and services were curtailed, but instead great advancements were recorded as it seem from the reports of the various Bureaus.

Bang Disease Control Program

There is no single activity of the Department of Agriculture of greater importance and of more widespread influence in the economic well being of agriculture as a whole than the program for the prevention and control of Bang Disease in cattle. This can be more fully appreciated when it is realized that cows for milk production are kept on approximately 125,000 of the 169,000 farms in this State or more than seven farms out of each 10 farms. The number of milk cows on Pennsylvania farms is about 925,000 having a value of approximately 75 million dollars.

It is therefore looked upon as a matter of the highest importance that a Bang disease program is one through which the greatest possible results may be obtained and that unremitting vigilance be constantly maintained in its supervision. In this regard outstanding progress is recorded over the past four years. During this period a definite plan of testing and supervision has been established on the individual and area plan with the result that at the close of the year 1942 a total of 646,165 cattle in 74,117 herds were under supervision for the control of Bang disease compared with 385,678 in 38,703 herds four years previously. During the last four-year period a total of 2,086,725 cattle in 163,634 herds were tested, which compares with 1,120,072 cattle in 96,947 herds for the previous four year period.

The effectiveness of this program is further indicated by the fact that at the end of 1938 there were four accredited counties in this State, meaning that Bang Disease has been reduced to one percent or less of the number of cattle and to five percent or less of the number of herds affected. At the end of 1942 eighteen counties had attained that status. At the end of 1938 there were 229 complete townships and 10 complete counties under supervision for the prevention and control of the disease and at the end of 1942 there figures stood at 543 complete townships and 21 complete counties.

During the four year period a total of $3,609,487.35 was paid to owners of Bang disease condemned cattle of which $2,046,343.82 was paid by the State of Pennsylvania and $1,563,143.50 was paid by the Federal Government.

Through intensive and systematic effort a reduction of more than 45 percent has been made in the number of cattle reacting to tuberculosis tests on an area basis comparing figures in 1936 when Pennsylvania became a modified Tuberculosis Free Accredited State, with those of 1942. In individual tests, reactors have been reduced consistently showing only 1,691 in 1942.

By reason of this progress in eliminating tuberculosis from cattle total State indemnity payments have dropped from $921,727 for the 1935-39 period to $315,405 for the past four years.

With complete recognition of the great losses suffered by agriculture through diseases in livestock, aside from Bang Disease and Tuberculosis in cattle and pullorum disease in poultry, intensive work is done by the Department agents in advising and encouraging the use of the Department services and facilities in the effort to reduce those losses, with the result that a vast extension in this service has taken place over the past four years. The Department maintains a laboratory, operated under the Bureau of Animal Industry, for the sole purpose of giving aid and advice on livestock diseases and during the four-year period previous to 1939 a total of 3,658,747 specimens were submitted for diagnosis. During the four years ending with 1942 this number had increased to 4,723,766 specimens, showing an extended use of an invaluable service.

Dog Law Enforcement

The dog laws of this State, enforcement of which are a part of the functions of the Department of Agriculture, must be looked upon as protective measures as well as providing a source of revenue. The protection afforded, however, depends largely upon the efficiency of the enforcement. Efficiency in this respect will tend to meet the object, which is to hold a minimum the destruction and losses to livestock caused by dogs. Constant surveillance and strict law enforcements are the requirements to make these protective laws effective and those are the requirements of this Department.

Meat Hygiene

In the meat hygiene division the number of animals killed under inspection and dressed carcasses examined was 2,108,196. The amount of meat examined during the past four years totaled 148,087,865 pounds. Organs examined totaled 80,048,000 pounds. During the latter part of 1940 the killing of poultry was added to the inspection service for the first time resulting in nearly 22 million pounds of poultry having been killed under inspection since that time. There are now 36 slaughtering establishments in this state under inspection.

Disease in Poultry

That great progress is being made in the effort to cut the losses caused by pullorum disease to the poultry industry is proved by the ever increasing number of blood tests for diagnosis being made at the laboratory of the Bureau of Animal Industry, showing the cooperation of the poultrymen in this effort. These tests increased by more than 150,000 over the past four-year period, compared with the previous comparable period, while the number of specimens and blood samples submitted for diagnosis of other diseases in poultry increased by one and one-half million comparing the four-year periods, showing the constantly widening acceptance of the service being offered to reduce losses from disease in the poultry industry.

Food Law Enforcement

Enforcement of the Pennsylvania food laws, which is centered in the Bureau of Foods and Chemistry of the Department of Agriculture, entails widespread activities and intensive supervision in affording protection to the public, and to the dealer and the manufacturer as well. Some indication of the proportion of the operations involved in this work might be had from the fact that licenses issued by the Department to the businesses which come under the jurisdiction of the food laws account for a total annual revenue of approximately one half million dollars and fines imposed for food law violations average about $20,000 annually. It is the constant effort of the Department, through its food agents in the field to maintain an effective system of inspection through which violations are held at a minimum. In executing this phase of the work an average of more than 5,000 samples of products are analyzed annually by Department chemists and in the laboratory of the Bureau of Foods and Chemistry. This assures protection to the public and to the vast majority of businesses which operate in strict accordance with the law and which render every assistance in the effort to eliminate violations.

Poultry Improvement Work

Recognizing the importance of the poultry industry in Pennsylvania, the Department of Agriculture, through the Poultry Division of the Bureau of Markets, has put much stress and emphasis upon the services rendered poultrymen with the result that great progress is recorded in the advancement of that industry, particularly in regard to stock improvement.

Nearly 1,400,000 birds were selected during the past four years by official agents for breed type and egg production, which vastly increases the production efficiency on the 1,921 farms involved. To make certain that the farms producing eggs and the hatcheries producing baby chicks were operating according to the standard requirements, which protect the ultimate consumer, 2600 reinspection visits were made during the four year period.

Of the 26,600 birds entered in the Record of Performance work which is an advance standardization classification requiring 200 or more eggs averaging 24 ounces per dozen for each bird, 10,370 have qualified. Many of these exceptional producers are now in special matings used to produce foundation breeding material for commercial and farm flocks. Inspectors made 327 two and four day inspections on R.O.P. breeding farms to check production records and to obtain official body and egg weights.

Nearly 45 million dozens of eggs have been sold according to the official grade standards through private and cooperative markets. The net return to producers has amounted to nearly $900,000.00 more during the last four years than by selling through ordinary marketing channels on an ungraded basis. The Bureau of Markets has issued approximately 30 licenses to candlers who check and establish grades on producers' eggs. Checking these candlers has been a function of the egg and poultry personnel.

The greatest advance in the egg and poultry marketing branch has come in egg inspections for institutions and most recently for the Army and Navy. From 1939 to 1942 inclusive, 59,000 cases of eggs, equivalent to 148 cars, have been inspected. This service permits agencies to purchase according to specific requirements with the assurance that delivery of eggs meeting grade requirements will be made.

All pens at the Egg Laying Contest have been occupied for the past four years which was not the case during the previous four years. Production per bird has been increased 10 eggs. A number of new world's records have been established. With the highest producing pen in the country a new record was established for Rhode Island Reds. New World's records were made for two, three and four year old hens and the first official 300 egg Ancona was produced at the Pennsylvania test.

Fruit and Vegetable Inspection

It is the aim of the Department to aid in every possible manner in the extension of the fruit and vegetable inspection service which is being rendered to the great benefit of the producer and to the public as well. The value of this service is completely demonstrated as a means of bringing to the producer better prices for his products in that they are properly graded and labeled and of assuring the consumer of receiving established quality.

During the 1939-1942 period 1,150,000,000 pounds of cannery raw products, comprising tomatoes, apples, cherries, grapes, peas, corn, beans, and berries were certified by state licensed inspectors compared with 591,000,000 pounds inspected in the previous four-year period.

A total of 9221 carloads of fresh fruits and vegetables were certified on Federal-State Certificates by inspectors. 2742 samples of apples were collected for spray residue analysis, 40 potato grading demonstrations and training classes for potato inspectors were held in all principal producing counties of the State and 11,215 inspections of potatoes were made in all markets of the State in determining compliance with the Potato Marking Law.

Plant Industry

Equal in importance to the control of disease in livestock and poultry is the control of plant disease and the planting of disease-free seeds and plants. Without these programs, it is conceivable that the losses to agriculture would be insurmountable. In the Bureau of Plant Industry and in the Department of Agriculture intensive programs are being carried out under which outstanding accomplishments are recorded, all of which accrue to the benefit of agriculture not alone, but to the public at large. These programs cover a wide range of activities and the intensity with which they are conducted has in several instances held in check conditions which could easily have become disastrous.

Notable in this respect is the Gypsy Moth Control program through which this disastrous pest has been prevented from extending its ravages beyond the area in which it was originally found in this State. This has been possible only through the most intensive efforts executed under a well-defined program. Control of the Gypsy Moth is not alone a Pennsylvania problem as it prevails to a far greater extent in the New England States where the damage annually runs into the millions of dollars. Spread of the Gypsy Moth beyond the barriers established under the control program is a constant fearful menace. Facing these conditions the Department of Agriculture instituted a plan enlisting the cooperation of a number of States under which this far reaching problem and danger will be presented to Congress with all possible data, facts and statistics for the purpose of procuring Federal appropriations for combatting more intensively this destructive pest and prevent its breaking through the present barrier zone to implant itself over other areas from which its spread could be rapid and exceedingly disastrous.

Stem Rust of Cereals

With the help of farmers over 6,500,000 barberry bushes, the alternate host for Black Stem Rust of small grains, were destroyed on 6200 properties in 18 northeast, northwest and south central counties. Benefit to these crops has already been demonstrated in greatly increased yields in all areas where the barberries have been removed. The oat crop in important dairy counties has especially benefited enabling farmers to greatly increase their supplies of home-grown feed.

Seed Certification

The program of the Department to encourage production of superior seed stocks of varieties and kinds adapted to Pennsylvania conditions, has been extended by the expansion of its certification service. This service to growers now covers seed potatoes, seed wheat, oats, barley, soy beans, tomato and pepper seed. The acreage of these crops entered for field and laboratory examination increased from 2722 in 1938 to 6417 in 1941. One of the chief aims of this service is to develop reliable sources of seeds of superior varieties as they are developed and introduced.

Potato Wart

Definite progress has been made in not only preventing the spread of this disease to new areas, but through an enlarged program of eradication actually eliminating it from 16 communities where wart was known to occur. As a result, restrictions on growing and marketing of potatoes in those areas have been removed and growers are again able to plant potatoes without risk of them being damaged by wart. With completion of eradication in several small communities in the western area, all wart infections will have been cleaned up in eight central western counties, several of which comprise important potato growing districts.

Gypsy Moth Eradication

The fight to eradicate this serious pest of fruit, shade and forest trees from Pennsylvania was continued throughout the past four years. Definite progress was made particularly in the location of and treatment of outlying colonies. This work involved the spraying of 10,053 town properties, 21,349 acres of woodland and 219,461 isolated trees. More than 390 tons of arsenate of lead and 21,000 gallons of fish oil were used in these spray operations. Included also was the checking of approximately 130,000 shipments of forest and other products likely to carry the insect to points beyond the infested area. Other items of work included cleaning up of debris at heavily infested cities; erection of fences to protect livestock in sprayed areas; banding of trees to capture caterpillars. The importance of eradication of this pest from the comparatively small Pennsylvania area is apparent when it is realized that it is costing the state of Massachusetts at least $1,000,000 per year to live with it.

Japanese Beetle

The inspection and certification of Pennsylvania products subject to federal regulations for shipment to markets outside the state was supplemented during the past two years by distribution of the bacteria of the so-called milky disease which attacks the grub stage of this insect. The limited supply of this material provided by federal laboratories was used in spot treating the generally infested area lying east of the Susquehanna River. Additional colonies at various points west of that line were also treated where beetle populations was sufficient to favor establishment of the parasite. Colonization of other parasitic forms was also continued. The establishment of these natural controls is believed to constitute the most substantial and effective effort so far employed against this plant pest. This is already evident in the older portion of the area already treated and where beetles are much less numerous than they were ten years ago.

Apiary Inspection

As a means of restoring beekeeping in Pennsylvania to a more profitable basis through control of bee diseases, a program was set up in 1940 which called for the inspection of all apiaries in the state by the end of 1942. This program was definitely approved by and has had the hearty support of the beekeepers association and honey producers in general. Fruit growers have also shown active interest because of the importance of bees in pollination of all fruit crops. Notwithstanding an unfavorable 1942 season for inspection work and shortages or qualified inspectors, the program has been carried out practically as planned. This represents at least one-third greater volume of work than has so far been accomplished during any other equal period in the history of this work. Continuation of this program should result in a decided reduction of bee diseases and removal of the most serious handicap to profitable beekeeping in this state. The program has received additional impetus the past year because of the fact that honey can be made an important supplement to our present and prospective sugar stocks.

Nursery Inspection

An important phase of pest control throughout the state is the use of pest free planting material. The Department is required to inspect and certify all establishments producing fruit and ornamental stock in order that the buying public may be protected against the purchase of plants which carry such pests. Pennsylvania stands close to the top among the states in the value of nursery products and the number of establishments involved has been constantly on the increase, being 1150 at the close of 1941 compared with 876 in 1938.

Seed Regulation

Recognizing the importance of reliable farm seeds to an efficient agriculture, the Department has used every available facility to check on the quantity of seed stocks offered for sale throughout the state. Seedsmen generally have welcomed this service and with few exceptions have cooperated fully in meeting the requirements of the state seed law. As a result, it is believed that the quality of seeds offered by our seed merchants is constantly being improved. This is important when it is realized that the annual seed bill of Pennsylvania farmers is at least, $8,000,000 to say nothing of the effect of seed quality on crop production.

The War Effort

Plans to adjust Pennsylvania agriculture to a war production basis were made by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture as early as October, 1940 with the organization of the Pennsylvania Advisory Defense Council, at the direction of your Excellency. The entire State was brought into a comprehensive unit through the organization of an Advisory Agricultural Defense Committee in each county with the council operating as the clearing house for localized and State wide agricultural problems and for the dissemination of essential information in all efforts pertaining to production necessities. Under the direction of the council, surveys were made in the counties establishing the following: Production possibilities of various crops, methods through which transportation of food stuffs could be undertaken in the event that the principal highways would be used largely for troop and war material movements, the possibility of feed and seed shortages, plans for the exchange of farm equipment, plans for assistance to farmers who might not be able to reach maximum production because of extenuating circumstances and various other plans.

The council conducted the first State wide farm labor survey through which valuable information was procured aside from the fact that it brought out in clear relief those areas in which the farm labor problem would become most acute. Cross section surveys were later conducted which produced valuable information for the county committees. At still a later time under the direction of the council, the county committees, guided by information supplied them from the previous surveys, set up their own method of registering available labor and of serving as a clearing house for farmers requiring labor. Contact with the county committees is constantly maintained by the council which has proved a source of much information in the guidance of farmers facing localized problems. Through a contact made by the council, one county committee alone made plans through a Y.M.C.A. for the employment of 450 boys during the fruit picking season.

The council has served extensively as an intermediary between agriculture and the Selective Service. It has served in innumerable cases in presenting appeals for farm labor deferment to the Selective Service and the county committees have given invaluable service in presenting desired information pertaining to agriculture in their respective areas to the local Draft Boards. With the cooperation of the Selective Service, the State was divided into districts in which meetings of the county committees were held, attended by a representative of the council and an officer of the Selective Service for the purpose of acquainting farmers with Selective Service requirements and the manner in which appeals for deferment should be made. These meetings proved of inestimable value to both the farmer and the Selective Service.

Through the county committees guided by the State council, agricultural problems of a localized matter are fully developed and adjusted. Through this method of operation, it has become definitely established that the direction of the proper course for agriculture in all respects cannot be established on a nation wide basis.

Programs Flexible

The far reaching programs of each of the bureaus of the Department of Agriculture is established upon a plan of flexibility making adjustments possible to meet situations in the future. It can be foreseen that the County Advisory Agricultural Defense Committees can be in a position under the guidance of the State council to serve agriculture in the post war period and to establish a course of proper guidance with far greater assurance of success than any other existing or contemplated organization or method. It will be unfortunate if the services that can be rendered by the State council through the county committees dealing with localized conditions shall be replaced by a nation wide program which necessarily could not be adjusted to meet the various and diversified conditions existing in the different States.

Respectfully yours

JOHN H. LIGHT, Secretary.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

DEPARTMENT OF PROPERTY AND SUPPLIES

December 9, 1942.

Dear Governor James:

I have the honor to present the following report of the work of the Department of Property and Supplies:

The Department consists of six Bureaus and two Divisions, as listed below:

Bureaus		Divisions
Executive	Publications	Automobile
Purchases	Grounds and Buildings	Real Estate
Standards	Construction	and Insurance

Personnel in the Department on January 1, 1939 numbered 649. During this Administration, despite the enlarged scope of its duties and activities, the Department personnel has averaged only, approximately, 600.

Inasmuch as one of the functions of the Department is that of rendering service to the various agencies of State government, the increased volume of its work during the past four years was reflective of the unprecedented activities of all other departments, boards and commissions.

Moreover the Department was called upon to expand its activities by new services, such as were required in connection with the maintenance of the Finance Building, opened in October of 1939.

Another instance of increased demands made upon the Department during this Administration may be found in the six additional institutions acquired by the Commonwealth under Act P. L. 53, passed September 29, 1938, for which purchases of materials and equipment were made by this Department.

The increased volume of former activities coupled with the additional duties undertaken resulted in a total volume of work performed by this Department exceeding by far that accomplished by any previous Administration.

Purchases

At the beginning of this Administration, criticism of the purchasing procedure was rampant.

Not only has the personnel been entirely changed but revisions were made and the purchasing procedure revamped thereby eliminating many of the previous complaints.

Due to the advent of the war, the Bureau of Purchases has encountered complications and in some cases has been unable to purchase various commodities used by the Commonwealth. It is now necessary to secure priorities first, and in many instances the Bureau has been forced to accept substitutions. Moreover, it has been difficult to secure bids and next to impossible to attain competitive bidding, due to the scarcity of raw materials entering into the manufacture of finished products, as critical materials essential to the manufacture of war materials have made it virtually impossible to secure many desired products.

To meet the conditions caused by the war, the Department has revised the purchasing procedure in order that purchases could be kept on the highest possible standard and that the business of the Commonwealth would receive the same consideration from the vendors as the business along commercial lines.

This procedure, among other things, permits the vendor, if he is not able to supply the material on the basic specification, to bid on an alternate, and gives him the further privilege of bidding on the materials that he may have that deviate the least from the basic or alternate specification.

This has greatly increased competitive bidding and gives the Commonwealth the opportunity to take advantage of the initiative used by manufacturers and vendors.

The Bureau has accorded leeway to institutions and departments, having field organizations, permitting them to purchase materials in the field, of such items, or quantities of items, of a value not exceeding $50, which do not lend themselves economically to centralized purchases.

The volume of purchases has approximated $22,500,000 annually. This huge volume of work has been carried on with an approximate reduction of 10 per cent in personnel. By consolidating and pooling positions and establishing more efficient and expeditious methods of purchasing with resulting increases in production effort by each employe, the work has successfully been carried on.

Standards

It is the duty of the Bureau of Standards to simplify and standardize materials for various commodities used by the agencies of the Commonwealth, to enable the procurement of specific modern manufactured products through competitive bidding. This Bureau has prepared standard catalogues of materials and supplies to facilitate purchases and establish standards whereby group or mass buying for the several agencies of the Commonwealth can be accomplished as contemplated by the Administrative Code. The catalogue is valuable in placing before the requisitioning officer of the Commonwealth the predetermined quality of materials commodities and supplies.

It is also an essential duty of the Bureau of Standards to inspect raw materials commodities and supplies, purchased by the Commonwealth, to determine their conformation to the standard specification, which protects the interests of the Commonwealth and safe-guards and assures the reception of full value by the State. The inspection and the determination of the quality and grade of materials are performed in a laboratory maintained by the Bureau, where highly trained assistants conduct this testing. During this Administration the cost per test averaged $3.27. The average cost per test for the years 1935 to 1937 averaged $7.16.

The Bureau has encountered, particularly during the past year of this Administration, difficulty in maintaining a constant change of specifications due to the rapid change of manufacturing methods brought about by lack of essential materials and the substitutions for critical materials used in the manufacture of weapons of war. They have, however, promulgated provisions for the purchase of materials restricted and prohibited by the War Production Board and further revised methods of analysis in order that they will be in line with official methods adopted by the various scientific societies, trade organizations and Federal agencies. They have developed a service, in part, that covers the proper use of materials and advice concerning the substitution of materials brought about by the Federal program.

Publications

At the beginning of this Administration, it was realized that with the proper personnel the Bureau of Publications could function more efficiently and economically by the employment of men with previous experience in the printing industry. With this though in mind, the Bureau was reorganized and every key position was filled adhering strictly to this policy, thereby saving over $1,600,000 comparable with other years, despite the fact that the volume of printing increased considerably due to war emergency programs and the addition of seven Welfare institutions and school conveyed to the State.

During the fiscal years 1939-42, the Bureau expended the sum of $2,[illegible]9,519.87 for Commonwealth printing. During the fiscal years 1936-39 of the previous Administration, the sum spent was $4,127,928.42.

Despite the fact that the Bureau was able to make a great saving, more units of printing were purchased. During the fiscal years 1939-42, 2,565,455,000 units of printing were purchased, compared with only 1,117,000,000 units during the fiscal years 1936-39.

Public Grounds and Buildings

The Bureau of Public Grounds and Buildings has also had increased maintenance duties derived from the opening of the Finance Building and also from the acquisition of the Herman and Nissley properties, as sites for the erection of the new mansion. These buildings necessitated additional custodial personnel. The Department supervised and undertook some major improvements, with the cooperation of WPA labor, in the entire Capitol Group of Buildings in Harrisburg. This work included the following:

The cleaning and repairing of all marble in corridors and lavatories in the Main Capitol Building.

The renovation of the House Caucus, the Speaker's and Chief Clerk's Office and House Committee rooms, together with the offices of the Department of Justice.

The preparation of rooms and making available of office space for the Department of Commerce, Selective Service, State Council of Defense and the Pennsylvania Board of Parole.

Cleaning of the marble and interior paintings in the Education Building, North Office Building and South Office Building.

Revamping of the Temporary Buildings for the housing of the Department of Public Assistance.

Partial renewal of the cold water system in the Main Capitol Building.

The revamping of the electrical network system as assurance against electrical failures in the Capitol group of buildings.

The connecting of the North Office Building and Finance Building with a pedestrian tunnel under Commonwealth Avenue.

The installation of a complete fire alarm and police call system in all buildings connected with the central control station in the Main Capitol Building.

The installation of safety treads on all marble stairs in the Main Capitol Buildings as a public safety measure.

The preparation of additional storage space under the State Street bridge.

The revamping of the lighting system in certain portions of the building.

Extensive programs of landscaping around the Finance and Education Buildings, as well as replanting in Capitol Park, have added to the beauty of the buildings and grounds.

The repairing and reporting of concrete walks and steps and the erection of a rubble retaining wall along the North Side of the Capitol grounds.

The Department, in addition to general maintenance and care of the buildings, has a salvage section, the function of which is the reconditioning of old furniture which has been discarded, and in this manner has saved the Commonwealth thousands of dollars in the purchase of new furniture for the various departments, boards and commissions.

Construction

The Department has complied with the responsibilities and duties placed upon it by the Administrative Code in cooperating with all State departments in maintenance operations for State owned institutions and plants. Field surveys, inspections, repairs preparing of plans and specifications, receiving proposals, awarding contracts, inspecting and supervising of actual work were made under conditions not encountered during any other administration. War restrictions and high wages paid in industry have resulted in lowering the standards of maintenance and increased the cost of operating State institutions, which have increased the activities in the Bureau in quantity, diversity and scope. This activity is illustrated by the following summary of the projects handled for each department:

Department	No. of Projects	Total Cost of Projects
Welfare	109	$ 846,917.17
Public Instruction	44	232,916.62
Military Affairs	43	214,029.69
Highways	25	699,062.25
Property and Supplies	29	320,057.77
Pennsylvania Motor Police	10	52,158.81
Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board	9	1,102,518.03
Forests and Waters	6	14,621.67
State Retirement Board	5	6,098.99
Agriculture	4	29,806.00
Labor and Industry	4	7,599.87
Health	2	4,164.04
Fish Commission	3	15,529.95
Public Assistance	1	1,592.45
Revenue	1	397.00
Game Commission	1	1,050.00
Total of Construction Contracts	235	$3,548,520.31
Professional Contracts	93	194,130.90

On of the outstanding activities was the supervision of the construction and operating personnel at the Pennsylvania Building at the New York World's Fair. This was accomplished in cooperation with the fiscal officers and with the approval of the Secretary and the Commission as constituted by supplemental Act No. 5. After the project was entirely completed, operated and dismantled, an unexpended balance of $8,177.26 was returned to the State Treasurer.

For years the murals and decorative painting in the dome have been deteriorating. More recently they have been seriously damaged by a roof leakage. At the present time, the work of restoration of the murals and work on the dome is well under way. Due to the emergency program it cannot be fully completed until after the war.

In restoring and preserving these murals and decorative painting, the Department selected outstanding artists, architects and craftsmen. They have repointed and water-proofed all masonry and tile joints in that part of the dome where work is now in progress in order to prevent further damage from leakage. It is hoped that during the coming Administration sufficient money will be made available for the completion of the interior restoration of the dome as these world renowned paintings must be and should be preserved for posterity.

In addition to the outstanding projects, the Department established a new procedure for handling contracts covering maintenance repairs, alterations to buildings and plants at State institutions in amounts not exceeding $4,000. This procedure increases efficiency, promotes economy, places the control of institutions in Harrisburg, and expedites payments through fiscal officers. The Department also repared plans and specifications and negotiated contracts for projects at various institutions the diversity and type of projects are indicated below:

General Construction, such as new slate roofs and cornices, cow barns, silos, steel sashes, etc.	$160,000.00
Mechanical Projects, such as complete heating systems, repairs to boilers, new bakery and cafeteria system, new stokers for boilers, etc.	85,350.00
Electrical Projects, such as installation of metering devices, rewiring of armories, design and construction of motor boat—Approximately	40,000.00

Field inspections were made of all contracts entered into by the Department totaling $1,698,323.05 at an approximate cost of six-tenths of a cent per inspection.

Plans and specifications were prepared by experienced architects under contract for the erection of the Northwest Office Building for the housing of the Liquor Control Board at a cost of $1,210,000 together with the restoration of fire damages to a building at Pennhurst State School of, approximately $95,000 as well as supervision of additional buildings at the Pennsylvania Industrial School at White Hill of, approximately, $350,000.

It is of interest to note, that this Administration established a unit for the handling of all priorities required by the manufacturers of war restricted materials since May, 1941, which makes it necessary for the Department to arrange and promulgate priority ratings for all State institutions and State agencies from the War Production Board, the Office of Defense Transportation, the Office of Price Administration and other Federal agencies.

The Department is divested with the responsibility of getting Federal approval for projects and activities, tires and tubes, and the purchase of new automobiles. They also act as advisers to all State government agencies of the rules and regulations required by the Federal agencies in connection with priority requisitions.

Automobiles

The Department, at the beginning of this Administration, made many revisions in the previous operations and further modernized and revised former procedures. In order to control more effectively the purchase and services in the operation of automobiles, owing to the restriction of the war emergency program, restrictions were placed upon the purchase of new equipment and the rationing of tires and gasoline. A survey was made of automotive equipment needs, usage and operation, in order to control more effectively and efficiently the distribution, operation and maintenance of State owned vehicles in the future. This survey made in July shows a decrease in the use of gasoline by about 21 per cent from January to July of 1942 as compared with the five preceding months. With the cooperation of other Departments in the use of gasoline and tires a further decrease will show in a survey now being conducted which will be close to 35 per cent or 40 per cent.

Real Estate and Insurance

The Department inaugurated the system to perform more efficiently the functions of leasing, inspecting, altering and repairing real estate leased by the Commonwealth, the results of which have saved the taxpayers considerable money. Two additional field men were added to the Department staff for the purpose of reviewing locations of various offices and liquor stores; previously leased with the endeavor to relocate better available space at less rent thereby making it possible for the Department to have better control of all leased property, and to have before it recommendations of the field representatives to review them before leases or renewals are negotiated. The policies of the placing of bonds and insurance have been carefully reviewed and studied by the Department in order that the Commonwealth may have full and proper protection. Approximately 355 agencies throughout the State have participated in this business. Surveys are now under way to reduce further the costs of insurance.

Accounting

Better supervision of statistical services in the various sections of the different bureaus and divisions of the Department, together with budgetary control of all moneys appropriated by the General Assembly, as well as the assisting in the reorganizing of the Bureaus have been some of the accomplishments of the Department. The cooperation and the handling of all personnel in the Governor's Office and the Personnel Office have made it possible for personnel changes to be expedited more efficiently than heretofore.

Art Commission

Through the Pennsylvania Art Commission, the State accomplished much during this Administration in spite of its depleted personnel.

The Art Commission does more than its name implies. It safe-guards the locations and design and appearance of public structures in Pennsylvania and through its diligence a complete study has been made of each project for greater efficiency and value, enabling expenditures to be made wisely.

Conferences have been held with public officials, architects, engineers, sculptors and other submitting agencies to attain various views, the final objective being the segregating of the most advantageous ideas.

In addition to public school buildings, highway bridges, township buildings, county bridges, fire houses, murals, memorials and other works of art submitted to the Art Commission, we are listing below a few of the outstanding accomplishments:

New Dauphin County Court House.

Restoration of the Daniel Boone Homestead.

Designs for group of buildings to be erected at Byberry and Philadelphia State Hospital, Pennhurst State School and Cresson State Hospital.

Home of William Penn.

Plans for the restoration of the grounds and outbuildings of Pennsbury Manor.

Old Economy Restoration.

The renovation of the Abbey murals and other artistic treatment in the Main dome of the Capitol Building.

Other Activities

The need was recognized for a volunteer gruop to cooperate with the Harrisburg Dauphin County Council of Defense for the preservation of life and property, if and when the City should undergo an air raid. The Department of Property and Supplies, with the assistance of employes of other departments, organized the Capitol Buildings Group Council of Defense. The organization consists of 1200 volunteers Air raid wardens, Fire watchers and First-aiders, who have been properly instructed with the authorized number of hours for the particular work which they selected and which they will be called upon to perform at any time whether it is a test or an authentic air raid. Many successful drills have already been held in this area.

In the sale of unserviceable property, particularly during the year of 1941, the Department requested all departments, boards and commissions to place in its custody unserviceable property no longer required in its functions, and no longer required by their departments. This unserviceable property, which the Department sold, amounted to, approximately, 10,000,000 pounds of scrap material, brass, copper and other non-ferrous light materials, 200,000 pounds of rags and 125,000 pounds of old rubber, all of which was placed on the market for war industries. In addition to the sale of the above property, the Department has been able to salvage discarded equipment, and has transferred such equipment from its location to departments or institutions where needed. We are continuing to dispose of unserviceable property as fast as it accumulates, and are making scrap material available to war industries as fast as it is turned in.

Suggestions

I am making the following suggestions for future legislation, which I believe would benefit the Commonwealth:

1. The present General State Authority Act requires the approval by the Department of Property and Supplies, of all plans and specifications set up by the General State Authority. To function properly, this would require a personnel in Property and Supplies duplicating that of the Authority. If the General State Authority were the financial agent and the body for authorizing the projects, leaving the planning and construction to the Department of Property and Supplies, more economical administration could be given to a construction program, whether it be State Municipal or other agency.

2. Appropriation should be made to the Department of Property and Supplies enabling its Bureau of Construction, in conjunction with the various departments, to make a survey and appraisal of all land, buildings and equipment owned by the Commonwealth. This would develop a closer supervision of all future planning operations and would provide for more economical alterations and repairs.

3. Various agencies in the State are preparing and studying their records of deferred construction programs that might be developed into a general post-war program. A committee should be set up to cooperate with these various agencies, and to coordinate a definite post-war program.

4. The unification and consolidation of the various laboratories now operated by the different departments under State government would provide more economical operation by preventing much duplication of operation.

5. The centralization of blue-print, addressograph, mimeograph, photostatic and other similar operations now being performed by individual departments, would result in more efficient management and would provide much needed floor space.

6. The creation of a central depot for the housing and storage of records that require retention for reference for a period of no more than seven years would be an economic improvement and would also make available a great deal of floor space.

. The establishment of central warehouses at a few strategic points would provide for the economical purchase of large quantities of commodities for distribution to various departments and institutions throughout the Commonwealth. This could be operated by the Department of Property and Supplies in the same manner as the purchase and distribution methods used by the larger selling organizations.

Very truly yours,
JAMES F. TORRANCE, Secretary.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
DEPARTMENT OF FORESTS AND WATERS

Harrisburg, November 30, 1942.

Dear Governor James:

For the first time in the history of Pennsylvania, the Department of Forests and Waters is yielding a return to the taxpayers, and at the same time contributing to war production. Through long term planning on a program approved by forestry authorities, the Department was ready, when the need arose, to inaugurate a 100 million board feet timber cutting program. The revenue yield will be approximately $600,000 and greatly needed timber is flowing to shipyards, army camps and war industries.

The Department is operating on a budget approximately 10% less than our predecessors'. Public Use Maps covering every acre of the 1,600,000 acres of State forest land have been made available to the public.

State Forest nurseries produced under this administration 58,853,000 trees. Our predecessors produced 41,200,000.

The Department has exercised close supervision over the construction of all dams, bridges, and all manner of stream channel encroachments, thus preventing inestimable flood damages certain to be experienced without such regulations.

In Flood Control, the Department has virtually completed previously undertaken projects at Wilkes-Barre and Kingston. It has sponsored new dyke construction at Williamsport and Plymouth.

Projects are now under way on a $500,000 stream channel clearance program in the Wayne-Lackawanna area and on a $500,000 similar program in the Upper Allegheny and Cinnemahoning area. The sum of $100,000 has been definitely earmarked for initial surveys on the Lehigh River.

To afford a method of gathering data on which to base reliable flood warnings in the Susquehanna River Basin, the Department early in 1939 initiated and entered into a cooperative program whereby the facilities of the Department, the U. S. Weather Bureau and the U. S. Geological Survey are pooled for a common purpose and public benefit. Threatened communities and industries have found this service of inestimable valve.

To facilitate loading of ammunition on convoys outside of Delaware breakwater, this Department in cooperation with the city of Philadelphia modified explosives regulations to the satisfaction of Army and Navy authorities.

The Department reestablished the Pennsylvania Maritime Academy immediately after the Federal Government made available a training ship for Merchant Marine cadets. In connection with the reestablishment of the Academy, the Pennsylvania Academy and its cadets now enjoy a status on a par with other states operating such schools and on a par with the U. S. Merchant Marine Academies.

To cope with flood emergencies the Governor's Flood Emergency Committee was organized, with the Secretary as Chairman, with authority to coordinate and direct the facilities of all State departments and cooperating agencies.

The Department has long been geared to the war effort and its Secretary serves as Director of the State Evacuation Authority of the State Council of Defense and has organized this important civilian effort on a state-wide basis.

The Department has huge recreational responsibilities in its forest domain, especially at a time when long distance travel is prohibited. At least 100 recreational areas are maintained.

Recently 16 of these areas, comprising 18,000 acres were set aside as Parks. This action, together with the acquisition of the Delaware Division Canal property, thus preserving for posterity one of the State's outstanding landmarks, may well form the nucleus of a State Park System so much desired by altruistically minded citizens of Pennsylvania.

The elimination of waste and extravagance, and the building of morale and efficiency, enabled the Department of Forests and Waters to operate on budgets approximately ten per cent less than under the previous administration. The economy program has helped rather than hindered the gaining of many objectives because under it monies were husbanded until actually required for emergencies.

During the past two years the machinery of the Department has been geared to the war effort and to such needs as arise from time to time from civil disaster such as floods.

The quite extensive facilities of the Department, with respect to personnel, land and buildings such as were occupied by the C.C.C. have been offered to our government.

The Secretary of the Department serves as Chairman of the Governor's Flood Emergency Committee and has organized and is Director of the State Evacuation Authority of the State Council of Defense.

When the Department was first organized, forestry was its principal and almost only concern. However, in recent years, with protection and control of water supply and resources occupying public attention, the responsibilities of the Department have increased. Recreation, too, has become a public responsibility and progress along this line is reported hereinafter.

Forestry accomplishments during 1939-42 began with the completion of an inventory and computation of the growing stock in the State forests comprising 1,654,000 acres This inventory showed 2,263,000,000 board feet of merchantable stock. The inventory is broken down with respect to species sizes and location of stands.

The next step was the removal and sale of mature and hyper-mature timber, also dead and damager timber, from such stands as the inventory showed had reached on gone beyond the cropping stage. Under this program 100 million feet, a trifle less than the annual growth on State forest land is being sold.

As of December 1, 1942, 62 million feet had been put under contract for selective cutting under regulations which guarantee the protection of smaller trees, watersheds, recreational areas and wildlife, and promote new and natural forest growth. The program will yield approximately $600,000, revenue which would have been irretrievably lost had these mature stands been permitted to "go backward" as heretofore.

A timber cutting project of hyper-mature trees was inaugurated in the Cook Forest Park. Many of these trees were so old that they frequently were blown over and become a complete loss. This project which aided continued forest growth met with popular approval. The yield was 250,000 feet of dead Chestnut and Hemlock sold for $12.15 per M in the log, 963 cords of firewood, 30,000 feet of Pine and 1,584 bundles of shingles for departmental use.

Purchase of lumber products has to a large extent been eliminated, three sawmills having been located in strategic areas where lumber may be produced from State forests as needed.

For the first time in the history of the Department, public use maps are now available covering every acre of the State forests. These maps serve a valuable purpose to sportsmen, tourists, business men and all citizens. They are distributed free on individual application.

State Forest tree nurseries produced and distributed 58,853.046 seedling trees during 1939-42 of which 13,888,973 were planted on State forest areas. The largest shipment ever made in any single year was in 1940 when 17,791,643 trees were distributed. In addition, during 1939-42 a total of 1,643,250 game food plants and trees were produced for planting on State Game lands. Nursery production during 1935-38 was 41,200,000.

Nursery production is now ahead of demand and, aside from 1,500 bushels of walnuts, no seed was planted in State nurseries this year. Nursery stocks are adequate for 1943 demand and perhaps for 1944 as well.

Aside from timbering operations, receipts from State forests from all sources have increased at least 20 per cent over those of the Earle administration.

Forest fire equipment, lamentably dilapidated during the previous administration, has been restored to a condition of adequacy.

Five hundred fifteen miles of streams within the State forests were improved by the construction of various types of fish dams, deflectors, covers and shelters. Less than 30 miles of this type of work was done previously to 1939.

Assistance to private forest land owners was given special consideration with respect to cutting their forests on a sustained yield basis.

Completed first inventory of all buildings on State owned forest land showing 762 buildings; rangers' homes, garages, storage sheds, etc., all of which are in good condition, recently painted, etc.

Rebuilt and repaired a good portion of the 800 miles of Department-owned telephone lines in State forests.

Despite ravages of floods and scarcity of manpower, the Department's 4,000 miles of forest roads and 5,000 miles of forest trails have been kept in passable condition.

Emphasis has been placed on keeping Forest Fire Warden personnel, 3,400 in number, on normal and adequate footing. The Department has held its own on the downward trend with respect to the number of forest fires and the acreage burned.

The relation of close supervision over dams, bridges and all manner of encroachments on stream channels to floods and flood control must be understood before the work of the Dam Division and the Encroachment Division can be appreciated. In order that impounded waters may be controlled and stream channels be kept clear to perform their normal functions, the Department passes upon all applications for dams, bridges and channel encroachments. The Department has reviewed and disposed of 2,192 such applications, thus preventing inestimatable flood damages certain to be experienced without such regulations.

The Department has received the filings of 478 public water supply agencies under the Water Acquisition Act of 1940, and the claims of 45 of these agencies have thus far been validated and confirmed. The records of those not yet confirmed are being analyzed and investigated preparatory to validation and confirmatoin.

The Department made 690 examinations of existing dams to determine degree of safety.

Completed 4,000 feet of dike along the Delaware River at Morrisville, Bucks County.

Constructed steel bulkheads and jetties on Presque Isle Peninsula at Erie.

Since all flood control must be based on reliable hydrological data, the Department has concentrated on the gathering, computation and publishing of data necessary to future progress. Its Division of Hydrography is operated on a cooperative basis with the U. S. Geological Survey. This innovation, began during this administration, has made Pennsylvania a pioneer among the states in large scale studies of precipitation intensities for flood warning purposes. Other states are now adopting the Pennsylvania method.

Publications include:

Stream Flow Records of Pennsylvania for 1939, 1940, 1941 and 1942.

Flood Discharges Relating to Pennsylvania Streams.

Natural Water Losses From Pennsylvania Drainage Basins.

Cooperative Hydrologic Investigations.

Elevations of Major Floods Along Pennsylvania Rivers.

The Flood of May, 1942, in the Delaware and Lackawanna River Basins.

The Flood of July, 1942, in the Upper Allegheny River and Sinnemahoning Creek Basins.

Data for these publications was obtained through cooperation with the U. S. Geological Survey in the operation of 134 stream flow gauging stations. Only 7 such gauging stations were operated prior to 1939.

Flood Control activities, limited under the previous administration to commitments to share land damages and utility relocation costs at Wilkes-Barre, Kingston and in Hanover Township, have been expanded by the inauguration of new dike building projects at Williamsport, South Williamsport and Plymouth to Projects now postponed "for the duration." The State has, however, acquired the necessary rights of way and otherwise discharged its obligations.

With respect to the Wilkes-Barre, Kingston and Hanover Township dikes, the present administration has discharged practically all the obligations to which it was committed by the previous administration, a task involving the acquisition of hundreds of parcels of land, support for pumping stations and settlements involved in utility relocations and land damage.

In addition, a $500,000 stream channel clearance program is under way in the Honesdale-Hawley and Lackawanna River Basin areas to remove sand and rock bars and other obstructions constituting ar flood menace.

Still another $500,000 stream channel clearance program is under way in the Upper Allegheny River and Sinnemahoning Creek Basins to accomplish a similar purpose. $135,000 has been allocated for repairs to the Easton Dam and initial surveys on the Lehigh River.

In point of projects and money allocations, flood control accomplishments have far exceeded those of the previous administration.

The Department has cooperated with the Federal Government on its flood control dam building program on the Allegheny River, for the relief of Pittsburgh, by giving approval to the construction of all dams thus far proposed which have reached the construction stage as to sites and work plans. Approval has been restricted to the single purpose of flood control and contingent upon the protection of certain local and State rights.

In May, 1939, the Department inaugurated and entered into cooperative agreement with the United States Geological Survey and the United States Weather Bureau, whereby the work, studies and findings of the three agencies are coordinated in the new science of flood forecasting.

Completed installation of short wave battery-operated radio, independent of commercial current supply, and devised multiple use in the operation thereof, with total of 192 licensed radio stations. Thus there is provided communication from various river gauges, flood control and precipitation locations, mostly using fire towers, to the Federal-State Flood Forecasting office at Harrisburg.

Warnings and predictions of the Federal-State Flood Forecasting Service in the March-April 1940 flood on the North Branch Susquehanna River, enabled those of the afflicted communities to provide for protection of life and property, and adopt orderly evacuation measures.

Forecasts made just previous to the Coudersport and Port Allegheny floods enabled the Governor's Flood Emergency Committee to anticipate tragedy and dispatch rescue crews from nearby points before waters broke river banks.

Defense industries engaged in construction on river banks and in river channels depend daily on the Federal-State Forecast Service for advance information on water stages. During late winter and early spring, a weekly service on snow depth and ice thickness on streams has been inaugurated, to provide additional information on water runoff due to snow and ice melt. This information is collected by the entire field presonnel of all the cooperating agencies.

Flash floods, striking at least expected points, have imposed heavy responsibilities during the present administration. Emergencies growing out of such civil disasters have been handled by the Governor's Flood Emergency Committee of which the Department Secretary is the Chairman. The Committee coordinates and directs the personnel and facilities of the various State departments and other agencies which have a part to perform in such crises.

The Department has long been geared to the war effort, its entire personnel and facilities having been made available to the State Council of Defense. In addition, the Secretary serves as Director of the State Evacuation Authority of the State Council of Defense devoting a considerable portion of his time and the time of other administrative personnel to this all-important work.

The Department has maintained at least 100 recreational areas on State Forest lands for public use and has developed and expanded each one to meet the increased demands fo an appreciative public, now deprived of long distance travel.

The Department recently set aside from forest lands 16 well known public playgrounds, together with sufficient additional acreage to serve present needs and permit of future park development, for exclusive use as parks. The areas set aside comprise 18,196 acres and include the hillsides, vales and glens which add to scenic grandeur. The effect of this action is that these areas become State parks under the exclusive jurisdiction of the Bureau of Parks, whereas, heretofore, the limited areas had no actual boundaries and were managed as forest lands. Parks thus established are as follows:

Name	Area	County
Black Moshannon	2150 Acres	Centre
Buchanan's Birthplace	19 Acres	Franklin
Caledonia	1795 Acres	Adams, Franklin
Childs, George W.	52 Acres	Pike
Colerain	239 Acres	Huntingdon
Cowan's Gap	1346 Acres	Fulton
Elliott, S. B.	721 Acres	Clearfield
Greenwood Furnace	382 Acres	Huntingdon
Halfway	972 Acres	Union
Kooser Lake	510 Acres	Somerset
Linn Run	2379 Acres	Westmoreland
Parker Dam	960 Acres	Clearfield
Pine Grove Furnace	3128 Acres	Cumberland
Sizerville	1390 Acres	Cameron
Whipple Dam	262 Acres	Huntingdon
Whirl's End	1891 Acres	Sullivan

The [illegible]ng, together with the Delaware Division Canal property in Bucks and Northampton Counties, approximately 50 miles in length, acquired without cost to the Commonwealth, thus preserving for posterity one of the outstanding landmarks of Pennsylvania, may well form the nucle[illegible] of that State Park system so much desired by altruistically minded citizens of Pennsylvania.

The Department initiated a sanitation program for recreational areas under the guidance of a qualified sanitary engineer, the first ever to be employed by the Bureau of Parks. Carried forward a vigorous construction and installation program with standardization of sanitary equipment.

Inaugurated systematic testing of all drinking water supplies in recreational areas. 34 wells drilled to replace spring water supply wherever found to be inadequate and unsafe.

Completed [illegible]pment of all recreational area vacation cabins for occupancy.

Developed innumerable new tenting, picnic and parking areas.

The Pymatuning recreational area of 18,000 acres was given special consideration because it is visited by thousands of people annually, and practically no attention was given to improving this area since its purchase. An adequate boathouse was constructed, eight buildings remodeled and painted, and the grounds surrounding the lake graded and landscaped.

The Graeffenburg Inn, located within the Caledonia Park area in Franklin County, was completely remodeled and today is modern in every sense of the word. The golf course which was in a state of decadence was improved and today there is a creditable eighteen hole course which now is among the best in the State.

Recreational areas within the State Forests were improved by the construction of sixty-seven horse and foot bridges, 204 public camp buildings, ten overnight cabins, 146,860 square yards of parking areas, and eight recreational dams. The greatest stride in recreational development in the history of the Department was made during this period.

Sincerely yours

G. ALBERT STEWART, Secretary.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
DEPARTMENT OF MINES

Harrisburg, December 1, 1942.

My dear Governor James:

There is attached hereto a report reviewing the activities of the Department of Mines during your administration.

Any record of the accomplishments of this Department would not be complete without paying a tribute to Hon. John Ira Thomas, my predecessor, who died July 20, 1940.

Over a period of many years of association with him in the bituminous field I had the benefit of his wise counsel and leadership. The forward steps taken during this Administration were due to his exceptional knowledge of both the bituminous and anthracite fields of the Commonwealth.

We have followed the paths which he blazed.

Anthracite Division

At the beginning of this administration the situation in the coal fields of Pennsylvania called for the exercise of sound planning, particularly in the Anthracite region. Faced with wholesale unemployment in that region, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania undertook to meet the problems of thousands of its citizens in distress and to restore the economic security of the vast majority of the people depending upon the coal industry for a livelihood.

In 1939 the first step was taken to rehabilitate the Anthracite industry, when a voluntary plan, promoted by this administration for the purpose of stabilizing the anthracite industry, was adopted by the mine workers and the coal operators, under direction of the Governor. The purpose of this plan was that market demands be adequately supplied and to avoid waste of mineral resources or the exploitation thereof without adquate return to the Commonwealth, her political subdivisions and people, and to promote the stability of employment throughout the region. Later on in 1941, an Act was approved by the General Assembly embodying within its sphere of authority powers necessary to protect and to promote the general welfare of the Anthracite industry and of the people of that region. As a result of this legislation those practices which existed upon the assumption of authority by this administration—practices which if continued would definitely destroy the economic security of great masses of people—were checked and the industry placed upon a firm foundation. All this was accomplished, not by the State usurping the rights of its citizens, but by it becoming a coordinating force in a self-governing social group. Its task was that of watching, stimulating, and restraining as necessity demanded.

Bituminous Division

The economic structure in the Bituminous region of Pennsylvania was not any too sound at the beginning of this administration. Production was at a low ebb and mines were being abandoned. Fortunately for the industry, however, this administration had its own conception of the theory of competition and its obligation to a struggling basic industry. It foresaw the misery and hardship that would engulf the people of Pennsylvania had the St. Lawrence Waterway Project been approved. Through the untiring efforts of the administration and other agencies, the project has been abandoned. It is no exaggeration to say that is completion would have placed the bituminous industry of Pennsylvania in competition with foreign coal, to the extent that all the fury and cruelty of wild animals struggling for prey would be revealed

War Activities

The Secretary of Mines was named Emergency Coordinator of Mines for Pennsylvania by the Governor, upon the request of Federal authorities, to cooperate with the War Production Board in the organization of all mining industries in the State. This required the issuing of mine serial numbers, under Preference Rating Order P-56, to more than 2,000 mines and quarries. It became the further duty of the Department of Mines to approve all purchase requests by coal companies of materials essential in other branches of the war effort.

Such purchase requests were either approved or rejected after investigation by this department.

The care of explosives in and about coal mines to prevent their possible use for sabotage purposes was another Federal assignment taken over and placed in the Department of Mines during this administration.

First Aid to the Injured

Special attention was given to the training of mine workers in the science of "First Aid to the Injured." Thousands of such workmen have been so trained. A thorough knowledge of this science by mine workers has come to be looked upon as most essential in coal mining, where the occasions to alleviate suffering and to prevent death constantly present themselves. We particularly stress this work because our experience has taught us that a superficial knowledge of "First Aid to the Injured" is a dangerous thing.

Among the 56 or more first aid teams competing in Wilkes-Barre in September 1942 was a team composed of girls, all employees of the Department of Mines. This is the first time, to my knowledge, that a girls' team has publicly appeared on an occasion of this kind in Pennsylvania. The competing teams were selected from all parts of the Anthracite and Bituminous coal fields.

Accidents

Based upon like exposure, the number of deaths that have occurred through injury in the coal mines of Pennsylvania during this administration was 300 below the number that occurred during the preceding administration. Likewise, there were 13,620 fewer injuries. This is equivalent to a savings of more than $4,300,000 in compensation.

What a picture this would present if it were possible to compute the suffering and heartaches that have been alleviated among the men, women, and children of the coal regions of Pennsylvania as a result of this accomplishment.

The accident record for Pennsylvania is much lower than any other State in the Union. The production per fatal accident in the United States for 1942 including Pennsylvania, is 455,129 tons; whereas the records indicate that production for the year 1942 in the Bituminous Division of Pennsylvania will be 758,165 tons per fatal accident. The serious accidents in Pennsylvania for three years and six months of this administration were 10,913; whereas the serious accidents for the same period of the previous administration were 12,089.

The foregoing accident comparisons show that Pennsylvania miners are working under the safest and most healthy conditions of the miners in any of the coal producing States in this Nation.

Explosions

There has not been a major catastrophe in the mines of the Bituminous Division for the year 1942, and there has not been a major catastrophe in the mines of the Anthracite Division during this administration.

Coal Bootlegging

When the present administration came into office bootlegging in the Anthracite Division was at its peak. Steps were taken to curtail these activities with the object of eliminating it as quickly as possible without causing untold suffering and hardship to the unfortunate people who were compelled by force of circumstances to earn a livelihood in this manner. After gradually cutting down the number of men employed in this work, a survey was made March 31, 1941 to determine how many men were still employed in "bootleg holes." This survey showed that there were 10,762 men so employed in 3006 "holes."

A plan was then formulated whereby the ligitimate operators in the Anthracite Division would take into their breakers and prepare for market the coal that was mined in the so-called bootleg operations, with the understanding that as each "hole" was finished, the men were to be employed in legitimate mines, and no more "holes" were to be opened.

In May, 1942, a survey was made to determine the results of this program, and it showed that there were 7,554 men so employed. Another survey was made in December, 1942 which showed that there were 4,967 men employed in bootleg operations, a reduction of 5,759 men or 53.8 per cent. In comparing these figures, it is well, however, to keep in mind that about one-third of the 4,967 so-called bootleggers are mining coal from lands they lease or for which they hold title.

There is a gradual reduction in "bootleg holes" reported each week, and there has not been a new "hole" opened since the program began. It is anticipated that coal bootlegging should be entirely eliminated by early spring.

Your very truly

RICHARD MAIZE, Secretary.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
DEPARTMENT OF HIGHWAYS

Harrisburg, November 24, 1942.

Dear Governor James:

I desire to present the following data:

Our only suggestion in needed legislation is that all laws affecting highways be coded in the same manner as the School Code, Borough Code, etc.

There is included an outline of the achievements of our Department during the past four years. The story is rather lengthy but we felt it to be necessary in fairness to the accomplishments of your Administration.

The Pennsylvania State Highway System

The 40,500 mile State Highway System of Pennsylvania, represents 40.5% of all the roads and streets in the State. It is the largest system in the United States. The average State Highway System in the Country represents about 16% of the total road and street mileage. The State Highway System consists of the following classifications which were formerly the responsibility of the local subdivisions of the Commonwealth.

37,791 Miles of Former Township and County Roads
2,120 Miles of Former Borough Streets
673 Miles of Former City Streets

40,524 Miles on Existing State Highway System

Pennsylvania has almost 3 times the mileage of State Highways of New York, 9 times the mileage of State Highways of Maryland, 10 times the mileage of State Highways of Delaware, 2 times the mileage of State Highways of Ohio, and 25 times the mileage of State Highways of New Jersey. Pennsylvania has a larger mileage of improved State Highways than any other State, leading in all types except right type pavements in which Pennsylvania is second only to Illinois.

To furnish adequate highway transportation over such a mileage and area is an enormous undertaking and responsibility under normal conditions. During the war period this responsibility assumes gigantic propositions. While there has been an understandable decrease in passsenger car traffic on account of tire and gasoline rationing there has been a decided increase in commercial traffic necessary and vital to our war efforts. This results in additional damage to our highways and increased cost of maintenance with decreased revenues and definite shortages of materials, equipment and man power necessary to perform the task. Revenues will continue to shrink and there is no early prospect of improvement in the material, equipment and man power situation. Traffic must be kept moving during every month of the year. Every employee of the Highway Department understands the situation and recognizes his or her responsibility in this emergency. Despite all obstacles, the Department has found and will continue to find the solution of this transportation problem.

The Pennsylvania Highway Department faces the future in as good or better condition than that of any other State; financially, materially and in trained and efficient personnel. It could not be anticipated in 1939 that our Country would be involved in a global war in 1941 but the present management of the Department has been trained to recognize that thrift and efficiency in civil government are just as necessary in peace as in war if maximum results and benefits are to accrue to the users of the highways and the motorists who pay the bill and that waste and extravagance should never be tolerated either in public or private enterprise. With these thoughts uppermost in mind and action the Highway Department has proceeded on the definite course during the past four years which accounts for its present status. How this has been accomplished is recited in the subsequent discussion of definite and specific facts.

Management

While improvements and maintenance of the State Highway System are the principal activities of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways, upon which its efficiency may be judged and evaluated by the travelling public, the services rendered in these duties and obligations are made possible by the relative efficiency of the management exercised by the Administration in control of the State Government. The present Administration promised to eliminate graft, corruption, incompetence, waste, and extravagance, wherever and whenever found and to furnish the citizens of Pennsylvania with an honest, efficient, business Administration. This promise has been followed to the letter in the management of the Highway Department. The success of the scope and magnitude of Pennsylvania's Construction and Maintenance Program is the result of the sincerity of this management. Following is an outline of these managerial accomplishments:

Financial Control

The present management of the Highway Department has established a Modern Budget System which places definite personal responsibility upon each employee in charge of operating expenditures. This Budget Plan covers not only the principal sub-division of proposed expenditures but it carried down through the organization so that each individual supervisor knows exactly the funds available for each semi-monthly pay period during the year. To enforce this system, the Comptroller of the Department has full authority over the accounting and clerical organization in both the Central and Field Offices, with the Comptroller reporting directly to the Secretary of Highways. In this manner the Operating and Financial functions of the Department are separated and no operating employee has any jurisdiction or control, and can give no orders, affecting financial operations. The operating employee controls the methods of handling the work and must complete all activities within the funds allocated, which allocations are premised upon detailed estimates prepared for each individual construction or major maintenance project. These estimates are prepared by the Field organization and checked by the Central Office. No excuses or alibis are accepted for failure to complete the work within the estimate; but, if due to unanticipated conditions, it becomes apparent that an allocation may be exceeded, full data must be presented to the Central Office for consideration and final disposition. Funds may not be transferred from one project to another. Any funds remaining after completion of a specific project must be returned to the Central Office for reauthorization on new work. Overdrafts have been eliminated and balances are kept active by increased volume of production.

The policy of the Department is that funds may not be expended until they actually exist in the form of hard cash. The Department program and proceeds with work on the basis of anticipated revenues but expends only money that is in the bank. This is a fundamental doctrine of successful business management.

Manuals

During the present Administration the following Manuals standardizing and controlling operations of the Highway Department were revised and rewritten to conform with the existing efficient policies and practices of the Administration:

Accounting	Planting
Construction	Right of Way
Estimating	Safety
Equipment	Surveys
Maintenance	Traffic

Design of Pavements and Structures

In the design of Pavements and Structures on State Highways in Pennsylvania, type, width, depth and strength on all new construction, reconstruction, resurfacing and modernization, are premised on actual and potential peace or war traffic requirements of the areas affected.

The alignment, and grades of new highways are designed to provide maximum sight distance and safety consistent with the density and speed of traffic utilizing the improvement.

Our present designs include the latest and most improved four-lane Divided Highways, as well as Clover Leaf, Rotary and Traffic Controlled Intersection Construction in the interest of expeditious and safe highway transportation.

The practice of providing a third lane of pavement on existing two-lane highways on long grades is being continued and enlarged where trucks control the movement and speed of traffic.

Data from the Federal-State Highway Planning Survey have been of great value in designing our construction projects and when full information is available the major portion of guess work will be eliminated from Pavement and Structure design.

Construction Activities

For many years the Highway Department attempted to obtain uniformity in completed work in Portland cement concrete, asphaltic concrete and sheet asphalt structures and pavements using standard proportions and methods with raw materials which, while possessing the same generic compositions, were entirely different in their specific characteristics, especially when used in certain particular combinations. The Department, during this Administration, changed this method by designing the mixes on the basis of the actual specific gravity and characteristics of the individual materials incorporated in the desired finished product. This has resulted in uniformity of completed work to the highest possible degree, thus insuring better and more durable roads and structures for the users of Pennsylvania's Highway System. As an added proof that the Department is on the right track, the Portland Cement Association, under the direction of Professor Scholer of the University of Kansas, recently completed a survey, study and analysis of the concrete pavements constructed in southern New York and northern Pennsylvania, where a large percentage of failures have occurred in this type of construction, and the Department is very proud to state that after the most careful research and analysis, the recommendations made to avoid and prevent repetitions of unsatisfactory work had already been incorporated in the present specifications of the Highway Department.

The Highway Department has eliminated "trick" specifications. During the period 1936-38 there were specifications for 31 types of pavement surface. This has been reduced to 17.

Under previous management of the Highway Department the Testing Engineer and his laboratory staff were responsible only for the quality of the materials in accordance with samples submitted to them for testing, while the operating departments were in control of the field acceptance and use of the materials in all construction and maintenance activities. The Laboratory and Materials men were acting in a consulting capacity instead of being in complete control of the quality and use of materials. This has been changed during the present Administration by placing full responsibility upon the Chief Materials Engineer. His Central Office and Field Assistants have complete control and jurisdiction in the materials field and are divorced entirely from the supervising employes of the Maintenance and Construction organizations. There is no more divided authority and in the future any failures due to unsatisfactory materials become the sole responsibility of the Materials Engineer.

Specification requirements have been strengthened on all materials entering into every class of highway construction and maintenance and there are no groups or individuals who can exert any influence or power on the present Administration to permit the use of any material which fails to meet the rigid laboratory, field and service tests which have been set up by the Testing Engineer. Furthermore, the specification requirements are more exacting than those permitted and approved by our surfounding states, the Federal Government and the National Association of Testing Materials and State Highway Officials.

Contract Construction

The method of Contract Construction has been utilized on the major construction projects in the Highway Department, because this system produces more value for the money than any other method. In addition better work is secured in quicker time. The contract system, by reason of its competitive character, must, of necessity to endure, utilize every improved method of operation and design of equipment to accomplish maximum results at lowest possible cost. The citizens and taxpayers of Pennsylvania have been the beneficiaries. Improved designs of highways and bridges of greater width, lighter curvature, reduced grades and maximum sight distance naturally increase unit quantities of construction per mile of road but, due to the reduction in unit prices, the completed average cost per mile of comparable road has not been greatly in excess of what it was many years ago.

Department Force Construction

The records of the Highway Department disclose that the lighter types of highway flexible base and surface construction can be accomplished as cheaply and efficiently by Department Forces, especially where the grading quantities are light and where the construction follows closely the existing lines and grades. A certain amount of this class of work is desirable to stabilize employment among the regular hourly maintenance personnel, thereby providing the maximum possible employment throughout the entire year for the foremen, caretakers, equipment operators and laborers who are of vital necessity in maintaining the State Highway System throughout the fuor seasons of the year.

W. P. A. Construction

Pennsylvania, being a leading industrial State, suffered severely during the era of economic distress. This resulted in a very large proportion of our population becoming dependent upon Public Assistance, either direct or work relief. By reason of this, W. P. A. has been a considerable factor in the employment situation. The high points in W. P. A. employment occurred in 1936 when the largest number employed on State Highways totaled 38,000 and in 1938 when the largest number totaled 143,000. During the fiscal year from June 1, 1940 to May 31, 1941, the maximum number employed on the State Highway system was slightly over 40,000. Approximately 35,000 were employed as of December 1, 1940, and in November, 1942, the number of employees has deceased to approximately 4,000.

The Highway Department has been the largest single sponsor of W. P. A. activities in Pennsylvania, and one of the largest in the Nation. The W. P. A. authorities cannot employ men without the sponsor advancing 25 per cent of the cost of the work, although only a 10 per cent contribution was required in the previous Administration.

During the previous Administration, W. P. A. work was undertaken on a state-wide basis with no definite financial controls on individual projects. This policy climaxed in an expenditure by Federal authorities and the State Highway Department of more than 100 millions of dollars in 1938 of which the sponsor's share was approximately 10 per cent. It was practically impossible to determine the physical value and units of actual work performed. The present management of W. P. A. and the Highway Department worked out a system whereby each individual project was set up under a specific authorization.

In 1938-39, Pennsylvania expended almost $9,400,000.00 of its Motor License Fund as the Sponsor's share of W. P. A. improvements on the State Highway System. This represented approximately 10 per cent of the total cost. The remaining 90 per cent was expended by the Federal Government. In 1939-40, the Sponsor's share was approximately $7,100,000.00 and in 1940-41, it was $8,300,000.00. Although these figures represented 25 per cent of the total cost, more work was performed in each of these two years by W. P. A. forces, for a total average cost of 33 millions of dollars per year than was accomplished in 1938-39 at an approximate total cost of 100 millions of dollars in that year.

The Sponsor's share of approximately $3,800,000.00 of total cost of approximately 15 millions of dollars in 1941-42 and $2,000,000.00 Sponsor's share in 1942-43 is due to contraction of W. P. A. Programs. The efficiency and results secured are comparable with the two previous years of the present Administration.

The Sponsor's share provides: first, materials entering into and becoming a component part of the completed structure; second, necessary administrative and engineering expenses; third, road building equipment and as a last resort if the first 3 items do not equal 25 per cent of the total cost on a State wide basis, rental of trucks or similar transportation equipment, is furnished by the Department. W. P. A. provides necessary labor and funds for non-labor items averaging $6.00 per man for each man employed. W. P. A. has guaranteed completion of projects on the basis of the original estimates and agreements provided by their and our representatives. Modern business methods are paying dividends in this class of work to W. P. A. and the motorists of Pennsylvania. Efficiency has increased materially and W. P. A. activities along the highways of Pennsylvania ceased to be the butt of the travelling punster.

The expenditures by the Highway Department, out of the Motor License Fund, as sponsor's share of the total cost of the work, and the physical accomplishments during the past eight years, are as follows:

Year	Expenditures	Accomplishments in Miles Surface Surfacing	Widening	Total
1935-36* ...	$1,175,000.00	55.58	28.28	83.86

Pennsylvania State Work Relief

Recognizing the probability of the contraction of the Federal W. P. A. Program in the Nation and State, Governor James introduced and secured Legislative approval of the Pennsylvania State Work Relief Program. This program offers employment to able bodied individuals who cannot secure work in private industry or W. P. A. and are on the Relief Assistance Rolls of the Commonwealth. Several hundred men have been furnished employment on worthwhile construction projects under this Legislation, by the Pennsylvania Department of Highways, with uniformly good results.

Operation and Repair of Equipment

Establishment of a rigid control and supervision over the activities of the operation and repair of equipment has resulted in the rapid elimination of the inefficiency, extravagance, waste and ignorance which existed previously in this important feature of State Highways Operation. District Mechanics in the District organizations and Shop Foremen in the County Maintenance Units were selected after they had passed strict examinations by the Equipment Engineer who passes personally on their qualifications. Equipment Operators and Mechanics must also pass a written examination to determine their qualifications to operate and repair the several kinds of equipment utilized in Highway Construction and Maintenance.

The results of this drastic change in management and supervision, under the present Administration, may be enumerated as follows:

a. Establishment of definite and easily understood specifications which insure fair, free, impartial and open competition for all companies who manufacture, produce and furnish equipment, tools, supplies and materias which are purchased by the Highway Department. The co-called "pull and influence" have been completely eliminated in awarding such purchases. Closer contact with Department of Property and Supplies has resulted in more prompt consummation of purchases.

b. Modernization and Replacement of worn out and obsolete equipment, especially in Snow Removal Units.

c. Simplification of Inventory Control System which now checks with the actual equipment, materials and supplies on hand instead of a complicated mass of figures which checked with nothing of a tangible nature. Obsolete materials and equipment which would serve no useful purpose were classified as junk and disposed of prior to the time that the Federal Government requested that such action should be taken in the interest of the war effort and National Patriotism.

d. Closer check on expenditures by District Mechanics and Central Garage representatives insures purchase of only such parts and supplies as are absoutely necessary for actual repairs to equipment.

e. Purchase of repair parts and materials from local dealers at Fleet Owner and Cash Discounts which eliminates delays in necessary repairs.

f. Transfer of excess and unusable repair parts in one District to another District or to the Central Garage where they can be used to advantage, thereby reducing idle inventory which represents a large cash value.

g. Utilizing Department owned equipment wherever possible, thereby reducing cost of unnecessary rented equipment.

h. From a financial standpoint, the cost of operating and repairing Department owned equipment is approximately $1,000,000.00 less per year than it was in 1938-39.

A comparison of costs of rented equipment for the past several years proves definitely the merit of a business Administration of the management of the Highway Department.

Year	Total Rented Equipment	Total Rented Trucks
1935	$2,137,600.00	$1,341,100.00
1936	4,317,200.00	2,586,400.00
1937	5,369,900.00	3,401,300.00
1938	7,951,800.00	5,400,800.00
1939	4,407,300.00	2,694,200.00
1940	4,216,000.00	1,862,500.00
1941	4,873,000.00	1,965,000.00
1942*	3,000,000.00*	1,000,000.00*

* Estimated to December 31, 1942.

Equipment is now rented purely from the standpoint of necessity to perform work and not to satisfy the demands of political patronage.

i. A system of preventive maintenance of equipment was installed in the second year of the present Administration so that existing equipment would be conserved and its useful life prolonged to the maximum.

j. Cars and car mileage have been rationed in the interest of conserving rubber and other vital equipment and materials.

Safety and Accident Prevention

During this war time period it is more essential than ever to conserve our available manpower, and reduce accidents to the lowest possible point. By following the recognized policies of Industrial Management, under the supervision of trained safety personnel, the Department of Highways has established and maintained a most excelent record of safety accomplishments among its employes as is evidenced by the following tabulation:

Year	No. Lost Time Accidents	Frequency Rate per Million Man Hours	Insurance Premium Rate per $100.00 of Pay Roll
1939	475	14.91	$2.65 and $2.34
1940	384	12.56	1.49 and 1.22
1941	403	10.72	0.95 and 0.88
1942 (10 Mos.) ..	232	8.81	0.99 and 0.92

Such an accomplishment results not only in saving in cost of operating the Department but insures a most definite reduction in pain and suffering of our employes and their families. That is most important and gratifying.

Personnel

Reorganization of Personnel Unit under the direction of a qualified technical engineer experienced in Highway Construction Maintenance and Operations, assures the necessary training and ability to choose qualified employees for the positions in an organization whose functions are of a highly specialized and technical nature.

Public Relations

Every effort has been exerted to acquaint the motorists and the citizens of Pennsylvania with the activities of the Department.

A brief report, summarizing the activities for the year has been forwarded to each motorist in the State with his license tags. This was a new departure and has met with approval of the motorists. The practice, which is most inexpensive should be continued.

Statistics and other records of the Department have been furnished to all interested groups and individuals. This was also a new practice of the present Administration which believes that the people of Pennsylvania should know how their money is expended and the results that are secured.

Traffic Control

The Traffic Division of the Highway Department has been reorganized in the interest of maximum service and protection of the travelling public. Outstanding accomplishments may be enumerated as follows:

	Miles Traffic Lines Painted
Year	Solid Lines	Broken (Fog) Lines	Total
1938	3300	1075	4375
1939	3300	1482	4782
1940	4555	2650	7205
1941	6382	6068	12450
1942*	....	....	12028*

* Reports for 1942 incomplete.

These increased markings have resulted in elimination of many accidents and due to improved machinery and methods the costs have been reduced from approximately $50.00 per mile in 1938 to less than $15.00 per mile at the present time.

Improved designs of signs and traffic signals have resulted in standardization throughout the State and are further aids in traffic accident prevention.

Standards have been prepared for the installation of roadside delineators to be placed after the war. The plan provides for the changing radii of the curvature of the highway.

Utility Companies having poles within eight feet of the edge of the pavement surface have been required to place three reflector buttons in each pole. This safety feature is quite apparent.

Signs reading "Victory Speed 35 Miles" have replaced the standard legal 50 mile signs in the interest of conservation of tires and gasoline to speed the war effort.

In collaboration with the Pennsylvania Motor Police under the State Council of Defense traffic control plans for the evacuation of eastern war area civilians have been prepared. Part of the plan included the installation of green arrow signs in the eastern part of Pennsylvania. Our plan for this traffic control, while differing from most other states has received extremely favorable comment in Washington.

Roadside Development

The Highway Department has continued and improved the policy of roadside development in the interest of preventive maintenance and the esthetic appearance of the Highway Right of Way. By emphasizing the utilitarian features of planting native shrubs, vines and perennials on the slopes where extensive and vigorous root systems were needed to provide satisfactory stabilization, maintenance costs have been reduced materially. Planting of grass on berms and shoulders and on the flatter slopes has accomplished similar results.

The State Highway Nursery near Lewisburg has furnished approximately 44 percent of the total planting stock used by the Department. This nursery produces material at approximately 40 percent of the cost of the product from commercial nurseries.

Under the provisions of the Federal Aid Act, one percent of all Federal appropriations must be utilized in roadside improvement. During the past 4 years more than $300,000 has been expended. An additional State program of more than $100,000 was inaugurated during the past year.

Trees, shrubs, etc. have been furnished from the State Highway Nursery for the roadside improvement program of the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

During the past four years approximately one-half million signs have been removed from the State Highway Right of Way limits, within which placing of signs is illegal.

Highway Planning

During this administration substantial progress was made toward the completion of the State-wide highway planning survey, which is being conducted in cooperation with the Federal Public Roads Administration. This was the result of good organization and concentration of effort on summarization of data which had either been secured from basic surveys, or were being collected as part of the continuing functions.

The scope of the work of the Planning Division includes a rural road inventory. From the road inventory a map is being prepared for each county, showing the location of the roads with respect to many important factors of culture, such as railroads, houses, churches, schools, business establishments, factories, mines, oil and gas wells, aviation landing fields, and population centers. Although greatly handicapped by loss of trained personnel to military service and to war industries, considerable progress was made in the mapping operations, and base maps for 57 counties have been completed.

Traffic counts which were taken in the basic traffic survey were expanded to show average daily traffic for all sections of roads in the State, with the exception of roads in urban areas. The average daily traffic was broken down into passenger and truck traffic.

The financial study included a detailed analysis of all fiscal transactions of all political units of the State, and a narrative report describing the procedure followed in that study was completed during this administration. The study shows the extent and magnitude of all the financial operations, and, in particular, the place occupied by highways in the total activities. It also evaluates the relative highway contributions made and benefits received by the rural and urban groups of residents.

In connection with the financial study, a road use survey and road life study were made. The road use study is designed to furnish information on the relative use of the various highway systems of the State by the residents of the several population groups, so that direct benefits received by them may be measured.

The road life study concerned the compilation of available data on construction and retirement of the approximately 15,000 miles of highways included in the State "old system" and such other highway mileage as is included in the Federal-aid System.

The Pennsylvania Turnpike

While surveys and plans for the construction of the Turnpike were instituted and considerably advanced during the previous Administration, the physical work was underway to a very limited extent, the decision to carry through the construction to completion was made by the present Administration.

The Highway Department, under the legislation authorizing the Turnpike, was responsible for approval of all engineering and construction activities. Two construction engineers of the Highway Department were assigned to this work in a consulting and supervisory capacity. The decision to proceed, the quality of the completed work and the expeditious handling of the operations may be considered as definite accomplishments of the present Administration.

The present Administration also sponsored the east and west extension of the Turnpike, and completed an engineering report on the eastern extension to Philadelphia.

Department Force Hourly Employment

The number of hourly employees on Department Force Work attests to the sincerity of the present Administration in its promise to establish modern, efficient, business practices in the conduct of the Commonwealth's activities. Previous records show that large numbers of persons were employed immediately prior to election, especially in gubernatorial years. Such practices failed in both 1934 and 1938 to control the political destinies of Pennsyvania, when 60,000 and 65,000 men were on the State Highway hourly pay roll. The people of Pennsylvania still hold that thrift and efficiency are definite virtues which they desire. They endorsed, in 1938, the promised policies which have been followed in this Administration where the number of hourly employees has been held to the maximum of approximately 16,000, except during the St. Valentine's Day blizzard in 1940, when it amounted to 26,000, but for only a two week period. Padding of State Highway pay rolls in 1938, the political expediency, resulted in a great State Highway scandal.

Salaried personnel of the Highway Department declined from 3500 employees in the fall of 1938, to 1855 on December 1, 1942, with possible further decreases as the war effort continues its demands for our employees.

Construction, Reconstruction, Resurfacing, and Surface Widening

Period	Miles Completed	Average per Year
4 years previous Administration (1935-1939)	5406	1352
4 years present Administration (1939-1943)	7500*	1875

* Mileage estimated from Nov. 1942 to May 31, 1943.

In 1939, the Department recognized that the State Highway System was becoming obsolete and inadequate to meet the demands of modern commercial truck and passenger car traffic and in accordance with the pledge of the present Administration to proceed with a "balanced highway construction program," the Department during the past four fiscal years has reconstructed a large mileage of our main State Highways to eliminate traffic bottle-necks, due to lack of width and strength of structure to accommodate the enormous increase in volume and weight of traffic, as well as constructed approximately 4000 miles of the important farm-to-market roads on the Rural State Highway System. This foresight and definite policy have made it possible for the Pennsylvania State Highway System to meet the demands imposed upon it by the National Defense and War Effort traffic.

The total State Highway Improvement Program of the past four years, from the Motor License Fund will amount to approximately $146,184,500 or $36,546,000 per year, as compared with $91,660,000 for the four years of the previous Administration, or at the rate of $22,915,000 per year. The Improvement Program of the past two years of 40 and 50 millions of dollars respectively, have been the largest in the history of the Department since 1930, when our State Highway System was only one-third of tis present size. These programs have been larger than those of any other State. Pennsylvania has been expending more money for Construction, Reconstruction, Resurfacing, Modernization, etc. than any other State has been expending for all State Highway purposes. The rate of charge to the motorists has been the general average of the United States. From the standpoint of both quality and quantity of Improvement Programs, Pennsylvania, under the present Administration, leads the Nation.

Federal Regulations and Priorities, in the interest of the war effort, caused a drastic reduction in the 1942-43 State Highway Improvement Program. Had Pennsylvania been able to proceed normally, more than 65 million dollars woud have been avaiable for this year, which would have been the largest in the history of the Commonwealth. Approximately 32 millions or almost one-half of the anticipated sum will be expended during the 1942-43 fiscal year.

This improvement program was accomplished with existing current revenues, without any increase in taxation or borrowing of money.

Maintenance of State Highway System

On account of the topography, climate, traffic, and types of highways, Pennsylvania's maintenance problems are more varied, complex, and difficult than those of other States. The large mileage of macadam pavements which require continuous patching and surface treatment (approximately 25,000 miles) presents a problem which no other State faces. The guarantee Snow Removal and Winter Service Program on almost 20,000 miles of the most important State Highways is the largest in the Nation.

By reason of Pennsylvania's industrial and mining capacity, so vital to the war activities, the State Highway System is being subjected to the largest volume and weight of truck traffic in its history. This is especially true in the areas where coal stripping has become most prevalent.

The main highways, with very few exceptions are absorbing this additional traffic in a satisfactory manner. It has been necessary, however, to spend more than $900,000.00 during the past three years for special patching of rigid type pavements to repair the damages caused by the increased weight and volume of commercial traffic. More than $500,000.00 of this total was expended during 1942. In specific locations, light type pavements which were never designed for heavy traffic have been seriously damaged.

During the past four years the Department has developed a maintenance organization which has performed a better job at less cost than ever experienced in the history of Pennsylvania.

During the four years of the previous Administration, from 1935 to 1939, the expenditures for all Maintenance Operations, including General and Special Repairs, Surface Treatment, Snow Removal, Flood Repairs, etc. totalled $87,752,000.00, or an average of $21,938,000.00 per year, with an all time high of $23,452,000.00 in 1938-39. During the four years of the present Administration approximately $66,611,000.00 will have been expended for these operations or an average of $16,653,000.00 per year. This reduction in cost was accomplished without in any way decreasing necessary and adequate services to the travelling public and residents along our roads and streets.

The Federal Government, through the Public Roads Administration, each year inspects all Pennsylvania State Highways constructed under the Federal Aid Plan dating back to the inception of the Federal Air System in 1916. In 1941, they inspected 5,636 miles of Pennsylvania State Highways and Pennsylvania received the highest rating ever given this State. The Federal rating of Pennsylvania for 1941, compared with the average of all the States, is as follows:

Class of Work	Pennsylvania	United States
Surface	95 Percent	92 Percent
Drainage	97 "	93 "
Shoulders	90 "	87 "
Major Structures	98 "	96 "
Minor Structures	96 "	95 "
Roadside Cleaning ...	96 "	92 "
Traffic Service	96 "	94 "
Total	96 "	93 "

The total average of the four States which comprise the Federal Engineering District of which Pennsylvania is a part, was 95 percent. These States are Ohio, Maryland, Delaware, and Pennsylvania. From advance reports received to date the 1942 record for Pennsylvania will be equally as good or better than for 1941.

This impartial fact finding rating of the Federal Authorities attests to the high quality of State Highway Maintenance in Pennsylvania, in spite of the enormous reduction in costs.

Surface Treatment of Highways

By improving specifications of bituminous and covering materials as well as increasing the efficiency of methods and operations in performing the work, it has been possible to increase the cycle life of surface treatment from an average of 3 years to 5 years. This results in a saving of approximately two millions of dollars per year and decreases the inconvenience to the travelling public.

Flood Damages to Pennsylvania State Highways and Bridges

The flash floods of 1942 combined with restrictions on materials and shortage of labor and equipment have placed an almost insurmountable obligation on the Highway Department.

In addition to the many miles of roads and streets which were destroyed or seriously damaged, 70 bridges were totally destroyed and 165 were damaged. Practically all the roads have been repaired or the work is under way and the bridge repairs and replacement are proceeding as rapidly as the designs are completed and the necessary materials procured. Girders and beams are being salvaged wherever possible from the damaged bridges; from materials reserved from former reconstruction of structures and by negotiated purchases from railroads and others who may have supplies of suitable second hand materials available. It is practically impossible to secure new material.

Following is the tabulation of flood damage expenditures in Pennsylvania during the past eight years.

Fiscal Year	Damage to Roads	Damages to Bridges	Total
1935-36	$ 846,000.00	$ 100,000.00	$ 946,000.00
1936-37	1,155,000.00	1,120,000.00	2,275,000.00
1937-38	604,000.00	2,059,000.00	2,663,000.00
1938-39	49,000.00	88,000.00	137,000.00
1939-40	70,000.00	17,000.00	87,000.00
1940-41	55,000.00	34,000.00	89,000.00
1941-42	213,000.00	19,000.00	232,000.00
1942-43* ...	1,500,000.00	1,100,000.00	2,600,000.00

* Covers actual and estimated damage.

The most devastating flood damage occured on St. Patrick's Day 1936, and the most serious since that date were the flash floods of the present year in north central and north eastern Pennsylvania.

Snow Removal and other Winter Services

This is the one feature of Highway Maintenance that cannot be anticipated definitely. It is true that averages are available covering a period of many years but no one can prophesy as to the amount of snow fall or severity of any specific winter season. Removal of snow from the State Highway System was begun in the first World War on the Lincoln Highway and from that small beginning the guaranteed winter service has now been increased to 19,924 miles for the 1942-43 winter season. 2,524 miles of snow fence will be erected during the season. This compares with a guaranteed winter service program of 13,375 miles in 1938 and 2,058 miles of snow fence erected during that year. Thousands of pieces of Department owned equipment and equipment rented from private individuals are utilized to accomplish this herculean task. Nature gives no quarter in this constant battle and none is requested by the thousands of equipment operators, laborers, foremen and supervisory employees who must encounter the innumerable hardships and work the long hours with little or no food or rest that makes it possible for the traffic to move over the Pennsylvania State Highway System after each storm. A terrific storm on a winter sea is the course to be followed until the victory is won. There the only task comparable with that of the modern snow fighter may never be any thought of defeat.

Due to loss of hundreds of trained equipment operators and mechanics to the armed forces and supporting industries, Pennsylvania faces a more difficult task than ever before, but the men and equipment of the Department will be utilized to the best possible advantage, with preference being given to the roads carrying the largest amount of War traffic. The costs of this service for the past 10 years is as follows:

Year	Cost
1932-33	$1,086,186.24
1933-34	2,180,280.89
1934-35	2,639,425.09
1935-36	5,771,271.33
1936-37	2,969,958.89
1937-38	3,510,161.96
1938-39	4,894,842.59
1939-40	4,379,729.52
1940-41	4,640,624.80
1941-42	3,706,329.92

Modern equipment, materials, efficient personnel and methods have made it possible to reduce existing costs of every maintenance operation below those of previous accomplishments.

Prior to 1939, the Department maintained 97 different types of roads. Comparison of methods and maintenance costs were impossible. By simplification of records, only 10 types are now maintained and the Department has comparative costs which will guide future construction programs. Nine classes of Surface Treatment have been reduced to three.

In both quality and quantity of its Maintenance Programs, Pennsylvania ranks the highest among comparable States.

Administration, Maintenance and Operating Costs

Prior to the advent of the present Administration, the cost of administration, operating and maintenance of the Pennsylvania Highway System had been steadily increasing. There was no competition in these classes of work as far as efficiency was concerned. The most prolific spender was generally considered the most capable operator. The present management promised to stop this trend, and did. The Budget presented to the Highway Department by the previous Administration was reduced from their former expenditures in administration, operating and maintenance items, but the present Highway Management has been able to reduce the revised budget figures on these items by 25 millions of dollars between the advent of this Administration and the end of the fiscal year on May 31, 1941, and the expenditures for these items in 1941-42 and 1942-43, are less than those of the two previous fiscal years. Critics of these policies have accused the Highway Department of saving money at the expense of labor. On the contrary, every dollar of reduced cost in the Highway Department was made immediately available for further capital improvement of the Highway System. The money was placed at work immediately and men were employed on highway construction jobs and in every industry which supplies this construction.

At the beginning of this Administration, technical and financial experts of the Department advised that by the end of the Administration the rising costs of administration, maintenance and operation would exhaust the financial possibilities of present Motor Fund Revenues and, with the possible exception of matching Federal Aid Allocations of approximately 6 millions per year, there would be no money available for further capital improvements unless additional taxation was placed upon the motorists. The Department believes that the motorists of this State and Nation are paying their just share of taxation and no further burdens should be placed upon them. The Department, therefore, chose the hard way of raising funds for necessary construction and moderization of the highway system by reducing costs instead of the common practice of modern governments of borrowing from future generations or levying back breaking tax burdens upon our citizens.

We are attaching an Operating Statement of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways for the 13 Fiscal Years from 1929-30 to 1941-42, inclusive. This statement portrays costs of State Highway activities by class of work from the Motor License Fund. It includes Federal Aid Funds.

Pennsylvania, during the present Administration, is one State that has demonstrated that it is possible to reduce the "cost of government." In the Highway Deparment, this is evidenced by reduction in administration, maintenance, and operation accounts.

Costs for improvements in 1940-41 and 1941-42, are larger than any year since 1930-31, despite the fact that maintenance and mileage obligations have been tripled.

The Improvement Program is the largest in the United States. Pennsylvania, under present management, is the only State in the Nation which is financially able to proceed with such program, either with or without Federal Aid.

Enlarged improvement programs of modern highway construction during the past several years have increased the Right-of-Way requirements of the Highway Department. In 1931 the law was modified so that responsibility of the individual counties became optional for securing additional Right-of-Way for State Highway purposes. This has resulted in an increase in State expenditures from $3700.00 in 1931-32 to $2,926,000.00 in 1941-42 with a very small percentage of total cost now being assumed by the Counties or other local subdivisions of the Commonwealth. Outstanding obligations at the present time, including the condemnations in Philadelphia for the Vine Street approaches to the Delaware River bridge amount to approximately 10 millions of dollars.

Every possible effort has been made by the present Administration to settle the outstanding claims in as expeditions and fair a manner as possible consistent with equal fairness to the property owner and the State as is evidenced by the following tabulation:

Calendar Years	No. of Claims Settled	Amount Paid Claimants	Average Amount per Claim
1939	1122	$ 987,128.00	$ 880.00
1940	1562	1,432,135.00	917.00

This Administration furnished a 15-month Motor License privilege for a 12-month charge in 1940. This is a cash dividend to the Motorist.

Reduction of administrative costs to 8.07 percent of Total Costs in 1941-42, provided lowest percentage of cost of this item since 1931-32. This compares with a high of 15.33 percent in the first year of the previous Administration in 1935-36.

Costs of all classes of Maintenance were reduced from a high of $599.00 per mile in 1936-37 to $402.00 per mile in 1939-40, $421 per mile in 1940-41, and $400.00 per mile in 1941-42. Due to increased cost of labor, materials and equipment 1942-43 costs will be about 10% greater.

Traffic bottlenecks which have been avoided and postponed for years, due to problems involved and high cost of construction, have been constructed by the present Administration, from savings made as outlined above.

The item of Workmen's Compensation cost the Highway Department $980,000.00 in 1938-39 as compared with $229,000.00 in 1939-40 and $123,000.00 in 1940-41, and no cash payment was made in 1941-42 or as yet in 1942-43, as our total premiums were paid from accrued dividends due to reduction in accidents.

By following the safety policies of private industry, the rate has been reduced from a high of $2.9210 per hundred dollars of payroll in 1937-38, to the all time low of $0.8771, effective July 1, 1941.

To summarize, under the present Administration, Pennsylvania is maintaining the largest State Highway System in the world at a minimum cost and has carried on the largest construction program.

The mileage of the State Highways System has increased from 13,500 miles in 1931, to 40,500 miles in 1942. The number of bridges on the system, in the same period, has increased from 4,300 to 17,300. The responsibility for highway mileage has been tripled and the responsibility for bridges has been quadrupled. The increase in the Motor License Fund available to the Highway Department for the 1939-41 Biennium was approximately 27 percent more than for the 1929-31 Biennium. There is no other business, private, corporate, or governmental which has faced such a large increase in obligations with so little increase in revenues available.

The war, with its attendant restrictions, prevents Pennsylvania from proceeding with the largest highway improvement program in its history during the 1942-43 Fiscal Year. The improvement costs for this year will approximate $32,000,000.00 or 64 percent of the 1941-42 total.

Administration, maintenance, and operation costs have been reduced from 53.5 percent of the total during the previous Administration, to 37.3 percent of the total under the present management. Improvement costs were increased from the previous low of 38 percent of the total to 56 percent of the total. The percentage reduction in aid to Townships from 8.5 percent during the previous Administration to 6.7 percent during the present Administration, is due to the amount appropriated by the Legislature and approved by the Governor.

Administration costs have been reduced from 12.5 percent of the total during the four years of the previous Administration, to 9.2 percent of the total during the present Administration, with a low of 8.07 percent in the 1941-42 fiscal year.

Assistance to Local Subdivisions of the Commonwealth

In line with the Home Rule principle of the present Administration, the upkeep of the Second Class Township Roads, of approximately 45,000 miles, was turned back to the Township Supervisors under legislation enacted at the 1939 Session of the Legislature. Act 9-A, approved May 17, 1939, amended the appropriation, amounting to $3,300,003.89, to be allocated to the Second Class Townships on a mileage basis. Act 10-A, approved May 17, 1939, appropriated $8,500,000.00 to the Townships for the maintenance and construction of township roads and bridges during the two calendar years 1940 and 1941. The 1941 Session of the Legislature continued this appropriation in similar amounts for 1942 and 1943.

Act 9-A and 10-A provided for the allocation to be expended by the Township Supervisors of each township, under the supervision and subject to the approval of the Department of Highways, and in compliance with such rules and regulations which the Department of Highways prescribed in carrying out the provisions of the Act.

The Department of Highways was given the responsibility of administering the appropriation Act 9-A and 10-A, and of supervising the work of the townships performed under the provisions of these Acts.

State supervision of the township work included not only the full time assignment of the Township Bureau, but also incidental services rendered by survey corps, district bridge engineers, district mechanics, materials engineers, oiling inspections, and clerical help.

The Department has furnished the townships a great deal of assistance, and has endeavored to bring about a proper coordination between the Department and the township so that standards, practices, specifications, etc. are as uniform in application as possible.

After three years of operation, the Township Supervisors, at their Annual Convention in their respective counties, were endorsing the present legislation and the policies of the Highway Department in administering its provisions.

In the previous Administration, the actual work on Township Roads was performed by the Highway Department with the township officials and employees working for the State. Under the present Administration, the Department has informed the Township Supervisors that the Highway Department employees are really working for the Townships in the best interests of local government responsibility, which is the foundation stone of the American form of Republican Government.

The policy of financial aid to townships and taking over local roads as State Highways has resulted in the decrease of township taxation on Real Estate from $14,300,000.00 in 1930 to $5,500,000.00 in 1942, and this reduction continues each year to the benefit of the taxpayer.

The ½c per gallon Gasoline Tax which reverted to the counties of Pennsylvania has increased in total for the first three years of the present Administration over previous subsidies. For the Fiscal Year 1941-42, this amounted to more than $8,335,000.00. Due to restriction in automobile use, this amount will be reduced considerably in 1942-43.

While no direct subsidies are paid to cities and boroughs in Pennsylvania, from the Motor License Fund, the present Administration has recognized its obligations to those subdivisions of government, due to their traffic requirements, by expending larger sums on the State Highways within their boundaries, and long neglected improvements have been consummated during the past three years.

From June 1, 1931 to May 31, 1940 only 40.5 per cent of the costs of Highway Construction and Maintenance from the Motor License Fund have been expended on the Old State Highway System which existed prior to August, 1931, and 59.5 percent have been expended on local obligations assumed by the State since that date or in direct subsidies to local subdivisions of Government.

This Administration, recognizing the unusual and acute traffic needs of the City of Philadelphia, in which the County and City areas are identical, has made provision by Legislative action to assume responsibilities formerly the obligation of the city, and have under way a large program of eliminating traffic bottlenecks and constructing projects vital to the war effort. The existing legislation provides that expenditures may not be greater than 12 millions of dollars annually.

In the Pittsburgh metropolitan area a specific program of similar improvement has been approved and is progressing as rapidly as wartime restrictions will permit. The principal improvement contemplated in Pittsburgh is the by-passing of the congested area by relocation of the Lincoln and William Penn Highways. This will be known as the Pitt Parkway Project. Surveys and Plans will be rushed to completion as rapidly as personnel permits.

Activities of Pennsylvania Department or Highways in National Defense and War Effort and Plans for Post War Activities

It is the earnest hope, wish and prayer of every employe of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways that our beloved State will never be attacked by an armed foe, but if we are bombed or are the victim of artillery fire or other forms of attack, great damage would probably result to roads, streets, buildings, and bridges. Under such conditions the Highway Department is the largest available organization which possesses the necessary equipment, materials, and trained personnel to clear away the debris and effect the repairs to public property and facilities.

In the event of an attack on New Jersey or New York which would necessitate evacuation of their civilian population into or through Pennsylvania our State Highway System would be an invaluable asset possessing the largest improved State Highway mileage in the Nation. Pennsylvania would be able ot turn over to the armed forces thousand of miles of improved roads for their specific use in troop and supply movements for contacting the enemy and have in reserve, thousands of miles for civilian and exacuatic facilities.

The Highway Department has been and is engaged in construction access roads to Army, Navy and Air Force reservations and the equally important industries supplying our war materials. This program entails expenditures of millions of dollars. Plans are being prepared for additional projects, and Pennsylvania stands ready, as always, to cooperate on any proposition of a military character which may be desired by the Federal Authorities.

In cooperation with the American Road Builders' Association the Department of Highways recruited and organized the Keystone Ordnance Company, a unit of trained personnel to be engaged in equipment maintenance for overseas combat duty with the United States Army.

To date more than 1200 Department employes have entered the armed services of our Country. Many more will go. Thousands have left for jobs in industry engaged in the War Effort. The Department will continue to carry on with reduced personnel in the maintenance and construction of highways vital to the war effort.

The Department is continuing the preparation of surveys and plans, with a depleted organization, for needed post war highway construction to accommodate traffic and provide employment. By continuing these policies, Pennsylvania will occupy a major position in the post war reconstruction.

Very truly yours

I. LAMONT HUGHES, Secretary.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH

Harrisburg, December 8, 1942

Dear Governor James:

I respectfully submit, herewith, an outline of the major accomplishments of the State Department of Health during the past four years, and other information.

This report would not be complete without a just tribute being paid to the memory of Dr. John J. Shaw, my predecessor in office. At the beginning of your administration, when the Department was under Dr. Shaw, many new policies and ideas were introduced, the most conspicuous being the development of an establishment for the early detection and control of pulmonary tuberculosis. His crusade against cancer was known throughout the Nation for its success. His work in the field of material health was outstanding.

Because of his death on June 24, 1941, Dr. Shaw did not live to see the full realization of his well thought out plans, but they have been carried out and the fulfillment of his dreams has largely been accomplished or assured.

A broad program of disease prevention and suppression carried out by the Pennsylvania Department of Health within the past four years today shows gratifying results in lives saved and the improvement of physical fitness among our people.

Definite gains were made against a number of the major causes of illness and health.

Advances in health services to the people are reflected in vital statistics for this period. The figures show a decline in the general death rate, reduction in childhood diseases and other specific causes of death. Material and infant mortality rates continued to drop, and the average live birth rate for this period was higher by comparison with that for 1935-1938. The four year average death rate for tuberculosis and penumonia were reduced.

Pneumonia Control

A Pneumonia Control Division established in 1939 made available to Pennsylvanians through their physicians the very latest diagnostic procedures, serums and drugs for the treatment of pneumonia. This resulted in a marked lowering of the death rate from the disease, which has been progressive. During the pneumonia season of 1941-42, the last for which statistics are at hand, the case rate fatality of pneumococcic pneumonia among 5,646 cases treated through the facilities of the Department, and reported upon by the attending physician was 10.85 per cent. This compares with a mortality rate of from 25 to 40 per cent. in cases not treated by specific therapy.

Tuberculosis Down

Reduction of the four year average death rate from Tuberculosis is of special significance since victims of that disease between the ages of 20 and 50 is the age group on which will fall the burden of the country"s war effort.

Medical Officers Trained

The policy of training medical officers for general administrative control of public health problems in the counties of the State was initiated by the Department and is now in operation. Physicians were given charge of ten new districts embracing 21 Pennsylvania counties. Each man has had a year's post-graduate course at the University of Pennsylvania School of Preventive Medicine and Public Health. This represents a far step from the part-time and untrained activity of the county medical directors heretofore employed in these counties. The ultimate objective of the program is the provision of trained medical directorship, through an appropriate number of districts in the remainder of the State. Training of field personnel was also extended to the State's Public Health Nurses and to the lay-sanitarians (Health Officers).

Every case of typhoid fever, with particular reference to the identification and control of typhoid carriers, was investigated. There were no serious outbreaks of this disease, and the number of cases in 1942 was the lowest in the history of the Department.

Legislation

It is felt that legislation providing assistance to typhoid fever carriers who find themselves financially embarrassed by loss of their customary occupation owing to their carrier state would not only be fair to them but would obviate some of the difficulties in their control, since failure to observe regulations could be penalized by loss of their subsidy.

The Public Assistance Act should be amended to make possible aid to those families financially handicapped by quarantine, and also to provide payments for the hopitalization of cases of infectious disease when the family cannot afford the hospital bill and removal to a hospital is necessary either for the welfare of the patient or the protection of the community.

There is urgent need for a new law governing restaurant sanitation. Provision should particularly be made for the licensing of public eating and drinking places.

Flood Relief

Three floods of major importance during the Administration, one in 1940 and the other two in 1942, caused considerable loss of life and property damage. The usual precautions were taken by the Department's sanitary engineers, physicians and health officers to protect residents in the flooded sections from contaminated waters. State Public Health Nurses also did notable work in relieving distress among the flood victims. The Governor's Emergency Disaster Committee furnished health supplies such as chloride of lime, highway repair and reconstruction, temporary bridge facilities, disaster direction and control, mass feeding and supplies, and control of contaminated food.

Control of Stream Pollution

Progress in reducing pollution of Pennsylvania's streams by industrial waste waters was achieved by the State Sanitary Water Board.

Reduction in the pollution load of about 600 establishments found to produce industrial wastes was effected.

A major project handled by the Board is that of culm in the Schuylkill River Basin. This is a long-standing case not capable of immediate solution. Millions of tons of culm and silt have been deposited in the bed of the stream over a course of years. Additions are made by the erosion of the culm banks and by the continued discharge of column from active collieries. Realizing the situation, the Board placed squarely before the authracite operators on the Schuylkill River Basin the necessity for proper control of the culm and silt now discharged to the river. As a result of this action a committee of these operators presented a report to the Board upon their problems, which report constituted a careful review of the existing conditions, with suggestions as to future efforts to control the discharge of culm and to alleviate conditions already existing.

Crippled Children Program

Pennsylvania's program for the care of crippled children was greatly enlarged during the past three years. Reorganization of the State Hospital for Crippled Children at Elizabethtown permitted admission of more patients than formerly and diagnostic clinics for crippled children were increased throughout the State.

Negroes Aided

In certain counties of the State which are known to have a large Negro population Public Health Nurses were assigned for special work. The high mortality rate among Negro children is receiving special nursing consideration.

Public information on vitamins and low cost balanced diets was disseminated by a newly organized Division of Nutrition. Dental clinics were established for children in rural areas.

Public Camps Inspected

Inspection of sanitary facilities in all public camps in the Commonwealth was started at the beginning of the Administration, and is continuing. Eighty-five trailer camps have been located and inspected.

Health Education Increased

The Department's public health education program was expanded to cover many hitherto untouched areas of the Commonwealth. Invaluable assistance was given the health education campaign by the organized medical profession of the State.

Motion picture health films were widely used in teaching the public hygienic principles and practices. Two full length motion pictures on the subjects of Pulmonary Tuberculosis and Pneumonia were produced by the State Health Department.

Eminent authorities on public health participated in three Health Institutes sponsored by the Department. The maintenance of physical fitness in wartime was the dominant theme of these meetings which attracted wide attention.

Milk Sanitation

"Interstate Barriers" were wiped out during the Administration. State boundaries were not considered in acting upon applications for permits to sell Milk and Milk Products in Pennsylvania. The cooperative agreements made with the State Departments of Health of other States were carried on without friction and in the interest of all concerned.

Vital Statistics

The Bureau of Vital Statistics has been reorganized and modernized to cope with increasing demands for certified copies of birth records.

For the first time in the history of the Bureau, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is able to supply birth records for persons born prior to 1906.

From January 1, 1939 to October 31, 1942 inclusive, a period of 46 months, total fees of $1,238,192.99, or an average of $26,917.24 a month, were turned over to the State Treasurer's office by the Bureau of Vital Statistics. This compares to an average in 1938 of approximately $7,500 per month in transmittals and shows the great increase in activities of all kinds handled by the Bureau.

The procedure whereby the issuance of certificates to dependents can be made in accordance with the Soldiers Allowance Dependents Act of 1942 was developed in the Bureau, and is being adopted by other states.

National Defense Activities

The Defense program and entry of the United States into the war confronted the Department and members of its staff with new tasks, the performance of which took precedence over all other work. Mobilization of troops at the Indiantown Gap Military reservation brought the need to establish control of communicable diseases and a sanitary environment within a twenty-five mile radius of the camp. To meet this responsibility a special corps of sanitarians under competent trained medical leadership was assigned by the Department. Activities of this Indiantown Gap unit have more recently been extended to military concentration areas at Middletown, Mechanicsburg and Chambersburg. A similar unit has served a like purpose in Crawford and Mercer Counties where a large munitions plant was built near Geneva.

Water Supply and Sewage Disposal

The important matters of mater supply and sewage disposal were expedited by the Department's Sanitary Engineers for Army Training Camps, Airports, Military Distribution Centers, Army and Navy Warehouse Depots, Shell Storage Works and Ordinance Plants for the manufacture of explosives.

In the building and operation of these huge industrial plants vast armies of workmen are being employed, attended by shifts in population which required additional housing facilities.

To meet the resulting heavy demand upon existing water works, many of which were unprepared to meet this sudden expansion, State sanitary engineers supervised the development of auxiliary supplies, and installation of new water works. The fact that there has been no major outbreak of waterborne disease is evidence that this sanitary engineering work has been effective.

Stream Pollution Curbed

The discharge of sewage and industrial waste waters from defense areas into the Commonwealth's streams causing their pollution was given special attention by the Department. New sewage treatment works were built and others enlarged to handle the increased pollution load.

A plan for the protection of public water supplies against sabotage and possible air raids through a cooperative effect of the water works, State Police, and the Department of Health was put into effect.

Post-War Effort

The Bureau of Sanitary Engineering has conferred with the National Planning Board on the subject of water works, sewerage, and industrial wasts projects suitable for post-war effort. This work is planned for the future in detail, so that, if conditions are favorable, it can be picked up promptly and put into execution without delay.

Rehabilitation

The State Health Department has assumed the responsibility of following up every case of syphilis found by the blood tests which it performs for the Selective Service System. Each case so found is referred to the family physician or to one of the 170 clinics operated by the State Health Department.

A similar procedure applies to men rejected for service because of tuberculosis.

As of November 19, 1942, approximately 9000 men rejected for military service in Pennsylvania because of tuberculosis have been treated or investigated.

At the beginning of the Administration a plan of tuberculosis control for the State with the cooperation of an Advisory Board was developed. Construction of the new hospital at Mont Alto Sanatorium and additional wards at Hamburg Sanatorium were completed. All applicants for admission to the State's Sanatoria in May 1941 were accommodated and a waiting list which averaged six or seven hundred applications during the past few years ceased to exist for the first time since 1906.

Thirty-three Pneumothorax Centers where tuberculosis patients can be given collapsed lung treatment that will enable them to go about their daily tasks were established throughout Pennsylvania in 1940.

Industrial Hygiene

To protect the health and safety of workers in Pennsylvania's war production plants and other industrial concerns, facilities of the Health Department's Industrial Hygiene Division were greatly expanded to meet needs of the emergency in the past three years.

Civilian Defense

The Department assisted in the organization of the Emergency Medical Service for the State Council of Defense. The Secretary of Health is Chairman of the Medical Advisory Committee of the State Council of Defense. The Director of Maternal and Child Health was loaned to serve as Chief Medical Officer of the Council.

All physicians and nurses in the State have been organized and assigned duties in civilian defense. To care for civilian casualties which might result from enemy action all target area hospitals have been organized to serve as casualty receiving hospitals and forty hospitals in safe areas have been designated as emergency base hospitals, to receive casualties evacuated from target areas.

Sincerely yours

A. H. STEWART, M. D., Secretary.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

PENNSYLVANIA MOTOR POLICE

Harrisburg, December 4, 1942.

Dear Governor James:

The following is a report of the accomplishments of the Pennsylvania Motor Police covering the period since January 15, 1939.

General

Because the merger of the Pennsylvania State Police and the Pennsylvania Highway Patrol into the Pennsylvania Motor Police had only been accomplished in fact about one year prior to January 1939 any comparison of accomplishments with any former period is impossible. However, it can be definitely said that during the period since that date there has been a steady improvement in the effectiveness of all operations of the Force. This is due to many factors. Among them are higher standards of training, improved methods of operation, closer coordination of all units, higher standards of discipline and improved public relations.

The war has brought many new tasks and problems, and modified many of the old problems without eliminating any of them. Among the tasks are investigations for the Federal Bureau of Investigation, The United States Secret Service, Military Intelligence, Naval Intelligence and the United States Immigration Service. The Force is ready, organized and equipped, to take its place in the Internal Defense Plans of the Army and the Internal Defense Organization. It daily expedites the movement of armed forces and convoys of war material over the highways of the Commonwealth. That these tasks have been done promptly and efficiently is attested by numerous letters from the various Federal authorities.

The whole organization has worked in effective harmony with the Office of Civilian Defense both at the Headquarters at Harrisburg and at all of its local units.

Long before December 7, 1941 a system of gathering information relative to subversive and alien activities had been set up and put into operation. The information thus collected has proved invaluable to both State and Federal authorities. At about the same time many patrols and inspections were made at plants producing or capable of producing critical material for war. The management of such plants was advised as to measures of defense at points where they seemed to be vulnerable and as a result those plants were not taken unawares when war actually became a fact in the United States.

Personnel

In January 1939 the Motor Police Force consisted of 1,513 men. Since that time three classes of recruits have passed through the Training School or a total of 250 men. This number includes 7 men enlisted as mechanics, radio men and other technicians. During the same period 346 men left our service for various reasons, such as retirement, death and disciplinary action. 157 men of the Force are now on leave of absence in the Military Service. There are at present, now available for duty, 1,268 men. Replacements are impossible because of the entire absence of qualified men.

Equipment

Due to a system of weekly inspection the equipment of the organization has been maintained at a high state of efficiency by a staff of well qualified repairmen and by prompt replacement as the various items became unserviceable.

Quarters

The men and equipment are comfortably and adequately housed. Many of the buildings being used as barracks should be abandoned or give place to new buildings designed to fit present police needs.. Such buildings should be built and owned by the Commonwealth. The majority of barracks buildings now being used are rented from private landlords.

Operations

With an average enlisted strength of 1,468 men the Force has made 1,836,493 patrols covering 110,291,428 miles of highway. It has responded to 461,206 requests for assistance, conducted 441,441 investigations and made 55,668 arrests for crime of the following categories:

Arson	492
Aggravated Assault and Battery	703
Assault and Battery	2,318
Fish Laws	26
Gambling Laws	6,443
Game Laws	548
Health Laws	102
Larceny, Burglary, etc.	19,152
Liquor Control Act	440
Murder and Manslaughter	1,087
Rape	518
Robbery	1,110
Miscellaneous	22,729

resulting in 82.1 per cent conviction of those cases which have been finally disposed of by the courts. Fines amounting to $698,364.97 were imposed. Arrests for violation of the Motor Code amounted to 231,841 of which 195,321 were Pennsylvania operators and 36,520 were operators from other states. The total revenue from fines resulting from these arrests amounts to approximately $2,500,000. During the period the Force examined 1,191,023 applicants for motor vehicle operator's license which resulted in revenue to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, $1,191,023. It recovered 3,829 stolen automobiles, a conservatively estimated value of which was $1,830,000. Other stolen property to a value of $498,280.72 was recovered. Assistance to other departments of State Government amounted to 717,771 man hours which does not include 218,335 man hours in the service of the Pennsylvania Turnpike. Members of the Force conducted 28,863 inspections of inspection stations for the Department of Revenue. The Bureau of Criminal Identification and Information received and filed 165,085 sets of fingerprints of which 60,155 were identified as having previous criminal records. Through these prints 82 parole violators, 76 wanted criminals, 59 escaped prisoners were captured, 21 unknown dead were identified and 18 missing persons were located. The Bureau of Fire Protection conducted 2,471 investigations of fires started under suspicious circumstances, inspected 26,395 fire hazards, and approved 12,987 applications for permits for installations for the storage of inflammable liquids.

The elements that do to make up effective police work are information, communication, transportation and manpower. The Communications Division of the Force rates very high in importance. It establishes, supervises and regulates all means of police communication. Its system includes in addition to the use of the telephone and telegraph, an exclusive police teletype network covering nine states comprising the northeast portion of the United States. It also operates a radio system which insures communication should any or all of the other means of communication fail. During the period covered by this report 939,000 messages were transmitted. Many of the communications were vital in expediting the movement of troops and military supplies. The teletype has in addition to the advantage of speed the virtue of secrecy.

Traffic Safety

Traffic safety proved to be the most important and difficult problem of the period. Accidents involving fatalities have been continuously on the increase for years. The causes were many. Among them were the rapid increase in the number of operators and vehicles, a lack of understanding of the numerous hazards connected with the operation of motor vehicles on the part of a very large percentage of the operators, the thoughtlessness and reckless disregard of laws enacted to insure orderly traffic and numerous hazards due to faulty highway engineering. The Pennsylvania Motor Police realized that alone it could only hope to party cope with the problem. Therefore, it joined with the Bureau of Traffic Safety, Department of Revenue, the Safety Division of the Highway Department and the Department of Pubic Instruction, in the formation of an Interdepartmental Traffic Safety Committee. From the beginning this committee realized that enforcement, education and engineering were the factors involved in the solution of the problem. Through this committee engineering problems such as correcting hazards due to faulty engineering were brought to the attention of the Highway Department which promptly took action in the direction of applying proper remedies. The Department of Public Instruction formulated a plan of education in the public school system and brought the importance of education in safe driving and walking to the attention of institutions of higher education. These activities have resulted in a large number of such institutions adding a course of instruction for teachers of this subject. The Pennsylvania Motor Police in addition to enforcement organized special educational groups which visited high schools, colleges, county fairs and other public gatherings, showing motion pictures and delivering lectures on the subject. The Pennsylvania Motor Police in cooperation with the Department of Revenue established, maintained and operated clinics designed for the purpose of testing those drivers who had several accidents which tended to indicate that physical handicaps were responsible. These clinics have eliminated many physically incompetent drivers from the highway and enabled numerous others to correct physical defects and thus become safe drivers. The net result of all of these activities has been shown by the fact that there was an actual decrease in the number of fatal accidents in proportion to the amount of gasoline consumed during the period as is shown by the following statistics:

Increase in Traffic (Gasoline Consumption)		Motor Vehicle Traffic Accident Fatalities (Rural)
1939	+ 5.03%	1939	+ 1.46% over 1938
1940	+ 5.99%	1940	+ 3.9 % over 1939
1941	+ 6.7 %	1941	+12.5 % over 1940
Total (3 yrs.)	+13.21%		+ 8.55%
1942 (9 mo.)	—14.19%	1942	—29.6 %

It will be noticed that there is a decided decrease in the number of fatal accidents in 1942. This happy fact is due largely to the reduction in the number of cars on the highway and the reduced speed limit, restrictions imposed by the war, but there is no doubt that the safety campaign waged through the previous three years has also been an important contributing factor.

Looking forward to the day when the war will be over there is no doubt that continued educational activities will bear fruit in the form of safer driving due to a better understanding of the hazards connected with the operation of motor vehicles.

Not the least of the many causes of automobile accidents is defective equipment and any program designed to promote highway safety must include this subject. The law provides for a system of inspections with a view of eliminating in so far as possible this factor which contributes so much to jeopardizing human life and safety. It was discovered early in 1939 that the enforcement of this law was ineffective and that the agency responsible had come into public disrepute. This was largely due to inadequate supervision by the agency to which the responsibiity had been delegated by law. This agency had entrusted unqualified political appointees with the duty of the supervision of an activity the nature of which demanded special technical training, with rigid and impartial enforcement of regulations. Immediately upon determining the existing situation steps were taken to reorganize the system. Forty especially trained members of the Pennsylvania Motor Police were detailed to devote their full time to the supervision of official inspection stations. The procedures and technique pertaining to motor vehicle inspection were standardized and published as rules and regulations by the Secretary of Revenue in a manual prepared for that purpose. A large number of inspection stations were found to be unequipped with the necessary apparatus and personnel capable of effective inspection. Apparently political expediency had been the sole reason for their original appointment. These were eliminated. The foregoing described reorganization with strict and impartial enforcement has restored Pennsylvania's system of motor vehicle inspection to a place of respect in the minds of Pennsylvania motorists. The actual performance of this activity has been described previously in this report.

Recommendations

The Pennsylvania State Police has a world-wide reputation not only with honest people but with the underworld for efficiency, integrity and fearless impartiality. The name Pennsylvania State Police Force has become an extremely vauable asset to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. It carried with it a wealth of honorable history and tradition. The discontinuance of that name for the State police agency of the Commonwealth was a tragic mistake. During the past four years the whole Force, including the Commissioner to the last recruit, has by study and devotion to duty done everything in its power to be worthy of that name and tradition. It is, therefore, recommended that the name Pennsylvania State Police Force be substituted for the name Pennsylvania Motor Police by legislative amendment.

While the present housing accommodations in the main are adequate to the comfort of the men the fact remains that most of the buildings are makeshift, developed from old residences, mills and other buildings, and are owned by and leased from private landlords. In the main they are not strategically located from a psychological or efficiency point of view. Most of them have been accepted because nothing more adequate or convenient was available. State Police stations and substations should be in State-owned buildings, built for the purpose and located in conspicuous places along main highways where they will be most effective as a base of police operations in relation to the whole police system. Conspicuousness is important because police experience shows conclusively that the presence of a dignified appearing police station building and the activities that center there have a remarkable influence in the inhibition of crime and in imparting a feeling of security in the neighborhood. Such housing also adds to the feeling of self-respect of the Force as a whole and to each individual that goes to form its body. It is, therefore, recommended that the State Planning Board be directed to cooperate with the Commissioner of the Force in planning a building project to be activated upon the return of International Peace.

Respectfully submitted,

LYNN G. ADAMS, Commissioner.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
DEPARTMENT OF LABOR AND INDUSTRY

Harrisburg, November 30, 1942.

Dear Governor James:

I will endeavor to set forth in this report those things that deserve special mention, and such recommendation as I feel will further facilitate the efforts of the Department of Labor and Industry in carrying out its functions.

The total appropriated and expended funds for the biennium 1939-1940 was $2,444,997.92 and for the biennium 1941-1943—$2,620,000. This is in contrast to the total appropriation and expended funds for the biennium of 1937-1939 of $3,369,076.13.

On January 17, 1939, there were eight hundred fourteen (814) employees in the Department. This was reduced at that time to five hundred ninety-four (594), which average was carried through up to the present time. Despite the reduction in the number of personnel, the efficiency of the Department was increased and much more work performed by the fewer employees than had been the case for the four years previous.

The past four years has seen a change from the so-called depression years, which required special attention on our part in the way of job finding and matters attendant thereto, including the setting up of the necessary smooth running machinery for the payments of unemployment compensation, and other special problems arising from the depression to the present situation where employment conditions and industry generally are keyed to the highest possible pitch, in order to carry on successfully our war effort. The last two years have found us cooperating fully with those Federal agencies engaged in the prosecution of the war effort and I especially invite your attention to the reports of the activities of the Industrial Board and the Bureau of Women and Children.

It has been necessary for us to meet requests made by the War and Navy Departments and other governmental agencies to create certain variations in our labor laws in order that nothing might impede the prosecution of those things necessary for the war.

For three years the matter of finding employment for our citizens came under the jurisdiction of the Department and ceased only when the State Employment Service was transferred to the Federal government at the request of President Roosevelt. Among the many problems of employment were those dealing with the large number of our negro citizens. For the first time in history of any political subdivision of the Nation, special effort was put forth by the Department in creating the Bureau of Negro Research and Planning.

In the field of Industrial Relations, the work of both our Bureau of Mediation and Labor Relations Board has been outstanding.

The report of the Workmen's Compensation Board and Bureau reflects credit to your Administration, especially in view of the fact that the Workmen's Compensation Act has been made workable through the amendments approved by you in 1939.

The State Workmen's Insurance Fund had a total of 333 employees on January 1, 1939, but has been operating with an average of 289 employees during your Administration.

The work of the Inspection Bureau and its Division has been outstanding. Attached hereto is a brief summary setting forth the activities of the Bureau of Inspection. Special attention is directed to the fact that for the past several weeks we have entered into an agreement with the United States Department of Labor to assist in the enforcement of the Walsh-Healey Act, providing for the enforcmeent of certain safety and health standards on all government contracts through the use of our Inspection Bureau. This is only one of the many ways we are assiting the Federal government at the present time in its war effort.

Under your Administration the appropriation for the Bureau of Rehabilitation was increased and there will be expended for the period of 1939-1943 a total of $1,692,-103.03 as against $1,104,285.77. This is reflected in additional accomplishments.

In collaboration with the United States Department of Labor, early in 1939 you appointed a State Apprenticeship Council composed of representatives of labor unions and industry. The purpose of this Council was to develop an apprenticeship system in Pennsylvania and to train the youth of the State in skilled trades. Since the beginning of 1939 until the mid-summer of 1942 over 2500 apprentices have entered their training courses and many will have been awarded journeymen certificates by the end of this year.

The efficiency of the Bureau of Industrial Standards, under the stress of war time conditions, has been demonstrated. Rules and regulations have been promulgated to meet the change in building construction, safety devices and other matters affected by priorities. This Bureau has been charged with setting up standards to be administered by the Bureau of Inspection, the Bureau of Women and Children, and in general to meet the requirements for regulating all conditions arising in hazardous employment.

The Bureau of Research and Information, a very essential part of the Department, is charged with the duty of gathering statistics, collecting information of all kinds relating to labor and industry, and has done its work well.

Heretofore, the Bureau of Private Employment Agencies was merely a dumping ground for political appointees under the Earle administration. This Bureau has been completely revamped under my direction. Personnel has been added, its activities increased, and today the field of private employment agencies is completely covered by laws enacted under this Administration and administered by this Bureau. The private employment agency rackets where workers were charged for jobs that did not exist have now passed out of existence. All employment in theatricals and cabarets is covered by this Bureau. Performers today are paid and not cheated out of their salaries as was prevalent under the Earle administration, due to the fact all employment agencies must be licensed by the Commonwealth and pay a fee. This Agency works in close cooperation with the Liquor Control Board and the State Police, thus reducing to an absolute minimum the former type of lewdness and the number of "honkey-tonks" that previously existed.

The Bureau of Employment and Unemployment Compensation is under the jurisdiction of the Department of Labor and Industry. Up to the present time benefit payments have been made in the amount of $208,101,828.37. There has been a general decline in the number of persons receiving benefits due to improved conditions of employment. This, likewise, has resulted in an increase in the total amount in the Fund of such payments of benefits, which at the present time is $317,668,095.75. The chaotic condition that prevailed in this Division resulting from the misapplication of Civil Service previous to your Administration has been eliminated entirely and in its place has been substituted a smooth working machine whose record of rendering service promptly and efficiently to the unemployed is second to none of any state throughout the country.

The Department, with your approval, sponsored certain legislation during the past four years which was introduced in the Legislature, passed and became effective. Particular reference is made to the liberalization of the Unemployment Compensation Act wherein benefit payments were increased, benefit periods lengthened and the waiting period decreased. The Law was further amended to provide that all persons entering the armed forces of our Nation would be protected in their compensation rights by retaining the same status when they returned to civilian life as was the case when they entered their Nation's service. This means, of course, that many workers had earned full benefit rights of $18.00 for sixteen weeks which will be available to them on leaving the armed forces.

Recommendations for increased appropriations:

1. The 1941 Legislature appropriated a million dollars for the payment of Occupational Disease Claims and placed the administration of same in the Department of Labor and Industry. Funds should be provided by the next Legislature for the administration of these claims.

2. The Minimum Wage Law for Women was declared constitutional by the Supreme Court in 1942. This, likewise, entailed expenditures that were not foreseen or provided for in the appropriation and must be met by an increased appropriation in the next biennium budget.

3. The increased activities of the Inspection Service have created an additional financial burden that must be met by increased appropriation.

Recommendations for change in law:

1. One of the most important factors in connection with unemployment compensation deals with payment for partial unemployment. This has become effective in most all the other states and should receive favorable consideration from the coming Legislature. The waiting period of two weeks should be reduced to one week.

2. Recommendation should be made to the Legislature for the enactment of a Wage Collection Law, that would prevent fly-by-night "chiselers" from cheating workers out of wages earned. We have been able to assist workers to some extent in the collection of wages through the efforts of our Mediation Bureau. This method is not entirely satisfactory. Such a bill was introduced in 1942 but never reached the floor, although there was no particular opposition to it.

There are 221 persons from the Department of Labor and Industry on military leave. Seventeen of these persons are from the Department proper and two hundred four (204) from the Bureau of Employment and Unemployment Compensation. There are approximately fifteen hundred (1500) employees on the payroll of the Bureau of Employment and Unemployment Compensation.

Report of Activities of Industrial Board

The Industrial Board, an administrative unit in the Department of Labor and Industry, consists of four members in addition to the Secretary of Labor and Industry, who is chairman. These members represent employers, wage earners, women and the public. The Board meets at least once each month.

The duties and powers imposed upon the Board embrace five general classifications, to wit: (1) to approve all regulations administered by the Department; (2) to interpret laws and regulations for the Department or for employers, employees, or the public; (3) to receive and act upon petitions for relief from laws and regulations; (4) to conduct investigations and, (5) to approve all safety devices required by laws or regulations to be used in industries or public buildings.

By far the most comprehensive phase of activity was in the field of considering and deciding appeals from persons affected by the various rules and regulations administered by the Department. In this phase of activity the Board acts in a quasi-judicial capacity. The right of appeal is prescribed by law to any person who considers that undue hardships is imposed by administrative application of laws and regulations. This may either be in a specific case or in a general sense. 2140 such petitions were received and considered by the Board. 1051 of these were granted, 659 were denied and 152 were handled administratively in accordance with existing regulations or were removed from the calendar. The subjects included in these various petitions involved application of practically every law and regulation administered by the Department.

Various laws and regulations require the installation and use of safety devices and these are submitted to the Board for approval. During the present administration the Board granted approval to two hundred and sixty-six safety devices with additional special approval for twenty-one devices and tentative approval to forty-three devices. Previous approvals of safety devices were extended in sixteen instances. Forty-five official disapprovals were issued.

Approval of four hundred and fifty-five devices was rescinded. Most of these approvals were withdrawn after a canvas of all manufacturers holding approval certificates issued since the creation of the Board in 1913. This canvas brought to light the fact that many of the devices approved some years ago were now obsolete or could no longer be obtained.

General

One public hearing was held in addition to forty-eight hearings at various times before the Industrial Board. These hearings included twenty-five on Fire and Panic Regulations, ten on the Regulations Governing the Hours Provisions of the Woman's Law, three on the Woman's Law and Regulations, three on the Child Labor Law and Regulations, three on the Industrial Home Work Law and Regulations, one miscellaneous and one each on Elevators, Boilers, and Construction and Repairs.

In reviewing the records of the Industrial Board since its creation, it must be pointed out that the work performed under this administration has been outstanding. This is so because the administration started with general conditions in a chaotic state, progressed into pre-war turmoil, then preparation for defense and, finally, war itself. The industries of the State were forced into a position where women and minors had to be drafted to perform work not previously engaged in and at hours in excess of those permitted during normal times. In addition, there arose extremely complicated problems in efforts to maintain usual standards in manufacture and use of boilers, pressure vessels, elevators, as well as numerous other classes of machinery. Even general safety provisions were difficult to administer because of the growing needs of our Government.

In the face of all of these handicaps the Board has successfully effected cooperation with the Federal Government in the furthering of the War Program and employers and workers have, up to the present time, been able to function efficiently without perceptibly lowering the safety and health standards established by the laws and regulations administered by this Department.

Two resolutions were approved, each of which will facilitate handling of petitions concerned with conditions developed by the war.

In reviewing the work of the Board, too much credit cannot be given to the two Advisory Boards which operate to assist the Department in administration of boiler and elevator laws and regulations. These Boards serve without compensation of any sort except actual expenses. They are supposed to meet quarterly and give advice on technical matters presented to them. They have done far more than this although each member has been working at increasing sacrifice because of added pressure in his personal business activities. They have not only held their regular meetings but have met frequently in special meetings. In addition, numerous cases have been disposed of via correspondence.

Activities of the Bureau of Women and Children and Hours and Minimum Wages

The work of the Bureau of Women and Children during the four years of the previous administration was devoted almost exclusively to industrial home work which employed at that time about 10,000 out of the more than 1,000,000 women employed in Pennsylvania. This work together with investigations of accidents to minors and routine office work, the publication of articles on industrial home work, an article on child labor which contained pictures and case records on employed minors, together with a statistical compilation on wage earnings of a small group of women in manufacturing processes, gives a picture of the greater part of the work done by the Bureau during a Democratic Administration.

The Secretary of Labor and Industry upon appointment of the present director requested that the attention of the Bureau be turned to problems concerning the employment of all women and children of the State and not be confined to such a small group. Application of laws, rules and regulations for women and children in a war program was receiving increasing attention. The Secretary of Labor and Industry requested the Director of this Bureau to be prepared to make suggestions to meet these problems when the need was evident.

Industrial Home Work

The Bureau has cleared up the industrial home work situation. The Fair Labor Standards Act had set a wage level of 30c an hour which caused many employers not to renew their industrial home work license. The State Industrial Home Work Law together with the recommendations of the Department of Health to the Bureau pointed the way for prohibitory orders. Home work was materially reduced. The Bureau entered into a cooperative agreement with the Federal Wage and Hour Division which made it unnecessary to duplicate investigations by Federal and State representatives. It was agreed that when Federal Wage and Hour investigators were checking home work in certain industries, the investigators from the Bureau of Women and Children would investigate only those industries not being investigated by the Federal Government. The interchange of reports resulted in reduction of this type of work, where formerly so much sweatshop labor had occurred, from 185 employers in January, 1939 to 102 employers in November, 1942 and from 7989 workers in January, 1939 to 3874 workers in November, 1942. This reduction in both the number of firms and the number of home workers has resulted in the solution of the problem in Pennsylvania at no additional administrative or inspection expense and in releasing the Bureau investigators for other important work. (See Table I)

The action of the Secretary of Labor and Industry in permitting such cooperation with the Federal Government has resulted in the cleaning up of an unhappy situation in the industrial picture.

Inspection

The Bureau contacted various organizations in the Commonwealth, particularly women's organizations. Labor groups, Consumer League groups, Y.W.C.A. groups, college, church, service and American Legion groups were contacted. It developed that the employed women of the state wanted women to investigate their conditions of employment, such as wages, hours and sanitary regulations.

The Bureau of Women and Children made an agreement with the Bureau of Inspection which permitted them to investigate the service industries and do an educational job, which resulted in releasing the men in the Inspection Bureau for their badly needed safety work. This agreement went into effect in 1940 and the Bureau has made over 11,000 investigations in certain industries such as laundries, beauty parlors, restaurants, hotels and tap rooms, public and private institutions, hospitals, theatricals, street trades, golf fields, drug stores, food and amusement concessions at fairs, and dairy food stores. In addition over 5400 visits were made. (See Table II). Without exception the owners and employees of the industries visited were grateful for the instructions, information and practical help, in adjustment of schedules concerning hours the employes worked, and the possibilities of improving sanitary conditions for their female help.

This work was done with but few additions to the investigation staff and has resulted in a heavy demand on the Bureau for additional service. The Bureau adopted the policy of obtaining correction of proper working hours by requesting employers to pay overtime for all hours over 44 in a week as provided for in the Industrial Board rulings rather than by fines and prosecutions. This policy was only applied to industries engaged in intrastate commerce as interstate industries are covered by overtime provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act. The Bureau obtained from October 1, 1940 to October 31, 1942 the amount of $4,193.73 in back wages, exclusive of the Laundry Industry, for 245 employes. Hundreds of service industries and thousands of workers are now keeping true and accurate reports as a result of these investigations. This too has made for a healthier situation and a better attitude between employer and employe. The Secretary of Labor and Industry has promulgated a policy which strives to bring about a feeling of mutual confidence between employer and employe groups.

Minimum Wage

The Minimum Wage Law provides that the Secretary of Labor and Industry appoint wage boards comprised of three members representing the industry in question, three the employees, and three the public, to determine a minimum wage for that particular industry. The Secretary of Labor and Industry of the previous Administration appointed a wage board for the Laundry Industry and an elaborate set-up to provide the material for the wage board. The records show that after a stormy and controversial session, a wage order was recommended to the previous Secretary of Labor and Industry, which he declared directory in October, 1938. The present Secretary of Labor and Industry declared it mandatory on March 14, 1939. This order was not upheld by the Dauphin County Courts because the Court stated that the proper procedure had not been used in arriving at the minimum wage order.

The present Secretary of Labor and Industry appointed a new wage board for the Laundry Industry. The Bureau of Women and Children gathered the material which the Bureau of Research and Information tabulated. The wage order became directory June 1, 1940, and mandatory February 1, 1941. The administration of this wage order was placed in the hands of the Bureau of Women and Children. They were enjoined from enforcing the wage order by the Dauphin County Courts. The constitutionality of the law itself was questioned and the case went first to the Dauphin County Court, where the constitutionality of the law was affirmed. An appeal was taken to the Pennsylvania Supreme Court. This Court upheld the constitutionality of the Minimum Wage Law on January 26, 1942.

Following the Supreme Court decision, the Governor at the request of the Secretary of Labor and Industry appointed the Director of the Bureau of Women and Children also Director of Hours and Minimum Wages.

Relaxation of Labor Laws

The impact of the War Program has fallen most heavily on these governmental agencies concerned with laws regulating the employment of women and minors. Pennsylvania was the only industrial state in the Union and only one of two states—the other being Oregon—limiting the work week of women to 44 hours. All other states permitted from 48 hours to an unlimited work week for women.

The Secretary of Labor and Industry immediately sensed that since Pennsylvania would carry the load of one-fifth or more of all war production for the United States, a law which hampered its efforts must be relaxed but not broken down. He took the Director of the Bureau of Women and Children and Hours and Wages to Washington to attend a conference with labor officials of the Federal Government, high ranking officials of the Army and Navy, and labor officials of other states. The conference worked out a work week, for women which would permit 48 hours a week, 8 to 10 hours a day, and 3 shifts of workers. This followed the President's request.

The Bureau of Women and Children and Hours and Wages requested the Industrial Board, which had certain powers under Section 3 of the Woman's Law to make rules and regulations, to formulate the following ruling:

"G-15—Employers actively participating in the War Program may employ females over eighteen years of age beyond the limits prescribed by the Woman's Law when application for such permission has been approved by the Secretary of Labor and Industry under a procedure to be established by the Department and ratified by the Industrial Board, provided that no such permission shall be granted to employ women for more than forty-eight hours in six days of any week and provided further that time and half-time is paid for all hours worked over forty-four in any week. The relief granted by the provisions of this rule is effective only so long as the necessity therefor is existent in the successful conduct of the War Program."

The Secretary of Labor and Industry together with the Director of Women and Children and Hours and Wages consulted with representatives of labor, industry, and the general public in regard to the situation. The Bureau prepared proper application forms which all industries, participating in the War Program and desiring variations from the law, could use.

Requests for variations of the law under Rule G-15 are filed with the Bureau of Women and Children and Hours and Minimum Wages. This Bureau acts as a clearing house and gives to the Secretary of Labor and Industry a report of each company which in addition to the routine questions on the application covers the following points:

(a) Requests the status of the labor market from the U. S. Employment Service and other sources in the vicinity where the application is requested.

(b) Consults with the industry to establish the fact that all artificial barriers, which would exclude the employment of people because of race, creed, color and sex, are removed.

(c) Consults with the bargaining agent for the industry so that any objection by the Union may be eliminated.

(d) Informs all parties concerned that equal pay for equal work must be granted.

(e) Contracts the several Federal agencies concerned with the contract and asks for a statement as to the urgency of the matter.

When clearance is obtained on all these points, the Director of the Bureau signs the application and refers it to the Secretary of Labor and Industry for final approval.

The Bureau has received 1145 requests for permission to work under Rule G-15. The total number of permits granted has been 1102. Three hundred and one of these firms are working on a three shift basis.

The Secretary of Labor and Industry was one of the first to formulate the policy that there could be no replacement of men by women at a lower wage rate. This has been accepted by the firms making application. It has resulted in maintaining the integrity of the job and has dignified the work of the women of the Commonwealth.

This work has relaxed the capacity of the Bureau to the utmost but has resulted in Pennsylvania receiving not only the commendation of other states but recognition from the Federal Government because the Commonwealth under pressure from all sides has maintained the highest standards for the employed women and minors of any state in the Union. Records on file in the Division of Industrial Standards of the U. S. Labor Department in Washington make this an indisputable statement.

Emergency Permission Under Rule G-2

The Bureau of Women and Children and Hours and Minimum Wages in August, 1941, recommended to the Industrial Board that the definition of "emergency" be extended to include "present national emergency." Rule G-2 of the Regulations Governing Hours Provisions of the Woman's Law reads: "In any situation falling within the interpretation of an emergency, as approved, employers may permit employes whose duties are directly connected with such emergency, to work more than eight hours in one day and more than five and one-half days in one week and more than forty-four hours a week for the period of the emergency. In the event the emergency exists for longer than 24 hours, permission must be secured from the Secretary of the Department who shall determine the duration of the emergency."

Permissions granted under this ruling by the Department have been limited to emergencies as a rule not extended beyond a 24 hour period. In a few instances, a special training program extending for several weeks is permitted under this ruling. Firms meeting last minute requirements of the Army and Navy prior to extensive troop movements, laboratory supplies of tetanus toxoids and similar materials, needed immediately, were a few reasons for application of this ruling.

Urgent requests of the Army and Navy were given special consideration under Rule G-2. Firms receiving special permission based on such requests were continually checked in order to avoid abuse of Rule G-2. Approximately 100 firms received permission under Rule G-2 for hours beyond 48 a week since the change in this ruling in August, 1941. The permission was usually limited to a 3-day period. About five firms were permitted an exception to this. The necessity for these exceptions will be over when more machinery is available for these firms and when additional workers are trained.

Child Labor Law

The Child Labor Law is being studied but so far few, if any, changes, except those agreed upon by the Department of Public Instruction and the Department of Labor and Industry, have been made.

The Bureau published a study called "Child Workers in Pennsylvania, Analysis of Industrial Accidents to Minors." This study contains a summary of almost one hundred years of child labor legislation in Pennsylvania. It is a detailed statistical report and gives a summary and recommendations of the best procedure in child labor legislation. It has been accepted by colleges, universities, and other institutions of learning as a classic.

Accidents

The Bureau of Women and Children and Hours and Minimum Wages reviews all accidents to women and minors in the Commonwealth. (See Tables IV and V). During the past four years up to and including October 31, 1942, the Bureau has reviewed 36,820 accidents to employed women and 3,894 to employed minors. The investigators from the Bureau have investigated 2,499 of these accidents and found that 1,176 were incurred during definite violations of our laws, rules and regulations.

There has been a sharp increase in accidents during the past year. The Bureau is not prepared to make a statement as to the reasons for this increase. The clerical work has been so heavy in the reviewing of these accidents, which necessarily must be done by people thoroughly familiar with the laws involved, that the Bureau feels justified in requesting additions to the staff in order to assist in constructive reports and recommendations on this subject.

We have entered into an agreement with the Federal Government to send to them copies of all minors' accidents (names of injured minor and firm omitted) in order that the U. S. Children's Bureau may cooperate with us in the determination of hazardous work for minors in Pennsylvania. The Bureau has used reported accidents as a basis of the Bureau's recommendations concerning prohibited and hazardous occupations for women and minors. This work of the Bureau is most important. Our recommendations are more numerous and detailed than those of the previous Administration. Trained personnel is indicated to assist in this specialized field.

The Woman's Law and the Child Labor Law both permit the Industrial Board to determine hazardous occupations, issue prohibitory orders, and act on requests for variations of the laws of the Department. Requests concerned with the employment of women and children are referred by the Industrial Board to the Bureau of Women and Children and Hours and Wages for recommendation. Special studies are made by the investigators of the Bureau and, after most careful consideration, the Director of The Bureau recommends to the Industrial Board the denial or approval of the petitions. This is most responsible work and has been expanded and developed to an unprecedented degree in this Administration.

Established in July 1939, the Division of Negro Research and Planning in this Department has constituted the official conduit through which 471,000 Negroes could reach their state government. Its work has included a study of the skill and basic ability of 30,000 unemployed Negroes, with the resultant placement of more than 14,000 prior to Pearl Harbor.

Geared to cooperate with both Industrial Management and Organized Labor, the Division has been carrying the burden of thousands of telephone calls and interviews; private conversations with industrial leaders and continued research in the field of Negro training and skills. It has also given itself to planning toward the retention of Negro workmen in industry after the war and the utilization of its facilities toward the employment of widows and orphans of Negro soldiers.

It has also been necessary for this Division ot take on the added responsibility of participating in and guiding Defense and War work among Negroes in the Commonwealth with a limited budget and meagre staff. It is, therefore, recommended that the work be expanded and raised to the level of a bureau with sufficient Negro personnel and prerogative to continue efficiently, its broad program. This latter would entail the addition of approxamately ten persons at a minimum cost of $11,740 per annum in addition to the approximately $8,000 now being spent in salaries. An over-all appropriation of $35,000 per annum would adequately cover expansion of the work which is sorely needed.

Bureau of Mediation

This Bureau, as the name indicates, has for its chief purpose the prevention rather than the settlement of strikes.

In invite your attention to the fact that during the preceding Administration the number of persons in strikes always exceeded those in controversies. In this Administration the reverse is true, bearing witness to the success of the Bureau, in settling differences before they went into open conflict.

The year 1941 is a good illustration of what was accomplished, because the year, incidentally, was one in which strikes were prevalent in a rising employment situation.

This speaks well for our Mediation Bureau, which prevented controversies developing into strikes. We have one of the finest groups of mediators in the United States, due largely to the fact that the personal attention of the Secretary is given to this matter. His six years experience in this Bureau is an invaluable aid to him, and the complete reorganization of the Bureau has materially added to its efficiency. This Bureau has been kept absolutely free from politics and as a result has been able to function at the highest peak of efficiency.

Labor Relations Board

In the period extending from January 1939 until November 1942, a total of 561 formal cases were filed with the Board. On these cases, and any others pending as of the first of January 1939, the Board conducted 618 hearings and heard 175 arguments. There were 583 executive Board meetings; 1087 decisions and orders were issued, and 717 cases were closed on the Board's Dockets of Proceedings. In addition to acting upon all such formal matters, the Board also has served the public generally upon innumerable occasions, when it and its staff has been of assistance in the solution of industrial problems that could be disposed of without the institution of formal proceedings before the Board.

Workers have been eager to avail themselves of the certification machinery provided by the Labor Relations Act. This reaction is reflected, to a very reliable degree, by the Board's figures on elections. In 142 elections conducted by the Board, wherein 22,389 employes were eligible to vote, it will be noted that the right to cast ballots was exercised by 18,296 employes. This means that 84% of the eligible employes participated in the selection of their collective bargaining representative, or spokesman.

Protection to many employes in the exercise of their rights to self-organization and collective bargaining was guaranteed through the medium of 147 cease and desist orders, which the Board found it necessary to issue in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act. The reinstatement of discharged employes was directed, with back pay in 53 instances, and without back pay in 24 instances. In 70 other instances, other types of affirmative action were directed by the Board, such as the withdrawal of unlawful recognition, or demoination, of a labor organization.

During the period in question, the Board prepared three Annual Reports covering all phases of its activities, and the compilation of a report for the year 1942 is now under way. As you know, such reports are submitted to the Governor at the end of each year, and are then printed and made avialable as Board and Department Publications. From time to time, also, the Board has submitted articles for the Pennsylvania Labor and Industry Review.

The activities of the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board during the past four years might well be said to have been marked by three dominant factors. These factors are change, development and progress. Changes have been numerous. We refer not only to the fact that the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Act has been amended in several respects, and that new faces have appeared among the membership and personnel of the Board, but further stress the fact that National Defense and the War have occasioned a drastic change in the circumstances and tempo of industrial life.

While the Board is a comparatively new agency, it has gained stature and development in the normal processes of its growth. An organization has been developed and trained in the handling of the problems peculiar to the administration of the Act. Procedure has been stabilized and the handling of the work expedited. Accumulated cases have been disposed of and congested dockets cleared, and the Board is now practically current in all phases of its operations.

Act No. 162, approved by the Governor on June 9, 1939, amended the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Act of June 1, 1937, by imposing certain restrictions upon the members of the Board; by requiring the Secretary of Labor and Industry to approve rules and regulations issued by the Board; by adding one additional unfair labor practice on the part of employers and three new unfair practices on the part of employes and labor organizations; by permitting craft unions to signify a wish for craft units and making such designation mandatory on the Board; by permitting employers who have not committed unfair lab - practices to file petitions for an election; by making it mandatory upon the Board to conduct elections when requested in certification cases; by providing for an appeal from a certification of representatives and fixing the effective period of such a certification; by imposing a limitation on the period for which back pay may be awarded and in which actions may be instituted with the Board; by providing for a forfeiture of rights, and by further defining the practice before the Board, particularly by providing that complaints be prosecuted before the Board by the representatives of the labor organizations or employe filing the charge of unfair labor practices.

One of the major accomplishments of the Board during the year 1939 was the adoption of Rules and Regulations defining and establishing the practice and procedure before the Board. The order of the Board adopting such rules was issued December 18, 1939, and the Secretary of Labor and Industry, gave his approval the same day. The rules became effective on the first Monday of January, 1940 and all other rules and regulations of the Board were rescinded and repealed as of such date. The rules have been in use since January, 1940, have worked out well in practice and have been the subject of favorable comment, from time to time, by parties interested in the work of the Board.

Workmen's Compensation Board

One of the outstanding achievements of the administration in the field of workmen's compensation has been the sponsoring of an appropriation to pay the State's liability for disabling occupational diseases.

A fund of $1,000,000 Dollars was provided by the 1941 legislature on the request of the Governor. As of November 15 of this year, $662,138 of this fund has been paid for disability to sufferers of occupational diseases and to widows and orphans whose husbands and fathers have died from such occupational diseases.

The report of the Workmen's Compensation Board and Bureau should be viewed in the light of the almost complete acceptance of the Pennsylvania 1939 Workmen's Compensation Act and the affording of protection to approximately 300,000 workmen in the State, who were previously excluded from the benefits of workmen's compensation by the wholesale rejection of the 1937 Act, of which some provisions have been declared unconstitutional while others are still in the courts.

Reducing from approximately twelve months to less than three months the time necessary ot dispose of appeals, the present State Workmen's Compensation Board has set an enviable record during its first three years of administration from July 1, 1939 to July 1, 1942. This record reveals only 301 appeals pending on July 1, 1942 as compared with 1094 on July 1, 1939, and 2774 petitions before referees as compared with 4148 petitions on July 1, 1939.

Aside from a persistency to cut down its docket of pending cases, the present Board has introduced a number of innovations which have been of much benefit to attorneys and clients concerned in compensation cases. The most important was the adoption in advance of a regular all year schedule for the hearings on appeals which resulted in a material reduction in continuances and delay of cases. Hearings are scheduled on the yearly calendar at Harrisburg, Scranton, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. Four sittings a year are held at each place and attorneys for the first time are given an opportunity to plan their work on a definite schedule. Thus industry and thousands of injured workers in the Commonwealth are benefiting by the new standard of administration of the present regime, as well as the lgeal fraternity.

Another important innovation which has proved of great value consists in the fact that each Board Member has opportunity to study the complete records in all cases assigned to him in advance of hearings. This enables the Commissioner concerned to fully acquaint himself with the circumstances surrounding each individual case and thus is of great help in conducting the hearing in it and following the oral arguments of attorneys when made.

The record of accomplishment passes all marks since 1933. For the three years recently ended 4869 appeals were filed, but 5662 opinions were rendered by the Board Members. This partially represents the clean-up of old cases. All this was accomplished despite the fact that the number of appeals filed from July 1, 1939, to July 1, 1940, a total of 1788, was the largest since 1933 when 1949 appeals were filed.

During that same one-year period the Board filed 2064 opinions, also a new record. In the second year this was extended to 2066 cases decided. The past year has witnessed the disposition of 1532 cases. The Board also disposed of all current commutation and miscellaneous petitions, including those for rehearing, further medical, counsel fees, physical examination, guardian and so forth.

On July 1, 1939, there were pending before the referees 4148 petitions for disposition. The referees, following the example of the Board, showed such activity that on July 1. 1942. there were pending only 2774 petitions, a reduction of 1374 cases. This reduction of pending petitions made by the referees brings a reduction of from two to three months in the time necessary to dispose of claims filed by the claimants. This not only benefits the claimants but also gives the self-insurers opportunity to maintain a more correct bookkeeping system and enable insurance carriers to quickly establish liability in compensable cases.

Compensable accidents reported to the Board for the three year period were 169,213 and 117,767 agreements were executed. From July 1, 1939, to July 1, 1942, appeals taken to the Courts totalled 1198. Of these 1017 were disposed of resulting in 756 affirmations, 87 reversals and 174 cases remanded for further determination.

The record shows that compensable accidents reported rose from 51,923 from July 1, 1939, to July 1, 1940; to 57,606 from July 1, 1940, to July 1, 1941; to 59,684 from July 1, 1941, to July 1, 1942. The month of April in each year provided the largest number of reported compensable accidents and gives indication that after the winter the opening of the outdoor industrial season is the most dangerous for the worker. With renewed industrial activity in all lines compensable accidents are increasing but safety standards, adopted even during the rush of war defense, indicate that the percentage is below that found in industry during more normal production periods.

State Workmen's Insurance Fund

The State Workmen's Insurance Fund is a member of the Pennsylvania Compensation Rating and Inspection Bureau (the Rate-Making body for the compensation insurance companies operating in Pennsylvania) and has rendered outstanding service to its policy holders during the past four years.

At the beginning of this Administration an Inspection Department was created to give the kind of service that the policy holder paid for and was entitled to. As a result of this service the losses were greatly reduced, thus enabling the State Fund to pay a dividend to coal companies. This alone is an indication that the Fund is rendering the finest of service.

An item of vast importance is the fine work being done in the rehabilitation of injured workmen and while the Compensation Act itself limits the medical service payable on account of an accident, if a doctor makes a recommendation for additional medical service to rehabilitate or bring back to a normal condition, an employe who has been seriously injured, then the Fund, without hesitation, agrees to spend whatever amount is justified in seeing that the injured worker is given the finest and best treatment.

A most recent case which bears consideration, is the case of a young married man, twenty-three years of age, who was employed by a garage and, while working on a car, the carburetor exploded, severely burning him from the waist up. He was confined to a hospital for quite some time in a very serious condition. The services of one of the best plastic surgeons in Pennsylvania were procured and he recommended that in order to restore this man to a gainful occupation, it would be necessary to give a series of plastic surgery operation consisting of the grafting of skin from various parts of his body to his face, arms, and chest.

This required about twenty operations and the latest report we have obtained is that the man is recovering very rapidly and it will only be a short time until he will be completely rehabilitated. This service rendered by the doctors required considerable expense which was justified and it is understood that it will only be a short time until this man will be discharged by the doctors and can assume his place in the business world in some gainful occupation.

Prior to the present Administration a condition existed which caused considerable concern among the doctors of Pennsylvania. In many instances medical bills were cut from the original amount and payment was not handled promptly. Due to the untiring efforts of all persons interested in this phase of compensation work, this condition has been corrected and at the present time the Fund pays any reasonable medical bill and without fear of contradiction it can be said that a very friendly relationship now exists with all of the doctors in Pennsylvania who handle compensation cases for the State Workmen's Insurance Fund.

Another time of interest is the prompt manner in which claim checks are sent out by the Fund. From the time an accident report is received until agreements are taken, checks are sent the following day. The Fund realizes that most injured workmen are without income and it is vital to their existence that they be compensated at the earliest possible moment. This has been made possible during this administration through the close cooperation of all field men and Home Office employes who are responsible for this part of the function of the State Workmen's Insurance Fund.

The following schedule shows the surplus of the State Workmen's Insurance Fund as of December 31st of the respective years:

December 31, 1938	$ 3,335,501.64
December 31, 1939	4,227,148.88
December 31, 1940	3,757,523.79
December 31, 1941	4,036,474.28

In addition to showing an increase in surplus as of December 31, 1941, as compared with December 31, 1938, of $700,972.64, the Fund also increased its contingency reserve $500,000. At the beginning of this Administration a contingency reserve was carried of $500,000. The present management realizing that there might be a fluctuation in securities, considered it more secure to increase this reserve to $1,000,000. This was done and at the present time the State Workmen's Insurance Fund carries on its books a reserve of $1,000,000 for just such an emergency.

Another item of importance is the dividends which have beene declared during this administration. A schedule showing the percentage of dividends declared, is as follows:

Policy Year	Commonwealth of Pennsylvania	Commercial Policyholders	Coal Policyholders
1938	30%	15%	..
1939	40%	20%	5%
1940	20%	15%	5%

This represents a distribution of over $2,065,000 which has been returned to the policyholders in the form of dividends. The folowing table is a brief summary of the effect the above figures have on the financial condition of the State Workmen's Insurance Fund.

Increase in Contingent Reserve	$ 500,000.00
Dividends returned to policy holders	2,065,000.00
Increase in Surplus of December 31, 1938 to Dec. 31, 1941	700,972.64
Total Earnings and Increase in Surplus	$3,265,972.64

The figures for 1942 will not be available until after the books are closed as of December 31, 1942. However, the indications are that the earnings for this year will be substantial and while it is not possible to make a definite commitment at this time, as to possible earnings, every indication shows that a substantial profit will be made and there is no doubt that a further distribution of dividends will be available next year as has been customary in the past three years.

In conclusion, the State Workmen's Insurance Fund has consistently subscribed to every issue of United States Treasury notes and bonds. Only recently it has converted $1,000,000 of its Municipal Bonds and applied the proceeds to United States Securities. At the present time, the portfolio of the State Workmen's Insurance Fund includes the holdings of United States Government Securities in the sum of $4,902,500 and in the near future the Fund expects to invest a further substantial amount in United States Government Securities.

BUREAU OF INSPECTION

The Bureau of Inspection has, in general, with a reduction of field personnel to less than two-thirds of that of the last year of the preceding administration (1938), increased its services to both employers and employes in both routine and special activities.

The general inspection force of the Bureau of Inspection under this administration has engaged in such special activities as state-wide participation in the Annual Fire Prevention Week, a broad expansion of the Bureau's annual industrial safety contest, and the development of annual state-wide community safety contests. A state-wide Industrial Safety Engineering Conference conducted by the Bureau in December, 1940, and again in June, 1942, were the first of its scope in the last seven years.

Through cooperation with the Federal Bureau of Labor Statistics, the Bureau of Inspection in 1939, 1940, and 1941 solicited accident reports from 30,000 to 40,000 Pennsylvania employers. This is the first time any state has undertaken a broad-scale solicitation of comparable accident records. The return on this solicitation for 1941 was nearly 60 per cent. In December of this year about 45,000 report forms will be mailed to employers throughout the state. This reporting now is made compulsory by action of the Pennsylvania Industrial Board on December 18, 1941, under Rule 21.

The Department of Labor and Industry has successfully negotiated an agreement with the Federal Department of Labor for promoting and enforcing safety and health standards in war production plants in Pennsylvania. There has been a great deal of discussion during the last two years because of what was termed "over and unnecessary inspection" by firms engaged in war production. By the terms of this agreement in coordinating the work of the State and Federal Department of Labor, the following will be accomplished: (1) Reduce lost time in war production plants caused by industrial accidents and injuries; (2) utilize to the fullest extent available trained safety and health inspection personnel of the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry; (3) reduce duplication of activities and inspections; (4) secure compliance with the safety and health provisions of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act and State safety and health laws; (5) promote and stimulate the adoption of adequate safety and health practices in war industries. This we consider an outstanding accomplishment for better cooperation between the Federal and State Departments of Labor.

Vocational Rehabilitation is a joint Federal-State program, the purpose of which is to provide under State auspices, a service through which physically handicapped persons may be established or re-established in suitable gainful employment. This is accomplished primarily through the vocational adjustment of physically disabled persons by training or other preparatory service which fits them for suitable employment. In other words it involves vocational rather than physical rehabilitation. Although physical restoration is frequently a component part of the program, the final result of the service rendered must be the vocational rehabilitation of the individual.

The object of the vocational rehabilitation service is the preparation of the disabled for, and their placement in, normal competitive employment. In other words, physically handicapped persons are not considered rehabilitated unless they have been established in permanent substantial employment in competition with physically normal persons. Partial adjustment or readjustment in casual, relief, or sheltered employment, cannot be interpreted as vocational rehabilitation.

In Pennsylvania the program is administered through a plan of cooperation between the Department of Labor and Industry and the State Board for Vocational Education.

During the past four years 3,407 physically handicapped persons were restored to normal employment through the service of vocational rehabilitation. This is an increase of 1,000 over the previous four year period. One thousand nine hundred and ninety-nine of these cases were trained for the occupations they accepted, which is an increase of at least 1,200 over the last administration. Eight hundred and eighty-eight persons were provided with artificial appliances to enable them to enter training or become fitted for employment. The rest were assisted in finding suitable positions in order that they might again become economically independent.

The employment stability of the disabled is evidenced by the fact that 86% were still found to be employed one year after placement; approximately 38% had received a wage increase, and only 7% were working at a reduced wage. From an economic point of view, the rehabilitation of the disabled is a good business.

Besides those rehabilitated, 916 cases were closed as non-rehabilitated due to death, feasibility, and other reasons, and 6,932 others who filed applications or requested service, were refused because they were not eligible or determined to be not feasible.

In addition to those for whom jobs were obtained, approximately 5,000 others were provided with vocational guidance, physical restoration, and training as a phase of their rehabilitation.

Vocational training is an important step in this procedure. A disabled person is more adequately equipped for a position when he is trained for an occupation rather than when the adjustment is made simply through an artificial appliance or placement. Four thousand two hundred and forty-five men and women were provided with this service, an increase of almost 3,000 cases over the previous four year period. The job objectives were varied and represented 100 different occupations.

Sincerely yours,

LEWIS G. HINES, Secretary.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
DEPARTMENT OF WELFARE

Harrisburg, November 19, 1942.

Dear Governor James:

I am incorporating in my communication to you dated September 30, 1942, which was a report of the Department of Welfare for the biennial period from June 1, 1940 to May 31, 1942, additions, bringing it to date.

REPORT

Pursuant to the provisions of the Administrative Code I submit herewith a report of the activities of the Department of Welfare for the biennial period from June 1, 1940 to May 31, 1942. The items submitted in this report are supplemental to all previous reports of this Department. Consequently, I have not attempted to set forth any but the facts pertinent to the last biennium.

The largest item affecting this Department for the biennium was the taking over of the several county mental institutions imposed by the General Assembly. The county institutions of Allegheny, Blair, Chester and Somerset are now operating as state institutions and have been designated respectively as Woodville State Hospital, Hollidaysburg State Hospital, Embreeville State Hospital and Somerset State Hospital. The former Pittsburgh City Hospital is now known as the Mayview State Hospital. The county hospitals at Mercer, Lancaster and Schuylkill Haven have been discontinued and their population transferred to other state hospitals. The three Lackawanna County institutions, Hillside Home and Hospital, Clark's Summit, Ransom Mental Hospital, and Blakely Hospital, and the Luzerne County institution at Retreat remain for decision as to final disposition. In the meantime, complete patient treatment is assumed by the Commonwealth.

Bureau of Mental Health

The Bureau of Mental Health reports a total of 2,109 transfers of committed patients in Pennsylvania Hospitals which figure includes 410 cases transferred as an emergency to relieve overcrowding from Philadelphia to Norristown, and the patients from the three closed county hospitals. The war emergency has added considerably to the population of the mental hospitals due to the number of service men alleged to be Pennsylvania residents and needing hospitalization because of their mental condition. The total population of all mental hospitals as of May 31, 1942 was 35,288.

The building program at the institutions under the Department is rapidly nearing completion. Three buildings at the Philadelphia State Hospital wil be ready for occupancy in a few months. The projected new buildings at Pennhurst and Polk have been indefinitely postponed owing to the war.

The facilities at the Selinsgrove State Colony for Epileptics have been extended by the completion of new buildings. Formerly only select able-bodied male patients were accepted. There are now limited accommodations for women and children including diagnostic and treatment facilities. The rated capacity of 711, however, is still inadequate. At the three institutions for mental defectives, namely Pennhurst, Polk and Laurelton, although about 1,000 new beds were added to them, the total waiting list remains over 3,000.

At the close of the biennium the new Western State Psychiatric Hospital at Pittsburgh was rapidly nearing completion of the necessary building changes, and its equipment was being installed. A young, energetic and well-prepared psychiatrist and mental hospital administrator was appointed as the director. He is Doctor Grosvenor B. Pearson. A limited number of selected patients will be received before the end of the current year so that this new hospital can function in the fields of education and research.

Statistics

The following statistics are submitted without comment. The percentages of increase or decrease in institutional population are comparisons between the 1938-40 biennium and the 1940-42 biennium:

County Homes: Present population	11,324	a decrease of	6.7 per cent
County Prisons	6,307	a decrease of	17.4 per cent
State Penal Institutions	8,339	a decrease of	4.0 per cent
State Mental Hospitals	35,288	increase of	13.6 per cent
Mental Deficients and Epileptics	6,970	increase of	10.7 per cent
Child Caring Institutions	38,107	a decrease of	12.5 per cent

Bureau of Corrections

The Bureau of Corrections during the biennium conducted 105 special investigations, 78 of which were for the Bureau of Mental Health and the Bureau of Community Work. This Bereau transferred from one institution to another 2,008 inmates; gave interviews relative to transfer and personnel problem, 1,523; and conducted 222 inspections of state penal and correctional institutions and county prisons. Due to recommendations of the Bureau of Corrections, and in order to raise the sanitary and maintenance standards of borough and township lockups, 151 such institutions were discontinued.

Prison Industries

The Prison Labor Division is in the best shape it has ever been financially as well as from the standpoint of organization, inventories, personnel and production. At the close of the biennium negotiations were pending with the War Production Board for the use of Pennsylvania's prison industries in the manufacture of numerous items required by the war effort. The balance in the manufacturing fund as of May 31, 1942 was $655,458.28. Budgeted against this balance, in addition to operating expenses and those necessary for the purchase of raw materials, was an item of $350,000 for a new industrial building at White Hill. This building is now under way and will be used to house a furniture factory and a coffee roasting plant.

Departmental Expenditures

The following table is submitted to show the expenditures from appropriations of the Department of Welfare for the biennium:

	Year Ending May 31, 1941	Year Ending May 31, 1942
Salary of the Secretary	$ 10,000.00	$ 10,000.00
Salaries and General Expenses	190,887.35	201,035.85
State Council for the Blind	20,761.75	23,527.45
Institutions
Medical and Surgical	1,530,695.73	1,588,162.44
Penal and Correctional	3,709,163.92	4,120,181.04
Mental	7,910,011.79	10,459,744.32
Maintenance of Indigent Insane	2,253,676.07
County Mental Hospitals Reimbursed by State		905,809.08*
Feeble-Minded and Epileptic	1,834,313.59	1,860,681.01
State-aided Hospitals	4,244,103.70	4,021,472.26
State-aided Homes	232,517.59	203,224.21
Dixmont	175,000.00	382,740.18

* Includes Clark's Summit, Retreat, Schuylkill Haven, Blakeley, Mercer and Ransom.

Elwyn	205,343.77	207,135.13
Glen Mills	149,096.41	140,767.76
Sleighton Farms	134,376.39	134,999.96
	$22,599,948.06	$24,259,478.73

During this period seven institutions were added to the State-owned group of twenty-eight;—two new institutions (the New Pennsylvania Industrial School at White Hill and the Western State Psychiatric Hospital at Pittsburgh) and five county mental hospitals taken over (Embreeville, Hollidaysburg, Mayview, Somerset and Woodville State Hospitals)—an increase of 25 per cent. During the same period the personnel of the Accounting Division has increased only from 22 to 24, or 9 per cent. In the Institutional Personnel Division the number of employes has increased from 3 to 7, or 133 per cent, but during the same period the semi-monthly turnover in the institutions has increased approximately 200 per cent.

For the Department as a whole the payroll has increased 6.8 per cent during the past two-year period.

Institutional Management

In the Bureau of Institutional Management the biennium presented situations which were on the one hand discouraging and on the other helpful. Discouragement came from the marked turnover in personnel due to the drain by industry and the war. This created managerial problems which challenged the best efforts of the Bureau in maintaining adequate help in kitchens, laundries and farms, and in hospital and prison attendants. On the other hand, the occupancy of new buildings gave improved facilities, modern equipment, attractive surroundings and relief from over-crowding. Twelve institutions have added new kichens, dining rooms and storage facilities. Others have additional dining rooms, incorporated with new buildings designed for the care of the patients. The conservation of food, either by storage, canning, freezing, curing or drying has been stressed in institutions where facilities for these processes were availabe.

Twenty-four state institutions operate farms with a tillable acreage of 15,302. Approximately seventeen hundred inmates and patients found regular farm employment.

During the biennium there was a 30 per cent increase in milk production per cow per year as compared with 1929.

Total laundry poundage for the biennium amounted to 18,342,000. Laundry activity in addition to paid personnel gave Welfare employment to more than 200 inmates in the penal and correctional group and about 950 patients in mental institutions.

There were three major fire losses during the biennium. The coal tipple at Mayview State Hospital, the third floor and roof of "M" Buiding at Pennhurst State School, and the hay barn and contents at the Philadelphia State Hospital. The tipple at Mayview and the third floor and roof of "M" Building at Pennhurst have been repaired and replaced from the Fire Fund. The hay barn at Philadelphia has not yet been replaced due to unavailability of funds.

Council of Defense

In cooperation with the State Council of Defense there was organized at each institution under this Department a local Defense Council all of which are functioning in conjunction with their local County Councils and are a part of the Civilian Defense Chain of Command. Institutional personnel have completed courses as Air Raid Wardens, Auxiliary Firemen, in First Air and Volunteer Nursing. Refresher courses have been made available for graduate nurses and have been largely attended. Blood banks have been established in nearly all of the medical and surgical hospitals.

The engineering activities of the Department have been greatly multiplied in assuming responsibility for major improvements and additional buildings. More and more utilities are required to meet the demands of operations and these must come largely from existing sources because the only material that is readily available is that which is of little use on the battle front. Replacements of all kinds are difficult to obtain and a program for all institutions has been set up for the proper servising and lubrication of all equipment so that its active life may be prolonged.

In further cooperation with the State Council of Defense and the Federal Bureau of Industry Conservation of the War Production Board, an institutional Salvage Campaign was inaugurated, and a Waste Warden appointed for each institution. This campaign was conducted in connection with the Department of Health and resulted in the channeling into the war effort the following material:

Scrap metal: 2,535 tons
Non-Ferrous Metal: 96 tons
Rags, etc., including burlap sacks, paper and paper bags. 221 tons
Rubber: 21,543 pounds

In addition a complete list of serviceable surplus materials and equipment was compiled for the purpose of meeting quickly institutional demands impossible to obtain through ordinary procedure. The purpose of this list is the transferring of critical items from one institution to another and the completing of equipment in operation and taking care of emergency breakdowns.

Child Welfare

The Rural Child Welfare Unit, operated through the Department with federal funds, reports that at the end of the biennium eighteen counties were receiving the services of the Unit. The Unit's duty is the supervision of children in child-caring agencies and institutions both public and private. Its report shows a total of 2,049 children under its care; 1154 in foster homes, 369 in institutions, and 526 with parents or relatives.

The Blind

The State Council for the Blind was given an appropriation of $60,000 for the purpose of making available medical treatment, surgical operations, eye glasses and other necessary aids or services including transportation to needy blind persons or persons with impaired vision for the purpose of improving or restoring their vision.

These services are only available in the event that the total cost does not exceed $100 per person. In the administration of this fund 2,575 persons presumed to be in need of eye treatment were contacted. Of this total 340 operations were performed or scheduled and treatment established for 407, while 1,311 persons declined the services of the Council for personal reasons. The promotion of vending stands for blind persons has been a major item of the Council. During the biennium ten new vending stands were opened bringing the total sponsored by the Council throughout the State to forty-four.

National Defense

The Department of Welfare has been actively represented on such activities of the State Council of Defense as

(a) Defense council organization in each of the institutions under Departmental control
(b) The Evacuation Program
(c) The Blood Bank Program
(d) The Salvage Program

Concerning the last Program, since the September 30 report, more than 500 additional tons of scrap metal have been disposed of and approximately 4 tons of non-ferrous metal.

Building Program

I am submitting below a list of buildings and additions at Welfare institutions completed during the present administration. Due to priority regulations, projected buildings at Pennhurst and Polk have been set aside for the duration of the war but the three buildings at the Philadelphia State Hospital are under way and nearing completion.

Allentown State Hospital: Patients' buildings; one for children, two for adults; Nurses' and Patients' Dining Room; Boiler House and Service Lines; Female Attendants' Building; Farm Colony Dormitory Kitchen; Dairy Barn Group.

Blossburg State Hospital: One building including X-ray, Pathological Laboratory, Administrative Offices, and Dispensary.

Coaldale State Hospital: New well-equipped Obstetrical unit and remodeling of old wing to provide a 16 bed ward and 12 private rooms.

Danville State Hospital: Hospital, and two patients' buildings; New Laundry Shop Building and Equipment; Service Building; Water Filtration Plant; Pump House and Equipment; Revamped Sewer System.

Eastern State Penitentiary: Hospital building at Graterford; Auditorium and School Building at Graterford; Addition to Laundry; Addition to Storeroom.

Farview State Hospital: Hospital, and one patients' building; Dining Room; Guards' Dormitory Building; Cold Storage and Refrigeration; Garage and Repair Shop.

Harrisburg State Hospital: One modern well equipped building for Tubreculosis patients and remodeling of medical centre; Dining Room and Kitchen; Two Doctors' Residences; Garage and Repair Shop; Power House; Connecting Service Tunnels.

Hazleton State Hospital: One three-story building, providing modern Obstetircal and Pediatric units, private rooms, and an Out Patient Department; Laundry and Boiler Plant.

Laurelton State Village: Hospital building and two cottages; Administration Building; Auditorium and Recreation Hall; Extension of Boiler Plant; Sewage Plant.

New Pennsylvania Industrial School, Camp Hill: Hospital building; a complete Institution for 1400 inmates including Administration Building, Cell Blocks, Power House; Auditorium; Hospital; School; Shops; Farm Buildings; Water and Sewage Plants; Superintendent's and Employees' Residences.

Norristown State Hospital: Building No. 50 new, No. 13 and No. 14 rebuilt; Dining Room and Kitchen; Alterations to Power Plant; Connecting Tunnels.

Pennhurst State School: One building for women and two wings to hospital building; Alterations to Kitchens; Employees' Building; Addition to Boiler Plant; Extension of Steam and Electric System; Engine and Generator.

Pennsylvania Training School, Morganza: Hospital Building; Warehouse.

Philipsburg State Hospital: New wing.

Polk State School: Meadowside cottage for patients; Addition to Boiler Plant; Sewage Plant.

Scranton State Hospital: Entirely new modern hospital building; Laundry; Boiler Plant and Garage.

Selinsgrove State Colony for Epileptics: Hospital building, three patients' buildings, one for women, one for children and one for men at the farm; Dining Room and Kitchen; Administration Building; Service and Laundry Building; Men's Security Building; Recreation and Employees' Dormitory Building; Addition to Power Plant; Extension to Water Supply and Sewers.

Torrance State Hospital: Buildings No. 5 for women, No. 6 for men's wards, and auditorium, and two wings to Diebert building; Dining Room and Kitchen; Power House, Three Staff Residences.

Wernersville State Hopsital: Two patients' buildings for women; Dining Room and Kitchen; Electric Generator.

Western State Penitentiary: Hospital building, Storehouse and Laundry; Power House; Cell Block at Rockview.

Western State Psychiatric Hospital: The Western State Psychiatric Hospital at Pittsburgh was dedicated September 11, 1942 and formally opened for the reception of patients and for teaching of psychiatric students in medicine and nursing. On this date there are five male and three female patients in the hospital; the operating personnel of the institution is practically complete, and the professional personnel is still being recruited although a full-time psychiatrist is now employed in addition to the superintendent who is also a psychiatrist.

Respectfully submitted

E. ARTHUR SWEENEY, Secretary.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE

Harrisburg, December 18, 1942.

Dear Governor James:

I am sending you herewith a statement of the accomplishments of the Department of Revenue during this Administration.

The beginning of the James Administration found the conditions in the Department of Revenue greatly changed from the conditions existing four years prior to that time.

Most noticeable was the great increase in the number of employees which had taken place in the Department. When the Administration began there were 2,828 employees in the Department compared to 1,541 in January 1935. The employees of the former Highway Patrol are excluded to place these figures on a comparable basis. It was found that the number of employees in November before this Administration came into office had gone as high as 3,699. The condition which existed was that the Department had a large number of excess employees, and the first problem confronting this Administration was to eliminate these unnecessary men and women. The number of employees in the Department on December 1, 1942, was 1,803, which is 1,025 less than at the beginning of the Administration, and 1,896 less than were in the Department on November 15, 1938.

In spite of the fact that there had been such a tremendous increase in the number of employees in the Department prior to this Administration, there was a great amount of unfinished work in the various bureaus. More than two-year's, time was required to dispose of work which should have been completed before this Administration took office.

At the beginning of this Administration the personnel situation was found to be very unsatisfactory and employees' morale was at a low point. In making the large increase in the number of employees the classification system was not observed and consequently there was no rhyme or reason for the salaries paid for various jobs in the Department. This was one of the factors which undoubtedly did much to destroy morale.

Moreover, in making the large increase in the number of employees there was a large increase in the number who worked on a per diem or hourly basis, although in most cases the employees actually had permanent positions. At the time this Administration came into office there were 1,055 employees on a per diem or hourly basis. Four years prior to that time there were 416 per diem or hourly employees. This was another factor which helped to destroy morale among the employees. One of our problems has been to cope with this situation, created by the large increase in the number of temporary employees. At the present time there are 381 per diem and hourly employees in the Department of Revenue, a reduction of 674 below the number in the Department at the beginning of the Administration. Nearly all of the remaining 381 employees are engaged in temporary work.

It was discovered at the beginning of this Administration that in making appointments no attention had been given in previous years to the qualifications for the various positions as prescribed by the Executive Board in establishing the classification system. Therefore, there was a great lack of ability on the part of those holding many of the positions within the Department. This Administration, in enforcing the qualifications requirements as provided by the Executive Board, has done much to improve the level of ability among employees given positions in the Department.

When this Administration began, another important condition confronted the Department of Revenue. During the four previous years the tax structure had practically been doubled. During that time the special emergency taxes had been adopted, consisting of the following taxes:

Amusement Tax
Cigarette Tax
Gasoline Tax
Corporate Net Income Tax
Gross Receipts Tax
Corporate Loans—Domestic
Corporate Loans—Foreign
Tax on Shares—Banks and Trust Companies
Liquor Tax—10%
State Personal Property Tax
Documentary Stamp Tax
Distillers Tax

In addition to these, the exemption of manufacturing corporations from the Capital Stock Tax had been removed.

The beginning of this Administration found a tax structure with General Fund estimated receipts of $265,287,475 for the 1937-1939 biennium compared with a tax structure which yielded $91,544,584 in the 1933-1935 four years prior to that time. There was this great increase in the tax structure without proper organization of the Department to accommodate itself to this enlarged function. As a result there was a great volume of unsettled taxes at the beginning of the Administration, which this Administration has had to handle. There now remain only 900 unsettled Corporate tax reports for the years 1938 to 1940, inclusive. Of the current reports, those filed March 15, 1942, and April 15, 1942, 130,000 have already been settled, leaving only 30,000 unsettled. At the present rate of progress, all will be settled before the next filing date, March 15, 1943.

At the beginning of this Administration, it was found that the Highway Patrol had been removed from the Department of Revenue during the previous four-year period and merged with the State Police. When the Highway Patrol was in the Department of Revenue the function of supervising inspection stations throughout the State was performed by the Highway Patrolmen. When the Highway Patrol was removed from the Department, the supervision of inspection stations throughout the State was placed in the hands of a large number of employees added to the Department of Revenue for that purpose. Such a system was inefficient and became subject to political abuse. Accordingly, at the beginning of this Administration this function was turned back to the Motor Police, where it has been performed by about forty men especially trained for this work. This work has been performed with the highest degree of efficiency and at a great reduction in cost and without favoritism.

During the first biennium of this Administration $561,821,022 of revenue for all operating funds was collected by the Department. Is is estimated that $596,736,909 will be collected during the second biennium of this Administration, making a total of $1,158,557,931 for the four-year period. This compares with $1,033,512,226 during the preceding four year period. There will be, therefore, $125,045,705 more collected during this four-year period than during the preceding four-years.

The cost of operating the Department of Revenue for the four years of this Administration will be approximately $17,076,554. This compares with a cost of $19,785,607 during the preceding four years, representing a decrease of $2,709,053 during the four years of this Administration. This decrease in cost was made in spite of the fact that the Department will collect $125,045,705 more during this four-year period than during the preceding period of equal length.

The Bureau of Motor Vehicles collected the largest amount of receipts in the history of the Bureau in 1941, amounting to $41,252,411. The Bureau issued 8,392,528 registration and operators' licenses, the largest number ever issued by the Bureau.

The increased work in the Bureau of Motor Vehicles could be handled with fewer employees because of better business methods established during this Administration. As an example, an Inactive Registration Plate File was established in the Graphotype Section, the first file of that nature to be set up in the Bureau. This file now consists of 427,000 inactive registration plates and 21,000 inactive trailer plates. By placing these inactive plates in a separate file the Graphotype Section will not addressograph at the usual renewal periods 448,000 renewal application cards. Thus the Bureau saves on labor ordinarily expended in the addressographing of these forms, in addition to a saving in material of that number of renewal cards. Also there is a large saving in postage. The Graphotype Section expects to add approximately 128,000 plates to the above mentioned number this year, so that at its completion, the Inactive Registration Plate File should contain approximately 676,000 plates.

The Bureau of Highway Safety during this Administration has placed special emphasis upon the development of educational methods in its work of promoting public safety on the highways. It is safe to say that more has been accomplished in this field during this Administration than at any time in the history of the Bureau. In 1939 a Safety Committee was formed, with the Commissioner of the Pennsylvania Motor Police as Chairman, and including representatives from the Department of Revenue and the Department of Highways. In addition, an Interdepartmental Safety Committee was formed in 1940, the principal purpose of this Committee being to permit the Department of Public Instruction to perform certain functions in respect to highway safety that lay within its field. This Committee, which includes various Bureau heads of the Department of Public Instruction as well as representatives from the Department of Revenue, the Pennsylvania Motor Police, and the Department of Highways, has been of great value in the promotion of safety measures throughout the Pennsylvania school system. In the fall of 1941, a special seminar, planned by this Committee, was held at whish some eighteen colleges were represented, in an effort to arouse interest in highway safety in the institutions of higher learning. During the fall of 1942 special seminars designed for this purpose were held in a considerable number of the state teachers colleges. This work included clinical observations of students and others, special courses for school bus drivers, and other important safety courses.

During this Administration special safety campaigns in counties have been undertaken. It was realized that some counties and traffic death rates out of all proportion to the general average in the State or in adjacent counties. These counties with high traffic death rates were studied intensely and a special report written concerning each county under observation. The report gave a full and complete history of the conditions in the county which had led to the bad safety record, together with recommendations for the improvement of these conditions. Thereafter responsible persons including public officials in these counties were contacted and a number of visitations made to each county by Bureau officials. It was felt that if the authorities were made familiar with the conditions, with particular respect to their record as compared to other jurisdictions, together with suggestions for improvement, considerable progress might be made. So encouraging were the results that to date some twenty counties have been especially studied and have some form of improvement planned or under way. In the fall of 1941, at the request of the American Automobile Association, similar campaigns were organized in three southeastern counties along the same lines. It is felt that this work has proved very valuable as a method of safety control.

In its educational work, the Bureau of Highway Safety, in cooperation with a number of other agencies has made and circulated several motion pictures dealing with highway safety. Over a half million school children each year view these safety films, through the cooperation of the Pennsylvania Motor Police. It is felt that the development of these films has greatly helped in highway safety promotion.

Another important part of the educational work has been the development of drivers' clinics. Since 1939 a number pieces of clinical apparatus have been obtained. These machines are designed to test the ability of motor vehicle operators to respond under adverse conditions on the highway, with particular respect to glaring headlights, necessity for sudden stops, and designed to reveal coordination of the muscles and reflex actions, optical defects, and some physical characteristics of great importance in driving a motor vehicle. In addition, during the four-year period a model examination point and driver training field has been developed in Pittsburgh. This development is a model of its kind. It is hoped that through the development of drive clinics, the standard of vehicle driving can be materially raised.

While the Bureau of Highway Safety has stressed the educational work during this Administration, it has continued its other functions of suspending and revoking operators' licenses, enforcing the financial responsibility law, supervising the semi-annual inspection of motor vehicles, and the examination and the approval of automotive accessories. With only about half the number of employees regularly assigned to the Bureau during the preceding Administration much more work has been done during the present Administration. This was brought about by the improvement of existing methods, elimination of unnecessary work, and a determined effort to obtain the most work from the employees available.

The work of the Bureau of Investigations and Collections was improved by consolidating the Stamp, Store, and Theatre Tax Division with the Bureau of Investigations and Collections. The Store and Theatre Tax Act was declared unconstitutional. At that time the Cigarette Tax collection was approximately $800,000 a month. The Department increased the collection of this tax to over $1,000,000 per month. This was accomplished by a system of auditing the Stamp Affixing Agencies and a close check on both the wholesaler and the retailer in cigarettes. Under the present Administration, the collection of the Cigarette Tax has increased $7,186,171.

In the Bureau of Institutional Collections at the beginning of this Administration it was found that the files in the central office were in a deplorable condition, many cases not having received attention for years. It was necessary for the Bureau to make special efforts to close out a large number of these cases by collecting or securing Judgment through the Department of Justice, thus bringing them up to date. Approximately 5,000 cases were eliminated from the files. At the present time every case, both active and semi-active, has an individual folder properly filed and easily accessible. Prior to this Administration, according to the records in the Bureau, claims were seldom protected. During this Administration, judgments have been secured amounting to approximately $81,000.

The Division of Personal Property Tax affords an excellent illustration of the problem of overstaffing which existed when this Administration came into office. On January 1, 1939, there were 225 employees in the Division. At the present time there are 124, a decrease of 101 employees. One of the methods by which this decrease was made was to improve the methods of performing the work of the Division. Prior to this Administration, all investigations and collections were made through five district field offices, each with a superintendent and with approximately 65 field men in the five districts. All of these men were on expense accounts. During this Administration a series of form letters were devised to secure the information previously secured by investigation. This method has secured satisfactory results in obtaining the information, eliminated a large share of the field men, greatly reduced expense accounts, and has resulted in less inconvenience and better satisfaction on the part of the taxpayer.

The Department has cooperated in the War effort in a number of ways. When Federal rationing began, the Director of the Bureau of Highway Safety and two Administrative Assistants were made available to the Federal Government to organize and set up the system in Pennsylvania. This was done without cost to the Federal Government. When the Government found it necessary to have tire inspection stations, the Bureau of Highway Safety cooperated with the Office of Price Administration to have this work done with the assistance of the official State inspection stations. The Bureau of Highway Safety has also been made responsible for the supervision of black-out lighting on motor vehicles and for the checking of black-out lighting equipment by official inspection stations. Studies of traffic regulations and checking of operators' records for the military authorities and clinical examinations of Red Cross Motor Corps and other drivers engaged in war work were among the other contributions made by the Department.

The Bureau of Motor Vehicles made and completed a survey of all commercial vehicles of the State for the War Department. Envelopes were addressed and cards inserted for every commercial vehicle in the file for use of the War Department. Moreover, the Bureau of Motor Vehicles has performed a great deal of work cooperating in furnishing information requested by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

A new system of minor license plate identifications was adopted to save steel by using the present plates for another year. A small tag will be used for identification instead of a new plate.

Soon after the Declaration of war, the Director of the Division of Aeronautics of the Department of Revenue was designated by the Governor as Wing Commander of the Civil Air Patrol. The organization of this group of civilian pilots was conducted by the Division of Aeronautics. More than 3,500 pilots and personnel experienced in aviation are enrolled in this organization. Upon the entrance of this country into the War, the use of the State aviation facilities were placed at the disposal of the War Department by the Governor. At the present time the Harrisburg Airport is being used by the Army Air Corps.

The Department has cooperated fully wherever possible to make effiective the 35 mile wartime speed limit proclaimed by the Governor at the request of the President.

In order to improve the work of the Department of Revenue, it appears that some changes in existing laws and additional legislation are needed. The present system for collecting Inheritance and Mercantile Taxes is very unsatisfactory. Under the existing system, the Department of Revenue supervises the collection of Inheritance Taxes by the Registers of Wills in the several counties and supervises the collection of the Mercantile License Tax by County Treasurers. The Department supervises the work of appraisers in the various counties for the collection of these two taxes, but the Auditor General by law has authority to appoint the number of necessary Inheritance and Mercantile appraisers and to fix their compensation and approve their expenses. Under the law the compensation of these appraisers is deducted from the receipts of these two taxes by the Registers of Wills and County Treasurers upon certification by the Auditor General.

This dual arrangement leads to a very unsatisfactory situation in the collection of these two taxes as has been demonstrated especially during the last two years of this Administration. The Auditor General appointed Inheritance and Mercantile employees greatly in excess of the number needed for the work to be done. Since these employees were paid by a deduction from the receipts of the taxes rather than by an appropriation, there was no limit to the amount of funds available for their compensation. The Department of Revenue has taken the position that the Auditor General has authority to appoint only the number of employees necessary for the work to be done and has directed Registers of Wills and County Treasurers to discontinue payment to a large number of unnecessary Inheritance and Mercantile License Tax employees, which action has been upheld by the Department of Justice.

The dual situation maintained by the law makes the collection of these two taxes extremely difficult. It is impossible for the Department of Revenue to supervise properly the collection of these two taxes under the existing system. The cost of collection is exorbitant, and proper collection of taxes due is not obtained.

The recommendation is made that the law be changed so that the appointment of all Inheritance and Mercantile License employees be placed in the Department of Revenue as well as the collection of these two taxes in all respects. Also that provision be made for all Inheritance and Mercantile License Tax employes to be paid from an appropriation to the Department of Revenue rather than from the receipts from these two taxes.

Some minor changes it appears are necessary in the Motor Vehicle Code but they are not of sufficient importance to be set forth in detail here. These changes have been studied in the Department and the results of the Department's work in this respect can be made available to any legislative committee concerned with such changes.

A number of changes in the Fiscal Code and in tax laws are recommended by the Inter-organization Council on State Taxation, composed of representatives of the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce, the Pennsylvania Institute of Certified Public Accountants, and members of the Pennsylvania Controls of the Controllers Institute of America. Some of these recommendations it appears would improve the work of the department, the method of granting refunds, or promote greater fairness to the taxpayers in the operation of the tax laws.

Some of these recommendations I wish to mention here are:

1. Provide that the period for signing claims for refund be extended normally to two years after the date of the payment of the tax or two years after the settlement or resettlement whichever period last expires except upon pure questions of factual valuation, as to which the period shall be one year. Such an amendment would bring the refund procedure into accord with the assessment and concurrent payment procedure introduced by the Legislature beginning with 1936 taxes.

2. Give the Board of Finance and Revenue jurisdiction to determine a petition for refund based on one point in a case where an appeal to court has been taken on another point or points involving the same tax and year.

3. An amendment to the Fiscal Code providing that if tax settlements are not made by the Department of Revenue and the Department of the Auditor General within two years interest shall cease after that period of time.

4. An amendment to the Fiscal Code eliminating the 12% interest rate on tax deficiencies. A 6% rate would be provided where the 12% rate now applies.

5. An amendment to the Fiscal Code to provide that the 90-day period for the filing of a petition for resettlement shall start from the date of the mailing of the settlement by the Department of Revenue.

The present law provides for the filing of a petition for resettlement within ninety days after the date of any settlement.

6. An amendment to the Fiscal Code to provide that the 60-day period for taking appeals from the action of the Board of Finance and Revenue shall start either (a) from the date of mailing of notice of refusal of the petition for review; or (b) from the date of mailing of the resettlement, where the Board has made resettlement.

The present law provides that the appeal shall be taken within sixty days from the decision of the Board of Finance and Revenue.

7. An amendment to the Corporate Net Income Tax law which will permit the Department of Revenue to grant extensions of time for the filing of Corporate Net Income Tax reports commensurate with the extensions of time granted by the Federal Government for the filing of Federal Income Tax returns for the same period.

Under the present law the Department of Revenue has the power to extend the time for filing Pennsylvania Corporate Net Income Tax reports for sixty days but no longer.

8. An amendment to the Corporate Net Income Tax law which would make it clearly unnecessary to file separate petitions for resettlement in cases where the filing of a Report of Change in Net Income results in an overpayment of tax. This would be a clarification of the law.

9. An amendment to the Fiscal Code which clearly empowers the taxing departments, on their own motion, to resettle interest accounts downward in cases where the taxes upon which such interest accounts are calculated have been resettled downward.

This amendment would be an enactment into law of the established practice.

Some other recommendations are made by this Committee referred to above requiring either changes in laws or in administrative practice without merit consideration.

The close of this Administration in comparison with the beginning four years ago finds the Department of Revenue far better organized and equipped to perform its many difficult and important functions.

Sincerely yours

EDWARD B. LOGAN, Secretary

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC ASSISTANCE

Harrisburg, December 9, 1942.

Dear Governor James:

I am submitting the following report on the work of the Department of Public Assistance and County Boards of Assistance during this Administration. This statement covers, first, the tremendous and heartening change in the Pennsylvania relief situation since 1939, and, second, some major administrative developments in the Department's program, including those related to the war and civilian defense.

I do not believe there are any needs for legislation of sufficient importance to warrant inclusion in your message. The present public assistance laws, as amended and supplemented during this Administration, have given Pennsylvania a public assistance program second to none in the United States in terms of efficient organizational framework and equitable, uniform provision for the State's needy.

In the administration of these laws, each of the pledges made by you to the people of Pennsylvania with respect to relief has been carried out:

1. The program has operated on a strictly non-political basis, without partisanship or favor.

2. All persons genuinely in need and eligible for public assistance have received it promptly; those not eligible for assistance have been denied it.

3. Administration has been effective, economical, fair and humane.

4. Emphasis has been placed on jobs, and encouragement of employment, as the only sound answer to the unemployment relief portion of the total public assistance problem.

Changes in Relief Situation, 1939-42

Decline in Total Public Dependency

Since early 1939 a net total of some 1,400,000 men, women and children in Pennsylvania have moved from dependence on State or Federal relief programs to the ranks of the self-supporting.

In February, 1939, in the wake of the business recession of 1937-38, public dependency reached a peak of 1,817,000, or 18.4 per cent of the State's population, representing the combined total supported by the State Department of Public Assistance and the Federal WPA.

From that month to the present time there has been an almost uninterrupted state-wide decline in the dependent population, reflecting, first, the basic recovery in industry and business and, subsequently, the accelerated stepping up of economic activity accompanying the nation's national defense and war production programs in which Pennsylvania has played so large a part.

In October, 1942, public dependency had fallen to the record low total of 416,000 persons, or only 4.2 per cent of the population, with the trend still unabatedly downward.

There is every prospect of a further substantial drop in connection with the impending liquidation of WPA which is expected to result in the rapid absorption of most WPA workers in industry.

Reduction in Department of Public Assistance Case Load and Expenditures

At the beginning of 1939, in January, 358,600 cases, numbering 905,000 persons, were being aided under the four programs administered by the Department of Public Assistance—General Assistance, Aid to Dependent Children, Old Age Assistance and Blind Pensions. Expenditures of the Department for the month of January, 1939, totaled $11,554,000, of which the State paid $10,322,000 and the Federal government $1,232,000.

Notwithstanding improving conditions and declining total public dependency, the next eight months saw the Department's case load and relief costs in State funds forced to unprecedented heights by the drastic curtailment of WPA jobs in Pennsylvania at a rate much more rapid than employment in industry could take up at that time. The shift of thousands of WPA workers to State assistance to provide them with necessities of life resulted in an all-time peak of 396,000 cases, numbering 1,022,800 persons, in August, 1939, with an aggregate expenditure for the month of $13,778,000. Approximately $12,536,000 of this cost was borne by the State.

The magnitude of the decline since August, 1939, is revealed by a comparison with October, 1942, when cases of all types totaled 190,300, made up of 332,500 persons, with an expenditure for the month of $6,354,000, of which $4,346,000 was chargeable to State funds.

As of December 1, 1942, the Department was providing for approximately 183,000 cases, including 95,000 recipients of Old Age Assistance, 40,000 families receiving Aid to Dependent Children, 14,000 Blind Pensioners, and 34,000 cases receiving General Assistance. Only about 5,000 the General Assistance cases include a member classified as employable in some degree.

Whereas in 1939 the typical public assistance case was that of the unemployed wage earner and his dependents whose only need was a job, today the great bulk of the families and individuals being aided are unemployables—dependent children, the aged, the blind, and persons suffering from chronic illness, physical or mental disabilities, and other handicaps. Their needs, as a whole, involve long-term provision, although much has been and will continue to be done, through rehabilitative and other sources, to help individuals toward self-support.

Major Administrative Developments

Capitalizing on Employment Situation

Although the precipitous decline in Pennsylvania relief rolls since 1939 is directly related to changing employment conditions, there can be no question but that the movement of employable recipients to jobs has been aided and speeded during this period by legislative and Departmental administrative measures designed to encourage employment and capitalize on the improved situation.

Outstanding among these measures are the following:

Job Mobilization Campaign

The Department participated actively with other State agencies in the Job Mobilization Campaign of 1939-40, which enlisted the interest and efforts of thousands of Pennsylvania citizens in bringing about stimulation of employment and increased understanding of unemployment problems.

Relief-Work Program

Established under the Pierson Act of 1939, this program authorizes County Assistance Boards to assign employable recipients to local public projects on which they make a work return for the assistance granted them. The cooperation of local governments, schools and hospitals, and of the tens of thousand of relief workers themselves, in conjunction with constructive and forward-looking administration by local Boards, has made the Relief-Work Program an outstanding success. Primary emphasis has been placed on making the program contribute to the transfer of workers to regular employment through restoration of work habits, learning of new occupations and the opportunity to brush up skills and demonstrate abilities. The program has dwindled steadily in size as the great majority of employable relief recipients have moved into private jobs. In October, 1942, only 2,200 remained on projects. Computed at prevailing local wage rates for the occupations involved, the value of labor afforded to sponsoring agencies since 1939 has been approrimately $16,700,000.

Pennsylvania State Work Relief Program

Under this program, established in September, 1941, the Department contributes part of the wage cost for the employment of assistance recipients on certain public work which might not otherwise be possible. As would be expected in view of present employment conditions, the program is currently small, employing approximately 300 workers in October, 1942. It stands as insurance, however, against a future time when a work program of this nature may be necessary on a sizeable scale to take up a slack in employment.

Administrative Policies Affecting Employable Recipients

The Department's administrative policies concerning assistance to employables include: (1) the requirement that all employable recipients must be actively seeking work, must be registered with the U. S. Employment Service, and must accept suitable employment unless wailure to do as is for a reason found justifiable by the County Board; (2) provision for earned income exemptions from part-time or temporary jobs to allow for work expenses and to encourage assistance recipients in efforts toward as much self-support as possible; (3) provision for prompt reinstatement of necessary assistance in cases of temporary work where there is immediate need on cessation of the job; (4) provision that all assistance to employable persons be granted as temporary aid, subject to periodic review of the individual's efforts to obtain work and the possibility of his referral to job or training opportunities by the County Board; (5) provision making unattached fully employable persons under 45 generally ineligible for assistance.

Rehabilitation and Training

In recognition of the need for attacking the roots of dependency problems, the 1941 sessions of the legislature amended the Public Assistance Law specifically to empower the Department to take measures to promote the rehabilitation of assistance recipients and to help them to become independent of public support. Under this authority the Department has developed and encouraged a variety of measures, including special expenditures for physical rehabilitative purposes in individual cases, diagnosis and treatment of remediable disabilities through the Department's regular medical assistance program, and referrals to other public and private agencies. In addition, the resources of the Department and County Boards, in cooperation with the U. S. Employment Service and vocational training schools under the Department of Public Instruction, have been used to refer employable and potentially employable persons to training and retraining classes and to review their work histories and abilities with a view of helping them secure employment.

Staking Men to Jobs

Under a plan initiated during the past year, upwards of a thousand men from the relief rolls of Pennsylvania's hard and soft coal fields have been "grub-staked" by the Department to enable them to move to other parts of the State for immediate placement in war jobs at such projects as the Mechanicsburg Naval Supply Depot and Keystone Ordnance Works near Meadville. Additional placements are in process. The program carried out in cooperation with the Employment Service and war contractors, includes selection of the men on the basis of relief work records and interviews, transportation and an allowance for room and board until first pay. The men sign agreements to repay the amount advanced, if they have no dependents, or to send contributions home if they have families. In nearly all cases such contributions have resulted in the families' becoming entirely independent of assistance, with consequent ultimate savings of thousands of dollars to the Commonwealth in addition to the value of the undertaking as a contribution to war manpower needs.

Maintaining Adequacy of Assistance

Public assistance is provided by the taxpayers of the State to meet human needs. All Pennsylvania can take pride in the fact that even when State assistance requirements were at a peak in 1939 and continued to constitute the State's most critical financial problem in ensuing months, the Administration's pledge that aid for eligible needy persons would be available was kept. Needs were met as they arose and Pennsylvania's high rank among States in terms of the adequacy of grants was maintained.

With the advent of sharply rising living costs in 1941-42, however, serious hardships confronted the greatly reduced but still sizeable group of assistant recipients dependent on fixed grants. Fortunately, the tremendously improved financial position of the State and the decline in assistance rolls have made possible two substantial increases in basic assistance allowances during 1942, the cost of which can be fully met within the limits of the Department's 1941-43 biennial appropriation. The first of these increases, effective August 1, 1942, raised grants an average of 11 per cent and permitted numerous needed adjustments in shelter and food allowances, particularly in the instances of larger families in urban areas. The second increase, effective December 1, 1942, and based on a State-wide cost of living study just completed by the Department, raised food allowances in all cases to an amount equaling the current cost of a minimum dietary standard for health and will result in an estimated further average increase in grants of 7 per cent.

Reduction in Administrative Personnel

Under merit system provisions governing all personnel in the public assistance program, employees are subject to release for causes related to performance and to furlough when ever declines in the volume of work make staff contraction justifiable and necessary.

The Department has consistently followed a policy of reducing State-wide personnel as rapidly as declining workload and considerations of efficiency and service would permit. Inasmuch as administrative controls determining the actual number of employees at any given time are largely based on the number of assistance cases and applications, changes in personnel over any extended period tend to parallel closely changes in case load.

The result of this basic administrative policy over the period since the peaks in case load and staff in the late summer of 1939 is shown in the following comparative figures on the total number of cases receiving assistance in September, 1939, and at the end of November, 1942, and the total administrative personnel of the Department and 67 County Boards as of the same dates:

	Public Assistance Case Load	Public Assistance Personnel
September, 1939	396,000 cases	8,846 employees
November, 1942	183,000 cases	4,066 employees
	Reduction—54%	Reduction—54%

Of interest in connection with the net staff cut of more than 4,700 employees during this period is the fact that personnel contraction has been achieved to a large extent by not replacing employees leaving to take jobs in industry, Federal agencies, Red Cross war service, and other employment, or to enter the armed forces. The steady drain of civil service personnel has, in fact, created critical replacement and training problems in some instances. The same increased employment demands which have made possible sharp reductions in assistance rolls have operated not only to accelerate normal civil service staff turnover but also to create actual shortages in qualified personnel available to fill vacancies under reduced staff quotas

Civilian Defense and War Services

Activities of the Department and the County Assistance Boards in connection with civilian defense and war services have been varied and increasingly important during the past two years.

In addition to the contribution being made to the filling of manpower needs, not only through placing relief employables directly in war jobs, but facilitating the training and rehabilitation of others for both war production and "home front" employment, the Department's war-related activities include:

Cooperation with Selective Service. Since January, 1941, the Department, under terms of a formal agreement with State Selective Service, has undertaken all dependency investigations requested by local draft boards in the cases of families known to County Assistance offices as present or past recipients of public assistance.

Cooperation with Rationing Board and Civilian Defense. Upon inauguration of gasoline and tire rationing in Pennsylvania in the spring of 1942, the Department and County Boards of Assistance cooperated actively in getting the program under way through the loan of employees and provision of temporary office space and equipment to local Rationing Boards. At the same time, many employees and Board members have made vital contributions to local Civilian Defense and Red Cross activities as volunteers. In many instances these men and women have accepted key posts in their local Defense and Red Cross units, utilizing their knowledge of the community and experience with its problems gained in the Department's employ.

Civilian War Assistance. The Department of Public Assistance has been designated by the Federal Social Security Board as the public agency in Pennsylvania to administer Federal funds for civilian war assistance to meet individual or mass needs which may arise from enemy action or the threat thereof. In planning the discharge of this vital responsibility the Department has entered into State-wide agreements with the American Red Cross, the State Council of Defense, and the State Evacuation Authority, defining the parts each agency will play in the event of any war-concerned emergency affecting the civilian population. Parallel local plans and agreements are being worked out in all counties in accordance with local conditions and probable needs. As part of these plans, County Assistance Board staffs are being instructed in administering Civilian War Assistance and in coordinating this service with the disaster work of the Red Cross and the operation of other Civilian Defense activities which would come to the fore in an emergency situation. In many counties the Executive Director of the County Assistance Board is serving as Chief of Emergency Welfare Service for the County Council of Defense, with responsibility for over-all planning of the use to be made of local public and private welfare resources. In all counties, County Assistance Boards are participating actively in this vital phase of home front preparedness.

Sincerely yours,

HOWARD D. RUSSELL, Secretary.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

Harrisburg, November 24, 1942.

Dear Governor James:

I enclose herewith two reports: Suggestions for inclusion in the final message; a short outline of achievements of this Department, particularly in the field of National Defense.

I have no suggestions for additional legislation bearing on the functions of the Department. We have found the Commerce Law approved by you on May 10, 1939, quite comprehensive of all aspects of desirable State action in matters concerning the economic development of the Commonwealth.

The Department of Commerce organized on May 10, 1939, in fulfillment of your inaugural pledge to the people of this Commonwealth, was first charged with the task of attacking the critical problem of unemployment through expansion of industry within the Commonwealth.

As a result of efforts of this Department prior to the present emergency, a number of new industries were established in the Commonwealth providing work for many thousands of employees. Certain old industries contemplating the transfer of their operation to other parts of the Nation were persuaded to remain in Pennsylvania and expand their production here. Industrial migration out of Pennsylvania toward areas of cheap and sub-standard labor, which had occurred in considerable volume throughout several preceding years, was converted into a substantial gain.

Since the initiation of the National Defense Program Pennsylvania's industrial record has surpassed that of any other State in our Union. We were first to develop a state-wide inventory of plants available for war industry. We were first to develop a state organization for plant conversion and for the pooling of local industries for defense contracts and sub-contracts. We were first to put into operation an efficient state-wide organization for dealing with the problems of worker transportation and of war-time traffic control. These are outstanding and specific achievements of the State's Department of Commerce.

Particular success has also been achieved by this Department in bringing about the location in our State of defense industries capable of later conversion into profitable peace-time industries at the close of the war. The recent establishment, through the efforts of the State Department of Commerce, of a war chemical plant in the anthracite region, capable of post-war conversion to the manufacture of plastics and other synthetic products from anthracite, is an instance to which I point with particular satisfaction.

Anthracite coal "bootlegging" for many years a menace to the prosperity of our anthracite regions, has greatly declined as the result of an agreement obtained between the Anthracite Coal Operators, the Independent Miners' Association and the Anthracite Committee of the Department of Commerce. This agreement pledges that no new "bootleg" holes will be opened, that present "bootleg" holes will be closed as they are worked out and that independent miners will be hired in legitimate collieries and nearby war industries.

Since the enactment of the Pennsylvania Commerce Law by the General Assembly in 1939, other states, notably New York, have made similar provisions for the protection and stimulation of their various manufactures in the interest of continued profitable employment for their people.

It is a matter of particular pride that when the Nation was plunged into a great war, Pennsylvania was ready with an organized and effective State Department of Commerce, able to assist the conversion of America's greatest peace time industrial area into the most productive war-time industrial area on this continent.

The Department of Commerce was created on the recommendation of the Governor and by acts of General Assembly Nos. 51 and 52 of May 10, 1939, to forward the development and expansion of Pennsylvania's business, industry and commerce and to attract new industries to the State.

On January 1, 1939 there was widespread unemployment throughout the Commonwealth. Public relief agencies were taxed to their utmost and the industries of the Commonwealth had suffered severe losses through migration of manufacturing plants to other states.

To meet this condition and before the period of the National Defense Program, a number of new industries were established in the Commonwealth as a direct result of the Department's field work and of its national publicity. These industries provided employment for many thousands of our people.

Because of the cooperative policy adopted by the State through the Department, industrial migration out of Pennsylvania was largely checked and converted into substantial gains. Pennsylvania employment increased at a rate nearly twice that of the Nation as a whole. New plant construction increased in Pennsylvania more rapidly than in every other important Northeastern Industrial state.

Since the Department of Commerce began directing the State's tourist promotion campaign, retail expenditures by travelers for recreation in Pennsylvania have shown a consistent gain. This increase amounted to fifty million dollars in 1940 and ninety-one million dollars in 1941, as compared with 1938. Tourist income to Pennsylvania during the last four years approximately one and a half billion dollars.

Through the Department's Anthracite Committee, after many years of irregular and sporadic production, the output of Pennsylvania's hard coal was stabilized by agreement, with a resulting improvement in employment conditions and economic security in the hard coal regions. Through agreements also secured by this same Committee, anthracite "bootlegging" has greatly declined.

In developing a field and research technique to deal with the problems of Pennsylvania localities and of individual industries, the Department of Commerce prepared itself for its second important task, that of assisting American free enterprise in this Commonwealth to convert itself to the uses of our Nation in a great war.

As a result of the Department's industrial field work and research, Pennsylvania was the first state to submit to Washington an inventory of idle industrial plants capable of quick conversion to war work.

The Department organized thirty-eight industrial pools to assist the State's industries to assume contracts for war orders. Pennsylvania was first to develop such a state-wide industrial pooling system.

Shortly after Pearl Harbor, the Department initiated a program of tire saving and war transportation conservation. This effort, the first in America on a state-wide basis, aroused the attention of Federal authorities and preceded the national program which followed its pattern.

The Department made digests of all Invitations to Bid issued by Federal authorities and distributed them to the heads of the State's Production Pools. It analyzed and classified all defense contracts awarded in Pennsylvania for the information of local sub-contractors.

With the aid of the State Planning Board's complete collection of air maps and extensive industrial, social and land use data, the Department has assisted in the location of war industries, army cantonments, air fields and other military establishments, and has supplied industrial, topographical and other vital information on request to the War Department, the War Production Board and the Council of Defense.

The Department has represented the advantages of Pennsylvania sites for war plants before various United States agencies and has succeeded in gaining for the State important industries, located in position most efficient for the war effort and most advantageous for our post-war economy.

The Department has consistently represented to Federal agencies and to industry the importance of using existing plants for war work, to prevent undue migration of labor, unnecessary housing construction and post-war deflation.

Through its State Planning Board, the Department has aided local planning and zoning commissions to meet problems arising in defense areas and has assisted in the formation of new commissions in counties or subdivisions facing war-time emergencies.

The Department has assisted retail dealers in automobiles and other frozen commodities to form plans for pooling their floor space and facilities for defense uses.

The Department has organized a state-wide program of community self-appraisal, for developing both war and post-war resources and for the diversification of industry.

To assist in developing war and post-war employment for older people, those in non-industrial areas, and the physically handicapped, the Department has organized the Pennsylvania Handicrafts Committee, has compiled a directory of Pennsylvania engaged in handicraft arts and has promoted two exhibitions of their products.

Through its State Planning Board, the Department has added a program of industrial research, which has proved important to its war-time activities and is also aimed at developing post-war industrial opportunities within this Commonwealth.

Through the same agency, which is charged by law with that duty, it is developing a program of public works to assist post-war employment.

Sincerely Yours,

MARK S. JAMES, Secretary.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
PENNSYLVANIA GAME COMMISSION

Harrisburg, December 9, 1942.

Honorable Arthur H. James,
Governor of Pennsylvania,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

My Dear Governor:

We beg to submit herewith information concerning advancements by the Pennsylvania Game Commission during your administration.

No legislative changes of sufficient importance to warrant inclusion in your message are needed at this time.

By good financial housekeeping, the funds available to the Commission are adequate to cover anticipated needs in the immediate future. In addition to the customary working balances which the Commission has maintained in the past, a special war-time reserve of $300,000 is set aside to cover possible exigencies during or immediately following the war period.

Hunting Grounds and Refuges

During this Administration the Pennsylvania Game Commission has added 119,754 acres of State Game Lands to its holdings, 69,092 acres having been acquired within the past two years.

The total acreage purchased by the Commission for refuges and public hunting grounds now aggregates 712,592 acres, for which $2,746,774 was paid. We now own such lands in 61 of the 67 counties of the State.

In addition to purchasing lands, the Game Commission has also been leasing hunting rights and conducting game management activities on certain privately-owned lands for the benefit of the public.

At the beginning of this Administration the Commission had under its control an aggregate of 815,460 acres of publicly and privately owned lands. Now it is managing a total of 996,791 acres for wildlife refuges and public hunting grounds.

Relief Projects

During this Administration the Game Commission cooperated to the fullest possible extent in providing work on its State Game Lands in order to reduce the public relief load on the Commonwealth. Throughout the past four years almost 1,000,000 man-days of relief labor were utilized to improve the Commission's land holdings, the Federal Government's contribution in cash being almost $2,500,000.

National Defense

The Commission has assisted with the National Defense Program through three important channels, namely:

Its entire field staff has been widely utilized to assist with important confidential investigative work for the U. S. Army and the F.B.I. The officers of the Commission have also constantly been on the alert to detect activities inimical to the Defense Program.

At the request of the Federal authorities, a special fat saving program has been promoted in an effort to have the carcasses of skunks and other fur-bearers salvaged for use in connection with the manufacture of explosives.

In cooperation with the War Production Board and the producers of leather goods, a special campaign was recently launched to save the thousands of deer hides in Pennsylvania for use in the production of fur-lined jackets for the Merchant Seamen who carry supplies to our armed forces in all parts of the world, and to make sturdy gloves for the men in various branches of the military service.

Administrative

Early in 1939 the administrative functions of the Commission were reorganized and established on a more businesslike operating basis. This included decentralization of its administrative activites through the establshment of seven regional offices, which brings the administrative functions closer to the people whom the Commission serves. The Commission's expanding program is now being handled far more efficiently and economically than would have been possible by increasing its central organization in the Harrisburg Office.

As a further step in this same direction, within the past two years the Commission re-districted the entire Commonwealth for general field administrative purposes in order to equalize the responsibilities of all field personnel. This has provided far more uniform service to the sportsmen and the general public for every dollar spent.

Functional Improvements

Due to functional changes and expanding land managerial responsibilities, a reorganization of the field and office staffs of the Commission became necessary, and in January, 1939, an approved reorganization plan was put into operation. The major changes included:

Re-adjustment and simplification of the administrative functions in the Harrisburg Office.

Coordination of all field functions under the direct supervision of the Assistant Executive Director.

Establishment of seven divisional office in the field through which the various activities are handled by the respective Field Division Supervisors and their staffs, thereby greatly improving the efficiency of the field work, reducing the cost of operation, and enabling the Commission to maintain closer contact with the sportsmen and their wishes.

Following a preliminary study, based on more than a year of experimental operation within one of the field divisions, the Commission extended and revised the districting of the Commonwealth for general field administrative purposes effective June 1, 1941. The administrative areas originally followed county lines, which imposed gross inequalities upon the officers assigned to handle the manifold duties of a Game Protector.

The re-districting plan divided the Commonwealth into 100 districts with an average of 450 square miles each, in lieu of the 66 districts previously established. Highways, streams, mountain crests and other natural geographic boundaries were utilized, and the new districts provided a much more equitable distribution of work for each employee. These smaller districts assure greater efficiency and reduce the amount of automobile mileage essential to patrol larger areas successfully.

The Commission's entire field organization has been assisting the Federal Government with many confidential investigations ever since our Country entered the war. To date 32 employees of the Commission have joined some branch of the military service.

Better Trained Men

Since the summer of 1924 the Game Commission has selected all field officers by competitive examination.

In 1932 it established a Training School for the purpose of better equipping its field men to handle the many duties now devolving upon them. To meet the problems incident to a rapidly expanding program, the Commission in 1936 began utilizing the Training School to train and develop men to fill all field vacancies. Admission to the school was controlled by rigid qualifications and competitive examinations. The first class was graduated in the spring of 1937, the second class in 1938, and the third class on February 28, 1942. So far 76 trainees have been graduated, practically all of whom are today in the Commission's service. They are performing a much higher quality of public service than could be expected of untrained appointees.

The Commission's Training School was the first institution of its kind in the United States. Many other states have since adopted the plan in one form or another. During this Administration the school plant has been further improved and the courses of training expanded to meet the needs of the Commission's program.

Lands for Hunting Grounds and Refuges

For many years the Commission and sportsmen have been confronted with the difficult problem of providing public hunting in the more densely populated and better agricultural sections of the State. A plan, commonly known as the Cooperative Farm-Game Program, was devised to partially alleviate the situation in 27 agricultural counties where the hunting population is very heavy. Owners of groups of connecting farms are invited to execute agreements with the Commission which place control of hunting privileges in its care. In turn, the Commission provides adequate protection to the cooperating farmers and their property.

At the beginning of this Administration 60 projects, comprising 907 farms, totalling 74,615 acres, were functioning. During the intervening period there has been a net increase to this program of 14 projects, 1037 farms and 84,420 acres, or a total to date of 74 projects, comprising 1944 farms and an aggregate area of 159,035 acres—more than double the acreage of four years ago.

Other types of projects for which the Commission leases and controls the hunting privileges over a stipulated number of years, and which were established during this Administration, are as follows: Auxiliary State Game Refuges (General Classification) with a net increase of 5 projects or a total at present of 60 projects and 50,015 acres; State Game Propagation Areas, having an increase of 23 projects and 2,399 acres, or a total of 95 projects containing 28,843 acres; 2 Archery Hunting Preserves with a total area of 1,985 acres of forest land; I Dog Training Area of 145 acres, making a total of 5 projects comprising 2,668 acres also 122 Special Wildlife Refuge Projects having a total of 42,602 acres which are sponsored, established and maintained by regular sportsmen's organizations in cooperation with the Game Commission.

Land Management and Relief Labor

During this Administration the most outstanding accomplishments of the Commission in land management were the many improvements to the State Game Lands and Refuges made possible by the use of WPA and other relief help. Nearly 200 WPA Projects actually operated for a total of approximately 700,000 man-days. WPA expenditures approached $2,500,000 while the Commission was credited with contributions totalling nearly $1,000,000. This sum included land valuation, seedlings, supervision, etc., the actual cash outlay being relatively small.

The benefits to the State Game Lands and Refuges were many. All of the work accomplished was planned to provide better food and cover conditions for game birds and animals, and to provide better facilities for administration and protection against forest fires.

Projects included the building and maintenance of over 2000 miles of roads, fire trails, boundary lines and refuge lines; the planting of almost 4,000,000 seedlings, both coniferous and game food species; the cutting of inferior species from thousands of acres of forest land in order to improve the composition of the forest stand and to provide browse for deer and improved habitat for small game, as well as many other miscellaneous items.

During the past four years it was possible to utilize mature timber on several thousand acres of State Game Lands, thereby improving wildlife habitats. This was done by following sound forestry principles, and more than $60,000 was realized from sales of timber products.

These were for the most part very small operations, calling for the removal of lumber, mine timber, paper wood and stove wood.

The land holdings of the Commission are divided into 47 managerial groups, each supervised by a Land Management Game Protector. Many of these groups have become so large that a further revision of management groupings will soon be needed.

Propagation

Production at the State Game Farms was increased during the past two bienniums, especially by expanding the facilities for holding mature birds over the winter, which resulted in a larger spring release of adult birds than ever before possible. This increase in production, together with the natural supply of game elsewhere, made it possible to maintain a sufficient game crop in the coverts of the Commonwealth.

Under various cooperative programs with groups of sportsmen the Commission furnished many more ringneck pheasants and quail to organized sportsmen's groups in the Commonwealth for rearing.

The Commission has established twenty-one Wild Turkey Propagating Areas. Certain of these are used for the collection of eggs for the Wild Turkey Farm to greatly improve the stock produced on the farm, the remainder of the areas being for stocking purposes.

The seasonal production goal of the State Game Farms, established during the past biennium, was set at 30,000 mature pheasants, 12,500 adult quail and 2,000 full grown Hungarian partridges all for spring release also 2,000 wild turkeys, part for fall and the remainder for spring planting. These goals have been exceeded in all instances except in the case of wild turkeys.

Game Purchases

The game purchase program during the past two bienniums was expanded along with the operations of the State Game Farms and the live trapping and transfer of wild game. Under a new policy adopted during the last biennium, to encourage Pennsylvania breeders to increase the outpost of game birds, contracts were made in the spring of each year covering delivery of mature pheasants and quail early the following spring.

During this Administration all quotations for game purchases were on a delivered basis, thus eliminating the burdensome transportation accounting problem of former years.

Live Trapping and Transfer of Wild Game

An extensive live trapping and redistribution program was developed in the winter of 1938-39 and has been successfully operated since then to utilize our own wild stock to better advantage, instead of buying more from other States.

Game birds and mammals have been live-trapped on newly established State Game Propagation Areas which were closed to all hunting, thus allowing wildlife an opportunity to breed and propagate under natural conditions with a minimum of molestation.

In addition to these areas, thousands of animals have been trapped annually from city watersheds, institutional grouds, parks, nurseries, towns, borougs, cities and other areas closed to public shooting, where the animals otherwise would have caused much damage and been of no benefit to the public.

Unusually favorable conditions prevailing during the winter of 1940-41 permitted a record transfer of wild game. The transfer during 1941-42 was smaller due to the shortage of manpower, together with a "poor rabbit year."

License Sales

The sale of hunting licenses represents the bulk of revenue credited to the Game Fund, with an all time high sales record achieved during the past four years. The annual license sale for the period is shown below:

	Resident	Non-Resident
Fiscal year ended May 31, 1939 ..	654,146	7,582
Fiscal year ended May 31, 1940 ..	653,852	9,047
Fiscal year ended May 31, 1941 ..	666,420	12,748
Fiscal year ended May 31, 1942* .	676,349	10,785

* Preliminary report, subject to change.

Hunting Accidents

Despite the fact that more hunters were afield during the past four years than any prior like period, the percentage of fatal accidents was reduced by intensive safety campaigns. The yearly average fatalities for this period was 40¾ as compared with an average of 47 persons killed annually during the 16 years preceding May 31, 1939.

Financial Operations

On June 1, 1039 the accounting system was transformed from the old pen-and-ink system to a modern machine method by the purchase and installation of two modern accounting machines. This has resulted in a saving of time and money and the elimination of a burdensome amount of overtime.

The receipts credited to the Game Fund were never so large as during the past four years. This increase in revenue was due mainly to the large number of licenses sold. A summary of receipts and expenditures for the period follows:

	Receipts		Expenditures
Year ended May 31, 1939	$1,486,826.37		$1,445,091.80
Year ended May 31, 1940	1,530,085.34	$3,016,911.71	1,500,122.03	$2,945,213.83
Year ended May 31, 1941	$1,658,738.77		$1,485,190.20
Year ended May 31, 1942	1,650,988.61	3,309,727.38	1,433,415.24	2,913,605.44
Totals		$6,326,639.09		$5,863,819.27

Special Game Permits

The sale of special game permits was progressively upward throughout this period. The numbers issued and fees received are indicated below:

	Number of Permits Issued	Fees Collected
Fiscal year ended May 31, 1939	1192	$14,234.00
Fiscal year ended May 31, 1940	1230	14,319.00
Fiscal year ended May 31, 1941	1277	14,200.00
Fiscal year ended May 31, 1942	1302	14,919.00

Contributions From Federal Government

During the year ended May 31, 1939 the Pittman-Robertson Federal Aid in Wildlife Restoration Act came into existence. Through the provisions of the Act, allocations are made to the various States on the basis of:

(a) The ratio which the hunters' license sale in Pennvania bears to the licenses sold in the United States during the previous year.

(b) The ratio of square miles in Pennsylvania in relation to the number of square miles in the United States.

Pennsylvania's apportionment of these funds during this Administration amounted to $379,075.04. Under the terms of the Act the Federal Government pays 75% and the State 25% of the cost of approved projects. The Commission received such appropriations as follows:

Fiscal year ended May 31, 1939	$ 916.67
Fiscal year ended May 31, 1940	33,908.07
Fiscal year ended May 31, 1941	81,124.77
Fiscal year ended May 31, 1942	167,472.73
Total	$283,422.24

The major portion of the unexpended balance of $95,652.80 has been committed for which the Game Commission will be reimbursed by the Federal Government upon completion of the various projects.

License Tag Savings

During the first three years of this Administration better planning in production operations made it possible to effect savings in the manufacture of hunters' license tags of more than $2500 annually.

During 1942, in an effort to aid the National Defense Program, an entirely new type of hunter's license tag was devised, and vulcanized fibre was used instead of enameled tin plate. This change enabled the Commonwealth to save more than ten (10) tons of tin plate for the war effort, and to effect a saving in the cost of manufacturing the tags of more than $12,000 of the hunters' license money. The production of both the 1942 hunters' licenses and tags in the same printing plant also made possible other economies, and expedited the delivery of licenses to all agents at a considerably earlier date than heretofore. The latter pleased the thousands of hunters and the license selling agents greatly. Not one single objection has been received to the new fibre hunting tag.

Better Law Observance

In spite of the fact that during the present Administration the number of hunters' licenses issued has steadily increased, public respect for the Game Laws, as evidenced by the number of prosecutions, has improved decidedly. During the past four fiscal years the annual prosecutions and penalties collected were as follows:

Fiscal Year	Number of Prosecutions	Penalties Collected
1938-39	5,119	$87,343.48
1939-40	4,370	72,137.42
1940-41	3,972	69,812.68
1941-42	3,534	57,883.21

Bounties Paid

During the period from January 1, 1939 to October 31, 1942, 57,624 bounty claims were examined and required the expenditure of $229,789.50. The payments consisted of the following items:

Species	Number	Amount
Weasels	103,435	$ 51,732.50
Gray Foxes	32,956	131,824.00
Red Foxes	11,199	44,796.00
Goshawks	161	310.00
Great Horned Owls	608	1,127.00
Totals	148,389	$229,789.50

Respectfully submitted.

SETH GORDON, Executive Director.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
BOARD OF FISH COMMISSIONERS

Harrisburg, November 16, 1942.

Dear Governor James:

I respectfully submit for your consideration the following information, which I believe will be of interest to you and the fishermen in general throughout the Commonwealth:

(a) The Board of Fish Commissioners believes that the accomplishments during your Administration indicate more decided advancement in its many endeavors than in any similar period in its history. The one accomplishment which should merit inclusion in the general Message is the change in hatching and progagation methods, which has made it possible to distribute not only trout of catchable size but also bass, catfish, sunfish and yellow perch.

(b) At the present time I know of no legislation which should be included in your Message. Of course there are many minor amendments which concern the fishermen, but they consist mostly of amendments to the present Fish Code which are of no major importance.

(c) Briefly, the outstanding accomplishments for the benefits of the anglers are as follows:

Increasing the Food Supply

In accordance with an executive order signed by the President on July 21, 1942, the various states were requested to cooperate in a conservation program by giving advice which would assist the Fish and Wildlife Service of the Department of the Interior in working up a program of production, potential yields and supplies, and regional fishery problems. This Board is cooperating to the fullest extent in supplying all information requested and is doing everything in its power towards increasing the food supply not only through the commercial fishing out of the port of Erie but also by increasing the stocking of food fish for the rod and line fishermen.

Distribution

The following is the distribution of the principal species for 1941:

Species	Size	Numbers
Brook, Brown and Rainbow Trout	6 " to 19 "	1,634,101
Black Bass	1 " to 14 "	570,682
Bream	2 " to 8 "	250,037
Catfish	3 " to 11½"	584,631
Pike Perch	13 " to 24 "	2,690
Yellow Perch	2¾" to 8 "	165,091
Minnows	3 " to 6 "	98,370
Pickerel	6 " to 20 "	3,317
Suckers	3 " to 18 "	180,595
Frog Embryo	.....	166,050
Miscellaneous	.....	153,874

In addition the Board distributed 1,432,265 Trout Fingerlings; 12,170,000 Pike Perch, 65,000,000 Yellow Perch, and 16,650,000 Cisco, all in the fry state.

Changed Fish Culture Methods

Radical changes have been made from the old system of propagating catfish, sunfish, yellow perch, and bass. Under the new system, the raising of these fish is being done in narrow troughs in our hatching buildings, also in baskets which are placed in various lakes and ponds under the control of the Board. This method has revolutionized the work, and we will now be able to raise great numbers of these fish in a very limited space.

Refrigeration Buildings

In 1940 two modern refrigeration buildings, located at Bellefonte and Huntsdale, were constructed and put into use. They have a maximum storage capacity of ninety tons, and will mean an annual saving of approximately 35,000 miles in truckage.

Pymatuning Sanctuary

Development of a natural fish hatchery is well under way in the refuge area of Pymatuning Reservoir. This will be the largest natural hatchery of its kind, and from data acquired over the past two years, we believe it will be possible to harvest a crop of fish which will exceed the output of any of our hatcheries. This development will not interfere in any way with its original purpose as a wild life sanctuary.

Wire Nursery Batteries

Last year the growing of bass and other warm water fish in wire nursery batteries was brought beyond the experimental stage and placed in general hatchery use. This year this equipment was installed and used successfully at Pleasant Mount Fish Farm, Bellefonte Fish Farm, Union City Fish Farm, Pymatuning Fish Farm, and Reynoldsdale Fish Farm.

Portable Tanks

One hundred and nine steel tanks and supply troughs were constructed and put in use. These units are portable fish hatcheries and can be set up wherever suitable water supply is available. They are designed primarily for the growing of bass, but units used at Pleasant Mount and Bellefonte for bass work are now in use at Huntsdale and Reynoldsdale for trout culture. These tanks are similar to those used in hatchery buildings but are designed for out-of-door use. The chief advantages of growing bass in tanks and wire nursery batteries are: (1) Cannibalism can be reduced to almost a minimum as the bass can be sorted at frequent intervals; (2) The bass are always under the observation of attendants, and certain external diseases which formerly took a heavy toll can now be controled; (3) Better sanitary methods can be practiced; (4) The fish can be fed with little waste, not only artificial food but also with Daphnia; (5) Labor costs are reduced; (6) Ponds formerly used for the rearing of small bass can be used for the growing of fish to a larger size.

Tank Trucks

Tank trucks have proved such a tremendous success that the Board has constructed an additional eleven which are now in use. In comparison, it is well to state that in 1936 when pails and cans were in use, the Board stocked approximately 129 tons of fish, requiring a truck mileage of 454,461 miles, while in 1940 there were approximately 342 tons planted, with a truck mileage of only 437,081 miles.

Refrigeration Van Type Truck

This is an insulated truck capable of carrying ten tons of fish food for the various hatcheries. This truck has saved the Board a considerable amount of mileage, as one trip is equal to two trips of the old style. During the last year 849 tons of various kinds of food were fed at the hatcheries—this item is increasing yearly.

Bass Stocking in Lakes

Bass are now being stocked in the lakes of the state. A survey over a two-year period has proven to the Board that lakes having an area of forty acres or more which are open to the public for fishing and now contain bass should be stocked with this species.

Stocking of Larger Fish

With the present day demand put on the rivers, lakes, and ponds by the anglers, the stocking with fingerling fish will not suffice. In place of stocking large numbers of fingerling or fry of yellow perch, catfish, bream, etc., these species are held at the hatcheries until they nearly approach sexual maturity, then they are planted. In other words, most of the fish planted in the warm water areas of the State are of takable size. The number of pounds of fish stocked has increased from 202 tons in 1937 to 433 tons in 1941.

Daphnia

Modern facilities for the growing of Daphnia have been or are being installed at all of the hatcheries where warm water fish are grown. The installation of this modern equipment has led to the inauguration of a program for planting Daphnia in every lake that is stocked with bass.

Additional Fishing Waters

During the last biennium 598 acres of water and 107 miles of stream were opened to the public in addition to those waters which had always been fishable. The Board also purchased Big Springs, located at Springfield, Cumberland County. This now belongs to the fishermen of Pennsylvania and will always be open to the public.

Uniforms for Enforcement Officers

Every regular warden has been supplied with two uniforms, and in our opinion their appearance will equal that of any other conservation group in the country. They are also being furnished with other necessary equipment.

Research

Our outdoor research laboratory is almost compete and will be ready to be put in operation this year. At this plant we expect to experiment with raising of crayfish, many species of minnows, and various kinds of aquatic life, with the thought of eventually stocking not only fish but food for them to live on.

In closing, we wish to thank you for the fine cooperation you have given the Board and for your approval of the necessary expenditures and authorization for the purchase of land, etc., which made all this possible.

Respectfully yours,

C. A. FRENCH, Commissioner of Fisheries.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

PENNSYLVANIA PUBLIC UTILITY COMMISSION

Harrisburg, December 10, 1942.

My dear Governor:

I am submitting a report of the more important achievements of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission from January 19, 1939 to December 10, 1942.

I particularly invite your attention to the sentence of the last paragraph which reads: "A very important factor contributing to all of these accomplishments has been the restoration of confidence in the fundamental fairness of the Commission to every party coming before it." The obstacles we faced at the outset made this the most difficult objective to attain. That we have attained it is due in large measure to the recognition by this Administration that the largest single industry in the Commonwealth must be regulated upon a business-like basis, and that failure to do so ultimately injuries all the people.

The Public Utility Commission was controlled by a majority of appointees of the preceding administration until May 29, 1940, when, by the first appointment ever to be made through promotion from the staff, the control changed hands. Nevertheless, immediately upon assuming office, this Administration, through its power to regulate the budget, induced the Commission to curtail its expenditures, which had risen from $52,290 for the month of May, 1937, to $171,916 in the month of January, 1939. The effect of our action can be observed in the following table of employes from the beginning of the Administration to June of 1939, when the first appropriation approved by it became effective:

Month-1939	Number of Employes
January	777
February	520
March	486
April	478
May	470
June	355

From that month onward, the Commission has continued to function with an average of 335 employes, and at an average monthly expenditure of less than $75,000, without the curtailment or even diminution of a single activity.

No better evidence of this statement can be produced than the figures as to rates, the regulation of which is the primary reason for the Commission's existence. Since January 15, 1939, rate reductions representing $17,444,000 of savings to consumers per year have been effected, based upon usage at the time of reduction, and by reason of greater usage at present, this figure would be substantially increased. It may be noted in passing that of these reductions, $5,225,000 were secured in the seventeen months prior to June 1, 1940, while $12,219,000, well over twice as much, were obtained in the thirty months following appointment of a majority to the Commission by this Administration. The largest single rate reduction ever made by any utility in Pennsylvania, over $4,000,000 annually, resulted from an investigation begun in the latter period, providing benefits to over 688,000 users of electricity in the Philadelphia area. A reduction of $1,724,000 annually was also obtained for the consumers of electrical energy in Allegheny County, and corresponding reductions have been applied in both rural and urban areas of the Commonwealth.

Aside from cases reducing existing rates, the Commission has been watchful of proposals for increases, and in all such instances where the increases were not justified upon their faces, inquiries to determine fairness have been instituted. Such an inquiry, for instance, recently prevented increased fares to the railway and bus riders in Philadelphia.

Other activities auxiliary to rate control are being conducted currently, the benefits from which will appear in future years. Property costs, an essential ingredient in rate determination, are being studied as to 67 electric utilities with plant book values of well over one billion dollars.

One of the most difficult problems, inherited from the previous administration, was that of bringing order to the motor carrier industry represented by 17,000 separate operators. The present Commission has made material progress in this direction by instituting minimum rates to eliminate cut-throat competition, redesigning its own procdeure to speed up the disposal of petitions filed with it, and cooperating with enforcement bodies established by the carriers themselves.

The Commission's activities in the national war effort began with its sponsorship of the organization of a committee representing all types of utilities, the purposes of which are to coordinate utility defense activities, disseminate information among the membership, and represent the utility industry on defense problems before the Commission and other public bodies.

The Commission has assisted in the effort to re-schedule the operations of mass-transportation companies, so that the greatly increased passenger load may be carried in the face of scarcity of new equipment. It has induced the opening of new bus routes for the service of war workers in recently-constructed defense plants. It has made such changes in truck operators' rights as will speed the carriage of essential materials, with a minimum of usage of gasoline and rubber.

The Commission has used its good offices in expediting the connection of new defense plants to the lines of public utilities. It has determined what power capacities are available in various sections of the Commonwealth, and the information thus gathered has been invaluable to the Federal Government in deciding upon where new defense industries may be located to receive an adequate supply of electrical energy.

Aside from these general classifications, there are many daily occurrences in which the Commission can and does help the war effort. Recently it facilitated provision for the transportation by railroad of coal from new sources for an existing power plant. It has collaborated with utilities in saving rubber incident to monthly meter readings, has revised meter testing requirements to conserve vital materials, and has revised its general policy as to line extensions so that copper, already scarce, will be diverted into strictly war operations.

A very important factor contributing to all of these accomplishments has been the restoration of confidence in the fundamental fairness of the Commission to every party coming before it. Such a course has made it possible to secure substantial benefits to the public, in the place of empty law suits.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN SIGGINS, JR., Chairman.

PENNSYLVANIA LIQUOR CONTROL BOARD

Harrisburg, Pa., December 10, 1942

Dear Governor James:

I am enclosing herewith a report of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board during your administration. It is accompanied with a financial statement for the period from January 1, 1939, to October 24, 1942.

We have made no suggestions concerning legislation, although we have called attention to the apparent diversity of opinion among judges in the various counties as to whether or not clubs are within the quota law, which suggests ambiguity in that statute.

Hotels as defined in the quota law are exempted and here the law would be strengthened if where a new hotel license is requested in municipalities where the quota is exceeded, it were required that "necessity be proven" as under the old Brooks High License law. Hotel licenses are sought now where restaurant licenses are unavailable because of the quota.

Some form of limitation on transfers of licenses would undoubtedly be conducive to a reduction of the number of licenses to a figure closer to the quota prescribed by the law but any effort to bring about such legislation would probably meet with considerable opposition.

Our legal staff has suggested that the right of appeal from lower court decisions, now denied under a decision of the Superior Court interpreting the present law, would be desirable.

However, it would probably thrust these matters into controversy if raised, except perhaps the question of the right of appeal, and it might be better to meet conditions when the Legislature is actually in session, as there will then undoubtedly be a multiplicity of bills offered by various legislators.

The liquor problem has been a matter of controversy throughout recorded time. There is no surcease of discussion in the present day but competent observers agree that the Pennsylvania system of liquor control stands in the forefront among the systems in force in the United States. Under your administration it has been an outstanding success in a comparatively new field of State government.

Under the Liquor Control law, the Board performs three major functions. It operates a State-wide system of stores, numbering 579 at present, selling liquor and wine at retail and at wholesale. It licenses qualified individuals, firms and corporations to manufacture, transport and sell liquor and malt and brewed beverages. It enforces the laws and regulations governing traffic in alcoholic beverages in this Commonwealth.

The State Store System embraces a business with annual sales exceeding $100,000,000. Approximately 43,000 licenses and permits of all classes are issued and controlled. Enforcement involves policing the alcoholic beverage industry throughout the Commonwealth.

The Northwest Office Building was completed and occupied on April 17, 1940, bringing under one roof all central administrative offices of the Board.

The various operating bureaus early in your administration were realigned bringing about greater efficiency and economy in administration and operation.

On July 7, 1939, at your suggestion the Chairman of the Liquor Control Board called a meeting in Harrisburg of all distillers and vintners selling their products to the State. You told these men:

> "I have taken politics out of liquor in Pennsylvania. I want you to keep liquor out of politics. You have no reason to seek influence or use other means to have your products purchased or to seek means other than legitimate ones of having the public purchase the product.
> "If there ever be the slightest indication of political favoritism or discrimination in the purchase or the retailing of liquor and wines I want you to know that my door is wide open to hear any complaint."

This pledge to keep politics out of liquor affairs has been faithfully kept by the Board. The present Board consists of W. Worrell Wagner and Frederick T. Gelder, Chairman. Former members of the Board during your administration have been Twing Brooks and Dean W. H. Hitchler, resigned and Honorable William S. Rial, deceased.

State Store System

The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board has purchased from distillers and vintners during your administration liquors and wines costing more than $251,000,000 without charge of political favoritism, discrimination, or graft.

During the same period, the Board has operated 579 State Stores with a retail and wholesale business of virtually $351,000,000. No liquor or wine company was discriminated against or favored in the sale of this merchandise to the public or to licensees. Each company's goods are stocked according to previous sales records. Purchases are made entirely on the basis of public demand.

Profits and emergency taxes derived from the operation of the State Store System, turned over to the Treasury of the Commonwealth, have eased other forms of tax burden. Since January 1, 1939 and up to October 24, 1942, these profits and taxes from the operation of the State Store System have totaled more than $109,000,000 or approximately 6% of the total revenues of the State.

There has been no attempt to "promote" the sale of liquors and wines by the Board. It has assumed a "ready to serve" attitude without sales promotion endeavor. Liquor displays have been removed from the windows of State Stores.

A quantitative check of liquor and wines was instituted to insure full measure, in addition to more frequent qualitative analysis to insure purity of State Store merchandise.

The Mark-up of State Store merchandise was reduced from 60 per cent on cordials and vermouths, from 55 per cent on whiskies and gins and from 50 per cent on wines to 43 per cent on wines and vermouths and 48 per cent for all other types of merchandise on October 1, 1941 to obviate profit on new Federal taxes imposed on that date.

The allocation of $5,000,000 of working capital to the Liquor Control Board, beginning in 1939, enabled the Board to discount bills. During the calendar year of 1941 alone, the Board realized almost a million dollars in discounts on purchases.

Licensing

The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board recognizes as a most important responsibility the social aspects involved in the sale of alcoholic beverages to the citizens of this Commonwealth. This responsibility is concerned with the number, the character and the behaviour of establishments licensed to sell liquor, wine, or beer by the glass as these are naturally public places of meeting, recreation, eating, and drinking frequented by many people.

The so-called Quota Law, restricting new licenses to the issuance of one license for each 1000 of population, was approved and signed by you on June 24, 1939. This bill was a most important and socially beneficial piece of legislation.

Before the Quota Law was enacted there was a steadily increasing number of licenses. If the applicant for a license was apparently of good repute; if the establishment met the physical requirements prescribed by the law and was not within 300 feet of a church, hospital, charitable institution, school, or public playground, and the required fee was paid, the Liquor Control Board was compelled to issue the license. This led to a great excess of licenses.

The Quota Law immediately stopped the unlimited issuance of licenses. Instead of having to issue licenses without restraint as to number the Board was enabled to refuse licenses except in those places where the quota had not been exhausted. The number of retail licenses has been reduced more than 1000 since the effective date of the Quota Law.

Hotels are, however, excepted from the Quota Law and there appears to be a diversity of opinion among the judges of the respective counties of the Commonwealth as to whether or not clubs are included within the prohibition in said act. The Board pursuant to an opinion of the Department of Justice that clubs are within the prohibition has consistently refused to grant new club licenses in municipalities wherein the limitation is exceeded.

This Board under your administration has interpreted the law as giving it the power to consider remonstrances of parties affected in licensing matters, and such remonstrances have entered into the consideration for final determination of each case.

Enforcement

The sustained and vigorous enforcement of the liquor laws has been a constant objective of the Board. Recently an increase in the number of enforcement officers was requested by this Board and granted by your administration. There are now 215 such officers policing 20,000 licensed places, a higher proportion of enforcement men to licensed places than exists in any other State in the Union.

Seven hundred and forty-five illicit stills have been seized and destroyed. Bootlegging has been virtually eliminated. For violations of the liquor laws 11,000 arrests have been made and 269 motor vehicles confiscated for illegal transportation.

Citations against licensees have resulted in more than 5000 public hearings—an approximate ratio of one citation to every four licenses in effect. More than 400 licenses have been revoked and nearly 3500 licenses suspended for an average period of 28 days. Enforcement officers submitted written reports on 163,673 investigations. Recently the Board has been refusing in the more habitual and serious violation cases to accept cash compromises from licensees in lieu of serving suspension.

The Board seeks the cooperation of the local police authorities in enforcing the liquor laws.

It should be recognized by the citizens of every municipality, large or small, in this Commonwealth that each police department thereof is responsible for the enforcement of the liquor laws as well as the other laws of the Commonwealth.

Moreover, all retail license fees are returned, in accordance with law, to the municipalities in which the licensed places are located. These revenues run from $1,662,000 a year paid to the City of Philadelphia to $100 a year paid to the smallest township, and totaled approximately $22,250,000 during your administration.

The Liquor Control Board made an exhaustive study of the causes of the 465 local option elections held in Pennsylvania in September, 1939. This study revealed that the behavior of one or more, usually a few, licensees—generally in a small community—was generally the reason for local option elections. While in 1939 there had been 465 local option elections, in 1941 there were but 90 such elections. It must be remembered, however, that municipalities can vote only at intervals of four years so those places voting in 1939 cannot again vote until 1943.

Civil Service

The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board has adhered to the Civil Service laws. Promotions have been made on merit. There has been a continuous study of organization and personnel problems.

Salaries of employees were adjusted to conform to their duties and responsibilities as required by the Administrative Code.

Liquor Store clerks were given three annual increments of $60.00 each from a minimum annual salary of $1200, thus increasing their salaries, after three years' service, to a $1380 maximum whereupon this compensation bracket was raised on October 16, 1942 to a minimum of $1380 and a maximum of $1584 in accordance with blanket increases of 15% granted by the Administration to State employes then earning up to $3000 a year.

A new method of classification for State Stores, was recommended by the Liquor Control Board and adopted by the Executive Board resulting in more equitable compensation to a considerable number of managers and chief clerks.

The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board had in its employ on October 31, 1942, 3,421 persons with an annual payroll of $5,890,712. On January 1, 1939, there were 3,400 employes with an annual payroll of $5,073,537.

All employees attached to the Board are under Civil Service with the exception of the members of the Board, the Secretary of the Board and the Examiners and the Deputy Attorneys General assigned to the Board.

Emergency Problems

The World War has thrust unusual problems upon the Board. These problems are especially serious in the larger cities and near army bases where there are many uniformed men on furlough, and civilian war workers—many away from their home enviroments with greatly increased wages in their pockets.

These problems have been met as affectively as possible. The Board acknowledges with appreciation a growing cooperation on the part of the police departments, the district attorneys and the courts in many parts of the Commonwealth. The commanding officers of Army camps have greatly aided in the solution of the problems of enforcement by the vigilance of the military police.

It should be noted that these problems are created by a small minority of soldiers on leave, defense workers and licensed places. The great majority of our men on leave and our citizenry create no problem. They are like most Americans, law-abiding and moderate in their recreations.

A recent problem arising has been to provide stocks of liquor to meet the public demand. The present shortage has been caused principally by rationing on the part of the distillers, who have ceased to manufacture alcoholic beverages and converted their plants to war production. Aggravating this shortage has been the unprecedented purchases by the public to escape increased Federal taxes effective November 1, and the desire of many to provide a reserve of liquor in anticipation of a more serious shortage.

The Board has seen the enlistment or induction of 675 of its personnel as of November 23, into the Armed Forces. Requests from these employees for Benefits to Dependents have been promptly investigated and acted upon in accordance with law. This loss of personnel to the Armed Forces, together with the loss to defense industries and private industries and, coupled with the inability to obtain sufficient replacements has increased operating problems.

Many employees have enrolled in the Citizens Defense Corps as air raid wardens, fire wardens or nurses aides. The Board is cooperating with the State Council of Defense by giving virtually full time services of some of its employees, to carry on important functions for this State organization.

In the face of unusual difficulties, the Board is making every effort to perform efficiently its public service and to exercise proper control.

Summary

To summarize, the highlights of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board's activities during your administration, were:

The reorganization of personnel for greater efficiency and economy of operation, and the honest administration of the civil service system.

The purchase of liquor and wines costing more than $251,000,000 without political consideration.

The sale of $351,000,000 worth of liquor and wines at retail and wholesale without favoritism or sales promotion on the part of the Board.

The providing of more than $109,000,000 in taxes and profit needed for welfare and relief purposes by the Commonwealth, to the alleviation of other forms of taxes, in addition to the return to municipalities of $22,250,000 representing retail license fees collected from the licensees.

The operation of the State Store System with a reasonable inventory, maintained and distributed solely on the basis of consumer demand, and without discrimination or promotional activity.

The enforcement of the liquor laws, rules and regulations impartially and without political interference, fear, or favor.

And, as a collateral achievement during your administration the enactment of the Quota Law which placed a ceiling on the number of licensed outlets in any locality and permits the Board gradually to reduce and immediately to control the number of retail licensed establishments.

Sincerely yours,

FREDERICK T. GELDER, Chairman.

MILK CONTROL COMMISSION

December 29, 1942.

Dear Governor James:

I am making herewith the report on the work of the Milk Control Commission during your administration. There is, of course, a great deal of detailed information that could be furnished. I have only tried to cover the most important items. I had delayed my report hoping to have time to make more complete analyses as to what had taken place in the various market areas. The pressure for preparing material for price hearings, necessary in connection with price orders to meet present conditions, has been so great that we have not been able to make the summarization of various markets, therefore, with the exception of the Pittsburgh market, we speak in general terms more than I like.

It seems to me that the heart of the problem and the results of our work is reflected in the fact that more milk has been produced each year throughout the State and more milk has been consumed each year throughout the State, indicating that the price was sufficient to encourage production and not so high as to discourage consumption.

We do not believe there is any item of legislation necessary if regulation is to be continued along the present lines. There are places where modifications could be made, but not of sufficient weight to call for your mention.

We have cooperated with the State War Production Board in studies as to the sources of milk supply and manufacturing facilities for handling these. Probably the most basic war contribution is the fact that we have maintained a stable, orderly market which had brought production to a record high in the middle of 1942, consequently, when the war need arose, this increased production was available as a backlog for war needs as well as to supply our local needs.

The legislature has entrusted to the Milk Control Commission the responsibility for so regulating the milk industry of Pennsylvania as to assure the public an adequate supply of pure and wholesome milk. In doing this, the Commission is required to fix the minimum price to the producers and to consumers after "considering all conditions," this price to be such as to return the reasonably efficient producer and distributor costs plus a reasonable return.

The price fixed for milk has a major influence in determining the amount produced and consumed. The cost of production and distribution varies widely with the efficiency of producers and distributors while the purchasing of the consumers also covers a wide range. After receiving testimony and assembling all statistics available, the price fixed still represents, to a large degree, the judgment of the Commission after considering all conditions. The price is fixed looking to the future; what it does accomplish can only be determined by the resuts. Records show that during the past four years more milk has been produced each year than any succeeding year. Likewise more fluid milk has been consumed every year. Up to the middle of the year 1942, milk production and milk consumption, were both at a record high for Pennsylvania. While there has been some reduction in the number of milk distributors, the number of outright dealers dropping from 886 in 1940-1941 to 752 in 1942-1943; there is still ample distribution service to meet the public's needs.

The difficulty and complexity of the responsibility placed upon the Milk Control Commission is very great indeed. Milk is a product of high perishability. It must be collected and processed daily. There are approximately 50,000 farms that receive 40% or more of their revenue from dairy products. This milk is moved to the consumers through the following channels: For the license year 1942-1943, 1,905 producer-distributors, who process their milk on the farm and deliver to the consumers; there are 189 producer dealers who produce part of their milk and purchase the balance and distribute to consumers; 752 outright dealers who purchase all their milk, process daily and distribute to the consumers. There are 428 subdealers who do not process but have distribution routes they serve with some other dealer's milk. There are 60 manufacturers who receive milk daily and manufacture into such products as evaporated milk, ice cream, milk chocolate, butter, cheese, and other manufactured dairy products. There are 41 other dealers who do not buy direct from producers but from other dealers and who may either manufacture or distribute direct to the consumer. Through these channels the production of the 50,000 farms goes daily for processing and moves on to Pennsylvania's consuming population of approximately ten million.

A further difficulty is the fact that milk is made up of a number of vital food elements, particularly fats, mineral elements and vitamins. These give rise to the use of milk in different products. The Milk Control Commission has little power to regulate prices of the manufactured products, which fluctuate on a national basis, but does have control over the price of fluid milk. During the year 1940, only about 50% of the milk sold off the farm was used as fluid milk (Class 1). Approximately 25% was used for ice cream, the balance being used in such products as milk chocoate, evaporated milk, cheese and butter.

The supply of milk coming from the farm is not uniform as to quantity. The May and June production is commonly 35%, and as much as 50%, in some markets, greater than during November and December. It also varies as to butterfat content ranging from 3% to 5% or more, chiefly based on different breeds of dairy cattle.

These conditions of production and distribution and the food composition of the milk would be in effect and have their influence on the production, distribution and consumption of milk whether there were any regulatory agency or not.

We have endeavored to administer the Act so as to permit as free a play of supply and demand as possible and not to interfere with the producer or dealer any more than absolutely necessary. We have followed a policy that permitted the producer to produce as much milk as he desired under whatever conditions he found most advantageous and to sell it to whomever he preferred. We have not attempted to restrict production; in fact, we have attempted to maintain or encourage production. We have not attempted to say who should distribute the milk. In many markets, these distributors are local firms financed by local capital. With changing economic conditions, there is a change in the number of dealers. In the 1940-1941 license period, these reached a maximum of 4,337. For the present period, they number 3,375.

Records of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture show that the number of cows two years old or over, kept for milking was 896,000 January 1, 1939 and 897,000 January 1, 1942, practically a constant figure. Due to severe dislocations occurring from war conditions, particularly labor shortage on the farm, and the inability of the Milk Control Commission to increase prices in the early fall of 1942 because of price ceilings in effect, there will be a reduction in the number of cows as of January 1, 1943. The Commission is completing the holding of hearings throughout the State, is issuing price orders and petitioning the Office of Price Administration to lift the ceilings in an effort to maintain or increase milk production. The supply would be ample for normal home needs but war needs for export is creating a shortage of dairy products throughout the entire United States. Pennsylvania's supply has held up better than many production areas.

Based upon requests of local parties at interest, the State has been divided into sixteen marketing areas for price order purposes. Before issuing a price order, a public hearing is held in the market area where all interested parties are encouraged to present testimony. This is carefully reviewed, a tentative order prepared and interested parties invited to appear before the Attorney General to consider the tentative order, and express their approval or disapproval. After this has been held and meritorious changes have been made, and upon hearing by the Attorney General for approval, the order is submitted to the Governor and after his signature becomes effective within a minimum period of six days. This provision for an opportunity to study the tentative order and meet in conference before the Attorney General is a new step not specifically provided for in law but initiated under this administration and one which has met with general approval.

The Commission has held eighty-three hearings throughout these market areas, of which seventy-five were general price order hearings. The holding of such a number of hearings leads some to assume that the regulation is not functioning properly. Actually, we believe the holding of these hearings and writing orders which reflect changing conditions on the part of production costs, distribution costs, and consuming purchasing power constitute evidence of the adaptability and workability of the regulatory procedure. The past two years, particularly have been a constant increase in labor costs on the farm and for the distributor. Equipment and materials have increased in cost, feeds have increased, the consumers' purchasing power, particularly as reflected by the average weekly factory wages, have been increasing. The orders as written have taken into account these changing conditions.

As a condition of securing their license, dealers are required to file an annual financial statement. This is so drafted that it is possible to analyze the dealer's operating costs and returns on his investment and on the sales dollar. The analysis of these financial reports involves a tremendous amount of research in the way of statistical and tabulating analyses of these reports. The Commission has enlarged the Research Bureau for doing this work and has compiled basic statistical records to a degree never before accomplished under milk regulation. These analyses, together with material submitted by dealers, have constituted the major information on which dealers' margins were determined.

Special studies on producer costs have been made by the Pennsylvania State College in which the unit amount of labor, feed and other items entering into the production of one hundred pounds of milk were determined. As the costs of these unit items change, adjustments can be made with a substantial degree of accuracy as to producer costs. This is supplemented by testimony of individual producers or groups of producers as to their production costs.

Price increases have been put into effect to both producers and consumers. In doing this, some increase in operating costs has been allowed distributors but the larger portion of the increase has been passed on to the producer with the result that the greater portion of the consumers' dollar has gone to the producer. The orders price milk on a basis of the use to which it is put. Due to the many uses of milk, as already indicated, and the fact that each use carries a different price value, there is criticism among producers over the complicated nature of the price orders, the resulting blend price being a combination price for fluid and manufactured milk. This is a condition existing before milk regulation and is true in practically all markets throughout the United States. If all the milk produced were used in fluid form, a simple flat price of so much per quart or hundredweight could be established.

In the Pittsburgh Market for forty-three dealers, purchasing the majority of the milk in the market, production increased from 411,000,000 lbs. in 1939 to 469,000,000 lbs. in 1942, approximately a 14% increase. The blend price increased from $1.89 per hundredweight to $2.76, an increase of 46%. The consumer price per quart for Grade B increased from an average of 11½c in 1939 to 14c in 1942 or an increase of 21% compared to an increase in the blend price of 46%. Combining the two factors of a 14% increased production with an increased blend price of 46%, the gross amount paid the 6,996 producers in 1939 was $7,754,000 compared with $12,931,000 in 1942 or a gross increase to producers of over $5,000,000 or 66%. (The figures for 1942 are estimated in part.) The consumption of Class I milk (the fluid milk) increased from 204,000,000 lbs. in 1939 to 239,000,000 lbs. in 1941, or approximately 17%. The figures for 1942 will show a further increase of about 8%. The cost of this milk to the consumer in relation to the average weekly factory wage on a basis of the number of weeks' work required to purchase 365 quarts of milk or one quart daily for a year, is as follows; 1939, 1.68 weeks with milk averaging 12.67c per quart; 1940, 1.52 weeks with milk at 12.37c; 1941, 1.36 weeks with milk at 13.38c; and in August, 1942, 1.24 weeks with milk at 14c.

The figures for other market areas of the State will not be identical but they will all show an increase in production, an increase in consumption and a percentage price increase to producers substantially more than the percentage increase to the consumer and the gross increase to the producer increasing still more.

A price order having become effective, it must then be enforced. Under a system of pricing milk on a utilization basis, there is an inducement to an unscrupulous dealer to attempt to classify his milk in uses carrying the low price to the producer as compared to the higher Class I price. To assure proper payment, dealers' records must be audited to make sure that they have paid on the correct utilization. The great majority of the dealers do pay the right price. A regular and thorough audit is a protection to the honest, reliable dealer because it protects him from the competition of the unscrupulous one and it is a protection to the producer that he will be paid the correct price.

A more definite system of auditing has been established and a basis of carrying on the work laid out, whereby all dealers are audited once or more throughout the year. The auditing force available has not enabled us to audit all dealers as often as should be done for best results. The number of dealers audited and the number of times the audits were made throughout the year have both been greatly increased, in fact about doubled. During the year 1941, there were audits made covering 9,725 months of dealers operations.

Where an audit uncovers a delinquent payment or an underpayment, a conference is held with the dealer as a first step in arriving at a settlement. There were 139 cases settled by conferences during 1941. Where this proves unsuccessful, a citation then follows and a careful record is established with the transcript available in case there is an appeal to the court. Careful records are maintained of all audits made throughout the State. There were 189 citations authorized in the year 1941. Compliance has become progressively better each year until, at the present time, a very limited number of underpayments are found. With changing conditions, some dealers' operations are less stable and there is more danger of delinquency occurring and the necessity of following such conditions up to determine whether claim should be made on the bond.

As a condition of being licensed, dealers are required to furnish bonds to the value of the largest month's purchase of milk for the previous year. At the present time, there are 1,401 bonds in effect, totalling $5,786,976. Over a period of a year, these would serve as a protection to producers on approximately $60,000,000 worth of milk.

The Milk Control Commission is also required to enforce the provisions covering the licensing of milk testers, weighers and samplers and the granting of milk dealer's weighing permits. For 1942, 3,376 of these have been issued. In addition, six dairy agents are employed who spent the greater portion of their time checking on plants to see that they have the proper equipment for weighing, sampling and testing milk; that they sample and maintain samples properly, run their tests correctly, and pay producers on such tests. Check tests are run on the dealers' composite samples, comparing them with the tests made by the dealers' tests. Since the butterfat test varies from day to day and since producers are paid a premium of 4c per point per hundredweight for butterfat above 3.5%, this check testing is a very important protection to producers and an assurance to the reliable dealer that his competitor is having to pay on the true butterfat tests.

During the present administration, a serious loop hole in our law was found to be the plan of dealers purchasing on consignment. This weakness was corrected by amending the Act. The Act was also amended requiring that the producer be given fifteen days' notice instead of seven days' notice before a dealer could discontinue taking his milk. The Act was also amended to provide that bonds offered as a condition of securing a license would become effective even though the license would not be granted. This is a decided improvement and further protection to the producer.

The price orders have maintained such a relation between the supply and demand for milk, that more milk has been produced each year and more fluid milk has been consumed each year, both very desirable results. Not only was an adequate supply of milk maintained for fluid needs but the increased production contributed to the manufactured dairy products and served as a backlog so that when war needs came into the picture, our cow population from which to produce milk, was at a high point, and our production was the greatest on record. The consumers have benefited by the fact that with large supplies of milk available, home needs can be met and still contribute more fully to war needs.

These conditions were true up until the fall of 1942. By that time, the effect of the war in seriously depleting farm help and increasing production costs, had so disorganized production that production began dropping below the corresponding months in the year 1941. One important step in correcting this, would have been a reasonable increase in the price of milk. The Commission could not accomplish this as prompty as called for by conditions, due to price ceilings having been established. But hearings have been held over the State and the Office of Price Administration has been petitioned to lift ceilings to permit reasonable price increases. If price increases are made and some means can be found to hold what labor is on the farm, possibly production may be held close to its present volume. Otherwise, there will be a continued decrease in production.

During the years 1939 and 1940, particularly, the volume of milk offered was so much in excess of fluid needs that without price regulation unquestionably there would have been disastrous price cutting and milk wars reflected in lower prices to producers, discouraging production and leaving us in an unfortunate position when the increased need for milk arose in 1941 and 1942. This was amply demonstrated in the case of the New York Market where in the spring of 1939 the Federal Milk Marketing Order of New York City was rendered inoperative for a few months under a court decision. Milk prices in northeastern Pennsylvania to producers shipping to that market went down to around $1.00 per hundredweight. Business practically came to a standstill for those who depended on dealing with farmers. A later court decision restored the market order in New York, prices were promptly placed on a stable basis and have continued in effect with the result that the further disorganization of that market has been avoided. No Pennsylvania market has gone through this same disastrous experience since the period of milk control. Markets have been stabilized—production increased and consumption increased.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN M. McKEE, Chairman.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
STATE CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION

Harrisburg, December 7, 1942.

Dear Governor James:

Act Number 286, August 5, 1941, the Civil Service Act, created the State Civil Service Commission.

The Act places three Departments of the State Government directly under its jurisdiction, namely, the Department of Public Assistance, the Liquor Control Board, and the Unemployment Compensation Division of the Department of Labor and Industry.

The facilities and services of the Commission are made available to other State Departments or agencies and political subdivisions of the Commonwealth. The Act is ministered by a Commission of three members and a Personnel Director who is its chief executive officer. The Personnel Director is selected by merit system through open competitive procedure.

The Act provides fundamentally for the administration of a "merit system" of competitive selection, promotion, furlough, and dismissal.

The Governor of the Commonwealth, Arthur H. James, appointed the three members:

Ruth Glenn Pennell, Mifflintown, Juniata County; John A. M. McCarthy, Philadelphia, Philadelphia County; Robert Hall Craig, Paxtang, Dauphin County.

On April 9, 1942 these appointments were confirmed by the Pennsylvania State Senate. On April 20, 1942 the Governor designated Robert Hall Craig to be Chairman of the Commission.

The Commission at this time occupies Temporary Building Number 3, in the State Capitol group, immediately in the rear of the Main Capitol Building.

The Commission is presently staffed with two employees, both provisional, an Advanced Stenographer-Secretary and a Principal Clerk. The Commission has under its jurisdiction two operating merit system agencies, the Employment Board of the Department of Public Assistance and the Board of Review of the Unemployment Compensation Division, Department of Labor and Industry. Either of these may be designated to act for the Commission as an examining agency during the interim of the selection of a Personnel Director.

Under the Act the immediate function of the Commission is the selection of a Personnel Director, through an examination process generally defined and limited within the Act itself. The Commission immediately devoted itself to this purpose. It retained the services of a nationally known expert, Doctor William E. Mosher, Dean of the Maxwell Graduate School of Citizenship and Public Affairs, Syracuse University, Syracuse, New York, to recommend and supervise the technical conduct of the examination procedure.

The Civil Service Act requires that the Personnel Director be a resident of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Recruiting was carried on extensively and thoroughly. Some 189 original applicants submitted qualifications. The examination process consisted of a rating of education and experience, a written examination to test knowledge, and an oral interview to test personal characteristics, which resulted in a final list of some 38 eligibles. Successful and experienced, professional and business men conducted the oral interviews. The entire program and process is being reviewed by a second independent expert. The selection will be made in the near future.

There has, in the meantime, fallen upon the Commission the obligation of conducting examinations for positions in the Liquor Control Board of the Commonwealth. This work was delegated by the Commission to one of the examining agencies under the Commission's jurisdiction, the Employment Board of the Department of Public Assistance. The work has been supervised by the Commission itself.

The Civil Service Act provides that services of the Commission are available to other State Departments, agencies, or political subdivisions. Under this clause of the Act the newly created Pennsylvania Board of Parole (Act Number 323 of August 6, 1941) requested the Commission to conduct an examination program placing all employees of that Board under the merit system. The Commission accepted this responsibility and again delegated this examination process to be conducted by the Employment Board of the Department of Public Assistance, under the direct supervision of the Commission itself.

Two other agencies of the State Government have within them a modified form of civil service, namely, the Department of Health and the Department of Welfare. The State Department of Health has requested the State Civil Service Commission to generally supervise and conduct its civil service program and the Commission is now taking steps to begin that program.

The Pennsylvania Department of Welfare has requested the Commission to supervise the installation of a merit system in its Rural Child Welfare Unit and this program will be undertaken.

Up to October 1, 1942 the Commission has conducted examinations as follows:

	No. of Persons Who Applied for Exams.	No. of Persons Who Took Exams.
Personnel Director	189	82
Liquor Control Board ..	4273	2907
Board of Parole	3108	2716

Because of the newness of this Agency it has no specific recommendations or suggestions to make at this time but is submitting this report merely as a formal record of what has been done to date.

Respectfully yours,

RUTH GLENN PENNELL,
JOHN A. M. McCARTHY,
ROBERT HALL CRAIG,
Commissioners.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

BOARD OF PAROLE

Harrisburg, December 28, 1942.

Dear Governor James:

Herewith is a report of the Pennsylvania Board of Parole:

On August 6, 1941, you signed an Act (No. 323) creating a "uniform and exclusive" system for the administration of parole in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The clear-cut purpose of this Act was to give to Pennsylvania a modern parole system that would function on a high plane of efficiency, separate and apart from all political considerations. The Act went into full effect on June 1, 1942.

The Act calls for a full-time paid Board of five members. To date, four members have been appointed: Doctor Louis N. Robinson, Swarthmore, Pennsylvania, Chairman; Doctor Mary B. Harris, Lewisburg, Pennsylvania; Doctor Dallas W. Armstrong, Newville, Pennsylvania; and Mr. John F. Haggerty, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania

Jurisdiction of the Board

The Act gives to the Parole Board complete jurisdiction over parole matters in seven State institutions—the Eastern State Penitentiary in Philadelphia and its branch at Graterford, the Western State Penitentiary in Pittsburgh and its branch at Rockview, the Pennsylvania Industrial Reformatory at Huntingdon, the Pennsylvania Industrial Reformatory at White Hill, and the Industrial Home for Women at Muncy. In addition, prisoners in County jails and in the Allegheny County Workhouse with sentences of two years maximum or more, are also made subject to the Parole Board with respect to release and supervision on parole.

The situation prior to the passage of the Act was as follows: The Boards of Inspectors of the Eastern and Western Penitentiaries heard applications for parole of those whose minimum sentences were about to expire. Applications on which these Boards acted favorably then went to the Pardon Board for their consideration and then to the Governor for his approval. Applications for release on parole from Huntingdon and Muncy were acted upon by the boards of these institutions. White Hill having no board submitted its applications for parole, with its recommendations, direct to the Department of Welfare.

Release on parole from the County jails had hitherto been in the hands of the committing judges who could release at any time regardless of the minimum sentence imposed. If a Judge, for example, sent a man to the penitentiary with a sentence of five to ten years, he could not be released until the end of the five-year period. If, however, the Judge sent the same man to the County jail with this same sentence, he could release him at any time.

The applications for parole from the seven state institutions and from the local prisons will now be made to the new Board of Parole which has full and final jurisdiction over them. There will be no prior hearings by institutional boards nor by judges and no review of the decisions of the Parole Board by the Pardon Board.

The Board of Parole has no authority to release anyone from the two state penitentiaries and their branches prior to the expiration of their minimum sentence. The same holds true of those in local prisons who are subject to the jurisdiction of the Board. Thus, those sent to the jails will be, henceforth, on exactly the same level as regards parole as those sent to the penitentiaries. Individuals sent to the three reformatories have no minimum sentences. Theoretically, therefore, the Board of Parole could release the inmates of these institutions at any time. But the reformatories have well developed training programs, and the Board of Parole has no intention of exercising its prerogative of release until these institutions have been given full opportunity to do their best for the individuals committed to their care. After full discussion with the superintendents of the three reformatories, the Board of Parole entered into an informal agreement with the three superintendents not to release on parole, prior to 18 months, anyone not recommended by the reformatory. It was also agreed that at the end of the 18-month period the institutions would bring all whom they had not recommended to the attention of the Board of Parole for action. This arrangement has been working well. It gives the institutions time to educate and train a boy or girl, and it also prevents holding individuals for long periods of time without full consideration of their cases.

The Board can parole on its own motion, or, in other words, it does not have to wait until the individual applies for release before considering whether it is advisable to release an individual.

The Board not only has the right to grant parole but also the right to revoke parole and to recommit to the institution where the man had served his sentence, if the individual parolee fails to abide by the conditions of his parole. It may then reparole him, if and when it sees fit.

Formerly, if a man committed a crime while on parole from the penitentiaries and was convicted in a Court of Record, in addition to the penalty for the new crime, he had to serve out the maximum period of his former sentence. In some cases this had meant very severe and needless punishment which could be relieved only by action of the Board of Pardons. The new Act does away with this situation, leaving to the Board of Parole the right to determine how long a man should stay in prison for this or for any other form of violation of the conditions of his parole.

Every application for parole must be acted upon within six months after it is presented to the Board of Parole. Each individual considered for parole must have been "seen and heard in person in regard thereto" by at least one member of the Board "within one year prior to the granting or dismissal" of his application. Our present plan is for a majority of the Board to go to the seven state institutions and to the two large county prisons, and for one or more members to visit the outlying jails which contain a few prisoners subject to our jurisdiction.

Supervision of Parolees

Prior to June 1, 1942 the supervision of men released from the penitentiaries and from the reformatories for men was administered by a Bureau of Parole, located in the Department of Justice, with a staff of 35 parole agents. The Industrial Home for Women at Muncy maintained one parole officer to supervise its parolees in central Pennsylvania but turned over the supervision of its parolees in Philadelphia to a matron in the Sheriff's office and in Allegheny County to a Probation Officer. Those paroled from the county prisons by the judges were supervised by local probation officers. For administrative purposes, the State had been divided into six districts with offices in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, Wilkes-Barre, Bellefonte, and Erie.

When the new Parole Board took over on June 1, 1942, the former Bureau of Parole had under its supervision 5,875 individuals, or an average of approximately 170 to each parole officer. This is an impossible case load for a parole officer to carry, even if he had nothing else to do. The parole officer was, however, required to make a check-up of jobs and sponsors of prisoners applying for release on parole. He was also required to make investigations for the Pardon Board of those in his territory who were applying for commutation of sentence. We have no figures on the time required for this work prior to June 1, 1942, but between June 1, 1942 and October 31, 1942, over 2,000 such investigations were made by our staff, requiring the full time of 18 men. Our impression, confirmed by conversation with parole officers, is that the time of the staff of the old Bureau of Parole was taken up fully with making investigations of jobs and sponsors, work for the Pardon Board, and handling such cases on supervision as came to the surface through the acts of friends, relatives, neighbors, and police authorities, and that very little real supervision was exercised over those who had been released on parole. It could hardly have been otherwise.

Supervision by probation officers of those released from the county prisons by judges seems to have been of about the same quality, consisting for the most part either of brief interviews at the probation office or of the mailing in of monthly report cards. Few worthwhile records of the conduct of individuals on parole were kept. An insufficient staff of probation officers and lack of clerical help, as in the case of the Bureau of Parole, made proper supervision of county prison cases impossible.

On June 1, 1942, the Board of Parole took over the supervision of the 5,875 individuals, who were at that time under the supervision of the Bureau of Parole and then started immediately to effect the transfer from probation bureaus of somewhat over 3,000 cases, with maximum sentences of two years or more, who had been released by judges prior to June 1, 1942. There were also some 76 parolees from Muncy that came under our jurisdiction, making a grand total of approximately 9,000 cases for which the Board of Parole was expected to assume responsibility.

The following table based on the best material available shows the situation with respect to the number of parolees subject to the control of the Board of Parole on June 1, 1942 and on October 31, 1942:

	June 1	October 31
Active Cases	4,272	4,679
From Other States	623	642
County Cases to be Taken Over	3,000+	2,610
Out of State	787	841
Abroad	69	65
Army & Navy	118	264
At Sea	6	5
Muncy Cases to be Taken Over	76	.....
	8,951	9,106

Between May 31 and October 31, three factors were operating to change the situation. The Board paroled 1,249; it took over the supervision of some of the cases released by the county judges; and the maximum terms of certain parolees expired. It should be pointed out that there are still 2,610 cases remaining under the supervision of probation officers that must ultimately be transferred to the supervision of the Board of Parole.

The number of prisoners in the state penitentiaries and reformatories is now 6,837; in the county jails approximately 1,800 with sentences of two years or more. These numbers are constantly being replenished by new commitments, and all, with the exception of a few life termers, will ultimately come before the Board of Parole.

In view of the greatly increased load of parolees and the need to cut down automobile travel, the Board of Parole has decided to increase the number of districts from six to ten. The four new offices will be located in Butler, Allentown, Williamsport, and Altoona.

Civil Service and Provisional Appointments

The intent of the Act was to place the parole service on a non-political basis. Permanent appointments were to be made under Civil Service rules and regulations. To bridge over the gap, the Act also provided for provisional appointments of three months' duration and also for a two-year provisional appointment of those already in state or local parole work. The brief period of time intervening between the appointment of the Board on April 14, and the assumption of full duties on June 1, made it imperative to employ provisionally the entire staff of the existing Bureau of Parole. The addition of 3,000 to 4,000 parolees to the number supervised by the old Bureau of Parole called for the appointment immediately of additional parole officers.

It was also found necessary to appoint trained men as institutional representatives to assemble data on the prisoners in the county prisons for the use of the Board in interviewing the prisoners preparatory to hearing their applications for release on parole. The penitentiaries and reformatories keep good records and have set up classification committees to make possible the handling of prisoners on an individualistic basis. All this is of much help to the Board of Parole. It makes possible intelligent decisions in the matter of release and facilitates the handling on parole of those who have been released. Unfortunately the majority of the jails keep no records worthy of the name, and have, in so far as we are aware, developed no organization comparable to the classification committees in the penitentiaries and reformatories. This made the work of the Parole Board exceedingly difficult and the only remedy was to send Board representatives to the jails to assemble the necessary data.

As soon as some qualified persons could be found, the Board appointed two institutional representatives and twelve additional parole officers, three of whom were women. One of the institutional representatives, Mr. G. Richard Bacon, has since been appointed Secretary to the Board and the other has resigned to enter the Coast Guard. Two of the parole officers were advanced to the position of institutional representative. Two of the women parole officers are located in Philadelphia and one in Pittsburgh. Their offices are separate and apart from the parole offices in these cities to which male parolees report. Two additional Negro parole officers have been appointed for the supervision of Negro parolees.

All provisional appointees were told at the beginning of their service that the staff would be paced on a civil service basis as soon as the examinations could be given. After mature consideration the Board decided to ask the Civil Service Commission to prepare and conduct the examinations. Written examinations for General Director of Parole, Assistant Director of Parole, for District Supervisors, and Assistant District Supervisors, and for parole officers were held in several cities of Pennsylvania on September 19; oral examinations for the General Director and the Assistant General Director took place on October 3 and for the others on November 6 and 7. The position of General Director of Parole was filled by the appointment of Dr. G. I. Giardini, the first man to be appointed under Civil Service. Having successfully passed the examinations, ten Supervisors, one statistician, and a number of parole officers have been appointed by the Board, and the re-organization of the staff will soon be fully completed. It is to be regretted that a full complement of workers could not be obtained at the beginning of the work, but it was thought better to wait for the results of the Civil Service test than to load up with untrained and inexperienced workers, many of whom would probably lose their position later as a result of the Civil Service test. Moreover, the employment situation was greatly complicated by the action of the Delaware County Court declaring the Parole Act unconstitutional on July 21. No one fully employed, as most good men are at the present time, cared to give up his position to take one with an organization which might soon be completely destroyed by a Supreme Court decision.

While Pennsylvania was getting along with 35 parole officers in its Bureau of Parole, the New York State Board of Parole had employed 117 for a task that was no larger. With the addition of over 3,000 parolees released from county prisons, it will not be possible to do even reasonably good parole work in this state with less than 100 parole officers. With even this number, the case load per parole officer will be far heavier than it should be. The task placed on the Board of Parole is very large and very difficult. If it is badly done, the State will suffer greatly. The Board will soon be running a huge prison without walls, having literally thousands of released prisoners under its care. It ought to be kind and helpful to those who want to turn over a new leaf, and it ought also to be very firm with those who have no intention of changing their criminal habits. One cannot make bricks without straw, nor do a hard job without the aid of good and experienced employees.

Probation

The Act states that judges may place individuals on special probation to the Board. What this will mean no one can now say. In all probability, courts which do not already have well-developed probation staffs will come to use the facilities of the Board. In the course of time this Board conceivably may become a state probation and a parole agency instead of only a parole body.

Constitutionality of the Parole Act

The Court of Common Pleas of Delaware County declared the Parole Act unconstitutional and void on July 21, 1942, on the ground that it infringed both on the pardoning power of the Governor and also on the sentencing power of the judges. The case was heard by the Supreme Court in Pittsburgh on September 28, and the decision was handed down by the Court in Philadelphia on November 23. The Act was upheld in every important particular. During the period July 21 to November 24, the Board carried on its work in the sixty-six other counties of the State leaving the judges of Delaware County free to act on parole matters within the county as they had prior to June 1, 1942.

Future Developments

It is, of course, going to take time properly to organize the work and to develop and train the personnel. Mistakes are going to be made in releasing men. We have yet to find anyone who knows exactly how long a man should be punished or just when he should go out of prison. The shrewdest wardens, the most learned judges and the most worldly-wise boards of trustees have been fooled over and over again, and we expect to be. Crimes will be committed by those under our supervision. After all, it is not possible to keep a man released from prison handcuffed morning, noon, and night to a parole officer. He lives in freedom, subject only to periodic supervision. There are many who, for one reason or another, find it hard to adjust; others who will not try very hard and some who have no intention of going straight. Society has to take some risks. With few exceptions, they all come out of prison and would do so, note this, if there were no parole board nor parole officers. If these do a conscientious job, the risk to society is less, but not wholly eliminated.

We hope that the various institutions will feel that we are partners in a great work, sharing cheerfully and honestly the load. This does not mean that we are going to do everything they ask us to do. This would be shirking our responsibilities to the people of the State. It does mean a sincere effort on our part to understand the problems of institutional care and routine and a desire to develop harmonious relations with all the institutions with whom we must work.

In dealing with judges and attorneys, we have made every effort to be cooperative and helpful realizing that we are only a part of the organization which society has set up to keep down crime. In Allegheny County, for example, we found that prior to June 1, 1942 the judges had at the time of sentencing certain offenders stated when they would release them if their conduct in prison was satisfactory. To obviate any dispute over jurisdiction, the Board of Parole entered into a gentlemen's agreement with the Judges to honor these dates of release, providing the judges would accept the responsibility of granting the release with respect to those individuals whom the Board of Parole would not itself have released. The arrangement has been working satisfactorily, and time will soon obviate the necessity of continuing this transitional arrangement.

Not all of the problems involved in the relationship of the Board of Parole to the courts have yet been worked out. We have yet to develop a suitable procedure for handling fines and costs, in which certain counties are greatly interested, while others pay no attention to these.

Many tasks yet await the doing. We should have a manual for the use of parole officers and should also work out and publish rules and regulations governing the business of the Board.

One hundred and some odd years ago Pennsylvania was the State to which people from foreign countries interested in penal matters came. We were then the leaders in this field of work. The Walnut Street Prison, the Eastern State Penitentiary, and the Philadelphia Institution for Juvenile Delinquents were at the time among the best and finest of institutions. To some extent we Pennsylvanians have lost our position in the vanguard of progress. Massachusetts gave us probation; New York State the adult reformatory and the institution for defective delinquents and parole itself; Illinois and Colorado, the juvenile court. Several states now have made provision for the state care of at least a portion of their jail prisoners. Pennsylvania is not the first state to set up a comprehensive parole system. We are now catching up, and it is our hope that, even if we cannot now be the first in establishing a centralized state parole system, we can build one of the best. Within a short time, Pennsylvania will have a parole system which will compare favorably with that of any State.

Sincerely yours,

LOUIS N. ROBINSON, Chairman.

THE GENERAL STATE AUTHORITY

Harrisburg, November 23, 1942.

Dear Governor James:

I submit the following report:

During this administration, The General State Authority has completed the construction, installed the equipment and provided the furniture for more than 600 new buildings at 80 different locations throughout the State. These buildings are now occupied by various Departments of the State and are used as armories, hospitals, educational buildings, dormitories, dining halls, office buildings, prisons, boiler plants, etc. All were started, but few were finished, during the previous administration.

To complete these buildings, disbursements, amounting to over $16,000,000.00, were paid to the contractors previously selected and contracts, amounting to over $8,000,000.00, were awarded to new contractors. The work under the original contracts was estimated to cost $65,000,000.00 and was undertaken jointly by The General State Authority and the P.W.A. Grants, amounting to $12,997,236.71, have been received from the Federal Government. This represents less than 22% of the cost and was one of the smallest grant percentages ever made by the P.W.A. The majority of the grant agreements, other than those with The General State Authority, provided that the Federal Government bear 45% of the construction cost. This difference in the amount of grant is caused by the unusual terms of the grant agreement which was made previous to this administration. The Board and the Executive Director, during this administration, have been unable to have this agreement revised or interpreted in such a way that The General State Authority and the State of Pennsylvania would receive grants comparable to those for other work undertaken at the same time throughout the United States.

In completing these buildings, it was necessary to build roads and sidewalks, and do a large amount of grading and seeding.

Men on relief, furnished through the W.P.A., were used for this work. Recently, relief workers have been furnished through the Department of Public Assistance.

The Board, during this administration, has authorized construction of new buildings estimated to cost $10,000,000.00. Most of this expenditure was to be for new buildings at the Philadelphia State Hospital, which was acquired by the State in late 1938. Due to the War, it has been impossible to proceed with this entire Program, but 3 large buildings, costing approximately $4,000,000.00, are under construction and will provide living space for 1,500 patients. It will not enable this Hospital to increase its population, but will relieve, to some extent, the unsatisfactory and insanitary conditions now existing.

The plans and specifications for the remaining $6,000,000.00 worth of work are completed and should provide a program of work to be started after the war.

During the last Session of the Legislature, The General State Authority Act was amended to enable The Authority to build an Executive Mansion. The site has been purchased, and the architect selected, but the actual construction has been deferred until after the war.

I believe that a State-wide comprehensive survey of the Institutions of the State, made by competent engineering organizations, would greatly assist in the orderly and economical future development of these Institutions and also assist in reducing the operating expenses. The Board of The General State Authority has recognized this fact inasmuch as it has gone on record that no future construction should be started until such surveys have been made at the particular Institutions involved. Due to the fact that most of the money expended by The General State Authority is secured from the sale of bonds, which become a direct charge against real estate, The Authority cannot make this expenditure except in limited areas unless the money to make these surveys is appropriated by the Legislature. Some provision should be made to have these surveys completed before, or immediately after, the end of the War, because at that time there will be a great need of absorbing labor now employed in War industries and the armed forces; and the State will, no doubt, enter into an extensive building program. Such surveys will not only reduce the initial cost, but by careful planning, the cost of the continuous operation can also be reduced. No large private corporation would consider operating such a vast physical plant as the State now operates without having such surveys for immediate and future reference. The Legislature should provide funds, through some agency, to allow this survey program to be started without delay.

A large item, included in the annual rental payments made by the Commonwealth to The General State Authority, covers the payment of premiums for fire insurance.

The Legislature has set up an Insurance Fund to protect buildings owned by the State, but it has been interpreted that the State cannot expend any part of this fund or replace buildings, or equipment, destroyed or damaged by fire, if owned by The General State Authority. If this Act could be enlarged to enable the State to guarantee replacements of property leased from The General State Authority, if damaged by fire, the annual rentals could be decreased considerably and I believe would result in a substantial saving to the Commonwealth inasmuch as a great many of the buildings are fire-proof and indestructible.

This legislation would require considerable thought as there is a question of the Constitutionality involved.

The Attorney General of the Commonwealth has held that The General State Authority Act of 1935 does not confer upon The Authority the power to lease projects to the Federal Government.

War conditions, as well as those that will exist after the War, may call for the partial, or total, use of some of our Institutions by the Federal Government, and I suggest that considerations be given to amending The General State Authority Act so that negotiations with the Federal authorities would be facilitated.

Due to the fact that the monies expended by The General State Authority are secured only by bonds, which are direct charges on real estate owned by The Authority, its activities with regard to National Defense have been quite limited. It did, however, at the request of the State Council of Defense, make a survey of the air raid siren facilities in the various counties, townships, boroughs and towns in the State.

The Board of The Authority was active and instrumental in providing arrangements whereby the Federal Government could lease the New Hospital Buildings at the Western State Hospital for Tuberculosis, at Butler, and operate it as an Army hospital.

Many of the Engineers, previously employed by The General State Authority, are now engaged in work on Military Projects and some are now in active duty in the construction battalions in the armed forces on foreign soil.

Sincerely yours,
DAVID H. DIEHL, Executive Director.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
STATE COUNCIL OF DEFENSE

Harrisburg, December 23, 1942.

Dear Governor James:

I take pleasure in giving you the following information in reference to the progress of the organization of Civilian Defense in Pennsylvania.

The State Council of Defense was organized under your Chairmanship, in April, 1941, in accordance with the provisions of the State Council of Defense Act. We invited the counties, cities, boroughs, and townships of the state to create Local Councils of Defense. This they proceeded to do and under the leadership and encouragement which has been given them by the State Council of Defense there are now 1115 legally constituted Local Councils of Defense throughout Pennsylvania. These Councils of Defense include 67 County Councils, 36 City Councils, 199 Township Councils, 738 Borough Councils, and 75 College Councils of Defense.

The General Assembly in Special Session passed Act No. 14 and Act No. 16 which greatly strengthened the structure of Civilian Defense throughout the Commonwealth.

We also proceeded to organize Advisory Committees composed of leading and representative citizens of the state who were appointed to serve on committees in line with special knowledge in their respective subjects. The following committees have been appointed and are functioning: Health, Education, American Unity, Highway Control, Consumer Interests, Evacuation, Plant Protection, Agriculture, Salvage, Victory Gardens, Care of Children of Women in War Industry, and Youth Activities.

We also created a staff to execute the plans of the State Council of Defense. Many members of the staff have been loaned to the State Council of Defense on a part-time basis from other departments of the State Government and from specialized organizations in the state. We now have a staff of approximately 60 persons and the modest monthly budget of the State Council of Defense is an indication of the valuable services that are being contributed without expense to the State Council of Defense.

We have held monthly meetings of this staff at which the whole program of the State Council of Defense has been discussed in the presence of all members of the staff and these have served to give unity of endeavor in Pennsylvania and a clear understanding of the various phases of Civilian Defense.

The whole program of the State Council of Defense is divided into two major categories, the protective and the non-protective civilian war services.

Under the protective category we have enlisted, enrolled, trained and drilled a Citizens' Defense Corps of 576,000 men and women who are now serving in their respective communities as Air Raid Wardens, Auxiliary Firemen, Auxiliary Police, Emergency Medical Units, etc. These men and women are all serving without pay and in many instances without any financial assistance in securing the equipment which they use. Sixty-five of the 67 counties of the state have established, equipped, and maintained County Control Centers which can be activated within one-half hour of the first warning of any emergency. Over 400 Local Control Centers have already been established and equipped and are now being manned upon the warning of an emergency. All of this protective organization centers in a State Control Center at the State Capitol which is equipped to administer a mutual aid program to the citizens of any portion of the Commonwealth. Visitors from the Third Civilian Defense Region Headquarters have recently told us that it is the best State Control Center now in operation in the Nation.

On the non-protective side we have enlisted the active services of 600,000 citizens who worked in Victory Gardens during the past summer, 50,000 or more citizens who are working agressively in the Salvage Program, and literally hundreds of thousands of other citizens who are serving as volunteers on Rationing Boards, on Consumer Interests Committees, on Victory Speakers Bureaus, on American Unity Committees and on local Committees for the Care of Children of Mothers in War Industries, on Health Committees and in many other phases of the war effort.

This double program of the State Council of Defense has given to each patriotic citizen in Pennsylvania an opportunity right in his or her home community, or in his or her home, to be an active factor in the winning of this war. It has given an outlet to every such individual and has thus immeasurably increased their spirit of devotion to our Republic and has greatly strengthened the heart and the hand of our nation in its time of peril.

Underneath this whole program has been a local government policy which has added to the effectiveness of the program and to the enthusiasm of all our citizens. That policy is one of local self-reliance and self-sufficiency. We have not paid from the State Council of Defense any of the expenses of the Local Councils of Defense, nor have we taken from the citizens of the local communities the responsibility for deciding their part in the defense effort. We have kept the responsibility back home where the people can make their own decisions and can grow strong in their sense of responsibility and initiative.

In the State Council of Defense we have endeavored to provide intelligent and faithful and strong leadership for them in which they might have confidence but we have not endeavored to make their decisions for them or to pay their bills for them. Out of this policy has grown increasing strength and increasing power of the people "back home" to take care of themselves at this time of danger.

For these things which have been accomplished we are grateful to you as our Chairman for the intelligent, foresighted, energetic, and unselfish leadership which you have given.

Yours sincerely

A. C. MARTS, Executive Director.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
PENNSYLVANIA TURNPIKE COMMISSION

Harrisburg, December 28, 1942.

Dear Governor James:

The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission begs leave to report that during your Administration the Turnpike covering most of the distance between Harrisburg and Pittsburgh was constructed, completed and placed in operation. It involved the expenditure of seventy million dollars without any drain whatsoever upon the Treasury of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania during a time when it was necessary to provide work to lessen unemployment. Prior to its construction, the highways through the Commonwealth formed the shortest route between the great industrial centers of the Atlantic Seaboard and the Middlewest. From the earliest days of our history, a major problem in the development of the country has been to get through, across, and around the 1500-mile Appalachian mountain barrier which separates these two great centers. The highways over the mountains necessarily with so many curves and steep grades make motor travel over them difficult and hazardous especially in times of fog rain storms, and severe winter conditions in the mountainous regions.

The Turnpike, following substantially preliminary surveys authorized by the Legislature of Pennsylvania as early as 1837, as further studied and developed by the South Penn Railroad Company, described as "the finest series of location surveys on record in this country," pierces the mountains with seven tunnels and levels the grades. Utilizing the findings of the superior engineering talent which originally established the route, the developments and studies of the Department of Highways of Pennsylvania, and applying all the most modern scientific knowledge in road construction, the Commission has produced a road through these mountains with long-site distances, easy grades, separation of traffic traveling in opposite directions, wide dual traffic lanes, separation of grades at intersecting highways and railroads, cloverleaf type of connection permitting the continuous flow of traffic, in fact a highway unique in the history of highway construction in America. It has made possible material monetary savings to the users, provided comfort and convenience to motor travel and has made a vital contribution to safety in motoring.

By its construction Pennsylvania has pioneered the non-access Super-Highway to be demanded by the motoring public in the future.

The military significance of this type of express highway, always claimed in theory to be tremendous, is daily proving itself.

Its use by the armed forces in the movement of troops, equipment and supplies and the movement over it daily of vast quantities of the sinews of war in the form of raw materials and finished goods so vitally important in the war requirements from the industrial sections of western Pennsylvania and the Middlewest to the Atlantic Coast, have proved and are daily confirming its very great value as one of the important contributions to the war effort.

While it is a self-liquidating project, financed from its own revenues with the aid of a Federal grant, at the same time, it affords the motoring public economy of travel both as to time and cost.

Opened to traffic October 1, 1940, the Highway produced in revenue in the succeeding twelve months a total of approximately three million dollars, accommodating some two and one-half million vehicles of all classes. Thereafter, until affected by the war-time restrictions upon traffic, earnings continued to show an increase of approximately 20 per cent. Such restrictions caused a sharp decrease in passenger traffic but due to increased truck traffic, the revenues have been more than sufficient to meet the costs of maintenance and operation as well as interest obligations and required reserves. The present reserve for interest amounts to sufficient to meet interest payments well into the year 1944, and the full amount of the "Insurance Reserve" has been created.

Your Administration wisely provided the legislation necessary for the extension of the project eastwardly and westwardly to the limits of the Commonwealth, projection of which was delayed by the war.

The Acts provide for the advancement to the Commission of the moneys necessary to defray the cost of the preliminary surveys of these extensions. It is respectfully suggested that as soon as the engineering personnel is available, these surveys be made to the end that they will be ready for immediate financing and construction at the close of the war.

It seems reasonable to assume that the important projects which are ready for construction will be the first to be aided by the Federal Government to relieve unemployment during the period of transition from war time to peace time production.

The Commission desires to express its great appreciation of your most helpful cooperation in its vast and successful accomplishment.

Yours very truly

Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission
T. J. EVANS, Vice-Chairman.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,

Governor's Office,

HEADQUARTERS FOR SELECTIVE SERVICE

Harrisburg, November 30, 1942.

Dear Governor James:

I am pleased to give you, herewith, a report on the operation of the Selective Service System in Pennsylvania during the last year.

The system was set up on a long-range basis to meet any demands which might be made upon it. Thus, it went on a war-time footing within 12 hours after Japan attacked Pearl Harbor on Sunday, December 7, 1941. The staff reported for duty that day at State Headquarters and Headquarters has been operated seven days a week since then.

We have met every demand which has been made upon us. The local boards and other units of the system have functioned smoothly and without confusion. The orderly flow of men from civilian life into the Army continues from each local board.

Pennsylvania has won recognition from National Headquarters of the Selective Service System by being chosen on several occasions as the testing ground for experiments which later evolved into sound plans adopted in other states.

Outstanding in this connection is the "Pennsylvania Plan" which ended the system of inducting men into the United States Army immediately after they had passed their final physical examination.

The new plan, tried and found practical in Pennsylvania and subsequently used as a model in other states, gave every registrant a waiting period between his final examination and induction. Major General Lewis B. Hershey, National Director of Selective Service, devotes a section of his first report to the President to a discussion of the "Pennsylvania Plan."

Now, under war-time operation, the principle of the "Pennsylvania Plan" has been retained and registrants are furloughed for seven days immediately after their induction.

Pennsylvania, at the request of National Headquarters, led the way in a number of other innovations, including an experiment now being conducted at the Lewisburg Federal Penitentiary.

A special local board has been set up there to determine which men with criminal records have been rehabilitated to the point where they can be inducted into the United States Army and thus be converted from a deficit to an asset on the books of society.

This local board—composed of one prison official, one man with thorough knowledge of the Selective Service System, and one outstanding citizen of the community—has been operating for only a short time. Nevertheless, the experiment is being watched with interest throughout the nation.

The System in Pennsylvania, now composed of 8,733 persons, has achieved an outstanding record of efficiency and economy of operation.

Following is an analysis of the Selective Service personnel in Pennsylvania as of this date:

Local Board Members	1,271
Appeal Board Members (including 2 coordinators)	72
Government Appeal Agents	422
Associate Government Appeal Agents	34
Examining Physicians and Dentists	2,934
Legal Advisors to Registrants	422
Associate Legal Advisors to Registrants	743
Members of Medical Advisory Boards	116
Associate Members of Medical Advisory Boards	516
Reemployment Committeemen	422
Total Uncompensated		6,952
Officers (Headquarters)	13
Enlisted men (Headquarters)	17
Civil Service Employees (Headquarters)	111
Civil Service Employees (Local Boards and Appeal Boards)	1,640
Total Compensated		1,781
Grand Total		8,733

Pennsylvania Headquarters is the largest in the nation, that is, it has more registrants under its jurisdiction than any other Headquarters in the United States—3,313,121—but nevertheless, has a comparatively small staff. New York State, having a larger population, has more registrants than Pennsylvania, but it operates two Headquarters—one for New York City and one for the remainder of the state.

This census of manpower was made in five registrations—one in 1940, one in 1941, and three in 1942. Another registration of young men who have become 18 years of age since June 30, 1942, was conducted between December 11, 1942, and December 31, 1942.

Since the inauguration of the Selective Service System in September, 1940, National Headquarters has allocated $4,915,282.55 from Federal funds to Pennsylvania for use to December 31, 1942. To November, 1942, we have expended $4,231,251.38. We estimate that expenditures during November and December, 1942, will aggregate $493,798.17, making a total expenditure from September, 1940, through December, 1942, of $4,725,049.55. This expenditure covers the entire cost of operating the Selective Service System in Pennsylvania.

Comparative figures prepared by National Headquarters show clearly that Pennsylvania is operating at a cost per registrant considerably lower than many other states. Based upon the total number of registrants, 22 states had a higher proportionate operating cost than Pennsylvania. They included such states as New York, Illinois, New Jersey, Alabama, Minnesota, and Michigan.

Sample figures reflecting the cost of the military and civilian personnel in the various State Headquarters, based upon the number of local boards in each state, show that Pennsylvania's Headquarters personnel cost is below that of such states as New York, Illinois, Texas, California, New Jersey, Michigan, and Alabama.

The cost of personnel services (clerical assistance) per local board in Pennsylvania was exceeded by such states as New York, Maryland, Michigan, Delaware, Connecticut, California, Maine, and South Carolina.

Expenditures for supplies and materials per local board in Pennsylvania ran below such states as New York, New Jersey, California, New Mexico, Vermont, South Carolina, Maine, and Connecticut.

The cost of communications (telephone and telegraph) per local board in Pennsylvania was below many states, including New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, California, and Maryland.

The traveling expenses per local board in Pennsylvania were considerably lower than in most of the states. In a number of instances, the traveling expenses in other states were double or triple the expense per local board in Pennsylvania. Likewise, most states spent more for printing and binding per local board than Pennsylvania, notwithstanding the fact that only one state—New York—has more registrants than Pennsylvania.

Many states exceeded Pennsylvania's local board expenditure for rents, including light and heat. The local board cost of the transportation of materials and of repairs and alterations in Pennsylvania fell below the expenditures for these items in a majority of the states. Similarly, numerous states spent more per local board for equipment than was the case in Pennsylvania.

These sample comparisons indicate the general practice of economy in Pennsylvania and the government is grateful to the thousands of public-spirited citizens who have made this shining record possible.

Selective Service policy and procedure have changed constantly to keep pace with national needs, particularly since the declaration of war. Nevertheless, we who have been charged with the duty and the privilege of administering this vital function in Pennsylvania have adhered strictly to the basic principles enunciated by you at the time the system was created—absolute fairness and impartiality to all, the highest regard for human values, insistence upon following the law and the regulations, and an honest and sincere endeavor to operate as economically, and yet as effectively, as possible.

There have been two outstanding changes of policy which deserve mention. Prior to the declaration of war, only declarant aliens were subject to training and service. After December 8, 1941, the law was changed to bring all aliens residing in the United States under the act. The military authorities now determine, in each case, whether the alien is acceptable to the armed forces.

The Selective Training and Service Act originally provided that a registrant should be deferred if one or more persons depended upon the earned income of the registrant for support. When it became evident after the declaration of war that the size of the Army would be increased tremendously, the Congress, on June 23, 1942, enacted the Servicemen's Dependents' Allowance Act. This act provides for the payment of allowances to dependents of men in the armed forces and makes it possible to induct men with dependents. Following the enactment of this law, the Selective Service System in Pennsylvania began inducting registrants in this order:

1. Single men with no dependents.
2. Single men with collateral dependents (parents, grand-parents, brothers and sisters).
3. Men who were married prior to December 8, 1941, and at a time when selection was not imminent and who were maintaining bona fide family relationships in their homes with wives only.
4. Men who were married prior to December 8, 1941, and at a time when selection was not imminent and who were maintaining bona fide family relationships in their homes with wives and children or with children alone.

In closing this brief report, I desire to give unstinted praise and commendation to the patriotic and unselfish men from all walks of life throughout the Commonwealth who have given so many million hours of their time without financial recompense to make Selective Service an outstanding success in Pennsylvania. Their reward is the knowledge of a job well done. I also desire to extend to you the thanks and appreciation of the Headquarters Staff for the splendid cooperation of the Governor's Office.

Respectfully submitted,

B. [illegible] EVANS, Lt. Col., A.U.S., Acting Director.

SECOND SUPPLEMENT

Reporting the highlights of Pennsylvania's part in the war since the Governor's War Message to the General Assembly on March 2, 1942.

THE WAR REPORT

Pennsylvania, in this greatest of all wars, has carried on in the manner called for by its ancient and honorable traditions.

The people of Pennsylvania may take pride in the fact that Pennsylvania's war security plan has been accomplished and is in full force and effect.

Our Pennsylvania Reserve Defense Corps, which is taking the place of the National Guard while it is in Federal service, is fully uniformed, outfitted, equipped and armed—ready for combat and with a record of duty already performed.

The Auxiliary to the Pennsylvania Reserve Defense Corps is nearing completion and that part of it which has thus far been totally organized is ready to take up its tremendously important guard duties when the call comes.

Our Pennsylvania Motor Police have been trained for combat duty in addition to the manifold duties which they must perform in war and peace.

More than a million citizens march under the banner of the State Council of Defense and more than half of them wear the colors of the active, vital, hard working Citizens Defense Corps.

Powerful control centers practice tirelessly against the day when they may have to function under fire.

The Civil Air Patrol stands tireless vigil—its planes gassed and ready.

Disaster and evacuation organizations are on their toes.

The job that lies ahead is the gaining of new recruits, endless practice, increased proficiency and constant study to become better—better—better.

The organizational structure has been completed and Pennsylvania challenges any other of the 47 units of these great United States to show a better perfected establishment.

The work which we are doing is deadly serious. The importance of our civilian defense establishment cannot be over-estimated. The job of the civilian is to help defeat the ends of the enemy by reducing to the absolute minimum the effect of the damage which he may inflict on the home soil. If a plant is bombed, the enemy can be thwarted by the immediate extinguishing of the fire and the immediate rebuilding of the plant. If the community life is temporarily disrupted by air, sea, or land-borne invasion, the enemy may be thwarted by reducing the psychological effect to nothing, by reducing to the irreducible the effect of his implements of destruction and by the immediate restoration of civilian moral and normal civilian activities.

This then, is the inestimable importance of the civilian job. For the police and combat forces which we have at our disposal, the job is to meet the forces of the enemy man to man hand to hand, and demolish him if possible.

With these two elements functioning at the maximum degree of proficiency, Pennsylvania will free the hands of the Army, in so far as the Commonwealth's territorial limits are concerned, to carry out its great mission and not oblige it to deploy unnecessary Federal troops here, taking them away from their major task of meeting and defeating a major force. In other words, Pennsylvania must carry out its own mission up to the limit expected of it by the Armed Forces.

To accomplish this, it is hardly necessary to add, there has been complete cooperation and understanding among Pennsylvania, the Armed Forces, and the Federal Government at all times in war activities.

This Commonwealth's all-out defense effort may be dated as having begun in July, 1940, following a series of conferences held in the Executive Mansion. Since that time Pennsylvania has continued its leadership in what has since become the war program.

On December 7, 1941, Japan attacked the United States at Pearl Harbor and Pennsylvania was alerted. Our citizens dropped the mantle of defense and put on the armor of war. Today a state of war exists between the United States of America and Japan, Germany, Italy, Rumania, Bulgaria, and Hungary.

Testimony to the part we have played is contained in a great file of letters bearing the reactions and representations of responsible and authoritative commanders who are responsible for the national war effort.

These letters represent a file in which every man, woman, and child in this Commonwealth takes pride; the zealous and intelligent response to national summons and needs which inspired these letters do not represent the work of any one man, but on the contrary, the mass response of 99 per cent of our population to our mutual needs in our hour of emergency.

More than two years ago, on October 16, 1940, a total of 1,170,574 Pennsylvania men registered for Selective Service, in a great peace-time enrollment for war.

The months of preparation which had gone into this formal beginning of Pennsylvania's leadership among states in preparing for the force of arms which was inevitably coming upon us, bore fruit in a great performance by all Pennsylvanians.

The vital necessity for the great planned war program of Pennsylvania was conclusively proven in the fact that when the registration had been completed Pennsylvania had under its jurisdiction more registrants than any other headquarters in America and the Pennsylvania headquarters was the most important state headquarters in the Nation.

Pennsylvanians acknowledged the full realization of just what this meant to them and determined that such being the greatness of their responsibility they would not falter but instead, step by step, would lead the way. This they have done.

This, then, is also an opportunity for me as the Governor of this great Commonwealth, in this time of war, to express my pride in the work of Pennsylvania's ten million citizens and to commend publicly those who have assumed the leadership throughout the length and breadth of this Commonwealth.

Pennsylvania and Pennsylvanians, realizing that "Pennsylvania's resources and manpower could best be utilized as a single unit on a great team of 48 states, have cooperated with the finest sort of teamwork under the direction of national leadership."

There are a number of deletions in the transmittal of these letters of commendation we received which are made necessary because references have been made to matters which are military secrets.

The Third Service Command, which was formerly the Third Corps Area, is the military agency through which the combat war organization of Pennsylvania is coordinated and fitted into the national scheme of operations. Commanding the Third Service Command is an outstanding General who has given the finest, closest and friendliest conceivable cooperation to Pennsylvania, Major General Milton A. Reckord. The commendation contained in a letter from him dated September 19, 1942, was made possible by the efforts of the Pennsylvania Reserve Defense Corps, the Auxiliary, and the thousands of persons in the State Council of Defense and its allied organizations defense plants, and defense installations in close liaison with the Army itself. General Milton A. Reckord wrote to the Governor:

". . . The expression of understanding and cooperation . . . is characteristic of the spirit which has pervaded all our relationships. The burden of carrying out the responsibilities placed upon my shoulders by the War Department has been considerably lightened owing to the able assistance which I have at all times received from your State.

". . . I can well state that Pennsylvania has marched forward, and has proven herself a real 'teammate' in aiding the conduct of the war effort within the Third Service Command."

On July 24, 1942, General Reckord wrote:

"I want you to know that I greatly appreciate the splendid cooperation you and your Pennsylvania officials are giving me. The responsibilities of this office are great, but such cooperation as you offer materially lightens my load."

This spirit of cooperation has obtained since the very beginning and has been continuous from the beginning until now.

When General Reckord took command of the Third Corps Area he relieved Major General H. C. Pratt, who had been ordered to another assignment. General Pratt undertook his new assignment with this message to Pennsylvanians on January 2, 1942:

". . . May I express my appreciation of the courtesy you have always shown me and my command, while I have been with the Third Corps Area. It will afford me much pleasure to inform my successor of your always cooperative attitude, and of the cordial relations which have existed between us."

Pennsylvania had truly swung into action after Pearl Harbor with one of the only completely uniformed and equipped State Guards in America on active duty immediately after the declaration of war. How effectively Pennsylvania functioned is expressed by General Pratt in his letter of December 12, 1941:

"May I express my appreciation of the patriotic attitude you have assumed in this emergency and for the spirit of cooperation you have displayed."

General Pratt had known that Pennsylvania was ready long before Pearl Harbor when he expressed his feelings in a letter to the Governor's Office, under date of October 13, 1941, almost two months before Pearl Harbor:

". . . the completion of the organization of the Pennsylvania Reserve Defense Corps. The fact that this unit is ready for active duty if and when the need should arise is a source of deep satisfaction, I feel, not only to Governor James but to me also.

"It is indeed not only interesting but gratifying to learn that the officers of the Pennsylvania Reserve Defense Corps have been chosen from those previously commissioned in the Army Navy and Marine Corps. The importance of capable and trained leaders cannot be over estimated."

How thoroughly these matters have been gone into are reflected in a letter dated July 24, 1941, from Col. M. S. Eddy, G.S.C. Assistant Chief of Staff, Third Corps Area, addressed to the Governor:

". . . You may be assured that both General Grant and I deeply appreciate the efforts of Governor James and ——— on behalf of ———. General Grant will be very pleased I am sure to hear from Governor James on the matter we recently discussed.

"I want to thank you for your interest and cooperation in all these matters and hope to be able to personally discuss them with you in the near future."

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, National Director of Selective Service, who has always worked closely with Pennsylvania and has been of endless assistance in the great job we have here, wrote to the Governor on December 4, 1942:

"The part which your great State has played in providing the largest Army ever possessed by this nation at the outbreak of war is an accomplishment in which you may well take a justifiable pride. The demands for men during 1942 have been increasingly greater. The complications of a modern and industrialized society have rendered more difficult the mobilization of men for war. These problems your State has met.

". . . the obligations of the State of Pennsylvania will be large, but the record of its past gives me confidence that come what may it will fill its obligations in full."

Dean James M. Landis, National Director of Civilian Defense, on a visit to Pennsylvania on November 10, 1942, inspected parts of the State and said that Pennsylvania's control [illegible] for Civilian Defense emergency operations are "the best in this section of the country."

That Pennsylvania cheerfully accept any new duty, restriction, sacrifice or obligation which is placed upon them is further shown in these letters to the Governor:

"May 22, 1942.

". . . with reference to Public Proclamation No. 1 and wish to express my appreciation for your unqualified cooperation and assistance in this vital matter.

"With kindest personal regards and hoping that I may be of assistance in the future . . . H. A. Drum, Lieutenant General, U. S. Army, Eastern Defense Command, Office of Commanding General, New York."

"July 5, 1940.

". . . The Commanding General, Second Army, wishes to express his appreciation of your interest and splendid cooperation in this matter . . . F. V. Hemenway, Lieut. Col., A.G.D., Adjutant General, Headquarters, Second Army, Chicago, Illinois."

"September 15, 1942.

"Your gracious reception and whole-hearted coeration which was such a substantial contribution to the accomplishment of my mission, was greatly appreciated and I trust that in my new capacity as . . . I can be of service to you. Percival S. Moses, Colonel, C. of E., Services of Supply, War Department, Philadelphia."

"June 5, 1942.

"I wish to express the appreciation of the War Department for your whole-hearted cooperation and patriotic action in prompt adoption of the uniform standards suggested by the War Department to govern traffic by commercial motor vehicles. I assure you that the Nation's war effort will be materially promoted by this action on your part. Under Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson, War Department, Washington, D. C."

The cooperation between the Federal Government, the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce, and private industry has received commendation from the War Production Board, the Office of Production Management, Army Engineers, Army Ordnance, and the War Department's Highway Advisory Committee, as is expressed in these letters to Secretary Mark S. James:

". . . The Division of Contract Distribution will continue to work closely with the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce in bringing together prime and subcontractors . . . Floyd B. Odlum, Director, Division of Contract Distribution."

". . . It seems to me that Pennsylvania has every reason to be proud of the vital part it is being called upon to play in the war production program . . . very few States have had as great an opportunity to serve the Nation. Edwin M. Martin, Assistant to the Chairman Plant Site Board, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., March 27, 1942."

". . . The information furnished by your organization is of extreme value to this office in connection with our—H. C. Peterson, 1st Lieut. A.C., Headquarters, First Air Force, Office of the Engineer, Mitchel Field, New York, September 10, 1941."

"May I express our appreciation of the thoroughness of your confidential report concerning the handling of—Pennsylvania. You may be advised we will use the same as reference material in working out such problems with Army and Office of Civilian Defense authorities. John E. Furlong, Assistant Director, Highway Traffic Advisory Committee, Washington D. C., August 18, 1942."

Alien detention facilities have been provided by the Commonwealth without cost to the Federal government, and while the full story will not be told until a much later date the following excerpt gives the reaction in a letter from Henry L. Mulle, Acting District Director, United States Department of Justice, Immigration and Naturalization Service, Philadelphia, dated September 2, 1942:

". . . Permit me to extend the thanks and appreciation of the Department and this District for the fine cooperation given by yourself and the Armory Officials in connection with our acquisition and occupancy—"

Because the hundreds of members of the Civil Air Patrol operate under the greatest secrecy, these brave men are receiving little public commendation which will inevitably be theirs when the war is over, as far as their coastal patrol and courier work is concerned. However, this much of official commendation can be recorded now through this letter which was received in the Governor's Office:

"On behalf of the members of my staff and myself, I wish to express sincere appreciation of the fine cooperation rendered the—Wing through the efforts of Major William L. Anderson, Director of the Aeronautics and Commander of Wing, Civil Air Patrol, and his associates in furnishing the air support for our field problem of September 17th.

"Without the assistance of both Major Anderson and other members of the Patrol in simulating air attack during the problem, the maneuver would have been impossible and a valuable training experience thus lost to our unit. Eugene N. Berglund, Major Air Corps, Commanding."

Earle L. Johnson, National Commander, United States Civil Air Patrol, wrote on October 9, 1942:

". . . has made the Pennsylvania Wing of the Civilian Air Patrol one of the best in the country."

Like many other State services, commendation for the Pennsylvania Motor Police and those who have cooperated with them in assisting with their war work, brings forth seemingly inexhaustible files of commendation, but the form of the commendation is shown in the following letters:

". . . This office feels particularly obligated to act with dispatch to any request made by your office. The splendid service you have on frequent occasions rendered Military Intelligence . . . have been invaluable. T. S. Doll, Colonel G.S.C., Director, Intelligence Division, Headquarters, Third Service Command, Baltimore, Maryland, September 16, 1942."

". . . I wish to commend your men.

". . . By far the most efficient service was rendered by the Pennsylvania State Police. D. K. Howard, Captain, Ordnance Department, 46th Ordnance Company, Fort Custer, Michigan, October 9, 1941."

". . . I want to express my application for the fine cooperation and efficiency shown by the Pennsylvania State Motor Patrol in all our dealings.

"All officers of this regiment who were in charge of . . . has excellent reports to make concerning your splendid cooperation. F. S. Swett, Colonel, Headquarters, 604th Coast Artillery, August 27, 1942."

". . . I personally witnessed the 'bang-up' job which the Pennsylvania State Police did for us. I heard many fine comments regarding the efficiency of the various State Troopers . . . This was a fine example of the good cooperation which the Pennsylvania Motor Police is giving to the Army to assist in the War effort. D. N. Hauseman, Colonel, Ordnance Department, Philadelphia Ordnance District, Philadelphia, August 13, 1942."

The Navy's commendation for the same sort of help given the Army is expressed in the following excerpt from a letter from W. T. Smith, Captain, U. S. Navy, District Intelligence Officer, dated September 12, 1942:

"I wish to take this opportunity to tell you of my appreciation of the splendid cooperation afforded this office by your organization.

"The officers-in-charge of my several intelligence . . . continue to tell me of the unfailing and helpful assistance rendered by your office in Harrisburg and your—attached to the several troops. The consistently thorough and careful investigations made contribute in no small measure, to the Naval . . . activities."

The manner in which Pennsylvania have arisen to the front in the purchase of War Bonds is the subject of which we may be proud. The following letters and telegrams to the Governor express the feelings of Washington:

". . . many thanks for your cooperation. Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Secretary of the Treasury, April 22, 1942."

". . . Mr. Ludlow, Mr. Stevenson, as well as members of our staff, are most appreciative of the splendid help that you have given in this campaign (War Bonds and Stamps quota). Ted R. Gamble, Consultant, Office of the Secretary, Treasury Department, Washington, May 11, 1942."

Captain Walter J. Kress, who was formerly Acting Secretary of Revenue and who is now on active duty with the United States Army, was given the job of heading the campaign for the purchase of War Bonds and Stamps among State employees. So successful was the campaign among State employees that he received the following commendation from John L. Sullivan, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Washington, D. C., March 31, 1942:

". . . I think you and the state are to be congratulated on doing a splendid job. I am taking the liberty of forwarding your letter and its enclosure to the Director of the Defense Bonds Program."

Few war efforts by Pennsylvanians are more important than the operation of our great coal mines that make the heat which builds the sinews of war. Secretary of Mines, Richard Maize, who has undertaken the Federal job of Emergency Coordinator of Mines in Pennsylvania, received the following letter from Wilbur A. Nelson, Administrator, Mining Branch, War Production Board, Washington D. C., under date of July 8, 1942:

"At the beginning of our new fiscal year in Washington, I wish to take the opportunity of expressing to you as our Emergency Coordinator of Mines in Pennsylvania, our appreciation of the important part you and your organization have been playing in the work of the Mining Branch of the War Production Board.

"We realize we have placed on you an added burden without any compensation except the knowledge that you have played an important part in our war effort . . ."

Pennsylvanians arose to great patriotic heights in setting up the Selective Service system and then virtually duplicated this effort in the setting up of the state rationing program, which was subsequenly taken over by the Federal Government. The whole-hearted cooperation of our people brought a great file of commendations to T. Elmer Transeau, who was then State administrator. The following is a letter received from Sylvan L. Joseph, Regional Administrator, Office of Price Administration, under of June 4, 1942:

". . . I want to tell you that we are most grateful for the excellent work which you did in Pennsylvania. I fully realize the difficulties of organization and the time pressure which was put upon you in establishing this set-up. I also realize the size of the State of Pennsylvania and the many difficulties which were involved because of it.

"I think you have done a noble public service and we are deeply obligated to you for establishing the set-up and having it function as it did for several months. I have tried to impress that fact upon our Pennsylvania connections and hope that you will believe me sincerely when I express my thanks to you for all your help in our program."

The following commendation was received by Raymond H. Smith, Executive Secretary, The Governor's Highway Traffic Advisory Committee to the War Department, from John J. Hall of the Highway Traffic Advisory Committtee to the War Department, Washington, D. C., dated July 27, 1942:

". . . At this time I wish to congratulate you and your associates in producing one of the finest war transportation programs that it has been my pleasure to review."

When the Federal government took over rationing all over the Nation, Pennsylvania carried on with the same spirit of cooperation, and the following commendation came from Leon Henderson, Director, Office of Price Administration, under date of June 13, 1942, addressed to the Governor:

"Your cooperation has been invaluable in the rapid organization of the rationing program. We continue to need your immediate help . . . Your county clerks did an excellent job before as consignees of bulk shipments . . . We greatly appreciate your and their patriotic help in this vital program."

Pennsylvania's school teachers who have been unsung patriots in Selective Service registration and registrations for rationing were commened without stint in the following telegram received from Leon Henderson, May 11, 1942:

"I would appreciate your conveying the gratitude of the Office of Price Administration to your school superintendents, principals, school teachers, and civilian volunteers for the splendid job they did in registering . . .

"I, personally, cannot express my gratitude too deeply for the splendid job that was done. The primary credit, of course, should go to the school teachers because they accepted the heaviest burden. No other group in the country could have handled the job so efficiently and speedily."

Countless Federal agencies in the war effort appreciate the complete assistance of the Department of Public Assistance as is shown in the following commendation which came from Judge W. L. Dill, Regional Director, Social Security Board, to Howard L. Russell, Secretary of the Department of Public Assistance, dated January 7, 1942:

". . . I have not hesitated to refer on numerous occasions to the splendid manner in which you have always cooperated with this office in the administration of the Public Assistance Laws and how delightful has been our Federal-State relationship, so my profound thanks to you and your associates for your contribution to the program and bespeaking the continuation of the same, with very best wishes, believe me."

Pennsylvania has long been proud of the work of its Defense Council and the highest form of tribute was paid by Frank Bane, Director of the Nation's Council of State Governments in a Harrisburg speech on March 17, 1942, when he said:

"Pennsylvania Defense Council set-up is the best in the United States."

Bane added that the Commonwealth was the first to respond to the call for Defense Councils and has "developed the best program for the forty-eight states."

When Mayor LaGuardia was United States Director of Civilian Defense he forwarded to the Governor a letter dated November 18, 1941, expressing commendation for the manner in which our people had manned the breastwork of civilian defense work, very similar to the manner in which Pennsylvanians had been commended for the even pre-Pearl Harbor efficiency of the State Guard. The Mayor wrote:

"I take great pleasure in forwarding to you the attached copy of a letter from the Commanding General of the First Interceptor Command, expressing his appreciation for the work of the civilian defense organization in making possible the success of the recent air defense exercises.

"The United States Office of Civilian Defense wishes to express to you our deep appreciation of the patriotic service rendered by the State defense council, the local defense councils, and other organizations in your State in helping to develop and to man the civilian Aircraft Warning Service.

"This was the first great home defense project requiring the assistance of civilian volunteers, and I believe the efficient manner in which it was carried out proves that a democracy working through local initiative and voluntary effort can build a civilian defense system fully as strong as that of any nation abroad. The success of this project augurs well the success of our entire civilian defense program."

Commendation for Pennsylvania's participation in the planning of State cooperation in the war came in the form of a letter from the Federal-State Conference on law Enforcement Problems of National Defense, Washington, D. C., as early as November 23, 1940, which drew up the legislative program for defense, addressed to the Attorney General's Office, and signed by Hubert R. Gallagher, Secretary of the Conference, who wrote:

". . . let me assure you of our sincere appreciation of the splendid work that you and the other members of the Drafting Committee did last week in Washington. I have never participated in such a hard-working group.

" . . . many thanks for your splendid cooperation."

The Federal Works Agency, of the Public Roads Administration, Washington, D. C., has commended cooperation between the Highway Department and their office in the following manner, in a letter signed by the Commissioner, Thomas H. McDonald:

". . . with reference to emergency repairs of roads and highways damaged by Army and Navy operations. Your attitude in this matter is greatly appreciated, and I am taking the libery of passing your letter along for the information of our district engineers, with the hope that the spirit of cooperation expressed by Pennsylvania will find a response of similar character on the part of other States."

Pennsylvania has gone to new heights in the salvage and scrap campaign by its very early interest in this matter and is evidenced in this letter of February 13, 1942, from Lessing J. Rosenwald, Chief, Bureau of Industrial Conservation, War Production Board, Washington, D. C.:

". . . Your cooperation, already extended to the Bureau of Industrial Conservation in helping to carry out the general salvage program in your state, has been greatly appreciated."

In the Governor's message of March 2, 1942, to the General Assembly, in which was reported the highlights of Pennsylvania's efforts in the national defense program from immediately prior to the declaration of war against the United States until the time of the report, the history of the beginnings of Pennsylvania's war work was given.

It is fitting at this time, so that the continuity may be completed, to recall the early progress of this Commonwealth.

In that report was outlined Pennsylvania's concept of duty, but the part dealing exclusively with war accomplishments is extracted.

In the earliest phases of the work, C. A. Dykstra, National Director of Selective Service, wrote to the people of Pennsylvania on November 1, 1940, after the First Registration tabulations had been completed:

"May I take this opportunity of thanking you for your State's splendid contribution to this National effort. Thousands of public-spirited citizens working under your direction have made this possible. I know full well that I can count on your continued cooperation."

At the end of the first year General Hershey wrote the State Selective director on December 15, 1941, in part, as follows:

"You and your staff have conducted the operations of the Selective Service System in your State in a highly commendable manner and in a spirit of cooperation that has been a source of real satisfaction. Based upon your past record, I am sure you will accept the increased responsibilities . . ."

Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, on March 27, 1941, announced that only 27 or 28 of the 48 states were in the proccess of creating State Guards and he named only four of these states as deserving of commendation in the "material progress which was made"—one of the four he named was Pennsylvania.

The calibre of the work of Dr. Arnaud C. Marts, Executive Director, State Council of Defense, is perhaps best expressed in the words of Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, National Director of Civilian Defense, when he wired under date of December 10, 1941, requesting permission to place Doctor Marts in charge of the entire Third Civilian Defense Region, including Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, and the District of Columbia:

"He has his organization in good shape. He has a splendid grasp of the responsibilities and the addition of Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia would not be too burdensome."

On September 30th the tabulations of the work done by each of the states were announced. The official publication of the Office of Civilian Defense said of the aluminum drive results:

"Second highest state was Pennsylvania with the recorded total of 900,000 pounds."

The nearest state below Pennsylvania was Massachusetts with 699,150 pounds collected. The only state which exceeded Pennsylvania was New York with its substantially greater population. However, when the figure was broken down it was found that Pennsylvania had gone ahead of New York in the poundage of pots and pans collected per dwelling.

Consistently, Pennsylvania continued making firsts, seconds and thirds in cooperation as each phase—and there are almost countless phases—of the civilian effort developed. This is witnessed by two examples of excerpts from Mayor LaGuardia's letters:

"I have just received your proclamation on the Civilian Defense Act, for which I want to thank you. This is the first proclamation I have received from a Governor carrying out the request of the President." (October 29, 1941). "The United States Office of Civilian Defense wants to express to you our deep appreciation of the patriotic services rendered by the Pennsylvania State Defense Council, the local defense councils, and other organizations in your State in helping to develop and man the Civilian Aircraft Warning Service . . . the success of this project augurs well the success of our entire Civilian Defense Program." (November 18, 1941)

Of interest is the following excerpts from a letter under date of December 13, 1941, from Colonel Clifton Lisle, Director of the Third Civilian Defense Region and Coordinator for the United States Army, when he was ordered to a new assignment and was relieved from duty in Baltimore:

"I take this opportunity to express my appreciation for the cooperation shown me in this office in matters of civilian defense. I have received every assistance from Doctor Marts and your Council of Defense, and I feel sure my successor will meet with the same cooperation."

Excerpts from the speech of Mayor LaGuardia in Harrisburg on the occasion of the State Defense Rally under the auspices of the State Council, Friday, November 14, 1941, will illustrate the success of Pennsylvania's program of teamwork. The Mayor said, in part:

"I want to thank you personally . . . for you excellent leadership . . . in taking hold of the civilian defense work in appointing competent, capable executives such as Doctor Marts.

"Here in the State of Pennsylvania, one of the largest states in the Union, there is not now the slightest doubt but what the program will be fully carried out and that come what may the people of Pennsylvania will be able to take care of themselves.

"Here in Pennsylvania you have so many centers that are attractive and tempting targets to an enemy and that is why the people of this state should be indeed grateful to the vision, the knowledge . . . at this time in meeting this situation and being prepared if it comes."

The following excerpt from a letter under date of August 8, 1941, from the Office of the Petroleum Coordinator gives the reaction to Pennsylvania's work:

"May I express the sincere appreciation of this office for your cooperation in the petroleum conservation program.—Ralph K. Davies, Deputy Coordinator."

On January 6th, Major General John F. Curry, National Director of the C.A.P., announced that Pennsylvania stood seventh in the entire Nation in the formation of the Civil Air Patrol, despite the fact that in the middle of the emergency it had lost its State Director. This announcement was made at a tri-state meeting of C.A.P. officers in Harrisburg. The General indicated that among the larger states Pennsylvania was foremost, pointing out that some states with only a handful of airports as compared to Pennsylvania's 170 airports, 5000 pilots and 2500 flying ships, had been able to organize slightly faster. He also pointed out that Pennsylvania had more private flying ships per pilot than any other state in the Union.

With such rapidity did Pennsylvania respond, that this telegram was received on December 26th:

"Much impressed business-like manner in . . . tire rationing problem in Defense Council Tuesday. Many thanks. We have no worries about Pennsylvania. Frank Bane, Office of Price Administration."

On February 9th the State Council was advised by the Office of Price Administration that the tire rationing program had been accomplished so "quickly, adequately and efficiently" that the rationing of other commodities should follow the same general pattern and the same machinery should be used.

This letter concluded with these words ". . . tell you again how much we have enjoyed working with you in setting up necessary rationing machinery throughout the United States, and how much we have appreciated the enthusiastic cooperation which we have received from . . . the Council of Defense."

When, in November 1941, after more than a year's service, Dr. Lewis found it necessary to ask release as Pennsylvania Director in order to devote all of his time to Lafayette College, he addressed this message to the Selective Service System in Pennsylvania:

"In leaving this position, I shall take with me the deepest sense of gratitude to the thousands of men throughout the Commonwealth who have given so loyally, so patriotically, so unselfishly, and so generously of their time, effort and ability to make the Selective Service Organization in Pennsylvania outstanding in the nation and above reproach."

He added:

"To the local boads—unwavering, honest and loyal —and to the other units of the system belongs the credit for the truly magnificent job that is being done."

Honorable Arthur H. James, Governor
Honorable G. Harold Wagner, State Treasurer
Honorable F. Clair Ross, Auditor General
Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Harrisburg, Pa.

Dear Sirs:

In accordance with your instruction, we have made an examination, limited and restricted as hereinafter more specifically described, of certain records maintained in the Treasury Department of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, for the period from June 1, 1940 to October 31, 1941, for the purpose of determining the extent to which funds transmitted to that Department were recorded as receipts, and disbursements made therefrom were authorized by formal warrants executed by the Auditor General of the Commonwealth, during the period mentioned.

Scope of Examination

The aforementioned examination was limited and restricted by agreement between the parties at interest, to the following:

(1) The tracing of the aggregate receipts as classified and reported to us by the Department of Revenue as well as those originating in the Treasury Department and those reported by the Bureaus and/or Agencies responsible for the operations of the State Workmen's Insurance Fund, the Unemployment Compensation Benefits and Contribution Funds and the Administration Fund, as deposits in the bank accounts of the Treasury Department (noting that receipts originating in the Treasury Department were reported to the Department of Revenue), using, for confirmation of income collected and proceeds from disposal of securities, information furnished by the Auditor General of the Commonwealth.

(2) The tracing of the aggregate disbursements classified and warranted by the Auditor General of the Comonwealth, through the Treasury Department, and the aggregate disbursements classified and reported to us by the Bureaus and/or Agencies responsible for the operations of the State Workmen's Insurance Fund, the Unemployment Compensation Benefit and Contribution Funds, and the Administration Fund (for disbursements not warranted), as payments from the various Fund Accounts maintained in the Treasury Department.

(3) The examination of expenditures originating in the Treasury Department and applicable against the appropriations and allocations of that Department, excluding expenditures of the Board of Finance and Revenue other than those attributable to the operating expenses of that body.

(4) The confirmation of the balances appearing in the bank accounts under the direct control of the Treasury Department, by direct communincation with the several depositaries and the examination of related bank reconciliations prepared by the Treasury Department at October 31, 1941.

Receipts, Disbursements and Transfers

Pursuant to instructions, the ledgers relating to General and Special Fund Receipts and Fund Controls maintained by the Treasury Department were examined and the receipts, disbursements and transfers recorded therein applicable to the period under examination, as well as the respective fund balances at the beginning and end of the periods involved, were extracted therefrom and the receipts so determined of record were compared with the relative amounts reported to us by the Department of Revenue, the Auditor General (as to security transactions), the Administration and State Workmen's Insurance Funds and by the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation as to those applicable to the Unemployment Compensation Benefits and Contribution Funds. Similarly the aggregate of the disbursements were compared with the warranted payments reported to us by the Auditor General while the disbursements not warranted were compared with the reports submitted by the Bureaus and/or Agencies responsible for the operations of the State Workmen's Insurance Fund, the Unemployment Compensation Benefits and Contribution Funds and the Administration Fund.

A condensed summary of the receipts, disbursements and legislative transfers thus disclosed and confirmed for the period from June 1, 1940 to May 5, 1941 is set forth below: [See next page].

Inasmuch as the amount of $24,412,594.88 shown in the report of the Auditor General at May 31, 1940 as due to and from the various funds at that date, originated out-

Wide the p[illegible] covered by our examination, we did not confirm in any manner the balances due to and from the various funds [illegible] that date.

However, the general purpose and effect of the Legislative [illegible]fers applicable to the period from June 1, 1940 to May 5, 1941 may be established by a recapitulation and analysis of the aggregate shift of General Fund receipts as hereinafter noted:

RECAPITULATION OF GENERAL FUND TRANSFERS

Made During the Period from June 1, 1940 to May 5, 1941

Name of Custodial or Operating Fund Affected	Advanced or Paid by General Fund	Payments to General Fund	Net Balance Issuing From or to General Fund

	$100,000,000.00	$ 79,864,332.55	$ 20,135,667.45

In addition to the foregoing a transfer of $1,500,000.00 was effected from the Veterans' Compensation Fund to the Veterans' Compensation Sinking Fund, and together with the items hereinbefore enumerated covers all Legislative Transfers recorded in the Fund Ledgers maintained in the Treasury Department during the period from June 1940 to May 5, 1941.

Analysis of Transfers

A general analysis, in condensed form of the individual items shown in the preceding recapitulation distinguishes those which will be repaid in the succeeding period from those not subject to repayment and indicates the general purpose and effect of the latter as set forth hereunder:

ANALYSIS OF NET BALANCES ISSUING FROM AND TO FUNDS

Particulars		Amount
Advances by or to General Fund—
Not Subject to Repayment
Tax Note Sinking Fund		$100,000,000.00
Less:
Federal Rehabilitation Fund	$ 149,560.16
Federal Vocational Education Fund	1,314,772.39
Motor License Fund	4,400,000.00
State Stores Fund	16,000,000.00	21,864,332.55
		78,135,667.45
Advances to General Fund—Subject to Repayment
Fire Insurance Tax Fund	1,500,000.00
Liquid Fuel Tax Fund	8,900,000.00
Liquor License Fund	5,600,000.00
Motor License Fund	42,900,000.00	58,000,000.00
Net Balance Issuing From General Fund		$ 20,135,667.45

The Purpose and effect of the items shown above as not subject to repayment were as follows:

Provision for Retirement of of the Obligations of the Commonwealth on Tax Notes	$100,000,000.00
Less:
Provision for the Bureau of Motor Police statutorily authorized from the Motor License Fund	$ 4,000,000.00

Provision for the Department of Commerce statutorily authorized from the Motor License Fund	400,000.00
Liquor Profits Transmitted from State Stores for General Fund purposes	16,000,000.00
Rehabilitation Expenditures transmitted to General Fund by Federal Rehabilitation Fund	149,560.16
Vocational Education Expenditures transmitted to General Fund by Federal Vocational Education Fund	1,314,772.39	21,864,332.55
Total (Net)		$ 78,135,667.45

It was determined by reference to the Pamphlet Laws and the various Appropriation Acts enacted by the Legislature that the Legislative Transfers, including those subject to repayment were properly authorized. Further particulars of the receipts, legislative transfers and disbursements, classified as to General Fund and individual Custodial and Operating Funds will be found on Exhibit "A" annexed to and made a part of this report.

Expenditures Applicable Against Treasury Department Appropriations and Allocations

In connection with the scope of the examination previously outlined herein, the Appropriation Ledgers maintained in the Treasury Department were examined and data was extracted therefrom bearing upon the receipts and expenditures originating in the Treasury Department and chargeable against Treasury Department Appropriations and Allocations as previously mentioned. The expenditures of the Board of Finance and Revenue for other than operating expenses of that body were not examined. During the progress of this examination all transmittal slips, requisition and warrants supporting the receipts and expenditures originating in the Treasury Department for the purposes stated were inspected and found to be in order with the exceptions hereinafter specifically noted.

Attention is directed to the comments hereinafter set forth dealing particularly with the expenditures objectively classified as "Postage."

A condensed summary of the expenditures recorded in the Appropriation Ledgers for the period from June 1, 1940 to May 5, 1941 as applicbale against Treasury Department Appropriations and Allocations is presented hereunder:

Objective Classification	Total	Treasury Department	Board of Finance and Revenue	Public Assistance Administration Allocation

Total	$1,012,558.38	$314,181.97	$32,561.48	$665,824.93
Comparative Ratio	100.00%	31.02%	3.22%	65.76%

The comparative ratios set forth in the foregoing summary indicate that the expenditures charged against the allocation for Public Assistance Administration are somewhat more than 211% of the aggregate warranted expenditure charged against the Treasury Department Appropriations during the period under examination. The principal objective classifications contributing to this result are Salaries, Printing, Binding and Stationery, Traveling Expenses, Postage, Rent of Real Estate and Machinery and Equipment. In this connection it is pertinent to observe that although the salaries and wages attributable to Public Assistance Administration (See supplementary correspondence) are substantially higher than those recorded as being applicable against the Treasury Department Appropriations, the costs of Insurance, Surety and Fidelity Bonds, Materials and Supplies, and Motor Vehicles, charged against the Public Assistance Administration Allocation during the period were somewhat less than items charged to similar objective classifications applied against the Treasury Department Appropriations. It would appear that the financial administration of the Public Assistance activities of the Commonwealth entails the expenditure to an important degree of a great proportion of the available revenue than that required in connection with the functional operations of the Treasury Department. In this connection, however, it should be observed that certain applicable expenditures for Postage were not recorded against the Treasury Department Appropriations and the Public Assistance Administration Allocations in the period from June 1, 1940 to May 5, 1941, as hereinafter more specifically described.

Further particulars of the expenditures charged by objective classification against the aforementioned Appropriations and Allocations during the period examined, will be found on Exhibit "B" attached to and made a part of this report.

Receipts Transmitted to, and Deposit Balances Confirmed By Authorized Depositaries

The receipts recorded as deposits in the various Fund bank accounts in the reconciliation records of the Treasury Department, applicable to the period under examination, were extracted therefrom and the aggregate thereof was compared with the total receipts recorded in the Fund Ledgers. The individual Fund reconciliation records were examined in detail at October 31, 1941 and the checks listed as outstanding were tested by comparison with the cancelled checks paid and returned by the various banks subsequent to that date. In this connection, the balances shown by the reconciliation records as being on deposit at October 31, 1941 were confirmed by direct communication with the various depositaries.

In this connection the receipts held for deposit by the Bureau of Receipts in the Treasury Department at the close of business on November 26, 1941 were confirmed by actual count, traced as deposits to the bank statements on that date and reconciled with the receipts records to October 31, 1941.

Attention is invited to the comments appearing in subsequent paragraphs of this report dealing with the results of this phase of the examination.

In passing, it should be noted that while separate accounts have for many years been maintained in each of the active banks for each custodial and operating fund and the General Fund, we know of no legislative or statutory basis for such procedure. Therefore, in view of the many complexities arising as a consequence of this practice, i.e., transfers and adjustments of erroneous deposits, etc., it appears to be in order to suggest the discontinuance of the multitudinous accounts presently in operation and the substitution therefor of one operating account in each bank, with due regard, however, for the legislative qualification of the depositaries as to the ratio of deposits to the capital and surplus of each depositary. Under this procedure the receipts and disbursements applicable to each fund will continue to be recorded, as at present, in the existing Fund Ledgers. It has also been the practice for several years to issue numerous checks on the same day to the same individual payees and, in order to minimize the volume of detail work involved in the functional operation of the Department it is recommended, as a matter of operating expediency, that this procedure be changed to provide for combining the charges applicable to each vendee or payee, where it is practicable to do so, so that one check may be drawn in payment of such charges.

Commentary

The examination hereinbefore described, was designed to cover two specific periods, i. e., from June 1, 1940 to May 5, 1941 during the incumbency of the Honorable F. Clair Ross and that part of the term of office of the present State Treasurer, the Honorable G. Harold Wagner, running from May 5 to October 31, 1941. Therefore, for convenience the comments pertaining to the examination have been segregated and presented separately for each period so that the aforementioned officers of the Commonwealth may be presented with the report narrative dealing solely with the period applicable to their respective terms of office.

Comments Applicable To Examination For The Period From June 1, 1940 To May 5, 1941

Receipts

The examination of the accounts contained in the Fund Ledgers relating to the School Employees' Retirement Fund disclosed that losses aggregating $22,929.68 were sustained during this period upon the sale of United States Treasury ¾% Notes and charged against the account entitled "Premium on Sale or Redemption of Securities," as follows:

Cost of United States Treasury ¾% Notes Series "D", 1944, dated January 30, 1941 (Bonds No. 2,012-2,016, No. 405-6, and No. 1,016-30) acquired January 31, 1941 from Land Title Bank and Trust Company, Philadelphia to yield .75% (Warrant No. 252, 732, Requisition No. 654	2,100,000.00	3,850,000.00
Loss			11,757.81
Total Loss			$22,929.68

These were the only losses on the sale or redemption of securities which came under our observation as a a result of the tests applied to the Fund Ledgers pertaining to the confirmation of the receipts transmitted through the Treasury Department during the aforementioned period. We understand that these transactions were properly authorized and approved by Dr. H. H. Baesch, Secretary of the School Employees' Retirement Board, and, inasmuch as the School Employees' Retirement Fund is in the nature of a Custodial Fund, it appears that such authorization and approval is sufficient to discharge the responsibility of the State Treasurer relative to these transactions. The sales prices of the foregoing securities were found to be in approximate agreement with the market quotations prevailing at the dates of sale.

The work incident to the tracing of receipts in the form of transmittals to the State Employes' Retirement Fund disclosed deductions therefrom aggregating $49,198.23, as follows: (See supplementary correspondence)

March 18, 1941 Adjustment No. 1,337
To correct amount erroneously transmitted as appropriations from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania (Code No. 10,803) whereas State Annuity Payments by Other Agencies (Code No. 10,198) should have received the credit. Revenue Receipts No. RX-175,738 and RX-175,379 (see Treasury Receipt No. 51,744 dated January 18, 1940, Transmittal No. 735)	$35,922.17
March 18, 1941 Adjustment No. 1,338
To correct amount erroneously transmitted as appropriations from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania (Code No. 10,803) whereas State Annuity Payments by Other Agencies (Code No. 10,198) should have received the credit. Revenue Receipt BX-175,669 (see Treasury Receipt No. 48,480 dated January 18, 1940, Transmittal No. 733)	$13,276.07
Total	$49,198.24

The entries giving effect to these adjustments were for the purpose of correcting the erroneous classification of annuity payments by other agencies received in the preceding fiscal year and closed into the balance of the State Employees' Retirement Fund at June 1, 1940. Therefore, since a mere change in the classification of receipts included in the fund balance at June 1, 1940 does not either increase or diminish that balance and inasmuch as the receipts applicable to the period covered by our examination cannot be affected by these adjustments, the entries mentioned have been eliminated from the statements hereto annexed.

The Fund Ledgers maintained in the Treasury Department reflected under date of June 4, 1940 a transfer in the amount of $1,832.75 from the Unemployment Compensation Contribution Fund to the Unemployment Compensation Benefit Payment Fund as set forth on Receipt No. 10,609. In connection with our examination of the Fund Accounts it was observed that no legislative authority existed for a transfer of this character and upon further investigation it was disclosed that the amount mentioned was in respect of an adjustment between funds given effect to by the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation in the fund balances at May 31, 1940. Accordingly, in the appended statements this item has been treated as an adjustment and eliminated from the Legislative Transfers.

Under date of October 16, 1941, Receipt No. 010,638 recorded as General Fund receipts, check No. 5,029 of the Harrisburg Trust Company dated March 25, 1931 in the aggregate amount of $3,942.62 with the following explanation:

Particulars	Amount
Check of The Harrisburg Trust Company No. 5,029 dated March 25, 1931 covering checks drawn on the Harrisburg Trust Company's General Fund covering disbursement account Animal Industry, the endorsements of which checks were found to be forged in the amount of ..	$3,774.48
Together with interest on said amount at the rate of 2% per annum, as per claim of the Attorney General	168.14
Total	$3,942.62

Inquiry as to the whereabouts of this check for the period from March 25, 1931 to October 16, 1941, a period of more than ten years disclosed the fact that it was in the vault in the office of the State Treasurer. In this connection we were informed that the check was held in the Treasury vault pending instructions of the Attorney General to deposit it for collection and that such instructions were not received until October 16, 1941. Attention is invited to the fact that the interest received apparently was only for the period antedating March 25, 1931. It appears, therefore, that the check above mentioned was held in the custody of the State Treasurer undeposited, awaiting instructions from the Attorney General and had not been entered upon the records during the period from June 1, 1940 to May 5, 1941.

Warranted Expenditures

Upon examination of the warrants supporting the expenditures charged against Treasury Department Appropriations and Allocations, as hereinbefore recited, it was observed that Requisition No. 4 dated December 31, 1940 applicable to Warrant No. 247,124, Symbol No. 103,010 for the payment of $4,832.33 had not been signed in the space provided thereon for the approval of the State Treasurer. This expenditure which appears to be in order except for this formality, was charged to "Cost of Issuing Tax Anticipation Notes" and included an amount of $2,500.00 for attorneys' fees in connection therewith. In this connection it was also observed that in several instances Warrants and Requisitions covering fees paid to the Philadelphia National Bank for services as loan and transfer agent were not supported by invoices, viz:

Warrant No. 226,860 dated August 29, 1940	$2,812.50
Warrant No. 241,853 dated November 26, 1940	2,812.50
Warrant No. 257,259 dated February 27, 1941	2,812.50
Total	$8,437.50

We were informed that these payments were made in accordance with a contract entered into at the date of the bond issues by which the foregoing institution is designated as the transfer agent, but no such contract was produced for our inspection.

The Appropriation Ledgers maintained in the Treasury Department for the period from June 1, 1940 to May 5, 1941 recorded the transfer of expenditures aggregating $6,347.52 charged against Public Assistance Salaries and Expenses, Symbol 129,011 to the Treasury Department Public Assistance Allocation, Symbol 129,009, (1939-41 Biennium) and expenditures aggregating $2,856.04 charged against Treasury Department Public Assistance Allocation, Symbol No. 229,009, to Treasury Department Public Assistance Allocation (1939-41 Biennium) Symbol No. 129,009, all as set forth hereunder:

Particulars		Amount
September 29, 1940, Transfers from Symbol No. 129,011 to Symbol No. 129,009
Warrant No.	Requisition No.
228,100B	TR-15	$1,621.97
228,100A	TR-16	1,595.59
228,100C	TR-17	3,129.96
		$6,347.52

The formal explanation relative to these items furnished to us by representatives of the incumbent in office during the period above mentioned was as follows:

> "By the use of transfer requisitions the Department of Public Assistance is reimbursed from time to time by the State Treasury Department for a proportionate share of expenses incurred in the maintenance of regional officers. The requisitions in question cover the reimbursement of such expenses for the months of October, November, and December 1939 and January to May 1940, inclusive. The appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance for salaries and general expenses (Symbol No. 129,011) was properly credited and the State Treasury Department's appropriation allocation for Public Assistance administration (Symbol 129,009) was properly charged in each instance. The transfer requisitions are supported by itemized statements of expenses chargeable to the State Treasury Department."

From Symbol No. 229,009 to Symbol No. 129,009

September 3, 1940—Warrant No. 227,400B, Requisition No. TR-3	$2.362.47
September 25, 1940—Warrant No. 231,000C, Requisition No. TR-4	493.57
	$2,856.04

The formal explanation furnished to us relative to the latter by representatives of the incumbent in office during the period mentioned, appears to be in order, and was as follows:

> "(3) Transfer Requisitions No. 3 and No. 4 covered by warrants No. 227,400B and No. 231,000C amounting to $2,362.47 and $493.57 respectively.
> "The transfer of the charges from Symbol No. 229,-009 (Treasury Department Public Assistance Allocation for the fiscal year June 1, 1940 to May 31, 1941) to Symbol 129,009 (Treasury Department Public Assistance Allocation for the fiscal year June 1, 1939 to May 31, 1940) was occasioned by the fact that the invoices covered by the requisitions and warrants in question were originally committed against the Treasury Department Public Assistance Allocation of $1,000,000.00 granted under the provisions of the Act of 1939, No. 28A (Symbol 129,009) which was terminated as of May 31, 1940 by the 1940 Extraordinary Session of the Legislature. A new allocation of $550,-000.00 was set up to operate the Bureau of Assistance, State Treasury Department, for the remainder of the 1939-41 biennium, out of which the invoices in question were then paid (Symbol 229,009). Subsequently the Governor allocated out of funds appropriated under Act of 1939, No. 28A, Symbol No. 129,009, a sum sufficient to meet commitments made prior to June 1, 1940. Hence the transfer of charges totalling $2,856.04 from Symbol No. 229,009 to Symbol No. 129,009."

It will be observed by reference to the foregoing that the transfers from Symbol No. 129,011 to Symbol No. 129,009 shown above are all to cover reimbursements of the proportionate share of the expenses of maintaining the Public Assistance regional offices "for the months of October, November and December 1939 and January to May 1940". These do not properly constitute expenditures actually made during the period covered by our examination (June 1, 1940 to May 5, 1941) although on the biennial basis the transfers appear to be proper. Inasmuch as the attached statement (Exhibit "B") reflects only the expenditures for the period from June 1, 1940 to May 5, 1941 it is manifest that the credits amounting to $6,347.52 against Symbol 129,009 have the effect of understating the expenditures applicable to that symbol actually made during the period under examination since the items requiring adjustment were admittedly made and charged against Symbol No. 129,009 during the last three months of 1939 and the five months ended May 31, 1940 and were not, therefore, included as charges in Exhibit "B".

Particulars of the objective classifications affected are shown below:

Object No.	Classification	Amount
11	Salaries	$1,063 30
23	Materials and Supplies	106.19
35	Telephone and Telegraph	118 93
41	Light, Heat and Power	1,040.05
43	Rent of Real Estate	3,945.80
46	Other Maintenance Services	72.95
	Total	$6.347.52

No effect has been given in the statements herewith submitted to the elimination of the foregoing transfers.

Expenditures Charged to Postage—Objective Classification No. 34

By reference to Exhibit "B" annexed to and made a part of this report, it will be noted that expenditures for postage during the period from June 1, 1940 to May 5, 1941 aggregated $216,391.06 as follows:

Particulars	Amount
Charges Against:
Treasury Appropriation	$ 40.00
Board of Finance and Revenue Appropriation	1,007.50
Public Assistance Administration Allocation	167,268.61
Public Assistance Allocation—Deficiency Appropriation	48,074.95
Total	$216,391.06

In this connection attention is invited to the fact that at June 1, 1940 checks charged against Postage were listed as outstanding although held in the Treasury Department until long after that date, as set forth hereunder:

Particulars	Amount
Check No. U476,784, dated April 19, 1939, drawn on the Philadelphia National Bank (Warrant No. 145,096, Requisition No. 288) to the order of Leo A. Werner, Postmaster, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania and charged to Object No. 34—Postage—Symbol No. 903,002		$10,000.00
Check No. U432,105, dated February 27, 1939, drawn on the Philadelphia National Bank (Warrant No. 136,288, Requisition No. 259) to the order of Leo A. Werner, Acting Postmaster and charged to Object No. 34—Postage—Symbol No. 903,002		10,000.00
Check No. V406,901, dated December 2, 1938, drawn on the Central Penn National Bank (Warrant No. 120,561, Requisition No. 224) to the order of Postmaster, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania and charged to Object No. 34—Postage—Symbol No. 903,002	$1,200.00
Check No. V406,900, dated December 2, 1938 drawn on the Central Penn National Bank (Warrant No. 136,288, Requisition No. 259) to the order of Postmaster, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, and charged to Object No. 34—Postage—Symbol No. 903,002	5,000.00
Check No. 406,901½ dated December 2, 1938, drawn on the Central Penn National Bank (Warrant No. 120,561, Requisition No. 224) to the order of Postmaster, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, and charged to Object No. 34—Postage, Symbol No. 903,002	3,800.00	10,000.00
Check No. 406,761, dated December 2, 1938, drawn on the Central Penn National Bank (Warrant No. 120,470, Requisition No. 92) to the order of Postmaster, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, and charged to Object No. 34—Postage—Symbol No. 903,035		800.00
Total		$30,800.00

The symbol numbers indicate quite clearly that these checks (with the exception of check No. 460,761) were charged against the Treasury Department Appropriation for the 1937-39 Biennium (June 1, 1937 to May 31, 1939) and that check No. 460,761 was charged against the salaries and General Expenses of the State Employees' Retirement Board.

Documentary evidence was examined which established the fact that the foregoing checks were paid and partly applied in payment of expenses of the 1939-41 Biennium on the dates and in the manner hereinafter set forth, viz:

Particulars	Amount
Check No. U432,105, Paid on February 23, 1940 upon redeposit and endorsement by F. Clair Ross, State Treasurer	$10,000.00
Check No. U406,901, Paid June 15, 1940 upon redeposit to the credit of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and endorsement by the State Treasurer for deposit with the Pennsylvania Company for Insurance on Lives, etc.	1,200.00
Check No. 406,901½, Paid June 12, 1940 upon endorsement of Leo A. Werner, Postmaster	3,800.00
Check No. 406,900, Paid August 19, 1940 upon endorsement of Leo A. Werner, Postmaster, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania	5,000.00
Check No. U476,784, Paid August 19, 1940 upon endorsement of Leo A. Werner, Postmaster, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania	10,000.00
Check No. 406,761, Paid August 19, 1940 upon endorsement of Leo A. Werner, Postmaster	800.00
Total	$30,800.00

Incidentally, a careful inspection of the cancelled checks above enumerated revealed that the usual validation stamp authorizing payment subsequent to the sixty day period as printed on the face of the checks, does not appear thereon. Attention is also directed to the fact that at least one of the items listed have been charged against a different Budgetary Symbol Classification and is presently being used to meet expenses ordinarily charged against the regular Treasury Appropriations.

The first two items listed above, upon redeposit to the credit of the Commonwealth, were recorded and restored in 1940 to the appropriation to which the expenditure was orginally applied, although the amount of $1,200.00 was not so recorded until attention was directed thereto during the progress of our examination. The amounts of $3,800.00 and $800.00 identified above as Checks Number 406.901½ and 406.761, respectively, together with $800.00 representing a portion of Check Number 406,900, were used and applied in payment of postage charges on Meter No. 58,031 (Treasury Dpeartment) incurred on June 13, 1940 ($3,800.00) and August 15, 1940 ($1,600.00) neither of which were charged as expenditures against Objective Classification No. 34 during the period from June 1, 1940 to May 5, 1941 to which they were applicable. The records of the Postmaster at Harrisburg indicate that on August 16, 1940 stamps in the aggregate amount of $14,200.00 were purchased for the Treasury Department which, according to the best information available were placed in the vault, and, to a large extent, were still on hand at January 26, 1942, the date of our count of the stamp inventory in the Treasury Department. In connection with our examination it was disclosed that no inventory records were maintained of this substantial amount of postage and that the program covering the annual examination of the accounts of the State Treasurer by the Auditor General for the fiscal year ended May 31, 1940, and subsequently, among other things, provided:

> "Ascertain the amount of postage on hand as of the present date and May 31, 1940 and inquire if checks covering postage purchases were on hand as of May 31, 1940, or at the present date."

This item was marked on the program as having been assigned to a Mr. Miller and was checked, presumably to indicate the completion of the work. Upon inquiry at the office of the Auditor General for the working papers covering the inventories of postage at May 31, 1940 and thereafter, we were informed that the work outlined in the program, as hereinbefore noted, was not in fact performed and no working papers were, therefore, available dealing with this matter.

The shifting of charges from one fiscal period to another, through the medium of issuing checks in the first period and using them to meet charges applicable to a second or subsequent periods, appears to be in direct violation of the provisions of the General Appropriation Act No. 103-A of 1937, viz:

> "The following sums, or as much thereof as may necessary, are hereby specifically appropriated from the General Fund to the several hereinafter named agencies of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth, for the purposes hereinafter set forth, for the two years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven, and for the payment of bills incurred by said agencies and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven."

The General Appropriation Act of 1939 (No. 69-A) was to the same effect except that it covered the two Fiscal years beginning June 1, 1939 and provided for the payment of the bills incurred by said agencies and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May 31, 1939. Charges or bills are not "incurred" merely through the issuance and withholding of checks and in both of the Acts to which reference is made the appropriations were "specifically" made from the General Fund for the purposes stated in the Acts. Therefore, these expenditures were statutorily unauthorized, although supported by Warrants issued by the Auditor General and, inasmuch as we are informed that the unexpended balance of the Appropriation for the 1937-39 Biennium (Symbol 903,002) lapsed in January 1942, the records of the Treasury Department should be corrected to indicate that an additional amount of $20,800.00 was applicable to such lapsed appropriation and the expenditures for the 1939-41 Biennium (two fiscal years beginning June 1, 1939) should be increased in a corresponding amount.

Inasmuch as the Appropriation Ledger discloses that the latter appropriation ($650,000.00) has been fully expended, it would appear that after taking into account the adjustment, previously mentioned, the 1939-41 appropriation will have been exceeded by $20,800.00.

In addition to the foregoing our examination disclosed that on October 9, 1940 charges were incurred in the Philadelphia Regional Office of the Bureau of Public Assistance applicable against the Treasury Department Public Assistance Administration Allocation in the amount of $6,124.29 for which no charge appeared against Treasury Department Appropriation or Allocations in the Appropriation Ledgers during the period from June 1, 1940 to May 5, 1941. The aforementioned amount was in respect of metered postage expenditures incurred in the Philadelphia Regional Office at that date and was paid by Check No. V39,393 dated April 12, 1940 drawn by the Department of Labor and Industry against the Administration Fund account to the order of the State Treasurer. The receipt of this check was not reported to the Department of Revenue by the State Treasurer and was endorsed by the latter and used to pay metered postage charges as aforesaid. Therefore it is self-evident that the General Fund receipts and the expenditures chargeable against the Treasury Department Public Assistance Administration Allocation have, by this action, been understated for the period from June 1, 1940 to May 5, 1941 to the extent of $6,124.29, and, inasmuch as the check previously mentioned was quite obviously charged against the Administration Fund expenditures during the period prior to May 31, 1940, it is also manifest that the charges of one fiscal period have been relieved of expenses through the medium of an outstanding check issued in the preceding fiscal year. In view of the fact that the Appropriation Ledgers disclose that the Treasury Department Public Assistance Administration Allocation ($846,045.00) for the two fiscal years ending May 31, 1941 has been expended and no charge has been included in such expenditures made for metered postage in the amount of $6,124.29, it seems to be clear that the Allocation for the period mentioned has been improperly exceeded to that extent. General Fund receipts for the fiscal year ended May 31, 1940 have been omitted from the Appropriation Records and the amounts reported as receipts to the Department of Revenue were therefore improperly understated, in the amount of $6,124.29.

In the absence of records as to the postage on hand in the form of stamps we were unable to accurately determine the inventory thereof at June 1, 1940 and consequently could not establish with any degree of exactitude the amount of stamps actually used during the period under examination. However, starting with the purchase of August 16, 1940 as confirmed by reference to the records of the Postmaster at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, and after giving effect to the requisitions issued by the various Bureaus for stamps during the period intervening between that date and May 5, 1941, the inventory exclusive of stamps acquired prior to August 16, 1940 would appear to have been substantially as follows:

August 16, 1940 Stamps Purchased per Checks No. 406,900 and No. U476,784 drawn on the Central Penn National Bank and the Philadelphia National Bank	$14,200.00
Deduct:
Requisitions drawn for the period from August 20, 1940 to May 5, 1941	1,420.70
Balance at May 5, 1941	$12,779.30

In computing the foregoing amount of postage presumed to be on hand at May 5, 1941, no effect has been given to stamps used by the Bureau of Securities in the Treasury Department during the period covered thereby, for which no requisitions were prepared or filed.

By reference to the count of postage on hand at January 26, 1942 and taking into account requisitions for stamps issued subsequent to May 5, 1941 it would appear that postage, at least to the extent of $12,779.30, should have been on hand at May 5, 1941.

Confirmation of Balances Appearing in the Bank Accounts and the Examination of Related Bank Reconciliations Prepared by the Treasury Department

In the execution of the work pertaining to the examination of bank reconciliations prepared by the Bureau of Reconciliation in the Treasury Department at October 31, 1941, it was noted that numerous old bank charges applicable to the period prior to May 5, 1941 were unadjusted upon the records of the Treasury Department at that date as set forth on Exhibit "C" appended to this report. Many of these charges represent errors such as cannot be deemed to be attributable to the banks, and to that extent should have been adjusted upon the records maintained in the Treasury Department during the period from June 1, 1940 to May 5, 1941 or prior thereto. To the extent that the items enumerated affect lapsed appropriations or appropriations and allocations which have been fully expended it would appear that special authority will have to be obtained for such adjustments.

It is therefore suggested that immediate action be taken to the end that current differences may be reconciled and adjustments made upon the books and records maintained in the Treasury Department, so that further difficulties in that direction may be avoided.

Conclusion

By the terms of our engagement no investigation was conducted by us relative to the adequacy of the system of internal control or of the assignments and proficiency of the personnel of the Treasury Department, nor did we determine the propriety of the expenditures warranted by the Auditor General as submitted to the Treasury Department for payment, other than those applicable directly to the latter Department. (See supplementary correspondence)

With the exception of the irregularities set forth and discussed in page 10 to 26 of this report and based upon the examination made as hereinbefore described, we found the recorded receipts of the State Treasurer to have been duly deposited and disbursements therefrom to have been made upon proper authority during the period from June 1, 1940 to May 5, 1941.

Respectfully submitted

REPORT ON EXAMINATION OF THE RECEIPTS DISBURSEMENTS AND FUND BALANCES OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLLVANIA AS RECORDED BY THE STATE TREASURER

May 5, 1941 to October 31, 1941

March 19, 1942.

Honorable Arthur H. James, Governor
Honorable G. Harold Wagner, State Treasurer
Honorable F. Clair Ross, Auditor General
Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Harrisburg, Pa.

Dear Sirs:

In accordance with your instructions, we have made an examination, limited and restricted as hereinafter more specifically described, of certain records maintained in the Treasury Department of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, for the period from June 1, 1940 to October 31, 1941, for the purpose of determining the extent to which funds transmitted to that Department were recorded as receipts, and, disbursements made therefrom were authorized by formal warrants executed by the Auditor General of the Commonwealth, during the period mentioned.

Scope of Examination

The aforementioned examination was limited and restricted by agreement between the parties at interest, to the following:

(1) The tracing of the aggregate receipts as classified and reported to us by the Department of Revenue as well as those originating in the Treasury Department and those reported by the Bureaus and/or Agencies responsible for the operations of the State Workmen's Insurance Fund, the Unemployment Compensation Benefits and Contribution Funds and the Administration Fund, as deposits in the bank accounts of the Treasury Department (noting that receipts originating in the Treasury Department were reported to the Department of Revenue), using for confirmation of income collected and proceeds from disposal of securities, information furnished by the Auditor General of the Commonwealth.

(2) The tracing of the aggregate disbursements classified and reported as warranted by the Auditor General of the Commonwealth, through the Treasury Department, and the aggregate disbursements classified and reported to us by the Bureaus and/or Agencies responsible for the operations of the State Workmen's Insurance Fund, the Unemployment Compensation Benefit and Contribution Funds, and the Administration Fund (for disbursements not warranted), as payments from the various Fund Accounts maintained in the Treasury Department.

(3) The examination of expenditures originating in the Treasury Department and applicable against the appropriations and allocations of that Department, excluding expenditures of the Board of Finance and Revenue other than those attributable to the operating expenses of that body.

(4) The confirmation of the balances appearing in the bank accounts under the direct control of the Treasury Department, by direct communication with the several depositaries and the examination of related bank reconciliations prepared by the Treasury Department at October 31, 1941.

Receipts, Disbursements and Transfers

Pursuant to instructions, the ledgers relating to General and Special Fund Receipts and Fund Controls maintained by the Treasury Department were examined and the receipts, disbursements and transfers recorded therein applicable to the period under examination, as well as the respective fund balances at the beginning and end of the periods involved, were extracted therefrom and the receipts so determined of record were compared with the relative amounts reported to us by the Department of Revenue, the Auditor General (as to security transactions), the Administration and State Workmen's Insurance Funds and by the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation as to those applicable to the Unemployment Compensation Benefits and Contribution Funds. Similarly the aggregate of the disbursements were compared with the warranted payments reported to us by the Auditor General while the disbursements not warranted were compared with the reports submitted by the Bureaus and/or Agencies responsible for the operations of the State Workmen's Insurance Fund, the Unemployment Compensation Benefits and Contribution Funds and the Administration Fund.

A condensed summary of the receipts, disbursements and legislative transfers thus disclosed and confirmed for the period from May 5, 1941 to October 31, 1941, is set forth below:

	$136,176,325.85	$.....	$ 54,152,854.31	$ 82,023,471.54

Inasmuch as the amount of $24,412,594.88 shown in the report of the Auditor General at May 31, 1940 as due to and from the various funds at that date originated outside the period covered by our examination, we did not confirm in any manner the balance due to and from the various funds at that date.

However, balance due from the various Funds at May 5, 1941 and the general purpose and effect of the Legislative Transfers applicable to the period from May 5, 1941 to October 31, 1941 may be established by a recapitulation and analysis of the aggregate shift of General Fund receipts, as hereinafter noted:

Recapitulation of General Fund Transfers Made During The Period From May 5, 1941 To October 31, 1941

Totals	$58,000,000.00	$22,376,308.38	$100,669,712.11	$20,293,402.73

The foregoing items cover all Legislative Transfers arising during the period covered by our examination and recorded in the Fund Ledgers maintained in the Treasury Department with one exception which will be discussed elsewhere in this report.

Analysis of Transfers

Legislative Transfers effected during the period from May 5, 1941 to October 31, 1941 together with those arising during the period from June 1, 1940 to May 5, 1941, and refundable, were all repaid with the exception of those hereinafter specifically mentioned which are not subject to repayment. A general analysis, in condensed form, of the individual items shown in the foregoing recapitulation will serve to indicate the general purpose and effect of the net balance issuing from or to the General Fund, during the period mentioned, as set forth hereunder:

Analysis of Net Balances Issuing From and To The General Fund

Advances By or To General Fund—
Not Subject to Repayment
Provision for Retirement of Obligations of the Commonwealth on Tax Notes		$25,000,000.00
Expenditures pertaining to Administration of Unemployment Compensation		509,712.11
Provision for Expenses of Milk Control Board statutorily authorized from General Fund		60,000.00
		25,569,712.11
Provision for the Bureau of Motor Police statutorily authorized from Motor License Fund	$1,000,000.00
Liquor Profits Transmitted from State Stores for General Fund Purposes	3,000,000.00
Rehabilitation Expenditures transmitted to General Fund by Federal Rehabilitation Fund	55,706.89
Vocational Education Expenditures transmitted to General Fund by Federal Vocational Education Fund	1,220,601.49	5,276,308.38
Total (Net)		$20,293,403.73

It was determined by reference to the Pamphlet Laws and the various appropriation acts enacted by the Legislature that the Legislative Transfers, including those subject to repayment, were properly authorized. Further particulars of the receipts, legislative transfers and disbursements, classified as to General Fund and individual Custodial and Operating Funds will be found on Exhibit "A" annexed to and made a part of this report.

Expenditures Applicable Against Treasury Department Appropriations and Allocations

In conformity with the scope of the examination previously outlined herein, the Appropriation Ledgers maintained in the Treasury Department were examined and data was extracted therefrom bearing upon the receipts and expenditures originating in the Treasury Department and chargeable against Treasury Department Appropriations and Allocations as previously mentioned. The expenditures of the Board of Finance and Revenue for other than operating expenses of that body were not examined. During the progress of this examination all transmittal slips, requisitions and warrants supporting the receipts and expenditures originating in the Treasury Department for the purposes stated were inspected and found to be in order with the exceptions hereinafter specifically noted.

Attention is directed to the comments hereinafter set forth dealing particularly with the expenditures objecively classified as "Postage".

A condensed summary of the expenditures recorded in the Appropriation Ledgers for the period from May 5, 1941 to October 31, 1941 as applicable against Treasury Department Appropriations and Allocations is presented hereunder:

Objective Classification	Total	Treasury Department	Board of Finance and Revenue	Public Assistance Administration Allocation
Salary of State Treasurer	$6,000.00	$6,000.00	.....	.....
Other Salaries and Expenses
Salaries	$353,732.73	$142,829.41	$14,400.69	$196,502.63
Printing, Binding and Stationery	27,911.61	8,144.80	918.90	18,847.91
Materials & Supplies	7,443.59	3,224.46	574.40	3,644.73
Traveling Expenses	9,588.01	3,115.45	.....	6,472.56
Postage	116,511.85	9,520.00	.....	106,991.85
Rent of Real Estate	3,780.68	154.00	.....	3,626.68
Insurance, Surety and Fidelity Bonds	7,605.30	3,414.11	23.83	4,167.36
Motor Vehicles	7,449.45	3,604.45	.....	3,845.00
Machinery and Equipment	5,896.66	1,905.65	954.15	3,036.86
Sundry Expenses	20,169.72	5,891.82	5,431.29	8,846.61
Total	$560,089.60	$181,804.15	$22,303.26	$355,982.19
Comparative Ratio	100.0%	32.46%	3.98%	63.56%

The comparative ratios set forth in the foregoing summary indicate that the expenditures charged against the allocation for Public Assistance Administration are approximately 195% of the aggregate warranted expenditures charged against the Treasury Department Appropriations during the period under examination.

By reference to the expenditures made for similar objective classifications in the preceding period, i. e., from June 1, 1940 to May 5, 1941, it would appear that, on an annual basis, the expenditures made during the period from May 5, 1941 to October 31, 1941 for Printing, Binding and Stationery, Materials and Supplies, Insurance Surety and Fidelity Bonds and Sundry Expenses chargeable against Public Assistance Allocation would be somewhat higher than similar items applicable to the first period above mentioned. Conversely, the expenditures for Salaries and Wages, Traveling Expenses and Postage (after making adjustments for items applicable to the latter classification and those not applicable thereto as set forth in the reports covering the examination of the accounts of both periods) would be slightly lower for the period subsequent to May 5, 1941.

The foregoing would also be true of the expenditures charged against the Treasury Department Appropriations for these objective classifications, except that the expenditures for Materials and Supplies and Insurance, Surety and Fidelity Bonds applicable to the period from May 5, 1941 to October 31, 1941 would be somewhat lower.

Further particulars of the expenditures charged by objective classification against the aforementioned Appropriations and Allocations during the period examined, will be found on Exhibit "B" attached to and made a part of this report.

Receipts Transmitted to and Deposit Balances Confirmed By Authorized Depositaries

The receipts recorded as deposits in the various Fund bank accounts in the reconciliation records of the Treasury Department, applicable to the period under examination, were extracted therefrom and the aggregate thereof was compared with the total receipts recorded in the Fund Ledgers. The individual Fund reconciliation records were examined in detail at October 31, 1941 and the checks listed as outstanding were tested by comparison with the cancelled checks paid and returned by the various banks subsequent to that date. In this connection, the balance shown by the reconciliation records as being on deposit at October 31, 1941 were confirmed by direct communication with the various depositaries.

In this connection the receipts held for deposit by the Bureau of Receipts in the Treasury Department at the close of business on November 26, 1941 were confirmed by actual count, traced as deposits to the bank statements on that date and reconciled with the receipts records to October 31, 1941.

Attention is invited to the comments appearing in subsequent paragraphs of this report dealing with the results of this phase of the examination.

In passing, it should be noted that while separate accounts have for many years been maintained in each of the active banks for each custodial and operating fund and the General Fund, we know of no legislative or statutory basis for such procedure. Therefore, in view of the many complexities arising as a consequence of this practice, i. e., transfers and adjustments of erroneous deposits, etc., it appears to be in order to suggest the discontinuance of the multitudinous accounts presently in operation and the substitution therefor of one operating account in each bank, with due regard however, for the legislative qualification of the depositaries as to the ratio of the deposits to the capital and surplus of each depositary. Under this procedure the receipts and disbursements applicable to each fund will continue to be recorded, as at present, in the existing Fund Ledgers. It has also been the practice for several years to issue numerous checks on the same day to the same individual payees and, in order to minimize the volume of detail work involved in the functional operation of the Department it is recommended, as a matter of operating expediency, that this procedure be changed to provide for combining the charges applicable to each vendee or payee, where it is practicable to do so, so that one check may be drawn in payment of such charges.

Further particulars of the balances recorded in the individual general, custodial and operating fund bank accounts at October 31, 1941, are set forth on Exhibit "C" hereto appended and made a part of this report. Pertinent comments relative to the various accounts shown on the aforementioned exhibit are contained in subsequent paragraphs of this report.

Commentary

The examination hereinbefore described, was designed to cover two specific periods, i. e., from June 1, 1940 to May 5, 1941 during the incumbency of the Honorable F. Clair Ross and that part of the term of office of the present State Treasurer, the Honorable G. Harold Wagner, running from May 5 to October 31, 1941. Therefore, for convenience, the comments pertaining to the examination have been segregated and presented separately for each period so that the aforementioned officers of the Commonwealth may be presented with the report narrative dealing only with the period applicable to their respective terms of office.

Comments Applicable to Examination For the Period From May 5, 1941 to October 31, 1941

Receipts

Securities and Interest Thereon in Default

In connection with the examination of the records of the Treasury Department relating to receipts for the period from May 5, 1941 to October 31, 1941 it was noted that bonds and interest were in default at the latter date in the aggregate amount of $836,347.64 as shown in the following summary:

The bonds and coupons included in the foregoing summary had been eliminated at October 31, 1941 from the receipts reflected in the Fund Ledgers and in reconciliations forming a part of the records of the Treasury Department (except for the items hereinafter enumerated as having been eliminated from receipts subsequent to October 31, 1941) and were confirmed by reference to the security records in the possession of the Auditor General.

In connection with the foregoing it was noted that the default record kept by the Bureau of Securities in the Treasury Department was not being maintained in satisfactory condition and was not in agreement with the corresponding record in the possession of the Auditor General. It is suggested that a reconcilement be effected between these records and that improvement be made in the form and condition thereof.

Securities and Bond Coupons Deposited for Collection

Bonds and coupons deposited for collection at October 31, 1941 in the aggregate amount of $611,463.74 were included in the recorded receipts at that date notwithstanding the fact that such collection items were not treated as deposits by the depositaries and hence were not included in the balances confirmed to us by the depositaries. A condensed summary of the items involved is set forth below:

The bonds and coupons deposited for collection were traced to the bank statements as deposits subsequent to October 31, 1941 and those not paid were thereafter eliminated from the receipts. Particulars of the items considered as receipts at October 31, 1941 and subsequently written off, as previously mentioned, are noted hereunder:

Particulars	Due	Total	Accounts Affected: Bonds Redeemed	Accounts Affected: Interest on Securities
School Employees' Retirement Fund
Buffington Township	11/ 1/41	$ 900.00	$.....	$ 900.00

Totals		$6,527.50	$2,000.00	$4,527.50

The amounts listed above have been included in the summary of bonds and interest in default at October 31, 1941 hereinbefore set forth, and do not therefore constitute additional defaulted items.

Deposits In Transit

In connection with our examination of the records relating to deposits in transit at October 31, 1941, we were informed by the Pennsylvania Company for Insurance on Lives and Granting Annuities that the amount of $73,591.47 shown as a deposit in transit was included in the bank balance in the account with that institution pertaining to the State Stores Fund on October 31, 1941, and that bank charges aggregating $326.25 were deducted on that date from the balance on deposit applicable to the General Fund. These transactions were recorded on the books and in the bank statements on November 1, 1941. The aforementioned bank, however, insists that they were October 31, 1941 transactions and were not therefore in transit at that date. The remainder of the deposits in transit at the latter date were properly reflected as deposits on the daily statements submitted by the individual banks immediately subsequent to October 31, 1941.

On October 16, 1941 Receipt No. 010,638 recorded the receipt in the Treasury Department of Check No. 5,029 drawn by the Harrisburg Trust Company dated March 25, 1931 in the amount of $3,942.62 in satisfaction of a claim with respect to forged checks originating in the Bureau of Animal Industry, together with interest thereon. Inquiry was made of the Bureau of Receipts in the Treasury Department as to the delay in depositing this item and we were informed that the check had been held in the vault in the Treasury Department since it was received in 1931 pending instructions from the office of the Attorney General to deposit it for collection, and that such instructions were received on October 16, 1941. It is suggested that an examination be made of the contents of the vault to ascertain if any other items of a similar nature are being held by the Treasury Department for similar reasons to the end that instructions relative to any such items may be expedited and entries therefor be made currently upon the records.

In connection with the item above referred to, attention is invited to the fact that in the foregoing settlement the interest received apparently was only for the period antedating March 25, 1931 and no interest was received on the amount involved during the ten years that the check was held prior to the recorded date of receipt, October 16, 1941.

Legislative Transfers

The Fund Ledgers maintained in the Treasury Department for the period from May 5, 1941 to October 31, 1941 indicate that Legislative Transfers were made from the Custodial and Operating Funds to the General Fund aggregating $37,376,308.38 and from the General Fund to the Custodial and Operating Funds in the amount of $115,669,712.11, as follows

Name of Fund	Transfers From	Transfers To
Motor License	$ 62,550,000.00	$ 21,550,000.00
Administration	509,712.11	.....
Federal Rehabilitation	.....	55,706.89
Federal Vocational Education	.....	1,220,601.49
Fire Insurance Tax	2,300,000.00	800,000.00
Liquor License	7,250,000.00	1,650,000.00
Liquid Fuels Tax	11,000,000.00	2,100,000.00
Milk Control	60,000.00	.....
Tax Note Sinking	25,000,000.00	.....
State School	2,000,000.00	2,000,000.00
State Stores	5,000,000.00	8,000,000.00
Totals	$115,669,712.11	$ 37,376,308.38

Upon comparison of the aggregate of the transfers hereinbefore enumerated with statements submitted for our inspection by the Secretary of the Budget for the purpose of authenticating the Legislative authority therefor, it was noted that the amounts recorded as transfers to the General Fund from the Motor License Fund were $15,000,000.00 in excess of the aggregate amount shown on such statements applicable to the latter Fund. Thereafter in tracing the legislative authority for the transfers hereinbefore mentioned it developed that two transfers of $15,000,000.00 each were recorded in the Fund Ledgers as being made from the Motor License Fund to the General Fund covering the two periods from June 1, 1940 to May 5, 1941 and from May 5, 1941 to October 31, 1941, as follows:

Date	Amount
September 19, 1940	$ 2,500,000.00
September 26, 1940	2,500,000.00
October 7, 1940	2,500,000.00
October 17, 1940	2,500,000.00
November 27, 1940	5,000,000.00
	15,000,000.00
May 19, 1941	15,000,000.00
Total	$30,000,000.00

In this connection we were informed that the amount of $15,000,000.00 transferred to the General Fund during the period prior to May 5, 1941 was authorized under the general provisions of Act No. 263 approved May 26, 1933 and thereafter it was decided that this transfer was covered by the provisions of Act No. 1 of the 1940 Special Session of the Legislature, so that on May 19, 1941 a further transfer of $15,000,000.00 from the Motor License Fund to the General Fund was recorded in the Fund Ledgers. In this connection it was observed that the legislative transfers from the Motor License Fund to the General Fund included in the statement furnished to us by the Secretary of the Budget for the purpose of confirming the authority for the legislative transfers applicable to the period under review, were $15,000,000.00 less than the transfers actually recorded in the Fund Ledgers maintained in the Treasury Department, inasmuch as the second transfer, which was evidently regarded as a duplication, was eliminated in such statements by offset.

This matter was discussed with the State Treasurer prior to the issuance fo this report and we were informed at that time that the Fund Ledgers would be adjusted to eliminate the second transfer hereinbefore mentioned. Therefore in the statements herewith submitted this adjustment has been made by offset and elimination.

Warranted Expenditures

Upon examination of the warrants supporting the expenditures charged against Treasury Department Appropriations and Allocations, as hereinbefore recited, it was observed that Warrant No. 8,700, Requisition No. 353 (Symbol #103,002) dated June 26, 1941, Purchase Request No. B21,627 dated April 21, 1941, specified that $1,195.00 be charged against Object No. 51, Motor Vehicles. The documents mentioned indicate the intention to charge this expenditure against Appropriation Symbol No. 129,009 (Public Assistance Allocation) whereas the charge was actually made in the Appropriation Ledger against Symbol No. 103,002, Object No. 51, Treasury Appropriation. Inquiry was made of the State Treasurer relative to this item and we were informed that the latter charge is correct.

In the execution of the work incident to the examination of the accounts for the period from May 5, 1941, to October 31, 1941 it came to our notice that on May 28, 1941, Warrant No. 3,709A (Transfer No. 1) in the amount of $2,000.00 was entered in the Appropriation Ledgers as a credit against the Board of Finance and Revenue Appropriation "Compensation of Loan and Transfer Agent" (Symbol #103,009) and charged against "Cost of Issuing Tax Anticipation Notes" (Symbol #103,010). Inquiry was made of the State Treasurer relative to this adjustment and we were informed that the credit to Symbol #103,009 above mentioned was in respect of charges entered under Requisition No. 5 dated May 29, 1940 ($1,000.00) and Requisition No. 9, Warrant No. 267,575 dated April 29, 1941 ($1,000.00) both of which were charged to "Compensation of Loan and Transfer Agent." Therefore it is self-evident that the charges applicable to the latter account were relieved to the extent of $2,000.00 during the period from May 5, 1941 to October 31, 1941, while only $1,000.00 was charged to that account during the same fiscal period. The expenditures with respect to the accounts affected by this adjustment are not shown on the statements appended to this report for the reason that they are not regarded as operating expenses of the Board of Finance and Revenue such as were considered to be within the scope of our examination. The matter of the adjustment hereinbefore noted is merely mentioned as an item which came to our attention during the progress of our examination.

The statement of cash in banks at October 31, 1941 prepared by the Bureau of Receipts from records maintained in the Treasury Department indicated that balances of $221,492.98 and $130,369.66 were held at that date by the Philadelphia National Bank and the Harrisburg

Trust Company, respectively, for the account of the State School Fund. The record of the Bureau of Reconciliation, also a part of the Treasury Department at the date mentioned, show the balances of these accounts to be $171,511.98 and $180,350.66, respectively, the offsetting difference aggregating $49,981.00. The latter amount represents the aggregate of checks Nos. 2 to 83, drawn on the Philadelphia National Bank, State School Fund account, on October 6, 1941 and charged on the records of the Bureau of Deposits, against the Harrisburg Trust Company, State School Fund Account, in error. Upon discussion of this matter with the State Treasurer, we were informed that the correction of this error had been effected subsequent to October 31, 1941.

Similarly, on October 17, 1941, Draft No. 1,598, drawn on the Philadelphia National Bank, General Fund Account, in the amount of $1,000,000.00 was paid from the Motor License Fund Account in that institution, through error. Notwithstanding the fact that this draft was actually paid on October 17, 1941 and was not outstanding at October 31, 1941, it is shown, in the reconciliation of the Philadelphia National Bank, General Fund Account prepared by the Bureau of Reconciliations, at October 31, 1941, as an outstanding draft. Conversely, the reconciliation of the Philadelphia National Bank, Motor License Fund Account, prepared by the Bureau of Reconcilations at October 31, 1941 shows an unadjusted debit for $1,000,000.00 in respect of the erroneous payment, above mentioned, thereby offsetting the amount of the outstanding draft in the aggregate total of all Fund bank balances at that date. Upon inquiry of the State Treasurer, relative to this matter, we were informed that an adjustment for this item was recorded upon the records on December 15, 1941.

The Statement of Receipts and Expenditures by Funds, for the period from May 5, 1941 to October 31, 1941 furnished to us by the Secretary of the Budget for purposes of confirmation, shows an expenditure of $273,000.00 for the Surplus Commodity Stamp Fund as not warranted, whereas the Auditor General has confirmed this amount to us as a warranted expenditure. Accordingly the expenditure mentioned has been included among the warranted expenditures in the statements annexed to and made a part of this report.

Expenditures Charged To Postage—Object Classification No. 34

By reference to Exhibit "B" annexed to and made a part of this report, it will be noted that expenditures for postage during the period from May 5, 1941 to October 31, 1941, aggregated $116,511.85, as follows:

Particulars	Amount
Charged Against:
Treasury Appropriation	$ 9,520.00
Board of Finance and Revenue Appropriations	.....
Public Assistance Administration Allocation	98,090.20
Public Assistance Allocation—Deficiency Appropriation	8,901.65
Total	$116,511.85

In this connection, attention is directed to the fact that individual disbursements recorded for postage and charged against Treasury Department Appropriations, Board of Finance and Revenue Appropriations and Treasury Department Public Assistance Administration Allocations were supported by records of postage used, metered and otherwise, with the following specific exceptions:

Particulars	Amount
July 11, 1941, Warrant No. 11,203, Requisition No. 17, Check No. 19,574, drawn on the Corn Exchange National Bank and Trust Company General Fund Account to the order of "Charles H. Schloss, Postmaster, Erie, Pennsylvania" and charged against Treasury Department Public Assistance Administration Allocation	$ 5,000.00
July 11, 1941, Warrant No. 11,204, Requisition No. 14, Check No. 19,575, drawn on the Corn Exchange National Bank and Trust Company General Fund Account, to the order of "Charles H. Schloss, Postmaster, Erie, Pennsylvania" and charged against Treasury Department Appropriation	5,000.00
August 14, 1941, Warrant No. 17,987, Requisition No. 33, Check No. 21,822S, drawn on the Mellon National Bank, General Fund Account to the order of "Leo A. Werner, Postmaster, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania" and charged against Treasury Department Public Assistance Administration Allocation	10,000.00
September 24, 1941, Warrant No. 24,863, Requisition No. 57, Check No. 37,173T, drawn on the Harrisburg Trust Company, General Fund Account, to the order of "Leo A. Werner, Postmaster, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania" and charged against Treasury Department Appropriation	3,000.00
	23,000.00
July 1, 1941, Warrant No. 9,586, Requisition No. 14, Check No. 17,354N, drawn on the Fidelity-Philadelphia Trust Company, General Fund Account, to the order of "Postmaster, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania" and charged against Treasury Department Public Assistance Administration Allocation	1,500.00
July 5, 1941, Warrant No. 15,758, Requisition No. 31, Check No. 15,124V, drawn on the Central Penn National Bank, General Fund Account, to the order of "Leo A. Werner, Postmaster, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania," and charged against Treasury Department Appropriation	2,500.00
September 23, 1941, Warrant No. 24,598, Requisition No. 54, Check No. 37,166T, drawn on the Harrisburg Trust Company, General Fund Account, to the order of "Leo A. Werner, Postmaster, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania" and charged against Treasury Department Public Assistance Administration Allocation	3,000.00
October 31, 1941, Warrant No. 32,772, Requisition No. 77, Check No. 38,328T, drawn on the Harrisburg Trust Company, General Fund Account, to the order of "Leo A. Werner, Postmaster, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania" and charged against Treasury Department Public Assistance Administration Allocation	7,500.00

The first four items hereinbefore enumerated represent expenditures for which no consideration was received by the Commonwealth, in that the amounts for which the checks were drawn were diverted to the use of one Clifford G. Baugher, former Deputy State Treasurer, through the medium of endorsements established by documentary evidence to have been forged. Further particulars as to the methods employed in the diversion of the funds and the character of the evidence available with respect thereto will be found in a report on a special investigation of irregularities involving the aforementioned individual prepared by the Treasury Department under the date of November 21, 1941. In view of the contents of this report, which we have reviewed, no further comment on the matters dealt with therein appears to be required.

The amount of $7,500.00 shown in the foregoing summary was redeposited under date of November 22, 1941 to the credit of the Commonwealth and that amount was duly reported to the Department of Revenue and credited on the records of the Treasury Department to the appropriation against which it had been charged.

The expenditures made under dates of July 1, July 5, and September 23, 1941 aggregating $7,000.00, are in respect of stamps purportedly purchased by the aforementioned Clifford G. Baugher for the use of the Treasury Department, with respect to which the State Treasurer acknowledged to us the receipt of the following:

October 14, 1941 United States Postage Stamps of varied denominations from Clifford D. Baugher in the aggregate amount of	$1,373.46
On or about October 28, 1941 United States Postage Stamps principally in coils of 1 cent, 2 cent and 3 cent denominations which J. S. Byerly, Chief of the Bureau of Securities located in a special compartment of the vault to which access was had by Clifford G. Baugher	4,873.50
Total	$6,246.96

The amount of $1,373.46 shown above, we were informed is in respect of stamps acquired through the expenditure of $1,500.00 by Check No. 17,354N while the amount of $4,873.50 was represented to us to constitute the remainder of the stamps purchased through the issuance of Check No. 15,124V drawn on the Central Penn National Bank and Check No. 37,166T drawn on the Harrisburg Trust Company, hereinbefore enumerated. Therefore, upon the basis of the explanations furnished to us it would appear that postage to the extent of $753.04 remains unaccounted for with respect to these three expenditures. The stamps aggregating $6,246.96, the receipt of which was acknowledged by the State Treasurer, as aforesaid, were added to the inventory of postage on hand in the office of the State Treasurer and in the Bureau of Securities at the date of their receipt as above indicated.

In this connection, we were also informed that no inventory records were maintained in the Bureau of Securities or elsewhere in the office of the State Treasurer of the postage on hand and as a consequence we were unable to determine from the records the amount of postage which should have been on hand at the date the purchases mentioned were made In the absence of any inventory of postage at the beginning of the term of the present State Treasurer and the lack of an adequate requisition record subsequent to May 5, 1941 it is impossible to determine with any degree of exactitude the quantity of stamps which should have been on hand at October 31, 1941.

Physical counts of the postage held in the vault in the Bureau of Securities on January 26, and in the office of the State Treasurer on February 25, 1942 indicated that the stamps on hand at the dates mentioned aggregated $19,478.06 as follows:

January 26, 1942 United States Postage Stamps of varied denominations held in the Bureau of Securities in the Treasury Department ...	$18,281.10
February 25, 1942 United States Postage Stamps of varied denominations held in the office of the Honorable G. Harold Wagner, State Treasurer	1,196.96
Total	$19,478.06

In view of the substantial amount of the inventory of postage thus disclosed and the absence of inventory records relative thereto, in an effort to establish the basic facts in this situation inquiry was made of the office of the Auditor General as to whether a physical count had been made of the postage on hand at May 31, 1940, the date of the last examination of the accounts of the Treasury Department. We were informed that the program of the work performed by the Auditor General, in that connection, specified as follows:

> "Ascertain the amount of postage on hand as of the present date and inquire if any checks covering postage purchases were on hand as of May 31, 1940 or at the present time."

The work indicated was marked on the program as having been performed by a Mr. Miller, and checked, presumably to indicate the completion of the work. We were informed, however, by the Auditor General's office that the postage on hand at May 31, 1940, or thereafter, had not been established by physical count, and this omission precluded an accurate determination by us of the amount of postage on hand at June 1, 1940, or thereafter.

Further inquiry in the Bureau of Securities developed the fact that requisitions drawn for postage used by the various Bureaus within the Treasury Department, other than the Bureau of Securities, had been retained and were available for the period from June 1, 1940 to January 26, 1942 and upon the basis of such requisitions it was determined that the inventory of postage at May 5, 1941 aggregated approximately $14,456.70 as set forth hereunder: (see supplementary correspondence)

Stamps counted as previously recited		$19,478.06
Add:
Stamps indicated verbally to have been used in the office of Honorable G. Harold Wagner, State Treasurer from October 14, 1941 to February 25, 1942	$ 176.50
Requisitions drawn by Bureaus for postage used between May 5, 1941 and January 26, 1942, the date of the physical count	1,049.10	1,225.60
		20,703.66

Deduct:
Stamps purchased by Clifford G. Baugher	$7,000.00
Less: Stamps not transmitted to Honorable G. Harold Wagner by Clifford G. Baugher	753.04	6,246.96
Postage assumed to have been on hand at May 5, 1941		$14,456.70

Upon the basis of information available applicable to the postage purchased and used in the preceding administration it was determined that the inventory of postage at May 5, 1941 should have approximated $12,779.30 as set forth hereunder:

August 16, 1940 United States Postage Stamps purchased per Checks Nos. 406,900 and U476,784 drawn on the Central Penn National Bank and the Philadelphia National Bank, respectively	$14,200.00
Deduct:
Requisitions drawn by Bureau for the period from August 16, 1940 to May 5, 1941	1,420.70
	$12,779.30

Inasmuch as no records were available to indicate the amount of postage on hand at August 16, 1940 it was impossible to carry this computation to a conclusion but it can be reasonably inferred in the absence of information to the contrary that the postage on hand at August 16, 1940 amounted to $1,677.40 ($14,456.70 minus $12,779.30) less whatever postage was used by the Bureau of Securities during the period from August 16, 1940 to January 26, 1942, for which no requisitions were drawn.

In this connection, we were unable to satisfy ourselves as to the need for the large expenditures with respect to postage stamps at times when the quantity of stamps on hand were far in excess of the amounts so purchased and in view of the comparatively small quantity of stamps actually used.

The examination of the expenditures relating to postage disclosed the fact that of the amount of postage on hand, expenditures aggregating $4,500.00 were in respect of expenditures charged against the Treasury Department Public Assistance Administration Allocations while the remainder was charged primarily against various Treasury Department Appropriations, so that postage presently used for general Treasury purposes was charged in part against Public Assistance Allocations.

In this connection it was also noted that on September 23, 1941 the expenditure of $1,975.00 covered by Warrant No. 24,598, Requisition No. 54 and paid by Check No. 37,167T drawn on the Harrisburg Trust Company General Fund Account was charged against Treasury Department Public Assistance Administration Allocation (Symbol No. 329,009) in the Appropriation Ledgers. This charge has been identified through United States Post Office Receipt No. 29, dated September 23, 1941 with the insertion of impressions aggregating $1,975.00 in the General Treasury Mailing Meter No. 58,031. Inasmuch as Public Assistance Mail is invariably run through meters maintained for the use of the Bureau of Public Assistance, other than Meter No. 58.031, it would appear that expenditures in the amount of $1,975.00 applicable against Treasury Department Appropriations have been charged against Treasury Department Public Assistance Administration Allocations.

Confirmation of Balances Appearing in the Bank Accounts and the Examination of Related Bank Reconcillations Prepared by the Treasury Department

The amounts recorded in the Treasury Department as on deposit with banks and bankers, classified as to active and inactive depositaries and closed institutions, at October 31, 1941 are set forth in detail on Exhibit "C" attached to and made a part of this report. The aggregate amount of $601,712.14 included therein with respect to deposits in closed institutions at the aforementioned date, comprised the following:

Particulars		Amount
Claims Settled Subsequent to October 31, 1941
First National Bank, Beaver Falls, Pa.		$ 1,002.31
First National Bank, Braddock, Pa.		2,059.04
Federal Title and Trust Company, Beaver Falls, Pa.		4,285.71
First National Bank and Trust Company, Greensburg, Pa.		24,941.80
Farmers National Bank, Somerset, Pa.		2,984.52
First National Bank, Cresson, Pa.		6,254.90
First National Bank, Freeland, Pa.		585.00
First National Bank and Trust Company, Frackville, Pa.		986.91
United States National Bank, Johnstown, Pa.		9,004.70
First National Bank, Johnstown, Pa.		46,752.20
Taylor Discount and Deposit Bank, Taylor Pa.		25,000.00
Title Trust and Guarantee Company, Johnstown, Pa.		18,709.78
Mid-Valley Trust Company, originally: Olyphant Bank, Olyphant, Pa.	$ 50,000.00
Throop State Bank, Throop, Pa.	6,250.00	56,250.00
		$198,816.87
Claims Unsettled
First National Bank, Clarion, Pa.	$ 9,200.00
Manayunk Trust Company, Philadelphia, Pa.	45,000.00
Media-69th Street Trust Company, Media, Pa.	86,302.25
Northwestern National Bank and Trust Company, Philadelphia, Pa.	166,633.02
Reading National Bank and Trust Company, Reading, Pa.	66,200.00
Real Estate Savings and Trust Company of Allegheny, Pittsburgh, Pa.	25,000.00
West Reading Title and Trust Company, West Reading, Pa.	4,560.00	402,895.27
Total		$601,712.14

No provision has been made, in the statements herewith submitted, for any losses which were or may be incurred or realized upon final settlement of the accounts above enumerated. We understand that subsequent to October 31, 1941 settlement was effected on claims aggregating $198,816.87 with the Receivers of the National Surety Company upon the basis of approximately 55½% of the claim, and interest. Inasmuch as we understand that this is the final settlement of the accounts included in the classification mentioned it would appear that in the absence of collateral security applicable thereto, some substantial losses will be sustained on this particular group, which have never been formally recognized in the accounts of the Treasury Department. On the other hand, as to the claims unsettled, we understand that arrangements have been completed looking to the collection in full of the claim against the Northwestern National Bank and Trust Company, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

The situation with regard to the Media-69th Street Trust Company and the Reading National Bank and Trust Company is unquestionably quite serious and upon the basis of information available, some substantial losses may be anticipated on these accounts unless collateral, if any, presently available is such as to preclude that possibility.

The accounts with the aforementioned closed institutions were confirmed by direct communication with the receivers, with the following exceptions:

First National Bank, Braddock, Pa.	$ 2,059.04
Federal Title and Trust Company, Beaver Falls, Pa.	4,285.71
First National Bank, Freeland, Pa.	585.00
Title Trust and Guarantee Company, Johnstown, Pa.	18,709.78
	$25,639.53

Second and third requests mailed to the addresses of record in these cases failed to elicit any response to the request for confirmation of the outstanding balances at October 31, 1941. The reply received from the Secretary of Banking, Receiver of the Title Trust and Guarantee Company, Johnstown, Pennsylvania, stated that no balance appeared in the account of the Commonwealth with that institution at October 31, 1941. In addition to the foregoing the amounts and status of the aforementioned claims at October 31, 1941 were also confirmed by communication with the office of the Attorney General.

In this connection it was observed that a distribution in the amount of $3,562.50 was available in August 1941 from the First National Bank and Trust Company of Greensburg, Pennsylvania, included in the foregoing summary, and had not been recorded as having been received on the records of the Treasury Department at February 11, 1942. The Secretary for the Trustees for the Creditors of the latter institution informed us under date of February 11, 1942 that this payment was withheld "because they did not mail the Certificate to us so that we could make a record of the payment." We understand that subsequent to February 11, 1942 this condition was rectified.

In connection with our confirmation of the balances appearing in the bank accounts at October 31, 1941, by direct communication with the depositaries other than those previously mentioned with respect to closed institutions, we did not receive replies to our requests from the following:

Berks County Trust Company, Reading, Pa. State Work Relief Compensation Fund	$10,000.00
Farmers Trust Company, Middletown, Pa., General Fund	50,000.00
Lewisburg National Bank, Lewisburg, Pa., Sinking Fund	25,000.00
Total	$85,000.00

In the execution of the work pertaining to the examination of bank reconciliations prepared by the Bureau of Reconciliations in the Treasury Department at October 31, 1941 it was noted that numerous old bank charges applicable to the period from May 5, 1941 to October 31, 1941 were unadjusted upon the records of the Treasury Department at that date, as set forth on Exhibit "D" appended to this report. Many of these charges represent errors, such as cannot be deemed to be attributable to the banks, and, to that extent, should have been adjusted upon the records maintained in the Treasury Department, during the period stated. Other items of a similar character which were also unadjusted at October 31, 1941 affecting the periods prior to May 5, 1941 are set forth in a separate report for the period ended on that date submitted to the Honorable F. Clair Ross. To the extent that the items enumerated in the latter report affect lapsed appropriations or appropriations and allocations which have been fully expended, it will now be necessary to secure additional legislative authority for such adjustments.

It is suggested that immediate action be taken with respect to the items listed which are applicable to appropriations and allocations now open and that adjustments be made therefor upon the books and records maintained in the Treasury Department, so that the necessity for legislative action with respect to these items at a later date may be avoided.

Upon examination of the checks outstanding at October 31, 1941 as set forth on the various reconciliations for the active accounts prepared by the Bureau of Reconciliations, it was established that checks aggregating $62,358.62 had been outstanding for more than two years prior to May 31, 1941 and this amount was therefore subject to recapture by the Treasury Department in accordance with Section 1 of Act No. 315½ approved under date of July 12, 1935, P. L. 996, which provides as follows:

> "Be it enacted, etc., that the Treasury Department as of the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five, and on the first day of June of each year thereafter, shall take credit on its books and calculate as cash to the credit of the proper funds all amounts held in State Depositaries, or otherwise, for the payment of checks which on said dates had been issued for a period of two years or more, and which had not been pressed for payment."

In connection with the confirmation of the reconciliations prepared by the Bureau of Reconciliations at October 31, 1941, numerous differences were disclosed in the amounts of checks listed as outstanding at that date, as follows:

Name of Bank and Fund	Outstanding Checks Listed on Reconciliations Over	Under Mellon National Bank
General Fund	$	$ 34.92
Motor License Fund	1.25	.....
State Stores Fund	.....	.10

Totals	$412.81	$262.64

The aforementioned differences were discussed with the Bureau of Reconciliations and efforts are now being made to locate and adjust the items involved.

Conclusion

We wish to record that every courtesy was shown us during the course of our examination by the representatives of the Treasury Department, of the Department of the Auditor General, and of the other Department and Bureaus with which we came in contact.

By the terms of our engagement no investigation was conducted by us relative to the adequacy of the system of internal control or of the assignments and proficiency of the personnel of the Treasury Department, nor did we determine the propriety of the expenditures warranted by the Auditor General as submitted to the Treasury Department for payment, other than these applicable directly to the latter Department. (See supplementary correspondence)

With the exception of the irregularities set forth and discussed in pages 10 to 32 of this report and based upon the examination made as hereinbefore described, we found the recorded receipts of the State Treasurer to have been duly deposited and disbursements therefrom to have been made upon proper authority during the period from May 5, 1941 to October 31, 1941.

Respectfully submitted,

Honorable Arthur H. James, Governor
Honorable G. Harold Wagner, State Treasurer
Honorable F. Clair Ross, Auditor General
Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Dear Sirs:

Reference is made to our reports dated March 19, 1942 upon the examination of certain records maintained in the Treasury Department of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, for the periods from June 1, 1940 to May 5, 1941 and from May 5, 1941 to October 31, 1941, respectively. Upon the basis of discussion of these reports with State Treasurer Wagner and Deputy Auditor General Howe, it appears that certain comments therein made may be supplemented and amplified to the end that the reports may not be susceptible of misinterpretation and misconstruction. Accordingly we submit hereunder supplemental remarks and comments dealing with certain specific matters set forth in the aforementioned reports.

The report on the examination for the period from June 1, 1940 to May 5, 1941, on page 12 thereof, contains the following statement:

> "The work incident to the tracing of receipts in the form of transmittals to the State Employees' Retirement Fund disclosed deductions therefrom aggregating $49,198.24, as follows:"

The first paragraph immediately following upon page 13 adequately covers the situation mentioned. However, it has been indicated to us that the foregoing comment may be susceptible of misunderstanding and the following is submitted as an acceptable amplification thereof:

> "The work incident to the tracing of receipts in the form of transmittals to the State Employees' Retirement Fund disclosed adjustments in the classification of receipts aggregating $49,198.24, as follows:"

The report on the examination for the period from May 5, 1941 to October 31, 1941, on page 25 thereof in a tabulation shown for the purpose of endeavoring to establish the inventory of postage which should have been on hand at May 5, 1941, sets forth the following items:

> "Stamps indicated verbally to have been used in the office of Honorable G. Harold Wagner, State Treasurer, from October 14, 1941 to February 25, 1942 ..... $176.50
> "Stamps not transmitted to Honorable G. Harold Wagner by Clifford G. Baugher .. 753.04"

The description of these items may be further amplified by the statement that subsequent to the date of our report reports were submitted to us indicating that postage in the amount of $176.50 had been used in the office of the State Treasurer during the period from October 14, 1941 to February 25, 1942 and therefore the following description of this particular item is in order:

"Stamps indicated to have been used in the office of the Honorable G. Harold Wagner, State Treasurer from October 14, 1941 to February 25, 1942 ..... $176.50"

As to the item of $753.04, under date of April 22, 1942, we have received a communication from Mr. James J. Jennings, Director of Publicity of the Treasury Department to the effect that stamps were issued by Mr. Clifford G. Baugher for use in mailing the monthly statement of balances of the Treasury Department to approximately 18,000 persons whose names appear upon the mailing lists maintained in the Bureau of Publicity, during the months of June and July 1941 and for "press releases and assorted correspondence." Upon the basis of the aforementioned communication it would appear that the description of the item under discussion may be amplified as follows:

"Stamps not transmitted to Honorable G. Harold Wagner by Clifford G. Baugher but indicated to have been used in the Bureau of Publicity of the Treasury Department for the purpose of mailing monthly statements of balances, press releases and assorted correspondence .... $753.04"

Exhibits "D" appended to the reports on the examination for the periods from June 1, 1940 to May 5, 1941 and from May 5, 1941 to October 31, 1941 set forth particulars of unadjusted bank charges and credits appearing on bank reconciliations prepared by the Bureau of Reconciliation in the Treasury Department at October 31, 1941. Of the unadjusted bank charges and credits appearing on the aforementioned exhibit attached to the report for the period from May 5, 1941 to October 31, 1941, it now appears that 166 of such items originated prior to May 5, 1941 but had not been so designated on the reconciliation records at October 31, 1941 and consequently had been allocated to the latter period in our reports. All but a very few of the other 53 unadjusted bank charges and credits appearing on Exhibit "D" originating in the period from May 5, 1941 to October 31, 1941 have now been adjusted.

If any further information is required in connection with any of the matters set forth herein, it will be gladly furnished upon request.

Respectfully submitted,

Dear Sirs:

This will acknowledge your letter of April 25th, supplementary to the two audit reports recently forwarded to me. Note has been made of the corrections and explanations. The letter will be considered part of the reports.

Permit me to take advantage of your offer to supply further information in connection with the matters set forth in the reports and letter. May I ask such further information pertaining to the following:

(1) Reference is made to the tables shown as Exhibits B in each report, wherein are considerable sums listed as traveling expenses.

In view of the categorical statement that stamps purchased for distribution of relief checks were used for general Treasury Department purposes, I wish to ascertain whether there is evidence in your possession indicating that travel expenses for general departmental purposes may likewise have been charged against the Public Assistance allocations.

(2) May I ask you for parallel information as to the entries for printing, binding, and stationery in the aforesaid tables. The same question arises, whether printing not properly chargeable to Public Assistance was nevertheless so charged.

(3) Reference is made to page 3 of your letter in which you state you have a communication from the Director of Publicity of the Treasury Department referring to the use of $753.04 worth of stamps for use in mailing the monthly statement of balances of the Treasury Department to approximately 18,000 persons on the mailing lists of the Bureau of Publicity. Will you please further clarify certain points.

Were the stamps in question, referred to on page 25 of the report for the period of May 5 to October 31, 1941, purchased as a result of requisitions drawn on the Public Assistance account?

In this connection I should like to ask also for whatever data you may have available on the expenses, operating charges, printing bills and postal expenses of the Publicity Bureau.

Repeated protest has come to my attention that the present and previous incumbents as State Treasurer have enlarged what was originally a brief and statistical financial report into a handsome and illustrated pamphlet or booklet containing dissertations upon matters only remotely connected with the office. If you are in position to show the cost and the method of financing this enterprise, it will be distinctly helpful.

(4) On page 7 of the report for the period prior to May 5, 1941 appear the following words:

"In this connection it is pertinent to observe that although the salaries and wages attributable to Public Assistance administration are substantially higher than those recorded as being applicable against the Treasury Department appropriations" etc.

Will you please permit me to have the statistics in your possession upon which the conclusion was reached that the salary and wage levels in the Public Assistance administration were higher than those of the rest of the Treasury Department.

(5) Reference is made to the paragraph appearing on page 26 of the report for the period ending May 5, 1941, and repeated on page 33 of the other report reading:

"By the terms of our engagement no investigation was conducted by us relative to the adequacy of the system of internal control or of the assignments and proficiency of the personnel of the Treasury Department, nor did we determine the propriety of the expenditure warranted by the Auditor General as submitted to the Treasury Department for payment, other than those applicable directly to the latter department."

It may be that your staff, without having made specific nquiry or investigation in such direction, nevertheless ame into possession of information shedding light on me of the still unexplained matters in the Treasury epartment. If ou have such information, covering ntrol system, personnel, propriety of requisitions, or ne working habits of employes, may I ask that you rnish me with it?

(6) Am I to assume from their omission from your upplemental letter of statements and explanations on ll matters not therein specifically referred to, as estabshing that no such explanation or clarification of points overed by the audit, and not referred to in your supplemental letter, has been furnished you by the present and ast incumbent in the office of State Treasurer?

Your early attention to these matters will be greatly ppreciated.

Sincerely yours,

ARTHUR H. JAMES.

ear Governor James:

We duly received your letter of April 28, 1942 wherein ou request certain further information relative to matters ealt with in our reports dated March 19, 1942 and our upplemental letter dated April 25, 1942 upon the examination of the receipts, disbursements and fund alances of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as reorded by the State Treasurer for the periods from June 1940 to May 5, 1941 and from May 5, 1941 to October , 1941, and in compliance therewith submit in the quence indicated in your letter the following:

Items (1) and (2)

We have no evidence in our possession indicating that xpenditures for general departmental purposes, attributable to the objective classifications for "Traveling xpenses" and "Printing, Binding and Stationery" were roneously charged against the Public Assistance Allocaons.

Item (3)

As to your query regarding the stamps referred to on ge 25 of the report for the period from May 5, 1941 October 31, 1941, your attention is invited to the fact at the amount of $753.04 represented that part of penditures aggregating $7,000.00 which had not been counted for prior to the receipt of the letter from Mr. nnings under date of April 22, 1942. Of the aggregate nount of $7,000.00 referred to, $2,500.00 was charged ainst the Treasury Department Appropriation and $4,500.00 was charged against Treasury Department Public Assistance Administration Allocation.

Regarding your inquiry as to the cost of operating the Bureau of Publicity, no segregation was made of specific expenditures applicable to that Bureau and the records submitted for our inspection did not contain any such segregation. We regret, therefore, that we are not in a position to furnish a comparative statement showing the expenses attributable to the Bureau of Publicity under current and previous incumbents as requested.

Item (4)

The portion of the last paragraph appearing on page 7 of the report covering the period from June 1, 1940 to May 5, 1941 to which reference is made in your letter is intended to be read "in connection with" the other material presented in that paragraph and therefore cannot be interpreted or construed to indicate that "the salary and wage levels in the Public Assistance Administration were higher than those of the rest of the Treasury Department."

The comment presented on page 7 merely indicates that on a comparative basis the aggregate expenditures for salaries and wages for Public Assistance Administration during the period covered by the report above-mentioned were higher than similar expenditures applicable to the Treasury Department in the same period. We do not have in our possession any statistics upon which such a conclusion as you infer may be based.

Item (5)

We note your inquiry for information relating to the system of internal control, personnel, working habits of employes and propriety of requisitions such as may have come to our attention although not covered by the scope of our examination.

We made no tests as to the adequacy of the system of internal control since this was specifically excluded from the scope of the examination. The actual utilization made of personnel, or of such items as stationery and supplies purchased or of traveling expenses, for example, is not readily determinable from an examination of accounting records and we are accordingly unable to furnish you with any evidence of improprieties concerning any of the afore-mentioned subjects other than as already set forth in our reports.

We suggest that such matters might appropriately be made the subject of further investigation but we are unable to forecast the result of any such examination.

Item (6)

No explanations or data in clarification of points raised or mentioned in our reports have been furnished to us other than those specifically recited in the supplemental letter, a copy of which was forwarded to you under date of April 25, 1942.

We believe that the foregoing covers all of the items mentioned in your letter of April 28, 1942.

Respectfully submitted,

PART II—MATERIAL ORIGINATING FROM THE SECRETARY OF REVENUE, EDWARD B. LOGAN.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
Governor's Office

Harrisburg, July 24, 1942.

Governor James today issued the following statement:

"I am making public herewith a preliminary report which I have received from the Hon. Edward B. Logan, Secretary of Revenue. In this report, Doctor Logan notifies me that he is declining to approve the monthly settlements for mercantile and inheritance taxes in each of the counties. These settlements carry deductions for payroll and expenses authorized by the Auditor General.

"As Doctor Logan's report makes clear, he is declining to approve the charges on the grounds that the amounts being deducted are 'unreasonable and thoroughly unjustified.'

"The concluding paragraphs of Doctor Logan's preliminary report are worthy of especial attention:

> 'The increase in the number of employes and expenses is so large that I have made some preliminary investigations of these employes who have been placed under my supervision. Many of them are performing little or no service for the State. Some employes are assigned to counties but perform no services whatever in those counties yet their salaries and expenses are being deducted from the taxes collected in those counties. The salaries of many are far out of line with the positions they hold. So many of the employes are Democratic State Committee members or local Democratic Committeemen that the question of serious political abuse of the collection of these two taxes is raised. There are at least twenty-one members of the Democratic State Committee either on the mercantile or inheritance tax payroll and many local Democratic Committeemen. In my opinion, this aspect of the situation, as well as others, needs much more attention than I have been able to give thus far.
> 'I am bringing this to your attention and protesting this because I do not believe one cent of this increase can be justified. Money paid by the taxpayers in the form of inheritance and mercantile taxes is being used to support entirely needless employes and is not finding its way into the Treasury as it should.'"

July 23, 1942.

Mercantile and Inheritance Taxes.
Honorable Arthur H. James, Governor.
Edward B. Logan, Secretary of Revenue.

There is a matter involved in the collection of mercantile and inheritance taxes which I feel should be brought to your attention.

When I came to this department on June 1st, I found before me for approval the monthly settlements for mercantile and inheritance taxes in each of the counties for April. I am withholding my approval of these settlements because of certain questions I find upon an examination of them.

The settlement sheets to which I refer show the amount of mercantile and inheritance taxes collected in each county and the amounts which have been deducted for salaries and expenses involved in the collection of the taxes. It is this latter item—the amounts deducted for salaries and expenses—which raises the question.

Perhaps I should review here the system for collecting these two taxes.

The law gives the Auditor General authority to appoint mercantile and inheritance tax appraisers and clerks, investigators and other employes. He also has the authority to fix their compensation and approve their expenses. The law places no limit upon the number of employes who may be appointed by the Auditor General.

The County Treasurers deduct from the mercantile taxes collected in the counties an amount for payroll and other expenses of the employes appointed by the Auditor General, and the Register of Wills does similarly for the employes appointed by the Auditor General to aid in collecting the inheritance taxes. As with the number of employes, the law places no limitation upon the amount which may be deducted for payroll and other expenses.

July 14, 1942.

The law gives the Department of Revenue the power to supervise the work of the employes appointed by the Auditor General and to approve the settlements mentioned above. As I have already stated, the law gives the Auditor General the authority to appoint employes and approve their expenses. Nevertheless, some of the deductions made by County Treasurers and Registers of Wills for payroll and expenses of employes of the Auditor General, as shown on the settlement sheets, are so excessive that I am withholding my approval because it appears to me that giving approval would be an indication that I approve of the payroll and expenses which are being deducted from the taxes collected.

An examination of the payroll and expenses of the employes appointed by the Auditor General for inheritance tax and mercantile tax work convinces me that the amount being deducted is unreasonable and thoroughly unjustified and, therefore, I want to take whatever steps I can to protest and stop if possible this misuse of inheritance and mercantile taxes.

I find that the situation I am protesting began soon after Mr. Ross became Auditor General in May, 1941, as can be seen in the information which follows.

The situation is especially bad in Philadelphia. The amount deducted for salaries and expenses for the collection of mercantile taxes in the month of April, 1942, was $20,400.61. For the month of April, in 1941, the amount deducted was $15,253.14. The amount deducted in April, 1942—$20,400.61—represents an increase of $5,147.47, or an increase of 33 per cent. This means that in the course of a year's time at this rate the payroll and expenses of the Auditor General employes will cost $61,000 more than was the cost before Mr. Ross came into office.

In looking back, the amount deducted in April, 1940, was $13,011.06. The amount deducted in 1942 exceeds that amount by $7,389.55, or an increase of 56 per cent.

I find at the present time that there are 113 employes appointed by the Auditor General in Philadelphia assigned to the collection of mercantile taxes. A year ago, in April, 1941, there were 71 employes. In one year's time, therefore, Mr. Ross has increased the number of employes by 42, or 59 per cent increase in the number of employes in one year. When this increase occurred can be seen in the following table which shows the number of employes of the Auditor General's Department in Philadelphia for each month from April, 1941, to June, 1942:

Month	Number of Mercantile Tax Employes appointed by the Auditor General in Philadelphia
April, 1941	71
May	73
June	73
July	74
August	80
September	93
October	97
November	98
December	99
January, 1942	98
February	100
March	100
April	101
May	110
June	113

While the situation is especially bad in Philadelphia, it is just as bad, and even worse, in some other counties The following table shows the number of employes when Mr. Ross came into office and the number at the present time and the percentage of increase in a number of counties:

	1941 Number of Employes	1941 Cost	1942 Number of Employes	1942 Cost	% Increase in number of employes	% Increase in Cost
Fayette	1	$150.00	2	$250.00	100%	66%
Lancaster	2	275.00	3	350.00	50	27
Lehigh	2	230.00	3	330.00	50	43
Northampton	2	225.00	3	375.00	50	66
Schuylkill	5	700.00	6	775.00	20	10
Westmoreland	1	150.00	2	250.00	100	66

To show the increase in number of employes throughout the State I have prepared the following table which shows the number of employes of the Auditor General's Department for each month from April, 1941, to June, 1942. As the table shows, Mr. Ross has added 47 employes to be paid from mercantile license taxes since April, 1941:

Month	Mercantile Tax Employes appointed by the Auditor General—all counties
April, 1941	140
May	144
June	139
July	132
August	135
September	145
October	140
November	140
December	141
January, 1942	144
February	158
March	166
April	175
May	184
June	187

As shown previously, forty-two of the forty-seven additional appointments made were in the City of Philadelphia.

I examined the records to see if additional work was being done but I find that the number of assessments has remained practically the same for the years concerned. I can find no justification for these increases.

This is also true in the collection of mercantile taxes.

As for the collection of inheritance taxes, I find that the amount deducted for salaries and expenses in Philadelphia was $27,767.45 in April, 1942. Last year in April, 1941, the amount deducted for salaries and expenses was $21,369.10—a difference of $6,398.35. This represents an increase in April, 1942, of 29 per cent. This means that in a year's time collecting inheritance taxes in Philadelphia is costing $77,000 more than it cost before Mr. Ross came into office.

The number of employes in Philadelphia appointed by the Auditor General in April, 1941, was 116. In May, 1942, the number had increased to 160, an increase of 44 employes, or 37 per cent. The time at which these employes were added to the payroll by Mr. Ross can be seen in the following table which shows the number of the Auditor General inheritance tax employes for each month from April, 1941, to May, 1942:

Month	Number of Inheritance Tax Employes appointed by the Auditor General in Philadelphia
April, 1941	116
May	116
June	118
July	124
August	146
September	151
October	153
November	153
December	153
January, 1942	150
February	156
March	157
April	155
May	160

The amount of inheritance taxes collected in Philadelphia in April, 1941, was $1,345,333.33. In April, 1942, the amount was $1,271,251.47—$74,081.86 less than in the previous year. It is evident that there is no justification on the basis of taxes collected.

In my opinion this abnormal increase in the number of employes in Philadelphia to help collect inheritance taxes is beyond all reason and entirely without justification.

The situation in other counties is similar as the following table shows:

	1941 Number of Employes	1941 Cost	1942 Number of Employes	1942 Cost	Per Cent Increase in Cost
Huntingdon	1	$ 1,800	2	$ 3,000	66%
Lackawanna	9	15,780	10	19,380	22
Luzerne	11	19,920	12	25,200	26
Montgomery	8	21,680	12	28,740	32
Northumberland	5	4,500	6	8,100	80
Washington	4	7,320	7	12,120	65

Throughout the State in April, 1942, $77,910.52 was deducted from inheritance taxes for salaries and expenses when the year before in April, 1941, $65,099.45 was deducted. This is an increase of $12,811.07, or an increase of 19 per cent. Over a period of a year it means $153,000 more than the cost of collecting inheritance taxes before Mr. Ross took office. Throughout the State, Mr. Ross had 354 inheritance tax employes when he took office in May, 1941. Since that time he has added 79, bringing his total number to 433 in May, 1942. The following table shows when the increases were made:

Month	Total Number of Inheritance Tax Employes appointed by the Auditor General
April, 1941	354
May	369
June	372
July	377
August	399
September	404
October	411
November	409
December	417
January, 1942	413
February	418
March	423
April	431
May	433

I have already shown that forty-four of these additional employes were in the City of Philadelphia.

Inheritance tax collections during the year prior to Mr. Ross coming into office were $15,392,191.42. During his first year in office, when he added 79 employes, collections were $13,307,389.49—a drop of more than two million dollars. Again, I say, these increases were made entirely without justification.

I find that in some counties where inheritance tax appraisers had been compensated on a per diem basis for the days worked, they have been placed on a yearly salary basis, thus greatly increasing the cost of collecting inheritance taxes in those counties. For example, in Perry County, prior to July, 1941, the inheritance tax appraiser had paid at the rate of $8.00 per day. In August, 1941, he was placed on a salary of $1020 per year. For the year prior to July, 1941, this employe received total compensation of $616.00 for his work during that year at the rate of $8.00 per day. Therefore, under this change which the Auditor General has made, there is an increase of $404.00, or an increase of 65 per cent, to collect inheritance taxes in that county.

In Wyoming County the inheritance tax appraiser prior to July, 1941, received $8.00 per day and in August, 1941, was placed on a salary of $1200 per year. For the year prior to July, 1941, at $8.00 per day, this employe received $820.00 total compensation for the year. There is, therefore, an increase of $380.00 per year—an increase of 40 per cent for the collection of inheritance taxes in that county.

I checked the records to see if these increases could be justified on the basis of collection and I found that in Perry County for the year August, 1940, to July, 1941, when the appraiser received $616.00—$11,287.00 was collected. For the year August, 1941, to May, 1942, the amount of the collections was $11,518.00—practically the same.

In Wyoming County the amount collected from August, 1940, to July, 1941, when the appraiser was paid $820.00, was $28,312.84. During the year for which the appraiser received $1200, August, 1941 to May, 1942, the amount collected was $4,360.48.

And this is not all—more employes are being added continuously. The payrolls for both mercantile and inheritance tax collecting are being built still higher. New appointments are still being made. With the additional employes already appointed and at the rate new appointments are being made, merchantile and inheritance tax collections will cost about a quarter of a million dollars more per year than was the cost before Mr. Ross came into office. This means that for his four-year term, the additional cost will approximate one million dollars.

The increase in the number of employes and expenses is so large that I have made some preliminary investigations of these employes who have been placed under my supervision. Many of them are performing little or no service for the State. Some employes are assigned to counties but perform no services whatever in those counties yet their salaries and expenses are being deducted from the taxes collected in those counties. The salaries of many are far out of line with the positions they hold. So many of the employes are Democratic State Committee members or local Democratic Committeemen that the question of serious political abuse of the collection of these two taxes is raised. There are at least twenty-one members of the Democratic State Committee either on the mercantile or inheritance tax payroll and many local Democratic Committeemen. In my opinion, this aspect of the situation, as well as others, needs much more attention than I have been able to give thus far.

I am bringing this to your attention and protesting this because I do not believe one cent of this increase can be justified. Money paid by the taxpayers in the form of inheritance and mercantile taxes is being used to support entirely needless employes and its not finding its way into the Treasury as it should.

For Immediate Release.
July 29, 1942.

Subject: Mercantile and Inheritance Taxes

To: Honorable Arthur H. James

From: Edward B. Logan, Secretary of Revenue

I have just read a statement of J. Warren Mickle, Chief of Inheritance Tax and Mercantile Tax Appraisers, Department of the Auditor General, concerning the report I made to you on July 23rd, pertaining to the excessive number of appointments which have been made by the Auditor General in connection with the collection of inheritance and mercantile taxes. It is possible that Mr. Mickle's judgment is somewhat biased by his own position in the matter.

Mr. Mickle was appointed Chief of Inheritance Tax and Mercantile Tax Appraisers May 16, 1941 at a salary of $5,000. He has been drawing his $5,000 salary and expenses from Allegheny County although he does little or no work in that county. Moreover, he was appointed Secretary of the Democratic State Committee on June 24, 1942 and continued to draw his salary as Chief of the Inheritance Tax Division. It seems to me that Mr. Mickle is poorly qualified to make the reply for the Auditor General in connection with the matter which I brought to your attention.

In his report, Mr. Mickle states: "We have sought without success to identify in our official records, figures quoted by the Secretary of Revenue." I am willing to let any competent interested party inspect our records and see for themselves that from April, 1941 to June, 1942, Mr. Ross made forty-seven additional appointments of mercantile tax employes and from April, 1941, to May, 1942, seventy-nine additional inheritance tax employes, or a total of one hundred twenty-six additional employes for the collection of those two taxes.

In speaking of the additional employes appointed for mercantile license tax collection, Mr. Mickle states: "Most of these extra employes were added at the request of the Department of Revenue which pointed out that they were needed to insure businesslike operation." This statement is not borne out by our records. No requests have been made by this Department upon the Auditor General for the appointment of either inheritance tax employes or mercantile license tax employes. Certainly none have been made during the two months I have been in charge of the Department of Revenue, and I have not been able to find a single request made before I came to the department. I should like to ask Mr. Mickle to produce these requests which he says were made by the Department of Revenue.

A number of additional appointments have been made by Mr. Ross since I came to the Department two months ago.

This is the manner in which it is done. Mr. Ross places these employes on the payroll and sends me a letter notifying me that he has already appointed the employe and notifies me of the salary which the employe is to receive. For instance, notice of Mr. Mickle's own appointment, which occured May 16, 1941, arrived at the Department of Revenue on August 4, 1941, under date of August 1, 1941. The salary and expenses of the employe are deducted from the inheritance or mercantile taxes whichever it may be and there is no approval whatever of the appointment of these employes by the Department of Revenue. The fact of the matter is that the law gives the sole power of appointment and fixing the salaries and expenses to the Auditor General. The salaries and expenses of the employes are deducted from the taxes collected by Registers of Wills and County Treasurers before the Department of Revenue has a chance to approve or disapprove the settlements for these two taxes.

Mr. Mickle states: "Since Auditor General Ross took office more than 14 months ago every appointment for this work has been certified regularly to the Department of Revenue as required by law, and heretofore no criticism has been forthcoming." The most of the additional mercantile tax appointments have been made since January, 1942. In January, 1942, there were 144 mercantile tax employes and in June, 1942, that number increased to 187. Therefore, of the 47 additional employes appointed, 43 of them were appointed from January, 1942, to June, 1942. 10 of the additional inheritance tax employes were appointed between January, 1942, and May, 1942. The point is that the situation is rapidly getting worse.

The statement is a mass of conflicts and inaccuracies. For example, on page one of the statement, Mr. Mickle disavows on behalf of the Auditor General, all responsibility for appraising and collecting the two taxes. On page two of the statement, he brags extravagantly of the Auditor General's alleged success in the field which he had previously said was a Revenue Department responsibility.

Since I came to the Revenue Department I have not approved a single monthly settlement because, as I stated in my report to you, I believe all of these 126 additional appointments to be entirely needless and thoroughly unjustified.

The law gives the Department of Revenue authority to supervise the work of the employes appointed by the Auditor General. Therefore, I am ready to call upon the Auditor General to release the 126 additional employes which he has appointed since he came into Office on May 6, 1941. These employes are entirely unnecessary and their salaries and expenses should not constitute a burden placed upon the inheritance and mercantile taxes collected in the various counties.

For Immediate Release
July 30, 1942

The following letter was sent today by Edward B. Logan, Secretary of Revenue, to Auditor General F. Clair Ross:

July 30, 1942.

"Honorable F. Clair Ross,
Auditor General,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.
Dear Mr. Ross:

As you know, the Department of Revenue has the authority to supervise the work of the employes you have appointed to assist in the collection of inheritance and mercantile taxes.

I have reported to the governor that the number of employes you have appointed is far in excess of what is needed to perform the necessary work in collecting these two taxes.

Therefore, in order to prevent needless deductions for salaries and expenses from the receipts from these two taxes in the various counties, I wish you would release the one hundred twenty-six additional employes who have been appointed since you took office on May 6, 1941. This will leave sufficient employes to give the necessary assistance in the various counties in collecting these two taxes.

I hope this can be done promptly because there has already been a large needless cost imposed and this unnecessary cost is continuing every day these employes stay on the payroll.

Sincerely yours,
Signed, EDWARD B. LOGAN,
Secretary of Revenues."

From: Edward B. Logan
Secretary of Revenue

In accordance with my memorandum to you last week, I made a formal demand upon Auditor General Ross to consent to the elimination of 126 superfluous employes in the mercantile and inheritance tax staffs.

In a public statement Mr. Ross has defended this long roster, which is eating up inheritance and mercantile taxes at the rate of about a quarter of a million dollars per year, and rejected my suggestion.

Mr. Ross' statement points out that he took office May 6, 1942. The correct date of course is May 6, 1941.

Mr. Ross states that he hired more employees to try to collect more taxes. Tax collection under the statutes is not his function. He is attempting to justify these additional employees by citing a function not given to him by law.

In any event, less taxes were collected during the period in which he added 126 employees. His newspaper release was conspicuous for the absence of any supporting figures.

The reason for decreased collections is very obvious. The work reports of the employes in question will show that many of them devote little time to the tax collecting job for which Mr. Ross says he hired them. Some of them rarely even visit the counties in which their salaries are being deducted from tax collections.

I wish to take most vigorous exception to Mr. Ross' unfair and unsportsmanlike attack on former Acting Secretary of Revenue, Walter Kress, embodied in the following paragraph:

"It is a well known fact among the people who contact the Department of Revenue, that the Department has been in a chaotic condition ever since Governor James fired Secretary of Revenue, William J. Hamilton, Jr., on July 29, 1941, etc."

This is a direct affront and public slap at a man who is unable to defend himself, for the reason that he is away from Pennsylvania in the armed services of the United States. Captain Kress, former State Commander of the American Legion, was continuously attached to the Department of Revenue from his appointment in January of 1939 until he left to join the Army, June 1, 1942. Twice in that period, between January and June of 1939, prior to the ratification by the Senate of Mr. Hamilton as Secretary of Revenue, and again between July, 1941 and June 1, 1942, Captain Kress was Acting Secretary of Revenue.

The statement that the Department has been in a chaotic condition since Captain Kress became Acting Secretary for the second time, is ridiculous.

Mr. Ross's own official audits of the Department do not back up his criticism. Neither has there been any notice from him of the discovery of such conditions.

Mr. Ross made one lone suggestion about the Department of Revenue in the period he refers to as "chaotic." In a letter to you under date fo March 26, 1942 he recommended that cash registers of a certain type be placed at the elbows of Revenue employes selling automobile licenses over the counter. It eventually turned out that no such machine as he recommended was on the market.

The facts remain the same—Mr. Ross is making the choice to maintain a padded payroll and the consequent large unnecessary charges upon inheritance and mercantile taxes.

As I told you in my former report, I am withholding approval of the monthly settlements of these taxes and I intend to take whatever steps I can to prevent this unjustified waste of the funds collected from these two taxes.

In my recent report to you on July 23rd, I showed that twenty-one Democratic State Committeemen were appointed by Auditor General F. Clair Ross and are holding either mercantile or inheritance tax positions. Now I find upon further investigation that in Philadelphia, Mr. Ross has twenty-seven of the fifty-two Democratic ward leaders of the City in inheritance and mercantile tax positions. The yearly salaries paid to these ward leaders range all the way up to $7,000, with the total for all twenty-seven amounting to $103,000 yearly. These ward leaders and their positions are as follows:

	Ward	Position	Salary
Maxwell Seidman ..... 1618 S. 4th St., Philadelphia, Pa.	1	Special Deputy Appraiser .... Mercantile Tax	$3,000
Joseph Marinelli ..... 1020 S. 8th St., Philadelphia, Pa.	2	Supv. Deputy Appraiser ..... Mercantile Tax	6,000
Helen Liston ..... 124 Vine St., Philadelphia, Pa.	6	Asst. Appraiser ..... Inheritance Tax	2,700
William Long ..... 1221 Panama St., Philadelphia, Pa.	7	Special Investigator ..... Inheritance Tax	3,500

Herbert McGlinchey ... 596 E. Geneva St., Philadelphia, Pa.	42	Board of Mercantile Appraisers Approx.	7,000

In my former report I stated that the presence of twenty-one Democratic State Committeemen on the inheritance and mercantile tax payrolls raised the question of serious political abuse of the collection of these two taxes. This information to me is even stronger evidence of such abuse.

The following letter was received by Edward B. Logan, Secretary of Revenue:

August 5, 1942.

The Honorable Edward B. Logan
Secretary of Revenue
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Mr. Logan:

I wish to acknowledge receipt of your letter of July 30 regarding employees appointed to assist the Department of Revenue in the collection of Inheritance and Mercantile Taxes.

I am advised by my Chief of Inheritance and Mercantile Tax Appraisers that these employees are performing their assigned duties promptly, efficiently and economically; and that as a result of their work collections by the Commonwealth are being increased by many times the total amount of salaries paid them.

However, if you have in mind any particular employees who in your opinion are not performing their duties efficiently, I shall be glad to give these cases my careful consideration if you care to submit them to me.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) F. CLAIR ROSS,
Auditor General.

The following letter was sent today to Auditor General F. Clair Ross from Edward B. Logan, Secretary of Revenue:

August 7, 1942.

Hororable F. Clair Ross,
Auditor General,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Dear Mr. Ross:

This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of August 5th.

I was amazed at the difference of its tone from that of your public utterances and statements. The interference of your letter is plain you would prefer to be advised privately of my information concerning your appointees on the mercantile and inheritance tax staffs.

I cannot consent. The reasons which lead me to this conclusion do not particularly involve your public criticism of my "lack of understanding" or any desire on my part to vindicate myself from such personalities.

This is the public's business. It is the public's money.

As the matter is pursued, more and more light is shed on many items of public concern, involving both public administration and political campaigns.

I cannot imagine that many Pennsylvanians failed to see the point that, if you had possessed a factual defense to my statements, you would have chosen such factual reply, instead of crying "politics" and making personal remarks about me.

I note in your letter you state that you are relying for advise in this matter upon the Chief of Inheritance and Mercantile Tax Appraisals, who I presume is Mr. J. Warren Mickle.

In a statement issued by Mr. Mickle after my first report on the excessive number of employees you have appointed, Mr. Mickle said, "Most of these extra employees were added at the request of the Department of Revenue which pointed out that they were needed to insure businesslike operation.

I challenged that statement and called upon Mr. Mickle to produce such requests.

None has been forthcoming.

Neither has Mr. Mickle denied he drew his $5,000 salary and expenses from Allegheny County although he did little or no work in that county.

As I said earlier, in a report to the Governor, it does not appear to me that Mr. Mickle qualifies as an accurate and impartial advisor in these matters.

So far as concerns your request for information, sufficient is contained in reports already made public to permit you to reach certain obvious conclusions.

The chief issue here is that you have at least 126 employees too many cutting into the revenues from inheritance and mercantile taxes to the amount of approximately $250,000 yearly. I have pointed out that you have 21 State Committeemen on these payrolls and 27 of the 52 Democratic ward leaders in Philadelphia.

I am enclosing copies of all reports which I have made in these matters, including the one issued yesterday in which were listed the 27 Democratic ward leaders in Philadelphia who are receiving a yearly total of $103,000 at the taxpayers' expense, without need, excuse or justification.

My concern in this matter is not that of determining your motives or passing judgment on your conduct; my responsibility is that of seeing that the revenues to which this State is entitled are not dissipated or diverted. I propose to exhaust every means at my disposal to prevent this waste of State monies.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) EDWARD B. LOGAN,
Secretary of Revenue.

COPY OF LETTER SENT TO ALL COUNTY TREASURERS

August 7, 1942.

As you have been advised, I have declined to approve the monthly mercantile tax settlements from April to date because of unwarranted and excessive payroll charges.

After further investigations, I am now in position to notify you formally and officially that I shall not approve any further reports so long as the padded payrolls are maintained. The Commonwealth intends to make every effort to obtain its proper return from the collection of these taxes.

I cannot conscientiously permit these revenues to be wasted by the employment of persons not needed for the proper performance of State functions.

The responsibility for these excess employes, totaling 126 througout the State, lies at the door of the Auditor General who appointed them and who has refused to consent to their dismissal.

The Auditor General's only explanation is to attempt to establish that he is hiring these extra employes for the purpose of collecting delinquent taxes. Unfortunately for his assertions, tax revenues have decreased rather than increased with this additional staff.

Furthermore, as you are well aware, the Auditor General, under the statutes, has neither responsibility nor authority in this field; the collection of these taxes is assigned as a responsibility of your office and mine.

After very careful investigation of many phases of this problem, I am convinced that the only proper course to follow is to reduce employment to the number on the rolls as of April, 1941. You know and I know that the number of employes at that time was ample for the work to be done.

Under the statutes I am charged with "supervising" the appointments made in these fields by the Auditor General. In my judgment the responsibility of supervising carries the authority to evaluate their services and to recommend dismissal when the value of a given employe to the Commonwealth is less than the salary he is receiving.

I, therefore, instruct you in your capacity as agent of the Commonwealth for the collection of mercantile taxes that you notify enough of the mercantile tax employes for which you and I are responsible that their services are unnecessary in order to bring that list back to the number employed in April of 1941. In your county there were — employes in April, 1941. Now, according to our latest information, there are —. I further recommend that no further salary be paid to those whom you notify.

My suggestion is that your notifications be to those whose services are of least value. In making that decision you have authority to call for work reports and other pertinent information if you feel it is necessary.

I am perfectly well aware that certain legal questions may be involved which have never been decided by Pennsylvania courts; the present situation, in which a State official insists that there is no legal limit to the number or nature of his appointments, is one which, be it said to the credit of the State, has probably never risen before.

Since the present Auditor General has raised it, I would be very pleased to have the matter passed upon by the courts.

It unquestionably would be helpful to you also to have a court decision in this matter, since it would finally answer the question, so vexing to both of us, as to the extent to which you might become liable under your bond, if salaries and expenses are paid to unnecessary employees.

Sincerely yours,

EDWARD B. LOGAN,
Secretary of Revenue.

I want to report to you additional information which I have as a result of further investigation of the Auditor General's inheritance and mercantile employes.

In my first report to you I showed that the number of employes in Philadelphia on the inheritance tax payroll at the time Mr. Ross came into office was 116. At the present time there are 160—an increase of 44. There were 71 on the mercantile tax payroll when Mr. Ross came into office and at the present time there are 113. The increase for both of these taxes was 86 employes in a little more than a year's time.

I showed you in a report last week that investigation which I had made revealed that 27 of the 52 Democratic ward leaders in Philadelphia were on the payrolls for these two taxes. Now I find upon further investigation that in addition to the 27 ward leaders, there are 160 Philadelphia Division Committeemen on these two payrolls. The salaries and expenses of 96 of the 160 are being deducted from the inheritance taxes as collected in Philadelphia and the salaries and expenses of 64 from the mercantile taxes collected. The 160 Division Committeemen are drawing $24,600 from these two taxes monthly, or $295,000 yearly.

The total number of the Auditor General's employes for these two taxes for Philadelphia is 273. Of this number 187 or 69 per cent are ward leaders and division committeemen of the Philadelphia Democratic organization with total yearly salaries of $398,000.

The presence of 187 members of a political organization on a staff of 273 employees shows clearly that these positions are being used for political purposes. It is evident that the basis of selection was the party position held. From all appearances the funds being collected from inheritance and mercantile taxes in Philadelphia are being used to subsidize in a very substantial measure the Democratic organization in that city.

It is clearly impossible to have efficient and economical appraisement and collection of these two taxes under these conditions.

In order to prevent any further waste of these funds I have sent a letter to the Registers of Wills and County Treasurers notifying them that I shall not approve any further settlements so long as the padded payrolls are maintained and instructing them to give notices to unnecessary employes and stop payment at once. I am enclosing herewith a copy of that letter.

STATEMENT FROM EDW. B. LOGAN,
SECRETARY OF REVENUE

There are two points in Mr. Ross's statement as I read the account of it.

First, he tried to justify the padded inheritance and mercantile tax payrolls on the basis of being necessary to collect delinquent taxes. Forty-seven of the 126 unnecessary employes are mercantile license employes. They have nothing whatever to do with the collection of delinquent mercantile taxes. Such taxes are turned over to the magistrate for collection. Seventy-nine of the 126 unnecessary employes are inheritance tax employes and I have already shown that considerably less inheritance taxes were collected during the year in which Mr. Ross added these employes.

The second point, according to the newspaper report he attempts to make is that the Republican Party has something to do with my efforts to get rid of these unnecessary employes because, as he said: "they want to shield tax dodgers."

This is pure fabrication.

Democratic party leaders charged during the primary campaign that Mr. Ross had padded the payroll to win the nomination.

When I became Secretary of Revenue in June, I began immediately to investigate the situation. I found inheritance and mercantile tax payrolls grossly padded and I refused to approve monthly settlements containing those padded payrolls. I reported the situation to the Governor and called upon Registrars of Wills and County Treasurers to stop payment to these unnecessary employes. What ever action I have taken has been done to prevent the waste of a quarter of a million dollars a year of funds paid by inheritance and mercantile taxpayers.

It so happens that this is an election year but the action I have taken would have been taken election year or no election year. To charge this to the Republican Party is, as I said, pure fabrication and without the slightest foundation.

Never in the history of the Commonwealth has a candidate for Governor used public funds to promote his candidacy to the extent that Clair Ross has done. It is not an exaggeration to say that his campaign for nomination and the present campaign for election have been promoted primarily at the expense of the taxpayers of this State.

During the primary campaign for nomination, even his own party members made the assertions that his campaign was being advanced primarily by the use of the public payroll. Mr. Arthur Colegrove, Secretary of Property and Supplies during the Earle Administration, in an editorial in the Corry Evening Journal on May 6, 1942, charged that:

> "This is not the first time that campaigns for public office have been financed with state funds—with the taxpayers' money.
> "But never before in the history of Pennsylvania politics has such worker-buying with state funds been conducted on such a wholesale scale.
> "Every active Democrat knows that Ross agents for months past have been operating in every county in the state contacting every available potential vote-getter. Those worth-while who agreed to support Ross were immediately put to work rounding up votes for Ross. Their pay came not from the Ross Campaign Committee but out of State Funds and Inheritance estate fees in the form of state salaries for unneeded jobs."

Senator Guffey made a similar charge during the primary campaign. In a letter sent to prominent Democrats throughout the State, Senator Guffey stated:

> "Ross secured the State Committee indorsement with jobs. He is endeavoring to secure the nomination with jobs.
> "Should he be nominated it is reasonable to expect he will be called upon by his Republican opponent to justify the many high salary jobs created since and prior to the campaign and the using of these jobs to secure the support of individuals in every county in this State.
> ". . . not only will be have to explain his unprecedented payroll increases to the taxpayers but to get back within his budget there must be wholesale lay-offs in his office before the general election.
> "The Ross campaign is largely a payroll proposition." The facts support these contentions.

From the time Mr. Ross came into office in May 1941 to the primary election in May 1942, he added forty-four (44) Mercantile Tax employees throughout the State and seventy-nine (79) Inheritance Tax employes. At the time Mr. Ross came into office, there were sufficient Mercantile and Inheritance Tax employees to perform all the work necessary in the collection of these two taxes. The one hundred twenty-three (123) employees added between the time he took office and the primary election were entirely unnecessary. At a time when all available men are needed in production for war purposes, Mr. Ross places these unnecessary employees on the state payroll to do his poliitcal work, thus keeping them from helping in our war effort. Their yearly salaries and expenses amount to approximately $250,000. This shows the slice which Mr. Ross took from receipts from the Inheritance and Mercantile taxes to promote his nomination between the time he came into office and the primary campaign.

More than that, the records show that after Mr. Ross took office in May 1941, he began to use the appropriation to his Department to promote his campaign for nomination by placing persons on the payroll who could help his campaign. When he came into office on May 6, 1941, he had three hundred eighty-nine (389) employes. He increased the number as high as four hundred sixty-one (461), seventy-two (72) more than when he took office—an increase of eighteen percent (18%) in the number of employees. This great increase in the number of employees was made without any increase whatever in the functions or duties of the Auditor General's Office. As a result of placing this large number of persons on his own payroll to promote his nomination, he has "short-changed" his budget to the tune of $180,000. This means that Mr. Ross used $180,000 of the taxpayers' money in this fashion to promote his nomination. He was able to use this $180,000 for his campaign purposes because the shortage, while it is evident to anyone who examines his expenditures at the present time, will not cripple the Auditor General's Department until next February. At that time it will be necessary for him to ask the Legislature to appropriate additional funds to the Auditor General's Department to run it from February to the end of the biennium, May 31, 1943. In order to promote his candidacy, he used, during the primary campaign and is continuing to use during the election campaign, the money which should have been set aside to run his Department from February to May 1943.

And more than that, Mr. Ross did not stop with using the receipts from Inheritance and Mercantile Taxes and his own appropriation to promote his campaign. He dug into Public Assistance funds for that purpose. When he came into office in May 1941 he had seventy-eight (78) employees who were paid from Public Assistance funds. He increased this number from seventy-eight (78) to ninety-six (96), an increase of twenty-three percent (23%). This increase occurred in spite of the fact that the relief rolls were descending rapidly when he came into office and descended rapidly thereafter. His predecessor in office was doing all the necessary Public Assistance work at a cost of $12,500 per month and when relief rolls were much higher. Mr. Ross spent an average of $15,000 per month and in some months went as high as $20,000. As a result, he spent at least $47,500 of Public Assistance money unnecessarily. This shows how much regard Mr. Ross has for relief funds when he is a candidate for public office.

The first hurdle Mr. Ross had to overcome was the primary election in May and he got over that first hurdle by making the taxpayers pay the bill. After his nomination in May his clear intent was to continue his election campaign on the same basis at the expense of the taxpayers. Not only did he keep on all of the Inheritance and Mercantile Tax employees, but also he increased the number and was continuing to increase them until the Secretary of Revenue refused to approve the settlements carrying payment of the unnecessary employees. Mr. Ross has advised these employees to continue in their positions and the Secretary of Revenue ordered that the pay of these unnecessary employees be withheld. But since Mr. Ross' nomination in May, he has used about $80,000 more of Inheritance and Mercantile license receipts for his election campaign. The payroll from his own appropriation continues with the deficiency of $180,000. He continued wasting Public Assistance money until the Governor called a halt and reduced his allocation from $15,000 to $12,500 per month, the month his predecessor had received.

Another expenditure which Mr. Ross is making to promote his campaign is one for publicity. Every month he sends a pamphlet called "Monthly Analysis of Expenditures by Departments" throughout the State, prpeared, printed, and mailed at public expense. About 18,000 copies of this are mailed each month. This pamphlet contains what is called a Monthly Report of Auditor General Clair Ross, showing the condition of appropriations, allocations, receipts, etc. of large branches of the Commonwealth as of the close of business at the end of the month for which the pamphlet is issued. This report is meaningless to anyone who examines the statement, because expenditures are not made regularly in many of the departments. Subsidies, appropriations for improvements, and the like are not paid regularly, and therefore the figures given by the Auditor General are not understandable. On the face of the pamphlet appears the picture of Clair Ross and an examination of the pamphlet shows that this is the only purpose of it. Mr. Ross started this personal publicity scheme in August 1941 and has kept it up to date, with the taxpayers paying many thousands of dollars for this publicity scheme. This expenditure shows clearly the attitude of Mr. Ross toward the taxpayers' money. This is clearly a case of publicizing oneself at the taxpayers' expense.

The upshot of this is that F. Clair Ross' campaign for nomination and for election has been a publicly financed campaign. He has spent upwards of a half million dollars of the taxpayers' money promoting his campaign. The taxpayers in this State should understand this for what it is. No worse example of the use of public funds for private political purposes can be found. Mr. Ross has squandered upwards of a half million dollars of public money, with only one department under his control. If he does this with only one department under his control, what would he spend of the taxpayers' money in future campaigns, if he had the whole State Government under his control?

Subject: Inheritance and Mercantile Tax Employees

To: Honorable Arthur H. James,
Governor.

From: Edward B. Logan,
Secretary of Revenue.

A matter has arisen which I feel should be brought to your attention. I reported to you sometime ago that investigations which I made as soon as I came to the Department of Revenue in June convinced me that the Auditor General had grossly padded the Inheritance and Mercantile Tax payrolls. I found that he had added to those two payrolls at least one hundred twenty-six unnecessary employees, with salaries amounting to approxi nately $250,000 per year. I reported to you that these additional employees were entirely unnecessary, that here were sufficient employees on the payroll to do all necessary work at the time Mr. Ross took office in May 941, and I reported that this great unnecessary burden placed upon the receipts from these two taxes was thoroughly unjustified. I showed you that during the year in which Mr. Ross had made this great increase in he payroll, the collections of Inheritance taxes dropped more than $2,000,000. I showed in my reports to you hat there are twenty-one members of the Democratic State Committee on either the Mercantile or Inheritance Tax payrolls, as well as many local Democratic Committeemen throughout the State. In Philadelphia, I howed you that there are one hundred eighty-seven Democratic ward and division leaders on these two payolls. This I pointed out to you because it appeared to me that it was sufficient evidence that Mr. Ross was subecting the collection of these two taxes to political abuse.

I reported to you that I was withholding approval of monthly settlements carrying payments from Inheritance and Mercantile license receipts for these padded payrolls, and I instructed Registers of Wills and County Treasurers o notify a number of Inheritance and Mercantile tax mployees that their services were no longer necessary, n order to bring the payrolls back to what they were when Mr. Ross took office. Moreover, I instructed the Registers of Wills and the County Treasurers to withhold urther payments to these unnecessary employees. Registers of Wills and County Treasurers have withheld ayment to these unnecessary employees.

Now I want to report to you the latest developments n this matter. The latter part of last week I received ighty petitions of these unnecessary Inheritance and Mercantile Tax employees being made upon the General Claims Board, comprised of the Auditor General and the State Treasurer, asking that payment of salaries be made o these employees up to September 15, 1942, although hese employees had been notified peoviously that their services were no longer necessary.

The letter to me accompanying these petitions asked ne to make a reply to this Board before October 2, 1942, t which time this Board, the Auditor General and the tate Treasurer, intended to act upon these claims.

As for the legality of this, I have referred the matter o the Attorney General for an opinion, but I want to oint out what is happening here. Whatever may be he legality of this move, it strikes me as ethically improper and lacking of all respect for the rights of those who pay the taxes in this State. This is a scheme to ave the Auditor General sit as judge and jury in a case n which he has the chief interest. These padded payolls were built up for one purpose—to promote the campaign of Mr. Ross for the Governorship, and now Mr. oss would sit as a judge to determine whether these nnecessary employees are to stay on the payrolls at a ost of about $250,000 per year to the taxpayers. I know f no more brazen attempt upon the part of a public fficial to perpetuate the needless expenditure of public unds for his own ends.

And there is this side of it too which I want to point ut. The Auditor General, I am informed, has advised hese unnecessary employees to stay at their jobs, although as Supervisor of the collection of these two taxes under the law, I have found they are entirely unnecessary. He is keeping one hundred twenty-six persons on unnecessary jobs, hoping that he can, by sitting as judge and jury, have them continue to receive unnecessary salaries amounting to about a quarter of a million dollars yearly. By advising these employees to stay at their unnecessary jobs, Mr. Ross is keeping that many persons from war production or other war activities at a time when all available manpower is needed.

I am making this report to you so that you will know how the situation stands at the present time. After receiving these petitions I felt that he first step was to ask the Attorney General for an opinion in this case, and as I stated. I have done that

As I have stated before in reports to you, I want to do everything in my power to protect the collection of Inheritance and Mercantile taxes and to prevent these funds being wasted in paying the salaries and expenses of unnecessary employees.

Inheritance Tax Employes of Philadelphia County

Honorable Arthur H. James
Governor

Edward B. Logan
Secretary of Revenue

As you know, I appointed a Supervisor of Inheritance Taxes in Philadelphia, effective October 1, 1942. The Register of Wills, the Supervisor of Inheritance Taxes, and this Department have made a preliminary survey of the Inheritance Tax employes appointed by the Auditor General in Philadelphia and the system for appraising and collecting Inheritance Taxes in that city.

I have just had a report on the result of their survey, which contains some facts which I think should be brought to your attention.

In making the survey, an organization chart was prepared and the heads of each unit were asked to designate the employees within their unit. 112 employees were so designated as holding positions in the various units. In spite of this, the Auditor General continues to present a payroll to the Register of Wills containing the names of 155 employees. 43 of these, according to information received from the heads of the different units, had no positions in those units. They constitute a group unaccounted for as a part of the organization of the employees appointed by the Auditor General. Since they had no definite positions and were not considered to be working under those at the head of the various units, it is safe to assume they were doing little or no work for the State. You will remember that this is precisely the number of employees from whom we asked the Register of Wills to withhold payment of salaries, because that number of employees was unnecessary for Inheritance Tax work in Philadelphia.

In the survey it was found prior to September 1, 1942, no work reports were made. During August, the Register of Wills requested the employees doing field work, appointed by the Auditor General, to furnish him with daily reports in order that he might be informed of their activities. Since September 1, 1942 reports have been filed in a fashion. The daily reports of 30 field men from October 1st to October 20th show that in the case of 12 of the employees there were no reports filed and no reports of any calls made during that twenty-day period. With other cases there were reports that they had worked 1 day, another worked 2 days, others worked 3 days, and so on. It is clear from the examination we have made thus far that most of the employees doing field work are not giving full time for every working day. Not over a half dozen employees were doing the amount of work that should be expected of them. There are fifteen men being sent out on work, ninety per cent of which could be accomplished by the simple devices of mailing out an inquiry and receiving a reply. Ninety-eight per cent of the calls of these 15 investigators show that there were no estates and that, therefore, most of these calls represent unnecessary work when it could be done in the manner I indicated above. Because of this system of sending investigators to do unnecessary work, a large number of employees is required with unnecessary salaries and expenses. This is one type of situation which has brought about the large number of unnecessary employees appointed by the Auditor General.

During survey, it was discovered that there was no rhyme or reason for salaries being paid. The Assistant Cashier, who performs many responsible duties, receives a salary of $1,600 a year, while 2 Janitors and a Janitress are each paid $1,400 a year for approximately four hours work per day. An employee, with the payroll title of Appraiser, performs the simple task of an interviewer. This person calls at various banks and verbally verifies the amount of bank accounts. For this service this employee receives a salary of $4,500 per year. Proper classification of this position would be at a salary of about $1,620 per year. And, it should be pointed out here, that most of the work this employee does could be better handled by sending out a letter and receiving a reply in writing from the bank, so that the statement from the bank would be on record.

In the survey we found that some of the employees have remunerative employment outside of their State positions. One employee was appointed in June 1941 at a salary of $6.00 per day. This individual was paid for every working day during the period of over a year while he was on the State payroll. During that period of time, the same individual appeared on the payroll of a local manufacturer. During the 7 months ended March 31, 1942, he received $875.24 from that company.

Another employee, at a salary of $2,250 per year, was employed the first [illegible] months of 1942 by another local manufacturer. This employee received $942.00 from that source, while drawing his full salary from the State.

Another employee, who draws a salary of $2,000 from the State, was employed with a local manufacturer, and over the past two years has been drawing from $20.00 to $30.00 a week from this local concern. It is clear to us that these employees cannot engage in this outside work without neglecting their State work.

From the information we received during the survey, there is clear indication that, I told you previously, there were sufficient Inheritance Tax employees to do all necessary work before Mr. Ross came into office and increased the number from 116 to 160. The fact of the matter is that our survey indicates that by the elimination of unnecessary work, the payroll can be reduced even further.

We found that there are some employees who are efficient and are carrying the load of work in the office. This is true, because there were so many who were not giving proper service and whose work had to be carried by someone.

As I stated previously, the Auditor General continues sending a payroll to the Register of Wills with about 155 names included. This is true, in spite of the fact that 43 of them have no assigned positions in the organization and are wholly unnecessary. The Register of Wills deletes that number from the list before honoring the payroll.

Mercantile Appraisements in Philadelphia Counts.

Honorable Arthur H. James,
Governor.

Edward B. Logan,
Secretary of Revenue.

Information in possession of this Department and reports which have come to me indicated that assessments for the Mercantile Tax, which had been made in December 1941, were not properly made in many cases in the City of Philadelphia. As a result of this information, I have made an investigation of assessments in Philadelphia to determine in what manner assessments are being made. I have just received the results of that investigation.

Our investigation shows that of 192 assessments, 20 of them were incorrect; 17 of these were assessments on retail and wholesale establishments. The total assessment on these 17 establishments was $356,600. Our investigation showed by an examination of the books of these establishments and verification with Income Tax reports that the total assessment for these establishments should have been $1,104,000. These esablishments, therefore, were assessed at 32% of the correct amount.

I am attaching hereto a schedule which shows the volume of business of the individual establishments as assessed by the Board of Mercantile Appraisers and the volume of business as shown on the taxpayer's books. You will notice that in one case a wholesale establishment had its volume of business assessed by the Board of Mercantile Appraisers at $12,000 when the books showed that its volume of business was $283,500. Another was assessed at $20,000 when the books showed $144,400. Another was assessed at $1,000 when the books showed $18,000, and etc.

Three of the incorrect assessments made were on brokerage businesses and these were found to be just as incorrect as were the retail and wholesale assessments. I have included these in the schedule as well. An establishment performing $47,000 worth of business, as shown on the books, was assessed at $5,000. This means that this Company paid $11.75 in tax, instead of $101.75, the correct amount. Another company, whose business according to its books was $69,600, was assessed at $10,000; another, which did a business of $28,300 was assessed at $10,000.

There is an important fact about the manner in which these assessments were made, which I wish to point out to you. Of the 17 incorrect retail and wholesale assessments, 4 of the assessments were made by the taxpayers in their returns to the Board of Mercantile Appraisers, and 13 of the assessments were made by the Board of Mercantile Appraisers themselves. In the 4 cases where the taxpayers had assessed themselves, the total assessment was $78,000, when the correct amount was $120,800. The taxpayers had assessed themselves at 64%. As for the 13 incorrect assessments made by the Board of Mercantile Appraisers, the total assessment was $278,600, when the correct volume of business according to the books of the companies was $983,200. The Board of Mercantile Appraisers has assessed these companies at 28% of the correct amount. The Board, therefore, you see, did a much worse job of assessing than did the taxpayers when they made the returns themselves. But even in the cases where the taxpayers made the returns themselves, the Board has the duty of checking the returns. And obviously they permitted these under-assessments to stand.

I should like to point out that we found in our investigation that 10% of the assessments were incorrect. There are about 45,000 individual assessments and if this percentage is true throughout the City, you can see that there would be an enormous number of incorrect assessments and a consequent great loss in revenue.

In spite of the great increase in the number of Mercantile Tax employees in Philadelphia, which I showed you sometime ago had jumped from 72 in April 1941 to 213 in June 1942, our investigation reveals that the assessments are being made in a most unsatisfactory manner. It appears that in spite of this great increased staff, there is not proper investigating and checking in making these assessments.

It appears on the basis of the information we have obtained from our investigation that the Board of Mercantile Appraisers, which is appointed by the Auditor General, is not making assessments in many cases in a proper manner and is causing not only inequality in taxes as far as Mercantile Taxes are concerned, in Philadelphia, but moreover is causing a large loss of revenue to the Commonwealth.

In a letter to me, dated August 5, 1942, Mr. Ross stated:

> "I am advised by my Chief of Inheritance and Mercantile Tax Appraisers that these employees are performing their assigned duties promptly, efficiently and economically; and that as a result of their work collections by the Commonwealth are being increased by many times the total amount of salaries paid them."

Our investigation disproves that statement.

Subject: Inheritance and Mercantile Employees

To: Honorable Arthur H. James
Governor

From: Edward B. Logan
Secretary of Revenue

On July 23, 1942 I reported to you that the Auditor General, from the time he came into office from May 1941 to June 1942, had placed 126 unnecessary employees on the Inheritance and Mercantile Tax payrolls throughout the State, costing the taxpayers about ¼ of a million dollars yearly. There were 140 Mercantile Tax employees when Mr. Ross came into office in May 1941 and in June 1942 there were 187. There were 354 Inheritance Tax employees when he came into office in May 1941 and in June 1942 there were 433. This number of 126 unnecessary employees should be increased by 10, because I found that Mr. Ross, without any authority by law, had set up 10 supervisory districts throughout the State and had appointed a high-priced supervisor for each District, with total salaries of $41,000 yearly, when the law plainly eliminates supervision by the Auditor General.

I showed that Mr. Ross had made this great increase in the payroll although the amount of taxes collected during the period was considerably less.

Several months have gone past and Mr. Ross has given no satisfactory explanation for padding the payrolls in the amount of about $291,000 per year.

On July 30, 1942 I wrote a letter to Mr. Ross, asking him to release these unnecessary employees, in order to prevent needless salaries and expenses, and pointed out to him that there would be sufficient employees remaining to do all necessary work. Mr. Ross refused to comply with that request, and accordingly, I instructed the Registers of Wills and the County Treasurers in the counties where the payrolls had been padded to withhold payment from these unnecessary employees, in order to get rid of that unnecessary expense.

Mr. Ross instructed them to continue working and had them submit claims for salaries and expenses to the Board of Claims, of which he is a member, along with the State Treasurer. This was a scheme whereby the Auditor General would sit as judge and jury in cases in which he was chiefly interested. Mr. Ross, sittingfi as judge and jury along with the State Treasurer, has made salary awards to the larger share of these unnecessary employees up to the present time, even after he was advised by the Attorney General that the Auditor General and the State Treasurer have no authority to allow these claims. Notification of 78 of these awards reached me on October 27, 1942. This is Mr. Ross' method of taking care of padded payrolls. Instead of eliminating the unnecessary employees, he sits as judge and jury in an attempt to keep them on the payroll. I know of no more brazen attempt upon the part of a public official to perpetuate the needless expenditure of public funds for his own ends. On the advice of the Attorney General I have notified Registers of Wills and County Treasurers that they cannot take these payments.

Investigations which I have conducted since I reported to you in July show that conditions were even worse than I found in my preliminary survey. In spite of the fact that in Philadelphia Mr. Ross increased the number of Mercantile Tax employees from 71 at the time he came into office to 113, I find that the Mercantile Tax assessments in many cases are not being made correctly. In order to determine this, I had investigators go to retail and wholesale establishments to examine the books to determine the proper assessments. They found for example a wholesale establishment which had its volume of business assessed by the Board of Mercantile Appraisers at $12,000 when the books showed that the volume of business was $283,000. Another establishment was assessed at $20,000, when the books showed $144,000. Another was assessed at $1,000, when the books showed $18,000, etc. It is clear that the Board of Mercantile Appraisers, appointed by Mr Ross, with the padded payrolls which have been built up, is falling down on the job of making proper assessments. Besides the unnecessary payroll costs, which Mr. Ross has imposed upon the receipts from the Mercantile taxes, improper assessments are causing an additional great loss in revenue.

In surveying the Auditor General's Inheritance Tax employees in Philadlephia, where he increased the number from 116 when he came into office to 160, I found that there were 43 employees who had no assigned positions in the organization. Moreover, I found that there were no work reports prior to September 1, 1942, and no system for checking up to see that employees were doing the amount of work that should be expected of them. A large number of employees were being sent around to banks, institutions, and other useless calls on work which could have been better done by mailing out a request and receiving a reply. Th survey showed that there is no rhyme or reason to some salaries being paid. The Assistant Cashier, with many responsible duties, receives a salary of $1600 per year, while 2 Janitors and 1 Janitress are each paid $1400 per year for approximately 4 hours work per day. One employee, Marie Bickert, Vice-Chairman of the Democratic State Committee, with the payroll title of "Appaiser" performs the simple task of an interview. For this service she receives a salary of $4500 per year. Proper classification of the position would be a salary of $1620 per year, although it appears the position itself is unnecessary.

I have found in the survey that there are some of the Auditor General's employees who have regular employment on jobs other than their State jobs, with very substantial remuneration from those outside jobs.

One employee, Joseph McKenna, was appointed in June, 19[illegible], at a salary of $6.00 per day. This individual was paid for every working day during the period of over a year. During that period of time he appeared on the payroll of the Quaker Lace Company, 22nd and Lehigh Avenue, Philadelphia. During the seven months ended March 31, 1942 he received $875.24 from that company.

Another employee, [illegible] E. Osman, employed at a State salary of $2250 per year, was employed the first five months of 1942 by M. L. Bayard, 20th & Indiana Streets, Philadelphia. This employe received $942.00 from that source for the five-months period while drawing his full salary from the State.

Another employee, Ralph G. Luff, Jr., who draws a salary of $2,000 from the State was employed with the D. L. Ward Paper Company, 401 North Broad Street, Philadelphia, and over the past two years has been drawing from $20.00 to $30.00 a week from this local concern.

It is obviously impossible for these employees to earn their State salaries.

In spite of all of this, Mr. Ross, instead of complying with my request to get rid of these unnecessary employees, chooses a method of encouraging these employees to stay on the payroll and to submit their claims for salaries to a Board on which he sits as judge and jury.

PART III—BUDGET OF AUDITOR GENERAL F. CLAIR ROSS

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
Department of Auditor General
Harrisburg

F. Clair Ross
Auditor General

November 16, 1942.

Hon. Edward B. Logan
Secretary of Revenue
Harrisburg, Penna.

Attention: H. J. G. Strack, Comptroller

Dear Mr. Logan:

Effective at once, this Department's Pre-Audit Crew which has been attached to your Department has been transferred to the Main Office, located in the Finance Building.

Therefore, please send your requisitions directly to Room 225, New Finance Building, and if you desire to communicate with this Department regarding same, please call Extension 875, Bureau of Disbursements.

Thanking you in advance for your cooperation, I remain

Sincerely yours,
TED A. ROSENBERG,
Deputy Auditor General

November 17, 1942

Dear Mr. Ross:

Pursuant to Section 10 of Article 4 of the Pennsylvania

Constitution, and Section 605 of the Administrative Code of 1929, I wish you to submit a report to me, at your earliest convenience, concerning your plans for maintaining for the balance of this biennium the adequate and proper auditing of State financial transactions as required under the statutes.

I have attempted to disregard current reports that you intend trying to make up the large deficiency in the balance of your appropriation by stripping your staff to the bone and continuing only the inconsequential auditing of warrants, etc., necessary to allow checks to issue.

Word coming to me today from various department heads, however, to the effect that the valuable and important pre-auditing work of your department is being scrapped in its entiretly serves as confirmation of these reports.

No single function of your office has been a more satisfactory protection of the people's rights and the people's money than these pre-audits, established by your predecessor, Warren F. Roberts. I am at a loss to know how the abandonment of this program can be justified.

If, as has been so frequently stated and, to my knowledge, never staisfactorily denied, you so greatly overexpended your appropriation during the past few months that insufficient funds now remain to allow you to perform your duties fully and properly under the statute, it is your obvious responsibility to so report to the Governor or to the Legislature, regardless of how painful such disclosure may be to you personally.

You could not properly attempt, in such circumstances, to balance your budget by inaction and non-performance.

To repeat a phrase which I have observed your fondness of using, you as Auditor General are one of the "watchmen of the Treasury." It is my responsibility as Chief Executive and under the Constitution to see that you so function—that the watchman, if he be needed, isn't taking the night off.

If, after study, you discover that it is financially impossible to complete the biennium with full performance of your responsibilities, please advise me the amount of deficiency appropriation you believe necessary and the date when it must be in hand to prevent a breakdown of your department—whether the shortage is sufficiently acute to warrant a special session of the General Assembly or can wait until the regular session next January.

If, on the contrary, you believe you can economize enough, without stopping proper services, to complete the biennium under the remainder of your appropriation. please advise me in detail how you propose to do it and at the same time advise me why your expenditures were so disproportionately high during the campaign and unexpectedly low thereafter.

Sincerely yours,
AHJ

November 28, 1942.

Honorable Arthur H. James,
Governor, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Governor James:

Are you starting another campaign for the Republican omination for President? If so, you apparently believe n the principle that one good laugh deserves another.

I ask this question after reading your letter of November 7, 1942 addressed to me as Auditor General—a letter ypical of the many you have sent me under the guise of official business—uncivil, discourteous, filled with untruths, half truths and misleading statements. The letter, by its tone and contents, was evidently written by you for political purposes and since the 1942 elections are over, the only conclusion I can draw is the one set forth in the preceding paragraph.

You base your letter on "reports" coming to you—on rumors. "Even your best friend won't tell you", Governor, but I will. Do not pay too much attention to rumors or you might become confused mentally and end up in a dark room talking to yourself. Any psychiatrist will tell you that.

"Rumors" have apparently come to you that our Department is "scrapping" pre-auditing. That is a false rumor, Governor. Not only have we continued and are continuing pre-auditing but we have greatly improved the system.

I note what you say relative to funds for this Department to continue our work "fully and properly" to the end of the biennium. It is my intention to ask the incoming legislature at its regular session to reappropriate to this Department the amount which you capriciously and vindictively slashed from the appropriation made at the 1941 session.

You will recall that by Act No. 12A of the 1941 Session, the Legislature unanimously voted to this Department for the 1941-1943 biennium the sum of $1,629,759. You slashed this appropriation and this Department, as a result, received only $1,450,000. The Legislature based the amount it voted on data, facts and figures submitted to it; you based your "slash" on venom.

I want to assure you that it will not be necessary for you to call a Special Session of the Legislature for the purpose of appropriating money to the Department of the Auditor General. But I am equally sure that if you are to keep a single one of the promises you made to the people of Pennsylvania in 1938 when you were a candidate. it will be necessary for you to call a Special Session. Thus far you have kept none of your many promises and a Special Session would be your last chance to make good.

Yours truly,

F. CLAIR ROSS,
Auditor General.

MERCANTILE LICENSE TAX AND ASSESSMENT OF PIN BALL MACHINES

June 10, 1942.

To: The Governor's Office.

From: Otto F. Messner,
Deputy Secretary of Revenue.

As requested in your telephone conversation, I am enclosing copies of the weekly reports of the special investigation made by our Investigator and covering the mercantile tax situation in Luzerne County.

In the column Additional Tax, you will find the amount of additional tax assessed on establishments where tax already had been assessed. In the column New Tax Assessed, you will find amounts assessed where no mercantile tax had been assessed on any machine in the establishment.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, January 31, 1939.

Letter to Hon. F. Clair Ross from Governor James, dated January 30, 1939:

January 30, 1939.

Honorable F. Clair Ross, State Treasurer,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Dear Mr. Ross:

I have your letter of January 24th replying to my letter to you in which I requested your cooperation toward making funds available for meeting the deficit.

My understanding of your reply is that you feel you will not be able to make any reductions to help us in solving the problem and you state that the reason is that you are operating under a ten per cent smaller appropriation than your predecessor. In that respect I should like to call certain facts to your attention.

The appropriation to your predecessor for 1935-1937 for salaries and expenses was $775,000. The appropriation made to you for 1937-1939 was $700,000, but the information which I have is to the effect that you are not now carrying the cost of getting out the checks for the special assistance cases from this $700,000 appropriation, whereas the appropriation of $775,000 in the former biennium did carry that cost. My information is that the cost of writing the checks for the special relief cases, which you have shifted over to the funds which are allocated to you from public assistance, amounts to about $140,000. This, when added to your $700,000 appropriation, amounts to $840,000, which is more nearly a ten per cent increase rather than a ten per cent decrease. Besides your appropriation of $700,000 you receive an allocation from public assistance funds of $1,663,000, making total funds available to you of $2,363,000.

It seems inconceivable to me that you cannot make a reduction in this large amount to help with the problem before us when other departments are making reductions at an average of about twenty per cent. My information is that your salary cost per case in writing and getting out the public assistance checks is considerably higher than the cost of that same function when formerly handled by the Department of Public Assistance. It seems to me that a study of more economical methods of performing that function would produce a substantial reduction, which funds could then be made available for relief and other public assistance.

I feel confident that cooperation of the nature I am receiving from the other departments would produce reductions that would help in meeting the deficiency which was left to us.

Sincerely yours,

(Signed) ARTHUR H. JAMES.

The Governor today sent the following letter to State Treasurer Ross:

'Dear Mr. Ross:

"I have before me your letters requesting an allocation of $65,000 to cover the cost of disbursing assistance for the month of September, 1940, which is $5,000 more than you received for last month and for previous months.

"In view of the fact that there has been a large decrease in the number of assistance cases I can see no justification for an increased allocation. Rather there should be a considerable decrease. Accordingly, I am making an allocation of $55,000 to your department from the appropriation for public assistance (Act 6-A, 1940 Special Session) to pay expenses of disbursing public assistance funds for the month of September, 1940. This makes a total to date of $235,000 allocated to your department under this act.

"As pointed out in previous letters, I again wish to call your attention to the fact that at your present rate of expenditure you are going to incur a large deficiency in the appropriation made by the Legislature for disbursing public assistance funds to the end of the biennium.

Sincerely yours,

ARTHUR H. JAMES."

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, September 11, 1940.

Hon. F. Clair Ross,
State Treasurer,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Dear Mr. Ross:

This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of September 6th in which you explain that you asked for 8.3 percent more money because you needed 39.6 percent less. Your explanation is novel, to say the least.

I note that you yourself seem unwilling to accept your own conclusions, for in the same letter in which you claim the savings of 39.6 percent, you take occasion to warn me that my failure to grant the increases you have been asking "may imperil the whole relief system in the State" and that you further "wash your hands of this responsibility"—whatever that means.

If you were in earnest in believing you had reduced expenditures 39.6 percent, you would hardly be so alarmed over not receiving an 8.3 percent increase.

Examination of your statistics indicates that you have good reason to be skeptical of your claims. Your fingers have been examined by the Budget Secretary, who advises me as follows:

"The statement made by the State Treasurer in reply to the Governor's letter contains some incorrect figures. The State Treasurer gives $47,862,425 as the amount paid in benefits, including Federal subsidies, for the period June 1, 1940, to August 31, 1940. This amount is incorrect. The correct amount is $27,894,896.79, or $19,967,528.21 below the figure given by the State Treasurer.

"The amount given by the State Treasurer as representing the administrative cost of the Department of Public Assistance was too high by $70,819.32.

"The upshot of these inaccuracies is that instead of the State Treasurer's costs decreasing from .646% to .390%, there was an increase from .646% to .670%."

In view of the very large discrepancies indicated in the above memorandum, it is possible that you will wish to revise your claim of savings. However, if you are convinced that your relief administrative costs are really 39.6 percent less than during the previous year, I shall be pleased to entertain requests from you for allocations revised downwards in that proportion. If I do not receive such requests for smaller allocations, I shall be able to conclude only that you do not believe your own claims of economy.

Let me point out to you what is implied by your assertion that your administrative costs have been cut 39.6 percent. The total allocations to you for the period you use as your yardstick, June 1, 1939 to May 31, 1940, were $846,045 or an average per month of $70,503.75. Reduced by 39.6 percent, this would call for a monthly allocation to you of $42,584.27, or a total for the months of June, July, August and September of this year of $170,337.08. In that period you have been allocated $235,000, or $64,662.92 more than on your alleged basis of a 39.6 percent reduction.

At no time have your requests for allocations reflected any such decrease as you now claim. Instead, for this month you requested an increase of $5,000, and when that increase was rejected as being entirely and obviously unwarranted, you saw fit to warn me to "bear in mind if you will that any reductions below the rock-bottom estimates we furnished you in good faith may imperial the whole relief system in the State."

Let me assure you that allocations made to your Department are being determined after proper and detailed study. They are entirely adequate for the purposes intended. If at any time you care to certify to me in writing that you find yourself unable to operate under these allocations, I shall be very glad to furnish you, without charge to your Department, competent fiscal advisers who will show how it may be done without any impairment to the State's relief system.

Sincerely yours,
ARTHUR H. JAMES.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, October 11, 1940.

Hon. F. Clair Ross,
State Treasurer,
Harrisburg, Pa.

Dear Mr. Ross:

In Mr. Bennett's letter of October 10th a request is made for an allocation of $65,000 to your department for disbursing assistance funds for the month of October.

Your request for September was for $65,000 which was an increase over previous months and due to the fact that there had been a great decrease in the case load I made an allocation of $55,000. This is the amount which I am allocating to you for the month of October.

In my letter to you under date of September 11th, to which you have never replied, I pointed out that if, as you had written me in a previous letter, you had cut your administrative costs 39.6%, you would need only a monthly allocation of $42,584.27 to handle the distribution of public assistance funds.

This new request of $65,000 for the month of October again leads me to conclude that you do not believe your own claims of reducing your administrative costs. The allocation I am making to you exceeds the $42,584.27 by $12,415.73, and in view of the greatly decreased case load, should be ample.

I want to point out, too, that you have not made the economies in check writing which you could have made and which were required by an act of the Legislature. The Secretary of Public Assistance informs me that he made a request of your department on September 27th for action to enable the Department of Public Assistance to write the general assistance checks in compliance with the law and that to date you have not complied with that request. This delay on your part is causing needless waste of public assistance funds and is further delay on your part in complying with the act of the Legislature pertaining to the writing of general assistance checks. The fact that at your present rate of expenditure you are going to incur a large deficiency makes such delay all the more inexcusable.

Your request for $65,000 for October would,if granted, allow you to keep on your staff many unnecessary employees and make other extravagant expenditures from relief funds. This is in line with your expenditures from the appropriation made to you by the Legislature.

Comparisons which I have before me show the reckless manner in which you have made expenditures. These figures are in the Auditor General's report on the Treasury Department for the years 1938-1939 and give comparisons for the year 1938-1939 under your administration and 1936-1937 under Mr. Waters' administration. You may read them for yourself if you care to on Page sixty-six. But let me point out a few of the tremendous increases which have occurred in the Treasury Department under your management as compared with your predecessor.

Expenditure for Printing, Binding, and Stationery increased 99% in your administration over Mr. Waters'; you have spent 648% more for Materials and Supplies; your Traveling Expenses have increased 921%; Postage has increased 600%.

During the year 1938-1939 you spent $3,377 for the purchase of Motor Vehicles. Mr. Waters did not spend one cent.

Up to last May 31st, according to the Auditor General's report, you had increased the number of employees from 196, at the time Mr. Waters left office, to 589. Leaving out three new bureaus which were established—Bureau of Assistance, Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, and the State Employes' Retirement Board—still you had an increase of 47 employees and with no more work to do than Mr. Waters had.

You are an elected State Official and accountable only to the people, but I urge that before you request another allocation you take steps to bring about the economies which the Legislature intended you to make and stop this unnecessary waste of relief funds.

Sincerely yours,
ARTHUR H. JAMES.

Governor's Office, Harrisburg, December 6, 1940.

Hon. F. Clair Ross,
State Treasurer,
Harrisburg, Pa.

Dear Mr. Ross:

I am in receipt of Mr. Bennett's letter of December 4th, requesting an allocation of $65,000 for the month of December to cover the cost of disbursing assistance.

I hereby make an allocation in the amount of $50,000 to your department from the appropriation for Public Assistance (Act 6-A, 1940 Special Session) to pay expenses for disbursing Public Assistance funds for the month of December, 1940. This makes a total of $390,000 allocated to date for this purpose from the total appropriation of $550,000.

Again I wish to point out, as I have done repeatedly in making these allocations, that at your present rate of expenditure you are using up an appropriation made to you by the Legislature for this fiscal year in such a way that you will incur a large deficiency in that appropriation, and your expenditures continue on this high plane in spite of the fact that the relief load has been cut in half.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) ARTHUR H. JAMES.

Letter to President Pro Tempore of the Senate Speaker of the House of Representatives, and Auditor General, who, with the Governor, constitute four-man committee on DPA allocations to the Auditor General:

September 9, 1942.

Gentlemen:

I am submitting herewith a recommendation for the allocation of the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) to the Department of the Auditor General for the payment of the cost of auditing public assistance disbursements, including the special county eligibility audits, under provisions of Section 3 of Act No. 53-A of the 1941 Session.

The amount of the allocation is a reduction from the fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) a month which has been in effect for many months under Mr. Ross' administration and represents a return to the twelve thousand five hundred dollars ($12,500) monthly amount allocated to Mr. Ross' predecessor for the last year of his administration.

As Mr. Ross has been informed over the Governor's signature on many occasions, there appears to be no justification whatever for his receiving a larger allocation than his predecessor, when relief has been reduced so greatly.

The allocation in the aforementioned year of Mr. Ross' predecessor represented an auditing charge for public assistance expenditures of one-tenth of one per cent of the total. Under Mr. Ross, this ratio has been doubled, and expenditures for his audits have represented two-tenths of one per cent of the total public assistance expenditures.

In a letter to the Governor, under date of January 19, 1942, on one of the previous occasions when protest was made to Mr Ross that his requests for allocations were unreasonably high, Mr. Ross referred to a number of changes in the auditing procedure which he had made since coming into office.

Ample opportunity has been afforded for these changes to justify themselves, if they represent improvements. On the contrary, the Governor is informed by the Secretary of the Department of Public Assistance that these changes have not justified themselves and that the special eligibility investigations, on a county by county basis, as conducted by General Roberts, were far more productive of tangible benefits in the exposure of relief improprieties and abuses than the so-called spot check procedure with its considerably higher cost, as established by Mr. Ross.

It is respectfully suggested, therefore, that Mr. Ross, if he will follow the procedures established by General Roberts, with a much higher case load, will find the present allocation more than sufficient, in view of the considerably lessened number of relief recipients.

It may be observed that, while Mr. Ross, as Auditor General, has held out for a twenty per cent higher allocation than his predecessor, the other fiscal officer, the Honorable G. Harold Wagner, State Treasurer, has found it possible to operate his own public assistance functions on a less costly basis than Mr. Ross, when Treasurer, and furthermore, has voluntarily requested reduced amounts on various occasions.

In view of the obvious disparities in the matter, and further, in view of the fact that the Auditor General has been on notice for many months that the amounts he was requesting were disproportionately high, and has submitted no convincing justification for the excess, there appears no reason why the reduction should not be made effective at this time.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) ARTHUR H. JAMES.

November 25, 1942.

Honorable Arthur H. James.
Governor of Pennsylvania.
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Dear Governor:

On November 5th I wrote you advising that the then-current quarterly allocation to the Department of the Auditor General for administrative expenses pertaining to Public Assistance, as provided in Section 3 of Act No. 53A of the 1941 Special Session, would be exhausted by November 1st, and requesting $45,000 to insure continuation of this work during the then-ensuing quarter. Shortly thereafter you allocated $12,500 to continue this work for one month.

This $12,500 allocation has now been exhausted and we are in need of the remaining $32,500 so that this work may be continued without interruption through the remaining two months in this quarter.

We have recently been informed by Mr. Russell of the Department of Public Assistance that new food grants will be given, starting December 1st. This will necessitate heavy additional work in our regional offices and we will need our full allocation to complete this work efficiently.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) F. CLAIR ROSS.
Auditor General

January 7, 1943.

Hon. Charles H. Ealy,
President Pro Tempore of the Senate.
Hon. Ira T. Fiss,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
Hon. F. Clair Ross,
Auditor General.

Gentlemen:

Herewith you will find an allocation for your consideration and signature, if you approve, turning over to the Auditor General the sum of twelve thousand five hundred dollars ($12,500) of public assistance funds for the current month.

I have prepared and signed the allocation in the above amount, in accordance with the amounts of the more recent allocations.

As you doubtlessly are aware, the Auditor General has requested, and until recently had been allowed, the sum of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000), which appears to me to have been extravagently large in view of the success of the previous Auditor General in meeting his responsibilities with that amount at a time when relief was a great deal larger.

In my judgment, before allocations are made for the next three-month period beginning February 1st, this entire matter should be reconsidered and the Auditor General called upon to justify the great increase in per capita cost which his demands and allocations represent.

From my own study of the matter, I believe the allocation susceptible of considerable further reduction without impairment of proper service on the part of the Auditor General.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) ARTHUR H. JAMES.

Honorable Arthur H. James,
Governor of Pennsylvania,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

My dear Governor:

In accordance with the provisions of Section 402 of the Act of April 9, 1929, P. L. 343, as amended, we have made an audit of the books of accounts and records of the

STATE TREASURY DEPARTMENT

from June 1, 1937 to May 31, 1938.

The results of the examination preceded by our comments and recommendations are presented in Schedules "A" to "K", inclusive.

Your attention is directed to certain outstanding matters which are discussed in the succeeding pages of this report.

It is suggested than an opinion be requested from the Department of Justice as to the legality of paying current refunds from appropriations granted for prior bienniums. (Page 8)

Deposits in active depositories exceeded the limits fixed by the Board of Finance and Revenue during the entire period under review. (Page 12)

A number of instances were noted where the amount of surety coverage was insufficient, which is contrary to the provisions of Section 505 of the Fiscal Code. (Page 13)

At the time of our examination, a reconciliation of active bank accounts was approximately six months in arrears. (Page 18)

As a result of excessive purchases of postage at the close of the fiscal year ended May 31, 1937, expenditures charged to this account amounted to only $20.00 during the period under review. (Page 24)

Recommendations are made for the elimination of individual fund deposits in all depositories of the State Treasury Department. (Page 36)

We take pleasure in acknowledging the courtesy and cooperation extended to us by the officers and employes of the Department during the course of our audit.

Respectfully submitted,

March 11, 1940.

Honorable Arthur H. James,
Governor of Pennsylvania.
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

My dear Governor:

In accordance with the provisions of Section 402 of the Act of April 9, 1929, P. L. 343, as amended, we have made an audit of the books, records and accounts of the

STATE TREASURY DEPARTMENT

from June 1, 1938 to May 31, 1939.

The results of the examination, preceded by our comments and recommendations are presented in Schedules "A" to "L", inclusive.

Your attention is directed to certain outstanding matters which are discussed in the succeeding pages of this report.

Deposits in active depositories exceeded the limits fixed by the Board of Finance and Revenue during the period under review, which is at variance with the provisions of the Fiscal Code. (Page 15)

Numerous instances were noted where the surety bonds or collateral pledged to secure State deposits in active depositories were insufficient, which is contrary to the provisions of Section 505 of the Fiscal Code. (Page 16)

Recommendations are made to adjust numerous old items affecting bank reconciliations. (Page 23)

Excessive expenditures for postage during the fiscal year under audit are discussed on page 31.

(POSTAGE

The sum of $39,506.21 was expended for postage for all purposes of the Department, exclusive of the Public Assistance Division, during the period covered by our audit, while expenditures for the fiscal year ended May 31, 1938 amounted to $20.00, as shown in Schedule "E-1". The records indicate that four requisitions of $10,000.00 each were drawn between the months of December 1938 and April 1939, inclusive. These, together with other expenditures totaling $40.00 and a credit adjustment of $533.79, equals the amount of $39,506.21 as shown in Schedule "E-1". We are informed that the actual purchases were not made but checks were issued to the order of the Harrisburg Postmaster and held for future requirements.

Section 2 of the General Appropriation Act No. 103-A of 1937 reads as follows:

"The following sums, or as much thereof as may be necessary, are hereby specifically appropriated from the General Fund to the several hereinafter named agencies of the Executive, Legislative, and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth, for the purposes hereinafter set forth, for the two years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven, and for the payment of bills incurred by said agencies and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine."

Two checks for $5,000.00 each and two checks for $10,000.00 each, aggregating $30,000.00, have not been paid. It is evident that they were not in payment of expenses for the two years beginning June 1, 1937 nor for payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May 31, 1937.

The issuance of these checks for use in subsequent operating periods is contrary to the provisions of the General Appropriation Act.)

Necessary adjustments of open items of overpayment and underpayment of interest are discussed on page 40.

Attention is called to the recommendations made in our previous report for the elimination of individual fund deposits in all depositories of the State Treasury. (Page 42)

We acknowledge with pleasure the courtesy and cooperation extended to us by the officers and employes of the Department during the course of our audit.

Respectfully submitted,

April 8, 1941.

Honorable Arthur H. James,
Governor of Pennsylvania.
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

My dear Governor:

In accordance with the provisions of Section 402 of the Act of April 9, 1929, P. L. 343, as amended, we have made an audit of the books, records and accounts of the

STATE TREASURY DEPARTMENT

for the fiscal year June 1, 1939 to May 31, 1940.

As a separate audit was made and report filed covering the examination of securities in the custody of the State Treasurer as of May 31, 1940, no further reference will be made thereto in this report.

The results of the examination, preceded by our comments and recommendations, are presented in Schedules "A" to "L", inclusive.

In the following paragraphs we bring to your attention matters which, in our opinion, are worth special comment.

The cash balance of funds at May 31, 1940, as shown by the records of the State Treasurer, includes $867,024.89 in securities and coupons due subsequent to that date. (Page 10)

At May 31, 1940 there remained $619,641.47 of State funds in banks in possession of banking authorities. (Page 11)

Deposits in active depositories exceeded the legal limits established by the Board of Finance and Revenue under the provisions of the Fiscal Code. (Page 14)

During the entire period under review deposits in active depositories exceeded the amount of coverage by bonds and collateral, in violation of Section 505 of the Fiscal Code. (Pages 15 to 18)

Our examination of reconciliation records disclosed numerous unadjusted items in transit, which apparently represented inflated or forced differences, rather than the amount of deposits actually in transit. Purely as the result of negligence, differences existing during 1937 and each year thereafter had not been given proper accounting treatment and were, therefore, erroneously reflected on the records of the Department at May 31, 1940. A summary of these differences, supported by exhibits and corresponding journal entries, has been forwarded direct to the Department for the purpose of adjusting their records. (Pages 25 and 26)

During the fiscal year ended May 31, 1940 the Treasury Department took no credit for outstanding checks that were over two years old and under seven years old at

May 31, 1939. This is contrary to the provisions of the Act of July 12, 1935, P. L. 996. (Page 27)

During the period under review the Department installed a Remington Rand machine that tabulates and takes a "film-reel" picture of all paid checks of the Commonwealth, thereby establishing a long needed control of all paid checks delivered to the Auditor General's Department for filing. (Page 30)

The salaries and other expenses incurred by the Department in connection with the disbursement of Unemployment Compensation checks were paid from the Administration Fund provided by the Federal Government and are not reflected in the schedules of this report. They do appear, however, in our audit report of the Division of Unemployment Compensation and Employment Service of the Department of Labor and Industry. (Pages 32 and 40)

Expenditures for postage reflect a credit balance of $8,954.78 for the period under review, as shown in the schedules of this report. This condition was brought about by the refunding of a check dated February 27, 1939 in the amount of $10,000.00, which had been included in the expenditures of the Department for the fiscal year ended May 31, 1939. Our comments in connection with this transaction and the postage situation in general are set forth on pages 41 and 42.

POSTAGE

Actual expenditures for postage, exclusive of the Bureau of Assistance, during the year under review amounted to $1,045.22. This amount, however, was more than offset by a check for $10,000.00 dated February 27, 1939 which was included as an expenditure in the fiscal year ended May 31, 1939 and which was redeposited and entered as a refund to expenditures, leaving a credit balance in the postage account of $8,954.78 as indicated in Schedule "E-1".

In our report for the fiscal year ended May 31, 1939, attention was directed to the fact that checks totaling $30,000.00 had been issued but had not been paid during the period. One of these checks, however, as stated heretofore was redeposited and used as a refund to the postage account and the others validated and cashed.

As stated in our previous report, the issuance of checks in one period for use in subsequent periods is contrary to the provisions of the General Appropriation Act No. 103-A of 1937, which reads as follows:

"The following sums, or as much thereof as may be necessary, are hereby specifically appropriated from the General Fund to the several hereinafter named agencies of the Executive, Legislative, and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth, for the purposes hereinafter set forth, for the two years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven, and for the payment of bills incurred by said agencies and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending may thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven.")

Necessary adjustments of open items of overpayment and underpayment of interest are discussed on pages 48 to 50.

Full details in connection with the financial activities of the various funds under the jurisdiction of the Board of Finance and Revenue are set forth on pages 51 to 56.

On pages 56 to 61 of this report are presented general comments relating to the operation and administration of the Department.

We wish to express our sincere appreciation for the splendid cooperation and courtesy extended by everyone with whom we came in contact during the course of our examination.

Respectfully submitted,

WARREN R. ROBERTS,
Auditor General.

MISCELLANEOUS MATERIAL

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Harrisburg, January 13, 1943.

Subject: Inheritance and Mercantile Employees of Philadelphia.

To: Hon. Edward B. Logan,
Secretary of Revenue.

From: R. A. Bowman.

In addition to the pay roll irregularities previously furnished you as a result of our investigation of Mercantile and Inheritance Tax appointments by the Auditor General in Philadelphia, I wish to call your attention to the following:

William A. Cibotti, 1414 South 2nd Street, Philadelphia. Clerk in the Mercantile Appraiser's Office. Appointed October 1, 1938 at a salary of $2,000. The records of the Unemployment Compensation Bureau show that Mr. Cibotti was employed by Selby, Battersby and Company, 33rd and Arch Streets, Philadelphia. Apparently his services were only part time until 1942. We were informed by C. P. Paintor, Treasurer, that Mr. Cibotti was paid $1,750.33 for the first 25 weeks in 1942.

Angelo Pasquarella, 1808 South Hicks Street, Philadelphia. Assistant Chief Clerk in the Mercantile Appraiser's Office. Appointed April 16, 1941, salary $2,500. Records of the Unemployment Compensation Bureau disclose that this employee worked for the Progressive Clothing Manufacturing Company of Philadelphia in 1941 and 1942. He is on full time salary for the State and at the same time during 1942 he earned $593.13 for the first quarter and $476.84 for the second quarter.

James J. Dodd, 2338 E. Clearfield Street, Philadelphia. Supervising Inheritance Tax Investigator, salary $3,600, appointed December 16, 1941. We were informed that Mr. Dodd was employed by the International Resistance Company as a full time employee. This was confirmed by the Company under date of December 12, 1942 in which they stated that Mr. Dodd's employment started November 23, 1942 in the capacity of a supervisor. His working hours are 12 M. through 10 A. M. He is paid a monthly salary of $225.

Photostatic copies of our records are attached hereto.

Department of Revenue,
Harrisburg, Pa.

Attention: Mr. Edward B. Logan.

Dear Sir:

We have your letter of the 8th inquiring as to Mr. James J. Dodd, 2338 E. Clearfield Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Mr. Dodd was employed by us on November 23, 1942 in the capacity of a supervisor. His working hours are 12 midnight through 10 A. M. He is paid a monthly salary of $225.00 at the present time.

Yours very truly,
INTERNATIONAL RESISTANCE COMPANY,

Subject: Attached letter.

To: Honorable J. Paul Pedigo,
Secretary to the Governor.

From: Edward B. Logan,
Secretary of Revenue.

With reference to the anonymous letter which you referred to me, two of the men mentioned—Joseph McNamara and Ralph Luff—were appointed by and are employes of the Auditor General's Department assigned to the collection of inheritance taxes. Mr. Luff is an investigator on a salary basis at $166.00 per month and Mr. McNamara is a per diem employe at a salary of $6.00 per day.

The other person mentioned—Harry M. Straub—is also an employe of the Auditor General's Department assigned to the collection of mercantile license taxes. He is an investigator on a per diem basis at $6.00 per day.

All of these men were still employed as of June 9, 1942.

I am returning letter herewith.

Enclosures

Phila., Penna.

Hon. Arthur James,
Executive Offices,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Dear Governor James:

The writer is reliably informed that a number of employees of the State Inheritance Tax Department are holding-down jobs in private industry during night shifts, and have arranged with fellow employees to cover up so that their work is being "kept up" in order to avoid detection. They report on occasions for an hour or so in the course of each week.

Among them are Ralph Luff, Jos. McNamara; Harry Straub of the Mercantile Tax office.

We can think of nothing so base and treacherous as conduct of this nature; it not only has caused us to lose interest in our work; we cannot help but believe that their superiors are aware of their conduct. We hear that some are employed at Cramp's Shipyard. Criminal prosecution is not enough for men of this stamp, and we hope that you will use your good offices to investigate these cases and bring them to swift justice.

Respectfully yours
STATE EMPLOYEES.

July 28, 1942.

To: Honorable J. Paul Pedigo,
Secretary to the Governor.

From: Edward B. Logan,
Secretary of Revenue.

There are two members of the Democratic State Committee on the Auditor General's public assistance payroll for the last half of July, 1942. The one is:

Ernest P. Chamberlin.
314 Main Street,
Hallstead, Pa.
23rd District,
Susquehanna County.

The payroll for the second half of July shows that he received a salary of $67.50 for that period.

The other person is:
Fred R. Mellott, Amaranth, Pa.
36th District, Fulton County.

The payroll for the second half of July shows that he received a salary of $80.00 for that period.

October 5, 1942.

Employees of the Department of the Auditor General working in Bureau of County Collections—Department of Revenue.

To: Honorable Arthur H. James,
Governor.

From: Edward B. Logan.
Secretary of Revenue.

I should like to bring to your attention the fact that there are two employees of the Department of the Auditor General who have been working in the Bureau of County Collections in this Department at what they stated to be an audit for the past fiscal year.

These two men—Mr. J. Donald Alexander and Mr. Charles M. Dillon—were engaged in this work in the Bureau of County Collections on September 14th and September 15th—in the payroll period for the first half of September—and have worked rather regularly in the Bureau of County Collections during the payroll period ending September 30th.

Both of these employes are paid out of the allocation from Public Assistance funds although they are doing General Fund work. J. D. Alexander appeared on the payroll of the Department of the Auditor General for the first half of September and for the second half of September as an Auditor at a salary of $75.00 for each payroll period. Mr. Charles M. Dillon appeared on the payroll for each of these two periods as a Sr. Auditor receiving $104.16 for each payroll period.

This is a clear case of Public Assistance funds being used for a purpose other than that for which it was appropriated, and I felt that when this definite knowledge of the misuse of the Public Assistance appropriation had come to my attention you should know about it.

Excerpts from Yearly Report of Hon. G. Harold Wagner, State Treasurer, from June 1, 1941 to May 31, 1942

"When I became State Treasurer there were 503 persons on the Treasury's payroll. Despite the gradual increase of State business during the Pre-War and War Periods, the number of our employes has been decreased to 373, a reduction in personnel of approximately twenty-five per cent. We are now operating on a budget which is approximately $14,433.00 less per month than it was for the first quarter of my administration."

REASONS SUBMITTED BY HONORABLE G. HAROLD WAGNER, STATE TREASURER, FOR INCREASE IN APPROPIATION TO THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT FOR THE BIENNIUM 1941-43

	Expended and Commitments to June 1, 1941	Amount Necessary for 1941-43 Biennium
1. Printing—Treasury Checks ..	$10,547.50	$15,500.00*
*Note:—Due to increase in the cost paper from 1½ to 3 cents per lb. and increased labor costs.
2. Material and Supplies	12,229.18	16,000.00*
*Note:—Purchase of paper used in printing Treasury forms has increased in cost from 1½ to 3 cents per lb. and general increase in costs of materials and labor.
3. Motor Vehicles	2,407.08	22,000.00*
*Note:—Only one automobile was purchased by this department during the present biennium. Treasury has a total of six cars, five of which must be replaced. The purchase of additional cars for investigators will save the Commonwealth considerable money. If this request and the request of item 4 is refused the present request for traveling expenses will have to be increased correspondingly. (See Item 14)
4. Motor Vehicle Maintenance .	6,353.62	23,350.00*
*Note:—With the purchase of additional motor vehicles for investigators there will by necessity, be an increase in maintenance costs.
5. Equipment and Machinery ..	2,407.08	22,000.00*
*Note:—The Administrative Department of Treasury has 67 typewriters, 17 adding machines and 1 calculating machine all over 5 years old which must be replaced immediately. Due to the work of the State Treasury having been doubled during the past five years and with added burdens of new departments, the purchase of at least 50 additional machines will be necessary. Additional, 15 new pin point machines needed at $150.00 each		2,250.00
6. Freight and Drayage Expense	1,411.19	1,500.00
7. Postage	96.00	20,000.00*
*Note:—The Public Assistance Appropriation to the State Treasury has been charged for the necessary postage used in the operation of the Main Treasury Department. This department mailed 8,639,000 checks this biennium and the above amount of postage is absolutely necessary.
8. Telephone and Telegraph	5,226.84	5,500.00
9. Contemplated Repairs	337.27	10,337.22*
*Note:—Upon investigation I find that there is absolute need for immediate alterations in the Bureau of Deposits of the State Treasury Department. Under the present system, taxpayers having business with the Deputy in charge, must pass the open cages of the cashiers of the said offices to reach their objective. Mr. Sahms, General State Authority Architect, states that in his opinion this alteration is the most needed alteration in the Finance Building.

	Expended and Commitments to June 1, 1941	Amount Necessary for 1941-43 Biennium
10. Rental of Real Estate	722.27	750.00*
*Note:—Rents during the ensuing biennium are increasing.
11. Rental of Equipment	676.00	676.00
12. Insurance, Surety and Forgery Bonds	9,561.90	11,000.00*
*Note:—It is the opinion of the State Treasurer that the forgery coverage of the employees of the Treasury Department is insufficient.
13. Other Maintenance and Expenses	538.31	538.31
14. Traveling Expenses	11,116.64	35,116.64*
*Note:—Upon investigation it has been determined that there is approximately 10,000 lost, strayed or forged checks which must be investigated immediately. It is imperative that these daily records are balanced and brought up to date. This department has been materially under-staffed and the safety of the Commonwealth's funds are being jeopardized through the understaffing of this unit.
15. Salaries	574,279.45	729,731.83*
*Note:—Reconciliation Bureau.

1. Need for additional personnel in Reconciliation unit. This is inadequately staffed and is not current in its work. The additional employees are necessary to bring the work up to date and to maintain that status. Additional monies needed $38,400.00.
2. Investigators
   Need for additional personnel to investigate lost, stolen and strayed checks. There are several thousands of such cases to be investigated. Additional monies needed $52,400.00.
3. Internal Audit
   A Department such as the State Treasury which dwarfs by comparison any of the largest banking institutions in the State should have several competent auditors and examiners who will be constantly checking the various units in the Treasury.

Salaries ...	$27,400.00
Expenses ..	1,052.48
Total ...	$28,452.48*

   *This is a very important item and is deemed an absolute necessity for the proper functioning of the Treasury Department
4. Securities Unit
   This unit which has custody of upwards of $300,000,000.00 worth of securities is inadequately staffed. Additional monies needed $28,200.00.
5. Readjustment of Salaries of Lower Bracket Employees
   Additional monies needed $8,000.00.

Note No. 1. The above estimates do not include any estimate of additional sums that will be necessitated by employees on military leave.

Note No. 2. The general work of the Main Treasury Department has increased during the past biennium approximately 25% and there is indication that the work will continue to increase during the ensuing biennium at the same rate. This is particularly true of the work in connection with special assistance:

(a) Aid to Dependent Children 92½% increase during present biennium as compared with 1937-39.
(b) Aid to Blind—10% (same as above)
(c) Old Age Assistance —17% (same as above)
(d) Creation of new departments — Department of Commerce
(e) Recommended increase of $10,000,000.00 for other departments. thereby creating additional duties.

Note No. 3. There is now a federal project in progress in the Treasury Department, under the direction of the Works Progress Administration, employing 42 persons for the purpose of correcting and indexing personnel records and, additionally, sorting and filing millions of old checks. The reason for the accumulation of this large number of unfiled checks was due to previous lack of personnel. With the closing of this project, which cannot be renewed, it is obvious that there will be a renewal of this condition unless additional personnel is provided. The total amount expended on this federal project was $92,000.00.

Foreword

This report on the Bureau of Vital Statistics, Department of Health is in conformity with the Resolution adopted April 10, 1942 by the House of Representatives. This Resolution directed the Joint State Government Commission to make a study of the functions and procedures of the Bureau of Vital Statistics and to make any recommendations it deemed advisable which will expedite the work of the bureau, especially pertaining to its main function, namely, the issuance of certified copies of birth certificates. Shorty after the adoption of the Resolution, Honorable Elmer Kilroy, Chairman of the Commission, directed the staff of the Commission to study the problem.

In making this report attention is called to the fact that the bureau, during the last six months, has made considerable improvement, especially pertaining to fiscal control of receipts, also some of the administrative procedures recommended in this report have at least partially been put in operation. The bureau during this same period has likewise been relieved by a substantial decrease in the volume of applications received. However, if these administrative procedural recommendations are all adopted and conscientiously followed, the issuance of certified copies of birth certificates, which is now the most important function of the bureau, especially at the Capitol, will become a routine production operation in all cases where records are on file. This will enable the bureau to issue certified copies for about 80% of the daily volume of applications within at least one to two hours on applications personally presented at the office and within at least twenty four hours on applications received by mail. The present conditions of the birth records reveals that there is no birth certificate on file for about 20% of the applications filed. However, by using this recommended procedure of processing applications the bureau can, on this same time schedule, furnish "delayed birth registration" forms to this 20% so these applicants can establish their record of birth in the bureau. This will also mean that after the adoption of the other recommendations has resulted in improved quality and completeness of records in the bureau, practically all applications received in future years can be completed on this schedule.

To accomplish this type of service will require rigid administration in eliminating entirely all "special service" for various officials of the State Government, Legislators, Poltical Leaders and others who have "contacts" with various individuals in the bureau. With these recommended administrative procedures in full operation these "special service" requests can all be fulfilled by the rountine production method in a more expeditious manner than at present with "special service." This "special service" has in the past and still is a major contributing factor in greatly reducing the efficient operation and production of the bureau.

Both the legislative and administrative recommendations contained in this report concerning the improvement of future birth records will not overcome the prolems at present confronting the bureau due to the conditions of present records. It is, however, highly important that they be immediately adopted as an assurance against any repitition of their difficulties in future years when persons, who are born after adoption of these recommendations, later in life, apply for certified copies of their birth record. It is evident the need for birth certificates in future years will continue, not only as a means of proving citizenship when obtaining employment, etc., but probably most important of all will be the need of definite proof of date of birth when persons reach the retirement age under the provisions of the Social Security Act.

The staff of the Commission desires to thank Mr. Tom E. Williams, Director, Mr. J. Robert Painter, Assistant Director and others of the bureau, also Mr. John H. Dorning, Comptroller of the Department of Highways, who since February 1942, has been supervising procedural improvements in the bureau and Mr. William J. Wall of the Auditor General's Department for their cooperation and assistance in furnishing information used in making this study.

THE REPORT OF THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION ON THE BUREAU OF VITAL STATISTICS RELATIVE TO THE ISSUANCE OF CERTIFIED COPIES OF BIRTH CERTIFICATES

HISTORY OF VITAL STATISTICS IN PENNSYLVANIA

The registration of births, marriages and deaths in Pennsylvania started after the passage of the Act of 1852, Pamphlet Laws, 2, and registrations were made locally in the various counties and cities in accordance with this act and the following additional acts:

1855 Pamphlet Laws 4
1860 Pamphlet Laws 130
1876 Pamphlet Laws 113
1881 Pamphlet Laws 51
1885 Pamphlet Laws 56
1893 Pamphlet Laws 340
1895 Pamphlet Laws 246 and 350
1941 Pamphlet Laws 114

The act of 1885, Pamphlet Laws 56 which created the State Board of Health and Vital Statistics contained the following provisions:

"It shall be the duty of the State Board of Health and Vital Statistics to have the general supervision of the State system of registration of births, marriages and deaths, of prevalent diseases and practitioners of medicine and surgery; to prepare the necessary methods, forms and blanks for obtaining and preserving such records, and to insure the faithful registration of same in the several counties and in the Central Bureau of Vital Statistics in the Capitol of the State."

After the passage of this act registration of these vital statistics became prevalent in the various counties of the Commonwealth. However, no file of these vital statistics was established at the Capitol, and no one at present connected with the bureau has any knowledge of the reasons for failure to set up a central record bureau. It was not until after the passage of the act of 1905, Pamphlet Laws 330 that the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the then State Board of Health, which is now the Department of Health, established a centralized system for the registration of births and deaths at the State Capitol. As a result of this act the State Bureau of Vital Statistics contains registrations of births and deaths occurring only since January 1, 1906.

The General Assembly, in 1915, passed the act of June 7, Pamphlet Laws 900 which re-enacted the act of 1905, Pamphlet Laws 330 and made it the duty of the Department of Health to have charge of the State System of registration, not only of births and deaths, but also of marriages and diseases. This law repealed all other laws and parts of laws inconsistent therewith and provided that no other system for the registration of births and deaths shall be conducted or maintained at any of the municipalities of the State other than the state system of registration established in the Bureau of Vital Statistics, State Department of Health. This law has been variously amended by the following acts:

1921 Pamphlet Laws 181
1923 Pamphlet Laws 176
1927 Pamphlet Laws 498
1927 Pamphlet Laws 859
1929 Pamphlet Laws 81
1933 Pamphlet Laws 976
1933 Pamphlet Laws 979
1937 Pamphlet Laws 399

Since the passage of the Act of 1915, which caused complete discontinuance of acceptance of any birth registrations locally in the various counties and exclusively centralized the registrations at the Capitol, the records of births recorded at the central bureau are in better shape and more complete than for the years of 1906 to 1915 inclusive.

After the start of the defense program in the Spring of 1940, when it became necessary to submit evidence of citizenship to obtain employment in the defense industries, the demand for certified copies of birth certificates began to sharply increase, both at the central bureau at the Capitol and its branch offices, and also in the various counties where birth certificates for persons born prior to January 1, 1906 were filed. It was then discovered that no birth certificate had been filed in the counties of thousands of persons born prior to January 1, 1906 and likewise it was discovered that no birth certificate had been filed with the central bureau at the Capitol of thousands born after January 1, 1906. The 1941 General Assembly, therefore, in an effort to assist these persons in establishing their date and place of birth, passed;

1. The act of July 16, 1941, Pamphlet Laws 383 empowering the Bureau of Vital Statistics to record the birth of persons born prior to January 1, 1906, or to record the birth of these persons born since January 1, 1906 but whose record had not been filed with the Bureau, upon presentation of a so-called "delayed" birth registration accompanied by certain documentary evidence and to issue certified copies thereof.

2. The act of July 16, 1941, Pamphlet Laws 405 empowering persons born prior to January 1, 1906 whose record of birth had not been previously recorded, was incomplete or incorrect, to have a record of his birth filed and recorded or corrected in the office of the Clerk of The Orphans Court in the County in which he was born, by presenting a petition to the Orphans Court containing certain documentary evidence, and after acceptance by the Court the further power of the Clerk of the court to issue certified copies of such established birth records.

Registrations in the Bureau

The Bureau of Vital Statistics contains 6,993,398 registrations of live births which occurred in Pennsylvania between the years of 1906 to 1941 inclusive. The list includes for the same number of years 4,181,061 death registrations and for the years of 1906 to 1940 inclusive it contains 2,415,995 registrations of marriage. In addition to these registrations it contains registrations of stillbirths occurring in the State which in 1921 amounted to more than 10,000 but since that time stillbirths have gradually fallen to less than 5000 annually. In each case of stillbirth there is both a birth certificate and a death certificate filed with the bureau. A breakdown on live births, deaths and marriages shows the following:

	Live Births	Deaths *	Marriages
1906 to 1910	938,117	573,527	293,841
1911 to 1915	1,055,800	571,244	329,884
1916 to 1920	1,088,271	677,379	370,575
1921 to 1925	1,099,258	570,291	365,360
1926 to 1930	997,448	580,367	346,269
1931 to 1935	825,698	545,405	333,839
1936 to 1940	813,608	554,447	376,227
1941	175,198	108,401	.....
Total	6,993,398	4,181,061	2,415,995

* Does not include stillbirths.

The central bureau of Vital Statistics at the Capitol contains the above records of births, deaths and marriages for the entire State. However, the State maintains branch offices in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Scranton and Erie, where duplicate copies of birth and death certificates are maintained for the convenience of persons born in those cities who may desire certified copies thereof.

Methods of Indexing in the Bureau

Since January 1, 1906 two different methods of indexing have been used in various years, likewise no index was made for certain years.

The types of index for birth records for the various years are as follows:

Alphabetized System by Years: 1906 to 1919 inclusive, 1922, 1925 to 1929 inclusive, (1926 incomplete, indexed "A" to "M" only)

Soundex System by Years: 1920 and 1921, 1923 and 1924, 1931 to 1936 inclusive.

No Index for Years: 1930, 1937 to 1942 inclusive.

The types of indexing for death records for various years are as follows:

Alphabetized System by Years: 1906 to 1919 inclusive, 1925 to 1929 inclusive.

Soundex System by Years: 1920 to 1923 inclusive, 1935 and 1936.

No Index for Years: 1924, 1932 to 1934 inclusive, 1937 to 1942 inclusive.

It is estimated that approximately 70% of all applications received in the bureau are found in the indexes. According to information received from the bureau, there are a number of birth records on file which are not indexed even though the births occurred during those years for which there was an index made. As a result, by special search the bureau is able to locate approximately an additional 10% of the records which are not found in the index. There are no records on file for approximately 20% of the applications being received, especially during the years 1906 to 1925.

Requests for Certified Copies

Prior to the start of the defense program in the Spring of 1940 the number of requests for certified copies of birth certificates was almost negligible and the problem of their issuance was a comparatively simple matter. The only problem confronting the bureau was the issuance of certified copies of death certificates, which was a routine problem and the volume was fairly consistent from year to year. According to information obtained from the bureau, the number of certified copies of death certificates issued monthly is approximately 5000 over the entire state.

The sharp increase in the volume of requests for certified copies since the start of the defense program in the Spring of 1940 is clearly reflected by the following figures for the central bureau at the Capitol:

1939—Total for 12 months		56,745
Highest month, October	6,709
1940—Total for 12 months		131,548
Highest month, October	17,945
5 Months, January to May inclusive	28,595
7 Months, June to December inclusive	102,953
1941—Total for 12 months		299,252
Highest month, December	33,001
1942—Total for 11 months January to November inclusive		530,031
Highest month, March	69,261

Of the above requests for certified copies received at the central bureau it is estimated approximately 1500 per month are for certified copies of death certificates and the remainder are for certified copies of birth certificates, except a negligible amount of which are requests for certified copies of marriage certificates, issued only from the central bureau at the Capitol.

The number of certified copies of birth and death certificates issued for the first eleven months of 1942 at the branch offices are as follows:

	Births	Deaths
Philadelphia	43,907	26,405
Pittsburgh	28,537	3,967
Scranton	6,174	585
Erie	2,850	.....

During the first eleven months of 1942 approximately 93% of all applications received by the bureau including its branch offices were for certified copies of birth certificates and 86% of these were received at the central bureau.

At the present time approximately 65% of all applications for certified copies at the central bureau are received by mail and the remaining 35% are made by personal application, whereas in the branch offices only approximately 10% of the applications are received by mail and the remaining 90% are made by personal application.

Findings, Conclusions and Recommendations

Since such a large percentage of the volume of work in issuing certified copies of birth certificates centers in the central bureau of the Capitol, all references hereinafter in this report when referring to the bureau will refer directly to the Central bureau at the Capitol. All recommendations made will be primarily for the central bureau and in all cases where these recommendations are applicable to the branch offices they can readily be adopted thereat.

General findings and conclusions:

The bureau found, prior to the Spring of 1940, geared itself for the issuance of a limited and fairly consistent number of certified copies of especially death certificates and very little public attention was focused on its activities due to the fact these requests were fulfilled on a reasonably current basis.

When the volume of requests for certified copies of birth certificates needed by persons to establish citizenship for employment in defense industries started to increase sharply, the bureau was not geared by personnel or by any systematic method of processing applications on a quantity basis to fulfill the demand. Neither did it at that time nor for nearly two years thereafter take full cognizance of the problem and establish and effectively put into operation any systematic method of processing this continually increasing volume. Accordingly, the bureau started to fall behind in its work and the number of unfilled requests for certified copies of birth certificates continued to increase almost progressively from time to time even though additional personnel was employed and given added space in which to work.

When this heavy demand for certified copies of birth certificates started the bureau also discovered for the first time the very poor condition of the records in Pennsylvania of births, especially between the years of 1906 to 1925 inclusive. This period covers persons now seventeen years of age or over and practically all of the demand to date has been from this group. The poor condition of the birth records is due to an accumulation, since 1906, of gross carelessness and violations, especially by physicians, mid-wives, local registrars and State officials, whose duty, during those years, was to carry out or administer the provisions of this law. In future years the effects of these violations of the law and inefficient administration since 1925 will gradually come to light as younger people make application. Since these errors in the records are not generally discovered until seventeen or more years after date of birth, in a large percentage of cases the attending physician has died, parents have died and satisfactory documentary information to establish a record of birth or to correct errors is not readily available. This condition has also greatly added to the problems of the bureau.

This condition does not exist in the issuance of certified copies of death certificates because requests for such certified copies are generally made shortly after the time of death. Also, physicians and especially undertakers, under the law must see that a certificate of death is filed with the local registrar so a burial or removal permit can be issued for transporting or disposal of the body. These permits can only be issued after the filing of a death certificate. Only in very few instances have local registrars violated the law in this respect.

Particularly during the latter half of 1940, and the early months of 1941 many applicants did not send in the proper information and this necessitated the bureau attempting to carry on considerable correspondence which they were not properly set up and equipped to take care of, with the result that in many cases they were not able to give any attention to such applications.

In October 1940, added supervisory personnel was brought into the bureau in an effort to solve this ever increasing problem which even by that time was causing many persons to be seriously delayed in obtaining employment in defense industries.

As the volume increased the bureau was continually finding itself confronted with the problem of insufficient trained personnel and the need for additional space. Many attempts were made by the officials of the bureau to obtain necessary additional personnel and also to obtain sufficient additional space. In attempting to obtain needed additional personnel they were confronted with other obstacles, namely, the rate of pay was low and the positions were mainly classified on a per diem basis and considered as temporary, therefore it was difficult to obtain the proper personnel. Also, the employes brought in and trained along with some of the older personnel, who were working under these conditions, were soon attracted to other positions at higher pay and with a greater degree of permanency. This involved an excess amount of personnel turnover and the necessity for additional training of personnel to replace them.

The officials of the bureau were delayed in getting additional space as needed according to testimony by the Assistant Director before a House Committee in June of 1941. Referring to the problem of space he stated, "we made attempts, as the occasion demanded, for more space and fought for several months until we threw the Department of Military Affairs out of some of the space they had, comprising two large rooms down there on the side where our office is located." He also advised this committee that the bureau was handicapped in its work by having only one set of records with which to work. He advised at that time that, under the present setup of the department, when the personnel became trained they would be able to take care of the demand, provided they had duplicate sets of records on microfilm. He further advised at that time they had some machines and that he had been given authority by the Secretary of the department to go ahead with the microfilming of records.

The obtaining of the necessary number of machines and the microfilming of records was never carried out. This report will later discuss the subject of microfilming of records, its effect upon the preservation of the original record and the reduction of the cost of searching and producing certified copies.

Throughout 1941 the volume of requests continued to increase and then after December 7, 1941 when production in war industries was greatly expanded the requests for certified copies to prove citizenship increased far more rapidly than ever, reaching a peak load to date in March 1942. By this time the backlog of unfilled requests had accumulated to the staggering total of approximately 75,000 applications many of which had remained unfilled in the bureau for approximately a year, including those containing irregularities. At times the bureau became so swamped in its work that when any applications or records contained any irregularities they were laid aside without proper handling and many were never again found.

As these unfilled applications for certified copies of birth certificates continued to pile up the news of the increasing delay in obtaining a certified copy of one's birth certificate spread over the State and this resulted in many persor filing their application with the bureau even though they were in no immediate need of a certified copy of their birth certificate. They, learning of the difficulty in obtaining it, simply took the position, "I may need it some day so I had better apply." This helped increase the demands on the bureau.

After the bureau fell so far behind in this work considerable correspondence in the form of inquiries also poured into the bureau for applicants asking why they had not received a certified copy of their birth certificate. This added additional work to the already overburdened bureau in even attempting to handle this correspondence. During this time the bureau also started sending applicants a form post card with their individual application file number contained thereon as an acknowledgement of receipt of the application. This only added additional work on the part of the bureau which would not have been necessary had the bureau been able to handle the requests on even a reasonably current basis.

The Legislature in the Spring of 1941 was fully aware of the confusion in the bureau and the increasing difficulty of citizens obtaining a certified copy of their birth certificate, which at that time, and more so later, was seriously delaying the employment of thousands of persons in defense work, thereby causing a very serious man hour loss to the war effort. Therefore, it passed some remedial legislation and also increased the appropriation to the Department of Health $547,000, a large portion of which was for the purpose of providing the necessary facilities to overcome these difficulties and for properly operating the bureau.

After the Spring of 1940 and throughout 1941 the Director and also the Assistant Director made numerous requests for the authority to increase pay rates and employ and train additional personnel. While they were able ot have part of their requests fulfilled such partial fulfillment fell far short of the increasing needs of the bureau. This is likewise true of requests for purchase of additional needed equipment, even after the passage of the 1941 appropriation act.

During this period of time, even with additional personnel which had been added in the bureau, no real systematic method of processing the applications was put into effect. This caused a continued increase in the number of "special service" requests by various officials of the Sta Government, Legislators, Political Leaders and others employed in and about the Capitol at Harrisburg having individual members of the staff of the bureau handle this "special service." Also outside service organizations were having many applicants pay them, in most cases, highly exhorbitant fees to obtain certified copies after which such organization would seek and obtain this "special service" from employes of the bureau. Such requests were continuing to increase because persons unable to get service by mail would ask or write these various officials, and others at Harrisburg or pay service organizations to assist them in getting their certified copy. Many persons also started to make personal trips to Harrisburg from all parts of the state, many of them several trips at considerable expense and loss of time in an effort to obtain results. This condition continued to increase to a point where it was the general accepted thought throughout the State that it was practically useless to attempt to get a certified copy of a birth certificate by mail. The rendering of this "special service" by various bureau employes, which took them off their routine work, slowed up and practically destroyed any attempt to systematically process applications on a quantity basis comparable with the demand.

Shortly after the beginning of the year 1942 with the number of applications again sharply increasing there became almost a complete breakdown in attempting to promptly obtain certified copies of birth certificates by any other method than through this "special service."

In February 1942, the Comptroller of the Highway Department was loaned to the bureau and given full authority to make whatever changes he deemed advisable in an effort to solve the increasing problems of the bureau. At that time there was an accumulation of approximately 30,000 pieces of unopened mail, most of which contained money and applications, and a backlog of approximately 75,000 unfilled applications. Since that time the bureau has been gradually working out from under its load and during this same period throughout 1942 the volume of applications received has gradually decreased with the result that at the present time (December 1942) applications for which the record is on file can be completed within a period of from one to fifteen days. Recommendations will be made in this report which will enable the bureau to further and more uniformly expedite the processing of these applications.

To bring about this improvement since March 1942 the bureau

1. Considerably reduced the practice of various persons coming to different individuals in the bureau for the handling of their "special requests." This practice still exists to such an extent that if the bureau completely establishes a production scheduling system its efficient operation will be considerably retarded unless such "special service" is entirely eliminated.

2. Set aside the backlog of approximately 75,000 unfilled applications and gave preference to the current applications. At the same time they gradually worked out the backlog in so far as it covered persons who had not in the meantime obtained their certified copy of birth certificate by either re-applying or having it obtained by "special service."

3. Installed a systematic fiscal control system for handling all incoming receipts.

There is still a large number of so called unfilled applications in the bureau (approximately 70,000). These, however, are practically all cases where, (1) no record was found on file and the bureau is awaiting the filing of a "delayed" birth registration by the applicant, or (2) cases awaiting additional corrective information or documentary evidence from the applicant.

The major causes of the difficulties which have been experienced by persons attempting to obtain a certified copy of their birth certificate are basically due to the following:

1. Carelessness and violations of the law by persons responsible for filing of birth certificates with local registrars, especially physicians and midwives by failure either to file a certificate, completely and accurately supply all names, dates and other required data or to supply it sufficiently legible as required by law for instance of certified copies thereof.

2. Failure of local registrars to carry out the provisions of the law pertaining to completeness and legibility of birth certificates furnished them.

3. Careless administration at the bureau since January 1, 1906 in:

A. Failing to more rigidly supervise the work of local registrars in securing proper certificates of birth.

B. Failure to refuse payment of registrars' fees on birth certificates filed with the bureau which were incomplete or illegible.

C. Failure to maintain the best possible uniform system of filing and indexing of these records at the bureau.

4. Failure of the bureau, especially during 1940 and 1941 to make proper provision for prompt and efficient handling, in a systematic manner, the progressively increasing volume of requests. Also, their failure to make proper provisions for promptly and systematically handling the correspondence and corrections to records necessary in overcoming, in so far as possible, the effects of the causes 1, 2 and 3 above.

Recommendation No. 1, (Administrative)

It is recommended that a systematic production scheduling system, as hereinafter described, be fully established in the bureau to complete all applications received daily, which contain sufficient information to be accepted, by processing them in groups or quantiites in hourly production cycles so that certified copies can be issued at least within one or two hours to all persons applying personally at the bureau and at least within twenty-four hours on all applications received by mail, except in cases where no registration record is found in the files. Also, that after installation of this production scheduling system no original applications be processed through the bureau in any other manner. (See pages 37 to 40 inclusive for description of production scheduling plan.)

Findings and Conclusions to Recommendation No. 1.

During the latter months of 1942 the bureau has been, to a certain extent, processing applications by groups, but not to the extent that they evenly divide the daily load into equal groups being processed through the bureau on any scheduled time basis. Likewise, prior to March 1942 various employes of the bureau were almost continuously leaving their routine work to give "special service" to applications received from various State officials and others employed in and around the Capitol who have established "contacts" with these various individual employes of the bureau. This also greatly delayed the routine work and destroyed any possibility of efficient operation. This has, however, been considerably reduced but still exists to such an extent that it impedes the routine operation in issuing certified copies of birth certificates. After complete establishment of a systematic method of processing applications, better service can be had in the regular manner than is obtained at present by "special service."

Considerable delay to the routine processing of applications is also caused by record books being out of the record room in the possession of various persons throughout the bureau. This always necessitates the holding up of any applications whose record is in the books which are not in the record room when needed. For a period of time the various units of the bureau were not systematically arranged so as to require the minimum amount of travel by employes in their work. This has, to a certain extent, been improved upon during recent months but further improvement can be made in the physical setup of the bureau.

Recommendation No. 2, (Administrative)

It is recommended that at the earliest possible date a uniform modern system of indexing be established in the bureau for all birth registrations since January 1, 1906.

Findings and conclusions to Recommendation No. 2:

As will be noted by referring to page 5 of this report, there are two different methods of indexing in the bureau and in certain years no index whatsoever has been made. Likewise it has been found that the record books in most of those years which were indexed contained records of many births which are not found in the index.

At the present time the indexes for the years 1906 to 1925 are used mostly when searching for birth certificates. However, the index for the later years will in the future gradually become the ones most frequently used. This is especially true during the war when birth information must be obtained on minor children for use in verifying parentage in connection with military dependency allowances granted by the Federal Government. There is no index for the years 1930 and also 1937 to 1942 inclusive. Most of the need for certified copies of birth certificates in connection with military dependency allowance comes from dependents born in these latter years. Where there is no index it is necessary at present for searchers to go to the books for the proper year and registration district and locate the proper birth registration. This involves considerably more time in locating birth certificates than is required for those applications which have been previously indexed.

From information obtained in the bureau it is quite apparent that of the two systems now in use the Soundex system of indexing is most satisfactory. However, before carrying out the above recommendation for a uniform system of indexing for all registered births from 1906 to the present time it would be advisable to thoroughly investigate and select the most modern system which can be best adapted to the needs of the bureau.

Recommendation No. 3 (Administrative)

It is recommended that, if possible, a uniform and more simplified method of filing birth registrations in the bureau be established. At least on those birth records being filed at the present time.

Findings and Conclusions to Recommendation No. 3.

As will be noted on page four of the report, there are now over 7,000,000 birth registrations alone filed in the bureau. The birth registrations for 1906 to 1928 are filed chronologically by months and alphabetically by registration districts in each year. The birth records for years 1929 up to the present are filed chronologically by month and year for each county. The simplest possible form of filing birth registrations will aid materially in speeding up the work in searching the records of this unit.

Recommendation No. 4 (Administrative)

It is recommended that the correspondence filing system be thoroughly studied with a view of improving the conditions in the unit of the bureau.

Findings and Conclusions to Recommendation No. 4.

Considerable difficulty has been experienced in a large number of cases where there is any correspondence necessary in connection with an application. There have been numerous complaints where documentary evidence filed with the bureau which has been considered unsatisfactory or insufficient cannot be readily located after the applicant has submitted additional or corrective data as requested by the bureau and in some instances the applicants have been required to even re-submit the original data. This and other conditions in the correspondence units have not only caused extra work, etc., contributing to the difficulties of the bureau, but have withheld and considerably delayed the issuance of birth certificates to many persons.

Recommendation No. 5 (Administrative)

It is recommended that the Prosecution Unit of the bureau be provided with the necessary facilities to frequently make spot checks in various counties to obtain prosecutions for violations of the law, especially by physicians and midwives, for their failure to properly file a complete and accurate birth certificate.

Findings and Conclusions to Recommendation No. 5.

The bureau at present has an Investigation Unit, same having been established originally in 1927. For a number of years they conducted spot checks in the form of county surveys and found numerous births which had not been recorded. They likewise found where physicians would withhold the filing of birth certificates and then periodically turn in large quantities of same. In many cases [illegible]s advised they were careless in filing these birth certificates. For a number of years this unit obtained frequent prosecutions, but according to information received from that unit they have not had the facilities to make these spot checks as they did formerly and there have been no prosecutions for failure to file birth certificates since June of 1940. (See page 31 for legislative recommendation No. 14.)

It is quite evident that these violations of the law still continue in considerable volume. The Federal Bureau of the Census, when taking the 1940 Census, had their enumerators inquire in each household if there had been a birth during a certain number of months during that year. In each case where there was a birth the enumerator made the proper record of the birth and forwarded it to the Bureau of the Census. These reports from the State of Pennsylvania were compared with the transcription of the birth records furnished by the Bureau of Vital Statistics to the Bureau of the Census. During the period for which the Bureau of the Census made the special check they found births of several thousand persons in Pennsyl[illegible]h had not been reported to the Bureau of Vital Statistics.

Recommendation No. 6 (Administrative)

It is recommended that the number of registration districts in Pennsylvania be considerably reduced, that the local registrars be more carefully selected as to their qualifications, that they be employed on a salary basis and that the turnover of appointments of local registrars be considerably reduced by instituting some form of tenure.

Findings and Conclusions to Recommendation No. 6.

At the present time there are over seven-hundred registration districts in the State. In practically all cases local registrars are paid on a fee basis and in most cases the annual remuneration is very low. The work is generally given to someone in each locality to make a small amount of extra money, along with their regular occupation. Local registrars are, in practically all cases, selected by local political leaders for appointment by the Department of Health, and in a large number of cases little or no consideration is given to their qualifications to effectively perform the work. Even, if qualified, the remuneration is so low that properly qualified persons quite frequently resign. This also adds to the turnover of local registrars. It is the opinion of the Commission that if the number of registration districts are considerably reduced, thereby making possible the increase in the remuneration, it will attract to these positions persons in all cases with sufficient qualifications to properly perform their duties.

Recommendation No. 7 (Administrative)

It is recommended that the bureau authorize the payment of no fees to any registrar for any certificates received in the bureau which are not complete in every essential detail and satisfactorily legible. Also, that the bureau more closely supervise the field activities of the local registrars in properly carrying out their duties.

Findings and Conclusions to Recommendation No. 7.

It has been pointed out in this report that the large number of incomplete and illegible records is a major contributing factor to the difficulties which have been experienced in the bureau. There is sufficient authority under the law to refuse payment of fees for incomplete or illegible records when filed with the bureau, and likewise for the local registrar to refuse acceptance of such incomplete or illegible birth certificates from physicians and midwives.

Recommendation No. 8 (Administrative)

It is recommended that the personnel of the bureau be reclassified, and in so far as possible, be put on a permanent salary basis and that rates of pay be properly established commensurate with the importance of the work being performed.

Findings and Conclusions to Recommendation No. 8.

As has been previously pointed out in this report, one of the major problems confronting the bureau has been the large turnover in personnel. This has been mainly due to low rates of pay which are not commensurate with the type of work being performed and having a large number of employes on a per diem basis rather than on a permanent salary basis. Not only has there been considerable turnover among the new employes; but many of the older employes have left the bureau to take positions at better rates of pay and with a greater degree of permanency.

Recommendation No. 9 (Administrative)

It is recommended that the Bureau of Vital Statistics impress upon physicians and midwives, by seeking cooperation through their State Associations, the importance of accurately spelling all names when filling out birth certificates.

Findings and Conclusions to Recommendation No. 9.

Many birth records filed with the bureau by physicians have surnames spelled differently from the correct spelling as shown on the application. This has added considerably to the correction work necessary in the bureau.

Recommendation No. 10 (Administrative)

It is recommended that steps be taken immediately to have all records in the bureau microfilmed and that all future records as they are received in the bureau be microfilmed. Also, that facsimile certified copies be issued instead of hand written certified copies.

Findings and Conclusions to Recommendation No. 10.

The importance of permanent preservation, especially of birth certificates filed in the bureau, cannot be over stressed. It is known that under the present provisions of the Social Security Act the certified copies of birth certificates will be widely used as a definite proof of date of birth when persons reach retirement age, which at present is 65 years. Some of the records which have come into the bureau since 1906 have now deteriorated to such an extent that the writing is harly legible. This has been due to poor quality of paper frequently furnished by the bureau in past years instead of a high percentage rag content paper, and the fading of ink even though the law required the records be "written legibly in unfading ink." There has also been considerable wear and tear on some of the records due to continuous searching of the books since the start of the heavy demand for certified copies of birth certificates. It is, therefore, especially important that the existing records be microfilmed before they deteriorate further.

The 1941 amendment to the Administrative Code which legalized the microfilming of State records would give facsimile prints from microfilm sufficient legal status to meet all the requirements even though the original record filed with the bureau may become illegible or destroyed.

In making the recommendation to microfilm all present and also all future records as they come to the bureau it would be advisable to make a duplicate set, one set to be kept in reserve in a fireproof vault and the other set to be used for making facsimile type certified copies. When the existing records are microfilmed it would also be advisable, in so far as possible, to re-group the birth records into a uniform filing system.

Experience in the use of microfilming for both locating the proper record and making certified copies therefrom, clearly indicates that the work can be done much faster and far more economically than the present method wherein all certified copies are hand written. This saving in labor cost alone will justify the expense of microfilming all present records.

It is not believed that two sets of microfirmed records will be needed for searching and producing facsimile copies. If the work is properly scheduled through the bureau one set of records will suffice for each scheduled search.

Even with war conditions requiring priority to obtain microfirming equipment and supplies, the importance of issuing certified copies of birth certificates in connection with employment in war industries is sufficiently important that the necessary priorities can no doubt be obtained to secure this equipment.

Recommendation No. 11 (Legislative)

It is recommended that the Vital Statistics law be amended to require physicians, midwives or any other person responsible for the filing of birth certificates to print in unfading ink or typewrite all information on forms furnished by the bureau made of not less than 50% rag content paper.

Findings and Conclusions to Recommendation No. 11.

While the law has always required all birth certificates to be "written legibly in unfading ink," examination of the records clearly indicates that the ink is badly faded on thousand of the records and while the writing may have been legible to the person making out the birth certificate, in a large number of cases it has not been legible to the personnel of the bureau whose duty it is to attempt to make certified copies thereof. By having the information printed or typewritten it will insure the record being legible to those making certified copies or to those receiving a facsimile.

Recommendation No. 12 (Legislative)

It is recommended that the law be amended to require physicians and midwives in attendance at any birth to be legally responsible, not only for the filing of a complete registration with the local registrar, but also be responsible for the filing of any supplementary information which was not originally available but which is necessary to complete the birth certificate.

Findings and Conclusions to Recommendation No. 12.

The law, at present contains a provision requiring the local registrar, upon receipt of a birth certificate, to send the parent a copy of the information contained thereon and requesting the parent to immediately notify the bureau of any errors or omissions on the certificate so the bureau can correct its records. This amendment to the act has resulted in some improvement in the accuracy and completeness of especially the more recent birth records. Parents, however, as a general rule, have been rather careless in reporting the necessary corrections. It is, therefore, believed advisable to center the responsibility for supplementary information with the physician, midwife or other person responsible for filing the birth certificate.

Recommendation No. 13 (Legislative)

It is recommended that the law be amended to require physicians and midwives, who have failed under the provisions of the law in the past to file a birth certificate, to furnish the necessary affidavit or other data when requested to do so, to assist any person to establish a record of their birth without any cost whatsoever to the applicant. Also, that furnishing of such information shall in no way relieve the physician or midwife for failure to file a birth certificate under the provisions of the law.

Findings and Conclusions to Recommendation No. 13.

Information obtained in the bureau indicates that there have been many complaints on the part of applicants that physicians have charged their regular office visit fee when the physician furnished them with an affidavit as to their birth. There have been other complaints that in some instances physicians did not file a birth certificate due to nonpayment of their fee for delivery.

Recommendation No. 14 (Legislative)

It is recommended that violations of the Vital Statistics Law be made a misdemeanor instead of a summary conviction and that the penalties be increased.

Findings and Conclusions to Recommendation No. 14.

Prior to the amendment to the Vital Statistics Law in 1929, P. L. 81, any violation of the law was a misdemeanor punishable by fine ranging from five to one-hundred dollars, and in some cases imprisonment of as many as sixty days, or both. The 1929 amendment eliminated these penal provisions and substituted a summary conviction before a magistrate, carrying a fine of from five to fifty dollars, or in default, a jail sentence of not more than thirty days. It is believed penalties similar to those prior to the 1929 amendment should be restored to the act and with strict enforcement by the enforcement unit it will act as a stronger deterrent in reducing the violations and carelessness which have caused so much trouble to persons now attempting to obtain certified copies of their birth certificate. This is especially necessary due to the two year statute of limitations on summary convictions. In most instances these violations for failure to file a birth certificate are not known to the person involved until they apply for a certified copy, generally seventeen or more years after date of birth.

Recommendation No. 15 (Legislative)

It is recommended that the law be amended to permit the bureau to use a "short form" certified copy of birth certificate containing only name of child, date and place of birth, age of parents at time of birth, and date of filing of birth certificate.

Findings and Conclusions to Recommendation No. 15.

By far the greatest need for a certified copy of a birth certificate is to establish age and place of birth. If a "short form" of certified copy is used certifying this essential information it will save considerable cost to the bureau as long as certified copies are hand written, and also save considerable embarrassment to applicants in many cases, especially cases of illegitimacy. The bureau estimates that at the present time they receive applications for certified copies of birth certificates of approximately five hundred cases per month where the records indicate illegitimacy of birth.

Recommendation No. 16 (Legislative)

It is recommended that whenever any court grants a decree changing the spelling or in any other manner changing any part of the full name of any person born since January 1, 1906, that the clerk of such court shall, within ten days, file a certified copy of the decree with the State Bureau of Vital Statistics. Also that the Bureau of Vital Statistics shall immediately make the necessary changes on the birth certificate of such person on file in the bureau.

Findings and Conclusions to Recommendation No. 16.

It has been the experience in the bureau that in many cases names or the spelling thereof have been changed by court action and before correcting the birth records it has been necessary for the applicant to obtain certified copies of the court decree. Also, in many cases the name was changed when applicant was a child and upon making application no record of birth was found under the name in which he applied.

Recommendation No. 17 (Legislative)

It is recommended that the law be amended to specifically require immediate registration with the Bureau of Vital Statistics of all babies taken into foundling homes.

Findings and Conclusions to Recommendation No. 17.

It has been found in the past that many persons applying for birth certificates were raised in foundling homes and no registration of their birth has been recorded with the Bureau of Vital Statistics, thereby causing such persons undue difficulty in obtaining a certified copy of birth certificate. The law at present does not specifically cover foundling homes.

Recommendation No. 18 (Legislative)

It is recommended that the law be amended to require the State to pay the fees of all local registrars throughout the State in the same manner as they are now paying registrars fees in the cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Findings and Conclusions to Recommendation No. 18.

At present under the law the State pays the fees for registration of all births and deaths in the cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh upon certification by the State registrar to the State Treasurer. Whereas the fees for registration of births and deaths in all other parts of the State are paid by the Treasurer of the county in which the birth or death occurred upon certification by the State registrar.

The original Vital Statistics Law provided a fee of twenty-five cents for each birth and death certificate, sent to the bureau by local registrars, to be paid for by the treasurer of the counties in which the birth or death occurred. However, the law provided that in the cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh if the local registrar occupied the office of City Clerk, Health Officer or any other local office, and received a fixed salary as local officer, he would be paid seven cents for each birth and death certificate, or if he was not a local officer and not receiving a salary but was furnished by the city with suitable office room for carrying out his duties as local registrar, he would receive a fee of ten cents for each birth and death certificate, such fee being paid by the State. The act of 1921, P. L. 181 amended the Vital Statistics Law and increased the fee in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh to twenty-five cents, striking out the provisions concerning the local registrar being an employe of the city or being furnished office space, etc. The act of 1927, P. L. 859 again amended the Vital Statistics Law and increased the registrars fees from twenty-five to fifty cents throughout the State, including registrars in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. No one, especially since the fees have been made uniform, has been able to give any logical reason why the State pays the registration fees in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh but the counties pay the registrars fees throughout the remainder of the State.

It is the opinion of the Commission that since the State receives all revenue for furnishing certified copies of birth and death registrations and appoints all local registrars, they should pay the fees of local registrars in all parts of the State as well as in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

The registration fees for the State outside of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh for the years of 1939-40 and 41 amounted to approximately $309,000, or an average of $103,000 per year. There has been a slight increase for the year 1942 and these same fees are estimated to be about $107,000. This would mean on the basis of 1942 an expenditure by the State for the next biennium of approximately $215,000 for the payment of these fees for the various counties in addition to Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Recommendation No. 19 (Legislative)

It is recommended that the law be amended to eliminate the fee of $2.50 charged by the bureau for filing a "delayed birth registration" of persons born since January 1, 1906.

Findings and Conclusions to Recommendation No. 19.

In all cases where it is necessary for a person, born since January 1, 1906, to file a "delayed registration" of his birth it is due almost entirely to the attending physician, midwife or other person responsible therefor, having failed, at the time of birth to file a birth certificate. In a few cases it is possibly due to the failure of the bureau to locate the record. Had a birth certificate been filed at the time of his birth, as required by law, no charge would have been made for filing and the State or county would even have paid the registrar's fees. It is certainly no fault of the applicant. It is also important to the bureau to have these additional birth records and it receives all fees for certified copies thereof.

It is the opinion of the Commission, that for these reasons and due to the fact the applicant is subjected to other expenses such as affidavits, etc., also delay and inconvenience, in preparing a "delayed birth registration" for filing, that no filing fee therefore should be charged.

Final

The Bureau of Vital Statistics is performing a very important function, not only now as a part of the war effort, but will, in the future, be one of the most important bureaus of the State Government.

It is the opinion of the Commission that these legislative and administrative recommendations should be immediately adopted. Also, that after the adoption of these recommendations the bureau will be able to operate more efficiently and at a much lower per unit cost in rendering its major service, namely the issuance of certified copies of birth and death certificates.

Description of Production Scheduling Plan

Disposal of Average Application. (Delayed Type Not Included)

Information received from the bureau indicates that of each one-hundred original applications, approximately seventy are found to be properly indexed, which insures a record being in the file, making possible the issuance of a certified copy. The remaining thirty require special search of the registration records by consulting the record books for the proper registration districts of the proper year. Of these thirty applications the special search operation locates the records of approximately ten for which a certified copy can then be issued, and no record is found for the remainder and accordingly these twenty applicants are furnished with the necessary forms for filing "delayed birth registrations."

Operation of Production Scheduling System.

This system can be operated regardless of the number of applications received, providing sufficient personnel for each operation is available to handle the volume of work allowing for a certain percentage of day to day fluctuation in volume so that sharp sudden increases can be handled either on schedule or be absorbed by overtime.

During November 1942 the bureau received approximately 34,000 applications, 65% or 22,100 of which were received by mail and the remainder or 11,900 were personal applications made to the bureau. The bureau works seven and one-half hours per day, or about 155 hours per month. On this basis the volume of applications per hourly cycle to be processed would be about 220.

At the end of each hour all personal applications received at the office during the hour for which the formal application had been entered and written up in the bureau, plus additional mail applications similarly entered and written up sufficient to make up the full hourly quantity (220), should be sorted alphabetically by those years which are indexed and sent to the Index Unit. Any applications for those years having no index should be sorted in the same order as the registration records for those years are filed and be immediately sent to the record room and assigned to the special searchers.

The personnel of the Index Unit should, in so far as possible, have the same years assigned them on each hourly cycle as this, to some degree, will enable them to become more familiar with their respective indexes. These applications, after being checked by the Index Unit should then be re-sorted in the same order as the registration records for those years are filed and then be sent to the record room, keeping those for which an index is found (70% or 154) separate from the remainder.

These 154 should be turned over to routine record searchers and given preferred access to the registration records. The remainder should be turned over to the special searchers. The searchers, both routine and special should, in so far as possible, have the same group of records assigned them on each hourly cycle. This will enable them to become more familiar with the names, spelling and handwriting of the records. Each searcher assigned to a certain group of records should go through those records in the same sequence on each hourly cycle. This will permit the first record book searched to be sent to and returned from the certified copy writers in sufficient time to be back in place for the beginning of the next hourly search. The special searchers, when searching records in those years for which there was an index that did not contain names as shown on applications thereby requiring a special search, should follow up the routine searchers as closely as possible so they can make the special search in the books before these books go to certified copy writers. This special search generally locates about one-third or (22) records which were not indexed. By following this procedure no one registration book will be needed by searchers or certified copy writers more than once in each hourly cycle.

The 20% or (44) applications for which no record is found should be marked "no record" and then disposed of as follows: Fifteen (15) representing the 35% made by personal application should be returned to the office after which such application should be given a "delayed birth registration" form with instructions for filing same. The twenty-nine (29) received by mail should be turned over to some person whose duty it is to send the applicant a form letter along with a "delayed birth registration" form and instructions for filing same. These forty-four (44) applications should then be sent to the Delayed Birth Registration Unit and filed alphabetically awaiting return of the "delayed birth registration" by the applicant.

The certified copy writers, in so far as possible, should have the same group of books assigned to them on each hourly cycle. This to some degree will enable them to become more familiar with spelling of names, handwriting of physicians, etc., in certain localities. The certified copy writers should also complete the certified copies in the various books in the same sequence as the books were searched so the group of books needed first in the next hourly search will be returned to the file room in sufficient time. Each certified copy writer should also be provided with a rubber stamp to stamp the word "error" on each application which contains any information different from that shown on the record and certified copy. As the certified copies are completed all those for applications marked "office" should be returned to the office for personal delivery to the applicant. All completed certified copies for applications received by mail should be sent to a mailing unit with sufficient personnel to see that all such certified copies completed in each hourly cycle are prepared for mailing.

In all cases, both in the office and in the mailing unit where the word "error" is stamped on the application, a correction form with instructions should be attached to the certified copy. By having the certified copy writer stamp the word "error" on the application it will obviate the necessity of someone again comparing the applicaction with the certified copy.

After returning all certified copies to applicants, whether at the office or by mailing, the applications therefor should be re-sorted hourly in accordance with the needs of the Accounting Division and returned thereto for final close-out.

Correction Unit:

The work in the Correction Unit should be properly sorted and the personnel of the Correction Unit should schedule their work in such a manner that they will remove books from their proper places in the record room when they will be least needed by the searchers. When such books are removed from the record room a charge-out card should be used so that the searchers will know the exact person in the Correction Unit who has the book. If at any time the volume of work of the Correction Unit is such that it interferes with the scheduled work of the searchers then such correction work should be done during hours when the records are not in use by the searchers. This unit should also be provided with sufficient correspondent typists to currently handle all correspondence necessary in connection with obtaining necessary additional documentary evidence for corrections.

A policy should be established and strictly adherred to which will require anyone in any phase of work in the bureau, when examining the birth records to come to the record room for such examination instead of removing the record book therefrom.

Delayed Birth Certificates:

The processing of completed applications for delayed birth registrations received in the bureau is principally a procedure of comparing the information contained on the registration form with the documentary evidence accompanying the application and the examination of the documentary evidence itself to determine its authenticity and acceptability. The daily volume of this work should be divided among a sufficient number of examiners so that it can be kept on a current hourly basis for those received at the window and on a daily basis for those received by mail. This is likewise true of the number of delayed birth registration copy writers. This unit should also be provided with sufficient correspondent typists to currently handle all correspondence necessary in connection with obtaining necessary additional documentary evidence for processing delayed birth registrations.

Physical Setup of the Bureau:

The bureau should be physically arranged so that all work can be performed in the proper sequence with a minimum amount of travel by personnel and movement of records between the various units in the bureau.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

To the Members of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Under the authority of the Act of July 1, 1937, P. L. 2460, as amended by the Act of June 26, 1939, P. L. 1084, creating the Joint State Government Commission, we submit herewith a report on Uniform Practice and Procedure Before Departments, Boards and Commissions of the Commonwealth.

ELMER KILROY, Chairman,
Joint State Government Commission

January 1943

Foreword

The tremendous increase in administrative functions in the last two decades has attracted a great deal of study and attention. In the last few years, there has developed growing dissatisfaction with certain prevailing phases of practice and procedure before administrative agencies. The Joint State Government Commission of the General Assembly, through its Committee on Uniform Practice and Procedure Before Administrative Boards and Commissions, has for some time devoted its attention to this subject. In connection with its study, it conducted a series of hearings at which there appeared representatives of the following State agencies:

Liquor Control Board
Game Commission
Board of Fish Commissioners
Bureau of Motor Vehicles, Department of Revenue
Bureau of Motor Safety, Department of Revenue
Water and Power Resources Board
Pennsylvania Securities Commission
Labor Relations Board
Workmen's Compensation Board
Public Utility Commission
Unemployment Compensation Board of Review
State Board of Undertakers
Milk Control Commission
Department of Mines
Professional Examining Boards in the Department of Public Instruction, consisting of the following:
State Board of Pharmacy
State Board of Optometrical Examiners
State Board of Osteopathic Examiners
Osteopathic Surgeons' Examining Board
State Board of Medical Examiners
State Board of Examiners for Public Accountants
State Registration Board for Professional Engineers
State Board of Examiners of Architects
State Board of Examiners for the Registration of Nurses
State Board of Censors

Without making an effort to summarize the voluminous testimony presented before the Commission, it may be said that these hearings clearly established that there is and has been practically no uniformity in practice and procedure before the various administritive agencies of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

It may be said at this point that it is not the purpose of this report to take up the numerous inequities and apparent discrepancies in existing statutes, such as variations in fees, unequal requirements for personal aducational attainments, methods and dispositions of licensing fees, etc., concerning which complaints were voiced by representatives of various administrative agencies appearing before the Commission. This should be a subject for another study and report.

In the following report, reference is made to some instances of lack of uniformity and recommendations are offered to create a more uniform method of promulgating and adopting rules and regulations, of conducting hearings and of making adjudications by administrative agencies

JAMES E. LOVETT, Chairman,
Committee on Uniform Practice and Procedure Before Administrative Boards and Commissions.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON UNIFORM PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE BEFORE ADMINISTRATIVE BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS

I. Promulgation and Adoption of Rules and Regulations

While in a few instances, administrative agencies in Pennsylvania give public notice of one form or another as to the intended promulgation or adoption of new rules and regulations, most of these agencies adopt them without any notice whatsoever to the persons who may be affected by them. With few exceptions, no public hearings are held in connection with the adoption of such rules and no opportunity is given to persons who may object to such adoption. No uniform method prevails for the publication of existing rules and regulations or of those newly adopted. Indeed, in most agencies there is no publication whatsoever of rules and regulations and no readily accessible method of determining what rules and regulations are in effect.

While in general our administrative agencies have, in the matter of promulgating regulations, conformed to the law and spirit of the statutory enactments which gave them the power to do so, some instances appear where such power was abused. No uniform method prevails as to appeals to courts or to other administrative bodies for relief from such abuse and, in the majority of cases, such appeals appear to be either impractical or legally impossible.

II. Procedure in Connection with Orders and Adjudications Affecting Individual Rights and Privileges

While most agencies give some notice as to hearings affecting individual rights and privileges, no uniformity exists as to the form of the notice, the contents of same, or the time allowed to prepare for such hearing. In some agencies, no opportunity is given to file a formal answer to charges that may be contained in such notice.

The method of conducting the hearings varies widely. Some agencies conduct formal hearings, at which sworn testimony is taken and is duly recorded, with full opportunity to produce, examine and cross-examine the parties in interest and witnesses. Others, however, have completely informal hearings. A member of a board of licensure, to give one example, expressed its opinion before the Commission that a report or a finding of its investigators should be in itself enough on which to base an adjudication. Certain agencies conduct their hearings before examiners and base their findings on reports and, in some instances, on the recommendations of such examiner. In other instances, all hearings are held before one or more members of the board or commission. In at least one instance, a board has complained that its work has been seriously hampered by its statutory incapacity to have examiners appointed to conduct such hearings.

While a number of our agencies have powers to subpoena witnesses and records, others have not.

No uniformity exists as to notifying the parties in interest after hearings as to the findings and adjudication. While at one extreme one agency will forward by registered mail notice of the adjudication, detailed findings of fact, and reasons for the same, together with a transcript of the notes of testimony, another agency, at the other extreme, will send notice of the adjudication by mail with no further explanation. Quite frequently, the adjudication is reached without any findings of evidence whatsoever on the record to support the order.

Some of our agencies have no power to enforce their adjudications. In order to do so, they are compelled to take the matter before courts of record where in order to obtain the necessary decree or order much of what has transpired before them must be repeated, with the resultant duplication and loss of time.

III. Appeals From Adjudication

Even less uniformity applies as to the right of appeal from the adjudications of our administrative agencies. In some instances, pertinent statutes specifically prohibit appeals. In other instances, no provision for appeals exists. From the adjudications of certain agencies, appeals may be taken to the court of common pleas or to the court of quarter sessions of the local county; in others, to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County only, or directly to the Superior Court of Pennsylvania. From the decision of the lower court, a further appeal to the appellate court is allowed by some acts and specifically prohibited by others. While the appeal will act as a supersedeas in certain agencies, it will not do so in others, and in a third group will act as such only if the court to which the appeal is taken so orders.

On appeal, in some instances, the courts are given authority to hear the whole matter de novo, while in others the giving of no new evidence of any kind is permitted before the court. While generally the courts have been prone to give substantial weight to the findings of facts of the agencies, some lower courts have held that the "sufficient competent evidence rule" gives the courts authority to weigh the evidence and thus to reverse the findings of facts of administrative bodies.

Recommendations

The Commission recommends that the following provisions be adopted for the establishment of more uniform practice and procedure before administrative agencies:

1. An official medium, similar to the Federal Register, should be established within this Commonwealth for the publication of rules, regulations, etc., in force and those adopted from time to time.

2. The Register shall be under the direction of the Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau who shall consult with administrative agencies as to the form and substance of intended rules and regulations.

3. Notice of the intended adoption of new general rules and regulations affecting the rights and privileges of persons outside of the agency shall be given in the register and opportunity for public hearing had thereon. The existence of an emergency shall justify waiver of the above provision.

4. The Joint State Government Commission which is composed of members of the General Assembly shall have the power after conference with the agency to nullify any rule or regulation in whole or in part if, in its opinion, there is a violation of the intent of an act of the General Assembly.

5. Every person aggrieved by a rule or regulation shall have the right of appeal therefrom to a court of record, but no such rule or regulation shall be declared invalid unless it was improperly adopted or is in violation of the Federal or State Constitutions.

6. Reasonable notice shall be given to the parties in interest as to hearings affecting their personal or property rights or privileges.

7. When charges are made, the notice shall be given with sufficient particularity to apprise the parties of the nature of the said charges. If desired, an opportunity to file an answer shall be given.

8. All parties shall have an opportunity to be heard at a formal hearing, to produce witnesses and other evidence, and to be represented by counsel, and a complete record shall be kept of the proceedings.

9. Hearings may be had before competent examiners who may make recommendations, but the administrative boards or commission shall be the only one to make the adjudication.

10. The adjudications shall contain detailed findings of fact and conclusions, and reasons for the same.

11. Notices of the adjudication and the findings of fact, conclusions, and reasons aforementioned shall be served on all parties and their counsel, if any.

12. Appeals shall be allowed from all adjudications to courts of record if taken within thirty days of the date of service of notice of adjudications. The appeal shall act as a supersedeas only if the court to which the appeal is taken so orders.

13. The court shall not hear the matter de novo, but shall be bound by the findings of facts of the administrative agencies if they are supported by competent evidence.

The Pennsylvania Bar Association closely followed the study and investigation conducted by the Committee on Unform Practice and Procedure of the Joint State Government Commission. A representative of its Section on Administrative Law was present at most of the hearings and many of the meetings of the Committee. As a result of the deliberations of the Section, in which representatives of the Joint State Government Commission participated two proposed acts were prepared. These acts are designated as the Administrative Agency Law and as the Pennsylvania Register Act. In these are incorporated most of the recommendations made in this report.

One of the fundamental recommendations made by this report is not a part of the act proposed by the Section. We refer to Recommendation No. 4, page 5, giving the power to the Joint State Government Commission of the General Assembly to nullify rules and regulations of administrative agencies in whole or in part. It is submitted by the Commission that the power to make rules and regulations is in effect the power to legislate, and when adopted, the rules and regulations have the full force and effect of law. The General Assembly, having given these powers to administrative bodies, should be in a position to curb them, if abused, through the medium of its continuing Joint State Government Commission.

There are attached two proposed bills incorporating the recommendations of the Pennsylvania Bar Association Section on Administrative Law and those contained in this report. Their adoption is urged by the Commission.

Conclusion

No effort has been made in this report to establish a system of complete uniformity in practice and procedure before administrative agencies. The establishment of such systm is considered impossible because of the diversity of functions now represented in that branch of our government. The Commission believes, however, that this report recommends the establishment of certain minimum requirements for uniformity in practice and procedure before administrative agencies necessary to give reasonable equality and fairness between government in its desire to administer efficiently and individuals anxious to secure and protect their rights and privileges.

An Act providing for the Pennsylvania Register, for the publication and distribution of certain orders, regulations, rules, notices, proclamations and similar instruments; imposing powers and duties on the Legislative Reference Bureau and the Department of Property and Supplies; and making an appropriation for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this act.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Section 1. This act shall be known, and may be cited, as the "Pennsylvania Register Act."

Section 2. The following words and terms shall have the following meanings, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

(a) "Agency" means any department, departmental administrative board or commission, officer, or other agency of this Commonwealth having state-wide jurisdiction, but shall not include the legislative or judicial branches of the Commonwealth.

(b) "Document" means any order, regulation, rule, notice, proclamation, or similar instrument.

(c) "Regulation" means any general rule, regulation, or order promulgated by an agency prescribing the practice or procedure before such agnecy, or interpreting or implementing and statute enforced or administered by such agency.

Section 3. The Legislative Reference Bureau shall have the power, and its duty shall be, to have the custody of and cause to be printed and distributed documents of agencies, publication of which is required or authorized by law or by regulations prescribed under this act.

Section 4. All agency documents required by law to be published shall, and other documents may, be printed in a serial publication designated as the Pennsylvania Register. It shall be the duty of the Legislative Reference Bureau, acting through its director, to arrange through the Department of Property and Supplies for the prompt printing and dsitribution of the Pennsylvania Register, in the manner and at the times required in accordance with the provisions of this act and the regulations prescribed hereunder. The first issue shall be published within one hundred fifty days after the effective date of this act and shall contain all documents filed within one hundred days after its effective date. Subsequent issues shall be printed at least once each month and shall contain all previously unpublished documents duly filed up until three days prior to the date of publication. The Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau may provide by regulation for the more frequent publication of subsequent issues. Once each year a cumulative index shall be published bringing all agency regulations which remain in effect down to date. All issues of the Pennsylvania Register shall contain a table of contents and the first issue and the annual issues shall contain an index. There shall be printed with each document a notation of the date of filing thereof.

Section 5. All regulations of any agency which are in effect on the effective date of this act or which shall be promulgated within ninety days thereafter, shall expire one hundred days after the effective date of this act, unless codified, indexed, and filed with the Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau within said period of one hundred days for publication in the Pennsylvania Register. Regulations promulgated after ninety days and within one hundred fifty days after the effective date of this act shall expire one hundred sixty days after the effective date of this act unless filed with the director within said period of one hundred sixty days for publication in the Pennsylvania Register.

Section 6. No regulation or revision, amendment, or repeal of an existing regulation promulgated after one hundred fifty days following the effective date of this act shall be valid unless published in the Pennsylvania Register at least ten days before the date on which it is to become effective. This section shall not apply where the Governor shall certify that because of an emergency or other compelling extraordinary circumstance, the public interest requires that a regulation become effective without prior publication, but such regulation, together with a copy of the certification of the Governor, shall be published in the earliest available issue of the Pennsylvania Register.

Section 7. The original and two duplicate originals or certified copies of any documents to be published in the Pennsylvania Register shall be filed with the Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau who shall cause to be noted thereon the filing date thereof. Upon such filing at least one copy shall be available immediately for public inspection at the office of the Legislative Reference Bureau.

Section 8. The Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau shall prescribe regulations for carrying out the provisions of this act. Such regulations shall provide, inter alia: (a) the manner of certification of copies required to be certified under this act; (b) the documents or classes of documents which may be published in the Pennsylvania Register in addition to the documents required to be published therein, but never to include comments or news items of any character; (c) the manner of and subscriptions to the Pennsylvania Register and for printed, reprinted, compiled, indexed, bound, and distributed; (d) the prices to be charged for individual copies of and subscriptions to the Pennsylvania Register and for reprints and bound volumes thereof, which prices may be fixed without reference to the restrictions placed upon and fixed for the sale of other publications of the Commonwealth; and (e) the number of copies which shall be distributed free for official use.

Section 9. Subject to the provisions of Sections 7 and 8 of this act any agency may file any document other than a regulation for publication in the Pennsylvania Register, the expense of such publication to be paid by the agency filing such document.

Section 10. The publication in the Pennsylvania Register of any document shall create a presumption (a) that it was duly issued, prescribed, or promulgated; (b) that it was duly filed with the Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau and made available for public inspection on the date stated on the printed notation; (c) that the copy published in the Pennsylvania Register is a true copy of the original; and (d) that all requirements of law applicable to such document have been complied with. The contents of the Pennsylvania Register shall be judicially noticed.

Section 11. Payments for the Pennsylvania Register shall be made to the Department of Property and Supplies which shall pay the same into the State Treasury through the Department of Revenue to the credit of the General Fund.

Section 12. The sum of thousand dollars ($,000.00), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby specifically appropriated to the Legislative Reference Bureau for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this act.

Section 13. All acts or parts thereof inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 14. This act shall become effective September 1, 1943.

An Act relating to the practice, procedure, regulations, and adjudications of departments, departmental administrative boards and commissions, independent administrative boards and commissions, officers and other administrative agencies of this Commonwealth, and judicial review thereof; granting the power to the Joint State Government Commission of the General Assembly to nullify administrative regulations, and preserving equitable jurisdiction in certain cases.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Short Title and Definitions

Section 1. Short Title.—This act shall be known, and may be cited, as the "Administrative Agency Law."

Section 2. Definitions.—The following words and terms shall have the following meanings, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

(a) "Adjudication" means any final order, decree, decision, determination, or ruling by an agency affecting personal or property rights, privileges, immunities, or obligations of any or all of the parties to the proceeding in which the adjudication is made.

(b) "Agency" means any department, departmental administrative board or commission, independent administrative board or commission, officer or other agency of this Commonwealth having state-wide jurisdiction, empowered to determine or affect private rights, privileges, immunities, or obligations by regulation or adjudication, but shall not include a court of record nor a magistrate, alderman, or justice of the peace.

(c) "Party" means any person who appears in a proceeding before an agency, who has a direct interest in the subject matter of such proceeding.

(d) "Person" means any individual, or organized group of any character, including partnerships, corporations, and other forms of associations, as well as federal, state, or local instrumentalities, political subdivisions or officers thereof.

(e) "Regulation" means any general rule, regulation, or order promulgated by an agency prescribing the practice or procedure before such agency, or interpreting or implementing any statute enforced or administered by such agency.

Representation and Discipline

Section 11. Appearance.—Any party may appear before an agency personally on his own behalf or by an attorney-at-law.

Section 12. Discipline.—Any agency, may, upon hearing and good cause shown, preclude any attorney from practice before it, subject to the same right of appeal, hereinafter provided, from adjudications.

Regulation Procedure

Section 21. Promulgation of Regulations.—Every agency having authority to promulgate, amend, or repeal regulations may do so only after public hearing following reasonable notice as the agency may deem appropriate; provided, however, that prior publication in the Pennsylvania Register shall not be required for regulations promulgated within one hundred fifty days after the effective date of this act. The agency shall have the right to consult with the Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau as to the form and substance of intended rules and regulations.

Section 22. Publication of Existing Regulations.—All regulations of any agency which are in effect on the effective date of this act, or which shall be promulgated within ninety days thereafter, shall expire one hundred days after the effective date of this act unless codified, indexed, and filed within said period of one hundred days for publication in the Pennsylvania Register. Regulations promulgated after ninety days and within one hundred fifty days after the effective date of this act, shall expire one hundred sixty days after the effective date of this act unless filed for publication in the Pennsylvania Register within said period of one hundred sixty days.

Section 23. Publication of Future Regulations, Revisions, and Amendments.—No regulation or revision, amendment, or repeal of an existing regulation promulgated after one hundred fifty days following the effective date of this act, shall be valid unless published in the Pennsylvania Register at least ten days before the date on which it is to become effective.

Section 24. Emergency or Extraordinary Regulations.—The provisions of this article requiring public hearing and publication may be dispensed with in cases in which the Governor shall certify that because of an emergency or other compelling extraordinary circumstances, the public interest requires that the regulation become effective without the delay required for the holding of a hearing or the prior publication of the regulation. In such cases, the regulation together with a copy of the certification of the Governor shall be published in the earliest available issue of the Pennsylvania Register.

Section 25. The Joint State Government Commission of the General Assembly shall have the power, after conference with the agency, to nullify any rule or regulation in whole or in part, adopted by such agency, if in its opinion, the rule or regulation is contrary to an Act of Assembly.

Section 26. Judicial Review of Regulations.—Any person aggrieved by a regulation, other than a rate-making, wage-fixing, or price-fixing regulation, shall have the right to petition the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County for a declaratory judgment to determine the validity of such regulation or the legality of its application to such person or the particular situation presented. Persons aggrieved jointly, severally, or otherwise by the same regulation may join in the same petition or may intervene in the proceeding in the manner provided by the applicable rules of civil procedure. Such proceeding shall not act as a supersedeas unless expressly so ordered by the court. Said court shall render a declaratory judgment without requiring prior resort to the agency by the person or persons filing the petition. The procedure shall be as prescribed by the statutes and rules of court governing declaratory judgment proceedings.

No regulation shall be declared invalid unless such regulation violates the Constitution of this Commonwealth or of the United States, or does not come within the statutory authorization of the agency or was issued without observance of the procedure required by the applicable statutes including this act.

The agency or any party (including intervenors) affected by the judgment of said court may, within thirty days of the filing of such judgment, appeal therefrom to the Supreme Court.

Judicial review of rate-making, wage-fixing, and price-fixing regulations shall be as provided in the particular statutes pertaining to such regulations.

Adjudication Procedure

Section 31. Hearing and Record.—In proceedings leading to an adjudication reasonable notice shall be given to the parties as to the hearings. When charges are made, the notice shall be sufficiently particular to apprise the parties of the nature of the said charges, and an opportunity to file an answer shall be given. Parties shall have an opportunity to be heard, and to produce the testimony of witnesses and other evidence. All testimony shall be reported and a full and complete record shall be kept of the proceedings.

Agencies shall have the right to appoint examiners, learned in the law, who shall conduct the hearings and make recommendations but the adjudication shall be made by the agency only.

Section 32. Evidence: Cross-examination. — Agencies shall not be bound by technical rules of evidence at agency hearings, and all relevant evidence or reasonable probative value may be received. Reasonable examination and cross-examination shall be permitted.

Section 33. Briefs: Oral Argument.—All parties shall be afforded opportunity to submit briefs prior to adjudication. Oral argument upon substantial issues may be heard by the agency.

Section 34. Adjudications: Service.—All adjudications shall be in writing, shall contain detailed findings of fact and conclusions and the reasons for the adjudication, and shall be served upon all parties or their counsel personally or by mail. If service is made by mail, the date of mailing shall be the date of service.

Section 35. Procedural Regulations.—Agencies shall have the power to promulgate regulations prescribing their practice with respect to adjudication procedure, not inconsistent with the terms of this act. The adoption of such regulations shall be subject to the provisions of Sections 21 to 26 inclusive hereof.

Judicial Review

Section 41. Appeals.—Within thirty days after the service of an adjudication (or if a petition for rehearing or reconsideration is filed pursuant to statutory authority, then within thirty days after service of the order of the agency refusing such petition, or of the order following rehearing or reconsideration), any person aggrieved thereby who has a direct interest in such adjudication shall have the right to appeal therefrom. Such appeal shall be taken to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County unless otherwise specifically provided in statutes authorizing such appeals. Parties interested jointly, severally, or otherwise in the same adjudication may join in an appeal therefrom even though all of the interested parties do not join therein.

Section 42. Procedure on Appeal.—The procedure applicable to appeals from adjudications shall be in accordance with the rules of civil procedure promulgated from time to time by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. A party who proceeded before an agency under the terms of a particular statute, shall not be precluded from questioning the validity of said statute in the appeal, but no other question not raised before the agency may be raised upon appeal.

The remedy at law provided by this section shall not in any manner impair the right to equitable relief heretofore existing and such right to equitable relief is hereby continued notwithstanding the provisions of this section.

Section 43. Supersedeas.—Unless otherwise provided by a statute authorizing a particular appeal, no appeal shall operate as a supersedeas unless the court to which the appeal is taken or a judge thereof shall so order after hearing. The court may grant a supersedeas upon such terms and conditions, including the filing of security, as it may prescribe. Where the statute pertaining to a particular subject of adjudication requires that security be filed as a condition to obtaining a supersedeas, the court shall require adequate security.

Section 44. Disposition of Appeal.—The court to which the appeal is taken shall hear the appeal without a jury, on the record certified by the agency. After such hearing, the court shall affirm the adjudication unless it shall find that the same is in violation of the constitutional rights of the appellant, or is not in accordance with law, or that the provisions of Sections 31 to 35 inclusive, of this act have been violated in the proceeding before the agency, or that any finding of fact made by the agency and necessary to support its adjudication is not supported by competent evidence. If the adjudication is not affirmed, the court may set aside or modify it in whole or in part or may remand the proceeding to the agency for further disposition in accordance with the order of the court.

Section 45. Appellate Review.—The agency or any party affected by the decision of a court of common pleas on an appeal from an adjudication, may, within thirty days of the filing of such decision, take an appeal to the Superior Court from the decision of the court of common pleas.

Exemptions

Section 51. (a) None of the provisions of this act, except Sections 21 to 26 inclusive, shall apply to proceedings before the Department of Revenue, Auditor General, Board of Finance and Revenue, or Secretary of the Commonwealth, involving the original settlement, resettlement, review, or refund of taxes, bonus, interest or payments made into the State Treasury, or judicial review of such proceedings.

(b) Sections 41 to 45, inclusive, of this act shall not apply to adjudications of the Banking Board or of the Building and Loan Board.

(c) This act shall not apply to actions of the Secretary of Banking in the taking possession and liquidation of banking institutions and building and loan associations.

Repealer

Section 55. All acts or parts thereof inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed. All existing applicable statutory provisions, not inconsistent with this act, shall remain in full force and effect.

Effective Date

Section 61. This act shall take effect on September 1, 1943.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA
EXECUTIVE CHAMBER
Harrisburg, March 1, 1943

To the Honorable, the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In compliance with Article VI of the Act of April 9, 1929, P. L. 177, I have the honor to lay before the General Assembly of State Budget for the fiscal biennium from June 1, 1943 to May 31, 1945.

This is a war-time budget, constructed around the central purposes of enabling the State Government to do all in its power to prosecute the war and to prepare for post-war adjustments. The outstanding facts in this budget are as follows:

1. It is expected that there will be a balanced budget to begin the next biennium regardless of the fact that there are deficiencies of $8,387,554 resulting from the operation of the State Government for the present biennium. This will be true unless receipts from the major taxes this spring should fall short of reasonable anticipations.

2. General Fund recommended appropriations amount to $337,022,155.50, which amount constitutes a reduction of $17,884,031.90 below appropriations including deficiencies for the 1941-1943 biennium. Appropriations and payments on the deficit for the 19041-1943 biennium will be $92,-094,375.90 more than the recommended appropriation for the 1943-1945 biennium. Payments on account of the deficiency were $82,795,647 which when added to the appropriation and the deficiency amount to $437,701,834.40. From this amount must be deducted lapses of $8,585,303.

3. Based upon recommendations made herein the estimate of revenue from taxes now in effect would, if all the emergency taxes were reenacted, amount to $380,-000,000, which is $42,977,844.50 above the recommended appropriations.

4. In this Message I am recommending that you do not reenact four of the emergency taxes—the State Personal Property Tax, the Emergency Corporate Loans Tax, the Emergency Tax on Shares of Banks and Savings Institutions, and the Emergency Tax on Shares of Title Insurance and Trust Companies. Due to the fact that we expect a great decline in the receipts from both the permanent and emergency sources of revenue arising from war conditions and, due to additional costs imposed upon the State government by legislation and the current rise in prices, it is necessary that I recommend the reenactment of some of the emergency taxes for the next two years—the Liquid Fuels Tax, the Cigarette Tax, the Liquor Tax, the Corporate Net Income Tax, and the Gross Receipts Tax.

5. Due to the fact that this tax structure would yield $42,977,844.50 more than recommended appropriations, a tax reduction program becomes possible. The recommended tax reduction program with estimated amounts, is as follows:

State Personal Property Tax Bank Stock Tax Tax on Shares Corporate Loans Tax	$33,800,000
Retail and Wholesale Mercantile License Taxes, and other License Taxes	6,967,300
Total Recommended Tax Reduction	$40,767,300
Balance of Surplus	$2,244,013

6. The total appropriations recommended in this budget for all funds amount to $472,457,692, which is $147,130,639 below the $619,588,331 estimated to be spent from all appropriations and allocations from the operating funds during the 1941-1943 biennium.

Upon taking office on January 19th, I found the State in a much different financial condition than existed when my predecessor took office four years ago. When he took office he found a deficit of $58,000,000 in the General Fund and found unfinanced obligations in addition thereto which brought the total deficit and unfinanced obligations up to $71,000,000. He found General Fund obligations including the deficit and new unfinanced obligations amounting to $487,000,000, on which basis the State had been operating in the 1937-1939 biennium and found estimated revenues of of $365,000,000—$121,000,000 short of the obligations. There was at that time a very dismal picture of the State's finances. Upon taking office this January I found that the deficit and unfinanced obligations amounting to $71,000,000 had been discharged. I find that the shortage of $121,000,000 between obligations and estimated revenues which existed at the time my predecessor came into office was provided for and that at the end of the present biennium—May 31, 1943—unless there should be unexpected decreases in tax receipts, there will be a balanced budget. All of this was accomplished without any new taxation. This is a record of which any administration and any party can be proud and shows the return to the State government of good, sound, common sense management.

It is most fortunate that we find the State in this sound financial condition at a time when no one knows what emergency may befall the Commonwealth and at a time when the Federal Government is taxing persons and corporations to the very limit to derive the necessary funds for carrying on the war.

The Commonwealth is in good financial condition to carry out its share in this war effort and to provide adequately for all necessary needs.

This is not to say that there are no financial problems confronting us. The war emergency has created some great uncertainties and new demands among which the finances must be managed in the years ahead. One of the greatest uncertainties is that pertaining to expected revenues. We are affected by three primary factors in this respect: high Federal taxes, rationing programs and large Federal borrowing. These factors are certain to cut into our revenues by many millions of dollars and make prediction very difficult. According to the form of one of our principal taxes—the Corporate Net Income Tax—which was established in the Democratic Administration, a deduction of Federal taxes is made from income before our tax applies. With every increase in Federal taxes the share left for our tax decreases. After paying normal surtax and excess profits taxes to the Federal government it is expected that our corporations will pay upwards of two-thirds of their income to the Federal Government, leaving the balance to which our tax applies. In spite of the great increase in income of corporations which has come about since 1941 it is estimated that the receipts from the Corporate Net Income Tax will decline by one-fourth and may be more.

The rationing programs affect our receipts from liquid fue[illegible]x, fro[illegible] motor license and drivers registration fees, and a number of the other taxes.

For these reasons, the estimate of revenue which we make for the next two years contains many uncertainties at best.

Moreover, there are some increased demands which will have to be met.

At this point I should like to review some of the causes of the increase in State costs. In order to do that we need to look back to see how some of these increased costs have arisen.

The $337,022,155.50 of appropriations I am recommending for 1943-1945 is more than a hundred million greater than the appropriations for 1933-1935—ten years ago. Some of the recommended 1943-1945 appropriations must be ascribed to increase in wages, food supply and other operating costs of our institutions, but much of the difference is due to increases in governmental functions. I list the principal ones for your information, estimating the effect each will have upon the 1943-1945 budget:

1. The emergency taxes levied in 1935 were arranged in such a way that the State has had to issue tax notes to finance its activities. Cost for interest of tax notes and collection of emergency taxes estimated for 1943-1945, $2,600,000
2. Counties relieved of obligation of paying support of indigent patients in Mental Hospitals—State revenue reduced, by reason of this, $6,500,000
3. County mental hospitals taken over by the State $9,650,000
4. Rentals to the State Authority $8,550,000
5. Increased maintenance costs of all departments operating State Authority buildings $5,900,000
6. Increase in the reimbursement for transportation of school pupils $5,000,000
7. Increase in reimbursement for high school tuition $5,500,000
8. Increase in salaries of teachers in fourth class districts $8,400,000
9. Compensation for industrial diseases $1,250,000
10. Creation of new agencies, such as Department of Commerce, Board of Parole, Civil Service Commission and State Council of Defense $1,500,000
11. In 1933-1935 the State was just starting upon its programs of assistance to the aged and to dependent children and of pensions to the blind.

The following table will show what we spent then and what we are including in the 1943-1945 biennium:

	1933-1935	1943-1945
Aid to Dependent Children	$3,700,000	$28,000,000
Old Age Assistance	4,100,000	29,100,000
Blind Pensions	400,000	9,600,000
Total	$8,200,000	$59,500,000

This is an increase in these items of $51,300,000.

This makes a total increase of $106,000,000. I recommend that the Legislature go back and examine the increased costs with the view of determining whether the [illegible]s responsible for these costs should be continued or [illegible]lified. Rising costs of foods and materials are causing demands from the State institutions and the departments for more funds. These rising costs have caused a decrease in the purchasing power of the dollar and larger appropriation are necessary to match these increased costs. Some of the departments must expand their activities to give greater support to our war effort.

The surplus which I mentioned previously is available in spite of these increased demands and in spite of the large decline in receipts from some of the sources of revenue, which, we feel certain, we shall experience in the next two years.

In pursuing the two major objectives of this Administration—the forceful prosecution of the war and preparation for post-war adjustments—expenditures have been restricted as far as possible without interfering with essential services. I feel that increases have been granted only where necessary to preserve essential services and for increased activities in promoting the war effort but the Legislature is asked to make a careful study to determine if additional savings can be made. Capital improvements have been eliminated entirely so that there would be no competition for materials or labor needed for war production. Funds have been provided for post-war planning activities. The budget has been conservatively made so that the State will be in sound financial condition at the end of the war.

REVENUES

In discussing the revenue program I want to say first that the task of estimating revenues for the two-year period beginning next June 1 is a most difficult one. Usually collections during past years serve as a useful guide but for many of the important sources past experience is of little help in this changed and uncertain period. There can arise factors beyond the control of the State Government in the next two years which may have a profound effect on our revenues. There are factors now existing whose effects on the revenues cannot be predicted with any certainty because they are new factors. The best information at hand has been used in making the predictions but I wish the Legislature would carefully look into the soundness of the estimates.

The amount of General Fund revenues which would be received in the next two years if all the emergency taxes were reenacted in their present form would be $380,000,000, or $49,150,000 below the amount estimated to be received in the present biennium. On this basis estimated receipts would amount to $42,977,844.50 above recommended appropriations.

I recommend that the Four Mills Emergency State Personal Property Tax on intangible property be abolished. This State tax established in 1936, has proven especially burdensome in that it was placed on top of a county tax of like millage and oftentimes assets are taxed when there are no earnings from the assets to pay the tax. Moreover I am informed that the tax has had the effect of causing residents of this State to establish residence outside the State, thus reducing the tax base for the county tax.

With the repeal of the State Personal Property Tax Act you will necessarily have to repeal the acts establishing the Emergency Four Mills Bank Stock Tax, the Emergency Three Mills Tax on Shares, and the Emergency Four Mills Corporate Loans Tax.

The estimated receipts from these sources of revenue which I recommend to be abolished are $33,800,000.

It appears to me that the Retail and Wholesale Mercantile License Taxes and Other License Taxes are nuisance taxes rather than good sources of revenue. These taxes have not been levied fairly and have been subjected to costly political manipulation. The yield from them is about $7,800,000 per biennium and the cost of collection is an unwarranted amount—about $840,000. For these reasons I believe that these taxes should be eliminated.

Therefore, I am recommending that you abolish State taxes amounting to $40,767,300. The reduction to the taxpayers will be $41,600,000. If you follow my recommendations and abolish these taxes, the estimate of revenue for 1943-1945 will be $339,232,700.

The sources of revenue from which we expect to have the chief losses in the 1943-45 biennium are as follows:

	Estimated 1941-1943	Receipts 1943-1945
Corporate Net Income Tax	$84,194,068	$63,300,000
Foreign Franchise Tax	22,349,256	16,000,000
Liquid Fuels Tax (1c)	24,668,188	17,000,000
State Liquor Store Profits	36,000,000	30,000,000
Liquor Tax	20,510,701	18,088,325

I cannot discuss each one of these individually here in this message but we will gladly furnish you any supporting information we have for these estimates. There is, however, one of the taxes which I want particularly to call to your attention—the Corporate Net Income Tax.

An estimated loss of about $21,000,000 from the Corporate Net Income Tax is expected in spite of the fact that there has been a large increase in the income of corporations in the State. This comes about from the provisions in the Act, which was inserted at the time the Act was adopted in 1935, allowing Federal taxes as a deduction in arriving at the base for the State tax. Federal taxes on corporations, as you know, were increased greatly in 1942 which means that the share of the income which the State will tax has diminished. Estimates have been made that Federal normal, surtax, and excess profits taxes will take about two-thirds of the income of corporations, This would leave one-third for State taxation.

In this respect one of the most important sources of revenue is directly dependent upon the action of the Federal Government and gives rise to one of the big uncertainties in estimating receipts from this source. Not only is there uncertainty as to the effect of the existing Federal rates but there is also uncertainty as to changes in the rates in the next two-year period.

The unsatisfactory character of this tax in its present form can be seen by the fact that at a time when income of corporations has increased the estimated receipts from this tax drop sharply. In many other states where Federal taxes are not allowed as a deduction net income taxes are showing large increases with no change in the tax rates.

I recommend that the Legislature study this situation with the view of placing this tax upon a more stable basis. You may be able to find a plan whereby in stabilizing this tax you could make substantial reductions in other corporate taxes.

PROPOSED BOND ISSUE

While we expect the State's finances to be in good condition at the end of the ensuing biennium and the one following that, no one can forsee at this time the obligations which may be imposed upon the Commonwealth as a result of the war. For that reason I recommend that the Legislature take the necessary action at this Session to enable the State to issue bonds so that these needs growing out of the war might be taken care of should the demand arise. Funds may be needed for the construction of public projects, sanitation, roads and reforestation. There might be the need of funds for the rehabilitation or hospitalization of soldiers, or for taking care of them during their period of readjustment after their return from the service.

RECOMMENDED APPROPRIATIONS

General Fund appropriations for the 1941-1943 biennium were $346,518,633.40. There are deficiencies amounting to $8,387,554 for the present biennium for which I am asking the Legislature to provide. These deficiencies are as follows:

Department of Forests and Waters
Control of Forest Fires	$ 212,500
Department of Health
Salaries and Expenses	75,000
Department of Internal Affairs
Salaries and Expenses	22,500
Department of Military Affairs
Soldiers' and Sailors' Home	39,000
Department of Property and Supplies
Salaries and Expenses	70,000
Printing and Distributing Convention Reports	900
Legislative Printing	250,000
Department of Public Instruction
Salaries of County Superintendents	3,612
Transportation	683,000
Miscellaneous Subsidies	44,000
Support of Public Schools	3,146,337
Aid to Financially Handicapped School Districts	950,000
State Teachers Colleges	176,546
Board of Censors	2,000
Pennsylvania State Oral School	3,991
Thaddeus Stevens Industrial School	12,087
Department of Revenue
Salaries and Expenses	50,000
Department of Welfare
Salaries and Expenses	40,000
Medical and Surgical Hospitals	170,000
Penal and Correctional Institutions	830,000
Hospitals for Insane	1,455,000
Institutions for Mental Defectives	150,000
Legislative
House of Representatives:
Salary of Custodian of Hall	900
Judicial Court of Common Pleas:
Clerk-Hire—Dauphin County	181
Total	$8,387,554

These deficiencies arose in large part from the failure of the House to appropriate sufficient funds for the mental hospitals and school subsidies after it had refused o postpone, for the 1941,1943 biennium, obligations recommended by the Governor to be postponed. In part, he deficiencies are due to the unpredicted rise in food, upply, and salary costs. It is expected that the receipts nd lapses of present appropriations will be sufficient to over these deficiencies. Appropriations and payments on he deficit for the 1941-43 biennium will be $92,094,375.90 nore than the recommended appropriations for the 1943-945 biennium. Payments on account of the deficiency were $82,795,647 which when added to the appropriations nd the deficiency amount to $437,701,834.40. From this mount must be deducted lapses of $8,585,303.

My additional remarks with respect to appropriations can best be made in relating them to the various departments.

POST-WAR PLANNING COMMISSION

The adjustment of our people's affairs from the business of war to that of peace is bound to cause some strain, particularly since we went into war from a lengthy period of economic distress. I am certain that no one wants to return to the conditions which existed before the war, yet this is likely to happen if we do not all join in planning and working to see that they are avoided. We may be faced with a short period of severe unemployment while factories are changing over from war to peace production. Since this is likely, public works and other appropriate projects must be ready for an immediate start. As peace time production begins there will probably be much employment during the time we are producing the things we have done without during the war. This employment must continue—not for five or ten years, but indefinitely. It is the job of all of us—hence, of government— to see that it continues. I, therefore, propose that you create a post war planning commission to get the facts together, to lead the way in planning what shall be done, and to enlist the cooperation of everyone who can help in solving this great problem.

A bill establishing such a commission will be introduced for your consideration. It will carry a suggested appropriation of $200,000.

CIVILIAN DEFENSE

Special emphasis is placed at this time on the work of the State Council of Defense. Adequate funds should be provided.

During the present biennium the State Council of Defense has been supported by allocations from the appropriation to the Department of Military Affairs for salaries and expenses. This is a workable arrangement and I recommend that it be continued. During the war the Department of Military Affairs will not need much of its appropriation, unless an emergency arises, while the Council of Defense will be very active. After the war the relative positions of the two bodies will be reversed. I recommend further that the act creating the State Council of Defense be broadened to permit the Council to assist in the matter of venereal disease control if such activity on the part of the Council should become necessary.

ASSISTANCE TO VETERANS

Special emphasis is given, also, to the care of veterans of our wars, past and present. For the present biennium there is an appropriation of $890,000 for the home relief of veterans and their families. A considerable share of this appropriation was not needed during the present biennium and will remain unexpended. But in view of the fact that many veterans of the present war may need help in one way or another, I recommend an appropriation for 1943-1945 in the same amount as that for 1941-1943. I recommend further that this appropriation be broadened to permit the State Veterans Commission to buy land, to plan for and rehabilitate veterans, or to use the appropriation in part for civilian defense if it becomes justifiable.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC ASSISTANCE

Total appropriations for public assistance are recommended to an amount of $89,232,000 compared with $121,023,000 for the current biennium. The Department expects that $5,500,000 of the present appropriation will lapse.

The present appropriation for public assistance includes provision that the Auditor General and the Treasury be given allocations from time to time to cover the expense of their activities with respect to public assistance. Since their expenditures should be in proportion to the size of the public assistance expenditures, this arrangement, in my opinion should be continued.

These recommendations apply to the present system of support for public assistance, but I further recommend for your consideration a change in the system of support whereby the counties would assume individual full responsibility for administration of the part known as general assistance and share in the costs of grants to all types of assistance, with generous financial help from the State. Proper control over public assistance disbursements cannot be exercised except by local governments—the smaller the unit, the better the control. It is essential that local communities have some financial stake in the cost. This local responsibility has been retained to some extent by every State except Pennsylvania. Pennsylvania is the only State which supports public assistance completely at State expense. If, in your judgment, any change in our relief system should not be made at the beginning of the coming biennium, then you should consider whether a change should be made January 1, 1944, June 1, 1944, or January 1, 1945. This would give the counties time to rearrange their budgets and make plans.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

The Department of Agriculture has before it an especially important task in the coming biennium in helping farmers to increase food production. In view of this, the Department should be amply supported. You will not that in recognition of this vital function I have recommended a generous increase.

The amount of $1,700,000 is recommended for animal indemnities. This represents a $300,000 increase in a function which is vital to our meat and milk supply during these critical times.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION

Among the appropriations to the Department of Public Instruction, I direct your attention particularly to the items designated "Transportation" recommended in the amount of $9,673,000 and "Support of Public Schools" in the amount of $79,525,000. There are deficiencies in both of these items for the current biennium which, if appropriated by you, will raise the present Transportation appropriation to $6,912,500 and the present appropriation for Support of Public Schools to $71,233,147. I call your attention to the following table showing the growth of these appropriations during recent periods:

	Appropriations Including Deficiencies				Requested
	1935-1937	1937-1939	1939-1941	1941-1943	1943-1945
Transportation	$3,025,000	$3,640,000	$4,648,853	$6,912,500	$9,673,000
Support of Public Schools ..	58,457,969	61,510,000	64,000,000	71,233,547	79,525,000

In ten years, we shall have tripled the appropriation for Transportation and raised the one for Support of Public Schools by 36%, if the amounts estimated to be needed for 1943-1945 are appropriated by you. While these amounts for 1943-1945 are included in the budget in a column headed "Recommended by the Governor" I leave this matter in your hands. I merely submit the departmental estimate of what will be needed under present laws. I do recommend, however, that you consider carefully the changes in the laws, enacted in 1937 and taking effect in 1941, which are responsible for these increases. For the purpose of bringing these changes to your attention, I am including at this point a brief summarized discussion of each item.

Transportation

The act changing the basis of State reimbursement was passed in 1937 to take effect in 1939. It was postponed by the 1939 General Assembly until 1941 but the 1941 General Assembly refused to postpone it further so that it became effective July 1, 1941. Prior to the change, State reimbursement for Transportation was the same as for teachers salaries with districts entitled to 50, 60 or 75% reimbursements depending upon the property valuation behind each teacher. The districts reimbursed 50% had a maximum reimbursement of $3000 per year while the 60 and 75% districts had a maximum of $4000 per year. A depreciation of $100 per vehicle was allowed. Pupils transported had to be of compulsory school age. There were qualifications on the distance from the pupils residences to the school which had to be met but these remained unchanged in the new act and need not be described.

The new act set up a schedule of reimbursement entirely different from the schedule of reimbursement for teachers salaries. This new schedule is as follows:

True Valuation Behind Each Teacher	% of Transportation Cost Reimbursed
Not more than $25,000	90
$25,000 to $50,000	80
$50,000 to $75,000	75
$75,000 to $100,000	70
$100,000 to $150,000	65
$150,000 to $200,000	60
$200,000 to $250,000	55
Over $250,000	50

In addition to this changed schedule the depreciation allowance, for each vehicle was raised to $200 and the maximum reimbursement was raised from $3000 and $4000 per district per year to $8000. The limitation as to transporting only children of compulsory school age was removed and it was made permissible for districts to transport all physically and mentally handicapped children to school regardless of the distance they lived from school.

By reference to the table given above you will note that the last biennium under the old system cost the State $4,648,853. The coming biennium under he new act is estimated to cost $9,673,000. To state the principal reasons for the total increase briefly, they are:

1. The new schedule of reimbursement
2. The new maximum reimbursement
3. Removal of the age limit
4. Increase in the number of consolidated schools and closed schools (This would have caused an increase under the old schedule also).
5. Increased costs of equipment and operation of equipment which are part of the current economic trend.

Support of Public Schools

Under this heading are grouped reimbursements for teachers salaries, closed schools, high school tuition and some minor subsidies. As the above table will show, this appropriation has increased from $58,457,969 in 1935-1937 to $61,510,000 in 1937-1939 to $64,000,000 in 1939-1941, the last biennium before changes in the laws by the 1937 and the 1941 General Assemblies took effect. This rate of growth was normal and was based upon a schedule of reimbursement which has been in effect for some years. For the current biennium and for the biennium 1943-1945, however there have been changes in the laws which have about doubled the biennial rate of growth. The 1941-1943 biennium with the estimated deficiency will require $71,233,547 and the 1943-1945 biennium will need $79,525,000. There are two reasons for increase in the rate of growth of this appropriation:

First, High School Tuition: This is paid in instances where pupils residing in one district attend school in another district. Prior to 1941 reimbursement to a maximum of $20 per year per pupil was paid on certain distances between reimbursement rates to the 60 or 75% classes of districts. No reimbursement was made to districts in the 50% class, to districts in which the rate of reimbursement for the district of residence was the same or lower than the district in which the school was located. The total cost to the State for the last biennium during which this system was in effect was about $500,000. For the current biennium, the first under the new law, the cost will be $4,900,000 and for the 1943-45 biennium it is estimated to be $6,000,000. The new scheme of reimbursement was enacted during 1937 and after postponement by the 1939 General Assembly became effective July 1, 1941. It includes a schedule as follows:

True valuation per teacher	Rate of Reimbursement of Cost
Note more than $25,000	60%
$25,000 to $50,000	55
$50,000 to $75,000	50
$75,000 to $100,000	45
$100,000 to $150,000	40
$150,000 to $200,000	35
$200,000 to $250,000	30
Over $250,000	None

The rate of reimbursement is applied against costs which include instructional costs, salaries, textbooks, etc., fuel, light, water, janitor service, etc., plus 10%, less the amount of State appropriation for the period.

Second, Fourth Class Teachers Salaries: The 1941 General Assembly increased minimum salaries of teachers of fourth class districts to $1000 per year for elementary teachers and $1200 per year for high school teachers and provided for two $50 annual increments in pay for each teacher. The differences between these minimums and the former minimums which depended upon the length of term was placed upon the State, and the State was also required to assumed the annual increments. During the biennium 1941-1943 only one years' payment of these increases in teachers salaries was required. This is estimated at $2,525,000. Reimbursement for the school year 1942-1943 will be made the coming biennium. The next biennium will therefore require funds for two years reimbursement or an estimated $5,050,000. In addition, the annual increments, provision for which was not required in 1941-1943, must be provided for in 1943-1945. This will cost an estimated $3,375,000.

Aside from the reasons for increase in the rate of growth in this appropriation, which have been discussed, the normal growth is continuing. Districts are changing from a lower rate of classification to a higher and a larger number of teachers has been employed in the higher classification districts according to the report for the 1941-1942 school year, apparently because of the districts improved economic condition and because of the State's assuming a larger share of fourth class teachers salaries. This so-called normal growth accounts for about $1,200,000 of the difference between the 1941-1943 estimate and the 1943-1945 estimate.

I call to your attention particularly that the recommendation for Support of Public Schools covers only the amount needed under present laws.

Aid to Financially Handicapped School Districts

This appropriation, born of the depression, amounts to $3,000,000 for the present biennium with a deficiency request of $950,000 presented in this budget. The budget also includes an estimate of $3,000,000 for 1943-1945. There are fewer districts applying for aid but the amounts per district requested are larger. Apparently, in spite of our better tax collections in all districts, there are still some districts which cannot keep their schools open without this aid. I suggest to you that you look into the reasons why these districts still need this special aid.

Before I leave the subject of school subsidies I wish to point out a condition which has long existed and which has been the subject of study by repeated commissions resulting in repeated recommendations to General Assemblies in many past sessions. In Pennsylvania, we are supposed to be aiming at an equalization of educational opportunity for all Pennsylvania children, no matter where they live. Our system of subsidies is roughly designed to give a larger percentage of aid to the districts which have less resources of their own. It is based upon true valuation of taxable real estate behind each teacher. Our system of determining true valuation depends upon statements of local school boards as to their assessed valuation and the percentage which this assessed valuation bears to true valuation. Obviously there is no uniformity among the 2546 school districts as to their estimate of percentage of assessed valuation to true valuation. If the percentage reported is not correct then the distribution of the funds to the district concerned is not correct. The equalization we are striving for is prevented. If there were a method of arriving at the true valuation behind each teacher which is accurate and uniform for the State where the present method is not, this would be a long step forward. Such a method is available if you will pass two laws:

(1) An act requiring every deed conveying real estate to state the full price at which the real estate is conveyed.

(2) An act requiring the County Recorder of Deeds to report monthly to the Department of Public Instruction the sale price and the assessed value of all real estate sold.

With this information, the Department will be enabled to make computations and publish a practically accurate report of the true valuation of each school district.

Teachers Colleges

I am recommending an appropriation of $4,000,000 to these institutions. This is the same amount they received in 1941-1943. The enrollment at these colleges has fallen sharply and will decline further. During the first semester of the 1940-1941 school term there were 8,396 students enrolled. This has fallen sharply until, during the first semester of the 1942-1943 school term there are only 5,710 students enrolled, and there is likely to be a further large reduction in enrollment There is no justification for keeping all of the colleges in operation during the coming biennium as teachers colleges although some of them are cooperating with the Federal Government in the training of various individuals in the armed forces or about to enter some military establishment. While the State cannot use all of the colleges the Federal Government may wish to use some of them, therefore, I recommend that you pass an act enabling the State Council of Education to lease or sell to the Federal Government as many of the colleges, reserving six, as it may desire. Six of the colleges, including the two largest should be retained by the State, and, after the war, if it is desired to extend teacher training in State Teachers Colleges, all of these six can be built up to institutions of economic size, able by reason of this size to offer an adequate teacher-training program.

DEPARTMENT OF WELFARE

The recommended appropriation for salaries and expenses of the Department of Welfare includes provision for additional employes to supervise the mental hospitals taken over from the counties. The $40,000 deficiency I am recommending for the current biennium was also caused, in part, by the same action. The 1941 General Assembly failed to make provision for this increased supervisory cost in taking over these institutions.

Welfare Institutions

A total of $2,605,000 in deficiency appropriations is recommended for these institutions. These deficiencies are caused by the increased costs of wages, supplies and food.

The same increased costs are responsible for the recommended increased appropriations for the coming biennium as follows:

For Medical and Surgical Hospitals	$ 3,750,000
For Penal Institutions	10,000,000
For Mental Hospitals	28,000,000
For Institutions for Mental Defectives ..	4,800,000
Total	$46,550,000

This total recommendation compares with a total appropriated for the current biennium, including deficiencies, of $40,105,000, or an increase to all classes of institutions of $6,445,000.

You will recall that legislation was enacted in 1938 placing the County mental hospitals in the State's hands and also relieving the Counties of paying a share of the maintenance costs of indigent mental patients. This cost the State in increased operating costs $4,900,000 and in lost revenues $1,500,000 for the biennium.

The effective date of this legislation was postponed for two years at the 1939 session of the legislature and was recommended to be postponed for two years more by Governor James at the 1941 Session. You will recall that the House refused to agree to such postponement and the additional costs and loss of revenue mentioned above became effective.

In view of the history of this legislation and the great increase in fiancial burden to the State, I recommend that you review this legislation.

Acquisition of supplies and the maintenance of a sufficient force of employes are increasingly serious problems at our institutions, but these do not over shadow the need for additional accommodations in the institutions for Mental Defectives. Notwithstanding the building program of several years ago, the Institutions for Mental Defectives are overcrowded and there is a waiting list today of about 3,000. This problem requires early attention when war restrictions over construction shall have been lifted.

State-Owned Medical and Surgical Hospitals

Before passing to another subject, I should like to point out that in maintaining these ten State-owned medical and surgical hospitals, the State is giving an unfair advantage to the communities they serve over other communities in the State. Of the $3,750,000 appropriation recommended, $970,000 will be returned to the State in income from patients able to pay. The resulting $2,780,000 of free service is met in full by the State while the free service in the hospitals which are only aided by the State will be met by the State to an extent not exceeding 60%. The remaining 40% must be met by the local communities of the State-aided hospitals while the communities served by the ten State-owned institutions have no such responsibility. I recommend that you study this situation to see if a practical plan can be formed for returning these hospitals to support by the communities concerned with aid from the State similar to that given to other State-aided hospitals.

State-Aided Hospitals

I am recommending the same amount of appropriation to the State-aided hospitals as they had during the present biennium. From the point of view of income from patients able to pay for service these institutions are in better financial condition than at any time in the past twelve years but their costs have gone up. The amount recommended will pay between 50 and 60% of the total cost of their free service, leaving the remainder to be met by their local communities.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH

The recommended appropriation to this department includes additional provision for vital statistics, for industrial engineering, and for control of venereal diseases. It is common knowledge that the war has placed heavily increased demands upon all of these functions.

The appropriation to the tuberculosis sanatoria represents an increase over the expenditures for the present biennium. It has been enlarged to pay the current increased wage, supply and food costs of maintaining patients. Butler Sanatorium has been leased to the Federal Government. The other Sanatoria have sufficient capacity to care for all patients including the waiting list. The problem is one of finding personnel to man the institutions.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR AND INDUSTRY

Provision is made in this appropriation for the increased inspection demands made by war production and for paying occupational disease compensation.

$250,000 more is recommended for compensation payments for occupational disease. This is based upon the department's experience in disbursing the $1,000,000 appropriated to initiate the program during the current biennium.

Only $375,000 is recommended to pay the cost of rehabilitation work of the department as compared with $496,750 for the present biennium. This will be sufficient under the department's present rate of expenditure which is amply filling the present need.

DEPARTMENT OF FORESTS AND WATERS

The recommended appropriation of $1,624,000 for the Department of Forests and Waters includes provision for maintenance and improvement of certain State parks formerly appropriated separately, and the expenses formerly paid from the Special Forests and Waters Fund which I recommended to be abolished, its balance and receipts to be transferred to the General Fund. On the basis of these consolidations the recommended appropriation compares with $1,525,800 previously appropriated.

An amount of $235,000 is recommended for the purchase of land at Valley Forge Park. This will be sufficient to cover awards which have been made to date to owners whose property was designated by the Valley Forge Park Commission under an act passed in 1937. This will not clean up the payments required upon all land designated. The 1945 General Assembly will have to make some further provision, though in a much smaller amount.

JUSTICE

The increased appropriations recommended for the Department of Justice will enable that department to employ the personnel necessary to prosecute and protect the State's interest, particularly in tax matters. At the present time there are some 2000 tax appeal cases pending. This situation calls for additional personnel to bring this work up to date. This department no longer exercises the function of supervising paroles which has been transferred to a Board of Paroles. During the last year (1941-1942) that the department exercised this supervision, it spent $135,000 for the purpose.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE

An appropriation of 2,750,000 is recmomended to the Department of Revenue, comparing with $3,095,000 (with deficiency) for the present biennium. This reduced amount is made upon the assumption that you will agree to the tax reduction program herein outlined, thus resulting in a large decrease in the operating costs of this department.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

The $2,827,310 recommended to pay the State's obligations to the State Employes' Retirement System is the amount estimated by the actuary of the system. It compares with $1,584,600 appropriated for the present biennium. There is included an item of $79,800 to pay the deficiency in interest earnings below the statutory 4% and $22,000 to pay special claims the courts have decided the system must pay.

GENERAL STATE AUTHORITY

This agency is completing its work and war-time restrictions on construction have sharply limited its possible operations. Therefore, I recommend that $100,000 be appropriated to it for the coming biennium.

DEPARTMENT OF THE AUDITOR GENERAL

The budget includes a recommendation of $1,450,000 for the salaries and expenses of the Department of the Auditor General. This is the same amount as appropriated during the 1939-1941 and 1941-1943 bienniums. In view of the amount of work being performed by the Auditor General in comparison with the amount turned out by his predecessor this should be ample in spite of such increased salary payments to individual employees as he may be called upon to make. The budget does not include an item of $180,000 requested by the Auditor General as a defiiency appropriation for the present biennium. This item was referred to the Committee on Appropriations of each house several weeks ago.

The Auditor General is behind in his work for apparently other reasons than financial. He has had more employees than his predecessor and as much money. His expenditures have been running considerably ahead of those of the former Auditor General.

Since this officer is independent it will be your duty to consider any justification of his requests.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT

The appropriation of $725,000 included for the Treasury Department is the same amount appropriated for the current biennium.

Appropriations for debt service and for refunds are recommended as submitted by the department. The last of the $25,000,000 of Serial Bonds issued in 1934 will be redeemed during the biennium.

An amount of $1,200,000 is included to pay interest upon tax notes. The issues of tax notes for the 1943-1945 biennium are not expected to be as large as were those for the 1941-1943 biennium.

The appropriation to the Board of Finance and Revenue is recommended in the amount of $88,000 which is an increase of $8,000 over the present appropriation. This Board is confronted with so many tax appeals that an increase is justified.

LEGISLATIVE AND JUDICIAL

The budget includes the items for these branches as submitted by the responsible officers of each. There are some relatively small increases which you will notice by reference to the comparative tables.

No recommended amount is included in the budget for the Joint State Government Commission. Up to the present time this Commission has not justified the approtions which have been made to it. You may want to make an appropriation but before approving any amount I shall have to be convinced that a useful program of work will be undertaken.

You will notice a new item of $60,000 for the Board of Law Examiners has been requested and is included under the appropriations for the Judicial. Previously this Board was supported by fees but now I am informed that the fees have fallen off to the point where this aid from the State is needed.

PAROLE BOARD

The new Parole Board is one of the illustrations of increasing State costs by legislative action. The law establishing the new Parole System was passed by the 1941 Session of the Legislature. Under this law, the new Parole Board not only took over the work of the Bureau of Parole Supervision in the Department of Justice but in addition more than 3000 cases were given to the Board which were previously supervised by county probation officers.

The amount appropriated for parole supervision under the former system was $180,000 for the one year 1941-1942. The amount first requested by the Board for the 1943-1945 biennium was $1,650,000, later reduced by $200,000 and possibly $250,000.

I am recommending an appropriation of $1,000,000 and I further recommend that you reexamine the legislation which established the new Parole System with the view to eliminating some of the jurisdiction of the Board which has brought about the necessity for the great increase in cost.

CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION

An item of $100,000 is included for the State Civil Service Commission to be regarded as purely working capital and returned at the end of the biennium. I recommend that the Commission derive its support from monthly billings of its costs to the agencies it serves. Two of these agencies are supported by special funds and two of them receive support largely from Federal funds. The system I recommend will insure costs being charged where they belong.

MOTOR LICENSE FUND—HIGHWAYS

The Motor License Fund revenues which support the maintenance and construction of highways will be reduced by an estimated $49,925,657 for the coming biennium. The 1941-1943 estimate is $149,815,857, that for 1943-1945, $99,890,200.

This $99,890,200 estimate for 1943-1945 reflects the reduction in the per vehicle license fees for passenger cars and light trucks which was made by the bill which recently became law. The aggregate of this reduction for the biennium is estimated at $4,540,000.

The estimate is reduced principally in the items of Liquid Fuels Tax and Licenses and Fees which are affected by automobile, tire, and gasoline rationing and the restrictions on pleasure driving. However, since restriction on construction materials has stopped all now construction of highways, it is estimated that the remaining revenues will be sufficient to support necessary maintenance and operations.

The amount estimated for maintenance of various types has been increased from $39,908,000 in 1941-1943 to $50,300,000 in 1943-1945. The cessation of all new construction will force the State to continue maintenance on roads which would ordinarily be rebuilt. For the next two years it is believed this increased maintenance estimate will enable the Department of Highways to maintain the roads in good condition.

FISH AND GAME COMMISSIONS

The Department of Revenue estimates that the revenue to the Fish Fund will decrease to $1,159,360 in 1943-194 from $1,542,229 in 1941-1943 and that the revenues to th Game Fund will decrease to 2,309,700 in 1943-1945 fror $3,251,694 in 1941-1943. These reductions, while large will not materially affect the operations of the Board c Fish Commissioners or the Game Commission becaus during several bienniums, they have accumulated larg surpluses which will offset the loss in revenues.

OTHER DEPARTMENTS

The Department and functions other than those I hav discussed particularly do not require comment. In th main, the appropriations I have recommended are th amounts necessary to operate the departments upon a economical basis. Increases in varying amounts ove appropriations for the present biennium are recommende in some instances. These are made necessary by the ri in wage costs forced upon the State by the competition the Federal Government and private employment in th labor market. The appropriations at the recommende amounts are only sufficient to support a minimum for of employes to conduct necessary functions of gover ment. It will be my policy during the war to avoid a possible competition for labor which should be employe directly in the war effort.

Respectfully submitted,

EDWARD MARTIN, Governor.

(See Note on next page).

Note: It has been the practice, in making appropriations for Aid to Dependent Children, Mothers Assistance, Pensions for the Blind, and General Assistance, to make lump sums covering both administrative costs and grants (subsidies). In this Statement, portions of appropriations which were spent for administration are shown under Administration and the remainder of the appropriation is shown under Subsidies. In each column the amounts prefixed by the same letter must be added together to show the total amount of appropriation.

During part of the biennium 1935-1937, before the establishment of WPA work relief, the Federal Government participated in meeting the Emergency Relief cost and much of the cost of administration was paid from these Federal funds.

During 1935-1937 the counties paid part of the administrative cost of Mothers Assistance, Old Age Assistance and Pensions for the Blind. County expenditures are not shown.
